PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY
JULY 13, 1944

This Town--
That World

EH, WOT?
Walt Hale says his fellow-townsmen, Willie Crum, of West Preston, conspired with him against the Fowler (haven't heard of the guy lately, have you?) Drawled Walt: "The article was a bit of a mess. I got some 5-cent pieces and melted 'em down to a silver bullet. That's what they used to shoot witches with. You know, a bit of silver bullet plumb piece, Willie did; he soaked it in sweet milk overnight."

WHITTLE WHILE HE WORKS
Jenny Wren and her hubby, Jimmy, have gone to housekeeping for the time being, at least in a cardboard box on our back porch. And there have been a couple of blessed events in the family, as far as I can see down into the nest. I'm no naturalist but I do get a kick out of watching Jimmy help Jenny with the young-uns—which is more than many no-count Floyd county men do. And the way that father bird whistles while he works—that's more than any of us cheerful humans can do, these hot days.

LOVAL
When B. F. Reed, of the new Middle Creek mining operation, recently commented on the name of his company, "The Floyd-Birkhorn," he spoke what we folks in this section would call a parable. Said he: "I consider that a good name—a great county and a good coal combined. If I didn't think so, I should get out of the business and leave the county."

GLAD HANDS—EMPTY OF JOBS
An ex-serviceman with a splendid record overseas makes a bitter statement against Prestonsburg business firms and their tragic failure to provide honest employment for men like him. His statement, which follows, poses a big problem to us of the so-called Home Front.

"I want the people to know how much I appreciate their loyalty to a soldier after he has returned home from active service against the enemy.
"After long months as an aerial gunner against the Japs, during which time I was wounded, I was given a discharge—honorable. Naturally, I wanted to get home—to be home of every service man.
"Well, I got home. The folks gave me the glad hand. I appreciate their friendliness.
"But when it comes to a job—there's a difference. What a difference! I have applied for jobs with several gas companies and practically every firm in Prestonsburg. No job.
"The boys already employed have the jobs filled—and the jobs filled while I was doing a master job overseas.
"I don't want to knock any man out of work to make room for me, but I cannot but wonder what's to be done with the millions of others who will be home, some day. Shall they be glad-handed and starved to death?
"I am now going out of town, looking for work. Maybe I'll find it here."

FLOYD TOPS BOND GOAL, $95,885.25

Believed Shy of Quota, Total Figures Show Almost Million

Topping his quota of $370,000 in the Fifth War Loan drive, Floyd Bond sales through July 12 reached to almost a million dollars. Last minute figures, released today by County Judge Edw. P. Hill, Jr., county chairman of the drive, showed that four days previous to the termination of the campaign, total sales had reached $95,885.25, a margin of $58,885.25 over its set mark.

Floyd county is believed to have reached its $370,000 quota in the Fifth War Loan drive which ended Saturday, but its actual standing will not be known for several days yet when the Federal Reserve Bank, Cleveland, O., completes final sales returns.

The Reserve Bank at Cleveland reported Saturday, last day of the drive, that it had received from the county with Bond purchases totaling $457,315.25. Although this figure is better than $370,000 shy of the quota, $250,000 in purchases is known not to have reached the bank in time for that report and numerous other small purchases are expected to be reported. County Judge E. P. Hill, drive chairman, said. In addition to this $250,000, $20,000 worth of Bonds purchased by Buell Spurlock, West Prestonsburg merchant, had not been credited to Floyd county.

$139 PER MAN

Probably the heaviest group purchases, per man, of Bonds during the drive were made by the 24 employees of the Sizemore Mining Company at McDowell. They bought a total of $3,336 Bonds for an average of $139 per employe, and to this the company added $5,000 worth.

TEACHER PAY HERE, CERTAIN

Though Some Counties May Delay Payment Under New Budget

Floyd county teacher salaries will not be delayed by the new budget provisions. It was the opinion of County Superintendent Town Hall Wednesday. If necessary, teacher funds will be financed through local banks, he said.

