This Town... That World

Stassen wins in Wisconsin, Stassen wins in Nebraska. The "grass roots" are not very DeWey. These days.

THE "RAINBOW DIVISION"
The boys at Prestonsburg high school last week were "receiving" contributions with which to buy balls and bats, to continue baseball in high school.

Few there are who would not freely give to help the boys along, but there are few, too, who understand why this is necessary. Most of us wonder why the school doesn't help the team more.

In baseball Prestonsburg has gone to the state tournament, three years in a row. In no other sport has a Prestonsburg ever reached the "state."

But, good as the boys have been these past three years, they have looked pretty pitiful at Packway Field, in two with the same sort of uniform.

There is not a paying sport, except, but somewhere, somebody said school sports serve as a character-builder. That being true, most of our boys are in a great consideration after all, and baseball should not be treated as a step-child.

RENEW PACT WITH FRAZIER

Some steps will go a long way to lend a touch of freshness to an old, but an acquaintance who turned dramatic to get the one over takes the patented formula.

RENEW PACT WITH FRAZIER

School Head Here Points to Necessity of Building Program

After he had received a new contract Tuesday night at the City Board of Education meeting, Chalmers H. Frazier, superintendent of Prestonsburg schools, declared that the building program is a "must" for the future of the high school.

"If the school is to grow, an adequate building is absolutely necessary," Frazier said. "The present building was erected 21 years ago to accommodate 150 students. The student body is now approximately 400."

Superintendent Frazier emphasized the point that he aims to work with the city and county boards of education to procure an adequate building to take care of the present student body and the increased attendance he knows is coming.

Mr. Frazier assumed the superintendent of schools here last year. He has been in charge of the building program for the past year.

Wherever in the league opening games will find: Weekdays at Van Lear, Garrett and Dwell; Saturdays at Prestonsburg and Clear Creek at Paintsville.

The death of Jimmy Roark temporarily left Prestonsburg without a manager. Dan Neider, chapter president as his successor at a baseball meeting here Monday night. Inclement weather has prevented all teams in the circuit from getting in their legs toward rounding into form for the season's play.

Managers of the other nine teams in the league are: Van Lear, Elmer Chandler; Weeksbury, Clifford Woody; Harold, Dan Kinross; Paintsville, H. J. Henley; Kirkhorn City, Ernest Potter; Wayland, Mabry Martin; Pikeville, C. H. Robinson; Garrett, Glenn Pack; Clear Creek, Vaughn Lee McCoo.

The larger roster was adopted, so that high school players, as well as college players, will be in uniform and announced by umpires one week before playing, and no player may change teams after July 15.

MISS SPEARS GETS 5-YEAR PRISON TERM

Girl-Slayer Nonsalant During Trial for Murder; Officer Hearing Scheduled

First murder trial of the current circuit court term Wednesday night ended with Miss Betty Spears drawing a five-year penitentiary term for the slaying last year at Betty Layne of Edmond Walters, war veteran.

The red-haired defendant, facing trial nonchalantly, retained her equilibrium in the face of the verdict. "I don't care what they do," she was quoted by court attaches as she walked to the jail.

Only the defendant and her mother, Mrs. Red Spears, were listed as eyewitnesses, but their testimony related to agree. Miss Spears said her daughter fired a .22-caliber rifle bullet into Walters' body after he had threatened her over a bottle of beer.

The defendant executed her bond and will appeal the verdict. Stated for trial today, was Albert Hall, former deputy sheriff, accused of murder in the death by

SAFETY-WEEK PLANS TOLD

Safety Exhibit Booth, Free Tests To Feature Program Scheduled Here

Further plans for the traffic safety program to be sponsored here, the week of April 29, by the Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Kentucky Peace Officers Association, were announced this afternoon by H. D. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the Floyd safety campaign.

The traffic safety program, according to R. Hibbs, safety engineer, Louisville police, will consist of on-the-spot testing of eyes, nerves, reaction time and visual acuity. It consists of driving tests for safety at the wheel, etc., will be distributed.

"We can expect the number of operators of automobiles on the highway to increase at a rate from now on," Officer Hibbs said. "The traffic accident rate will inevitably rise unless drivers keep abreast of the best possible physical condition and, at the same time, learn all they can about driving safety in the event of an emergency safety booth at Prestonsburg during the week."

The examinations are free and a part of the safety program.

RIVER YIELDS BODY OF VET

Body of Frank Bentley, 24-year-old Pike county war veteran, who was missing 16 days, was found at Harold in the Big Sandy river shortly before noon Sunday by Frank Burton, a fisherman.

