What God Says about- THIRST

"Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again."

You can't quench thirst permanently with anything you can get this side of...

A man digs a well for fun and the water gushes pleasure and he tastes it and it is delicious; but pleasure satisfies only just so long. Another fellow digs for social business or political control, and he gets it and drinks deep, but watch him get thirsty again.

Here's a highbrow digging for knowledge and he gets so much of it that he has to build libraries in which to store it up like a great lake, but he is thirsty again in no time.

Ah, but look at this big fellow who scorns all such sordid digging because he says it's selfish, and forsooth devotes his life to philanthropy, and when he finds the world ungrateful, as not infrequently he does, he tries to mix with his philanthropic drink all the generous things he hears about his life and work — but the draught soon becomes sickly-sweet and he's thirsty.

And, mind you, most of these men are well-digging, ever and always at hard work, boring, stoning-up and tasting only to find the water flat and the thirst unquenched. Why not accept what God says, "He that drinketh of this water shall thirst again." There is nothing natural that can satisfy the thirst for the eternal.

What then? Bead what God says tomorrow, but if you can't wait, and you ought not—why, read John 4:14 now.

EVERY EXTRA CORD OF PULPWOOD BRINGS VICTORY NEARER

Right now one of the critical war-material shortages is pulpwood. And this shortage can be overcome. There is plenty of pulpwood to be cut. The woods are full of it. The only problem is to get it cut.

Cutting Pulpwood Is An Essential War Job

If you are in a position to get out some pulpwood—and every cord helps—you can contribute that much to an early victory and be well paid for your work. The nation looks to you for help! For information, ask your local pulpwood committee.

SAVAGELY WE SAY . . .

THE TIMES pleads guilty to a streak of savagery in its disgust with the namby-pambyness of Lord Lang, former archbishop of Canterbury, and those American clergymen who have joined him in expressing their opposition to the bombing of German cities.

Yet this newspaper has a high regard for the humanitarian ideals back of these protests against the blotting out of German cities by bombs. Our own remonstrances against these protests are based on such matters as military expediency and the sternness of the hell-on-earth that is war.

Berlin is the one city above all others now in process of being blotted out by Allied fires. Against that, these men of the cloth whose minds turn to the Commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," file their protest.

Certainly mass bombing violates the principles of the Christian religion. It is admitted, under this "deedly deed" from the skies innocent and guilty alike suffer. Women and children suffer, churches, revered shrines, works of art—all part of our civilization—are destroyed.

But do not these clergymen know that the end justifies the means? Or are the United Nations fighting without an ideal? Would these ministers, archbishops and other church dignitaries admit we are fighting a terrible war, sending young men to their death without an ideal?

Berlin—the place of that Dweller which is an Octopus whose tentacles reached out and sucked into its consuming power Holland, Belgium, Norway, Poland, France, whose grasping fingers hovered over the heart of England, sought foothold in America—why should it not be at the heart of the German war effort be destroyed?

Let us at least be realistic, since the matter of life and death in war is elemental realistic.

We are cutting away from the south at one Nazi tentacle. The Russians are wrapping around it the tentacle which extends into that great land. These and all other tentacles must be destroyed. The Octopus itself must be destroyed.

And those cities which feed the monster with the war materials on which it thrives must be destroyed.

Why should bombing stop? Why should any man who crushes the lives of American and British and Russian and French youngsters fighting to destroy the monster call at this time a halt on the use of the sky-weapon the Nazis themselves first introduced to destroy the weak and helpless along with the sturdy in arms? Would they have our fighting men invade the continent of Europe with the German output of material at its peak, German morale undiminished?

The Christ in whom these men devoutly believe once drove by the scourge the money-changers from the temple. Those against whom the fighters of the United Nations fight today are the marplot against civilization who denied the Christian religion, decreed Nazism for its success. Those against whom our "boys" fight on land, on sea and from the air, are the willing tools of the brain of the Octopus which sent the "blitz" over London, killing thousands of women and children, destroying churches, hospitals, disrupting English civilized life itself and sending men, women and children of the Christian faith to den like rats.