Frankfort, Ky., July 11—Despite passage of the recent special session of the Legislature at the largest school appropriation in Kentucky's history, Finance Commissioner Clarence Miller said today it appeared that payment of teacher salaries probably would have to be deferred in many counties during the first or second quarter of the fiscal year. Miller said certain provisions of the new budget act containing the special session's school appropriations require pay-as-you-go spending, but earmarked most of the treasury surplus for purposes other than schools.

Watkins' Widow Names Relatives of Slayer In Robbery Warrant

Mrs. Nellie Watkins, of Brainard, widow of Walter Watkins, who was killed a few years ago in an altercation with members of the Barnett family, swore out warrants, a few days ago, charging twin brothers, Boyd and Walter Barnett, relatives of her husband's slayer, with robbery.

DRAFT BOARD NOTIFIES 39

For Pre-Induction Tests At Huntington, W. Va.; New Quota Is Given

Its July induction quota of four men filed Tuesday with the department of three selectees and with one of the quartet already in service after having waited the post-examination waiting period. Draft Board #4 here this week released Call No. 52-A for 39 selectees to take pre-induction examination at Huntington, W. Va. as previously named P. DeHarrison, Ind., as the induction center for this area, but this order has been cancelled.

JERRY HAGER IS VICTIM

SOUTHERN BELL Has Not Profited BY THE WAR

Financially the telephone company has not profited by the war. The rate of return on the amount of money invested in telephone plant in Kentucky is, with the exception of one year, the lowest in the past seventeen years, and is still declining.

While the prices of practically everything, including the costs of furnishing telephones, have gone up, telephone rates have not increased—on the contrary long distance telephone rates have been reduced, resulting in large savings to telephone users in Kentucky during the past three years.

The schedule of pay of telephone workers is the highest it has ever been. At the same time taxes have increased tremendously. Since our entry into the war in December, 1941, the telephone company has paid out more than $4,500,000 for federal, state, county and municipal taxes in Kentucky.

Though the telephone company is doing the largest volume of business in its history it is making less than 3 1/2% on its investment in Kentucky.

Improvements Noted At Floyd-Co. Mines In Re-Inspection

Recent federal inspections of eight Kentucky coal mines in Floyd, Bell and Harlan counties have revealed a number of improvements, but also have shown the need for further betterments. Dr. R. R. Sayers, director of the Bureau of Mines, has informed (Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Urey).
Dr. Sayers said that improvements in the eight mines resulted from the adoption of safety recommendations of the federal inspectors and the institution of improvements on the companies' initiative.

Summaries of the re-inspection report on the Floyd coal operations: Woodbury mine, Koppers, Coal District 1, Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates, Woodbury, 255 employees, average daily production, 1,500 tons. Re-inspected by Max J. Caylor. Improvements since the previous federal inspection of September, 1942, include guarding of machinery and other facilities, cleaning surface tracks, better fire protection, warning signs for unloading cars, discontinuing the use of booster fans underground, and installing of fans on the surface, improving electric lighting, safer electrical installations, and using permissible trip lights. Recommendations prescribed at that time, including: better timbering, additional improvements in storage and handling explosives, better control of fire and gas, better handling of sulfur, and such other improvements as may properly come before said meeting.

Development of the Kentucky Kentucky, this 13th day of July, 1944.

THE WEEK IN OPA

Tubes and Tires
All new tubes—automobile, truck, tractor and implement—are now removed from rationing. Present inventories and production are adequate to meet the demand which has been about a million and a half per month for the last two months. OPA announces:
It is no longer necessary to apply for the local War Price and Rationing Board when a new tube is needed. A good tube properly inflated prolongs the life of a tire and motorists are that tires will continue to be rationed for several months.

