This Town-- That World

TEA-LAI Sunday was according to the calendar, the first day of Spring. Looked more, though. White Christmas. And the bluebirds turned out to be Kentucky cardinals.

AS ANY FOOL COULD PLAINLY SEE Any fresh meets the OPA "froze" in these parts this week were on the hoof. The stores certainly didn't have 'em in their best cases.

NOT TO BE FORGOTTEN Points to be remembered, these days, are those pertaining to rationing.

RESULTS Last week's reminder by this column that it would be the patriots' duty to do on the part of folks who haven't contributed to the Red Cross to send their checks to Mrs. Frances Bowling, mother of the first Floyd countyman to make the supreme sacrifice in this war, brought gratifying results. From as far away as Brown, O., came one $10 contribution.

It may be a rotten pun, but it's timely, anyway: Strike while the iron is hot, not while it's cool.

Picture-book scene: Tops of Easter lilies yellow heads sticking out above the white blanket of snow covering Prestonsburg lawns.

NOTE TO CONTRIBUTORS All opinions to be expressed in this newspaper on the war-dry issue during the present local option campaign will be charged for at the regular advertising rate.

DISOWNING THE WHOLE PASSEL A local isolationist's dislike of Wheeler, Nye & Co., since we got into this war is running high. The colored woman whose young Rastus was the subject of family conversation.

Rastus stole "Just like his daddy," remarked one member of the family. "Rastus lied. 'Just like his daddy.'" Whereupon the mother chimed in: "Yeah, just like his daddy. I so is proud I never married up with dat man!"

Success of Dr. J. H. Allen on a recent fishing trip on Norris lake with Dr. R. E. Messer. Turner threatens to ruin a dern good bird hunter. On this particular trip, it is reported, a strange party was noted. After Dr. Messer had landed a six-pound bass and strung him up, the fish got away.

WET-DRY POLL DATE IS SET FOR MAY 15

Judge Hill Orders Local Option Vote; Bitter Scrap Seen

Floyd county's voters will go to the polls Saturday, May 15, to determine in a local option election if intoxicating liquors are to continue to be sold in the county. Date of the election was set Monday by County Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., at the regular March term of county court. Calling of an election was required by the filing, several days earlier, of a petition bearing the number of voters whose names appear on the number of votes cast at the last general election in the county. The petition, Mrs. Henry Stephens, leader here in the dry movement, said, bore the names of voters from all sections of the county and in such number that it contains well above the minimum number of voter-signatures required to call an election. Both wet and dry forces are prepared for a hard fight, and the coming few weeks are expected to see a vote campaign of unusual interest.

ONE WOUNDED, 1 IS PRISONER

Yet Another Sale, Is War Report On Floyd Men

With the official report of one Floyd county being wounded in North Africa and another being a top prisoner noted. After Dr. Messer had landed a six-pound bass and strung him up, the fish got away. A jail prisoner is Warrant Officer Charles Moore, son of Mrs. Rhoda Moore, of Fed, who was one of 22 Kentuckians recently reported by the War Department as having been captured in the Philippines. Report recently received by Mrs. Alice Kendrick, of Emma, that her son, Dora G. Kendrick, had been wounded on the Tunisian battlefield was confirmed Sunday by the War Department. He was one of 18 Kentuckians reported as having been wounded.

Rescued and able to fight another day is Everett Arthur Smith, another of the 18 Kentuckians reported as having been wounded. His mother reported she had been notified of his safety and that he had been taken to a mobile hospital unit on Guadalcanal. During

Roadhouse Operators Are Heavily Fined In County Court

Heavy fines were assessed in county court here Monday against two Floyd countymen for roadhouse licenses. Jim Edd Rainey, of Weeksburg, was fined $50 and costs on conviction of having operated a roadhouse without permit. He also was jailed on a peace warrant. More than $1,000 worth of beer was temporarily confiscated Saturday night when Deputy Sheriff Tommy Salisbury found that Ed Rudd, near operator of the "V" restaurant at Allen, was selling without license. Mr. Rudd explained, however, that he had bought the restaurant from Ed Moore and operated the restaurant in the belief that Ed Moore's beer license was transferred to him in the deal. The former owner re-assumed operation of the restaurant, authorities said, and the beer was transferred to his ownership. Rudd was fined $100 and costs. For drunken driving Shelby Triplett was fined $100 and costs after having been arrested by Policemen Trip Mullins and Ben Layne, of Wayland. He assumed an apologetic attitude and was released on a new hearing from the Floyd circuit court.

