UNIONIZING EFFORT HITS AUXIER MINES

OTHER FLOYD MINES CLOSE IN SYMPATHY

Terry, Mahan Firms Closed; Court Order Sets Picket Limits

What may be a move to organize small mining operations in the Floyd county coal fields began last week with action which halted operation of the Terry Elkhorn Mining Company in the area below Dewey Dam and the Mahan Coal Company at Auxier.

By Wednesday morning, according to reports received here, all union mines in the county were closed in "sympathy" work-stoppages supporting the effort at Auxier.

Terry Elkhorn is an auger-mining operation operating in the Daniels Creek, Lick Branch and Big Branch of Dewey Lake sections. The Mahan Coal Company operates a processing plant and tipples at Auxier for Terry Elkhorn's product.

Several hundred men gathered at the operations, last week-end, and a temporary restraining order was procured by the two coal firms against nine men who were described as leaders of the action which halted their operations.

By Monday morning the situation had taken on such a foreboding aspect that a dozen state troopers kept watch, and troopers over the district were alerted.

An attempt by The Times to reach UMW officials Wednesday at the District 30 office in Pikeville was unsuccessful. All were reported "out in the field."

The temporary restraining order named as defendants Joe Castle, Estill Newsome, Woodrow Conn, John Marshall, Rose Burton, J. D. Numery, Harle Sturgill, Paul Connors and Ballard Whitaker. They were required to execute $2,000 bond against the hearing set for Tuesday at the courthouse here.

Alka Hicks, of Hippo, survivor of the two-truck collision which claimed the life of his wife, Nancy Hughes Hicks, March 18 on Middle Creek, last Thursday filed suit in circuit court here asking a total of $125,000 damages.

The complaint names as defendants William B. Wright and his employee, I. D. Caudill, driver of the truck which collided with Hicks' vehicle. Plaintiff alleges that Caudill negligently drove Wright's truck into the side of the truck which he was driving and in which his wife was a passenger.

The plaintiff asks $25,000 damages for injuries which he suffered and $100,000 in the death of Mrs. Hicks. The claim of damages for Mrs. Hicks' death was asked by plaintiff as administrator of her estate.

Martin Miner Is Killed By Slatefall Saturday In Abandoned Mine

Willie Conn, 41-year-old miner, was instantly killed Saturday when he was caught beneath a slatefall in an abandoned mine near his home at Martin. Conn had entered the mine to dig coal for home use.

The Floyd County Rescue Squad was called to the scene and helped in recovering the body.

Mr. Conn was a son of Mrs. Liddie Sammons Conn, and the late Johnny Conn. His wife, Mrs. Geraldine Castle Conn, survives. (See Story No. 1, Page 6)

'CATCH-UP' PROGRAM INITIATED IN FLOYD

With Saturday's meeting of the Floyd County Board of Education "Operation Catch-Up," a program designed to benefit educationally deprived youths, began its first stirrings toward action through remaining months of the present school term and into next summer.

Federal funds under Public Law 89-10 in the amount of $444,000.74 will finance the undertaking which is designed to reach 3,700 elementary pupils and as many as 2,000 at the high school level.

"The title of this project," a Board summary of the overall plan said, "suggests the very heart of its aim . . . to go, all out, limited only by our own facilities, personnel and resources, for doing the colossal task that stares us in the face."

A recent survey made by the Board's Department of Pupil Personnel disclosed that of 9,143 pupils in grades three through 12, 3,149 were at least one level, in many cases more, behind their grade placements in reading.

Special materials, instructional specialists, pupil-personnel workers, instructional supervisors, counsellors, social workers—all will be thrown into "Operation Catch-Up."

Said County Superintendent Charles Clark of the program: "Participation in this program for educationally deprived boys and girls is strictly voluntary. Teachers will be paid in relation to the number of pupils in attendance. The burden of having sufficient students and keeping those students rests largely with teachers. Our teaching staff for 'Catch-Up' must do the most dynamic, challenging and interesting teaching they have ever done in order to keep our young people in attendance."

The program, he added, "must succeed, because we have so very many young people who, because of environment and our own lack of funds for an adequate school program, are behind

IN DEFENSE OF THE PRESS—MAYBE

Preacher, the other night, declared that half of what you read in the newspapers isn't true and that you would do well to swallow the other half with a grain of salt, or words to that effect. And I was on the verge of hiring a hall and shuckin' down to my galluses and holding forth, loud and long, extolling the veracity, the utter trustworthiness, of the press.

But I gave up on the idea when I read my morning newspaper today and saw it boldly stated that the hottest fishing spot in the state was Dewey Lake.

Maybe I should hire that hall, after all. The papers may have learned that all the other lakes were frozen over.

GIVE ME TIME

Friend of mine informs me that if I don't get busy with some fishing yarns for this here column I may lose some readers. He means—you saps, if you don't bare your soul and tell how the fish make a sucker out of you, every time you try to outwit them, you're suppressing the kind of news we like to read. GIRL SCOUTS' PLANS TOLD

Camp Chatterawha, Others To Serve Area In 13-Day Sessions

The Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council has announced this year's schedule of camps open to all Girl Scouts in the 51 Kentucky counties under the jurisdiction of this Council.

There will be three 13-day camping sessions during the summer at each of the three established camps—Camp Chatterawha, in Jenny Wiley State Park on Dewey Lake; Camp Judy Layne in the Cumberland National Forest, near Frenchburg, and Camp o' Cumberlands, near Harlan.

The first session will be July 15; the second, July 17 to July 30. (See Story No. 5, Page 6)

SAYS HOUSING TALKS AT PARK IMPORTANT

The housing workshop scheduled at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, for next Monday was described this week by John E. Ridge, chairman of the Housing Subcommittee of the Kentucky Development Committee, as "a meeting of extreme importance to Appalachia."

Objectives of the one-day meeting will be to make known all federal and state aids for housing and to encourage immediate action on construction of new housing and the renovation of salvagable structures.

Major state and federal agencies will be represented at the meeting. Congressman Carl D. Perkins will be one of the participants.

The meeting will be "short" on speeches and "long" on conferences which will deal with practical solutions to housing problems, it was said. The one-day session will begin at 10 a.m. and end by 4:30 p.m. In the evening a "School for Home-Buyers" will be held at Prestonsburg Community College, beginning at 7 and ending by 9:30. This program at the college will be for the benefit of prospective homebuyers who may not be able to attend the daytime meeting at the lodge.

Some of the programs to be discussed at May Lodge are: Home loans (up to 97% value), special terms for veterans ($200 down payment), housing for the elderly (100% loan), Nursing homes (up to 90% loans), land development loans, home improvement loans, rural housing loans, community water and sewer systems, housing for senior citizens and others.

Other discussion areas will cover the low-cost housing program administered through Berea College, the UK Economy House and cooperative housing.

A school for draftsmen will be held for those seeking to learn how to meet FHA requirements.

Ask FCC To Issue Louisa Radio Permit

The Lawrence Broadcasting Corporation, headed by Walter E. May, of Pikeville, formerly of Prestonsburg, has filed application with the Federal Communications Commission for license to operate a radio station at Louisa. The firm plans a 1000-watt station for daytime operation, with studio and transmitter located approximately one mile south of Louisa.

