GROUND-BREAKING SET FOR COLLEGE, MONDAY

GOV. COMBS, UK OFFICIALS TO BE HERE

Labor Day Ceremony To Mark Beginning Of Building Work

Ground will be broken here next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the Prestonsburg Community College.

This will Labor Day mark the beginning of actual construction of a dream become reality for the area.

Governor Bert T. Combs, other state officials, representatives of the University of Kentucky and Floyd county leaders of the movement for the college will take part in the ground-breaking ceremonies.

Dr. J. W. Oswald, new president of the University of Kentucky, will be present if his schedule permits. Others who will take part are A. D. Albright, vice-president of the University; C. R. Hager, assistant dean of extended programs at U. K.; E. B. Farris, chief U. K. engineer; David Pritchett, Kentucky commissioner of finance; William McConell, chief engineer for the state.

The ground-breaking will follow immediately upon completion of the earth fill for the foundation of the college structure. Between 90,000 and 100,000 cubic yards of earth were moved to make the fill.

This work is being done by the Kentucky Road Oiling Company, which also will build the two access roads to the college site.

The Prestonsburg contracting firm of Meade & Kendrick is ready to begin construction. The contractors will rush the construction job as rapidly as possible, but the fear was expressed here that the building will not be ready for occupancy in September, 1964, as planned.

Sept. 6 Is Deadline For Vote Registration

County Clerk C. Ollie Robinson said this week that the voter registration books will be closed September 8, and that all persons who wish to register to vote, to change their registration or place of voting should do so at once.

This Town... That World

YOU'RE INVITED

Three events all Floyd county should attend:

The third annual presentation here, Sunday afternoon, of "The Proud Heritage," the ground-breaking ceremonies at the Prestonsburg Community College site, Monday, the Floyd County Fair, next week, beginning Wednesday.

No invitation is necessary to get people to the carnival.

Time was when folks, seeing a clover leaf, looked to see if it was of the four-leaf variety. Now they see one, shut their eyes and try to drive through with the aid of a good-luck charm no more potent than a rabbit's foot.

BY COMPARISON

When the Bonus Army marched on Washington, General MacArthur was ordered to take his troops and get 'em out. The Freedom Marchers hit the Potomac this week, and everybody was busy laying down the Welcome mat. Somebody was badly mistreated, or somebody else is being over-pampered.

REMEMBER!

These changing times! I can remember when cornbread baked in September, 1964, as planned.

LIQUOR CASES TRIED MONDAY

Juries Convict Three, One Enters Guilty Plea; Wells Trial Set Today

Four more liquor defendants were given trial Monday in the Floyd quarterly court, and all were convicted. Again the whiskey cases were followed to their conclusion by a large gathering.

All the convictions but one resulted from jury trials. Clarence Stone pleaded guilty and drew the lightest penalty assessed—a $20 fine and 30 days in jail.

Hatler Rogers was given trial on two counts, selling moonshine whiskey and possessing moonshine for the purpose of sale, and was fined $100 on each charge.

Others convicted as the result of recent liquor raids:

James (or Junior) "Red" Martin, possession, $100 fine and 60 days in jail; Bill Porter, possessing alcoholic beverages, tried in absentia and given a $100 fine and 60 days in jail. Martin is appealing his case to circuit court.

The trial of William Riley Wells, Jr. on a charge growing out of a raid made by the Sheriff's department sometime ago was scheduled for today (Thursday). Trial of Bennie Branham in connection with intoxicants found at the Shamrock Inn was continued because one of the principal prosecution witnesses, ABC Agent Crouch, had suffered a heart attack and was unable to be present.

Grover R. Edmonds was convicted of a drunk driving charge and was fined $200. Trial of Carl Reed on the same charge resulted in a "hung" jury.

Health Department Would Restrain Firm

The Floyd County Health Department has filed suit in circuit court, seeking a restraining order against the Kentucky Oil & Refining Company. It contends the company, in the construction of a service station at Hite, has failed to comply with KRS 318.134, which provides that plumbing installed is a violation of the law unless a plumbing installation permit is first procured.

LOW-RENT HOUSE JOB STRICKEN BY 2 SNAGS

The Prestonsburg low-rent public housing project has hit two snags as it nears completion, and the resultant delays may cost somebody. This was the opinion expressed Monday when it was recalled that the Prestonsburg Municipal Water & Gas System has neither water nor gas ready to serve the 40-unit housing complex and that it appears one of the buildings has been erected on the right-of-way of a county road.

CHAPTER FUND IS GIVEN $838

Life Insurance Head Confers With B. F. Reed, Who Suggests Gift Here

Floyd Chapter, American Red Cross, received a welcomed boost toward attaining its fund-raising goal this week when it received from employees of the Life Insurance Company of Kentucky a check for $838.

Bob Hensley, president of the company, had expressed to B. F. Reed, of Drift, a desire to help those who had suffered flood damage in this county and asked Mr. Reed to recommend a means of making this contribution.

"It is my conviction," said Mr. Reed, "that the American Red Cross did an outstanding job in helping those in trouble because of flood damage. I therefore suggested to Mr. Hensley that he use the funds gathered by the employees of the Life Insurance Company of Kentucky and make a contribution to the Red Cross."

Mr. Hensley, soon after the March flood, sent his personal checks amounting to $1,000 to friends in five counties. This prompted his associates to want to do likewise, and they together contributed the $838 sent the Red Cross Chapter here.

Gerald S. Hunter, contractor on the $600,000 project, is now working on a 30-day extension of time granted him for completion of the job after the regular period allotted him had expired, August 6. Without water he cannot clean the newly constructed houses, outside or in, nor can he test plumbing, stoves, refrigerators and other equipment till the Water & Gas System supplies water and fuel.

Work to supply the housing installation with water and gas was begun recently. But, it is pointed out, completion of that job is weeks away, and it is feared the federal agency may refuse a second extension of time.

If an extension is refused, Hunter may be subject to a penalty, and in that case he might seek to protect himself financially by suing the gas and water system for the amount he is penalized. At the same time, it is pointed out, the city and federal agency might sue to recover rental monies they would lose because of a delay in opening the units to tenants.

The average rental of the 40 units will be $39 a month.

A Municipal Housing Commission official said work toward connection of the housing project with water and gas mains was first suggested as long ago as last January.

The units were scheduled for occupancy around September 1. That date has been moved up to October 1, "at the earliest."

The other snag loomed, dead ahead, July 26 when County Attorney Barkley J. Sturgill wrote Mayor George P. Archer, pointing out that one of the housing units encroaches upon the county road. (This is the part of the old Prestonsburg-Auxier road which leaves old U. S. 23, near the Cliff bridge, and cuts straight across to connect with the new U. S. 23.) The county, Sturgill wrote, plans to blackout this connecting strip and asked that it be cleared promptly for that work.

C. B. Latta, executive director of the Municipal Housing Commission, wrote Fred A. Donham, regional counsel, Public Housing Administration, Atlanta, that his first reaction to the county attorney's letter was that Sturgill was in error. But he explained that he had not been in close contact with the situation, since he was not the executive director of the commission at the time the housing project site was acquired. He added that examination of the architectural and engineering drawings and the abstract and opinion of title to the property, which was made by J. B. Clarke, disclosed that the project boundary does include half of the road.

Drawings indicated, Latta wrote, that the road had been abandoned, and the abstract and opinion of title made no reservation of a right-of-way belonging to the county. The fiscal court contends there was never any intention on its part of abandoning the road.

The road could be straightened and the situation cleared by the acquisition of some right-of-way from the adjacent property-owner or owners and the moving of a master water meter a distance of eight to 10 feet. The commission has agreed.

PLAN AUCTION TO AID FCCRC

Retarded Child Group Initiating Fund Drive; To Continue Full Week

The annual drive for funds for the Floyd County Council for Retarded Children will get under way Tuesday with an auction by Radio Station WPRT. The auction will begin at 3 p.m. at Martin and at 5 o'clock will be removed to the station's studios.

A kick-off dinner at May Lodge will precede the drive, it is announced. Gov. Bert T. Combs is expected to deliver the annual address.

TO HELP RETARDED

Mrs. Betty Jo Salyer, manager of the Big Y Drive-In at Allen, announced this week that all the profits of the drive-in on Thursday, September 5, will be given to the Council for Retarded Children. Citing the need of the children, Mrs. Salyer invited other businesses to join in similar action.

Dave Stephens, in announcing features of the auction, said that all items to be sold are being donated by Prestonsburg merchants. All bidding will be made by telephone of which an extra number will be added at the station. The call numbers will be announced as soon as the telephones are installed.

The auction will run through Friday and may be continued through Saturday, Stephens said.

HUNT VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

Dynamite Caps Explode In Hands of Mine Owner; Funeral Conducted Friday

Charles Wesley Hunt, 37, of Boldman, died Tuesday noon of last week at the Pikeville Memorial hospital, an hour after a box of dynamite caps exploded in his hands on the Spring Branch of Hurricane Creek, near Boldman.

Everett Brown, state mine department official, said that no one was looking directly at Hunt when the accident occurred but the inspector was of the opinion that a spark from a cigarette caused the tragedy. Hunt had gone to the explosives magazine to procure dynamite caps for a neighboring farmer. He was owner of H. & H. Coal Company on Hurricane Creek.

Mr. Hunt was a son of John G. and Gracie Salisbury Hunt, of Harold. His wife, Avonell Prater, survives. He had no surviving children.

Surviving are a brother and three sisters: James (Jack) Hunt and Mrs. Bonnie Sue Ratliff, both of Pikeville, Mrs. Kathleen Pyles, Huntington, West Virginia, and Mrs. Magdalene Cecil, of Harold.

Funeral services were held Friday at 2 p.m. at the Vogel-Day Methodist Church, the Rev. Everett Brown officiating. Burial was made in the Hunt family cemetery at Harold under the direction of the Justice Funeral Home.

LONG-SOUGHT STILL CAPTURED BY OFFICERS

A moonshining outfit described by officers as one of the county's biggest sources of untax-paid whiskey was destroyed by ABC Agent Claude A. Flanery and federal officers Friday morning on the Raccoon Fork of Salt Lick Creek.

Earl Vanderpool, who was arrested at the still, was taken before the U. S. commissioner at Pikeville, and was jailed there, pending execution of bond.