High-grade re-capping material is now available and motorists can get good service from their present tires if re-capped in time. The July quota of tires is 450,000 higher than June, but there is no hoarding before early in 1945, according to OPA.

Used Car Prices
Used car ceiling prices went into effect July 10. Before a car is bought or sold, the ceiling price should be determined by going to the local rationing board.

A transfer certificate must be executed by both buyer and seller and the certificate must be filed with the local board when application for gasoline is made.

Alfalfa Hay
Maximum prices on alfalfa hay, effective July 3 through Oct. 31, have been announced by the OPA.

Producers may receive 42¢ a ton for upgraded alfalfa hay according to the new regulation. An additional $3 a ton may be added to the price if the hay is baled by the single-compound method.

When sales are made through a dealer, $4 a ton may be added to the original price.

Certain premiums may be added to the price if each lot of hay is accompanied by an official grading certificate.

Ceiling prices on alfalfa hay were fixed to curb rising prices and to prevent resultant price rises of livestock, OPA said.

Cost of Rationing and Price Control
Congress has voted to extend the Price Control Act another year. Here are some interesting figures on the cost of OPA during the last fiscal year. Extending price control and rent cost the American people an average of $132 each. Rationing cost 41 cents per person, and price control, 28¢. Rent control cost 10¢ per person, or 11¢ per person. The cost of keeping the public informed on all price, rationing and rent regulations was $2.50 per capita. Local War Price and Rationing Boards were allotted the remaining 50¢ per person. If sugar had advanced 2¢ per pound in the past year, it would have cost the American people more money than it cost to administer the entire rationing and price control program.

RATIONING AT A GLANCE
Processed Foods
Red stamps A8 through 28 and A5 for War Ration Book Four now good for 10 points each indefinitely.

Meats and Poultry
Red Stamps A8 through 28 in Book Four good for 10 points each indefinitely.

Sugar
Stamps 30, 31 and 32 in Book Four good for 5 pounds each indefinitely. Stamp 40 in Book Four good for 5 pounds of sugar through heating year, Feb. 28, 1945. Also application may be made to local board for additional allotment upon presentation of square stamp 31.

Gasoline
Stamps A-12 good for 3 gallons through Sept. 21. B-3, C-4, B-4 and C-4 stamps good for 3 gallons until used. "T" coupons 522-D expired June 30. Replaced by coupons 522-E good until Sept. 30. State and license numbers must be written on face of each coupon immediately upon receipt of book.

Tires
Inspections are not compulsory unless applying for new tires. Motorists must keep old inspection record. Commercial vehicle inspectors due every six months or 5,000 miles, whichever is first.

Tubes
All new tubes for passenger car, truck, tractor, implement—are now removed from rationing. Persons needing new tubes need not make application at the local rationing board.

Fuel Oil
Coupons for period 5 and 5 for the 1944 series good now and through Sept. 30, 1944, when the heating year will end. Unit value, 10 gallons. Change-making and reserve coupons good through heating year. Coupons for period 1 of the 1944-45 series become valid June 1, 1944.

Price Information
Information concerning ceiling prices may be obtained from the price clerk of your local War Price and Rationing Board.

A GOOD WORD

By the REV. W. B. GARRIOTT,
Pastor, Prestonsburg Methodist Church

It may be that you are a father, that you want your wife in the very door of death in travail for your children, and now that they are here, you have been letting them live in the home without a word or an influence from you to help them to God or to a better life.

In one of our larger cities there lived a man who had an only son and he was the pride of his father's heart. He was a good father, so to speak, and kind to his family, but indifferent to God. One day his wife said to him, "Ralph, I very much fear that Junior is going wrong and every time I speak to him about Christ or the church, he points and you. I wish so much that he might have your influence to help him in this matter."

"Oh," said the father, "he will come out all right; if he becomes no worse than myself you need not become concerned. I have not needed the church to make me what I am."

