Prominent Knott Men Die in Auto Accident

Hagan Smith, Crit Wallen and Wendell Smith Die As Car Crashes Near Lexington—W. R. Smith, Huram Stamper Injured as Party En Route to Football Game Friday—Tragedy Creates Fall of Gloom

Three Hindman men, members of prominent Knott county families and former University of Kentucky students, died Friday in an automobile tragedy near Lexington which cast a pall of gloom over a wide section of Eastern Kentucky, where they were widely related and well-known. At the same time two others were seriously hurt.

The dead are: Hagan Smith, 23 years old, son of former State Senator and Mrs. H. H. Smith; Crit Wallen, son of ex-Circuit Court Clerk David W. Wallen, of Knott county, and Wendell Smith, 24, son of the late Granville Smith and of Mrs. Alice Smith.

W. R. Smith, 28 years old, cashier of the Bank of Hindman, and Hiram Stamper, both of Hindman.

Crit Wallen and Wendell Smith were returning from a football game at Lexington when it was said this week that they were expected to receive Mr. Smith's left leg was punctured, necessitating its removal. His right hand was bruised and his legs and knees were cut and grazed. Hagan Smith suffered a crushed skull, broken legs and internal injuries. Wallen, a broken neck, crushed skull and broken legs, and Hagan Smith, a fractured skull, a broken leg and internal injuries. The automobile, a Packard sedan which was purchased less than a month ago by Senator Smith, was destroyed. Hagan Smith was driver of the auto.

According to a spectator to the tragedy, a small auto drove onto the edge of the Winchester Pike from an intersecting road as the car occupied by the party of five from Hindman reached the spot, driving rapidly. Driver of the Packard sought to avoid striking the smaller car, but grazed it, hurled across the road and struck a moving car which it knocked and immediately ran off along the road. After turning 100 feet further the Packard crossed and caught fire. Hagan Smith and Stamper, though both hurt, managed to extricate their car from the burning wreck. A crowd of the small auto which was not struck by the Knott county car was whirled around several times.

Hagan and Wendell Smith were closely related to Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Francis, of Prestonsburg, and Wendell Smith was also a relative of Attorneys A. R. and R. E. Condit, of this place. W. H. Hays, of Prestonsburg, was an uncle of Crit Wallen. The three victims have many relatives in this county, as well as in Knott. They were former roommates at the University of Kentucky, where they were prominent in social and scholastic activities.

Upon receiving word of the tragedy Senator H. H. Smith, J. D. Smith, Dr. W. M. Duke, M. Bryan Smith, H. H. Smith, Jr., and Brodie Duke, of Hindman, and Circuit Judge C. R. Wheeler and Attorney A. H. Condit, of Prestonsburg, went to Lexington Friday night to assist in details, joined with return of the bodies to Hindman.

Return of the bodies of the three victims was made Saturday, and burial was made Sunday. Funerals of the three young men were a tragedy by the best of words. It is said, ever to attend occasion of the kind in Knott county.

Hagan Smith is survived by his parents, seven brothers and a sister; Crit Wallen leaves his parents, several brothers and sisters, and Wendell Smith is survived by his mother and one sister.

CONGRESSMAN-ELECT A. J. MAY

Logan, Williamson Win; Tenth Falls to A. J. May

Democratic Nominee for Congress Leads Ticket in This District—Margin of Victory Over Congressman Langley Placed at 2,500—C. O. P. Strongholds Fall, Johnson and Jackson Only Running Near Old Form

With a vengeance only second to that wreaked upon the Democratic party in the presidential election of 1928, a landslide into the Democratic column at Tuesday's election trapped and swept to defeat both Republican Senatorial candidates in Kentucky and effected the election of A. J. May, Prestonsburg attorney, Democrat, over Mrs. John W. Langley in the race for Tenth district Congressional honors.

Fall of the Tenth district in the Congressional race marks the crushing of a G. O. P. stronghold which has defied the onslaughts of the opposing party for more than a quarter of a century, and the defeat of Mrs. Langley breaks a tenure of office in Congress of John W. Langley and Mrs. Langley for the past 24 years, except for a short term during which Judge A. J. Kirk, of Paintsville, was Congressman from this district.

Thursday morning, Democrats of 1882 votes. The Democratic Congressional nominee is leading both Logan and Williamson in the race. Though the vote count in the district is not yet complete, the margin of victory for Mr. May was not received until Thursday noon, though he had already received the congratulations of hundreds of friends throughout the state.

Flord county, vote follows: Senate, 6000; Logan, 5000; Robinson, 2000; short term—Williamson, 4000; Robinson, 2477; Congress—May, 4588; Mrs. Langley, 2280. Majorities for each Tenth district county, in the Congressional race follow:

Knott, 1426 for May; Pike, 1802 for May; Magoffin, 131 for May; Letcher, 735 for May; Martin, 57, for Mrs. Langley; Johnson, 1407 for Mrs. Langley; Owsley, 1200 for Mrs. Langley; Jackson, 1200 for Mrs. Langley; Perry, vote count not complete.

