MEMORIAL SERVICES AND HOMECOMING TO BE SUNDAY, JUNE 27

The All-Day Program Features Events of An Informal, Historical Nature

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED

Next Sunday, June 27, will be a gala day for the Methodist Church of Prestonsburg when the members and friends of the church join in the celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of their present building. A general homecoming is also planned for this occasion and it is expected that a large number of visitors will attend the services.

At the 11 o'clock hour the services will be of an historical nature, presenting the story of the building of the first church to be erected in Prestonsburg which was in 1833, and also the story of the building of the present edifice which was started in 1916 but not completed until 1919.

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock will be an unusual service to be known as "That Reminds Me Service." At this time members of the congregation will share with each other the happenings of the long ago. At the evening hour the church will be lighted with oil lamps and lanterns, an old fashioned organ will be the musical instrument of the choir.

14 FLOYD STUDENTS ENROLL AT EASTERN FOR SUMMER SCHOOL

Fourteen Floyd county students are enrolled at Eastern State Teachers College for the first term of the summer school. They are: Geraldine Allen, Myrtle Franklin, Anna Laura May, Ernest Thomas and Helen Thomas, Prestonsburg; Dorothy Bregg and Leatha Clark, Auxier; Carlos Hale, West Prestonsburg; W. C. Hensley, Estill; Henry Martin, Easton; Chloé Meade, McDowell; Georgia Salisbury, Hunter; Otis Spurlock, Printer; and Alton Williams, Catlett. 925 students representing 71 Kentucky counties, Ohio, Utah and Virginia are enrolled for the first term of summer school.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hurt have as their guests this week Mrs. Hurt's nephews, Harry and Bill Fuzate, of Gate City, Va.

THE CRY, 'SHINE MISTER?' NO LONGER TO BE HEARD ON THE CITY'S STREETS

The cry, "Shine, Mister?" will no longer be heard on Prestonsburg's city streets due to an ordinance enacted by the city council at its regular meeting Saturday night. The ordinance is to the effect that henceforth all shoe-shine boys must not seek business on the city streets or in public buildings, such as the courthouse. All shoe-shine boys seen violating this ordinance will be prosecuted. The ordinance grew out of the practice of "shine" boys roughly and illmanly accosting hurried business men for trade.

It is expected that when the ill-mannered type of shine boy is prevented from using the streets as a place of business, the few boys of a "higher type" will be permitted to continue their business in the streets located in approved positions. The city council passed a second ordinance prohibiting vagrants, obscene lechers and the kindred type of characters from Prestonsburg's streets. Police were instructed to arrest such persons if they are seen.

COMMITTEE CHOSEN FOR CONSTITUTIONAL CELEBRATION HERE

Mayor A. C. Carter Plans for Celebration in September at Prestonsburg

With the selection of a program committee by Mayor A. C. Carter, Prestonsburg's plans for the Constitutional Sesquicentennial celebration in conjunction with the thousands of celebrations to be similarly held throughout the United States will be started. A program to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the constitution is assured. The committee selected by Mayor Carter is composed of Congressman A. J. May, E. P. Arnold, Mrs. C. B. Latta, H. B. Patrick, Mrs. W. L. Stumbo, George P. Archer, Dr. G. D. Callihan, Joe P. Tacklock, Lon S. Mote, Judge John W. Caudill, O. C. Hall, B. L. Sturcill, Mrs. J. D. Mayo, Joseph Harkins, Mrs. Burl Spurlock, Judge Alex Spradlin, C. Hall, Henry Hughes, Mrs. H. L. Hale, Norman Allen, Dr. O. T. Stephens, Ishmael Triplett and John Allen. The above committee was

COUNTY BOARD LETS RURAL TEACHERS TO WEEKSBURY SCHOOL MEET HERE AT GYM AND WAYLAND GYM FOR INSTRUCTIONS

Contracts for Construction on Smaller Buildings Also Made

Completing the school construction program for Floyd county this year, contracts for the building of the Weeksbury graded school and the Wayland gymnasium were let Saturday night at the meeting of the Floyd county board of education. Contracts for the building of smaller schools and additions to some already constructed were also let.

With the lowest bid, $31,241, Joe Reynolds of Mud Creek, was successful in being awarded the contract for the Weeksbury graded school, Richards & Gearheart of Middle Creek with their bid of $15,200 won the contract for construction of the Wayland gymnasium. Moore & Hicks' bid of $1,868 got the contract for the construction of the two-room school at Greeshart. The addition to the Racecon district school will be made by Jim Patrick, whose bid was $739. The Tinker Fork addition will be built by the $998 bid of Lewis Frazier. The Sizemore district school addition will be built by Moore and Hicks, whose bid of $898 was lowest.

Superintendent Hall said that construction of the Weeksbury and Wayland buildings will be completed by August 23, in time for start of high school. The smaller buildings will be completed by July 2, at which date the rural schools will begin.

354 FLOYD CITIZENS ARE GRANTED $3,425 TO BE HELD IN FENT

Average for Current Period is $9.70, According to Field Worker Harry T. Hill

According to a report issued this week by Mr. A. Y. Lloyd, of the division of public assistance, the total number of old age assistance grants in Kentucky for the period ending June 1, was $1,599, representing a monthly outlay of $315,000. Harry T. Hill, local social security worker, said that during the same period of time 353 persons received grants in Floyd county for a total of $3,445 in monthly assistance. Mr. Hill said that the average amount of assistance received by Floyd county recipients for the period was $9.70. Commenting upon the work of the public assistance division, Dr. Lloyd recently said:

"In conformity with increased living costs during the winter months, the statewide average per recipient was gradually raised from $7.43 in August to approximately $10 per recipient at the present time. These grants are made on the basis of need, living costs, and other conditions with only the most destitute aged individuals receiving the maximum amount."