Let us have done with this "Stop-Bombing" trivia, just as we should be done with this "Peace Now" foolishness.

Savagely THE TIMES calls, "A little more grape, Captain Bragg; rack those bombs up in the other plane and in all the other planes—and take off till the enemies of all that is holy and merciful and good say, "Nuff' it!"

FOR THE CHILDREN

"We need 15 or 20 playgrounds in Ashland." Mayor Clyde E. Levi in an address before the Ashland Rotary Club.

Ashland, a city of around 30,000, needs 15 or 20 playgrounds, then a town the size of Prestonsburg surely needs at least one.

A municipal playground, well-equipped and properly supervised, should be adopted by some Prestonsburg civic group, or by the City Council itself, as a community enterprise this year.

Mayor Levi of Ashland contends that the playground movement, properly sponsored, would soon solve the juvenile delinquency problem. "When children have somewhere to play under the proper supervision you are going to see a great improvement in the development of the children of Ashland," he told Rotarians.

Ashland already has Central Park for a playground. Prestonsburg's children have the streets.

Ashland will have more playgrounds under Mayor Levi's leadership. What will Prestonsburg's children have?

Prestonsburg's children play—and children will claim that privilege wherever they are. That is why lawns of Prestonsburg homes are filled with youngsters to the unrest of the aged, the nervous and the ill, sometimes to the damage of private property. That is why certain streets are filled daily with youngsters, despite the danger to them of being run down by passing motor traffic.

Prestonsburg is liberally subscribing this week to the Boy Scout cause which is internationally recognized as one of the great builders of boys. The community would be as liberal toward establishing playgrounds for Scouts and non-Scouts alike.

Our children need to learn, under kindly supervision, the art of playing together. It may mean much for them later in the business of living together as neighbors and good Americans.

Prestonsburg's children are being made street gamins, simply because they have no place to play except in the streets.

Mayor Levi told his Ashland audience SGs will outfit a good playground. He had several playgrounds in mind. Let us say one big playground here could be equipped for several times that amount.

Will some group sponsor this movement, including in its plans the salary of a supervisor? THE TIMES will start the matter off with a liberal contribution.

ALLEN

Former Miner Succumbs At Martin Hospital To Heart Disease

Denver Skaggs, 36 years old, of Garretts, died Monday at the Martin General hospital victim of heart disease. Until ill health forced his retirement he was an employee of the Elk Horn Coal Corporation at Wayland.

He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Skaggs, and was a native of Morgan county. Mr. Skaggs had resided in this county for several years. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Grace Skaggs, three daughters and four sons: Edna, Lillian, Alma, Willie Ray, Mentie and Marvin, all at home.

Funeral rites were conducted from the home Tuesday by the Rev. Ed Howard. Burial was made in the Tom Martin cemetery under direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

Burke Passes Tests For Pilot Training

CADET WINSTON LAYNE BURKE

"Winkle," as he is popularly known here, volunteered for the air corps during his senior year of high school and was sworn into service two months before his 18th birthday. Two months past 18, he was sent to Keesler Field, Mississippi for his basic training. He was then sent to Canisius College, Buffalo, N.Y. for college and pre-flight training. He made better than a passing grade in every subject of his college work, and his class, the twentieth that had been trained at Canisius, set two records for the school—one the highest in physical fitness rating and the other the highest flying average for the school. His class was sent to Nashville, Tenn., for classification and after taking all physical, mental and flying tests, "Winkle" passed them all and received a pilot's rating. He will be sent to an air base for seven months' training in flying army planes.