Of the eight Republican counties in the district only two showed a vote for the Republican nominee approximating its normal Republican strength. These were Johnson and Jackson counties, each giving Mrs. Langley a majority of more than 1,000. On the other hand, Pike, Magoffin and Letcher swung into the column for May. Johnson and Knott, official returns from Pike gave Mr. May a lead

Prestonsburg Blackcats Hold Third Place; Have Won More Games

Standings were shifted in the Big Sandy Conference to a small degree last week as a result of two loop games.

The latter game is scheduled Thursday and promises to be the climax of the circuit.

Prestonsburg defeated Belle in a thrilling contest at Prestonsburg, 23-21.

Pikeville opposes Prestonsburg in the only conference game of the week.

Table with 3 columns: Team, W, L, Tied. Rows: Louisa (1, 0, 0), Palmetto (1, 0, 1), Prestonsburg (2, 1, 1), Pikeville (0, 0, 2), Belle (1, 0, 0), Van Lear (0, 4, 0).

SMOKERS BLAMED FOR FOREST FIRES

Forestry Official Gives Results of Inquiry.

Washington.—Smokers were held the greatest single factor responsible for the unprecedented number of forest fires in the East this spring, in a statement by George D. Pratt, New York, president of the American Forestry association.

Exceeding the records of previous years in many states, the spring forest fires rendered hundreds of persons homeless and jobless, burned over hundreds of thousands of acres of forest, and caused in number and as recreational areas, and have destroyed the wild life of the woods.

"It is necessary to admonish the guilty or beg for future carelessness from those who are held the greatest single menace to our countryside, now that the facts are before them," Pratt asked.

He cited statistics to show smokers have been blamed for 50 per cent of the forest fires in New York, 39 per cent in Connecticut, 18 per cent in North Carolina, and 10 per cent in New Jersey. A large number of fires of unaccountable origin also were blamed by United States forest rangers on carelessly tossed cigarettes or cigars, Pratt added.

"In the state of Rhode Island, where over 90 per cent of all fires which burned in at least one-eighth of the forest land area, have been attributed to carelessness, the disposal of burning tobacco in the wooded areas has been called the chief factor," he continued.

Although conclusive figures are not yet available the extent of the damage caused by the fires is indicated by the fact that in one day, May 1, more forest was burned in Connecticut than in the year of 1920.

An air patrol was used in New Jersey and more crews of ten men to fight forest fires were expanded. In many cases, to forty, to which have been added special crews that number from fifteen to twenty, hundreds made up of special local groups and of imported help from the railroads, the United States army, navy and marine corps, coast guard.

The Standard News

A THOUGHT FOR SUNDAY

By Amos R. Wells

WHOSE "PERSONAL LIBERTY" IS MOST IMPORTANT?

A certain society woman, prominent and wealthy, is suing the United States to recover a quarter of a million dollars paid in income taxes for three years, all going losses through the closing of hotel bars which she owned before the passage of the prohibition law. She will not get the money back. It is safe to say, because the supreme court has decided that national prohibition is not continuation of a legitimate industry, but abolition of a business harmful to the people.

No one has a right to do wrong, yet will-beers are constantly being sold, if they interfere with their wickedness, there is an offense against "personal liberty." That unchristianized term is constantly used as a cloak for personal iniquity.

No one has a right to make profit from preying on others. The dope-seller and the bootlegger and the high-society bar-woman stand on the same level of social infamy, while the defacers of such treasures stand with them.

"In the path of the wicked the poor is hotly pursued, let them be taken in the devices that they have conceived." Read PSALM 10: 1-12.

Hiking Club in Mexico

Finds Old Indian City

Mexico City.—Remains of what is believed to have been an ancient Indian city have been found by members of a hiking club in a remote region of the mountainous state of Queretaro, near the village of Tlatelco.

The discoverers reported to the Mexican department of archeology that they found many small mounds scattered over a valley. At one place where the earth had been washed away by flood waters the time-worn remains of ancient stairways made of plaster and stone were revealed. A large monolithic carving of a human head five feet high and another stone carved in hieroglyphic symbols were found near the mounds.

Complete photographic evidence of the discovery was assembled by the department of archeology. It has announced that the find is considered of importance because it is not listed among the known sites of Mexican pre-Columbian civilization. Alfonso Caso, member of the National Museum at Mexico City has been sent to Tlatelco to investigate the discovery.

Noted Church Thief

Nabbed in Vienna

Vienna, Austria.—Noting that a member-by, who appeared to be neither a very religious man nor to be a person likely to have a legitimate use for jewels, was carrying under his arm a golden jewel case decorated with religious figures, a policeman on duty in the Marc-Aurel-strasse of Vienna halted him and asked for an explanation.