BULLETIN
All stores in Prestonsburg have agreed to remain closed July 5. Since the Fourth of July falls on Sunday, local merchants will remain closed the following day to honor the birth of the nation.

Instructive Program Has Been Arranged for Teachers July 1

Rural school teachers of Floyd county will meet July 1, in the high school auditorium at Prestonsburg, for a program. Reversal King explains that the church telephone will be placed so that it will pick up all speeches, music and other activities throughout the week. Local telephone operators say that as many as 15 persons can listen in over their own private telephones.

Reverend King said that this method had already been carried out on a smaller scale, explaining that last Sunday the church's telephone was placed so that all of the services were carried by telephone to the bedside of Mrs. H. D. Fitzpatrick, whose illness has confined her to her room for some time. Pastor King reports that Mrs. Fitzpatrick heard the sermon. Continued on page five

Dear Teacher:
This letter is to notify you that your rural school, by order of the Floyd county board of education and the superintendent of schools, will begin July 5, 1937. Every teacher of one, two and three teacher schools is expected to be ready to begin teaching that date. If any teacher does not report for teaching service on July 5, the board of education will have the legal right to employ another teacher. Therefore, you should notify this office at once if you cannot start work on the above-mentioned date. A general teachers' meeting for rural teachers, beginning work on July 5 will be held in the high school auditorium, Prestonsburg, Ky., on July 1, beginning promptly at 10 o'clock a. m. I should like to have every teacher present at this meeting. An instructive program will be arranged. Free text books and supplies. Continued on page five

TELEPHONE BROADCAST TO CARRY PROGRAM TO PERSONS WHO ARE SICK

Memories of pioneering days of radio will be recalled Sunday when Methodist Pastor H. F. King, with the assistance of the local telephone operators, arranges a "telephone broadcast" of the M. E. Church anniversary services so that sick persons may "tune in" from their sickbeds to hear all parts of the program. Reversal King explains that the church telephone will be placed so that it will pick up all speeches, music and other activities throughout the week. Local telephone operators say that as many as 15 persons can listen in over their own private telephones.

Reverend King said that this method had already been carried out on a smaller scale, explaining that last Sunday the church's telephone was placed so that all of the services were carried by telephone to the bedside of Mrs. H. MRS. SMILEY DIES, NOT AWARE DEATH NEARS HER BROTHER

Neither Does Her Brother, Andy Akers, Know of Mrs. Smiley's Death

Mrs. Sarah Smiley, 68, one of Floyd county's prominent church members, died at her home at Dana, Friday night, after more than 10 years of ill health. Mrs. Smiley died without knowing that her brother, Andrew Akers, who also lives at Dana, is at the point of death. Interment for Mrs. Smiley was made in the Akers cemetery at Dana, Sunday. The Rev. C. C. Conn, pastor of the Hazel Avenue church, officiated. Two ministers decided to hold funeral services for Mrs. Smiley, one of Floyd county's most beloved women, on Saturday and Sunday. The Rev. Max Wright will be present. Mrs. Smiley is survived by her husband, A. L. Smiley, by two daughters, Hulda and Lydia, both of Dana; by her sons, Orville and Miller, of Dana, and I. A. and V. A. of Prestonsburg. Four sons have been named. Continued on page five

POLICE CHIEF, CITY ATTORNEY AND FIRE CHIEF, MUST RESIGN

City Council Eject Ousts Candidates for County Offices

SCHOOL BLDG. BANNED

Resignations of Prestonsburg's Chief of Police, Bill Spradlin, Fire Chief Mitch Thomas and City Attorney E. P. Hill, will become effective July 1, it was announced by Mayor Arthur C. Carter, following the decision by the city council Saturday night that all city officials who are candidates in the campaign for county offices should resign. The city council unanimously contended that city officials running for election would make the current campaign unfair to other candidates.

The city council also condemned the graded school building as a fire hazard. The building was also condemned by the Floyd county health department. A copy of the act of condemnation was mailed to Congressman A. J. May in Washington Tuesday morning.

Mayor Carter also announced that at a meeting of the Prestonsburg city board of education it was decided that new blueprints were necessary for the construction of the new $85,000 graded school building here. Letting of contracts for these blueprints was discussed at the meeting.

RICHARD BURCHETT, 20 DIES IN LEXINGTON; IS BURIED AT BANNER HOME

Richard Lee Burchett, 20 years old, son of Mrs. Hannah Meade of Banner, died of meningitis in the Good Samaritan hospital at Lexington last week. Young Burchett had been a member of the CCC in Harlan county. He is survived by his mother and four brothers, John, James, David and Robert, all of Banner; two sisters, Anna Lee, one of Floyd county's most beloved women, the Burdett and his stepfather, Roads Meade. His father, H. B. Burchett, preceded him in death almost 20 years ago. Funeral services were conducted at the Burchett home near Denton, Creek near Banner July 22 by the Rev. Isaac Stratton of Banner. Burial was made under the direction of the Arrald Funeral Home of Prestonsburg.