Bentley had been recognized through plans in Bentley's clothing. An inquest jury empaneled by Magistrate Dewey Roberts held that Saturday night that Bentley's death was "accidental."

A Pike county man was named by relatives of Bentley as suspected of having killed the veteran. Magistrate Roberts said, "Subsequent investigation, however, disclosed it was Bentley in crossing the river at a point above Pikeville. A witness said he saw Bentley in the river, swim across near the shore and was not seen again."

The victim, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ewan Bentley, of Robinson Creek, near the mouth of the river, was a brother, Heck Bentley, who resides here.

As Wind, Flood Hit This County; Ohio on Rampage

Big Sandy flood found April this week persisting in flaunting traders. The copy-book "reindeer shivers" were downpours and "vagrant spring breezes" whooped it up so that things were literally in the air on the ground.

Monday's rain-and-windstorm saw a new born under by Dean Merritt flattened at Emma. Some fruit trees were uprooted and the growth of a home near here was blown off.

Many gardens were yet unuprooted. In those that had been planted plants were washed, this week and last, out of the ground. County Agent S. L. Isbell said last week's hail in the lower section of the county destroyed some fruit, and that potato crops have been washed out by heavy rains.

At least "through it" all streams rose threateningly after subsiding over the week-end, yet there was no immediate flood danger in this section. Rains were heavy and general over the state, and the Ohio river reaching flood stage Tuesday.

FEDERAL AID IS AUTHORIZED

President Truman directed Wednesday that aid be given and that surplus property be made available.

Describing floods in Floyd, Pike and Johnson counties as having produced "disaster effects," the roads, Governor Earle C. Clements this week appealed to the federal government for money and repairing flood-damaged roads and bridges.

Last week's floods washed out several bridges in this county and also damaged roads, and subsequent rains have contributed to the damage. But, it was said here, earlier freezes created possibly more extensive damage.

The Left Beaver highway is in particularly bad condition as the result of heavy freezes, and is growing worse under travel during steady rain. The same condition prevails in the upper limits of Prestonsburg, and in spots the Allen-Lacey highway has been damaged.

A telegram to R. C. Astburn, head of the Bureau of Community Facilities, Federal Works Administration, in Chicago, the Chief Executive said.

"The tremendous floods in Southeastern Kentucky along the Big Sandy and the Ohio rivers, and particularly in the counties of Johnson, Pike and Floyd, are producing disastrous results. An emergency relief fund is requested that assistance be granted under Public Law 223."

Expect Huge Gathering For 2nd Music Festival

Reigning beauties, musicians and patrons of Floyd county's nine high schools will gather here Saturday in the 1948 annual Floyd County Music Festival.

The colorful activities of the day will begin at 1 o'clock with a parade starting from the gymnasium here and coursing principal Prestonsburg streets. During the day, the county's five high school bands will play and individual instrumentalists, vocalists and song groups will render numbers.

A highlight of this second festival, which with its beginning last year gained statewide recognition, will be coronation of a Festival queen. Each of the high schools is sending its individual choice for the honor, and these nine girls will comprise the Queen and her court. The coronation ceremony will be held on the grounds of Prestonsburg high school.

Bands to take part under the direction of Norman Lewis, Bowling Green, Ky., guest-conductor, are: Betty Lewis, Prestonsburg, Bowling, Right Beaver Creek (including Maytown, Garrett and Wayland), and Left Beaver (including McDowell, Wheelwright and Auxier).

Officers Nab Six During Week-End On Booze Writs

County officers and Prestonsburg police arrested six persons on liquor charges during the week-end. Arrested were Billie Harfield, James Blackburn and Ray Collins was B. Byrd, who executed bond. Two bookings at Hale today, short distance above here, yielded whiskey in separate raids. Deputy Sheriffs Butler Spivey and Troy Shepherd arrested Billie Harfield there Saturday after finding approximately a case of whiskey. He executed bond. Next day, Deputy Sheriffs Epp Lafayette, Billie Harfield and Ollie Waller arrested Earl Walters there and he was fined $75 and given a 30-day jail term on his guilty plea.

Saturday night, near Emma, Edward Craven was arrested and approximately three cases of whiskey were found in a building he occupied. He executed bond. Deputy Sheriffs Harold Conn, Epp Lafayette and J. B. Hall were assisted by Chief of Police Bill Blackburn in the raid.

Craven was arrested at Martin by Mrs. Rozee Clark after Deputy Sheriff Butler Spivey had sworn he had bought whiskey from Mrs. Clark. The subsequent search, however, failed to locate liquor and a warrant for selling was issued for her.