May also is president and general manager of radio station WPKE, Pikeville. Mrs. May is the former Mona Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Hughes, of Prestonsburg.

CHILD WELFARE AIDES TAKE TRAINING AT MAY LODGE FOR DAY-CARE CENTER

From fingerprinting to research objectives, from basic hygiene to recognition of deviant behavior in preschool children—the Kentucky Child Welfare Research Foundation's day-care aide training program must cover all this and much more.

Last week 22 aides who will operate new rural day-care centers in this and Letcher counties are participating in an intensive training program at Jenny Wiley State Park, near Prestonsburg.

In a unique attack on the War on Poverty, the research foundation, financed by a grant from the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity, trains women directly from the poverty areas they serve (and in most cases, directly from public assistance rolls) to work on a subprofessional level in rural day-care centers, preparing poverty-isolated children of Appalachia for "real school."

Similar workers are already operating 16 day-care centers in eight other Eastern Kentucky counties. Women hired to operate the centers are chosen for their ability to communicate, to work constructively with children, and to provide the serene, secure environment that four- and five-year-olds need so they can learn.

Navy Pilot Reported Missing off Viet Nam

Lt. Commander John B. Tapp, 32, of Harrodsburg, and a brother-in-law of Z. S. Dickerson, Jr., of Alabama, formerly of Prestonsburg, was lost at sea off Viet Nam, Wednesday of last week, when his plane failed to return to its carrier base.

Lt. Tapp, a Navy pilot, had been shot down in earlier action against the Viet Cong but was rescued. He was a son of Mrs. Gertrude Tapp, of Harrodsburg, and the late L. A. Tapp.

RUM TRAFFIC EFFECT TOLD

Conley Tells Jury Of Duties; One Death Under Investigation

Bootlegging, its effects and the means of combatting it were stressed Monday morning by Circuit Judge Hollie Conley in his instructions to the newly empaneled grand jury.

Although expressing concern about the whiskey traffic, Judge Conley viewed the county's crime in other areas and on a hopeful note commented that there is not a murder case on the court docket and only one fatal shooting has taken place to demand a grand jury probe.

This was the shooting here, Tuesday of last week, of Henry Ellis Osborne, 19, Morehead University student, by Ronnie Lee Johnson, 18, a student at the Prestonsburg Community College. And official findings of that tragedy to date indicate that the shooting was accidental. Young Johnson has been released from custody.

The grand jury also has only one shooting and wounding case to investigate, and the man who was shot, Dewey Newsome, claims it was accidental.

Samuel W. Frady was named foreman of the jury, but when his absence from the jury became necessary Herman V. Harmon was named to the post. T. E. Neeley was transferred from the petit jury to fill the vacancy on the grand jury.

Two indictments naming five defendants were voted, the first day of the term. These charge James Lee Hall and Ollie Stone with grand larceny in the theft of property from the home at Wayland of Mrs. Emma Turner; and Leonard Workman, Andy Kidd and Arbie Adkins with petit

'DRYS' PREP FOR CONTEST

Form Steering Group In Thursday Meeting Held at Church Here

A temporary steering committee which will lead to a permanent organization of dry forces for the threatened local option fight this year was formed at a meeting held last Thursday night at the First Presbyterian Church here under auspices of the Floyd County Ministerial Association.

Named to the committee were the Rev. Adrian J. Roberts, Prestonsburg, Raymond Childers, of Allen, Nelson Baldridge and Quentin Terry, both of Prestonsburg, and the Rev. Dan Heintzelman, of Martin.

Delbert Butts, director of the Kentucky Temperance League, conferred with the large group meeting at the church.

Members of the steering committee repeated the charge that those asking citizens to sign a petition requesting a local option election are misrepresenting the issue by claiming that the proposed vote will be on the question of state liquor stores.

Good Friday, Sunrise Services To Be Held At Two Churches Here

Easter season community worship will be held at two Prestonsburg churches.

The Good Friday service will be held at 12:15 p.m. at Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, with the Rev. Adrian J. Roberts, pastor of the First Methodist Church, bringing the message. Music will be provided by the Prestonsburg Community College chorus.

Easter sunrise worship at 6:30 will be at the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. W. D. Jagers, pastor of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, will be the speaker.

The Prestonsburg Ministerial Association invites the public to attend these services.

POST OFFICE JOB CERTAIN

West P'burg Structure To Be Built by Lease Construction Compact

Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien announced plans this week to provide a new postoffice at West Prestonsburg.

"The new building," Mr. O'Brien said, "is designed to carry out the Post Office Department's objective of a more efficient postal service combined with improved working conditions for our employees."

The building in West Prestonsburg will be located on the south side of Harris Street, approximately 250 feet from the present post office. Preliminary plans call for 322 square feet of floor space, with an area of 4,000 square feet for parking and movement of postal vehicles.

Construction of the new building will have a beneficial economic impact on West Prestonsburg, which is located in an area eligible to take part in the new Area Redevelopment Administration's program of assistance to areas of chronic unemployment and underemployment, the Postmaster General said. Not only will the project provide jobs during the construction period, he pointed out, but the new facility (See Story No. 9, Page 6)

Fiscal Court Buys Trucks for $12,909; Asks Blacktop Job

The Floyd fiscal court at its Monday meeting purchased three trucks for the county road department on the low bid offered by the Music-Colvin Motor Company.

Purchase price of the vehicles—two 2½-ton trucks and a half-ton pickup—was $12,909.95.

The court also adopted a resolution asking Governor Breathitt and Commissioner of Highways Ward to authorize blacktopping of streets at Ivel and a portion of the Tom's Creek road.

RIVER SPAN AT LANCER PROMISED

Katy Friend-Bull Cr. Highway Plan Evokes Long, Heated Parley

A decision was reached last Thursday on the route which US 23 will follow from Prestonsburg to Allen, and at the same time commitments were made on other important highway projects here and elsewhere in the county.

The decisions were made at May Lodge at a conference of Commissioner of Highways Henry Ward and members of his staff with business leaders, most of whom represented the Prestonsburg area.

Commitments resulting from that meeting are:

1. US 23 to leave the present route at the Prestonsburg end of the Bert Combs bridge, follow the Mountain Parkway arm to Katy Friend fork of Middle Creek, go up that tributary and on to Allen via Bull Creek.

2. The present US 23 to be improved through Prestonsburg to Lancer, this work to include elimination of a corner-turn here and the Ball Alley curve.

3. A bridge to be constructed across the Big Sandy at Lancer and a road built up Bull Creek to connect the present US 23 and KY 3 (the route from Catterallburg via Inez which follows the Dewey Lake road to Lancer) with the new US 23 at Water Gap.

4. A new bridge on KY 80 at Maytown to supplant the one-way span in use there for the last several years. (Notice of hearings on this project was published in The Times this week by the Department of Highways.)

Improvement of the Prestonsburg-Lancer route is expected to precede work on the new US 23 to Allen, since Commissioner Ward indicated that a period as long as 18 months may elapse before engineering work is completed and all other details are cleared with the U. S. Bureau of Roads and the Appalachian Commission on the new highway.

US 23 from the Mountain Parkway to Allen, Ward said, will be a four-lane highway, and its cost is estimated at $5,010,307.