A Queen Will Be Crowned To Rule King Coal's Jubilee

"Old King Coal" will be dethroned and a queen will be selected to take his place before an expected audience of 35,000, August 27, 28 and 29 at Paintsville's Black Diamond Jubilee to be held in honor of Kentucky's coal industry and the 150th anniversary of the Constitution of the United States. The queen, to be selected from contest winners in 20 more Eastern Kentucky towns, will be crowned with a headpiece of black diamonds made from camel coal. H. T. Allen, of the Abigail Theatre, announced Wednesday night that Floyd county's beauty queen would be selected July 1, at which date the Abigail will conduct a contest to determine Floyd's representative to the festival. With the inviting of John Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers of America, all labor union officials and members and state officials, Paintsville is expecting the largest crowd ever to assemble in this section of the Big Sandy. Mayor Arthur C. Carter, of Prestonsburg, and all mayors of the state will be invited to this three-day festival, the first of its kind ever to be held in Paintsville Churches and civic clubs throughout the Big Sandy valley have agreed to assist in the preparation for this event. Officers of the Paintsville corporation formed to carry out the festival are: John B. Wells, president; Mrs. E. M. Clay and Irvin Arrowood, vice-presidents; C. R. Cooper, treasurer, and W. H. Cox, secretary-manager. Mr. Wells, pointed out, "has a wealth of historical material. Continued on page five

Figures Reveal Little Known Facts About Floyd County

There are more incorporated towns in Floyd county than in any other county in Eastern Kentucky, and Prestonsburg, the county seat with an estimated population of 2,500 is not the largest town in the county. This distinction goes to Wayland-Garrett, incorporated as one. This and similar facts about Floyd county are learned from the Paintsville Herald-News.

Floyd county's incorporated towns are: Prestonsburg, Allen, Martin, Lackey, Wayland, Wheelwright, Weeksbury, McDowell, and Wayland-Garrett. Floyd county can also lay claim to the distinction of ranking near the top of Kentucky's 120 counties in number of consolidated schools. Floyd county has 12. Other facts revealed show that there are about 16,000 students and 345 teachers.

The county's total vote is approximately 16,000. The average number of Democrats is 9,500 and the number of Republicans, 6,500. Other figures show Floyd county to have 139 automobiles, 3,950 farms, 1208 horses and colts, 2,045 mules and colts, 9,985 cattle, 750 sheep and lambs, and 8,000 hogs and pigs.

Floyd county at one time comprised about one-third of the state of Kentucky. From it was created the counties of Clay, Harlan, Perry, Pike, Lawrence, Johnson, Morgan, Breathitt, Letcher, Rowan, Blount, Mingo, Wolfe, Elliott and Lee. Floyd was the state's fortieth county to be formed. It came into existence in 1799 and was named in honor of Col. John Floyd, early Kentucky settler and Indian fighter.

Terry More Certain Than Ever Cubs Are Giants Big Threat

HERE'S what they say:
Bill Terry—"The more we look at the league the more we figure those Cubs are the we have to beat. Of course you can't tell how well their pitching will stand up, but with Hartnett back there catching it looks a lot better. They stayed up close to the top when they were having plenty of hard luck and now their power boys are back in action they're bound to be tougher."
"What? Yes, that's right. They've been something like us with Leiber and Ott and not doing so good. Don't know where Hank will be back either. You know they only gave him light food when he was in the hospital and now he's got to build himself up again before he can take chances on hard playing in the hot sun."
"Tough break that, because he certainly looked swell in spring training. But let me tell you something. That other guy out there in his place (Ripple) he's got to buy a ball club. He's hitting close to .300. Now a couple of games on the road that nobody seems to have given him credit for, and he can fly as good, or better, than anybody you can name in the league."
"Jersey City? It's a great baseball town with one of the finest parks I've ever seen, and our troups is bound to be helpful both to the Giants and to the folks over here. We bought in too late so we can't get any real good this year. They've even been having plenty of money to spend and so we can't promise anything this season. But we're improving. I was talking to Travis Jackson recently and he says Bluebird is just the shortstop we've needed over there. Also a couple of other deals we may swing before long."
"Carl Hubbell—"Do I measure my pants every day so as to get them just exactly one inch above the second white stripe or my stockings? Nope. That's just because they don't make baseball pants any longer. I like 'em like an 18 and I stretch 'em as far as they'll reach."
"Charley Grimm—"Yeah, we figure we've got to beat the Giants but you've got to be seriously in this league this year. Maybe Brown will pitch a few more games but they've got a better club out there than last year."
"Then go down in the second division and look at Philadelphia as an example. I'm in my Wilson's."
"Charley Grimm come up with three good pitchers and that kid Scharen knows how to pitch. He's got a shortstop even though he is a little green and mainly used to second base. Yeah, we've got some good youngsters over here. I figure Marty's going okay out there in the outfield now and that Shoun is a pitcher almost anybody would like to have."
"Parmelee? We let him pitch his own games because we know he's got as much as anybody in the league when he's right. If he gets into trouble the infield doesn't come charging in telling him how to pitch and neither do the boys start yelling from the bench. We just let Gobby Hartnett handle him and they've been doing a mighty good job together even if he has lost a couple of tough ones."
"What's that? You're blamed well right we're pleased with Fry and he may win a regular job with us if those stars don't come out. He may turn out to be his spot because there's a chance his arm may not be quite good enough for shortstop."
"Anything we play him is okay with him though, because he's a swell kid to handle and loves to play. Fast, too. When we go I know he could shake a foot but I had no idea how fast he really was."
"Roy Parmelee—"It feels swell to be with this club. Especially after last year. Boy, that St. Louis heat was terrible and I don't go quoting me on anything like that. The fans were swell to be there."
"Lonny Fry—"How does it feel to be sold down the river and then wind up eating in the dining room with the quality folks? That's baseball. Brooklyn was okay, but they're great to me here and—"

NOT IN THE BOX SCORE: CMOKEY JOE MARTIN, former Giants' infielder, now with Baltimore, will be a papa some time this month.