Whitaker Bond Of $2,500 as Castle Injured in Fight

John Castle, Hueysville, was a patient of the afternoon at the Prestonsburg General hospital, suffering from head injuries and the loss of a finger said to have resulted from a fight with John M. Whitaker, also of Hueysville. Whitaker, who is said to have struck Castle with an iron bar, was released here under $2,500 bond. Whitaker, an elderly man, was quoted by Deputy Sheriff T. J. Salisbury as saying he struck Castle when the latter in the course of an argument, rammed his hand into his pocket as if to draw a knife or gun. Castle told officers Whitaker struck him first from behind without warning.

STABBING CASE PROBE SEEN

Condition of Victim Is Held as Serious In Martin Hospital

County Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., said Thursday morning an investigation will be made today of the stabbing at Martin late Saturday afternoon of William Housell, 19 years old, McDowell, who is in a serious condition at the Martin General hospital. James and Cleith Martin, brothers of Martin, were jailed here on breach of peace charges but were released after relatives had assured Judge Hill that they would be "good." Their part in the stabbing will be probed, it was said. A knife blade stuck into the back of Housell's head penetrated to the brain, Dr. Claude Allen, of the hospital staff said. Combined efforts of three persons were required to pull the knife from the skull. Housell's condition was described as serious. Policeman Tavis Flannery, of Martin, said he could furnish no details of the stabbing.

Simplicity, Keynote of Meat-Fat Ration Program, Thomas Says

"Simplicity is the keynote of the new meats and fats rationing program just announced by the Office of Price Administration," J. D. Thomas, public relations officer of the local War Price and Rationing Board here, said Thursday. "Although the ration list includes a wide variety of foods including all meats and many cheeses, as well as shortenings and salad oil, butter and margarine, canned fish, and other items, from the point of view of the housewife who does the shopping, it will really be a simple matter." Mr. Thomas added, "The red ration stamps in War Ration Book No. 2 will become effective March 28. All these foods will be rationed with a single set of stamps; Mr. Thomas pointed out, "and the busy housewife will have to consult only one table of point values to find out how many ration points any of these foods will cost." This latest program requires no registration of any kind. War Ration Books 2 are already distributed and when the program goes into effect, housewives will already have

YOUTH HELD FOR SLAYING GRANDFATHER

Aaron Newsom, 15, Says Rock Hurled In Self-Defense

For the rock slaying of his grandfather on Jack's Creek Saturday morning, 15-year-old Aaron Newsom was held in jail without bond Tuesday following a juvenile hearing conducted by County Judge E. P. Hill. The victim was 74-year-old E. L. Johnson, well-known Jack's Creek man. He died almost instantly after having been struck in the temple with a rock hurled by the youth following an altercation at the Johnson home. The slayer admitted that he struck the older man, but said he did so only after having been kicked two or three times and struck on the head with a stick. His statement was corroborated by that of his half-brother, Marlon Newsom. They claimed they had gone to the Johnson home to feed the livestock. While Marlon was feeding Aaron was in the house and when the former had finished the feeding he found his brother quarreling with Vada Jean Gibson, 7, another grandchild of the slain man. When the elder man ordered the boy to leave, he started out the door and was kicked two or three times by Johnson, the two boys claimed. Outside, Aaron Newsom said, his grandfather kicked him and he was "trying to get out of there" when he struck him on the head, knocking him onto his hands. As the elder man

Navy Recruiting Officer To Receive Enlistments To WAVES, Each Week

A Navy recruiting officer will be in Paintsville, at the postoffice building, from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m., every Tuesday and Wednesday, to interview all applicants for enlistment in the WAVES, G. T. Thixton, U. S. N. R., announced this week.