Main points of contention at the hours-long meeting held at the lodge revolved around the economic effect of the new route on Prestonsburg. Marvin Music, past president of the Prestonsburg Chamber of Commerce, stated, near the outset of the conference, that there was no objection to the new Katy Friend-Bull Creek route if assurance were given that the present US 23 to Lancer would be improved, and if a bridge spanning the river at Lancer and a road up Bull Creek to connect with the new route at Water Gap were built.

Commissioner Ward agreed with this plan. But when he pointed out that he could not say (See Story No. 2, Page 6)

KENTUCKY POWER WINS TOP AWARD

The nation's top safety award for an electric utility is being shown to F. M. Baker, right, vice-president and general manager of Kentucky Power Company, by R. F. Millikan, the company's general safety and employee relations supervisor. Kentucky Power had the lowest disabling injury frequency rate of the 34 electric utilities in the country in the National Safety Council's Group C—companies working between 60,000 and 250,000 manhours a month. The 1965 award represents the fifth time Kentucky Power received the top honor since its first in 1950. The company's frequency rate (the number of disabling injuries per million manhours worked) was 1.17 last year.

After the hearing, Circuit Judge Hollie Conley modified the original restraining order, which had forbidden defendants to assemble in groups or to cause groups to assemble. The amended order permits defendants and persons acting for them or in concert with them to picket the operations in a peaceable manner and to assemble in groups of not more than five persons at each of these three locations: at the processing plant and tipple at Auxier; the intersection of the Lick Branch road with US 23, near the entrance to the Terry Mining Company operation, and at or near the Floyd-Johnson line, near Dewey Dam.

The order forbids pickets to curse or intimidate employees of the plaintiffs or persons doing business with the two firms, or those who are entering or leaving the properties. Also prohibited are the blocking or obstructing of entrance to or exit from premises owned or leased by the two companies, or to trespass on this property, which includes the railroad siding, tipple site and roadways at the site at Auxier.

The order provided that defendants and others acting for or in concert with them may solicit, in a peaceable manner, employees of the defendants to join a labor organization and to talk with employees who are willing to discuss the matter with them.

The amended order was extended to apply not only to the defendants named but also to all persons having knowledge of the order.

The order, it was said, was prepared jointly by attorneys for the coal companies and labor defendants after affidavits supporting the restraining order were filed and an informal hearing was held.

An officer said the crowd still at and around the operations Wednesday morning still appeared to be 500 in number.

Lowmansville Man Dies Saturday at 75; Burial Made at Garrett
George Washington Lyons, 75, of Lowmansville, died Saturday at the Pikeville Appalachian Regional hospital, of an illness of two years.
He was a retired miner. A son of William Louis and Sarah Francis Lyons, he was twice married, first to Mrs. Liddie Margaret Lyons, and upon her death, to Della Bowling, who survives.

THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES

Published Every Thursday by Prestonsburg Publishing Company

NORMAN ALLEN Editor

Subscription Rates Per Year:
In Floyd County, $3.50 • Elsewhere in Kentucky, $4.00
Outside Kentucky, $5.00

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Kentucky, under the act of March 3, 1879.

The Floyd County Times cannot in good conscience remain silent as a move is afoot to attempt to return to this county the liquor stores which once infested it.

For almost forty years now we have watched Floyd county struggle and grow. During this time, too, we have had a part in recording the story of Floyd county crime.

We remember "Rat Row" in Prestonsburg and all the "joints" scattered over the county in the days when whiskey sales were legalized. We recall the murder rate in those days—a time when one official described Floyd county as "the bloodiest soil in the Western Hemisphere." And when there was none to challenge his statement.

Since 1946 Floyd county has been legally dry. Everything has not been perfect since then—not by a long shot. There has been bootlegging; there still is. The law, generally, has not been adequate. But the sale of whiskey, the transporting of whiskey, its consumption in public—all are illegal. And, imperfect as the administration and enforcement of the law is, yet it has served to drive the business underground, to keep the drunks off the streets and to maintain order to the extent that Floyd county today has one of the lowest murder rates in Kentucky.

We are trying to be unemotional about this matter. We are seeking only to show those who prize human life and the peace of their communities that a liquor store and beer joints in every village of the county is not the way toward better morals, obedience to the law and a decent, orderly society.

Floyd county may have a long way to go yet, but it has come a long way. It cannot afford now to turn and slip the long way back by legalizing a traffic which attracts to it so often those who care nothing about legality.

Prestonsburg Native Has Role in Movie Slated Here Soon

The hit-movie, "The Great Race," which will be exhibited here soon, will hold unusual interest for many Prestonsburg residents.

For Pete Conley, native of Prestonsburg, now a resident of Lexington, is a member of the cast. He appears in the movie as an elderly band leader.

Mr. Conley, who is a son of Mrs. Gigi Conley, of Prestonsburg, and the late J. E. Conley, was graduated from Prestonsburg high school, attended the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and for four years was a member of the U. S. Air Force band. He received his master's degree from the University of Kentucky and later taught at Gunnison, Colorado. He is now employed as a music instructor by the Fayette county school system. He, his wife, the former Peggy Wells, and their two daughters live in Lexington.

In the last two years the Kentucky Department of Aeronautics performed these functions in addition to its airport development work: 156 airport inspections for safety, annual certification of all airports in Kentucky, 46 accident investigations, operation of four state aircraft, and protection of the public's investment in airports through zoning regulations.

NATURE TRAILS

By RUFUS M. REED

1. THE PUFF ADDERS, ALSO CALLED HOG-NOSED SNAKES. No doubt you call these snakes "blowing vipers," but they are not vipers. They do puff up, hiss and flatten the body along the neck to look frightful, like the cobras of India. This causes people to have a terror of this perfectly harmless snake. It is really a shy snake, afraid of people, and resorts to this ruse to frighten the intruder away. If you take a stick and prod it, the snake will roll over on its back and play dead. It really looks all done for and dead. But if you step away a short distance, the wily puff adder will come alive and quickly crawl away. This snake has an upturned, hog-nosed snout for digging after toads. It feeds mainly on toads and devours great numbers of them. It may also eat some rodents but it seems to do more harm than good by feasting on the toads, which we need badly to control the insect pests. Perhaps a number of the puff adders should be destroyed to keep them from eating so many toads. Yet they add interest and zest to the world and I don't believe they should be wiped out. They are strong, stout, heavy-bodied snakes, mostly dark brown with spots; are often found around wet places looking for frogs to eat. They are oviparous—that is, they lay eggs to produce their young.

