St. Fitzpatrick Rites Held at Local Church Under Vets' Auspices

Funeral rites for Staff Sgt. Richard C. Fitzpatrick, of West Prestonsburg, who was killed at the age of 23 in the Battle of the Bulge, Jan. 18, 1945, were held Wednesday at the Assembly of God Church, West Prestonsburg, and burial in West Prestonsburg cemetery was under auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

He was a son of Henry Fitzpatrick, now a resident of Wakefield, Ohio, and of the late Alma Harmon Fitzpatrick. Surviving, besides his father, are his widow, Mrs. Opal V. Harwood, Fitzpatrick, of Ohio; children, Gerald and Betty, of West Prestonsburg, and two brothers, Bill Fitzpatrick, West Prestonsburg, and John in Fitzpatrick, of Ohio. Rev. G. R. Frimlin and Ted Green, the Rev. and Mrs. Johnston Burial was made under direction of the Carter & Callahan Funeral Home.

The largest flower known weighs 15 pounds.

At Hueysville the inspector recommended more air for the working places in the No. 1 mine suitably installing the ventilation fans on the surface and equipping them with safety devices, erecting substantial and incombustible main stoppings, using ventilation doors instead of check curtains, at least two permissible flame safety lamps and monthly and weekly examinations for gas and other hazards. He also proposed effectively allowing dust at its source by using water or other means, adequately rock-dusting both mines to within 80 feet of the faces, prohibiting smoking and carrying matches and smoldering articles underground, and using permissible electric cap lamps instead of open lights.

Inspector Meers proposed safer surface and underground storage for the permissible explosives, firing them electrically using only wooden tamping bars, and testing the roof and laces before and after blasting. He also advised adopting minimum stand rods for systematic timbering. Other recommendations included removing obstructions from the clearance area in the No. 1 mine, properly blocking all standing cars, keeping the power wires from touching combustible materials, providing firm grounds and overhead protection for electrical equipment as needed, adopting a positive identification system, and using goggles for eye-hazardous work.

Inspector Meers noted with approval that suitable fire-fighting equipment was available, and the second escapeways were in safe, travelable condition.

Proposing miners 1 compliance with the company's minimum timbering standards for the Drift mine, the inspector said temporary safety posts should always be set close to the faces before other operations are begun, and all working places adequately timbered. He endorsed using permissible explosives, but advised safer underground transportation and storage.

Although ventilation was generally good, and the 2-north ventilating fan was equipped with an automatic stoppage alarm, the inspector recommended installing another of the three fans on the surface, equipping it with a fireproof air duct and a pressure-recording gauge and an automatic signaling device, clearing the fan area of combustible materials, installing paired air-lock doors or constantly attending the single doors, promptly closing ventilation doors, and instituting pre-shift examinations.

Inspector Wilson said that while the mine was white to within 20 feet of the faces, more was needed; dust should be allayed during cutting, cool dust accumulations should be removed, and smoking in the mine discontinued.

Other recommendations included completion of removing refuse and other obstructions from the roadway and clearance space, clean street hoes, proper rearing devices for the locomotives, effectively guarding the high-potential power wires from contact with the mine circuit, framing and providing overload protection for the mining machines, locomotives and the trailing cables, and wearing protective aprons by all the employees and goggles for eye-hazardous work.

Fire-fighting equipment was adequate, design test escapeways were reasonably free of obstructions, direction signs were posted, and all the employees used permissible electric cap lamps. Inspector Wilson noted with approval.

Soldier's Funeral Held at Prestonsburg Church Last Thursday Afternoon

Funeral services for Pfc. Archie Hunt, son of Mrs. Cora Hall, Prestonsburg, were held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Freewill Baptist church on Highland avenue.

Pfc. Hunt was killed in action in December, 1944, in Germany after three months overseas. He entered the service in 1940. His body arrived here Tuesday for reburial.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Cora Hall, two sisters, Mrs. Kelly Hughes, Mrs. Goldie Moore, both of Drift, three brothers, Edward, of West Virginia, Herschel Hunt, Iva, and one half-brother, Walter Danaher.

The services were held at the Freewill Baptist church with the Rev. Isaac Stratton and others officiating. Burial was under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

The Public Be Damned?

It is not the gracious thing to do, nor is it often feasible, to attempt to tell the other fellow about what he should do in the conduct of his business. But, since the Kentucky Railroad Commission has set May 11 as the date when a hearing will be held in Frankfort on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company's application to discontinue two of its passenger trains serving the valley, this newspaper would be remiss in performance of its duty, did it not state the facts as it sees them.

The company, in all probability, has the figures to prove that its Big Sandy passenger trains are not profitable, economically. But will it make public the figures on its big freight revenues from the same section? And will it presume to assert the right to profit from the public over the long years, then to discontinue any part of its work that fails to realize a neat profit? Few public service adopt such an attitude. Even your hometown grocer, limited in resources, continues to serve his customers at a loss on some items as a matter of public service and as a builder of goodwill. We all must assume some responsibility to others. We cannot be paid for everything we do. We should not be paid for everything.