The primary purpose of the WAVES is to take over those jobs now held by navy men, consequently every WAVE enlistment means another fighting man for Uncle Sam.

The benefits derived by the enlistee here, in addition to aiding her country, are tremendous. Chief Thixton, officer in charge of the station, "Visualize a young woman between 20 and 36 years of age with a minimum education of two years of high school, or business college starting a career with a salary equivalent to about $150 per month, getting an educational training while being paid at such colleges as Indiana University, Iowa State Teachers' College, University of Wisconsin and others; being allowed to wear uniforms of navy and powder blue, which have an unmatched style and grace; being given the opportunity to meet new people, having free mail rights and all the other privileges enjoyed by our fighting men. In addition to the above, she has the chance to win a rating or a commission in the United States Navy. It's small wonder the young women are coming in and signing up."

Chief Thixton also announced that 17-year-old boys and men between the ages of 18 and 50 are invited to enlist in the Navy. If skilled, men of these ages are particularly urged to visit the recruiting station, starting up to chief petty officer are available to those qualified in the SEABEES, the construction branch of the navy.

SHIKE'S POKES

(The views expressed herein are those of the writer and not necessarily those of this newspaper—Editor.)

They're going to draft labor, and it looks like Thixton is drafting an airplane mechanic, since he built a chicken house that would fly. Yep, right off the hill.

And we are of the opinion we'll have a bunch broadcasting for the "Barn Dance" at Nashville. Trap is the Roy Acuff of this section, while Garland, Bob and Hank are the Smoky Mountain Boys. It was smoky when they got home, anyway.

Clairdale also has another honor, he is one of the "Three Black Crowes."

We always thought that gas was out at the sign of the orange disk, but that F. says it's at the sign of the straw hat and feather.

It being war times and probably a little more than 1943, I wish to commend John Horn as pike warden. He would make a good one and be interested in his job.

Notice the headlines in the paper this week: "Hoover Says America Probably Will Go Hungry This Year." Probably, hell, we did for the four years he was president.

We have always heard that money ain't in the bank, but it will be.

Well, it looks like Roosevelt and Wendell will be in 1944 with Roosevelt winning. FDR would have to win, or there would be another war in about 25 years, for the majority of Wilson's party are isolationists and would control them. The majority of Republican Senators are isolationists and remember, let's not break out in war time. Remember, this war could have been avoided if the Senate had backed Wilson's policy. Wilson's foreign policy is the same as Roosevelt's.

But he's not got his party to go along. Hecker is only his pike warden, by the same as Fritz, America Praters, and, by the way, where do yellow lizards?

GET RE-CAPS

No Certificate Necessary

A rationing certificate no longer is required to have passenger car and light truck tires re-capped with re-claimed rubber.

The action, approved by Rubber Director William M. Jeffers, is designed to reduce the demand for replacement tires. Re-capping requires about half as much reclaimed rubber as a new "war tire."

Easterners Get 6 Gallons Oil a Month

Residents in 17 Eastern states now get only six gallons of gasoline a month, although they may use it for any kind of non-occupational driving. The new order does not apply to other areas. A booklet will be sent for three gallons in the 17 Eastern states, but they must last for 30 days. Shortage of gas is still acute, and greatly increased demands for fuel and farm machinery caused the OPA order, which became effective March 22.

More Meat for Shortage Areas

OPA has empowered regional administrators to report to the Food Rationing Division of OPA whenever they find an acute shortage which endangers public health, morale or war effort. OPA will authorize slaughterhouses to increase their output of carcasses of controlled meats in such areas.

Plan of Canine Supplies

OPA will issue a plan of canine supplies. The plan will provide for the distribution of canine supplies which will be in excess of the amount of canine supplies. The War Production Control Board has removed all quotas on the manufacture of canine supplies of most kinds used in the home. Production of the use of canine supplies is continued.

More Turkeys This Year

Turkey growers plan to raise about 12 million turkeys this year, a 10 per cent increase over 1942. Returns from over 5,000 farmers throughout the United States. This would be the largest single crop ever produced in the country—12 per cent larger than the 1942 crop. Some differences between February production and actual performance is to be expected, depending on the supply and price of hatching eggs, poultry prices, availability and cost of high protein feeds, and the willingness of growers to accept late hatched poult.