Then, finding this explanation unsatisfactory, he carried the man to the police station, where he received the congratulations of his chief for having caught Franz Bradl, a notorious thief, who specialized in "church and cloister work" and who was wanted for forty-one such pieces of work.

"Oh, how I suffered with stomach trouble! Why? I was almost a nervous wreck from it. I had no appetite to speak of, food just didn't have any taste to me. But even though I would only eat the lightest kind of things, I would suffer just the same."

"I had just lost all my strength and at times I would feel so weak I could hardly walk across the room."

HIGHWAY NO. 80 TO BE EXTENDED

Association Favors Move To Include "Breaks" in Route

Recommendation that Highway No. 80 be extended from Allen, this county to Shelby and then on to the Breaks of the Cumberland mountains via Elk Horn City so that it will link the Breaks with Mammoth Cave Park and Cumberland Falls Park, and the assurance of Zach Justice that route No. 80 is one of the major projects of the state highway department and will receive early attention were the main points brought out at a meeting of the Highway Association which was held at Hazard recently.

In announcing to K. J. Day, of Pikeville, vice-president of the highway association, that this road was one of the major projects of the state highway commissioners considered it of prime importance and plan to do it at the earliest possible date. It is the next on the state program, Mr. Justice said, and will be pushed on the next bi-annual program.

Highway association members from Floyd, Pike, Knott, Perry, Leslie, Clay, Laurel, Putnam and other counties interested in the road were present at the meeting at Hazard. Approximately five hundred houses on this road and other roads which still lead to the Breaks were present at an all-day outing held at the site of the proposed Hi-State Park at the Breaks, Sunday. Addresses were delivered by Senator R. E. Choe, of Virginia, Judge A. A. Skeen, of Clinton, Va., and other good roads leaders.

BURCHETT VICTIM OF HIT-RUN DRIVER

Injured Man Found Near Here Wednesday Night; 'Mystery Car' Figures

Tom Burchett, filling station operator and former electrician, for the Colonial Coal & Coke Company, died Thursday afternoon at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, from injuries sustained when, it is believed, he was struck by a hit-and-run driver on the Mayo Trail, three miles above Prestonsburg.

Mr. Burchett was found lying by the roadside near his father's home shortly before 10 o'clock Wednesday evening by the driver and passengers of a Sparks Brothers bus. He was unconscious at the time. Later, he was taken to the hospital in the ambulance of E. P. Arnold.

Passengers of the bus told here Thursday of seeing an auto driving slowly a few yards ahead of the bus, with its lights out. As the car passed the driver of the bus saw it increase its speed. A few miles farther on the bus again overtook the mysterious machine, which this time was parked in a curve of the trail across the river near Dwyer. Four men were standing in front of the auto, it is said, and took to their heels as the bus approached.

It is believed that if occupants of this auto can be located, identity of those responsible for Mr. Burchett's death will be known.

Description of the "mystery auto" is vague, some of the pass-angers saying that it is of a color of bluish color but being unable to give further aid to identification. One passenger said he believed the license plates had been removed from the auto.

Surviving Mr. Burchett are his wife, Mrs. and Mrs. William Burchett, his wife, three children and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. A. C. Dinkels, Mrs. Jasper Waller, Mrs. Wald Blackburn, Mrs. Frank Blackburn, Misses Couch and Maxie Burchett, Larry, Willard and Banner Burchett.

The body was returned to the home Thursday night. Funeral arrangements had not been announced Thursday.

PLAY BY PLAY

BLAKE AFTERTHOUGHTS The University of Kentucky students lost last Saturday to a better team to a team which we consider the best of all Southern teams and the inferior of few in this country, but Kentucky's team was not as bad as was its generalship.

Kentucky's backs are as good as it is, but it is not better than Alabama's. The Crimson line is one of the best played football today. At Kentucky's best Alabama would have scored two touchdowns, we believe. But with Kentucky's field general using his head we can't see but that the Wildcats would have themselves, and not a touchdown.

An example of bad Kentucky quarterback play was seen on the occasion when the Cats took the ball on their own ground line and then wasted this down on a state at the Blue. Then on the fourth down the center made a bad pass and Myers' punt was blocked. That quarterback learned something right there that Kastle Beckie touches his quarters on the practice field. Again the Cats, when Alabama's 12-yard line poked away at the adamant line of Crimson wall for three downs before ever attempting a pass.

Now in the latter case, with the ball on Alabama's 12-yard line, it was close to kick unless in an attempt for a field goal. Well, when I look down any game, there is little left to do but pass; but the trouble now is, Alabama knows, a pass is coming.