This is one place so many fathers make their mistake; for they seem to think because they have not gone astray and have been without the church the child will do the same. This young man followed his father's example in so far as respects and in others he did not. He was just as indifferent to the church and to Christ as his father was, but he was not as careless about his living.

One day he was brought home from an accident and the father knew that he must die and with his heart breaking with sorrow he said, "My son, is there anything I can do for you? Make any request and your father will do it for you."

Looking up into his father's face the stricken youth said, "Father, I am not a Christian and I am dying. Won't you pray for me?"

Turning away from the bedside, he walked to the window, but his trembling lips till the blood came. A few days later when he came back from the cemetery he said, "Oh, I would give anything in all this world if I only had my boy back again and could offer the prayer he asked in his last hour."

Listen—you have been a stumbling block in the way of your children. You never told them to do good, to thank God, to love Him, to love their neighbor as themselves, to love you, never told them to be diligent with Christ and the God they love. You have been robbing them, as well as the God of the things that you owe to them and one to God above everything else, and though it may sound harsh, God knows that it is true. He knows that you have not loved but if you have decreed not to yield yourself to Christ, it might have been better for your children, so far as the life to come is concerned, if you had been taken away from them before they came to know the meaning of your life and the disposition of your heart.

I feel sorry for the boy who has a godless mother, for he can never know the blessing and strength that he can feel in the support of a praying mother. Let me plead with you if you have a good Christian mother: How much longer must mother weep her heart out in agony, praying for you? Some years ago in the southland the father came home one day and found his wife in bed, ill because of a dejected condition of his two sons. The father came into the house, went into another room and came out with a high-powered rifle and handed it to one of the sons and said: "Here take this in there and shoot your mother."

The young man looked up in astonishment and surprise and said, "Father, what do you mean? Are you a fool to think I would take the life of my mother?"

The father replied, "You had just as well do that and get her out of her suffering, for you are killing her by the kind of life you are living, and it is by degrees."

Have you no regard for your mother who brought you into this world and who has cared for you and suffered and continues to worry and suffer about you? Death would have been much easier and such a relief, but she is living in the thousand deaths because of your waywardness. Is there anything any one can do to call you to a better life? The person who walks over the body of a good mother and continually breaks her heart until you can almost hear the blood drip as his heel grinds her heart—I wonder, if there is any hope!

Leslie, Checker Champ At Fort Sam Houston, Ties National Tiltist

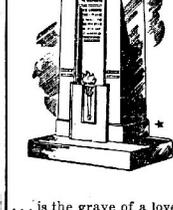

After gaining a tie with the national checker champion, Mildred Hopper, of Brooklyn, N. Y., Pvt. David B. Leslie, of Emma, former Floyd county teacher and athlete, remains undefeated at checkers at Brooke General Hospital, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

The Brooke Bluebonnet Broadcast in its June 21 edition told of Pvt. Leslie taking on all comers, playing as many contestants simultaneously as there were boards available. On one occasion he played 28 games at one time, winning them all.

A teacher of materia medica, nursing, mathematics and physiology at the hospital, Pvt. Leslie may be given a furlough for the national checker tournament.

Although the acknowledged champion of his army post, he was not always so successful at checkers when his brother, Gerald Leslie, Prestonsburg high school mathematics teacher, was his opponent.

HENS AS BIG AS HOGS?

THE Government has estimated the 1943 cash income from Hogs at $2,953,311,000 and from Poultry and Eggs at $2,213,642,000. In other words, the farmers of this country received almost as great a proportion of their income from poultry and eggs as they did from pigs. Truly from an income producing standpoint, hens are mighty neat as big as hogs in the U. S. A.

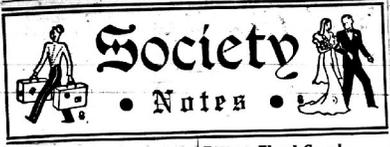

These poultry figures may surprise you as they did us. Electricity made a substantial contribution to this achievement by lengthening the hens' egg production "day" with electric lights in the hen houses, by electric incubator and brooder reduction in chick mortality and production of healthier chicks and by the other electric aids to the modern poultryman. It's a real contribution in these days of help shortage and the need for food conservation.