A. Auker Sunday six half-pints of whiskey were found by officers and "Yankee" Wells admitted ownership of the liquor. He executed bond.

CONN ACCUSES TWO OF ARSON

Officer Says Gasoline Used in Night Attempt To Burn Home at Harold

The Boyd brothers were released Tuesday under bonds which for Ralph totaled $6700 and for Don $5000. Commonwealth's Attorney John C. Cornett said. On the arson charge bond of $2,500 was asked of each.

A special investigator was called to the county this week to assist in the probe into an arson attempt in the pre-dawn hours of last Friday morning to burn the home of Deputy Sheriff Harold Conn at Harold.

Before that—within a matter of minutes after the officer discovered the blaze—two residents of the vicinity, Ralph and Donald Boyd, brothers, were arrested by Conn and were later brought to jail here by Sheriff Ralph B. Sturgill and Deputy Sheriff Albert J. B. Hall.

Deputy Sheriff Conn said he was awakened about 2 o'clock last Friday morning, by a slight explosion which, he alleged, resulted in the match was set to gasoline poured on the outside wall and the base of the chimney. He said that he and his son rushed outside to extinguish the flames and saw an automobile being driven up the highway. Later, when the auto returned and stopped nearby, with one of its occupants inquiring what was the trouble, Conn arrested the boys, taking a revolver and some whiskey from Ralph Boyd.

Sheriff Troy B. Sturgill said a man's tracks led from where the automobile was parked at the roadside, out through a plowed field to the side of the Conn residence, and that the same tracks followed that route back to the car.

Mud scraped from shoes of the two men and from the running board of the car was sent for chemical comparison with soil taken from the field.

The boys maintained their innocence, claiming they had done nothing during the night except drive and stop nearby while drinking.

The officers found, near the home, a gas can which, they said, had contained gasoline. A gasoline-can glove was also found.

Ralph Boyd was booked on charges of arson, drunk driving, carrying a concealed deadly weapon, possession of illegal liquor and on a peace officer's charge. He is being held in the county jail. The other participants in the district trial will be from this county, it was predicted this week by Jesse Elliott.

UNDERMANNED MINES BEGIN WORK AGAIN

UMWA Leader Wins Fight On Pension Issue; Rail Schedules Are Resumed

A radio newscast stated this morning that Judge Goldsborough had postponed action in the Lewis contempt case till Monday.

There was activity in and around the coal mines of this section Tuesday, with 73 per cent of Big Sandy mines estimated to be in low production, but Wednesday the miners were increased in their strike rates as they listened to the radio broadcast hearing in Washington which may or may not result in their leader John L. Lewis' driving a stiff fine or jail sentence, if both.

Lewis again was hailed before Judge Goldsborough after winning another victory over the operators. The back-to-work order came after the pension dispute had been settled, with miners over 62 to get $100-a-month pension.

Lewis and the United Mine Workers at the capital hearing pleaded innocent of contempt of court in the coal strike.

His formal plea of "not guilty" was made after District Judge T. Alan Goldsborough overruled a motion by Wally E. Hopkins, Lewis' attorney, to dismiss the contempt citation.

He argued they showed Lewis had complied with a court order served April 5 to call off the strike.

Lewis has insisted that he never called a strike—that it was "spontaneous" and that he was "not guilty." Immediately after Lewis pleaded "not guilty," the government began execution of work orders.

Some operators gave out a list of six witnesses, some of them obviously designed to show the seriousness of the coal strike during the last four weeks.

Two of the witnesses subpoenaed were John Owens, secretary-treasurer of the UMWA, and William L. Burke, secretary to trustees of the miners' welfare fund.

The welfare fund was the result of a dispute over payment of pensions from the welfare fund. The fund comes from a ten cents a ton royalty on coal mined.

"The coal government" witnesses were W. H. Young, chief of the bituminous coal section, Bureau of Mines, and a representative of the Federal Power Commission; Arthur H. Gas, chief of the railway industry department; and the Office of Defense Transportation.

Fourteen minutes before the trial hour, Lewis walked into the courtroom, accompanied by eight attorneys and several United Mine Workers officials.

The busy-hour UMWA leader took a seat at the long courtroom table.

The greatest peacetime U.S. savings bond campaign—America's Security Loan—started on Tuesday today and before June 30 it is hoped that Floyd coalitions will have purchased their full quota of $170,000 in bonds.