2. THE WATER SNAKES.

These snakes come in all sizes and shades. Some are green with yellow bellies; some are banded with red and brown and have light-yellow or reddish stripes; some are rusty olive and some are painted—that is, they have a glowing orange belly and a grayish-green back. Some have diamonds on their backs like the diamond back rattler, some speckled and spotted. But all are entirely harmless to man. Some of our leading writers have published lurid stories about "water moccasins" biting people and killing them, but this just isn't true in Eastern Kentucky. A poisonous cottonmouth moccasin has never been known to be in any of the streams of Eastern Kentucky. They live in the swamplands of the south. We do have the big "dry-land moccasins," but these are simply the large, rusty-colored water snakes which crawl out of the creeks and go adventuring on land. In the fall, when these big water snakes get ready to hibernate, they leave the creeks or rivers and crawl back toward the head of some brook, and there they find a crawdad's hole into which they crawl to spend the winter. Now, then, what can be said in defense of the water snakes? Should they be killed or let alone? I must admit they do little good for us humans, but that is no proof that they are not useful in the scheme of nature. Their food consists almost wholly of small fish and frogs. Some game biologists, when they stock fresh water streams with fish, usually employ men to hunt out and destroy the water snakes. I think perhaps these snakes eat only the small fish such as chokes, chubs, hogsuckers, silver-sided and johnny-darters, all of which are worthless from the standpoint of the fisherman. They also devour many young bullfrogs, which must be chalked up against them, of course. For my part, I would say the water snakes should be controlled and kept to a minimum where there are fish in the streams. But the water snakes are getting scarce in almost all the streams of Eastern Kentucky because the fish have nearly all been killed out by polluted mine waters. Where there are no fish or frogs, there will be no water snakes. For my choice, I will say the water snakes add color and zest to the rural streams of America. They make them interesting and more romantic. When I was a boy, I loved to watch the big rusty water snakes climb up in the big sycamore above the mill-pond to take a sun bath. Snakes are cold-blooded and in the spring they need to lie in the sun a lot to get their cold bodies thawed out and in good running order. I used to watch these big water snakes sunning, their long bodies coiled around a tree limb, and I loved to make them plop down into the water with a loud ker-chug! and a splash. Then how fast they went swimming! They are expert swimmers. When I was a boy, we used to go hunting for water snakes with a fish gill. We chased them under rocks and then the bravest boy in the crowd would "finger out the snake." It took a lot of guts to do this, but the volunteer would ram his hand back under the rock and get Mr. Water Snake! Sometimes he got bit but it didn't amount to more than a briar scratch. A nifty boy paid little attention to the bite of a water snake. I would also say that water snakes along the streams are better than no life at all! Nature made them for some purpose and I don't believe they should be wiped out completely.

Water snakes bear live young, often as many as 100 at a single time. Did you ever hear of anybody blessing the water snakes? The Ancient Mariner did just that. He had been parched and dry for so long that when he finally could speak, he saw the shining, writhing water snakes, called them beautiful and blessed them!

TIDBITS of KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph. D.

WHERE IS FIDELITY?

For years, almost since my first appearance in this column, I have been asked, "Where is Fidelity?" Just a few days ago an elderly gentleman from Atlanta, with connections in south-central Kentucky, wrote to ask me to locate the village for him, for he had thumbed through atlases and encyclopedias trying to find it. Imagine Fidelity in an encyclopedia! At a fashionable wedding, some few years back, almost as soon as the married couple had taken off from the church in a shower of rice, one of the guests, an old schoolmate of mine whom I had not seen in forty years, hastened over to where I was standing watching the fine young couple drive away and begged to be shown on a highway map where Fidelity is or was. I carefully outlined the ways to reach it, and she said that she and her husband would be driving right down to find the place. I felt lifted up, and I wonder whether the little place satisfied her longing to see it.

Yes, there is a Fidelity, Virginia, just as there is a Santa Claus. And it is about the size it was in 1835, when it was incorporated under its present name, New Concord. Before that date it had been just Concord, but every country has a Concord Church or Concord School; apparently that determined the attaching of the New to the older name. Away back before its Concord days, however, it had been named or called Humility! Imagine my Fidelity with such a befitting name! Felix Holt, when he wrote "The Gabriel Horn," which A. B. Guthrie made into the movie called "The Kentuckian," adopted the old name and wound his pioneer story around the small village. Fortunately, Guthrie kept the old name and made a really impressive play and picture out of the novel. And, I like to add, the boy character of the novel and the picture, little Eli, lived on down into my own time, say, about 1903, dying as a very old man, not too far from Holt's Humility, my Fidelity.

In the fall of 1918, while the influenza epidemic was raging, just about everything at our college stopped except the classes offered for the S. A. T. C., the predecessor of the R. O. T. C. With more time on my hands than I usually had in October and November, I began to write some stories, with their setting at my own village. By some strange freak of memory or lack of it, I called the place Fidelity and not Humility, for I had known all my life that Humility was its ancient name. My stories made several trips to magazines, two-way trips at that, but I liked my new name for my village and kept it. From time to time for the years between 1918 and 1935, when this column started, I used the word, especially when I wanted to mention some custom or personality that I used to know. A whole series of articles on "Passing Institutions," interrupted by my having to devote all my time to getting my doctor's degree, appeared in one of our local papers, by the request of the city editor. Then, in 1935, I was asked to write, for a year, for a column that the various Kentucky newspapers had opened to members of our faculty who wished to write about some phases of Kentucky history or education. And, every week since then, there has been sent out an article to as many papers as wished to have it; and that is that.

Oh, I almost forgot to tell you how to find Fidelity. If you live in the Jackson Purchase, go to Murray, take KY 121, and in ten delightful miles you will be there. If you live elsewhere, follow US 68 across Kentucky Lake, then follow TENN 119 to where it becomes KY 121, and you'll soon be there. En route either way you will get to see some of the best scenery in the state and can stop at far more historical spots going or coming. Jefferson Davis's birthplace at Fairview, Kentucky, or Fort Donelson, at Dover, Tennessee, and many more spots. If you should be so foolish as to visit the actual Fidelity—New Concord on the map—let me know your impression.

Just give me time. And a little fair weather, please. Time was when I didn't wait on the weather—I've been known to break the ice, literally, and not a stitch of dry clothes in miles. But I can't afford to take chances, any more. Let a youngster brave snow and ice and wind, and toss around in a boat till he's seasick, and all they'll say is, "Crazy Kid!" But, by cracker, if a fellow my age exercises his prerogative to act as foolish as he would like to act, they'll yell for the butterfly net, every time.

SYMPTOMS

My dog is sick. The symptoms are plain to see. He scratched three pages out of our office copy of Webster's Unabridged before deigning to use it for a pillow this morning. And he has spent most of the day lying in the floor. The latter unnatural action decided the issue: I should blindfold him, so I can take him to see a vet.

THANK THEM!

Next time you see either Mrs. Burieta Hale or a VISTA worker, remember this from Mrs. Hale: "Last Sunday, March 27, I came home to Waverly, Ohio) from Prestonsburg after a two months' stay in Prestonsburg and Floyd county. All the way, I was thinking how wonderful Floyd county and Prestonsburg are. Although I've lived away for 13 years, I still love and appreciate them.

"At Ashland a freshman college student from New York sat down beside me in the bus. She had come down with a group of students, two weeks before. She began to tell me what the VISTA was doing. It was so interesting to talk with her. She had liked Floyd county so well she prolonged her visit another week. In such a sincere way she said, "The people down there are just wonderful—they are so warm, friendly, courteous and considerate. She described and pointed out the many fine things she observed in the county and its people.

"When time arrived for me to leave the bus at Waverly, she got my traveling bag, carried it to the door of the bus with such a sweet attitude of—this is being a Kentuckian."

Our Yesterdays

(Items taken from files of The Floyd County Times of 30 and 20 years ago.)