Six Floyd youths have been reported wounded in action.

Pfc. Everett Tackett, 21, in a let-ter to his wife Mrs. Emogene Tack-ett, Allen, written aboard a hospital ship and dated June 26, told of re-ceiving a back wound from shrapnel in the Marshall Islands, presumably on Saipan with the Marines. He said he was wounded at 5:30 p.m., June 18, a son of Sumpter Tackett, & O. brokenman, Martin, and Mrs. Pannie Smallwood, Bypro, he graduated from Martin high school and prior to entering the service Oct. 29, 1942, he was employed at a fill-ing station in Martin. He has a brother, Sumpter Tackett, Jr., in the merchant marine service.

T. Noble Frady, 29, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Frady, Wayland, has been wounded in Italy, accord-ing to information received by his parents. He received the Purple Heart, and is back in this country after 23 months in Africa and Italy with the first tank destroyer bat-talion to enter North Africa.

Fidius in a half-track, Corporal Frady was among the first in his organization to hit the beach at Oran and among the first American soldiers to capture an airfield near the town. He narrowly escaped death one night when he was sleep-ing in a foxhole and a jeep rolled into the hole and stopped with one of its wheels on his neck. He also was wounded when enemy planes during his 27 months in service he spent 25 months in the Pacific.

Mrs. Hazel Amburgey received a notice from the War Dept. stating that her son, Pfc. Conley Kidd, who was with the Fifth Army in Italy, is missing in action. Before entering the service, Kidd was employed at Flat Rock, Michigan.

Sgt. William H. Hopper, 25, son of Jess Hopper, Tompost, formerly of Ecorse, has been missing in action in the service. Kidd was over seas with an armored division since September, 1942 and has participated in three major battles. He re-ceived the Silver Star for gallantry in action in Italy. Sgt. Hopper en-tered the army in December, 1941.

Floyd county boys held by Ger-many as prisoners of war whose names were recently announced are: S. Sgt. Bill Conn, son of Melvin Conn, Prater, and Pvt. Hilbert Mullins, son of Mrs. Marnie Mullins, Bestville.

Mr. Everett Tackett, 21, in a let-ter to his wife Mrs. Emogene Tack-ett, Allen, written aboard a hospital ship and dated June 26, told of re-ceiving a back wound from shrapnel in the Marshall Islands, presumably on Saipan with the Marines. bombed and strafed his organiza-tion near Tunisia.

Pvt. Alex Bradley, of Dock, son of Mrs. Fatty Bradley and the late Fairish Bradley, is in a hospital in England as the result of a bullet wound received in the D-Day inva-sion of France. He is recovering and looking forward to returning to action soon.

Also back in England recovering from wounds in action for the second time, Pfc. James B. Daniels, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Daniels, Lacey, was previously wounded in North Africa. He was awarded the Purple Heart for the first wound. While attending Garrett high school, he was on the basketball team in 1940. He entered the army Nov. 10, 1942, and is with the infantry. His brother, Everett, is in the navy and has three trips overseas to his cred-it.

Although he will not reach the draft age of 18 until September, Pvt. John Keel Buckley, son of Mrs. Irene Anderson, Dock, who already spent six months service with the army infantry, was slightly wounded in action somewhere in Italy, June 4. His mother received the notice from the War Dept. stating that he was wounded in Italy.

Pvt. Hargrath Harrison, according to "eleventh-hour" information reaching here a few minutes before press time, has been seriously wounded in India. He volunteered for the armed services some time ago. Through no fault of ours infor-mation is lacking.

ror. What a misplaced letter will, or won't, do!

