PONTIAC

A FINE CAR MADE EVEN FINER!

GM Hydra-Matic Drive optional on all models!

Today, Pontiac announces a series of notable advancements in the car that has already won the wholehearted endorsement of more than a million owners and friends.

Foremost among these advancements is the new offered as optional equipment on all Pontiac cars. Pontiac is the lowest-priced car in the world to provide this great mechanical masterpiece—which shifts gears automatically, and completely eliminates the clutch pedal. Coupled with this great engineering triumph is a striking improvement in beauty and luxury. New exterior surfaces extend from a smart design adapted from quarter-sawn mahogany—and an adroit use of chrome.

Engine and chassis have been refined wherever possible—but they remain, basically, the same engineering masterpieces which have become synonymous in the automotive industry with goodness and dependability.

There are many more things we could tell you about the new Pontiac, for there are countless improvements which add to its traditional quality and value. But we feel that, for those who know Pontiac, we need only say—

—here is, by far, the most beautiful Pontiac ever built.
—here is the most luxurious Pontiac ever built.
—here is the most dependable Pontiac ever built.
—and it is now available with GM Hydra-Matic Drive—optional at additional cost.

We wish only to add that it is here—on display in our showroom—and that you are most cordially invited to see and inspect it.

Grave above Charleston, W. Va., to Cincinnati is 75 cents a ton, the speaker emphasized, in contrast to the approximate figure of $2.25 per ton for the haul by rail from this field to Cincinnati.

"With such a differential, and with the boom over and the competition tough, we've got to be ready—or it's bankruptcy," he summarized.
"The government spent $100,000,000
for relief in the Big Sandy valley, the richest in the nation in natural resources. We don't want to go back to that, and I'm here to ask you to join me and thousands of others in fighting for this one thing that will mean the big difference."

The court gave ready assurance of its support in the fight which will come to a showdown within the next three or four months.

Red Cross' National Blood Program To Cost $10,000,000 This Year

Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—A goal of $10,000,000 for the 1948 American Red Cross fund campaign, March 1 to 31, was announced today by Basil O'Connor, Red Cross president. The amount is approximately $4,000,000 less than the total subscribed in the nation-wide campaign last March.

Members of Red Cross board of governors, meeting to consider the organization's financial requirements for the coming year, approved a budget of $97,000,000 as recommended after review made by the finance committee which they consider the minimum necessary to maintain Red Cross postwar services. Application of $22,000,000 from uncommitted surpluses makes it possible to set the goal at the $75,000,000 figure, Mr. O'Connor explained.

In announcing the campaign objective, the American Red Cross president called attention to the magnitude of the organization's service program which reaches into every community in this country as well as overseas wherever American troops are stationed. Basically, he added, this program with one exception is identical with the services the American Red Cross provided the nation prior to World War II. In terms of numbers of individuals served, however, it is a much farther reaching program today than it was 10 years ago, which with increased costs necessitates much greater effort.

"Disaster relief provides another example. In establishing budgetary needs the Red Cross must prepare for any and all catastrophes. During 1947, for instance, approximately $11,000,000 was allocated for disaster aid to more than 300,000 persons. This is the largest amount allocated for Red Cross disaster relief since 1937. It depleted our national disaster funds, which must be replenished."

The one new activity to be financed through 1948 Mr. O'Connor added, is the American Red Cross' national Blood Program, which will cost an estimated $10,000,000 during the coming fiscal year. This far-reaching project, under which blood and its derivatives will be supplied eventually to the entire nation without charge for the products, may take five years to become fully operative. It will subsidize substantial funds for technical equipment, continued research, and professional staffs, the American Red Cross president asserted. Some 20 or 30 major blood centers are scheduled to open in 1948, he said, and as rapidly as possible other centers will be established. Bloodmobiles will be used to collect blood in outlying communities.

The American Red Cross services of health and education, including Home Nursing, First Aid, War Safety, Accident Prevention, Nutrition, Junior Red Cross, College Units and the nation-wide Volunteer Service will continue in full operation in the coming year. These programs must be financed, as always, by contributions of the American people, Mr. O'Connor said.