And is "Shipwreck" Kelly overrated and a big flop? I don't see it. "Moose" Kelly is not so bad. Kelly last Saturday was confronted with exactly the same thing which in the past has confronted such runners as Cagle, McEver and Booth. He was a marked man, if ever there was one, and the Kentucky line could do nothing toward stopping Alabama tackle-boys.

On the defense Kelly played well. Once he ran back a kickoff 35 yards. On at least two occasions, had one Alabama man been taken out by the Kentucky interference, Kelly would have been off on one of those long-distance punts for which he is justly famous.

The big asset Kelly could have been last Saturday was this: He could have drawn. And did draw—Alabama's attention from other Kentucky backs to himself. This was presented the opportunity to the Philippines, Johnson and Speyer to get away. But the way to get away was not through that line.

AN UNFORTUNATE PREDICTION: You know, we're becoming more and more settled in the opinion that you must be careful what you say when you write for publication. If you just say it—like talking to a friend—you can, if necessary, deny it later. But it's different if you set your thoughts down in "imprintable" type.

Whoever has not seen what we had had so far as to predict that the Prestonsburg Blackies will defeat Paintsville. We have our own conviction because of the Blackies' excellent made against the Paintsville team. We have matter how much more strength you've got, you need a little more than you go along. "Over-confidence," another fellow said in explaining Prestonsburg's loss. Over-confidence is no crum of a Solomon, and is just as fatal in football as in plain, every-day dullness.

If this Prestonsburg team will get down to earth, though, and work with one definite aim in view—AND THAT TO WIN GAMES—maybe we'll still be saved from the division of our friends because of that rash prediction of ours.

AN ART NEEDING A RENAISSANCE If ever there has been less interest in the United States in boxing than there is right now, we do not remember when it was. It's been several months since we've had an argument about the relative merits of the rank the heavyweights. And, I suppose, even now in the heavyweights, interest is low.

something as a champion is just the man who was defeated by the terrific Sharkey man, Sharkey is just the man who fouled Schmelling and threw the championship. Willie Stribling is king of the Gambrinsk's, no doubt of that; but his ability to become champion is almost as much in doubt as is that of Sharkey. Jack Dempsey is too old. Timpani is in society. Paul Soren is in England and off-hand, Cimeria is back in "Sunny Italy" receiving the plaudits of his countrymen while Bob Adzema, former prize fighter, is peddling off coming after coming in the show up to date. He's still here. The others? What a matter where they are? months since we've had an argument about the relative merits of the rank

SMILES WILL ROGERS

BEVERLY HILLER, who all I know is just what I read in the papers, or what I had not one was for argument.

Colorado, and so I wrote a Daily prescription about him, stating the Judge's charge to the jury and admiring him for cutting up all the Democrats in the County. It had just come out a Republican way the Judge to the old high type Democrat from Arizona. Well now comes a long and very interesting letter from a man named N. E. Guyot, whose letterhead says Kingman Arizona, and he gives me the exact details of this last case. It seems he was in Colorado at that time. Now a lot of folks thought I was just kidding when I wrote of this Packer, and the story of the Democrats but it was the exact truth. I certainly wouldn't make him at a time so serious as writing a Democrat. We are reading a time in our existence when we need every one we can muster. We sat to get some proposals mixed up in our National conference on the 15th and 16th was serious and was writing a historical fact. But what did Mr. Guyot tell you? "It was in the Northwestern part of Colorado, San Juan mountains, 20 miles from the Town of Packer, on a plateau that is called on government survey, 'Grand Plateau.' It was here that Packer showed a severe snow storm murder and decimated his property or companies." Now there are some more facts but here is the things I want you to get. It is the history of how fellow Packer before he started off in assisting on the minority party. Packer was a Harvard graduate, and graduated in '06. He was a Law student and started practicing in Boston. What I am getting at is that the only case of a person willfully decaying human flesh was by the Alumni of the great Harvard. So Harvard has not only produced the least understandable English in our fair land, but produced the only living cannibal.

Then he was a Lawyer, that of course seems natural, their profession is an offshoot of the cannibal profession, they generally skin an alive, then eat half the soup taste to their mind and eat out of their mind. Lawyers delight in seeing a sufferer. It was the winter there was a companion who was all well equipped in the snow they as the light of the Law.

SCARLET FEVER

Scarlet fever is a very contagious disease. It is easy to catch but not so easy to cure. No child has to have it. Beware and watch him. It is not a person who others should have it. Do not let the well children be near the sick child. Grown people may get scarlet fever, too. In most cases a person who has had it once does not get it again.

HOW TO RECOGNIZE SCARLET FEVER

A child suddenly feel tired, restless and out of sorts. Usually there is a chill, vomiting, or convulsions. The child has high fever. His skin is very dry and hot. His tongue is furred, and under this white covering it is bright red swollen. Frequently he complains of sore throat. In ordinary cases these early signs are followed in a day or two by a rash. Little red points, close together, appear first on the neck and chest and soon the rash is over most of the body and very faint in color. If you find these signs, keep your child away from other people and call the doctor at once. Follow the rules given here.