Thirty Years Ago

(April 3, 1936)

Guyless Allen, 52, of Middle Creek, was shot and fatally wounded, Friday, following a dispute over a small strip of land. Akro Castle, 39 years old, of Middle Creek, was instantly killed Friday night when caught beneath a slatefall in the Wells-Elkhorn Coal Company's mine No. 6 at West Garrett. Funds for reforestation and the prevention of soil erosion are available as a result of a provision in the substitute bill for the AAA, Congressman A. J. May announced this week. Roy Davis, 23, of Jenny's Creek, Johnson county, was instantly killed Saturday night when the auto in which he was a passenger collided with a Sandy Valley Grocery Company truck on the Mayo Trail approximately five miles from here. Will Rogers, Wheelwright miner, is in the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, in a critical condition as the result of a knife wound sustained Saturday afternoon. Work was begun Wednesday by Henderson Neeley, contractor, toward the construction of a bus station on the Mayo Trail, near the courthouse, for Sparks Brothers Bus Company. D. F. Morgan, of Wheelwright, was instantly killed Thursday morning by a slatefall in the mines of the Inland Steel Company at Wheelwright. There died: John Stone, 13, of Wayland, at the Paintsville General hospital, Friday; Ex-Magistrate J. J. Reffitt, 53, Saturday night at his home on Middle Creek; William W. Cecil, 92 years old, Thursday at the home of his son at Tram; Juanita Turner, 12, of Rock Fork, near Garrett, Tuesday.

Twenty Years Ago

(April 4, 1946)

A deal said to involve an outlay of more than $1 million by which the Inland Steel Company, Wheelwright, will acquire 10,700 acres of coal land and 577 acres of surface of the Elk Horn Coal Corporation was approved Tuesday by Circuit Judge Fields at Whitesburg. Mrs. Sylvia Helen Parsons, 21, of Betsy Layne, was shot and killed, and her husband, Homer Parsons, 42, seriously wounded, Tuesday night at the Parson's service station near Betsy Layne. The number of licensed whiskey dealers in Floyd county jumped Friday to 36 as the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board at Frankfort issued licenses to six new dealers, causing County Judge Alex L. Davidson to express his concern over the excessive number of whiskey dealers in this county, and to point out that he had not approved any of the new licenses. Installation of parking meters in Prestonsburg was seen this week as a possibility within the next few months after the City Council Monday night had discussed their purchase. O. G. Chairman, County Extension Service

Don't expect fertilizers applied now to establish trees, shrubs and perennials including hardy bulbs to have a lot of effect on spring growth.

He quotes Dr. Earl New, University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service horticulturist, who says such fertilizers applied now will have less effect on early spring growth than fertilizers applied last fall or early in the winter.

"Spring applications usually reach the roots, are taken into plants and reach the places of use after the first flush of growth," he says.

However, these applications of fertilizer are needed in many cases to produce continued good growth, or better growth, particularly if the plants were not fertilized last fall.

Fertilizer placed in the soil by rodding or drilling holes will reach the plant roots sooner than surface applications of fertilizer. Do not rod or otherwise disturb the roots of azaleas or rhododendrons for any reason. Do not expect quick results from phosphorus fertilizer unless phosphates or complete fertilizers are incorporated into the soil by rodding, drilling holes, cultivation, or application before planting.

The effects on flowering of bulbous materials, hardy or tender, are seen the year following fertilization. However, the effects on bulb increase and foliage color can be seen the year fertilizer is applied. Most hardy and some tender bulbs will produce as large and as many flowers without fertilizer as with it. Because most commercial fertilizers are 1-1-1 ratio mixtures of nitrogen, phosphorus and potas-

Mr. and Mrs. Miley Prater, of David, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary March 20 at the home at Allen of their daughter, Mrs. Cecil Hall. A large number of relatives and friends joined them for the occasion, and they received many remembrances. Guests included relatives and acquaintances from Michigan, Ohio and North Carolina, in addition to those from Kentucky.

NEW RAILWAY OPENS JOHNS CR. TO MINING

One railroad line into the upper Johns Creek section of Pike county, another into the Tug River watershed of the county and a third up Elkhorn Creek will, it is predicted, result in coal mining development which will make of the county the biggest one-county producer in the United States.

The building of Fishtrap dam, which required the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company to relocate its tracks in the reservoir area, resulted in the building of 30 miles of new track into Johns Creek. There, The Times was told recently, nine tipples locations already have been made. The A. T. Massey Co., Richmond, Va., biggest present producer in that area, is already up to 3,000 tons production daily and has its sights set on 6,000 tons. (The big coal boom in the headwaters of Johns Creek has caused concern for those interested in the future of Dewey Lake, since the most careful handling of coal washings and mine waters will be necessary to prevent pollution of the impoundment which was created by the damming of Johns Creek.)

The huge Johns Creek coal reserves have long been known, but the coal there is low-grade. And that is where power plants which use that type of fuel come into the picture.

"No man in his right mind would have thought of going into Johns Creek to dig coal, a few years ago," one producer said. "The coal is low grade. But it is good grade for utility coal, and the biggest market of them all today is in utility coal."

The N. & W. rail line from the Tug section opens a reserve of quality metallurgical coal, as does the C. & O. extension to a new Bethlehem Steel operation on Elkhorn Creek. Pike county has a present coal production of 15,000,000 tons a year. The new rail lines and attendant development will add 6,000,000 tons to that total, it is predicted. And that would make Pike No. 1 in the coal business.

Remedial reading work begun earlier reached only through the elementary grades. "Catch-Up" would bring this help to all needing it, from Grade 1 through high school.

"Operation Head-Start" is another program initiated by the Board with federal aid. It reached about 500 pupils last summer and will be resumed next summer. "Head-Start" functions as kindergarten for pre-school children of low-income families.

Another federal-aid project in effect in this county is the Neighborhood Youth Corps which provides part-time employment for 420 needy pupils between the ages of 16 and 21. The Board at its Saturday meeting authorized its architect, George Lee Shannon, to advertise for bids on construction of an addition to the Prestonsburg elementary school. Cost of the addition of six classrooms and a multi-purpose room is estimated at $225,000.

July 29; and the third, July 31 to August 12. Mrs. Earl Scott, Frankfort, camping committee chairman of the Council, said that the processing and handling of registrations for all the sessions was begun March 14. She urged early registration because the number of girls that can be accommodated at any session is limited, and placements will be made in the order that registrations are received.

Camping is open to Girl Scouts of all ages. Camp Chatterbox and Camp Judy Layne are for girls entering the fourth through the twelfth grades. Camp o' Cumberlands is for Brownies, Juniors, Cadettes, and Seniors. One-week campers will be accepted in all three camps, but only those who are first year campers (girls entering the 4th and 5th grades in the fall). Even for this age group, however, the two-week sessions are recommended. The fee is $42.50 for a two-week session and $25 for a one-week session.

These fees, kept at a minimum so that more girls will be able to participate, do not cover the total cost of camping. Funds from the sale of Girl Scout Cookies, Community Chest Drives, and other community funds in the 51 counties of the Council are used to supplement the fees. A limited number of camperships are available, based on the need of the girl for a camping experience and the need of the family for financial aid.