Modification of Shoe Rationing Order

Three modifications of shoe rationing order 17 have been authorized by OPA. They are: (1) an additional ration of "safety" shoes, used for health protection in special work may be acquired from the local board by any person who has a ration stamp; (2) sandals which can be sold ration-free are re-defined to include all sandals with an open back and a heel height of 1 1/8 inches or less, regardless of the material used in the upper; (3) certain shoes with soles made principally of rope, wood, or other non-rubber materials may be sold ration-free, regardless of the material used in the upper.

Extra Food for Temporary Workers

An employer who temporarily hires workers for periods of less than 30 days may obtain rationed food for them by applying to the local board. The board will issue a stamp of special importance to farmers who hire labor during the planting and harvesting seasons. The employer of construction workers or temporary laborers, lumber camp operators, and other seasonal employees.

Control on Corn

Permanent maximum prices on corn—America's top-ranking farm crop in point of size and value—have been fixed by OPA. The ceilings apply from the time the corn leaves the farmer's hand until it is sold by retailers. Recommended seasonal price variations and carrying charges, the new OPA order sets peak prices for all varieties and types of corn sold by farmers, truckers, local elevator and retail dealers. Typical peak under the new maximum price regulation No. 346 (corn) is $1.02 per 56-pound bushel of No. 2 yellow corn at Chicago—key point in the country's grain exchange and marketing set-up.

Special Rations of Fresh Foods are Severe

Forest rangers, missionaries, fishermen, sheep herders, and other consumers, if they are located in such remote places that it is impossible for them to get fresh foods except at very infrequent intervals, may now apply to their local board for special rations, according to an amendment issued by the OPA. Means were also provided for certain logging camps and similar isolated users of food processed food if no other sources of food can be made available.

Higher Prices for Canning Crops

A price-support program which assures farmers 20 to 50 per cent higher prices for their canning crops than last year has been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the OPA. Crops for which support prices are established include tomatoes, sweet corn, snap beans, green peas, lima beans, jetties, carrots, and cabbage for kraut.

Second War Loan Drive

During April the U. S. Treasury will borrow the sum of $13,000,000,000 in its second war loan drive. "This money, which is needed to help our armed forces, will be raised through the continuing sale of War Savings Bonds, and tax savings investment issues, and the offering of a number of new treasury issues designed for every class and type of investor," said Secretary Morgenthau. "The money will be used to help move forward into full production in the war effort. It is increasingly important that every American invest in his government's securities to the limit of his other ability."

Can Sell Butter Below Price Ceiling

There is nothing in any OPA regulation preventing sales of butter at lower than ceiling prices set recently at the creamery and wholesale levels. The ceilings represent the maximum prices at which this commodity may be sold, Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown says.

Farm Machinery Released

Restrictions on distribution of farm machinery have been lifted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The order permits manufacturers of farm machinery to release without restriction 50 per cent of their authorized production of separators as allowed by WPB Order L-170 and all remaining stocks produced under L-26. It similarly permits manufacturers of power spray pumps and horse or tractor drawn weeders to release 100 per cent of their production under L-170 and all inventory stocks produced under L-26.

Blue Rail-a Stamp Calendar

Blue Stamp D, E, and F in War Ration Book Two, totaling 48 points, will be used from March 25 and March 31. Blue stamps, totaling 48 points, may be used to buy rationed canned foods.

Damaged Shoes "Non-Rationed"

Shoe dealers whose stocks have been damaged by fire, water, steam, or other accidental cause to the extent that they are not be exchangeable for ration currency may be authorized by district OPA offices to mark their shoes "non-rationed."

Booklet on Car Care

A manual of ABC's of vehicle maintenance for cars, trucks, and buses, outlining the kind of inspections, checks, and adjustments that should be made to assure efficient and economic operation of all types of motor vehicles, will soon be available through the Office of Defense Transportation and the field offices of the Office of War Information.

Sluggered Hours for Women

Sluggered hours of work so that women may shop under rationing rules, but still work in war plants and necessary services have been proposed by War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNair. Six million women will be in war industries this year and changes must be made in present work systems.