Fifty Women Here Work at Dressings

Buddy Bag Recipients Write Their Thanks

Two more "Buddy Bags" sent from this county to members of the armed forces have found their way into the hands of grateful recipients. The bags, both sent through the Red Cross by Mrs. Lida Cottrell, of Prestonsburg, were received by Cpl. Harry Francis and Mariano S. Saubel, both of whom are in the Red Cross by the same army postoffice, New York City. Both boys wrote Mrs. Cottrell in an attempt to express their thanks for the items. "I still remember you in my prayers," one wrote.

Requests for "Buddy Bags" to fill should be sent to Mrs. Everett H. Sowards, Prestonsburg county chairman, or cash contributions to pay for the items which go into the bags may be sent to her, and they will be filled and shipped by the Red Cross.

Blood Plasma Fund Now Above $4,000, Yet Not Enough

Floyd county's blood plasma fund had risen this week to a point barely beyond the $4,000 mark, yet still was $1,000 or more short of its goal. Mrs. Winnie F. Johns, chairman of the blood plasma committee, and Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, said Wednesday.

Goal in the drive for funds is $5 for every member of the armed forces from this county. Weeks ago, the number of service men from Floyd was estimated to be 5,000, and others are being induced monthly. The need for blood plasma is being particularly stressed at this time as the casualties mount with bitter fighting on all fronts.

Only two of 10 mine locals asked for assistance have actually contributed to the fund, but others are expected to add to the blood plasma cause within the next few days. The local at Wheelright first reported with $1,150. The local at Hi-Hat contributed $250 and the coal company there added to this $100.

Pilots, turret gunners and the like aren't the only combat veterans sent to the Army Air Forces Redistribution Station No. 2, Miami Beach, Fla., for reassignment. The cook and the baker are there, too, and if the army had any use for candlestick makers the chances are one of them would show up before long.

Welder, mess officer, crash truck driver, cook, baker, armorer, mechanic and supply sergeant are among the specialists included in the most recent group of returnees from overseas posts. Redistribution Station officials announced.

Among these are: Staff Sergeant Salem F. Gayheart, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gayheart, of Northern, with more than two and a half years of service in the Caribbean as a welder.

Staff Sgt. John R. Day, 21, of Whitesburg, Ky., who flew 45 combat missions as a B-24 gunner credited with shooting down one enemy aircraft in the southwest Pacific.

Cottrell Is Selected For Place in Volume For Heroism in War

Pvt. Frederick E. Cottrell, who was wounded in Sicily and cited for heroism under fire, has been selected for inclusion in "The Heroes of World War II," a volume dedicated to recognition of America's fighting men for meritorious service and bravery in action. Gabriel C. Tauber, managing editor of the World War Publishing Company, Washington, D.C., recently wrote Pvt. Cottrell's mother, Mrs. Joe Hobson, of Prestonsburg.

Mr. Tauber asked that Mrs. Hobson forward to the publishing company immediately a biography of her son. "Purpose of this undertaking," Mr. Tauber explained, "is to provide an authentic and permanent source of information and reference which will satisfy the great interest in the peacetime pursuits and the military accomplishments of the men of our armed forces."

Sturgill Is Victim Of Long Illness

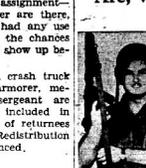

Luther Sturgill, 53 years old, of Auxier, died Feb. 11 at his home following an illness of more than two years. He had been an employee of the North-East Coal Company for nearly 30 years, until ill health caused his retirement.

His widow, the former Norma Robinson, survives with seven children, two of whom are in the armed services.

Funeral rites were held at the Auxier church with the Revs. Wm. Horn and Don Fraley officiating, and burial was made in the Tison cemetery near Sika.

Pfc. Gearheart has been transferred to an army air force station for active service.

BURCHETT HOWARD

Two Prestonsburg "Sen. Jones" former classmates in school here, recently in Pearl Harbor, immediately recognized each other and had the picture shown here taken. They are Julius F. Burchett, son of C. O. Burchett, now of San Francisco, Calif., and Joe Alex Howard, son of S. B. Howard, formerly of Prestonsburg, now of Banner.