Sheriff's deputies staged five raids in the Mud Creek section last Sunday, but intoxicants were found at only one place. Sam Roberts was arrested and 277 cans of beer found on his premises were confiscated. Roberts was taken before Magistrate Bryant DeRossett, who issued the search warrants, and he executed bond. The raids were made by Deputy Sheriffs Sam Hale, Lonnie Herald, Henry Stone, Girvin Waddie, Troy Mullins, Marion Martin and Bill Kit Stumbo.

Bill Porter, of Harold, was arrested last Wednesday on Middle Creek by Deputy Sheriff Sam Hale, who confiscated a case of whiskey and a case of beer from a used car which he was towing. He failed to appear for trial in quarterly court Monday and was fined $100 and given a 60-day jail term.

The moonshining outfit taken last Friday included 10 barrels which were buried, 450 gallons of mash, a 60-gallon copper still, 17 1/2 gallons of moonshine plus a 30-gallon barrel almost full of moonshine.

ABC Agent Flanery said the still had been the object of a search extending over a year. He said that Vanderpool, when arrested, had an "Owl-Head" pistol on one hip and two dirklike knives on the other, but he offered no resistance.

Four juveniles were jailed here Saturday, charged with stealing the auto of Estill Lee Carter, of Prestonsburg. They were arrested in North Carolina. Others jailed within the week and charges on which they were booked:

Jesse Lewis, knowingly receiving stolen property, jailed by Martin Policeman A. J. Reed; David Wright, no operator's license, and Raymond Nichols, reckless driving, arrested by Deputy Sheriffs B. Stumbo and Lee Stumbo, each fined $32.50; Charles Castle, drunk driving and no operator's license, booked by Deputy Sheriff Marion Martin.

ANNUAL FLOYD FAIR OPENS HERE MONDAY

Out-Patient Tubercular Clinic Set In October, Health Officer Notes

The annual out-patient tubercular clinic will be held this year in October instead of September it was announced this week by Dr. Russell Hall, health officer. "These clinics are always held the first Tuesday of each month but due to the Labor Day vacation and the annual vacation of employees the clinic will not be held this month," Dr. Hall explained.

WIDOW FILES DAMAGE SUIT

$200,000 Is Asked Of Officers, Insurers In Death of John May

A $200,000 damage suit was filed in circuit court here last Friday against Sheriff Henry C. Hale, six of his deputies and their sureties by Mrs. Tribby May, widow of John May and administratrix of his estate.

The suit names as plaintiffs Sheriff Hale, Deputy Sheriffs Sam Hale and Marion Martin and their insurer, Travelers Indemnity Co., Deputy Sheriff Lonnie Herald and his surety, Aetna Surety & Casualty Co., Deputy Sheriffs Willie R. Johnson, Henry Stone and Troy Mullins.

Deputy Sheriffs Marion Martin and Troy Mullins are appealing a two-year pen term imposed on each at the conclusion of their trial for the slaying of Mrs. May's husband.

The complaint signed by Mrs. May alleges that defendants "conspired to bring about the death of plaintiff's decedent, aforesaid, that they aided and abetted and counseled with each other in bringing about the death of plaintiff's decedent, and that they assembled near his home prior to his death and prior to the commission of the aforesaid upon the plaintiff's decedent, and conspired as aforesaid."

Damage to the estate of May is claimed in the amount of $150,000, and $50,000 is asked as vindictive and punitive damages.

PLAY SLATED HERE SUNDAY

Fort Knox Soldiers Scheduled In Parade; Play Theme Explained

The Proud Heritage, a six-act Civil War drama depicting events at the old headquarters house of Col. James A. Garfield when he was campaigning in the Big Sandy in 1862, will be presented here for the third time Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Garfield Place, now occupied by Mrs. Elizabeth Leete Stephens, was built in the early 1850's and commanded by Col. Garfield immediately after the Battle of Middle Creek, January 10, 1862. The play reenacts the events that transpired at the house or in Prestonsburg when the town was under Union occupation.

The play is unique in amateur play production as it reenacts history as it occurred at the site of the events. Many of the large cast are descendants of those who made history 101 years ago.

Scott Collins, Prestonsburg attorney, has the role of Garfield, replacing Forrest Gregory who moved to Indiana. A 100-voice chorus will present period songs.

The Blue and Gray soldiers, organized at Fort Knox to assist in the observance of the Civil War centennial, will be integrated into the play and present a mock battle. This is the group's third year in the play.

Theme of the play is the division and terror of the Prestonsburg residents under Union occupation. The townsmen, almost wholly Confederate in sympathy, have their terror replaced by confidence in Garfield's humane treatment, especially after he recovers a coverlet from a foraging soldier and personally returns it to its owner.

A parade will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday featuring the Fort Knox soldiers. Participating in the parade will be the cast in their Civil War clothes. The parade will begin at the fire department building and

EXHIBITS DUE BY MID-WEEK; PICK LEADERS

Chairman Martin Urges Public Participation; Window Displays, Plan

The eleventh post-war Floyd County Fair will get under way here Monday when the Gooding Amusement Company opens its rides at the grade school athletic field. The fair will end Saturday afternoon.

Garland S. Martin, chairman of the fair board, expressed optimism this week that the agricultural exhibition will be the best in many years. He urged farmers, teachers, students and the general public to avail themselves of the opportunity to exhibit and enjoy the annual affair.

Exhibits, with the exception of flowers and livestock, are due Wednesday between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Flowers will be entered Friday noon and livestock Saturday at 11 a.m. Judging on most exhibits will be completed by Thursday morning. Livestock will be judged Saturday afternoon.

Exhibitors will utilize display windows in local stores as last year. In general, the same stores will have the same exhibit classification as in the preceding fair.

Chairmen of the various committees were announced recently by Martin. These are: Entertainment, David Stephens, Jr.; location and grounds, J. L. Lafferty; catalog, Kermit Howard; crops, J. L. Lafferty; women's exhibits, Mrs. Winnie F. Johns; flowers, Mrs. Regina Mayo; 4-H department, G. S. Martin; F.F.A. department, Lloyd Wells; Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts groups, Jack Hodge; home economics, Mrs. V. A. Smiley; antiques and hobbies, Mrs. Winnie F. Johns; fine arts and crafts, Mrs. George P. Archer; homemakers booth, Mrs. Betty Fannin.

Catalogs were expected for week-end distribution at the office of the Extension staff here.

Pancake Day Scheduled By Kiwanis Club Here; To Aid Underprivileged

The annual Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club Pancake Day will be held Saturday, September 7, it is announced by C. L. Hutsinpler, publicity chairman of the civic club. The event is scheduled at the grade school cafeteria between the hours of 6 a.m. and 7 p.m.

It is an "all you can eat for a dollar" affair with proceeds going to underprivileged children. Ticket sales are being handled by Huck Francis, W. W. Burchett, Jimmy Camicia and Richard E. Martin.

The Kiwanis Club is in urgent need of money to assist underprivileged children.

ELECTROCARDIOGRAPH TRANSMISSION DEVICE INSTALLED

Southern Bell's Data-Phone, newest of electrocardiograph transmission devices, is now in full 24-hour operation at the Prestonsburg General hospital, it was jointly announced this week by A. Guy Hisle, local telephone manager, and Dr. George P. Archer, head of the hospital.

The Data-Phone, a product of Bell Laboratories, enables heart data to be transmitted directly and instantaneously from the hospital here to the University of Kentucky Medical Center at Lexington and immediate diagnosis to be made there of the case at hand, Mr. Hisle explained. A cardiologist or resident cardiologist will be on duty at the Medical Center 24 hours a day, thus insuring diagnosis as quickly and as accurately as would be possible by the presence of a heart specialist at the hospital here.

Dr. Archer said that, as of Monday, this week, eight heart patients had used the Data-Phone at the hospital here. The average elapsed time for a complete report has been approximately 10 minutes as compared with a former minimum of five days, he added.

Dr. William R. Willard, dean of the University of Kentucky Medical School, issued this statement commenting on Prestonsburg's new medical facility:

"The Data-Phone is being installed in Prestonsburg as an experimental project to determine: 1. The feasibility of providing this kind of service for physicians in Kentucky and the various problems involved in providing it; 2. Its value for a training program in clinical cardiology; 3. Its value in continuing medical education."

Dr. Willard added that arrangements have been made with Dr. Archer to allow the sending unit at the Prestonsburg hospital to be available to all physicians in the entire Big Sandy valley.

Only two other Data-Phones are presently in use in Kentucky—one at the University of Louisville, the other at Lexington Medical Center. "Some day," Hisle said, "Data-Phone service will assume a variety of domestic chores, possibly allowing us to pay bills by telephone or operate certain household appliances, regardless of the distance involved."

Francis STORE
PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

At a candlelight service on August 18, at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, at the First Methodist Church here Miss Arnita Clarke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Clarke, became the bride of Mr. Dennis Morgan Stephens, son of late Mr. M. G. Stephens.

Before the service, Mrs. Chalmers Frazier gave a program of organ music. Miss Shirley Harmon sang "I Love You Truly," and Mr. Edward Worland, Jr., sang "Beechus." Before an archway entwined with smilax and white gladioli, flanked by cathedral candelabra and standards of white gladioli and asters, the vows and double-ring ceremony were read by the Rev. Paul Stoneking.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of peau de soi with very full skirt and train with lace medallions applied to the center of the skirt and mid-front of the fitted blouse, with off the shoulder neckline, the sleeves coming to a point over the hands. Self-covered buttons closed the bodice in the back. The skirt had a full lining of lace over hoops. Her crown of pearls had a very full shoulder-tip veil attached. She carried a bouquet of white orchids with a shower of satin ribbons topping a white Bible.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Barbara Ann Clarke Burchett, matron of honor, wore a short length, delect blue taffeta gown, peg-top skirt and fitted blouse, with off-the-shoulder bertha, and a bandeau head dress of the same material, with flaring veil attached and shoes of the same shade. She carried a bouquet of mixed shades of asters and pink carnations. The bridesmaids, Miss Jeanette Brown, Lexington, Miss Lois Ann Combs, Frankfort, and Miss Bee Allen, of Allen, wore dresses like that of the matron of honor, and carried identical bouquets. Little Kathy Ann Burchett, niece of the bride, served as flower girl. Mr. James Allen served the groom as best man. Messrs. Stephen Stephens, Dixon Nunnery and Dickie Fitzpatrick served as groomsmen, ushers and taper lighters.