Jim Braddock's training camp at Grand Beach, Mich. was the same one used by Tom Gibbons when he prepared for Georges Carpentier's GOLFERS always drink hot tea between rounds in important tournaments. Hank Suttell, St. Louis's great baseball player, high-jumped 6 feet 3 inches in the U. S. C. dual meet and yet failed to score. The Giants are among the several National League clubs now convinced that a bunting game will beat Dizzy Dean.
Paul Runyan, who will win all prizes for being the best-dressed golfer this year. One secret of Hiroo Kobayashi's success as a trainer is the attention he pays to his horses' hooves. Does all the pedicuring, except shoeing the hooves, himself. Frank Monk, the sports expert, now handles publicity for the Rockingham park race-track.
Gossipers insist that the Missouri Valley A. A. U. Basketball league is being organized by the A. A. U. Commercial sponsors resent the limitations in schedules imposed by the amateur authorities. If the break occurs there will be practically no A. A. U. basketball left. Mark Kelly is a novelist. Ken Ruyth, the baseball writer, has bought a new automobile and plans to invest the rest of his money on a summer estate on the banks of the Housatonic.
About 30 per cent of the bookies who operate at those high-class hunts meet in Westchester and Long Island come from Philadelphia. Ken Pennington, who claims that the New York state athletic commission has ruined a fine million-dollar business, is wrestling. The Boston Garden has paid an $8 dividend on preferred stock to invest the rest of his money on a summer estate on the banks of the Housatonic.
John L. Sullivan will appear in book form and on the screen. Probably just to show that baseball is a racket. The Philadelphia Athletics reveal that they need 3,125 baseballs and 774 bats (this is approximately the rest of his money on a summer estate on the banks of the Housatonic). Joe LaGuardia, the fighter, claims he is a distant relative of hizzoner the mayor.

Lizzie was uncertain in her manner, not knowing whether to be laightly or friendly. She melted under Hugh's friendly agreeableness, and soon loquacious about her ill-health and the trials she had had to bear with her children. Presently Hugh began talking. She cried out when he related what Ellen had attempted, but when he suggested that the girl go abroad with his mother very soon, a half-scornful smile appeared on her lips. "I'm wondering—wondering!"

"Just what?"
"Do you suppose it was a trick she played to get her own way? She may have seen you—knew you'd follow her, tell us about it!"

"Did Ellen ever play tricks to get her own way?" Hugh asked gravely.
"No."
"She couldn't have seen me. I was too far away. I tell you the girl was desperate—half out of her mind."
"Then the place for her is a sanatorium—not Europe!" said Lizzie quickly.

"Do you want that stigma on her?"
Hugh pressed his point eagerly. "My mother needs her own trip. It will do them both so much good. She can leave easily now that Kezia is married—except you, Lizzie."
"I can take her myself this summer! Gavin will send us if I please!"

An inspiration came to Hugh. "You never get away, Gavin. You're stuck out of his sight. He'll hope and grieve, get sick—'till you were gone longer than a week!"

"If Ellen is to go, she will have a change of scene for several months."
A flushed Lizzie's faded features, a gratified light shone in her eyes. She sighed. "Poor Gavin! I'm afraid not. He's got to be useful to him, and harmless to her. It gave her stubborn mind something to do, and might allow Ellen to depart in peace."

"That night in the library he tossed some travel pamphlets to Ellen and his mother. 'I got them today from an agency. Look them over and tell me which trip you would like to go to.'"
They looked at him questioningly as they unfolded them.

"There's a good boat sailing in three weeks."
"England—France—Spain—Italy—Germany," murmured Lizzie. "Shall we take them all, or are we limited to two or three?"
"Greedy!" said Paris or Florence, since Ellen wanted to study.

Ellen's blue eyes flew open, startled. Her lips parted but she did not speak.
"Hugh!" said his mother, warningly.

"Not joking! I've had a busy day planning this. I couldn't speak of it until some details were settled—but they are now. Ellen's father and mother have given their consent. All you two have to decide is where you want to go and the earliest date you can be ready to sail!"

Fluvanna looked agitated. "No—no," she began. She stopped at the radiant expression on Ellen's face.

The girl, sitting on a hassock near Hugh, clasped her hands. "Hugh, you're not fooling?—they said I could go away—with Fluvanna? Are you sure there's no mistake?"
"Oh, I can't believe it!"

"What's no mistake?" answered Hugh, smiling. "And you, Mother—'you said you always wanted to go."
"Cousin Fluvanna, think of it! Paris—Florence—the Louvre—the Eiffel Tower!—I buried her head in the arm of Hugh's chair. He patted her shoulders comfortingly.

Fluvanna's face was a study of struggling emotions. "Leave you?" she whispered.

Hugh nodded slowly, then indicated Ellen, as though her need were greater. His mother was quiet, gazed at the first time.

Ellen raised her head, touched her shining eyes with her handkerchief. "Excuse me, I feel a little weepy with grief or happiness lately. . . . but it was happiness this time! . . . Oh, Fluvanna, what wonderful precious times we will have together!"

"Pull your chair up close to mine," said Fluvanna in an oddly hollow voice. "We'll go over the folders and book-keepers."
The sailing date was set for the seventeenth of April and the days went in a hurry of preparation until there was only a week left for Fluvanna to say good-by to dear familiar furnishings, to Margery and her children, to Kezia, and to Hugh.

They reached New York the morning of the day they were to sail. It was mild and sunny. They leaned at the rail of the ferry, watching the spires of the city come closer.