He saw no prospect of major improvement for KY 80, except for that part of the highway in Pike county which extends from US 23 to the Kentucky-Virginia state line and a sector around London, Kentucky. In this county the Maytown bridge is the only project held an immediate possibility on Route 80. Straightening of the present US 23 (known locally as Lake Drive) through Prestonsburg will cost an estimated $325,000. The work on the Ball Alley curve, scene of numerous wrecks and several fatalities, will cost an additional $75,000. Mr. Ward said if a settlement of the provocative US 23 routing problem could be reached at the meeting he would authorize the $325,000 allocation immediately upon his return to Frankfort.

The new Prestonsburg-Allen route will be built as a part of the Appalachian system which will include construction of 576 miles of highways in Kentucky. The Lancer-Bull Creek bridge and road will have the benefit of federal funds, it was said. This project was recommended in the Spindletop and Spalding reports, since it links KY 3 and Jenny Wiley State Park with the new road and also opens to development a sizeable section of the county.

when the bridge and road up Bull Creek would be built the going got rougher. And it was not until he, in effect, promised these projects during his term of office that the atmosphere cleared.

Dr. George P. Archer, Burl Spurlock, Ed Music and W. W. Burchett presented the main arguments against a new route for US 23 after Ward had said he could not be specific about the time when the connection via a bridge at Lancer and a road up Bull Creek would become a reality.

The highway commissioner countered with the argument that the state Department of Highways had no official position in the matter of routing the highway — a decision which he described as "the most important to be made on the Appalachian road system in Kentucky" — but he held to the argument that neither the U. S. Bureau of Roads nor the Appalachian Commission would approve any route except via Katy Friend and Bull Creek.

The "compromise" conclusion of the meeting did not leave all factions completely satisfied but it approached that ideal as nearly as it is ever attained, was the consensus of opinion.

The Katy Friend-Bull Creek route is approximately four miles shorter and $4 million cheaper than if the road were built to follow the present river route, the Spalding report recently said.

From here Mr. Ward went to Pikeville for a meeting on highways in that county. He indicated at the meeting here that from Allen to Pikeville US 23 will follow, "generally," its present route.

ities will increase the community's attractiveness for industry and commerce. This, in turn, can be translated into new economic opportunities for West Prestonsburg.

"This is in line with President Johnson's directive that the full weight of the federal government be brought to bear on the problems of these areas," Mr. O'Brien said.

The Postmaster General said the building will be constructed under the Department's Lease Construction program, with the government's capital investment limited to postal equipment. While leased to the government, the building will remain under private ownership and the owner will pay local real estate taxes.

Plans and specifications for the new building, as well as bidding forms and other pertinent data, will be made available soon to prospective bidders, at which time the Department will advertise for bids.

The site option will be assigned to the successful bidder, who will purchase the land, construct the building and lease it to the Department.

Speakers included Dr. Karl S. Klecka, of Lexington, president of Appalachian Regional Hospitals, and Dr. W. A. Laqueur, chief of staff of the Beekley (W. Va.) ARH hospital, who was chairman of the conference.

The doctors and their wives attended a banquet at May Lodge Saturday night. Other communities represented at the conference were Harlan, Hazard, McDowell, Middlesboro, Pikeville, South Williamson and Whitesburg, Kentucky; Man, W. Va., and Wise, Virginia.

"Tell it to the Judge" is an old phrase everyone's heard but some drivers hear it first hand from police officers every day. Kentucky State Troopers write over 100,000 citations a year and well over 60,000 drivers pay fines and have points lodged against their records. Don't foul up your record with bad driving habits, warns the Kentucky Department of Public Safety. Most people don't appreciate their driving privilege until it's too late.

Recognition of Floyd Plants Is Scheduled At Louisville Event

Manufacturing firms which announced new plants for Kentucky locations last year — including four from this county — will be honored at Governor Edward T. Breathitt's "Industry Appreciation Luncheon," set for April 11 at the Sheraton Hotel in Louisville.

The list of firms and the locations they selected for the 76 new plants announced in 1965 includes the Princess Manufacturing Company, Auxier; Betsy Layne Manufacturing Company, Inc., Betsy Layne; Beautyguard Manufacturing Company of Eastern Kentucky, Minnie (now of Allen); and Kentucky Appalachian Industries, Inc., Prestonsburg.

Officials of all the firms have been invited to attend the luncheon. They will be presented with certificates of appreciation from the state and the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce for "contributing to the continuing growth and prosperity" of Kentucky.

The luncheon will be the kickoff event of "Industry Appreciation Week," set in a proclamation by Governor Edward T. Breathitt for April 11-16.

P'BURG COMMUNITY COLLEGE TEAM UNDEFEATED; TO PLAY CANCER BENEFIT APRIL 8

The University of Kentucky had a great basketball season in compiling a 27 and 2 record, but Rupp's Runts did suffer two defeats. As of last week, a team representing a branch of U. K., Prestonsburg Community College, boasted a basketball team that is undefeated.

ASSIGNED TO GERMANY

U. S. Army, Europe — Army Pvt. Billy Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Little, Bypro, Kentucky, was assigned to the 84th Artillery in Germany, March 18. A missile crewman in Battery A of the artillery's 3rd Battalion, he entered the Army in October, 1965, completed basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky, and was last assigned at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. Little, who is 21, was graduated from Wheelwright high school in 1963.

IN MEMORY

This is written in memory of my mother, Nancy Akers Sellards, who passed away April 1, 1941.

In early life she was married to Sol Boyd, of Dana, Kentucky, and to this union was born one daughter, Mrs. Elsie Lykins, who now resides at Stanville, Kentucky. She was widowed soon after her marriage and was later married to Jack Sellards, who now lives at Stanville, Kentucky. To this union were born six children: David Estill Sellards, Oakland, California, Edward G. Sellards and Jack Buford Sellards, Barbourville, Kentucky, Mrs. Jewel Conn, Harold, Kentucky, Mrs. Aileen Hall and Mrs. Sylvia Hall, both of Stanville. Also surviving are two brothers and two sisters, Charlie Akers, Dana, Kentucky, J. B. Akers, Mrs. Zelle Hall and Mrs. Lilly Hamilton, Ashland, Kentucky.

She also is lovingly remembered by many relatives and friends. While here with us, wherever she went, she lit many candles—candles of love, their glow still undimmed by the passing years. We feel this world is surely a lovelier, brighter place because, for a little while, she passed this way.

MOTHERS' PRAYERS

In times far past our hearts' did ache,
It seemed my mother's heart would break.
Love so tender she'd impart,
The cares were heavy on her heart.
Many nights so still I lay,
Listening as she'd softly pray.
God's love divine, that He might touch
Each precious one she loved so much.
She pleaded so that He would hear
And keep them all within His care.
But, soon, this gentle voice was gone,
A place was vacant in our home.
For angels clipped the silver cord
That she might sojourn with her Lord.
I struggled hard to find a way,
Remembering I had heard her pray.
The years, they passed—I failed so much,
Having lost the tender touch.
But joy is mine this golden day.
The Saviour heard my mother pray.

APPALACHIAN ARTS FESTIVAL SCHEDULED AT ALICE LLOYD

Pippa Passes, Ky. — Mountain folk dancing and Shakespearean drama will take their place side by side at the third annual Appalachian Arts Festival scheduled for April 26-30 at Alice Lloyd College.