Of the Floyd quota, $106,000 is marked for E-Bond purchases. The Kentucky quota is $31,500,000 and every citizen in the state is being organized for the campaign.

Purpose of the bond drive, it was explained, is to speed further the national debt, built up, necessary to maintain depression aid and temper the upward spending which might contribute toward inflation.

A Job for More Than Hands

IT IS highly doubtful if there is a street corner or a country store in America that is not at this very moment populated by one or more men who will break down and confess that they, personally, could rid the land of Communism.

"Why, get rid of the blankety-blank Communists, throw 'em in the can till moss grows on their backs or send 'em back to Hoosha—that's all you have to do," they will say with super-simplicity.

That is the natural thing to say, but it isn't as easy as it sounds, direct action.

Getting rid of Communism is a more delicate matter than the imprisonment or banishment from the shores of known Communists. Even if that were all that is to be done, this phase of the fight could conceivably result in a loss of some vital part or principle of our government.

And if that should result, if our own land is cleared of Reds at the cost of some of our own liberties, we share the defeat.

This country cannot afford, in its protection of the Bill of Rights, to deny freedom of speech and assembly to individuals or groups, simply because their ideas are not generally accepted. Once this is done, America will go on one big witch-hunt. Men and women will be persecuted for the slightest variance from the beaten path of political thought. Already, there is a tendency among the more inarticulate to classify those who disagree with them as "Communists."

Known Communists can be dealt with, and some already have been handled accordingly. But Communism, its insidious infiltration into the minds of men and women, its undercover threat to democracy and freedom are things which cannot be wiped out, literally, as with a brush of a giant hand. The fight, then, is our common battle. The schools and churches have a serious duty and so has the press. Greater service must be rendered by our government itself and those who shape its policies. For, by making this government serve the people, by making this government a government of liberties, by making this government a shining example to all the world, government itself will go far to make the world forget Communism.

Unfortunately, this is a fight that cannot be impetuously fought and won. There is more than physical action to be taken.

Nine from County At Honor Banquet

Nine Floyd county students at Pikeville College were among those invited to the annual Honor Banquet given by the college on April 12 to recognize the achievement of its best students. Rev. John L. McDonnell, of Albion, Ill., addressed the honor students and guests.

Among those eligible for the banquet were: Robert A. Criss, Martin; Mrs. Lillian S. Taylor, Betty Layton, Barbara Conn, Odessa; Opal Hall, McDowell; Pauline Moore, McDowell; Mr. and Mrs. Collis Stumbo, Misses Margaret Sturges, Harold; and Jane Crawford, David, a senior at Pikeville A. S. U.

Pledge Fulfillment For Red Cross Asked As Goal Not Reached

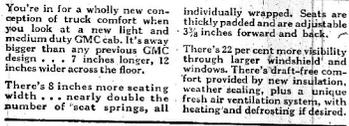

An urgent plea to all those who have pledged funds and support to the Red Cross drive in Floyd county to turn in their contributions to their local chairman was made by William E. Callahan, county Red Cross chairman, this week.

So far, only $5,230 have been collected, far short of the $9,000 goal. All local chairmen were likewise urged to complete their canvassing and turn in their reports. In these days of domestic turmoil, international unrest and threat of flood, it is vital that we "Keep the Red Cross Ready," continued Mr. Callahan, voicing the new campaign slogan. "The Red Cross can only be ready to help all of us if all of us are ready to help it."

For Extra Roominess and Riding Comfort GET A NEW GMC
The question was whether Lewis was in contempt of court for not calling off the coal strike nine days ago. Court order to call off was served on him April 5. He called it off two days ago.
But many miners, with doubtful eyes on Judge Goldborough, have hesitated to back to work.
Their chief was up against his second historic trial... in the same little paneled courtroom... before the same stern, baldheaded judge... on the same charge-level and criminal contempt of court.
There is no legal limit on the penalty for this offense. A judge can impose any fine or prison sentence he wishes.
Production of coal in Floyd county, Tuesday and Wednesday, was a mere trifle as compared to the huge volume normally produced. The long lay-off of high waters and other conditions cut down production, but the principal cause lay in the fact that not enough men were at work.
One beneficial result seen Wednesday night was resumption of a full passenger train schedule in this section.

WITHERS SAYS 'NO BOARD'

Highway Head Squelches Rumor 9-Man Commission To Be Restored in State

State Highway Commissioner Garrett L. Withers made it plain last week there will be no board of Highway Commissioners.

"And that's the last time I want to say anything about it," he added. He pointed out the General Assembly adjourned without setting up a board and said Governor Earle Clements recently had told a group in Lexington he did not favor a board.