At the conclusion of the service, Mr. Worland sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Clarke, mother of the bride, wore a mauve colored silk embroidered short gown with a flowered bandeau and accessories of the same shade. She wore a shoulder bouquet of white rosebuds. Miss Elsie Stephens, aunt of the groom, wore a pink linen costume suit with a pink lace veil head-dress and pink accessories with a shoulder bouquet of white gardenias. Miss Linda Stephens, aunt of the groom, wore a green shantung suit, a lace veiled head-dress and matching accessories.

Mr. Stephens, a student at the University of Kentucky, will continue his studies there. Mrs. Stephens, also a student at the University, will continue her studies. After a brief honeymoon, they returned to Lexington where they will reside until completion of their education.

A reception followed in the church parlors. Presiding at the register, Miss Kay Ann Frazier, greeted the guests for registration. Appointments of the bride's table included branched silver candelabra holding white candles, with a centerpiece of white mums and asters. The blue decor of flowers finished the table decorations of blue and white. A five-tiered bridal cake was embellished with white roses and silver beads and was topped by a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. David Allen presided at the cake plate. Miss Martha Ann Burchett served punch, assisted by Miss Rebecca Wright, of Louisa, Mrs. Vera Ford, and Mrs. W. W. Greenwade. Parlor decorations of multicolored asters added to the setting for the reception.

Liquor Stamp Is Evidence Of Guilt, Says the Law

Section 242.400, Kentucky Revised Statutes, reads:

"(1) The possession of a United States special tax stamp, commonly called a United States license, for carrying on the business of a retail dealer in alcoholic beverages, or having the tax stamp or license at the place of business in dry territory, shall be prima facie evidence of guilt under this chapter.

"(2) An attested copy of the record of the office issuing such license showing its issuance shall be admissible in evidence in any action under this chapter."

So reads the law. How that law is to be construed, or applied, or even controverted, is a matter for lawyers and the courts to decide.

Our knowledge of the law, and particularly of its intricacies, is amazingly slight. Considering the provisions of the statute here quoted in the light of plain English, we would say that somebody had an idea that if a man, or a woman, or an establishment were caught with alcoholic beverages and had a federal liquor stamp, it would be obvious that they were guilty—this reasoning being based on the obvious, that you don't go to the trouble of getting a federal license to sell soft drinks, and that the drinks found on the premises weren't soft, to start with.

One more paragraph should have been added to that statute. This same law should provide that proof that any individual or group of individuals holds a federal stamp or license in dry territory is evidence sufficient for the issuance of a warrant authorizing the search of premises occupied by the holder of the stamp.

A TIMES WANT AD GETS AMAZING RESULTS!

SERVICE EXTENSION

LIVESTOCK

Previously it was announced in the column that all cattle shown at the county fair would have to be tested within thirty days before the show. But due to the low infection rate of livestock in the county, this requirement has been lifted for this year, by the State Department of Agriculture.

All livestock shown at the fair will be inspected before unloading by a state official, to protect against the spread of disease.

The livestock show this year should develop into one of the best. Several farmers are planning to show their livestock this year. The livestock show will be on Saturday, September 7, Plan to attend.

ALFALFA

Alfalfa requires a soil that is nearly neutral. Any soil of the county that has not been limed in the last few years will test moderately or strongly acid. The acid soil is the probable reason for many of the alfalfa failures. It would be wise before seeding alfalfa to have a soil test made. These tests could indicate three situations. One, the soil would have the right amount of lime and does not need liming. Two, the soil needs liming, but the alfalfa could be seeded. Third, the soil is too sour for alfalfa. Lime should be applied, and seeding withheld until the correct acidity is obtained. This will sometimes require a year or more if the soil tests strongly acid.

STRAWBERRIES

If a crystal ball were available, I could look into the future the next spring and see many farmers having a difficult time preparing land for setting strawberries. The soil would be too wet to plow. Plants would not be ordered in time. Plants would have to be heeled in until the land was prepared. Early set strawberries will outgrow those set late.

There is a way to get around these problems. Select the field that is to be set in strawberries now, have a soil test made, and plow this fall. All strawberry land should be plowed in the fall. If the field is too steep to plow in the fall because of erosion, it is too steep for strawberries.

TRY THIS FOR MAKING
QUICK TUNA SALAD

Here's a recipe for a quick Tuna Waldorf Salad, as given by the U. S. Department of Interior's Fish and Wildlife Service. Drain two 6½ or seven ounce cans of tuna and break the tuna into large pieces. Combine with one cup diced apples, ½ cup chopped celery, ¼ cup chopped nuts, and ½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing. Serve on lettuce. Serves six.

GI School Rights Explained by Owen

The last full year of schooling for veterans taking education or training courses under the Korean GI Bill begins this September. Olney B. Owen, VA's Regional Manager for Kentucky, said today.

When this school year ends, only a half year of schooling will still be obtainable under the program. Courses starting in September, 1964, must come to a close on January 31, 1965.

Congress has set this cut-off date for the Korean readjustment program of education and training for veterans without service-connected disabilities. The law gives no authority to the VA to extend these benefits beyond these dates. Only 17 months remain before the final deadline.

FLOYD PUPIL NUMBER LESS THIS YEAR, SAID

As of last Friday, 3,409 Floyd county youths had enrolled in the nine high schools of the county.

Although the enrollment in most consolidated schools is up, the total number of pupils in school this year will be less than last year, it was predicted at the office of the County Superintendent. The overall enrollment figures are not yet fully known.

The biggest enrollment jump was at Prestonsburg high school where 988 had registered as of last Friday. This is an increase of approximately 100 over last year's enrollment, and it was said at the high school Wednesday morning that the total may run as high as 980.

The total school population here stands at 1828, with the grade school enrolling 869.

A study hall and two classrooms were added to Prestonsburg high school last year. Yet "bulging at the seams" was one descriptive expression used this week as the building and the number it houses were discussed. Prestonsburg high school was designed to accommodate 696 pupils. That figure was passed three years ago.

USDA Is Distributing
Aid Poster To Grocers;
Plenty List Is Noted

Grocers authorized to accept food coupons under the U. S. Department of Agriculture's food stamp program will soon receive an additional aid to better acquaint the public and their employees with regulations covering the use of food stamps.

USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, which administers the food stamp program, is distributing a new poster for display near check-out counters in participating grocery stores. The poster shows the types of food that may be legally bought with food coupons.

Under the food stamp program, eligible families may buy any U. S. produced food for human consumption they choose. Imported food items and such non-food items as alcoholic beverages, tobacco products, soaps, pet foods and vegetable seeds, cannot be purchased with food coupons.

The Agricultural Marketing Service said that failure to comply with the regulations may result in a grocer being disqualified from participating in the program, and the termination of eligibility of coupon recipients.

Some of the practices which AMS says grocers should guard against are selling ineligible food products for coupons; purchase of coupon books for cash; acceptance of coupons from unsigned coupon books; acceptance of loose high denomination coupons; and acceptance of coupons for payment of back bills. During September, the Agricultural Marketing Service shows turkeys, grapes, late summer vegetables, margarine, canned tuna, cereals and non-fat dry milk on its monthly list of plentiful foods in food stamp areas. All of these items may be purchased with food coupons, AMS said, and are good September food buys.

Vet Policy Dividend
Deadline Announced

Approximately 2,000 Korean veterans in Kentucky who still hold "RS" insurance policies have on a short time left in which to qualify for a special cash dividend by exchanging their "RS" term policies for "W" term insurance at lower premium rate, or converting to low cost permanent insurance Olney B. Owen, VA's Regional Manager for Kentucky, said today.

Expiring on September 15 is the eligibility to qualify for the special dividend which returns to them part of the premiums they have been paying based on the rate structure established by law. After that date "RS" policyholders may still change to "W" term or permanent insurance, but they will no longer be eligible for a dividend.

Our Yesterdays

(Items taken from files of The Floyd County Times of 30, 20 and 10 years ago.)

Thirty Years Ago

(August 25, 1933)

General violation of the Corrupt Practices Act and distribution of a huge slush fund or "jack pot" by winning candidates in the bribing of voters are the chief allegations charged against 22 Floyd county men nominated for office at the recent primary. Johnny Crawford, 13 years old, of Clear Creek, has been held a prisoner by his parents for the last three years, forced by them to live in a corn crib in a decrepit barn, where he slept on a bed of weeds, Miss Martha Troll, public health nurse, discovered Tuesday. When questioned, Mrs. Crawford said they had to shut Johnny up in the crib because "he is crazy," and Mr. Crawford said he tried to whip the "quair spells" out of his boy but finally gave it up about three months ago. James L. "Junior" Lackey, of Louisa, former Prestonsburg resident, Tuesday was elected Commander of the Kentucky Department of the American Legion. The four semi-finalists in the golf tournament now being held at the Beaver Valley Golf and Country Club at Allen are: Lon Hall and Dr. Paul B. Hall, both of Paintsville; C. H. Corbin, Prestonsburg, and T. M. Hoffman, Pikeville. Married: Miss Ada Ousley, of Dinwood, and Mr. Archie Patton, of Hueysville, last Saturday, at the home of the bride. Born: To Prof. and Mrs. Wiley Jones, of Maytown, a son, Thomas Lee, August 19; To Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spradlin, a son, August 15, at the Paintsville hospital; To Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hughes, of Prestonsburg, a daughter, Bobbie Ann. There died: Miss Andra Sturgill, 17, of Jones Fork, August 17, at the Paintsville hospital; Darwin Oppenheimer, 27, of West Prestonsburg, Monday, at the C. & O. hospital, Huntington, West Virginia; Mrs. Sarah Rose, 70 years old, August 13, at the home of her son in West Prestonsburg.