Department Appeals Handled Locally

All appeals involving claims for occupational deferment are now being handled by the Selective Service Board of Appeal in the area of the worker's employment. Formerly, these appeals were handled in the area in which the worker was registered.

SERIOUSLY SPEAKING

By E. F. EPLING
After mistakes, which have caused one to wonder if there is a better day, have been put in the past, but not forgotten, will there be a continuous cycle of misfortune? It seems that one never gets too old to learn.

Home is a pretty good place, after all, even if you have a hard time making it home.

Cincinnati has one virtue I can speak of, and that is the many ads offering garden space free for Victory Gardens.

I've spoken many times of unions demanding exorbitant raises in pay. But there are plenty of places where a union is needed, especially when you must work in a plant for 50 or more hours.

I was very sick after several days, was able to write or talk only as the bus began to roll by fields and streams in old Kentucky. I was feeling better. Of course, the sun was shining as often as not, and the smoke could not keep it hid.

We sometimes think there is nothing new to write or talk about. Well, there is. Every day is a new day and should be appreciated.

Anthony Eden in Washington and at a time when a lot of people are getting over the thought of P.D.R. running again. If the dear fellow is done with this big job, let someone else have it. Then Franklin can be her very close advisor.

What's the use of the "othered" quaking? If they haven't got one big enough to compete, why make a laughing stock out of themselves?

There are plenty of people big enough, but they're just not broad-minded enough to keep themselves from being hogtied.

And I've never yet found an old standipater in the Grand Old Party who'd lead a few hundred starving families—unless it was on their side. Oh! no!

Your best investment—United States War Bonds and Stamps!

There are plenty of II—when it needs replacements. Motorists with mileage ratings between 500 and 1,000 monthly, who have been eligible for new castings in the weekly bracket only, can now get Grade I tires. The release of these new castings under rationing to "B" and "C" card holders will be for replacement of tires worn beyond the recapping stage, according to OPA.

Food Prices Increase Slightly

The average cost of all foods consumed by the average family advanced between mid-January and mid-February 0.5 per cent as fresh fruits and vegetables went up with increased buying because of short supplies of canned goods and in the amount of rationing effective March 1. The usual large seasonal decline in egg prices of 13.9 per cent was primarily responsible for holding down the over-all increase. The average cost for other than eggs rose 1.5 per cent, according to Bureau of Labor statistics.

War Expenditures

The average daily rate of U. S. war expenditures reached a new high of $25,900,000 in February. The previous high in November, 1942, was surpassed by 3.6 per cent, or $2,900,000. Expenditures for war purposes totaled $8,000,000,000 in February. This was $173,000,000, or 2.2 per cent less than in January and 21.5 times expenditures a year ago February.

Regardless of full car chubs, no supplementary gasoline rations are to be allowed if any other means of transportation in a specified area such as subway, elevated railroads, or railroad commuter services, are deemed adequate by the OPA regional administrator or the OPA district administrator in charge of rationing.

Smelt for Food

About 10,000,000 pounds of low cost smelt will be added to the nation's wartime food supply within the next few weeks, according to the Office of Co-ordinator of Fisheries. The smelt, which are plentiful and other seafood products, coupled with the usual Lenten demand, is expected to create a wide market for smelt this year than ever before.

Inspectors Advise Accident Reduction From Falls in Weeksbury Mine

Officials and employees of the Weeksbury coal mine at Weeksbury, should intensify their efforts to reduce fatal and serious accidents resulting from rock and coal falls in the mine a few months ago, the report quoted company figures showing that falls of rock and coal killed four employees in 1940 and were the chief cause of disabling injuries in 1941 when the accident-frequency rate increased substantially above 1940.

The hard-loading mine is owned and operated by the Eastern Gas and Fuel Association, Eastern Gas and Fuel Association. There are 547 employees.

Other recommendations in the mine's report include the use of certain haulage hazards, improvements in the ventilating system, stricter enforcement of the mine's organization, the use of underground additional rock-dusting to lower the combustible content of the coal dust. Inspector Sayers said Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes.