The commissioner explained he was setting out his position because of renewal of rumors that he intended to call for a board to go back to the former nine highway districts, in place of seven during the previous administration, had no connection with any board.

Withers said that actually he and engineers in his department believed more than nine districts would be better. He indicated that at some future date the number might be increased by dividing some of the nine larger districts. The public administration service after its survey last year recommended 15 districts.

"Our department engineers believe nine district engineers can know better what roads to build than a seven could," Withers said.

Declaring, "I'm not going to build any 'political roads,'" the commissioner said the appointments of district and assistant district engineers were made on recommendation of a group of engineers. They included Mack Galbreath, head of the Practitioner office of the Federal Public Roads Bureau, he added.

Withers said he expected to rely on recommendations of his district engineers. They are in the field, he explained, and in position to know what should be done.

Withers said the previous administration had contracted for half of the work to be done this year with federal aid. That left only approximately $4,500,000 more in federal funds for Kentucky. Without such aid, Congress makes another grant, he added. There has been talk that Congress will not make another grant in time for 1949, he said, but so far nothing definite has been done. Kentucky has been getting $9,000,000 annually from federal road funds.

AN OPEN LETTER
 Supt. Palmer Hall, Prestonsburg, Ky.
 Dear Mr. Hall:
 We believe that anyone who criticizes should be as ready to praise, if it is justified. Therefore, since we made our criticism public, in justice to you we should make our praise public also.
 We have had and are having a good school at Bosco. We especially want to give credit to our principal, Mr. Glen Martin, and to our teachers, Mrs. Lola Prater, Mrs. Elsie Hicks, Mrs. Myrtle Jacobs and Mrs. Evelyn Horn. They are all doing a splendid job. Mr. Martin has the confidence and support of pupils, parents and teachers alike.
 We wish to thank you, Mr. Hall, for your co-operation and interest in our school. Our appreciation and praise should be as lengthy as our criticism, but suffice it to say that we appreciate what you have done for us and are looking forward with confidence to another school year.
 In closing we wish it plainly understood by all who read this letter that it was in no way solicited and the sole purpose is to eradicate an injustice we feel we have done you.
 Sincerely,

JODINE
 In 1812, Courtois, a Parisian maker of saltpeter, innovated the use of a "water extract of burnt seaweed" in a process, which badly corroded his kettles. While trying to remove the deposits with heated sulphuric acid he produced a violet-colored vapor, which, when condensed, he named Iodine, from the Greek Ioides, meaning violet-hued.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY

During its recent session the General Assembly passed and Governor Clements signed many progressive pieces of legislation, but there were apparently moments when public opinion looked like something the people didn't have to work for. The most notable example was a $4,000,000 appropriation for investigation of the public school system of the state by counties. After reading some comment of mine on this appropriation in the Henderson Gleaner, A. J. Lynn, head of a Louisville auditing firm which bears his name, sent me this interesting letter:

"At the very most, $300,000 would have been a sufficient amount to have audited and examined all the books from the educational point of view of every one of the 120 counties in the state."

"In November we made a thorough audit of the financial records of the Harlan County Board of Education for the year ending June 30, 1947. Our bill did not exceed $800, the records were in good condition, we checked all sources of income and made a fairly thorough examination of what went with the money. Harlan county, as you know, perhaps has one of the largest school budgets of any county in the state which amounted to slightly over $1,000,000 last year."

"One more point in connection with the Harlan county schools, an outfit from Chicago had made a survey down there which looked to me to be for political smear purposes. It was superficial, facts were inaccurately used and conclusions drawn which were not warranted."

"The School of Education at the University of Kentucky had made a splendid survey during the year which was very helpful, educationally speaking, and was of some assistance to us on the financial side and then to cap the matter a very progressive step was taken by the teachers themselves in the county, many of whom spent the summer making a survey and the preparation of a three or four hundred-page typewritten book which I understood was good enough to be used in the Teacher-Training courses at Eastern State College, Richmond."

According to Mr. Lynn, the auditing job shouldn't cost more than about $100,000. Of course, an overall study of the school system would involve $250,000, maybe less.

The appropriation of the $4,000,000 does not make spending of it mandatory, hence a fine opportunity for Governor Clements to save 80 per cent or more of the sum and use the rest of it for other worthwhile purposes.

The convention program will feature discussions of progress in coal production and preparation methods, application of law and improved equipment, supervisory and management problems, the future outlook for coal, the effect of the Marshall Plan upon the coal industry, and industrial application of atomic energy.