Twenty Years Ago

(August 26, 1943)

Theft from the Floyd Circuit Clerk's office of three election contest suits and a sheet from the Public Fund book on which the date of their filing was annotated was reported Monday morning by Circuit Clerk W. W. Cooley in asking the State Bureau of Investigation and Identification to attempt a solution of the case. If the 15 per cent increase in the state's October quota of selectees for the armed forces applies as expected to Floyd county, this county will send 520 for examination during the month. Even though he received 42 wounds when the small sub-chaser on which he served was literally blown out of the water by a pack of enemy submarines during recent action in the Atlantic, Gummer's Mate Third Class Nelson Holt, 19, of Weeksbury, is recovering at the U. S. Naval Hospital, St. Albans, New York. Pvt. Charles Clevenger, Jr., 32, of Allen, was killed, August 4, in action against the Japanese in the southwest Pacific. Four-year-old Carol Jean Harris, of Columbus, Ohio, while visiting her mother here, was seriously burned when she struck a match and her clothing caught fire. When told by physicians that he would not recover from complications of pneumonia, 64-year-old Melvin Endicott expressed the wish that he be taken to his home on Buffalo Creek, this county to die; he was taken back to Buffalo, Sunday, and just as the ambulance came within sight of the Endicott home, he died. Buford Morgan, 14 years old, of Prestonsburg, suffered a brain concussion, Wednesday morning, when he was struck by an automobile while riding a bicycle on the Mayo Trail. Married: Miss Virginia Jackson, of Ashland, formerly of Beisy, Layne, and Mr. Claude Summer, Jr., August 14, at Charleston, South Carolina; Miss Jacqueline Francis Moore, of Garrett, and Mr. James William Foster, of Alexandria, Virginia, August 7, in Alexandria. Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Allen, a son, William Edward; To Mr. and Mrs. Tandy Bartley, of David, a daughter; To Mr. and Mrs. Manford Davis, of Dwale, a son, Clarence Isaac, August 19; To Mr. and Mrs. Andy Goodman, of Dwale, a son, Jimmy Green; To Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Ousley, of Lancer, a daughter, August 15; To Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Burchett, of Lancer, a daughter. There died: Otto Stanley, 20, of Prestonsburg, Sunday afternoon, while working at the Standard Oil service station in Prestonsburg; Mrs. Mary Rice, 79, of Banner, Thursday, at the Martin General hospital; Adrian B. Clark, 49, of Detroit, Michigan, former Floyd resident, August 15, at Detroit; Darlene Bowling, two years old, of Weeksbury, Thursday, at the Martin General hospital.

Ten Years Ago

(August 27, 1953)

Sgt. Raymond Shepherd, Kentucky's first, and possibly America's first prisoner of the Korean War to be released, returned home here Tuesday afternoon. The fifth Floyd county prisoner of war to be released in Korea is Pfc. Taggett Allen, 22, of Abbott Creek. Formal pledge of Floyd county support of the state Bookmobile Project and application for Bookmobile service for the county was filed this week. Joe S. Shannon, 33, of Drift, was instantly killed last Thursday night when slate fell on him in the mines of the Beaver Valley Coal and Mining Company. Two former Floyd countians met death this week in Michigan auto tragedies: Keith Allen Maynard, 18 years old, of Dearborn, Michigan, formerly of Allen, was killed Sunday when an auto in which he was a passenger skidded from the highway into a tree; Rupert Hunter, 20, of Jackson, Michigan, formerly of Martin, was killed at Jackson, when the car he was driving was hit by a train and dragged 600 feet. Fire destroyed the store and living quarters of Perry Crider, near Lancer, last Friday, causing damage estimated at $17,000. The drought that began for most sections of this county in May is causing serious damage to farm crops. Married: Miss Mary Sue Porter, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. John William Crawford, of David, August 14, in the Second Presbyterian Church, Alexandria, Virginia; Miss Irene Clark, of Dayton, Ohio, and Mr. Clifford S. Thornton, of Dayton, August 22, at Dayton; Miss Delana Newman, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. Donald H. Goble, of Cliff, Saturday, at Horn's Chapel, at Cliff; Miss Cleo Bradley, of Abbott Creek, and Mr. James Bernard Shemoney, of Cairo, Illinois, August 26. Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hyden, of Prestonsburg, a son, Jack Clark, August 21, at the Prestonsburg General hospital; To Mr. and Mrs. Rex Ankrom, a daughter, August 13, in Huntington, West Virginia. There died: Mrs. Mintie Webb, 93 years old, Saturday, at her home on Jones Fork, near Lackey; Mrs. Mintie Stanford Brantley, 72, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, formerly of Prestonsburg, Thursday, in a Tulsa hospital; Mrs. Anna Rhoda Mayo May, 83, of May's Branch, Friday, at the Prestonsburg General hospital; Mrs. Lelia Freeman Mims, 48, of Ivel, August 20, at the Miami Valley hospital, Miami, Ohio; Joe Taylor Slusher, 28, of Mantion, last Saturday, at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin.

HOPKINS SERVES

Spartanburg, S. C.—Army Specialist Four Ronnie D. Hopkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hopkins, who live in East McDowell, Ky., is one of more than 75,000 armed forces personnel who participated in Exercise SWIFT STRIKE III, a U. S. Strike Command exercise in Georgia and North and South Carolina. SWIFT STRIKE III pitted two task forces against each other in a month-long mock war which ended Aug. 16. Specialist Hopkins, a clerk typist in the 1st Battalion's Headquarters Company of the 2nd Infantry Division's 38th Infantry at Fort Benning, Ga., entered the Army in March 1961. The 21-year-old soldier is a 1960 graduate of McDowell high school.

Music Attends Meeting Of Chevrolet Dealers; Sales Expectations Told

Ed Music, of Music-Colvin Motor Co., Prestonsburg, was among approximately 7,000 Chevrolet dealers and dealership executives in Detroit recently to attend the largest convention of its kind ever held in the auto industry. While there, dealers previewed the spectacular new lines of 1964 Chevrolet cars and trucks to be introduced early this fall. Arriving in Detroit at the rate of about 1,400 a day, the dealer guests were welcomed by top Chevrolet officials including Semon E. Knudsen, a General Motors vice-president and general manager of the division, and Larry Averill, general sales manager.

BINGHAM APPOINTED HEAD OF FLOYD MINE HOSPITAL

Three important changes in administrative posts of the Miners Memorial Hospital Association have been announced by John Newdorp, M.D., medical administrator of the hospital network. Thomas Marshall Fain, administrator of the McDowell Memorial hospital, will assume a similar position at the Hazard unit in the chain of hospitals. J. Fred Bingham, personnel officer for MMHA stationed at Williamson, has been appointed administrator of the McDowell Memorial hospital. T. Ray Allen, assistant administrator at Williamson, West Virginia Memorial Medical Center, is to become administrator at the Whitesburg, Kentucky hospital. He succeeds John C. Blankenboeckler who has accepted a position as assistant administrator of the Kentucky Baptist hospital, Louisville. J. Fred Bingham, personnel officer for MMHA stationed at Williamson, has been appointed administrator of the McDowell Memorial hospital. Mr. Allen assumed his duties August 15, 1963, while the other appointees will begin their new assignments later in the summer. The three hospitals are among those to be transferred to Appalachian Regional Hospitals, Inc., on September 30. Mr. Fain has been assistant administrator at the Williamson Memorial Medical Center. A native of Winona, Fayette county, West Virginia, he was graduated from Ralphelle, West Virginia high school and New River State College, now the West Virginia Institute of Technology at Montgomery, West Virginia. He came with the MMHA on November 14, 1955, as administrative assistant for the Middlesboro Memorial hospital. He holds a reserve commission as captain in the U. S. Army Medical Service Corps. Mr. Fain is married to the former Mary Gladys Dean, of Gassaway, West Virginia, and they are the parents of four children. Mr. Allen, a native of Welch, West Virginia, had been assistant administrator of the MMHA hospital in Beckley, West Virginia, before his transfer to Williamson. A graduate of Mark Twain high school, Stotesbury, West Virginia, and the National Business College of Roanoke, Virginia, he joined the administrative staff of Beckley hospital in 1948. He married Jo Ann Goss, of Beckley, in 1950, and they have four children. Mr. Bingham was administrative assistant in the Knoxville Area Medical Office of the UMWA Welfare and Retirement Fund from 1951 to 1955 when he left to become administrator of the Norton Community hospital, Norton, Virginia. Upon graduation from Maryville College at Maryville, Tennessee, he did graduate work at the University of Tennessee and Columbia University. During World War II, he was a sergeant major in a medical battalion in the European Theater of operations. Mr. Bingham is married to the former Mary Boyer and they have four daughters.

Story Told How "Aunt Sis" Given Nickname by Soldiers

BY HENRY P. SCALF

The Union troopers of Col. James A. Garfield, who came to Prestonsburg in January, 1862, following the Battle of Middle Creek, slogged through the mid-winter mud of the streets, milled about the center of town and finally threw tents at the northern end of town. The commanding colonel took up headquarters in the John M. Burns home.

Thirteen-year-old Mary Rowena Cooley peered fearfully from her home on First Avenue, for her father, David Cooley, Confederate sympathizer, was in Virginia. She and her mother could see the blue-clad soldiers knocking on doors and questioning people.

A detail of soldiers marched up the street and a young lieutenant brought them to a halt before the Cooley residence. Mrs. Cooley came out of the house, stood facing the officer and his men.

"Who lives here?" the lieutenant demanded.

"David Cooley, sir," she said bravely. "I am Mrs. Cooley."

"Where is David Cooley?"

"He is in Virginia, sir."

The officer paused briefly at this information, then said:

"Mrs. Cooley, I know your husband well. You need fear no harm from us. We need food and if you will prepare meals for my troopers I'll set a guard around your home and give you protection."

Mrs. Cooley agreed, and soldiers took positions around the house. Inside, Mary Rowena helped her mother prepare the evening meal for the soldiers. Darkness came but the family had no fear, for soldiers stood sentinel around the house.

Mary Rowena became a favorite of the soldiers. A soldier, perhaps thinking of a golden-haired sister back home, called her Little Sissy. Soon everybody called her that, including her mother and friends in town.

Came a day when Sissy awoke with a fever and a doctor was called. She had measles, he said. Every day the soldiers asked about Sissy but they never entered the house for fear of the contagion. The guards still stood at the front gate and at the back.

Sissy improved and was soon about the house and then one morning she went out to the gate to say "Hello" to her protectors. Soon, up and down the street, the news flew. Little Sissy was well.

David Cooley, his business finished in Virginia, came back to Prestonsburg, found he was in debt to his Northern foes for the safety of his family.

Mary Rowena Cooley grew to womanhood and the name Sissy was changed to Sis by her friends. She married Isaac Richmond but to the end of her days she was called Sis Richmond.

Proud of the name, she never tired of telling how the soldiers threw a guard around her home and named her Sissy.