"The Red Cross movement is no movement to tradition," he added, "it exists only to serve. It lives up to tradition best by searching out new means of service, new trails to blaze, new techniques to improve the welfare of our communities, our nation, and the world."

Russell county Utopia club members sold 45 canteens for $15,203.81, the average price being $33 a hundred.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

Pineville and Bell county are other communities now on the march, according to Herndon J. Evans, editor of The Pineville Sun. With all its available underground coal exhausted, Bell county has caught the stripping fever. Several large operations are under way and capacity of 100 carloads a day is expected to be reached by midsummer.

Cumberland Gap National Historical Park, with the state buying additional land, expects to be completed before the end of this year. It is a tri-state park for Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee. As an inducement to industrial concerns to locate in Pineville, the town made a survey of women available for work, actually signing up 2,500. The Pineville industrial committee has committed the community to putting up a textile mill, the cost to be retired by the occupant over a period of years.

The Clear Creek Mountain Preachers' School, a Baptist institution, three miles from Pineville, has planned to spend a million dollars for expansion.

Bell county is going in for reforestation this spring, with The Pineville Sun, conducting a campaign to plant more trees, an example that might be followed by every county in the state. The Mountain Laurel Festival, which Mr. Herndon says is second only to the Kentucky Derby as a popular attraction, will be revived this year. The last laurel festival was held in 1941 and then dropped during the war. Each Kentucky college or university selects a representative and these girls compete for the title of Laurel Queen. The festival, lasting three days, is held in a natural amphitheater in Pine Mountain State Park, one mile from Pineville. All towns and cities in the area cooperate with Pineville in putting on the show. And a show it should be! One hundred beautiful girls from the Pineville area, and college queens from 40 or more colleges who should win the admiration of famous pickers like Billy Rose and Sam Goldwyn.

The Pineville Community hospital, largest in southeastern Kentucky, has definitely planned an annex to meet rising demands for service. The 1940 census gave Pineville 3,822. Subsequent gains put it well over 4,000. But the important fact in this story is that the community is determined to make itself a better place to live and work in.

Counties May Be Given Care of Mental Cases

The pauper idiots and harmless lunatics of Floyd and every other Kentucky county who are now in asylums for the insane may be sent home in the absence of sufficient funds to provide for their care in state institutions.

So declared the Rev. Aaron L. Rutledge, chaplain at Central State hospital, Lakeland, in an address in Louisville last week.

The chaplain reported:

1. That helpless patients are suffering from malnutrition simply because the 25 cents a day spent on food is not sufficient.

2. That many patients don't have shoes and go barefoot on the cement floors.

3. That some can't go for outside walks because they don't have the clothes to wear.

4. That the usual diet is "beans and potatoes for dinner and potatoes and beans for supper."

5. That because of inadequate medical and psychiatric care, patients who might well recover are doomed to be mental patients the rest of their lives. (Care, such as it is, for an average of 20 years per patient costs more than the cure in the long run.)

6. That the new budget granted by the General Assembly provides 69-3 cents a day per patient. This is less than the hospitals have been operating on during the current fiscal year—leading to the inevitable conclusion that there can be no improvement in conditions.

7. That hundreds of old people who are not mentally ill, but poor and friendless, are in the institutions.

After his speech Rutledge was urged by Louisville Rotarians to turn several hundred "harmless lunatics back to their counties and you'd get all the money you need for it."

A 1942 statute, he said, provides for the return of the harmless lunatics. Following the provisions of the statute is one way of relieving the "insane" situation, he said, adding there are two other alternatives.

The statute says, in part: "All pauper idiots, epileptics and harmless incurable lunatics shall be returned by the asylum in which they are confined to their respective counties and delivered into the custody of their friends. If such persons have no friends, they shall be returned to the county judge, or, if they are residents of and sent from a city of the first class (Louisville is the only city of this class) then to the mayor of that city, who shall make suitable provision for their keeping out of annual appropriations allowed for such persons."

Referring to the statute, Rutledge said there are 500 and 700 persons at Lakeland "we could send home tomorrow without any question. Talk about howling—I wonder what kind of howling we would hear if we resorted to that."