SCARLETINA IS SCARLET FEVER

Children who have had scarlet fever must not return to school for at least six weeks. Children whose skin is peeling after scarlet fever must not go to school. Be sure to have a doctor. The best kidneys and ears often are seriously affected by scarlet fever, and the care of the patient should be taken.

BONANZA

PUBLIC SPEAKING
There was public speaking here on Friday night, Oct. 31, by Forrest D. Short and E. M. Hulme.

HALLOWEEN PARTY
Following the speaking, a very delightful Halloween party was given at the Bonanza high school. The party gathered about a bonfire, where they enjoyed a marshmallow roast.

BASKETBALL GAMES
An unusually large crowd attended the basketball games played by Dwayne and Bonanza at this place Friday evening, October 31. The Dwayne school team lost to the Bonanza "Cubs," 24 to 7. The Dwayne Independents played the Bonanza "Boys." Bonanza was ahead when the game was interrupted by the snow storm.

HEALTH NEWS

Follow the doctor's instructions as to food and clothing. Careful nursing should be continued after the skin has peeled and the child is well. Every one should observe these rules.

RULES

1. Put the child in a room by itself.
2. A loose gown or kimono should be put on when entering the sick room. This should be taken off when leaving. The hair should be covered by a cloth or cap. Hands and face should be washed with soap and water and the hands rinsed in a solution of a disinfectant after caring for the patient.
3. Collect all the saliva and discharges from the patient's mouth, nose, throat and ears into pieces of old linen, cotton, gauze or paper. Then burn them, as they may spread the disease.
4. The patient must have his own dishes, spoons, knives and forks. These dishes must be sterilized by washing in scalding water. All clothing worn by him must be disinfected. Ask your doctor how to do this. They must not be washed with things used by other members of the family.
5. The other members of the family should have the Dick Test as soon as they know which are liable to have the disease. Those who show red spots should be immunized with three or four doses of scarlet fever vaccine.

This is an efficient antidote for the treatment of scarlet fever. Your doctor may wish to give this remedy if the case is at all serious.

GUNS FOR THE GUNMEN

One great fallacy in the "anti-gun" laws, which are the pet of reformers in many states, is pointed out by the Minneapolis Star. "It is hard to understand how a law drastically curbing the sale of firearms could seriously interfere with the gunman's ability to buy, borrow or steal his 'rock.'" Says the Star: "As far as law is concerned, what reason is there for not enforcing the statute which prohibits carrying of concealed weapons? When one notices the frequency with which gun-toting suspects are arrested and later released without invoking this law, one wonders just how consistently an anti-gun law would be enforced." "In other words, passing a law is one thing and enforcing or getting observed is another. In H. L. Hunt's case, a federal anti-gun law is the possession and professional gunsmithing this law.

BLOOD OF MUMMIFIED BIRD FORETELLS WAR

An extraordinary tale of an Egyptian mummified hawk that drips blood during war time was told recently by Lord Robert Baden-Powell, London, England. "Baden-Powell says, he is not cautious enough to believe the hawk really foretells the coming of war, but thinks the prophetic powers are 'an amazing coincidence.' He asked to multiply a brief reference he made to the bird at a recent banquet, he said. "The bird, which is in a mummified state, was discovered in 1891 in a pharaoh's tomb during excavation work in Egypt. By comparison it with other things discovered at the same time, he concluded that the bird was at least 4,000 years old. "I saw the hawk for the first time in the Pharaoh's tomb, private museum. It is in a wonderful state of preservation and although the eyes are gone one can see the hawk

Kidney Trouble and Nervousness Soon Yield to Amazing Power of New Medicine

MRS. VIRGIE PYLE

"I cannot praise Konjola highly enough for what it has done for me," said Mrs. Virgie Pyle, 2228 Central avenue, Ashland, Ky. "I suffered for nine years with a severe case of kidney trouble. Bladder actions were frequent and often uncontrollable. My nerves were in a frightful condition and gave me not an hour of sleep at night was often out of the position entirely. "Konjola seemed to go to the source of my ailments. I took five bottles of this great medicine and my kidneys were strong as they ever were. I am no longer troubled with frequent bladder actions. My nerves have become calm and steady. I sleep well at night and awake refreshed. I have gained considerable weight and feel like another person." Konjola is recommended for ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and rheumatism, arthritis, and nervousness. It is suggested that the complete treatment of from four to eight bottles be taken in the average case. Konjola is sold in Prestonburg at Hughes' Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Red Cross Organization

The Red Cross societies are the outgrowth of an international conference which met in Geneva, Switzerland, in 1864, to discuss the need of a uniform ambulance rules and regulations for use in warfare. A symbol and flag were needed to mark hospitals, ambulances and the persons carrying on this sort of work. The flag of Switzerland is red with a white cross. As a compliment to the nation in which the conference was being held it was decided to adopt as the international relief symbol this same device with the colors reversed—a red cross on a white field. The cross, therefore is heraldic rather than religious in origin, and it has never had any religious significance so far as the Red Cross organization are concerned. The American Red Cross was formed in 1891.