According to the festival program, just released, the well-known Carriage House Players of Louisville will head the five-day event with three performances from Shakespeare. Demonstrations of mountain folk dancing will be provided by the Hindman (Ky.) Settlement School, under the direction of Raymond McLain, the school's administrator.

The purpose of the festival is threefold, according to festival chairman Albert Stewart, Alice Lloyd professor of English. It concentrates the attention of Alice Lloyd students on the arts; it introduces mountain youth to such sophisticated art forms as Shakespeare, and it creates a greater awareness and appreciation for the folk arts of the mountains.

To assure that the festival has the greatest possible influence

Gospel singing at the Tom's Creek Free Will Baptist Church Saturday night will feature such outstanding vocal groups as the Dixie Quartet, the Cavaliers, the Travelers, of Logan, West Virginia, and the Singing Wells Family from Auxier. Time of the sing will be at 7 p.m. and the public is invited to attend.

Betsy Layne 4-H's, City Park Here Given Chinquapin Seedlings

Arthur Hughes, manager of the R. H. Hobbs Store here, is continuing the distribution of chinquapin seedlings over a wide territory.

Mr. Hughes grows chinquapins at his home at Lancer and has been furnishing seedlings without charge to individuals and groups. These, unlike the chestnut, are blight-free and produce a nut of fine flavor, only a few years after they are planted.

Hughes recently gave 224 seedlings to a group of Betsy Layne 4-H boys and 22 for planting at the new City Park here.

Area Student Librarians Meet At Morehead

More than 400 high school student library assistants and their librarians attended the annual meeting of the Eastern Kentucky Student Librarian Association at Morehead State University, April 1. The students, representing the E.K.E.A. district, convened in Button Auditorium with Miss Vicky Plannery, of Fairview high school, presiding. The librarians' meeting was held in the Materials Center, Johnson Camden Library. Dr. Norman Tant, professor at Morehead State University, discussed with the librarians new audio-visual materials and equipment. Dr. Morris Norfleet led a discussion concerning the librarian and the federal program. Approximately 75 librarians from Eastern Kentucky schools attended this meeting.

During the afternoon session the group was entertained by Dr. Madison Pryor with an illustrated lecture on his years in Antarctica.

Those attending the meeting from Floyd county were 17 student librarians from Prestonsburg high school: Sharon Adams, Libby Baldrige, Deborah Burchell, Loretta Blanton, Shirley Blanton, Stella Greene, Carol Hammons, Linda Hibbins, Teresa Hopson, Sue Holbrook, Shirley Hunter, Delores Merritt, Mary Reynolds, Doris Robinson, Dave Ann Wallen, Lois Webb, Geraldine Whit, and the librarian, Linda Stephens.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

If you did not read the article on the front page of the Floyd County Times for March 31, or if you have not heard about the petitions being circulated for a local option election to try and get Floyd county voted wet again, let me urge you to make haste to get the facts and use your influence to defeat this evil thing.

It is alleged that some good and sincere people have been hoodwinked into signing these petitions. The people circulating them believe in their product and they can present arguments that would fool many people. They tell you that things would be better, that the bootleggers would be put out of business if we had liquor stores. They will also tell you that the county would get a lot of revenue and this would help the schools.

If these things were true, why did they sneak the petitions around? Why didn't they go to the school people, our newspaper and others who have been proud to support any measure that was for the good of the people? Don't be misled. Get the facts and use your heads. Get the paper and read the article I mentioned. Call some member of the Ministerial Association. If you have been persuaded to put your name on such a document, there is still time to undo the damage. If they get their election, you can be there and vote No. If you are sick or disabled, call the dry forces. I am sure a wheel chair or ambulance can be had to get you to the polls.

I have several personal reasons for being bitterly opposed to having our county wet again. I can well remember having to fight my way through filthy, dirty drunks to travel our streets. I've left the sidewalks and taken to the middle of the street to keep them from falling on me as they stumbled out of doorways. With the breakdown in morals that we have had in the past 20 years, it is easy to envision girls and women among those falling on you if the county goes wet again.

And what decent woman wants to be leered at and jeered and whistled at by a drunk? I don't, and I don't want my daughter subjected to such insults, not to say dangers.

More serious than revulsion at contact with the healthy bum, is the problem of alcoholism which lies at the bottom of most of the problems suffered by many of us. In the past few years I've been in contact with everyone I could reach who might be able to do something about it and I've read everything on which I could lay my hands to find out all I could about it. John Sherman Cooper and Carl D. Perkins both assured me that it is a major problem, not only here, but all over the world. The sad thing about it is that little, so far, can be done. Take nobody's word on these things. For more facts and information write the Division of Alcoholism, Frankfort, Kentucky, or call either Alcoholism Anonymous or Mr. Frank L. Layne, Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

If there is one in your family who gets drunk, whether it is often or just now and then, he or she may be a victim of alcoholism, a disease more dreadful than cancer because it destroys body, mind and soul of the patient. The family of the alcoholic cannot escape the insidious effects of the stuff. Often they suffer more and worse than he does. The slave to whiskey will lie, steal, cheat and even kill, if necessary, to get more of the stuff. The whiskey often leads to drugs, and both lead to hospital, jail and cemetery—to heartache, pain and shame.

Count the cost of keeping one inmate in Eastern State Hospital or the county jail for one month. Multiply this by the known number of cases of alcoholism. Do you think that the revenue that we could ever get from whiskey would balance these figures? Count the cost of supporting one alcoholic's family on Public Assistance. Would the revenue, even if we got any, pay for that? Count the cost of one brilliant mind denied an education because of whiskey. Can you justify that?

We laugh at the jokes about laziness among those on our relief rolls. Alcoholism breeds laziness, and a child raised up with such a parent is not apt to be industrious either. I am not condemning relief for those who are deserving. I am condemning any necessity for it which is brought on by whiskey.

Friends, if space and time permitted I could go on and on. Just let me urge you once again to inform yourselves about what will really happen if we permit King Whiskey to reign again in the county. Many of you have the same reasons that I have for fighting it with all the power within you. Stand up and be counted, for your own sake, and for your family's sake and for the victim's sake.

Art Is As Deserving As 3 R's, Pritchard Tells Maytown Club

Art deserves as much attention in the home as the traditional three R's, according to Alice Lloyd College arts and crafts instructor, Walter L. Pritchard.

Speaking at the March 22 meeting of the Maytown P.T.A., Pritchard said most parents help their children with reading, writing, and arithmetic, but often neglect their children's artistic potential. Through a demonstration of drawing and sculpture techniques, Pritchard suggested ways the parent might encourage the talented youngster.

If the child likes to draw, Pritchard said, he should be given charcoal, rather than pencils, so his strokes will be freer and less inhibited. The child should be encouraged to draw at an easel or in a standing position, rather than at a flat desk, the Alice Lloyd instructor said, so that perspective will not be distorted. Pritchard also suggested children be given an opportunity to experiment in sculpture with soft copper wire, plaster of Paris or Cames cement.

During the year Mr. Pritchard's college classes have concentrated on charcoal drawings, tempera paintings, sculptures and woodcarving. Their work currently is on exhibit at Eastern Kentucky State University at Richmond and the Community College in Ashland. An exchange exhibit from Eastern is on display at Pippa Passes.