ALFALFA WEEVIL PROBLEM

Lexington, Ky.—The alfalfa weevil, present in Kentucky since 1959, this spring for the first time heavily damaged alfalfa crops, the U.K. Ag Extension Service entomology and agronomy departments said this week.

PLUMBING CODE ADOPTED BY PRESTONSBURG, MARTIN

The new plumbing code adopted by the cities of Prestonsburg and Martin means that all plumbing in new homes or public buildings, remodeled homes or public buildings (if any plumbing is changed) and all sewer lines laid to the new city sewer must be installed in accordance with the code and must pass inspection.

This code also covers the installation of new hot water heaters, kitchen sinks, automatic washers, and automatic dishwashers in the home.

Any individual planning to lay his or her own line to the new city sewer may do so but first must come to the Health Department and make application for a plumbing permit, it was pointed out this week by Earl Compton, of the health department.

An individual installing his own sewer or plumbing is governed by the same laws by which a plumber must abide. Following is a list of items that the home-owner should know and follow if he plans to install his own sewer:

All sewer pipe must be four inches in diameter and must be of cast iron or vitreous clay, and all joints must be watertight and airtight.

Plastic pipe is not permitted unless it is of a grade that is approved by the Kentucky State Health Department.

Storm drains will not be permitted to go into the sewer.

All sewer lines must be inspected by the plumbing inspector before they are covered over with dirt.

If you live in Prestonsburg or Martin, at no time should you permit an installation man or maintenance man or plumber from any furniture store or hardware store come into your home and install a hot water heater, automatic washer, kitchen sink or automatic dishwasher without first obtaining a plumbing permit from the health department.

move through all the main streets.

The play will be directed by James Salisbury with Mrs. Carlos Haywood directing the chorus. Mrs. Kathryn Frazier is in charge of instrumental music. Mrs. Edith F. Scalf, of the Floyd County Times, from original manuscripts on the Civil War period.

to move the meter but is unanimously agreed it will not expend any money in connection with relocation of the road or changing its route by acquiring additional land.

It also is reluctant to enter into a law-suit which it fears it cannot win. At the same time, it is loath to take action to recover from the attorney who made the abstract of from the property-owner who sold the site to the commission.

Yet the county's demand must be met.

Parsons' Suit Asks Total of $33,500, Result of Collision

Damages totalling $33,500 are asked in a circuit court suit filed this week by Saint Parsons, his wife, Betty, and their infant son, Albert, against Grover Bradford, DeGarmo DeRossett and the Coal Bit Company.

The suit is the outgrowth of a car-truck collision last March 15, near Stanville. Plaintiffs alleged that the truck driven by Bradford and owned by DeRossett and/or the Coal Bit Company was so recklessly operated that it struck the Parsons auto.

Damages asked: $500 to the car, $10,000 for each of the plaintiffs and $3,000 for loss of earnings.

MISS MARTIN, BRIDE OF MR. YABROFF

Miss Dorothy Gay Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Martin, of Martin, Ky., became the bride of Mr. Ronald Mittelman Yabroff, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Louis Yabroff, Lafayette, California, in a candlelight ceremony at the Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church here, Saturday, August 24, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. Guy Deane, Jr., of Morgantown, Ky., officiated, using the double-ring vows.

Church decorations consisted of palms and southern smilax interspersed with candelabra holding white wedding tapers and flanked by standards of white gladioli and snapdragons.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. Joe Buchanan, organist. Mrs. James Chester Claypool, of Danville, sang "I Love Thee", "Always", and "The Lord's Prayer", accompanied by the piano by Mrs. L. C. McCloud.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of bridal white pin-tucked silk organza, designed with a deep oval neckline and short sleeves outlined in hand-clipped chantilly lace. Garlands of lace encircled the dome skirt, and a removable chapel train was held at the waistline by a crushed cummerbund. Her veil of illusion fell from a cluster of self fabric roses studded with tiny pearls. She carried a white pearl Bible topped with gardenias from which trailed stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Charles MacInnes, of Marathon, New York, served as matron of honor. She wore a soft coral silk organza dress over matching taffeta, styled with a scoop neckline and brief sleeves.

Her headpiece was a coral silk organza rose with a circlet of matching illusion. She carried a French bouquet of deep picardy gladioli backed by galax.

Bridesmaids were Miss Ann Kristin Ramsey, Pikeville, and Mrs. Walter Witschey, Charleston, West Virginia. They wore dresses designed like that of the honor attendant and carried matching bouquets of pale picardy gladioli.

Mr. Stephen Yabroff, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Dr. Charles MacInnes, Montreal, Canada; Walter Witschey, Charleston, West Virginia, and William Patrick Malone, Allen.

Mrs. Martin, mother of the bride, wore an afternoon-length dress of aqua peau de soie in a sheath style with a scalloped neckline and petite sleeves. The Empire effect bodice was overlaid with handrun Alencon lace. Her hat was a matching crushed open crown pill box with a small veil. She carried a white beaded purse with a rose corsage attached. Mrs. Yabroff, mother of the groom, wore a soft-gold silk linen street-length dress, designed with a scooped neckline and three-quarter sleeves. She wore matching accessories. Her corsage was of white cymbidium orchids.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the M. Lodge. Assisting were Miss Sherman, Miss Alicia Crisp, Miss Charlene Davis, of Martin, and Miss Patricia Evans and Miss Judy Price, of Wayland. At the guest register was Miss Nancy Rose, of Prestonsburg.

After a wedding trip to Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Yabroff will reside at 222 Dryden Road, Ithaca, New York. Both will be enrolled in the Graduate School at Cornell University.

Memory Development Discussed In Book

BY ROBERT WALLACE

I have always admired the person who never forgets a name or face. This ability to remember names and faces is, in my opinion, more valuable than the ability to make a 100-yard touchdown run. For this reason I read with interest the little book, "How to Develop a Perfect Memory for Names and Faces," by H. B. Upton. The library has three copies. (Just as I started reading the book a man called and said for me to stop by.)

The book, according to the author, outlines and gives details of a system that will enable the average person to develop a memory like an elephant. He makes a good thing out of it, saying that today's casual acquaintances often are tomorrow's valued friends. He presents an uncomplicated procedure of strengthening one's memory—making sure you have the name correct, linking up the name with a mental image of the person, then practice in recalling to mind both the name and mental image of the person. The author furnishes in the book a model card wherein you jot down the name and address of a new acquaintance plus any distinguishing marks and appearance.

The author says this system of developing one's memory has worked for him in his business. I believe his system is a good one, and I'm going to try it.

Now, let's see, who was it that called me on the phone?

It is planting time again. Hardy spring flowering bulbs should all of them be fall-planted for best results. Fall is even the best time for most of our lilies, with only a few exceptions.

Risks involved in landing on the moon include dealing with the terrific variation in the moon's temperature which ranges from above the boiling point of water during the day to 300 degrees below zero at night, according to Reader's Digest.

BOARD MAY LIMIT ACTIVITY OF TEACHERS IN POLITICS

A local school board may, "within reasonable bounds," limit a teacher's political activity outside the classroom, the attorney general's office said Monday.

But Assistant Attorney General Ray Corns said he could not give a direct answer as to whether the Fulton county school board acted legally in adopting a resolution on the subject June 6.

The resolution ordered that "any employee who takes an active part in political campaigns submit his resignation."

Joe Ross, Hickman, president of the Fulton County Teachers' Association, asked for the attorney general's advice and commented:

"I feel this move is a severe blow at the very roots of civil rights. I also wonder about the legality of such action."

Ross said he interpreted the school board resolution as suppressing "expression of opinion in public regarding major political races, bumper stickers on private cars, and otherwise permitting opinions to be heard in public."

But Corns said he does not think the resolution would encompass expression of private opinions outside the classroom during non-school hours.

"We are unable to take a positive stand on the question of the legality of the resolution adopted by the board since the phrase 'active part in political campaigns' is not defined," Corns said.

"We would assume, however, that it does not extend to the voicing of one's personal opinion during non-school hours, the wearing of a campaign pin or button during these times, and related activities of a similar nature."

Corns said the line of demarcation is difficult to draw in many instances.

"The problem is a delicate one because the equilibrium of the school system should not be disturbed by an inordinate participation in political campaigns and, on the other hand, the members of the profession should not be throttled in voicing their preference in such contests," he said.

One state statute prohibits a teacher from being discharged because of political opinions or affiliations.

But Corns said the statute should not be construed to include active participation in political campaigns.

McDaniel Named Manager Of Sales for Bell Firm

Max G. McDaniel, of Louisville, has been named division sales manager for Eastern Kentucky by the Southern Bell Telephone Company, it was announced this week by A. Guy Hisle, local manager.

He will be located in Winchester and will direct the large business customer sales activities there and in Frankfort, Danville, Middlesboro, and Pikeville, Paintsville, and Prestonsburg areas.

Mr. McDaniel, who was formerly the chief special agent for Southern Bell's Security Department in Kentucky, started with the company in 1959. He worked in Atlanta and Nashville prior to moving to his former assignment in Louisville in September of 1960.

A native of Whiteville, North Carolina, he is a graduate of Southeastern University in Washington, D. C., and the Woodrow Wilson College of Law in Atlanta, Georgia. Prior to joining Southern Bell, he was a special agent with the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Chicago.

Forest Research Planned On Coal-Stripped Lands; Berea Is Study Center

Frankfort, Ky., August 17 (Sp.)—Increased activity in research for forest restoration and watershed management on coal-stripped land in the Appalachian Mountains of Kentucky will be conducted from the Berea office of the Central States Forest Experiment Station, Forest Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In a joint announcement, Kentucky Conservation Commissioner J. O. Matlick and R. D. Lane, director of the Central States Experiment Station, Columbus, Ohio, said U. S. Forest Service scientists will step up the research project after federal legislation, signed by President Kennedy, provided a $150,000 increase for the project in July.

Lane said that plans are being developed rapidly so that the new research can be started immediately. Several scientists will be employed to carry on this new work. They will include water flow specialists, plant specialists, soil scientists and engineers.

Matlick and Lane said that limited research, financed jointly by their two offices, has been under way at Berea for the past two years on some aspects of mined-area restoration in the high forested watersheds of Eastern Kentucky.

The increased funds will enable the Forest Service to carry out studies and get practical results much sooner than would otherwise be possible, they said. The Kentucky Department of Conservation, Tennessee Valley Authority, Berea College, University of Kentucky, Kentucky Reclamation Association, individual mining companies, and others have been cooperating in this research program. In addition, Ohio State University, Purdue University, and others are cooperating with the Central States Station on special aspects of strip-mine reclamation.