Canada's First Tourist

Canada's first tourist, it is claimed by the Dominion archivist, a young Frenchman of fortune, Asselin de Rivest, who sailed from France for the first time in 1662, arriving at Tadoussac in June, 1662. He went on to Quebec where he was received by the governor, Baron D'Auvergne and met Peter DeSoto who had just returned from a mission to the Indians. The Dominion archivist possesses the Journal of this Seventeenth century tourist traveler, which contains interesting news on Quebec, Three Rivers and Montreal as observed in their early days.

I noticed a dry, brown stain, and when I questioned my friend about it, he told me that about a month before the outbreak of the Boer War the hawk became damp and gently exuded ink-like drops of blood. "All through the campaign this 'sweating' continued, until about a month before the war ended, when as suddenly and mysteriously as it had begun the dripping ceased. "I saw exactly a month before the war again appeared and the amazing fact is that they again stopped just a month before the armistice. "Mind you, I am not superstitious enough to think that the hawk's by this means foretold the war, but no other living people would sympathize in the way. Personally I think it is just an amazing coincidence." The old bird of the pharaoh emblem of the Nile is said to again be "sweating" the big blood.

WHAT'S WRONG AND WHERE?

How good are you at finding mistakes? The artist has intentionally made several obvious ones in drawing the above picture. Some of them are easily discovered, others may be hard. See how long it will take YOU to find them.

ON THE RIVER BEDS

On account of the long-continued drought, the stage of many Kentucky streams is lower than ever before in the memory of the oldest inhabitants. Even vegetation of river banks, with sprouting growing up in the beds and flats was in the deeper pools.

As a result objects rarely seen have been brought to light. At one point the low stages of the Licking river left a staked bottom covered with stones, which, the lore of tradition has it, was submerged a century past. A solid log in the story, the log was flattened with a variety of stone found about the banks of the Licking river and used for making water wheels. An examination of the log now exposed above the waterline, showed it to have been constructed of holly and to have a cork in state of preservation after lying in the water for an hundred years.

In the upper reaches of the Kentucky river several objects are to be seen above the low level of the stream. In the Eastern Kentucky streams where logging was a thriving industry up to a generation ago, well-rotted logs lying on the bottom are being exposed and it is a matter of pure speculation how long they may have lain there. That some of the sunken logs go back to pioneer times is made obvious by those who have made observations of what the shallow depths now disclose.

Oregonians Trekking On

When Mormons trekked on July 2, 1847, a caravan of immigrants, then regarded as quakers, emerging from a canyon, looked out upon the Salt Lake valley. "This is the place," cried "on," said Brigham Young, their leader.

That event, which turned out to be historic, is commemorated today by faithful Mormons. The Mormon pioneers of the Missouri frontier to Great Salt Lake was comparatively easy, when considered against the earlier movements over the Oregon trail to the Pacific Northwest.

When the Oregon pioneers reached the Rocky mountains they were yet to face the more difficult and dangerous half of the long journey. Yet to be traversed were the desert plains of southern Idaho, the canyons and steep ascents of the Blue mountains, the rugged and formidable cascades, and the deep forests that hemmed in the Willamette valley.

The Mormons ended their trek in July; the Oregonians in November or December.

The Mormon movement was in 1847; the Oregon trail had been well beaten by successive heavy migrations in 1842, 1844, 1845 and 1846.—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

Impressive Scenes in

Fijian National Dance The meke, or national dance of the Fijians, plays an important part in all ceremonies on the islands. As many as two hundred young natives, most of them dressed, will take part in a meke, which may be described as a legend told in song and dance. Sometimes it deals with a famous battle of old days.

The dancers enter either singly or in groups, and go through many of the movements of the battle—the stealthy approach to the enemy's lines, the hurly-burly of the combat, and then the triumphant return when the warriors are greeted by their chiefs, their wives, and their countrymen. For an hour or more, without the least interval, a meke will continue its way, every action explaining itself, every step most precisely executed.

The leaders of the mekes are always particularly fine men, and they wear elaborate, heavy robes with fringe and four or five yards long, which they manage with all the grace of a court lady.—Montreal Herald.

Japanese Dragon

Mind Lee Aiken says: "As known in Japan, the conceits of the dragon is undoubtedly derived from the products of the imagination of the early Chinese, who were especially fond of evolving supernatural forms by combining parts of various animals. It is essentially a serpent, with horns of the unicorn, a horse's head, a dragon's body, a snake's tail, and a bird's wings. On either foot three, four, or five claws—the imperial dragon of China has five, that of Japan three."—Washington Star.