COST OF LYIN' UP -- FISHIN' FEE RAISED $1

A $1 increase in the price of resident fishing and hunting licenses was effected at a recent meeting of the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Resources Commission. The increases are effective next year.

Resident fishing and hunting licenses will go up from $3.25 to $4.25 each, but for the first time Kentuckians may buy a combined hunting and fishing license for $7.50 annually.

The price of annual non-resident fishing licenses was increased $2, from $5.50 to $7.50, and the non-resident hunting license was raised from $15.50 to $25.50.

The commission also announced these license fee increases:

A junior hunting license, available only to residents under 16, will go up from $1.25 to $2.25. The 10-day non-resident fishing license was extended to 15 consecutive days and the price raised from $2.25 to $3.25.

The need for increased revenue "to take care of constantly mounting costs of the department (of Fish and Wildlife Resources)" was cited by the commission as the reason for the fee increases.

Club Has Air, Water Pollution Program

"Clean Air and Clean Water" was the subject for discussion at last Monday evening's meeting of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club, with Mrs. S. M. Martin, program leader.

Gerald Hart, Floyd county soil conservationist, and Charles Foster, district forester, Kentucky Division of Forestry, assisted by showing a film on water pollution. The film, in sound and color, portrayed how the United States loses 200 million dollars by water pollution annually.

"In 1900 there were 60 sewage treatment plants in the United States. Today there are 6,600 in use, and there are 6,700 new ones needed. The 200 million dollars lost from pollution would nearly pay the entire cost of these new plants," said the film's narrator.

Mrs. J. T. Spillman gave the devotions prior to the program, and a business meeting followed the refreshments. During the business meeting it was decided to contribute equal amounts to the Crippled Children's Committee in Floyd county and the Red Cross. Mrs. S. M. Martin reported that $157.50 had been raised by the club for the Heart Fund and $54.50 for polio.

An election of officers for the coming club year was held, and the new officers, who will be installed at the annual breakfast in May, were:

President, Mrs. L. B. Price; vice-president, Mrs. Mervil Dixon; treasurer, Mrs. Milton Trusty, Jr.; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles Hornsby; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. T. Spillman.

A majority of those present will attend a dinner meeting at Wheelwright, Monday evening, April 11, given by the Wheelwright Woman's Club.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Mervil Dixon and Mrs. J. E. Miller.

Easter Service Plans At Wheelwright Told

Wheelwright, Ky.—The annual community Easter sunrise service will be held at Wheelwright Sunday at 6:30 at the rear of the clubhouse. The choir from the Friendship Baptist Church will provide special music. The Rev. James E. Casey, Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church, will bring the Easter message. Rev. E. H. Terry will direct the singing, and Rev. Donald R. Guth will be the master of ceremonies. In case of bad weather, the service will be held in the First Baptist Church.

The First Baptist Church will serve doughnuts and coffee after the morning service. Everyone is invited to attend.

REPEAL OF WHISKEY TAX NOW ON STATUTE BOOKS

Frankfort, Ky.—Governor Edward T. Breathitt let the whiskey production tax-repeal bill become law without his signature but vetoed night thoroughbred racing in Kentucky in completing final executive action on bills passed during the last 10 days of the 1966 General Assembly.

An announcement from the office of the Governor, who was away on a post-legislative vacation, also said he had allowed to become law without his signature a bill which raises the maximum interest rate on bank and other contract loans from six to seven percent.

Repeal of the state's 10-cent-a-gallon whiskey production tax will be spread over a five-year period at the rate of two cents a year.

The Brown-Forman Distillers Corp., after learning that the repeal bill would become law, announced plans for an additional $1 million expansion of its facilities in Louisville and Shively. A spokesman said that without repeal, the company would not have gone ahead with this expansion.

The Governor wrote in vetoing the bill to permit night thoroughbred racing in Kentucky that "it is not in the interest of the thoroughbred industry."

During the last 10 days of its 1966 session, which adjourned sine die March 18, the General Assembly passed a total of 164 bills and resolutions. Action previously had been taken by the Governor on a number of these measures. In the final announcement, 17 were vetoed.

Among this number was a bill which would have set up a commission to plan and construct an office building in Frankfort for the exclusive use of the legislature. The Governor said the same purpose could be accomplished by a Legislative Research Commission planning committee working with the state.

The Governor also vetoed a bill to extend absentee voting to a voter who expects to be out of the county of his legal residence on election day. Another he disapproved would have required the Department of Economic Security to keep a record in each county of public assistance recipients and amounts received.

Becoming law without his signature was a bill to require a 60-day waiting period before a final divorce decree may be granted. Another in this category would extend immunity of arrest to legislators while going to, attending or returning from sessions except for certain grave offenses.

The Governor signed the bill to remove the limits from campaign spending but to require signatures on political advertisements in magazines and newspapers.

Three other bills he signed would:

Make it a crime to make, possess or use any device to "steal" telecommunication service; permit the State Board of Parole to use lie detector and other truth tests before granting a parole; and require admission of guide dogs for the blind to hotels, motels, restaurants, theaters and public transportation vehicles.

DAVID

CLUB INSTALLS OFFICERS

Members of the David Woman's Club were guests of Mrs. Horace Tiller, retiring president, at May Lodge, April 1. Mrs. Tiller presided, and the devotional was led by Mrs. Oak Mullins. A short business meeting was held. It was voted to send Mrs. Ora Howard and Mrs. Alvin Francisco to Lexington, April 25, as delegates to the state convention. An announcement of the district contest at Pikeville, April 2, in art and music was read. There will be a workshop on parliamentary law at May Lodge, April 15, 16 and 17.

Mrs. Zella S. Archer, district governor, installed the new officers in an impressive ceremony. Those installed were: Mrs. Ora Howard, president; Mrs. James Penix, first vice-president; Miss Mary Frances Stambaugh, second vice-president; Mrs. Harry Clay, correspondence secretary; Mrs. Ray Spears, recording secretary and Mrs. Alvin Francisco, treasurer. The outgoing president, Mrs. Tiller, was presented a gift, which she graciously acknowledged. Those attending the meeting were Mrs. Horace Tiller, Mrs. Ora Howard, Mrs. A. C. Wilson, Mrs. Alvin Francisco, Mrs. James Penix, Miss Mary Frances Stambaugh, Mrs. Ray Spears, Mrs. Pete Capelli, Mrs. Oak Mullins, and guest, Mrs. Zella S. Archer.

EASTER TO BE RE-OPENING OF BREAKS INTERSTATE PARK

Breaks Interstate Park will re-open for the 1966 season on Easter Sunday, according to Harold Zanger, park superintendent. The park is on the Kentucky-Virginia border near Elkhorn City, and encloses the scenic river gorge known as the Breaks of the Sandy.

Zanger said that all park facilities will be in operation on opening day. These include a 24-unit motor lodge, tent and trailer camp sites, a dining room in Rhododendron Lodge and a visitors' center. There are hiking trails within the park boundaries, picnic areas, playground facilities and shelter houses.

Visitors to the park in 1965 (157,000) totaled almost 10 percent more than in 1964. Superintendent Zanger is planning for about the same per cent increase over the current year.

Breaks Interstate Park was created in 1954 through joint action of the Kentucky and Virginia legislatures. The Breaks, sometimes called the "Grand Canyon of the South," form the largest canyon east of the Mississippi River.