The research being expanded at Berea will include tree planting as part of a much broader program. Lane said the Station scientists will now be searching for vegetation that grows rapidly, provides a quick cover compatible with tree growth, and helps reduce surface erosion and water runoff on the stripped land.

The scientists will also seek vegetation suitable for wildlife food and cover, for recreational developments, and for protection of mine ponds and streamflow, he explained.

The expanded program will include research leading to practical methods for protecting forest and other natural resources during mining, of leaving the mined areas in the best possible condition for restoration for a number of land uses, and for reducing run-off and erosion from coal haul roads.

Although the research at Berea has been under way for only two years, the Central States Station has been conducting research in tree planting on stripped-over areas for the past 25 years. Experimental plantings have been made by the Station and cooperating mining companies and their associations in eight states: Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma.

The results of this research have been released by the Station and now guide a massive, regionwide tree planting program conducted by the mining companies and their associations.

By GORDON MOORE

The Floyd county high school football championship will be settled Friday night in Wheelwright where the Maroons are host to the Prestonsburg Black Cats.

The 8:00 p.m. session will mark the head coaching debut of Bert Dixon, who was named the school's outstanding athlete in 1955. He has been coaching at Shawnee high in Jefferson county, since playing three years as a starting end for the Morehead State College Eagles.

Dixon has been faced with a rebuilding job as six of last year's regulars failed to report for fall practice. Lack of depth and experience could hamper the Black Cat chances for a winning season.

In the backfield, Dixon is expected to go with quarterback Mike Wells, halfback Chalmor Howard and David Miller or Gary Goble at the other post. Junior Lennie Harris will be the fullback. All are letterwinners SETHAR ODOV SEHRATH winners from last season.

"Chuck" May, 210-pound senior, is the biggest player in the line and is a two-season veteran. He will team with junior Earman Tackett at the tackle positions. They are the only experienced linemen.

Paul Burke, Joe Howard, center Johnny Dawson, Randy Birchett and Hershel Joseph are non-letter winners and will be starting for the first time.

Wheelwright bowed 64-6 to Jenkins in its opening game last week, the loss marked one of the worst ever for the Trojans. Holdovers for the Trojans are fullback Douglas Hall, halfback Robert Jackson, center Gary Wyskiver, tackle Ernie Moore and end Steve Berger.

Atrophy, emblematic of the Floyd county championship, will be presented to the winning coach by the losing mentor immediately after the game. Prestonsburg won last year's meeting by a lone touchdown.

Francis Stores in Prestonsburg will again sponsor the Black Cat Player-of-the-Week Award. Each week, the Black Cat coaching staff along with a representative of the store and a local business man select the outstanding player for the Prestonsburg football team; the following week his picture and other pertinent information will be displayed in the store's window. The player also will be presented with an award. The store has made the weekly awards for the past ten seasons.

The annual Floyd county pre-season basketball tournament will be played in Prestonsburg, December 4, 5, 6, 7. First round pairs have Maytown vs. McDowell and Martin against Wheelwright in the upper bracket.

In the lower bracket, Prestonsburg is pitted against Wayland and Garrett squares off against Betsy Layne. Gene Frasure, Maytown cage mentor, moved into the presidency of the Floyd County Caches Association this school year. Oscar Bush, Jr., will serve as secretary-treasurer.

PP&K CONTEST PLANNED HERE

Test of Grid Skills
Set for Boys, 8 to 11;
Dixon, Local Director

Prestonsburg area grade school boys from eight through 11 can pit their football skills against thousands of other boys throughout the nation in the third annual Punt, Pass & Kick Competition which will culminate with a trip to Washington, D. C., for a White House tour, then to Dearborn, Michigan, and afterward an appearance at the National Football League Championship game for the top eight winners.

Sponsored nationally by the Ford Motor Company and the National Football League, the Punt, Pass & Kick Program—or PP&K—will be staged in Prestonsburg by Bruce Walters Ford with the Prestonsburg Lions Club as local co-sponsor. Bert Dixon, Prestonsburg high school football coach, has been named competition director.

Prestonsburg youths will be tested for their ability to punt, pass and kick (using a kicking tee) footballs on the same day as thousands of other boys all over the country, with warm-up jackets, football helmets and autographed footballs to be given as first, second and third prizes for each age group, or four top Prestonsburg winners in all. Scores throughout the state then will be compared to determine the four top Kentucky winners, and these scores compared to determine the most skillful eight, nine, ten and eleven-year-old fledgling football stars in each of the areas covered by the telecasts of the 14 National Football League teams.

Area winners and their fathers and mothers will receive all-expense-paid trips to a National Football League game in their area, and will compete during half-time to determine the four top Eastern Division winners and four top Western Division winners. These eight boys, accompanied by their parents, will visit Washington, D. C., where they will tour the White House. They will then travel to Dearborn, Michigan, and tour Greenfield Village. The entire group then will go to the site of the NFL Championship game, for half-time competition to determine the four National winners.

David duPont, of Bruce Walters Ford, and president of the Prestonsburg Lions Club, pointed out that there is no charge for entering, and no special equipment needed. "Registration will be open from September 3 through October 11," he said. His office will serve as the registration headquarters.

Entrants will be judged on the distance and accuracy of their punting, passing and kicking (using a kicking tee), with points awarded for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly and subtracted for each foot the ball lands to the right or left of a center line. The Prestonsburg competition will be held Saturday, October 12, at Thompson Stadium.

Miss Hatfield To Represent USA In Overseas Image Job

Miss Nina Lee Hatfield, a former Miss Charleston and daughter of a native Floyd woman, has been named in a nationwide contest the physical education student who can best represent her country overseas to help counteract bad impressions left by many other Americans.

The pretty 19-year-old Marshall University co-ed is a daughter of Mrs. Addie Huff Hatfield, of Kayford, West Virginia, formerly of Hueysville.

As winner of the contest staged by the President's Council on Physical Fitness and the Lanvin Company Miss Hatfield is spending 30 days in Europe. She will travel in France and Scandinavia, and her tour will be covered by 20th Century Fox for films on physical fitness. On her return she will appear publicly as a salaried member of the President's Council.

Miss Hatfield is a senior at Marshall and is president of Alpha Xi Delta sorority. Her sports include basketball, archery, swimming and tennis.

Rev. Fitts Resigns W'Wright Pastorate, To Teach at Clear Cr.

The Rev. Robert Fitts, a native of Nashville and a World War II chaplain, has resigned the pastorate of the Wheelwright Baptist Church to join the faculty of Clear Creek Baptist School, Pineville, Kentucky, where he will teach in the Old Testament Department. An associate in the Kentucky Baptist Sunday School Department for six years, he received the B.A. degree from Carson-Newman College, the Master of Theology degree from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and also did graduate work at the University of Georgia. He was formerly pastor of the First Baptist Church of Harrodsburg and First Baptist Church, Stearns.

Mrs. Fitts, the former Velois Sinkhorn, of Harrodsburg, is a graduate of Bethel College and Pikeville College. Their oldest son, John, is a second year pre-medical student at the University of Kentucky with a scholarship from Inland Steel Corporation. Other children include Susan, 16, and twins, Deborah and Douglas, age 8.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING TELLS DANGERS OF BARBITURATES

Millions of respectable people use pills for sleep and "pep"—but many are flirting with disaster, even death.

Thousands of Americans were killed last year because of their daily dependence on barbiturate "sleeping" pills—or these drugs opposite number, amphetamine "pep" pills.

Doctors estimate that thousands more were placed in mental clinics and institutions. And hundreds of thousands are heading in the same direction.

These claims are made by Joe Ghipps and Robert Robinson in "The Growing Menace of 'Nice' Drugs" in the September Good Housekeeping Magazine.

The authors, before detailing the widespread use of these "nice" drugs, ask their readers to consider these facts:

1. The U. S. Public Health Service reports that barbiturates now account for more deaths than any other cause of acute poisoning.
2. For every five persons who died of acute alcoholism last year, four died of acute barbiturization.
3. Controlled experiments on volunteer patients at the U.S.P.H.S. Addiction Research Center at Lexington, Kentucky, have proven that barbiturates can be more deadly than heroin or morphine.
4. Law enforcement officials report a direct causal relationship between the mounting rate of barbiturate and amphetamine abuse and crimes of violence.
5. So alarming is the addiction increase that Connecticut's Senator Thomas Dodd was moved to say in February, 1962: "We're becoming a nation that's absolutely dope-headed on this stuff. A virtual epidemic of 'nice-drug addiction' is sweeping the country."

Today not only are heroin and marijuana, the main drugs falling into the traditional addictive classification, completely outlawed, but legal and medicinal traffic in morphine and similar drugs is so rigidly policed that fewer and fewer new narcotic addicts are turning up each year.

Into this vacuum barbiturates and amphetamines — inadequately controlled by the Food and Drug Administration — have moved with a vengeance.

Among the better-known barbiturates are Seconal, Nembutal, Amytal, Phenobarbital, Butisol, Vernal and Pentothal. Benzadrine and Dexedrine are the best-known of the amphetamines.

The nervous system of a barbiturate or amphetamine addict may grow so dependent on the drug that, when it is completely withdrawn, the addict's system may be paralyzed and normal physiological activities interrupted.

In order to get through the day, 630,000 to 1,350,000 Americans have come to rely on habit-forming sedatives.

Senator Dodd has offered an amendment to the Food and Drug Act that would help stamp out this evil. It has been introduced in every Congress since 1956, but without success.

Only an aroused public will move the 88th Congress.

PLAN NEW LAWN?

If you're planning a new lawn and don't have good topsoil, mix fresh sawdust, ground corncobs or similar organic material with the soil to prepare a good seedbed for bluegrass seed, recommends Earl H. New, University of Kentucky Extension Service horticulturist. When mixing these materials with lawn soil, you'll need to add extra ammonium nitrate in addition to that called for by your soil test.

In the United States, the IFYE program is sponsored by the National 4-H Club Foundation on behalf of the Cooperative Extension Service. It is privately financed by 4-H Clubs, foundations, businesses, industries and individuals. A Letter To Our NON-CATHOLIC Neighbors Catholics and non-Catholics, as a rule, get along right well together.