Pfc. Everett Tackett

Pfc. Everett Tackett, of the marines, writes his wife, Mrs. Emogene Prater Tackett: "I am writing from the Marshall Islands. We had it tough for the first 25 hours after landing, but we soon showed those Japs how to fight. They lost 48 men to every marine we lost. Everything is well in hand and I wasn't wounded at all." Pfc. Tackett enlisted in 1942, after graduating from Martin high school, and has been overseas only two months.

Cpl. Willie Wright

Cpl. Willie Wright, son of Mrs. Octo Wright of Risher, has been in the army 18 months and now is in Alaska service.

Lieut. Tavis Little

Lieut. Tavis Little, son of Mrs. J. H. Hall, of Melvin, is now a student officer at the Bainbridge army air field, where he is receiving basic pilot training. Lieut. Little is a graduate of Wheelright high school. He enlisted in the infantry in October, 1939, and served a year in Alaska. He was commissioned in 1942 and entered the air force several months ago.

Pvt. Edward Arnold Cooley

Pvt. Edward Arnold Cooley is now stationed at Camp Mackall, N. C., with his brother, 1st Sgt. Dave Cooley. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cooley, of Wayland.

THE GARDEN

By JOHN S. GARDNER
Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics

To produce heavy yields of top-quality vegetables, the garden's soil must be fertile. But, being fertile in the sense that there is plenty of plant food is not enough; there must be present, too, that "conditioner," humus, to make soil handling easier, to absorb and hold moisture, and in fact to transmute fertility into plant food.

This story tells of its aim: that of most weeks has for its aim the unravelling of the mystery of fertilizing the garden.

The most obvious source of humus is stable manure—its substance and that in the bedding rotting to make that valuable "soil amendment." But, fortunate is the gardener who can find manure!

Another is rotted straw, as where a straw stack has stood, but there is few. Another is "woods dirt," leaf mold scraped from under forest trees, everywhere. Another, would be piled lawn trimmings and garden debris, and shade-tree leaves, if the gardener were provident enough to save them. Still another, an ideal source, would be a winter cover of grain and vetch, but too few gardens are so covered last fall.

There is still another humus source, and not too difficult to find on at least part of the garden, the winter-killed weeds and crabgrass. But these so many gardeners burn off preparatory to breaking, despite the fact that, poor as this matter is, it is humus in a covered last fall.

So, as it's there, and as burning it off does not accomplish the destruction of seed, long since fallen, why not burn it under?

The point is that 1944's gardens must perform well if they are to be worthy of the name "Victory" and humus, any kind of humus, they must have.

WAC's Are Given Choice Of Stations Till April 15th

Women enlisting in the WAC before April 15 may choose their individual station and job assignment in the WAC detachments of the army ground forces, service commands and service forces as well as the army air forces. Lieut. Sarah L. Pastovsky, recruiting officer for this district, announced last week.

Known as "station and job assignment plan," it permits each WAC recruit to be assigned to the station of her choice after receiving basic training, within the geographical limits of the service command in which she enlists, unless prevented by military exigencies in the field.

The recruiting officer also announced that 17-year-old males are eligible to take the new K test which enables men to qualify as those who pass the test.

THE WEEK IN OPA

(Facts you should know about Rationing and Price Control)

Pork Points
Spare stamp No. 3 in Ration Book 4 has been made valid for use Feb. 17-25 for five points in the purchase of fresh pork, ham, bacon all types of sausage and canned meats that are 100 per cent pork. It is not valid for the purchase of lard.

One-Point Stamps for Change
In the first three weeks of the new ration stamp program (Feb. 27 to March 20), unused one-point green stamps and one-point brown stamps, as well as red and blue tokens, will be used for making ration change. The green stamps and blue tokens will be used as change for valid green or blue stamps. Brown stamps and red tokens will be point-change for valid brown or red stamps.