"The skyline has soaring aspiration in it," mused Ellen. "Sometimes the tips of buildings are in the clouds—but they always reach up to the sky in this approach to the city so much."
Hugh smiled down at her. Again he had the feeling of an opponent; the delicate face, the petal texture of her cheeks, had the softness of a child. She looked like a different person—these last few weeks since she knew she was to leave Corinth. Whether Ellen would paint great pictures or not, he did not know, but he knew that as her charm moved him, it would move others. The unconscious seeking for love was in her melodious voice, in the graceful movements of her slender figure. Who she sought she would find—perhaps on this trip. He hoped so.

Did Ellen ever play tricks to get her own way? She may have seen you—knew you'd follow her, tell us about it!"

"We'll go to the top of it today," said Fluvanna.

Their taxi went slowly across town, held up by the traffic and the whirling lights. The crowds of people on Forty-second street moved in restless rhythm, lashed back and forth like the sea. A man, who had been waiting for a taxi on the avenue, extended his hand in gratifyingly to passers-by. The sun shined on the very top of the Chrysler building.

"When we come back we will stay here a week," said Ellen. "All of America is here, the west, the north and the south, all fused in a kind of eagerness for achievement. I felt that when I went to school here. Hugh, when we come back, will you come on to meet me?"

Hugh smiled at his mother. "I'll be here when you are ready to come home."
"Well, Ellen leaned forward to kiss her mother's cheek. A spark in her eyes was like a star, bringing us to our short our stay?"

Fluvanna rested in the hotel when Hugh and Ellen stopped. Then she went to a matinee. After late dinner they went down to the boat to get ready to sail at eleven. Although they were late, they were among the first to get on the boat.

Sunday School Lesson

MESSAGE FROM GENESIS

International Sunday School Lesson for June 27, 1937

Golden Text: "These all died in faith, not having received the promises but having seen them and greeted them from afar, and having confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth."—Hebrews 11:13.

For the past three months our lessons have been taken from the first book of the Bible, Genesis. The theme for the quarter's lesson has been "God the Creator" and through the twelve studies we have been able to see clearly to see the hand of God, creating, advising, punishing, molding and guiding the patriarchs of old, just as he does today.

In John 1:1-5, it is pointed out that before the world was created, God was with him "in the beginning" as his beloved son. Christ, it is a pleasant thought and a comforting one, too, to realize that Christ was present with his Father when God made the world, and therefore knew all about it and was intensely interested in the occurrence. The time of the creation should give no trouble to students of the Bible who believe that behind the creation of this world was a Supreme Being, God, who in an orderly manner brought the world into being. Nothing in the story of creation is contrary to the revelations of scientists; these only serve to further substantiate the original story.

After the creation of the world with its animal and vegetable kingdoms, God created man and gave him a helpmate. He also gave them the will to live by, providing them with a will of their own and permitting them the privilege of choosing what they should do. When they obeyed a command of God's they were required to suffer the consequences, forfeiting their right to their luxurious surroundings and forced to provide for their own needs. They could not escape the consequences of their sin and neither can we do so today. Plato says wisely, "Sin and heroes of faith." The penalty so through the world with their heads tied together.

To bring the story of the wickedness of the people at the time of Noah and Lot a little closer home, we read in Luke 17:26-32 the words of Jesus to his disciples concerning his second coming to the world, when he told them that as it was in the days of Noah, so it shall be in the days of the Son of Man. The people spent all their time in eating and drinking, in marrying and giving in marriage. Also in the days of Lot did the people do like wise. None of these occupations, in themselves are to be considered sinful. In fact they did these things to the exclusion of God—they were who ly occupied with material things giving no time or thought to the things of God or the spiritual needs of men. Many point to a like condition in this country and the world today as an evidence of the imminent return of the Son of Man to the world. Surely no one man can deny that with many the desire for material possessions and the pleasures of this world seems to overshadow everything and they have no time nor inclination to make provision for the here after.

Running as a bright-hued thread all through the lessons of the past quarter is the outstanding characteristic of the characters studied—their fervent and unwavering faith in God. In Galatians 3:6-8, Paul calls attention to the justifying faith of Abraham, who is often called the "father of the faithful." The whole life of Abraham is an illustration of faith and the blessing which his faith in God brought to this grand old patriarch. God will bless us in like proportion. In Hebrews 11:1, we are given Paul's idea of just what faith is. He says, "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." The word translated "assurance," making real in our lives those things we are confident we are yet to have in the future, because God has promised them to us. Faith is nothing else but receiving the word of God. We know what it is to receive the word of man, to believe statements, though strange and surpassing our experience, because we regard the character of him who makes them with respect and confidence. Faith in God's word is receiving God's testimony, but as God is greater than man, his word is heaven-high above every human word. "Abraham our father" is the chapter of Hebrews. Paul calls the roll of the heroes of faith, which has caused this chapter to be often called the Westminster Abbey of the heroes of faith.

In the last reference given for our contemplation, 2 Peter 2:4-10, the apostle Peter warns us that the punishment and destruction which followed the sin of the people in the days of the beginnings will always follow like sins. But the reassuring note given by Peter is that the same God who was able to save Noah and his family and Lot and his daughters from destruction, is able "to deliver the godly out of temptations and too reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished."

onion and garlic in the shortening, brown the chicken pieces, add the other ingredients and 3 cups of chicken stock or water. Cook slowly until tender. Add 2 tablespoons of evaporated milk and a teaspoon of lime juice. Serve on hot rice and with the following condiments, served in small containers: Chutney, minced hard-boiled eggs, crisp bacon, pickled onions, toasted shredded coconut, spiced currants, india relish, ripe olives, toasted chopped peanuts, fried raw onions. In the East they serve many of these supplements and often include bits of fried vegetables, of finely minced cabbage and salty fish.

good idea. Garnish the platter with sliced pickles, stuffed olives and crisp celery hearts. Add some thick slices of cold stuffing.