Varieties of Cobra

There are perhaps ten specimens of the cobra. They are exceedingly venomous snakes. The specimens reach a length of fifteen feet. Among the types in the zoo of this city, king or the African spitting cobra, king cobra, the Indian cobra, black cobra, yellow, and the spotted cobra. The spitting cobra spays its venom, sometimes to a distance of sixteen feet, but the spitting cobra actually take hold of their victims to inject the poison. The king cobra is sometimes called snake-eating cobra because its food consists of other snakes. In the New York Zoological park there are several specimens.

Jackson Equal to Occasion

When Andrew Jackson was President, a highly accomplished Berlinone wife of Jerome Bonaparte—said to him: "General, there must be a sensation of excited pride in feeling that you hold the place once held by Washington."

With his courteous bow and most winning smile, the competent diplomat made it a sensation not unlike that which a gentleman must feel when he is honored by the society of Napoleon Bonaparte's sister-in-law.—Detroit News.

Berserker Rage

In Norse mythology Berserk was the grandson of the eight-handed Starkad; he always went into battle without armor and was famed for the reckless fury with which he fought. Among those slain by him was King Swarinn, by whose daughter he had twelve sons equal to himself in bravery. These sons of Berserk were called berserkers, a term which has become synonymous with fury and reckless courage.—Fathadur Magazine.

Early Railroad Cars

Little for the Humboldt shales of early days were first used by the railroad. The first passenger train on the coast was run on the Humboldt shales. The third-class passenger had no special status at all, many companies refused to carry him in any way, and he was left to his own devices. Upon going to the Humboldt shales, the third-class passenger was placed across it and plunged him 1 1/2 miles a mile for the privilege.

He was conveyed with other passengers by cat-trains, he was shunted about by his butlerless host for hours, and when at last he reached his destination, covered with dust and dirt, it was to see a notice that "the company's servants are strictly ordered not to permit for wagon passengers."

Third-class passengers, nevertheless, persisted in traveling. The companies introduced the "Stanhope." This consisted of a box about 18 feet long, divided into four compartments by two wooden bars crossing each other in the middle. There was a door to each compartment, but no seats, so that the number of passengers it could contain depended upon the bulk of the "Stanhopes." Usually 15 passengers were crammed into a wagon.—Manchester (Eng.) Guardian.

Great Mission Pioneers

Revered in California The mission of Carrel stands as a memorial to Father Juan Bautista Serra, as well as to the great Father Junipero Serra. Products of different epochs, Padre Serra and Father Carrel were both pioneers, the one in mission founding, the other in rebuilding. Perhaps it was partly because of the fact that the birthplace of Padre Serra was nearby that of Padre Serra that, finding himself pastor of San Carlos at Monterey, Father Carrel moved to the town that received the neighboring Carmel mission from the wreck into which neglect had let it fall.

By this time Father Serra's memory and traditions of his church and his work, the state to which he brought back the remains of the great age of the mission fathers.

With every remembrance of the architect, Father Serra walked with humility in the footsteps of his great predecessor. Passing on, he leaves a memory of character and achievement as his monument.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Last Mile the Longest

A nurse sat at a desk at the end of a hospital hall, apparently engaged in making a drawing of some sort. An impatient fellow-sufferer of suffering from the disease, he had been assigned as the floor used exclusively by the sick. The two talked for a moment, then smilingly asked the nurse to attend to the patient in the hall. There were echoes of baby cries from the nearby nursery. Finally the nurse rose, noting the drawing, said: "What are you doing, Maize? Making plans for a new home?" "No," came the reply. "I'm going to figure out a new hospital building to race track for prospective patients."

Entertaining Dying Det

According to the statement of a doctor quoted some time ago, ear-piercing still prevails, but to only a limited extent. "At one time it was believed that piercing the ears and nose—lay gold rings was a preventive for eye and other troubles. As a matter of fact, however, it is just simply a survival of the period when we were negroes and included in a primitive state of decoration by mutilation. Between piercing the ears and putting the rings in the nose holes, it is but a whisper from the present practice of African savages of cutting the lips and by a gradual increasing in the size of objects soon turned a hole big enough to slip a plate into."

Monastery Site Settled

"Sign From Heaven" Klosterneuburg owes its fame to the great monastery of "Kloster," which was founded in 1009 by Margrave Leopold IV, "the Holy." A quiet story is told of its founding. Leopold was thinking of erecting a monastery close to his castle on the summit of the Leopoldberg, but could not make up his mind where to locate it. One evening, when he was discussing the question with his wife, she pointed to the window to get a better view of the landscape and her white veil was carried away by a puff of wind and it could not be seen. She said to him: "Leopold was born kneeling and his knees suddenly stopped in an altar position. The sign was not a sign, but a sign of the Holy Spirit. Leopold was born kneeling and his knees suddenly stopped in an altar position. The sign was not a sign, but a sign of the Holy Spirit."