Shoe Rumors Denied
OPA has denied both rumors that current shoe stamps are about to be invalidated and that only one more shoe stamp will be valid this year. Although it is too early to say definitely how many pairs of shoes will be available for civilians this year, present indications are that a new stamp will be validated every six months.

Should it become necessary to invalidate any outstanding shoe stamp, the public will be notified 30 days in advance.

Special stamps issued for the purchase of safety shoes are not valid for the purchase of any other type shoe. If other than safety shoes are purchased with a special safety shoe stamp, both the merchant and the purchaser are violators. Twenty-five violations are now being investigated in the Louisville district.

Take Care of Ration Books
Guard especially Book 4. It is designed to last you two years if rationing continues. Don't destroy Book 3 when brown stamps are spent. Airplane stamp No. 1 in this book is the currently valid shoe stamp.

For Your Protection
Rationing rules now require that you write your vehicle license number and state on the face of all your gasoline coupons as well as they are used. Coupons are not good without this endorsement.

Grain Prices
Maximum prices of oats, barley and grain sorghums have been fixed at the levels set by the temporary "freeze" order which was in effect Dec. 6, 1943, to Feb. 4, 1944. The freeze was based on the highest prices in effect in major markets Nov. 29 to Dec. 3, 1943.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT. Plaintiff Anna Howard vs. NOTICE OF SALE. Jack Howard, Adm. Etc. Defendant. By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered and entered at the January term, 1944, in the above-captioned cause, I shall proceed to sell for sale at the courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Ky., to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 28th day of February, 1944, at 10 o'clock, p. m., some time the first day of the regular term of the Floyd County Court upon a credit of six months the following described property, to-wit:

TRACT NO. 1. A one-half interest in Tract 1, lying and being in Floyd county Ky., at Haysville, beginning at a stake on the corner of Brack Howard's line, running along with Brack Howard's line, then with his house to the center of Right Beaver Creek; thence down the creek to opposite a willow tree on the bank; thence a straight line across the county road to the center of B. Allen's yard; thence with B. Allen's line to the beginning.

TRACT NO. 2. Beginning at the county road and Brack Howard's line on the old shop house location, running with the old county road south opposite a large post where foot-bridge crosses Right Beaver (now torn out); thence with said post a straight line west to the creek; thence with the creek to the center of W. Allen's yard; thence with B. Allen's line to the beginning.

TRACT NO. 3. Beginning on a post, corner of Frank Cooley's lot, thence with Cooley's line to Minto Allen's line; thence with Minto Allen's line across back of lot to Jim Allen's line; thence with Jim Allen's line to Geo. Gearheart's line; thence with Cora Gearheart's line to a post at edge of county road; thence down county road with W. Allen's line five feet; thence a straight line to center of Beaver Creek to line of Walter Owens; thence with line of Walter Owens between said Owens and feed house to corner of Frank Cooley at the beginning, containing 1/2 acre, more or less.

It tracks Nos. 1 and 2 do not bring in sufficient amount to satisfy the mortgage debt of the Bank Josephine, Interest and costs, the claim of G. D. Ryan, and the costs of this action then amount to pay said debts and costs will be sold.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 7th day of February, 1944. J. B. CLARKE, Master Commissioner.

HONEST INJUN!

Your electric bill may be more but electricity costs you less! That's what the professors call a "paradox"—it sounds screwy but it's true. If we say simply that the price you pay for electricity today is just what it was fifteen years ago, you don't believe us. You figure that we're wrong because your electric bills are about the same now as they were then—or even a bit bigger. How can electricity be cheaper? Like most folks, you forget all the electric appliances you added over those years. You were building up your use of electricity while our rates were coming down. And even though the present price is a lot lower, you're using a lot more electricity. That's the way it is. HONEST INJUN! Today, the average American family gets about twice as much electricity as its money as it did fifteen years ago.