Our families live amicably next door to each other and often become lifetime friends. Our sons fight side by side on every battlefield. We work together in the same shops and factories...root for the same baseball teams...do business with one another in a spirit of mutual trust every day.

In these and other phases of everyday life, there is a close association which promotes understanding and respect. But in religion...where this close association does not exist...there is often a regrettable lack of understanding and a corresponding absence of good-will.

Many people, for instance, have all sorts of false ideas about Catholics and the Catholic Church. They actually believe that Catholics worship statues...that many sordid things happen behind convent walls...that Catholics do not believe in the Bible...that Catholic teaching is pure superstition and the Mass nothing but mumbo-jumbo.

All non-Catholics, of course, do not believe such things. But enough of these false rumors are in circulation to cause some sincere and intelligent non-Catholics to look upon the Catholic Church with suspicion, and to reject Catholic truth without even troubling to investigate it.

It is for this reason that the Knights of Columbus, a society of Catholic laymen, publishes advertisements like this explaining what Catholics really believe. We want our non-Catholic friends and neighbors to understand us and our Faith, even if they do not wish to join us.

If you do not inquire into the teaching of the Catholic Church, you cannot know whether it is or is not the Church established by Jesus Christ for your salvation. You cannot intelligently accept or reject Catholic teaching until you investigate it and know what it really is.

A distinguished Catholic author has written "A Letter To a Friend Not of My Faith," which has been published in the form of a pamphlet. It gives a beautiful explanation of Catholic beliefs, worship and history, and a blueprint of Christian living which will deeply move you whether you accept or reject the Catholic viewpoint.

We will send you a copy free on request, and nobody will call on you. Write for Pamphlet No. KC-23.

Public Hit Severely By Newspaper Strike;

Total cost of last winter's 114-day newspaper blackout in New York City to the papers, the employees, the unions, and the community is now estimated at $189,350,000 to $250,000,000. W. L. White describes the struggle and its cost in a September Reader's Digest article, "The Strike Nobody Won."

The shutdown lasted nearly four months and won the unions a package increase of $12.63 a week, only $2.56 more than they were offered before the printers' contract expired. But it cost the papers $108 million in advertising, the employees $50 million in wages.

It cut department-store sales seven percent, drained the state unemployment-insurance fund of $3,750,000, depleted union treasuries and deprived the state and federal governments of $12 million in taxes. It ran the treasury of the Newspaper Guild—largest of the ten unions involved—so far into debt that Guild members across the nation will have to pay extra dues for two years to build the union back.

Newsdealers lost $11,700,000, restaurants 16 million, hotels two million and railroads two million. The International Typographical Union paid out about $3,600,000 in strike benefits to New York printers, which printers across the nation had to repay through steeper union dues. The New York Guild had to exhaust its treasury and go $700,000 into debt.

Television tried hard to fill the vacuum by enormously expanding its news coverage at heavy cost—and lost money on it. With no watchdog press to bark at them, the politicians frolicked unafraid.

The huge chain with anchor that Mississippi River to turn back Union gumboats is a focal point of interest at Columbus-Beimont State Park.

Record Total Contracts Awarded for Construction Of State Public Schools

Frankfort, Ky., August 26 (Sp.)—A record total of more than $45.2 million in 360 construction and equipment contracts for Kentucky public schools was awarded during the 1962-1963 fiscal year, Wendell P. Butler, Kentucky superintendent of public instruction has reported.

Biggest item in the 1962-1963 school construction program was new classroom buildings. Contracts totaling $25,218,778, also a record, were let for 13 new high schools, three junior high schools, 34 elementary schools, three vocational school extension centers, and six other buildings.

Superintendent Butler said that contracts for these new schools and additions to present schools will add 1,542 instructional rooms to the local school systems.

A breakdown of other areas in the capital outlay contracts during the last fiscal year shows $14,642,882 for additions to buildings; $2,691,912 for improvements to buildings; $1,131,316 for equipment; $976,878 for 40 new sites; $295,150 for 30 site additions; and $331,651 for 48 improvements to sites.

Local districts acquired more than 784 acres of land for new school sites and additions to school sites during the year.

In addition to the new buildings, the Department of Education said contracts were let for 48 additions to elementary schools, 43 additions to high schools and three additions to junior high schools.

The Pioneer Playhouse, Danville, was named Kentucky's official state theater by the 1962 Legislature.

Martin To Observe 30 Years of Service

Thirty years of service with the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company will be observed by a McDowell resident on August 29. Pearl Martin, who joined the firm back in 1933 as a well operator, has served as district supervisor for the past ten years. Mr. Martin was born at Drift in 1900 and attended Allen grade school. He is a five-year Army veteran, having served from December, 1919 through November, 1924, and is a member of the Masonic Lodge. He and Mrs. Martin have two children, Edna M. Martin and Mrs. Anna R. Hall.

Eastern Kentucky did not become attractive to pioneer settlers until the power of the Indians north of the Ohio River was broken at the Battle of Tippecanoe in 1811.

Ollie Burgy, 61, Price, Victim of Heart Attack; Burial, Frasure Cemetery

Ollie Burgy, 61, of Price, died Monday at home of a heart attack. He had been in ill health for a year. He was a painter.

Mr. Burgy was a son of Thomas and Polly Clark Burgy. His wife, Ella Tackett Burgy, survives. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Two sons and four daughters survive: Bill Burgy, Columbus, Ohio; Ollie Burgy, Jr., and Mrs. Lucille Barney, both of Ypsilanti, Michigan; Mrs. Pauline Rose, Louisville; Mrs. Shirley Bradley, of Estill, and Miss Barbara Burgy, at home. Two brothers and a sister surviving are Bill Burgy, of Hi Hat, and Mrs. Thomas Burgy, Jr., Dayton, Ohio; Gertrude Collins, Prestonsburg.

Funeral rites were conducted today (Thursday) at 1 p.m. from the home, the Rev. Archie Everage officiating. Burial was made in the Lora Frasure cemetery at Price under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Heart Attack Claims Hatler Boyd, 59, Dana; Funeral Conducted Today

Hatler Boyd, 59, of Dana, died Monday at 9:20 p.m. at home of a heart attack. Death was sudden and unexpected. He was a carpenter.

Mr. Boyd was a son of the late Lennie Boyd, Jr., and Mary Ellen Smith Boyd. Surviving are a son and three daughters: Millard M. Boyd, U. S. Army, Fort Myers, Virginia; Mrs. Lillian Hall and Mrs. Judy Streetman, both of Titusville, Florida; and Mrs. Norma Jean Hall, Camp LeJune, North Carolina. Surviving brothers and sisters are Ellis Ezra Boyd, Ashland, Joseph Hall, Vermillion, Ohio; Mrs. Delphia Combs, Wurland, Kentucky; Mrs. Gracie Carroll, Warren, Michigan; and Bessie, Flat Rock, Michigan.

The Amazon, world's mightiest river, starts as a tiny, icy stream in a glacier 16,085 feet high in the Andes of Peru, 60 miles from the Pacific Ocean, and after flowing through six countries and vast dense, torrid jungles, empties into the Atlantic 3,900 miles away, according to the September Reader's Digest.

VIRGINIAN IS APPOINTED HEAD OF AREA HOSPITALS

Jay G. Coberly, of Alexandria, Virginia, has been named assistant director of Appalachian Regional Hospitals, Inc. He began his work Monday with the non-profit corporation that will take over the operation of five Miners Memorial hospitals in Eastern Kentucky, October 1.

Until July 1, 1964, when five additional Miners Memorial Hospitals are scheduled for transfer to Appalachian Regional Hospitals, Inc., he will be employed jointly by ARHI and the Miners Memorial Hospital Association, which built and operates the hospitals on behalf of the Welfare and Retirement Fund of the United Mine Workers of America.

Under Appalachian Regional Hospitals, Inc., the chain will be operated as non-profit community hospitals.

Since 1954, Mr. Coberly has been associate administrator for business services for the Miners Memorial Hospital Association. In his new post, he will serve as deputy to the executive director of Appalachian Regional Hospitals, Inc., who is yet to be named. Mr. Coberly will also perform such joint duties for the new hospital corporation and the Miners Memorial Hospital Association as will best effect a smooth transfer of the hospitals.

As soon as possible his office will be established in the area the hospitals serve.

CHURCH SPARED

Last winter, most disastrous for Europe in 200 years, had its happier side. The September Reader's Digest tells of a "miracle" on a Sunday in the Greek village of Mikro Horlo. A landslide buried all the homes and killed eight people but left standing the church. The only people saved were those attending services.

STRENGTH, WILL TO SERVE LESSON OF COOPER'S LIFE

During his life the late Gary Cooper taught his wife that there is always another way to look at everything—happiness or tragedy. The lesson has proved invaluable in the two years since his death.

"What did God plan for me to do? What did others, widows and widowers, do when their world suddenly crumbled beneath them?" Mrs. Cooper writes in the September Good Housekeeping Magazine.

"One morning it came to me: what would Gary have done if the situation had been reversed?"

"I could find only one answer. Gary would have drawn himself up to his full height, tightened his shoulders and told himself, 'It's the same old world. I'm just seeing it differently. I'll have to look at it through new eyes and find what's waiting for me that I can't see right now.'

"This was the key: what he had been teaching me all through the years we had together. I had to look further and find new meanings," she writes.

After Mrs. Cooper and her daughter Maria left California and settled in a New York apartment, they met a man who had spoken about Gary's courage in facing his incurable cancer. He had mentioned several hospitals in New York where volunteer workers were needed.

"That evening I talked this over with Maria," writes Mrs. Cooper. "She and I believed we could help others, as well as ourselves, by working in a hospital. We'd have some sense of contribution, of being needed, or participating in life and doing something for others—and taking our thoughts away from Gary."

"Maria uses her artistic talents each week on our volunteer days at Dr. Howard Rusk's Institute for Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation and at the Institute of Reconstructive Plastic Surgery.

"If there is one thing that has helped me to get back solidly on my feet since Gary's death, it's the second look I've taken at the people who are suffering and hospitalized. I bring a deeper understanding to those lonely hospital corridors, and I feel needed, as I see how much I, as one human being, can do in a small way for others.

"Maria calls the days spent at the hospitals 'the best time of the week.' She works with occupational therapy, helping paralytics gain use of their arms through sketching or painting. I push stretchers, wheel chairs, feed and chat with patients.

"Knowing them gives me strength," writes Mrs. Cooper.