Chicken and Shrimp
Brown a 3 pound chicken in pieces in 4 tablespoons butter. Then add 1-4 cup each minced carrot and onion. 3 slices of garlic. Cook 5 minutes, then pour on 2 tablespoons butter, then add 1-4 cup each of minced onion, 3 slices of garlic, 5 min. cutlets with a pastry brush with egg yolks and put in oven 35 degrees until thoroughly heated and browned. When ready to serve fill centers with buttered peas.

Chicken Terrapin
Cut up 2 cups of cold cooked chicken, rather fine. Dredge it well with flour and put into a deep frying pan. Add enough chicken broth to thicken well, stirring while cooking, to keep out lumps. Then add 1-2 cups cream, 1 cup sliced, sautéed mushrooms and 2 hard-boiled eggs sliced.

Virginia Chicken Pudding
Cut up 2 young chickens as for frying; put in a sauce pan; cover with hot water; add 2 teaspoons salt, parsley and 2 peppercorns, onion. Boil gently 1 hour or until tender. Remove the chicken and cool slightly. Slip out the bones, discarding the necks. Place chicken in a baking dish. Make a batter by mixing 4 cups milk with 4 well-beaten eggs and 1 1/2 cups flour. The batter must be very thin, but free from lumps. Beat with a rotary beater until necessary. Pour the batter over the chicken and bake in a mild oven for about an hour or until pudding is firm and well puffed. Serve at once with plenty of gravy made from thickening the chicken stock (obtained from boiling the chicken) with flour and seasoning with salt and pepper and little grated lemon rind.

Parker House Cutlets
2 tablespoons fat
1 1/2 tablespoons flour
1-4 teaspoon salt-pepper
1 cup milk
2 cups fine chopped cooked celery
2 egg yolks beaten

2 tablespoons melted butter for bread crumbs
Mashed potato
Melt fat, add flour, salt and pepper. Mix well, add milk slowly and cook until thick and smooth, stirring constantly. Add chicken and celery. Mix well. Chill and form into cutlets and dip into egg mixture and melted butter. Then dip in fine bread crumbs and place in a greased baking dish, well apart. Put mashed potato around edge of each cutlet with a pastry tube brush with egg yolks and put in oven 35 degrees until thoroughly heated and browned. When ready to serve fill centers with buttered peas.

ABOUT JUVENILE DELINQUENTS

Happening to meet, by chance, the other day a police officer from a large city, we were interested in his remarks about juvenile violators of the laws of the land.

This officer admitted that his state had no adequate program for juvenile delinquents but declared that he had not hesitated to set up his own scheme of "unofficial parole" for boys and girls running against the law for the first time that he made it perfectly clear to them that they were not getting out of their misdeeds entirely and that it would count against them heavily if they failed to mend their ways.

He was of the opinion that only few of our young people are to be blamed entirely for their mistakes, that most of them are misled by older persons and that well-planned programs for boys and girls should center upon athletics and properly supervised amusements.

KY. & W. VA. POWER CO. SPONSORED 'SING-SONG' AT PIKEVILLE SUNDAY

Hundreds of singers from Floyd county, Pike, Johnson, Martin and Knott, and the state of West Virginia, attended a singing meet sponsored by the Kentucky and West Virginia Power Company at Pikeville, Sunday, June 20.

Amos Runyon, who was in charge of the event, states that more than 400 attended the meet at Pikeville last year and with the meeting held Sunday, it is hoped to make the "sing-song" an annual affair.

Mixed choirs, quartettes, trios, duets and solos had places on the program which was held in the circuit court room. A public address system was installed to take care of the persons on the outside of the building unable to gain admittance.

THREE TOWNS DRAFT PLANS FOR GIANT GOOD ROADS MEET

Definite plans for a giant good roads meeting in Ashland within a few days to early paving of the missing link in the Mayo Trail between Louisa and Paintsville were drafted at a meeting of delegations from Ashland, Paintsville and Louisa, held in connection with the weekly meeting of the Louisa Rotary Club.

A committee of three, one each from Ashland, Louisa and Paintsville, was appointed to draft resolutions to be presented to Governor Chandler and members of the state highway department when the meeting is held in Ashland, probably next week. Col. Ben F. Forney, editor of the Ashland Independent, who presided at the meeting Monday, appointed R. L. Vinson of Louisa, Dr. C. H. Parsons of Ashland, and John E. Wells, Jr. of Paintsville, to compose the committee. They will meet in Ashland Saturday to draft the resolution. — Big Sandy News.

COMMITTEE CHOSEN

Continued from page one selected after Mayor Carter received a letter from Sol Bloom, director general of the United States Constitution Sesquicentennial Commission. The letter follows:

Dear Sir: As summer impends and the 17th of September will occur so soon after vacation time ends, I am venturing to call your attention to the necessity that arrangements for the opening of the Constitutional Sesquicentennial celebration may be advanced now that the summer absences will not hinder your preparations for the great event.

There is always a danger of confusion and regretful mishaps in the last-minute rush, which can be minimized if not entirely avoided by the foresightedness of early contacts and basic preparations by those whom the success of the celebration must depend. If this is done, a proper beginning of the Sesquicentennial commemoration on September 17 will be achieved.