When the Railroad Commission hears this case, it should not hold the hearing in Frankfort. It should come to the Big Sandy valley, onto the ground, so to speak, among the people affected by this matter. This would mean no sacrifice to members of the Commission. They are elected by the people, and they are not confined to Frankfort. Citizens and organizations of the valley should demand this service from these men, that as many citizens may be heard as have evidence to offer.

Elimination of Train No. 37, running from Eikhorn to Ashland, mornings, and of Train No. 38, from Ashland upriver, evenings, will disrupt mail and express service over the 134 miles of the division. Both will be delayed 24 hours. That may mean nothing to the railroad company, but it is an important matter to the thousands who live up and down the Big Sandy and its tributaries.

The Railroad Commission may be told that the highway and bus service are practically at the doors of residents of the sections. This is far from true. Approximately 60 miles of the railway line are removed from the highway; some communities have no modern mode of travel except by train. Children from scattered villages and farmhouses along the valley often go to school by train. School buses are far from their doors.

The Chesapeake & Ohio now is proposing to cancel its only passenger service between Shelby and Jenkins. As long as the Consolidation Coal Company owned Jenkins no such move was made. Soon after private individuals bought the town of Jenkins, discontinuance talk arose.

Has the railway no regard for private individuals and individual businesses? Surely the people have some rights. It is up to them to make these rights known.

more than last year and almost double the amount set up for the last pre-war year. About $2,000,000 of the increase in income came from the increased gasoline tax, but as much as $6,200,000 can be credited to increased gasoline sales and license taxes. Here is direct evidence of the increase in highway traffic.

Pointing out that the current budget exceeds anticipated revenue, the Commissioner said it includes two items of $1,000,000 each which are revolving funds and are supported by sums from other accounts within the budget. These are the allotments for equipment and payroll cleanings. An additional amount of $1,757,752 represents revenue received in 1947 and carried over for expenditure this year.

The budget includes a total of $8,365,672 for all types of federal aid construction. It will be used to match a like amount to be granted from the federal government. $4,000,000 for re-surfacing and $200,000 for reconstruction of old or washed-out bridges. A majority of the re-surfacing work will be a continuation of repairing the damage caused by the severe winter of 1947-48. Commissioner Keck said.

Rural highway allotments in the current budget include the annual $9,000,000 legislative appropriation and $9,700,000 accruing from two-sevenths of the state gasoline tax receipts. The budget allows $10,500,000 for maintenance of which $10,000,000 will go for routine maintenance operations, and the balance for reconstruction, and operation listed as a separate item in previous budgets.

An early type of American match—cost four cents each.

Highway Employees Warned To "Get-Going-Or-Get-Out"

Frankfort, Ky., April 28—Highway maintenance men today were warned to get going or get out.

He stressed a demand for greater effort and less cost in the current year's $10,500,000 job of keeping up Kentucky's 11,000 miles of state-maintained roads.

His words were recorded with a view to letting groups of workers throughout the state hear his views in his own voice.

The department now has 2,000 maintenance personnel. This is an increase over the 1,800 in 1947.

The session also included talks by State Highway Engineer D. H. Bray, W. C. Ryan, executive assistant to the highway commissioner; Safety Director T. H. Smith, and W. A. Tinsley, chief director of equipment.

WHAT THEN?

Who have had, by hook or crook, superior educational advantages sometimes, I fear, find ourselves discounting the brains of plain people.

The chief trouble with most of the public display of knowledge at Fidelity was its self-assurance. Seemingly anybody with a public ax to grind could say anything he wanted to and get away with it.

Some of those sure-fire fellows would probably have died of shock or humiliation if they had known that some of the respectable ones sitting quietly by them and seeming to swallow their grucular words, inwardly questioned, even as had many of our own people, there must have been others who knew how to suffer for what they thought right.

One of the astounding things that I learned early was that some of our so-called ignorant neighbors sometimes had progressed farther on a world map than some of the literate ones, even the teachers.

The handsome, burly defendant admitted in his testimony this afternoon that he killed Collins, but he claimed he did so in self-defense.

Both these situations are being remedied, he added. "Equipment is being purchased as speedily as possible, to substitute better equipment and better supervision, we are sweeping from maintenance operation on a county basis to maintenance districts composed of three or four counties."

"In this way we can save money by preventing needless duplication of men and equipment. Our maintenance program will not be increased next year, although additional miles will be added to the state-maintained program."

The session also included talks by State Highway Engineer D. H. Bray, W. C. Ryan, executive assistant to the highway commissioner; Safety Director T. H. Smith, and W. A. Tinsley, chief director of equipment.