'38 Class Anniversary Held by School Group; Form Alumni Group

The 1938 graduating class of Prestonsburg high school held its 25th anniversary reunion Saturday at the May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park.

Mrs. Tom G. Dingus (Gwendolyn Sturgill) and Henry D. (Buddy) Fitzpatrick, were in charge of reservations and arrangements. Mrs. H. L. Lockwood (Margaret Stephens) was in charge of table decorations. Eugene Holcomb was master of ceremonies.

Z. S. (Dickie) Dickerson, Jr., gave the invocation. The reunion was dedicated to the memory of Dick Erwin Mayo, and a short memorial was given by William Baldrige, Jr. Dick Erwin is the only known member who is not living, and he was a casualty of World War II.

The teachers present were introduced and spoke briefly. They were: Claybourne Stephens, who was principal in 1938, and Mrs. Claybourne (Irene) Stephens; Mrs. Chalmers (Kathryn) Frazier, music teacher and Glee Club sponsor, who led the group in singing the school football song; Mrs. E. D. (May K.) Roberts, Mrs. Minnie Grace (Harris) Sutherland and Miss Alice Harris. Roll call was made by Mrs. Sutherland who was the senior class home room teacher in 1938, and when each name was called those present gave a brief account of what he or she had done in the 25 years since graduating, and introduced the husband or wife.

The graduates formed an alumni group and elected Mrs. Tom G. Dingus, chairman, and H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., co-chairman. It was decided to have another reunion in 1968.

A prize was awarded to the graduate who had traveled the farthest. This was won by Mrs. Jay M. Shields (Sue Martha Ransdell) who had come from Abilene, Texas. The prize for having the largest family was won by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Saunders, who have five children. The prize to the graduate having the most grandchildren was won by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Goodman.

There were 29 former graduates at the reunion out of a class of 47. Nearly every profession was represented, with the highest percentage being in the fields of education and homemaking.

There was a good bit of reminiscing and recalling old memories, but it was never disclosed who threw the eraser and his "Miss" Minnie Grace or who set the alarm clock to ring during the repeating of the Lord's Prayer in the seventh grade. Those present and enjoying the occasion were:

Dick Mayo Allen, Richmond, Kentucky; Mr. and Mrs. William Baldrige, Jr., East Point; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Callihan, Prestonsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Holcomb, Huntington, West Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., Prestonsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Graham Dingus (Gwendolyn Sturgill), Prestonsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Sturgill, Pikeville; Mr. and Mrs. Townsell Marshall, Middletown, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Saunders, Lucky, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall (Edna Grace Derossett), Huntington, West Virginia; Mrs. Malta Sue May Porter, Emma; Mr. and Mrs. Jay M. Shields (Sue Martha Ransdell), Abilene, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lockwood (Margaret Stephens), Huntington, West Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Ike Fitzpatrick (Josephine Holbrook), Prestonsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Dotson (Thelma Whittaker), Prestonsburg.

Mountain Combs Family Holds Reunion At Hazard, Saturday; Gov. Combs Featured Speaker

(In The Courier-Journal)
BY FRED W. LUGART, JR.

Hazard, Ky., August 25—Governor Bert T. Combs, his cousins, their cousins, and cousins generations and miles removed from Eastern Kentucky, got together here Sunday for an old-fashioned reunion of the Combs family.

There was talk of uncles, aunts, nephews, grandparents and great-grandparents; giant spreads of home-cooked food, and good fellowship as relatives renewed acquaintances and recalled ancestors.

"Now which Combs are you?" was often heard. Even outsiders were inducted into the clan.

"You need a name tag," the grandson of a German immigrant peasant was told. "After you've lived in Eastern Kentucky as long as you have, you automatically become a Combs."

Friendly arguments raged about family genealogy. They were settled by consulting a chart showing the family tree. The chart was posted at the entrance of the Hazard Memorial gymnasium, where the reunion was held.

Most of the people were Combs, but there was even an Ogorosky. "I married the daughter of a Combs," he explained.

Perry county was selected as the site of the first annual reunion of the Combs Family Association because there are more Combses and relatives living here than anywhere else in Kentucky.

"We're all shirttail kinfolks," the Governor told the cheering crowd in a brief talk. "The Combses are the biggest and best generation in Kentucky."

He described his clan and forebears "as honest, hardworking and stubborn-as-hell people." Jestingly, he said, it included "outlaws as well as inlaws."

The Governor was introduced as the "best-loved and best-known of the Combses." But some in the crowd good-naturedly disagreed because there was another equally famous Combs present—silver-haired Earle Combs, of Richmond, the New York Yankee outfielder in the days of Lou Gehrig and Babe Ruth.

"This reunion's just grand," Earle said. "But there are more Combses than what I see here." The Governor agreed.

About 1,000 persons—from many Kentucky counties and 15 other states—attended.

The Governor was given a home-made cake from one cousin, Mrs. Eliza Combs Knuckles, 37, Beverly, Kentucky.

Making the longest trip were Mrs. Fern Quisenberry, North Hollywood, California, and her sister, Mrs. Lucinda Charenbrock, Stockton, California. They attended with their mother, Mrs. Serena Combs Landrum, Lost Creek, who was Breathitt county's mother of the Year in 1962.

All in all, it was a reunion that would have pleased old John Combs. In 1619 he left Devonshire county, England, and settled in Jamestown, Virginia.

Conservation Congress Slated At Louisville; Plan Panel Discussion

Frankfort, Ky., August 26 (Sp.)—The Third Annual Conservation Congress will get under way October 17 at the Kentucky Hotel, Louisville, with a panel discussion on forestry, wildlife and recreation.

State Conservation Commissioner J. O. Matlick, chairman of the Natural Resources Development Committee, which sponsors the Congress, said all of the panelists are tops in their field and will be of interest to everyone attending the meeting.

This is the first of three panel discussions scheduled during the two-day Congress and will be key-noted by Robert Collins, supervisor of the Cumberland National Forest.

Other panel members include Gene Butcher, director of the State Division of Forestry in the Department of Conservation; Gilbert Brown, head of the Department of Forestry at the University of Kentucky; Robert Hayes, U. S. Corps of Engineers, Louisville; Minor Clark, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources; Dr. James Salato, chairman of the Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission, Columbia, Kentucky; and Clyde Hubbard, president of the League of Kentucky Sportsmen, Louisville. The panel will be moderated by Marshall W. Qualls, deputy commissioner of the Conservation Department.

The Congress begins at 8:30 a. m. with registration and the panel is set from 10 a. m. to 12 noon. A luncheon will follow, with a panel on land use and mineral resources scheduled for the afternoon session. The third panel, on conservation education, health and social aspects, will be conducted October 18, at 9 a. m.

Matlick said nearly 1,000 Kentuckians interested in conserving natural resources are expected to attend the congress. Conservationists from a number of other states are also expected.

To be singled out for special recognition at the congress are Kentuckians who have made outstanding contributions in conserving and developing the state's natural resources.

Matlick said all Kentuckians interested in proper protection and wise use of soil, water, forests and wild life are invited to attend and to join the Natural Resources Development Committee. Those who wish to attend may write to Matlick, committee chairman, Capitol Annex, Frankfort, Kentucky.

REMINDER IS ISSUED ON NEW LEGISLATION

Employers and employees of Kentucky were reminded this week of revised provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act (Federal Wage-Hour Law) which go into effect, September 3.

The reminder came from Regional Director Pat Meloan of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions.

He pointed out—

1. The minimum wage for employees engaged in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for interstate commerce goes from the present minimum of at least $1.15 an hour to a new minimum of not less than $1.25 an hour. Such employment was covered by the Act prior to amendments of 1961.

2. A 44-hour maximum workweek standard, with provision for premium pay of at least one and one-half times the regular rate for overtime, goes into effect for employment in certain large enterprises engaged in commerce, or in the production of goods for commerce, principally in retail and service establishments. Such employment was made subject to the overtime provisions of the Act for the first time by the amendments of 1961.

Mr. Meloan also cited the Equal Pay Act of 1963 which amends the Fair Labor Standards Act and goes into effect generally on June 11, 1964. It provides that employers with workers subject to the Fair Labor Standards Act's minimum wage provisions shall not discriminate on the basis of sex in the payment of wages. It covers every establishment where an employer has such workers.

He cautioned employers that the official Wage-Hour poster, already mailed to them, must be displayed where it can be seen readily by employees.

Further information about the law may be procured at Mr. Meloan's office, located at Room 789, U. S. Courthouse Building, 901 Broadway, Nashville, Tennessee.

EXCHANGE STUDENTS

Each school year, over 2,000 high school students from some 50 countries live in the homes of their American "exchange" parents, go to school with their children, and participate in community activities, while over a thousand American children do the same in foreign homes, says the September Reader's Digest. The American Field Service, which started the program sixteen years ago, is a non-profit, non-sectarian organization.

James T. Morehead, Kentucky's 13th governor, was the first governor born in Kentucky.

Take it from Mrs. M.: "I don't know the first thing about engines and lubrication and all that. But I never have to worry about our car. When Stan's away, I just leave all the car worries to our Phillips dealer. I know I can depend on him to keep it running like new."

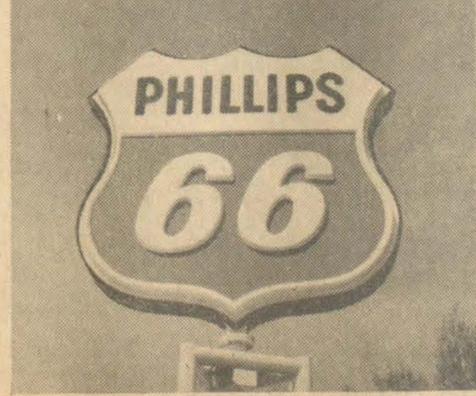

"You get that first-class feeling at Phillips 66," say Stan and Mrs. Musial

Clean and modern: Lillian Musial says, "I may not know much about cars, but I do know when service stations and rest rooms are nice and clean. That's another reason why Jean and I always look for the sign that says 'Certified Clean.'"

Charge it—at Phillips! "One of the most valuable things in my billfold is my Phillips credit card," says Lillian Musial. "It's the most convenient way I know to get everything we need for the car—from gasoline to tires."

P.S. If you like to travel first-class—as Stan and Lillian Musial do—go Phillips 66. (It costs no more.)

Go first-class...go Phillips 66!