The inspector commended the mine for a number of safety features including an extensive safety check system, the use of permissible explosives for blasting and of permissible electric cap lamps for illumination, the wearing of special protective clothing by underground employees, and well-regulated man traps.

Although the mine is rated non-gassy by the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals and analyses revealed only a trace of methane, an explosive gas, the federal inspector urged that more air be circulated through certain working places to insure effective dilution of methane should the gas be liberated in a greater volume. He also suggested that all ventilating doors used to direct the air flow be installed in pairs to form air locks, that all main ventilating fans be placed on the surface and operated exhaustively, and that the use of portable blower fans underground be discontinued.

The report noted that the mine air was analyzed monthly for methane but suggested that the foremen carry permissible flame safety lamps to test for gas during the daily shifts. "Nipping" of portable electrical equipment along trolley wires should be discontinued to reduce explosion possibilities, the inspector advised.

While the mine is partly rock-dusted, this precautionary practice should be carried closer to the face regions and intensified in other areas where the incombustible content of the coal dust is less than 65 per cent, the inspector stated. The report recommended the use of clearance side of roadways, prohibiting the use of junking of moving cars to run ahead and throw switches, better guarding of electric wires where men pass beneath them, and the removal of dust accumulations on the floor. The manager said that shelter holes will be provided along roadways and entries in new developments.

Betsy Layne War Stamp Drive Nets $673.30 In 6-Week Period

Betsy Layne, Ky., March 19 (Sp.)—"Enthusiastic response" mildly describes the results of the War Stamp sales drive conducted by the eighth grade of the Betsy Layne school and sponsored by Mrs. Angelyn George. In view of the fact that the youngsters reached a total of $673.30 in stamp sales for the past six weeks.

The campaign has been conducted in this manner: At the end of each two weeks all those who have purchased as much as, or more than, one ten-cent stamp, may join in a parade to be held over the community, headed by the school band. The pupil who has purchased the most in stamps during the two weeks is awarded the honor of leading the parade and carrying the flag. This, coupled with the encouraging support evidenced by parents of the school, has definitely contributed to the success of this war effort, on the part of Betsy Layne students.

GANGWAY FOR TANKS.

LOOK up at the transmission lines that crisscross America—then close your eyes and think of them as highways of power that are the very arteries of our industry. Traveling over them is the energy that makes tanks and guns and planes.

The mechanization of warfare has brought about enormous demands for power to build the war machine. Today, in this country, we have five times the power that was available in the last war—it is the greatest power-devouring war in history. During the past year, this Company delivered 320 million horse-power hours to large industries.

As a horse can do the work of ten men, multiply that figure by ten to find the number of men hours that it represents. The power was available because experienced business management had provided wide margins of security in planning its facilities for public service in peace and in war.

SELF-REGULATION OF BEER INDUSTRY WINS U. S. GOV'T. PRAISE. OFFICIAL REPORT ON ARMY CAMPS BY OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION. In crediting 3.2 beer in army canteens as a prime cause of army good behavior, the government - through the O. W. I. - heaps high praise on the Brewing Industry Foundation as well. Following a coast-to-coast survey in army camps, the Office of War Information calls this "our best behaved army." In its recent report the comparison is drawn between the temperate army of 1942 and our troops of '18 who had moderate beer denied them - hence were prey to bootleggers and their ilk. Right in our own camps they say: "The army, with an eye on its own disciplinary problem, usually prefers we communities to dry communities." Because, the report continues, "bootleggers cannot be regulated. Legal dispensers can be regulated." That's down-to-earth truth. In this state the brewing industry is united to maintain good conditions where beer is sold. Action is promptly taken, in cooperation with law enforcement officials, where laws are violated. The government report continues: "Various state branches of the Brewing Industry Foundation - the beer manufacturers' enlightened trade organization - have taken the initiative. Through control of distributors, the Foundation has been able to clean up unsavory places. The... system works..." That's a tribute from your government! A mark this industry will work ceaselessly to deserve. In the interest of moderation. A complete copy of the full O. W. I. army camp report will be sent free upon request. red stamps of any series currently valid may be used for this purpose. During the week of April 4 to 10, for example, storekeepers may give their customers red one-point stamps marked "A" or "B" in charge. Customers are reminded in this connection that they may use stamps they receive in change by the end of the month in which they are issued and when they expire just as they must use those stamps in their own books.