With this in mind definite arrangements for the type of program to be held on September 17, definite appointments of all those who will cooperate, and definite programs are really necessary almost immediately. In case that your own organization has not taken definite action it occurs to me that this thought may prove valuable.

Permit me to assure you of my willingness and that of my staff to aid by all possible means in the successful inauguration of the observance all over our country on September 17, and in their continuance throughout the period of the celebration. I feel deeply that a great essential of this much-desired result is that of taking time by the forelock in our preparations and feeling so. I trust you will receive this plea in the spirit in which it is sent, and take it to heart.

SOL BLOOM, Director General

FOR COUNTY JUDGE

We are authorized to announce HENRY HORTER of Allen, Ky., as a candidate for County Judge, subject to the action of the Democratic party at the August 7, 1937 primary.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY

In making my announcement for the Democratic nomination for Jailer of Floyd County, subject to the action of the Democratic party, I think I should state why I am entitled to this nomination. I have been a life-long Democrat, have made the struggles for every Democratic nominee since a mere boy! When younger and had the money, I always contributed to the campaign in the interest of my party. I served my party as County Chairman, for four years and during this term, I was active and at all times working and giving my time and money to the cause of my party. I am now 53 years of age and will never ask the voters of my county for another office. I feel and I am sure that a large majority of the voters feel and know that I am entitled to the office I now seek. If and when I am elected Jailer of Floyd County, I promise the people that I will at all times attend to the duties of my office. I will give to those placed in my custody the best treatment that it is possible for them to have. I assure you that your vote and interest in my candidacy will be appreciated, and that I can and will repay you by making you a kind, courteous and efficient officer.

Very truly yours,

Tobacco Kentucky Folklore

BY Gordon Wilson, Ph.D. WESTERN KENTUCKY TEACHERS COLLEGE BOWLING GREEN, KY.

Very soon after the first colonies were planted along the Atlantic coast, daring men penetrated farther into the wilderness and became the first frontiersmen or scouts. We sometimes think that the frontier was a thing of the West, forgetting that upstate New York and the hill areas of New England were genuine frontiers long before Kentucky and Tennessee were known by name. The earliest frontiersmen were likely to be scouts, daring explorers or hunters or trappers on the edge of civilization. James Fenimore Cooper drew this type from real life as it appeared in New York early in the last century. So nearly like the later Western scout was the leatherstocking that it was easy to transfer this Easterner to the West to die in old age. This Cooper's scout lived long enough to typify the frontier from central New York to what is now Missouri and Iowa.

For years the attire of the scout was a thing that attracted attention, just as the later cowboy influenced the dress of many a person who had never seen a ranchman. The scout's leather breeches, with fringe, his deerskin cap, long rifle, flowing locks—all appeared in real life on the edge of the frontier. Visitors to Kentucky within a few years after the early settlements always mentioned the long hair of the frontiersmen. Very early the scout became a restless wanderer, appearing successively on the new frontiers. Many a man who was born in upstate New York migrated to the Ohio valley and then on to the Far West, stopping for a few years at practically every border line between the wild

What Irvin S. Cobb Thinks about

SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—

In this favored land we are now starting to celebrate the customary seasonal rite of having our summer influenza.

Summer influenza is distinguished from winter influenza by the fact that the former does not set in until September, thereby providing intervals for spring and summer epidemics to slip in between.

The symptoms remain practically the same. The eyes water copiously, but the nose runs more profusely. The head stops up thoroughly, thus providing proof of the fallacy of the old adage—'all sinus fail in dry weather.' The patient barks like a trained seal, but the difference here is that the seal stops barking if you toss him a hunk of raw fish.

One would go on to say, then, it's difficult to continue a writing job when you're using a nasal inhalant to punctuate with and have a taste in your mouth like moth balls smothered in creosote dressing.

The Art of Cussing.

MY OLD chum Burgess Johnson, once an editor but now college professor, tells a credulous bunch of advertising men that Mark Twain was the champion all-time all-American cusser—could cuss five solid minutes without repeating himself.

Pardon me, Burgess, but Mark Twain never did any such thing. Once I heard him at his out-cussingest best—denounced a publisher who had offended him. He swore for five minutes all right, but over and over again he used the same few familiar cussing phrases—the English-speaking race always have had. He didn't introduce a new or an original one.

I studied the art of cussing, both by note and by ear, under such gifted masters of profanity as southern steamboat mates, New York newspaper men, London cab drivers, western mule whackers and north woods timber choppers.

With my hand on my heart I solemnly affirm that not one of these alleged experts ever employed any save the dependable, age-seasoned standbys, to wit, seven adjectives, two strong nouns, one ultrastrong noun and one round phrase—the commonest of all.

Romance for King Zog.

FOR about the fifth time comes a plaintive plea from Albania, one of those remote little border countries of eastern Europe where every now and then peace threatens to break out. They have a king over there. At least they had one at the time of going to press with this dispatch. His name is King Zog. This is neither a typographical error nor a vaudeville gag. The name positively is Zog, and radio comedians may make the most of it.

For many months he has been paging the world for a wife. The qualifications call for the lady to have $5,000,000. His majesty would also like for her to turn Mohamedan, but the main requirement is that $5,000,000 bank roll.

California's Coastline.

WHILE it's quite a roomy coastline, California at present only one coastline. This is a source of mortification to patriotic native sons, Florida having two such, one on either side, besides a dampish area in the middle known as the Everglades.