The other alternatives to the situation:

1. "Continue looking people up in the hospitals and leaving them there the rest of their lives and feed them on starvation diet."

2. "We can tax ourselves and pay for adequate medical and psychiatric care. I would like to see that fought out now, not two years from now."

He described as "Kentucky's drama of drama or scandal of scandals" the fact that "people are confined in our mental institutions and we withhold from them the proper care to the end they cannot get well and must spend the rest of their lives in a mental institution."

Emphasizing that many mental disorders are curable he said mental patients require specialized care and "unless that is done within two years after the first breakdown the chances are they will spend the rest of their lives in mental institutions."

"Anything I say," he stressed, "is aimed at the people of Kentucky and not at the overworked staffs of the institutions—they are accomplishing miracles with the means they have."

He compared the 50-1-3-cent-a-day appropriation with the $8.00 a day it costs the Veterans Administration for mental patients, and the average $12.00 a day at private institutions.

A preventive program is most necessary in Kentucky, he said, for mental illness strikes the adolescent and early mature. Mental hygiene clinics could have many from being institutionalized.

"But if we had these clinics tomorrow we couldn't staff them," he observed, "because our mental hospitals aren't recognized by the American Psychiatric Association—therefore we can't train people here. The first thing we should do is put these hospitals on a basis where they could serve as training institutions. It is up to us."

Rutledge explained why the institutions have overcut their budget by $571,000 by July 1. There is a deficit regulation against overspending the current fiscal year, despite an apparent increase in the budget.

The 1948-49 budget is $2,550,000, he said. The initial 1947-48 budget was $2,390,000. But provisions were made for an "emergency" increase of $225,000 during the current year while no such provision is made for 1948-49.

We would not miss this opportunity to express the pride of the patrons toward our school in winning the Sportsmanship trophy in the recent Big Sandy Basketball Conference. We should like to compliment teachers and students alike for it certainly speaks highly of good training given and received. Many comments have drifted in this direction from those outside the community in regard to the actions of the Bobcats, cheerleaders and boosters who have given a good impression of their school and community.

Graduation Chances Only One in Six, UK Expert Says

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 26 (Sp.)—The situation now faced in the elementary schools of Kentucky is so critical that "the chances that a six-year-old child will graduate are only about one in six, and on the average, not more than one-half of those children entering the first grade will even complete the eighth grade."

Thus a report of the Kentucky Committee on Elementary Education, released by Dr. Charles R. Spain, director of the University of Kentucky Board of School Service and committee chairman, interprets the "continuing crisis" in the elementary schools of the state.

Declaring that in most communities "interest has been focused upon the high schools and corresponding efforts to improve the quality of the secondary schools," the report pointed out that as a consequence, "elementary schools—the basic foundation of all public and higher education—have become progressively more neglected."

In illustration of the critical situation, the following factors and conditions were cited:

1. "The number of emergency teachers in elementary schools is still increasing, whereas the past school year showed a decline for such teachers in high schools. During the past school year there were approximately 4,500 teachers in Kentucky elementary schools with emergency certificates and about 300 high school teachers so certified."
2. "The percentage of college students in teacher education programs who plan to become elementary teachers has declined steadily since 1946. Although there are approximately two and one-half times

OF INTEREST TO VETERANS

Dr. Peter A. Volpe, Worthington, O., has been appointed medical director for the Veterans Administration in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky. It was announced this week by Ralph H. Stone, deputy administrator of the VA's Tri-State Branch Office at Columbus. Dr. Volpe, a medical officer with the Sixth Army division in World War II, has been acting medical director for the branch area since September.

Qualified nurses are urgently needed in Veterans Administration hospitals in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky, according to officials of the VA's Branch Office at Columbus. Annual pay for VA nurses ranges from $2,027 to $4,991. Applications will be received by any VA hospital or can be made directly to the Chief, Nursing Division, Veterans Administration, Branch Office at Columbus, O. It was pointed out that every effort will be made to place nurses at the hospital of their choice, but that applications are particularly desired from nurses willing to serve where they are most needed.