As red stamps are declared valid, they may be used with complete freedom of choice by the housewife to buy one or any combination of the foods for which they must be surrendered. There is no distinction made in all in the use of the red stamps as between meat and cheese or any of the other foods for which these stamps will be spent.

Point values for the entire list of foods rationed in Floyd county will be the same as in every retail store in the country, just as they are for canned goods. Point prices of different cuts of meat will be different, just as the point prices of apricots and peas, for example, are different. However, there will be no difference in point price between different grades of the same cut of meat—nor between different grades of hard cheese, nor the same quantity of any kind of butter.

Many farmers—even those who operate on a very small scale—produce some of the foods included in the new ration program for the use of their families. If they are rationed out. Although the new plan places no official restrictions on the use of any of these foods at the farmer's own table, the government is requesting that farm families retain red stamps in their family ration books in an amount equal in point value to the foods produced and eaten at home.

A farmer who slaughters a pig he raised for the use of his family, for example, is asked to collect point stamps equal in point value to the number of points he would have to surrender if he bought the equivalent amount of pork products at the store. Similarly, if he makes butter for the use of his own family he is requested to keep in his book and not otherwise use the number of red stamps to buy the same amount of butter.

When a farmer sells any of these home-produced foods he must collect ration stamps from his customers—even if they are neighbors—on the basis of official point prices, and turn these stamps in to the Office of Price Administration. Farmers will be instructed later on just when and how to turn in these stamps.

Many retailers, doing business on a relatively small scale, find that their allowable inventories of coffee are too small to enable them to maintain adequate stocks to meet their customers' demands. To care for such cases, it has been decided to grant certain petitions made by retailers for increases over and above their allowable inventories. Petitions may be made on OPA Form No. R-315 to the Board with which the retailer is registered. The local boards are directed to act on petitions as set forth below.

draw the stick to strike him again, he said, he threw the stone. The 12-year-old widow of Johnson testified Aaron had come to her home at various times in the past and created disturbances, picking quarrels with the grandchild and the elderly couple kept with them. She told the court of her husband telling her of the fear he entertained that the boy would kill him and of others telling her of threats the youth had made against his grandfather.

The youthful slayer, a son of Quillen Newcome, of Halo, surrendered shortly after the killing to Constable Willie Johnson and Deputy Constable Elias Johnson, who brought him to jail here. His detention was a son of the late Bill Johnson, and had many relatives and friends in the left Beaver section. He had been a member of the Regular Baptist Church for years.

Surviving, besides his widow, are 10 sons and daughters; William Newcome, all of Halo. He also leaves one sister and three brothers: Mrs. Nancy Bryant, of Fed; Willard Johnson, of Halo; Stumbo Johnson, of Halo; and Bud Johnson, of Pike county.

Burial was made Monday in the family cemetery at Halo. Inventory of 1407.982 is less than 50 pounds, may apply to the local Board for an increase in his allowable inventory.

Upon the retailer's proving to the satisfaction of the Board that his present allowable inventory is too small to enable him to meet his customers' demands for coffee, the Board shall grant his petition. However, in no event shall the amount of increase be such as to result in an allowable inventory of more than 120 pounds of coffee.

In no instance may more than one request by the same retailer as described be granted by the local Board. If the Board approves the petition, it shall issue a certificate for coffee in weight value equal to the amount of increase granted, and record the increased allowable inventory and the certificate number on the retailer's OPA Form R-1203.

always after all. The atmosphere was blue for miles around for an hour thereafter.

A MATTER OF NAMES: Bob Francis writes Earl Ruby of The Courier-Journal sports department to point out that, since Hindman won the state basketball tournament, the town might well be called Hindman.

He might have also reminded a certain sports announcer that it's not Hindman. Incidentally, the state champions didn't like that "Green Mountain Boys" moniker the sports writers hung onto them. Sounded too much, perhaps, like "green" mountain boys. Anyway, they showed some city slickers how to play the game by note.