His Name de Plumes Not

Original With Clemens The name "Mark Twain" was first used by an old Mississippi river pilot named Isiah Sellers, who used to write home for the New Orleans Picayune, in which he told his adventures in a quaintly egotistical tone. The paragraphs usually began, "My opinion for the benefit of the citizens of New Orleans," they were signed "Mark Twain," which, in the parlance of pilots, is a leadman's call, meaning "fathomless" or twelve feet. Samuel Clemens then took up the name as a burlesque on Captain Sellers' articles, and published it in a rival paper, over the signature "Sergeant Fathom." Sellers was so hurt by the burlesque that he never wrote another article. In 1863 Clemens was working for the Enterprise, published in Virginia City, Nev. He wanted a good pen name. While he was trying to think of a good one, he received news of the death of Isiah Sellers. This suggested to him "Mark Twain," the name Sellers once used, and he signed it first to a letter from Carson City to the Enterprise under date of February 3, 1863.

Bank Notes of Sweden

Defy the Counterfeiter Swedish bank notes offer practical difficulties to counterfeiters, because of a secret process used in the manufacture of the bank note paper. At the ancient paper mill of Tubna, the Swedish ink-mill, which has been in existence for more than 200 years, and is the oldest institution of its kind in the world, in 1792 purchased the Tubna mill for the manufacture of its banknote paper. Since then this paper has been manufactured there by workmen who have passed along the secret of their craft from father to son. A number of processes, which are guarded by the strictest secrecy, are used in the making of the paper, and the bank notes are very carefully printed to avoid all possibility of forgery. Through certain essential ingredients in the banknote paper it can even, if burned, be identified from the ashes.—Montreal Patriot Herald.

Chinese Wisdom

Ancient Chinese wisdom, one of the most popular London diplomats was sitting next to his Chinese colleague at a big dinner in London. The diplomat, by the usual interminable after-dinner speeches. After listening a while, he turned to his Chinese neighbor, and casually asked: "And what is your opinion of after-dinner speeches? Do you have them in China?" "Whereupon, the Chinese diplomat calmly and politely replied: "Oh, yes, of course, we, too, used to have them—but we abolished this habit some 1,500 years ago."

American Feels at Home

in Great Chinese City, Shanghai, to a notable extent, is becoming Americanized. There, in the most populated city in Asia, the young American finds all the comforts of home—the radio and jazz bands, cocktail and cabaret, neon lights and skyscrapers, chewing gum and wide trousers and long skirts, evangelists and the Salvation army.

Monastery Site Settled

"Sign From Heaven" Klosterneuburg owes its fame to the great monastery of "Kloster," which was founded in 1009 by Margrave Leopold IV, "the Holy." A quiet story is told of its founding. Leopold was thinking of erecting a monastery close to his castle on the summit of the Leopoldberg, but could not make up his mind where to locate it. One evening, when he was discussing the question with his wife, she pointed to the window to get a better view of the landscape and her white veil was carried away by a puff of wind and it could not be seen. She said to him: "Leopold was born kneeling and his knees suddenly stopped in an altar position. The sign was not a sign, but a sign of the Holy Spirit. Leopold was born kneeling and his knees suddenly stopped in an altar position. The sign was not a sign, but a sign of the Holy Spirit."

SONG OF THE WORKERS

By W. M. Angell

It's the song of the worker, Not that of the drone, That gladdens the heart When weary and lone. So we're making our country With might and with laughter, We are building a new life For those who come after.

When hands are at work, And hearts are at song, The task is not heavy, The load is not long. So we work and we sing, That will be the heart If love is not there.

Some say we are dumb, When wages are low, But why should we reap, If all we do is sow? Who is to benefit, Shall not lose his labor, If he is building with love, In the heart of his neighbor.

We keep the area wide, From hunger and cold, We are building a new life With fingers of gold. We are building the streams, And raising the soil, We are sewing the garments, For mother and child.

So in letters, so in song, As bright as the sun, One theme we have in mind, In thoughts to come. And others who follow, As the ages go by, Will not begrudge us The graces where we live.

DEER SEEN IN PIKE COUNTY

Pikeville, Ky.—The sight of deer running in this section of Kentucky, has returned. Deer have been reported seen by two different parties during the last week. A long track has been seen on High mountain, extending along the roadside. At the approach of a car the animal sped down the road ahead of the car for several hundred feet before finding a suitable place to again take to the hills.

Two other deer were reported seen on the Martin-Pike county border.

It is believed that the deer seen on Bent mountain came to Pike county from Mingo county, West Virginia, where a number were found by sportsmen who are seeking to re-stock the mountain. The latter year it is said, have been seen at various times for several months. A law prohibits the killing of deer in Kentucky until November, 1932.