Still, in a way, California's silvery strand continues to excel. Within easy speeding distance we have at least one beach resort where, when Palm Springs folds up on account of the heat, many of our artistic colony go to relax. So wholeheartedly do some go in for this that often you may stand off a quarter of a mile and hear them relaxing. Occasionally a relaxationist relaxes so completely that it takes weeks for him to get over it. His friends leave him at the seaside only to gather at the bedside.

The Changing World.

IT WAS Susan B. Anthony who dedicated her life to the cause of emancipation for her sex. But it was her grandniece who lately attained the headlines by suggesting that, with the addition of a buckle here and a ribbon there, a nightgown would make a suitable evening gown for almost any occasion.

Thus do we see how from one generation on to another is handed down the flame of genius and service to womankind.

But, although the inspired suggestion is already weeks old, there still are no signs that it is finding advocates among the queen bees of the cultural hive. Maybe the reason is that a belle of the Hollywood artistic group would feel so ostentatiously overdressed if she wore a full-fashioned nightie to a social function.

Hot Weather is Here— Beware of Biliousness!

Have you ever noticed that in very hot weather your organs of digestion and elimination seem to become torpid or lazy? Your food sours, forms gas, causes belching, heartburn, and a feeling of restlessness and irritability. Perhaps you may have sick headaches, nausea and dizziness or blind spells on suddenly rising. Your tongue may be coated, your complexion bilious and your bowel actions sluggish or insufficient.

These are some of the more common symptoms or warnings of biliousness or so-called "torpid liver," so prevalent in hot climates. Don't neglect them. Take Calofabs, the improved calomel compound tablets that give you the effects of calomel and salts, combined. You will be delighted with the prompt relief they afford. PROVIDE THE EXTRA MARGIN OF SAFETY ON THE SPEEDWAY OR THE HIGHWAY

THOUSANDS said that tires could not stand the terrific grind. They said cars had been built with much greater speed, turn-in the track had been repaved with granite-like surface, yet Wilbur Shaw drove to victory on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires setting a new record of 113.58 miles per hour on one of the hottest days in the history of the Indianapolis track.

Think of the terrific impact on these tires as the cars roared into the treacherous turns and out again. Tons of force straining, pulling, and twisting inside the tire, yet not one cord loosened, not one tread separated from the cord body—all because Gum-Dipping, the Firestone patented process, successfully counteracted the internal friction and heat that ordinarily destroy tire life.

You will never drive your car at these record-breaking speeds, but for the safety of yourself and family you need the safest, strongest and most dependable tires. See your nearby Firestone Dealer or Firestone Auto Supply and Service Store. Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires—the safest tires that money can buy.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE ON THIN WORN TIRES

No car owner can afford to risk his life and the lives of his family knowingly on thin worn tires.

DO YOU KNOW

That last year highway accidents cost the lives of more than 25,000 men, women and children?

That more than 40,000 of these deaths and injuries were due to worn tires?

That more than 200,000 of these deaths and injuries were due to worn tires?

That more than 200,000 of these deaths and injuries were due to worn tires?

GOODLOE

Mrs. Una Turner and daughter, Una, who have spent the past month at this place, left Thursday for Pola, O., where they will visit Mrs. Turner's daughter, Mrs. Ralph Marshall. Many of their friends were calling on them Wednesday night and wished them a pleasant trip and a nice vacation.

Willie Turner, of McGuffey, Ohio, spent the week-end with his mother here.

FLOYD PRANKER'S SON DIES AT GARRETT, KY.

(By Will Boggs) Hueyville, Ky., June 17.—"Uncle" Bill Patton, 73, widely known citizen of West

Garrett, near here, died here early yesterday morning at the home of his son, Willie Patton, following a long illness of a complication of ailments.

He was the son of "Uncle" Wiley Patton, famed hick-courier "prankster" or practical joker and hunter, who passed away at this place several years ago. Morg Patton, a brother known over a wide section of the mountain range of his "pranks" died at West Garrett last fall.

Surviving Mr. Patton are his widow and the following sons and daughters: Alonzo, Willie and Carew Patton, all of this place; Mrs. Luther Allen and Mrs. Will Green, of this place; Mrs. Wex Slaven and Mrs. Willie Patton, of Garrett; and Mrs. Willie Davis-Estall, Ky.

Burial was made Thursday morning in the Huff cemetery at this place, with local ministers officiating. A large crowd turned out for the final rites.

The steel strike is blamed by both the coal operators and coal miners of this section for the "slack run" in which both parties are now sunk. Many of the mines hereabouts seldom operate more than two days a week. Business in this region is showing a weak trend as a matter of course.

However, both sides are optimistic, expressing the belief that things will improve in the near future.

The Southern Agriculturalist said not long ago that most of the the Kentucky mountain women are expert gardeners, and, this being the case, their prediction that mountain gardens this season will be the best in a dozen years should mean something.

MINE BRAKEMAN HURT

Caught between two coal cars, Jay Childers, Beaver mine brakeman for the Standard Elkhorn Coal Company, was critically injured about the head when the two cars were coupling jammed together. He was taken to the Stambaugh hospital and is recovering in the ambulance.

LOCAL GROUP STRIKES 25-BARREL OIL WELL NEAR TRAM THURSDAY

Backed by a group of local citizens, a 25-barrel oil well near the Ryan Funeral Home in Huntington for specialized oil well was struck on Camp treatment for brain concus-Branch, near Tram last week. Said by oil men to be a better than average well, oil from it is being saved for sale. Three 100-barrel tanks are already set for the oil.

Local men backing the boys are H. C. Francis, W. H. Jones, E. G. Tucker, J. B. Clark, James Morell, Bev Sturgill, Banner Meade, and Mr. Lindsey.