When, on the death of President McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt suc-ceeded to the high office, a New York editor desired to contrast the event with a recent event in Europe. But the compositor, coming to the word "cash" in the manuscript, struck a wrong key and the sentence appear-ed: "For sheer democratic dignity, nothing could exceed the moment when, surrounded by the Cabinet, Mr. Roosevelt took his simple bath as President of the United States."

Typsetters also omit letters. A Des Moines newspaper once reported of Mr. Witter Bynner, the poet, that he had been "the pot of the evening." Mr. Bynner took it gra-ciously, remarking: "They probably thought it was a recital of chamber music."

Then there is the almost classical story about Bret Harte when he was a very young editor. He wrote the obituary notice of a most respectable lady, closing with: "above all ladies of this town, she was distinguished for her charity."

This came back from the pres-sroom: "distinguished for her char-ity." Instead of making the correc-tion, he merely put a mark of query on the margin of the proof, with this result: "Mrs. McGilligan, above all ladies of this town, she was distinguished for her chastity (?)."

Certain words are a standing peril to typesetters. A collision between a train and a cow, reported in a news-paper, ended with the remark that the engineer "putting on all steam, dashed up against the cow and lit-erally cut her into calves." An un-fortunate impression was given when a newspaper, reporting wedding with a double quartet of bridesmaids, said: "The bride was accompanied to the altar by eight bridesmaids." The word window has harassed the editors of all English-speaking countries, but it was never-theless astonishing to find "Hous & Garden" remarking casually: "Nothing gives a greater variety to the appearance of a house than a few undraped widows."

money, will be available for budget payments, but will be far from suffi-cient to supplement revenue to meet the increased school appropriations, VanHoose said.

Miller said that deferred pay-ments public could be made in one or two months, or soon after beginning of the third quarter.

"Some counties—but they are few—may be able to meet payments as they become due out of local funds," Miller said. "Others might be able to finance payments through banks without interest. But it looks like payments will be delayed in most instances."

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Holliday, of Winchester, arrived Sunday to be guests here for a week of their daughter, Mrs. J. D. Harkins, Jr., and Mr. Harkins.

IN HUNTINGTON—Mrs. B. F. Combs and Mrs. Leroy Combs were in Huntington Thurs-day and Friday of last week.

WOW IS, OR ARE, US! Wkwkwkwkwkw! We were ex-pecting it. And—we got it.

Charitably, the Reverend Gar-riott did not keep coals on a some-what barren head. But the follow-ing, which he will surely appreciate, came from an Elliott Bible class teacher at Martin:

"Shame on you, 'Did not print 'A Good Word' by Rev. Garrriott be-cause of space limitations.' God should come first, not last, or when we have enough space. Will you please note and question (This was the part we had been dreading—Editor) the notice printed just be-fore WOW, what a follow up!

Please give Rev. Garrriott more time and space, as we feel the world needs more of it. We discussed the greatness of the story in our Sunday School class yesterday and all ladies of this town, she was distinguished for her charity."

paper and we love you as God wants us to love all our brothers."

We appreciate the interest of the reader. We'll do our best, we promise. We'll do special plans to see that no such thing happens again to the minister's column—and, in the meantime, will probably let some-thing else happen that will bring the "sweats" back on us again.

HERE FROM LEXINGTON Mrs. Elizabeth Rumpfrey and lit-tle granddaughter, Patricia Ann Rule, of Lexington, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Brown here this week.

Attention! All Home Canners! Before you begin your 1944 canning, Good Housekeeping Maga-zine advises you: use the boiling-water bath method for tomatoes and fruits only. Can all vegeta-bles except tomatoes by the correct use of a pressure cooker—but don't can low-acid vegetables. In the last few years, cases of botulism food poisoning have cropped up in widely different parts of the country. Buy, bor-row, share a pressure cooker—but be sure of killing botulism germs. In any other way. If you want fur-ther information, write Good Housekeeping Magazine, 935 8th Avenue, New York 19, N. Y.