Round-table discussions of ways to improve the program made up the afternoon meeting.

REA MANAGER ASKS SUPPORT

Of Poage Bill If Phones For Rural Areas Wanted; 'Tell Congress,' Advice

"If you want you and your neighbors to have a telephone some time in the future, write your Congressman to support the Poage Bill," is the advice given rural people by J. K. Smith, executive manager of the statewide REA office in Louisville. This statement was prompted by the fact that the bill which would set up rural telephone co-ops under the REA program is "bogging down" for lack of "grass-roots" support, Smith said.

"The people can pass any legislation they want, if they express themselves, but no Congressman can read the minds of his constituents—they must tell him what they want," Smith stated.

The Poage Bill, he explained, has been misunderstood by many people. "It will not force an REA electric co-op to turn itself into a telephone co-op; in fact, independent mutual companies, rather than electric co-ops, will be given first preference on the money which the bill is to make available."

Smith quoted figures from a recent survey conducted by the statewide REA newspaper, The Kentucky Electric Co-Op News. The poll showed that something less than 15 percent of the rural people in Kentucky have phones, but that a good three-fourths of those who do not have a phone, want one.

"From 1920 to 1940, the total number of rural phones in the United States dropped from 2 1/2 million to 1 1/2 million, because the small, local companies were bought out by the larger companies, which promptly stopped serving the thinly-settled sections. The proposed telephone co-ops would restore the idea of "area coverage"—which means that everyone in a given area who wants service will get it, as is the case with electric co-ops," Smith said.

Funeral of Curtis Miller, 20-year-old World War II veteran who died April 15 in a veterans' hospital at Tucson, Arizona, was conducted Saturday from the Martin Christian Church. He was a victim of tuberculosis from which he had suffered for the last two years.

Mr. Miller was a son of the late Clay Miller and Mrs. Addie Miller, of Martin. Three brothers, Raymond Miller with the army in Japan, Grover and Wayne Miller, of Martin, survive.

The Rev. S. C. Honeycutt conducted the funeral service and burial was made in the Dingus cemetery at Alpharetta, the Ryan Funeral Home directing.

MAGOFFIN AND CLAY ORDERED TO PAY LONG-OVERDUE DEBTS

Frankfort, Ky., April 26—The Court of Appeals ordered Clay and Magoffin counties today to pay the last of their long-overdue debts.

Magoffin was directed to increase its tax rate to pay R. L. Gardner $3,684.53 with interest at 6 per cent since June 1, 1945. His claim was held valid two years ago by the Appellate Court, but the county contended it lacked funds to pay him.

The ruling was regarded as paving the way for paying off about $7,000 more of small debts left over after the county issued bonds several years ago to settle up about $83,000 of other debts.

Clay county had a balance of small claims totaling $16,667 after the court forced it to raise its tax rate above the constitutional maximum of 50 cents per $100 property valuation in 1947 to pay bonds issued to take up $360,000 of long-standing "warranty" checks issued years ago without cash in the bank to meet them. Some of the claims went back to 1922.

At that time (1947) the county agreed to pay the balance out of its 1947-48 current income. After $11,190 had been paid to 50 holders of old warrants, Harvey Herd and three other taxpayers sued to make the warrant-holders refund the money to the county.

In most cases the petition claimed the money had been paid in violation of Kentucky statutes. The petition also said that Jim Longdon, circuit clerk of the county, got $1,175 on warrants which it was alleged he had bought illegally for speculative purposes.

The petition also declared J. D. White, a member of the county Budget Commission, collected $275 on warrants which it alleged he purchased illegally as a speculation.

In affirming Clay circuit court's approval of the payments, Appellate Judge Thomas J. Knight commented that if there was anything illegal in what Longdon and White did it was up to the Commonwealth's Attorney to institute criminal proceedings.

Referring to the claims that the fiscal court's procedure in making the payments violated certain statutes, Judge Knight commented that the county appeared at last to be on the road to recovery from its years of overexpending. He added that benefits from paying the comparatively small remaining debts "will outweigh any slight irregularities by which it may have been accomplished."

NEW WINKLE IN HAIR CURLING

Gary, Ind.—An inventive husband who thought his wife spent too much time putting up her hair at night has patented a new gadget said to cut hair-setting time in half, according to the "National Parent Council." The device is patented after a miniature assembly line. It holds 40 bobby-pins which are pulled off the holder cartridge in rapid-fire order in the exact position for insertion into the hair.

INLAND STEEL WINS AWARD

W'Wright Firm Cited For Mining Safety; Others Mentioned

The Inland Steel Company, Wheelwright, was one of three Kentucky coal mines awarded a certificate of honor for notable achievements in mining safety.

The awards, voted in the annual meeting of the Joseph A. Holmes Safety Association on April 19 in Washington, was announced this week by Dr. James Boyd Director of the U.S. Bureau of Mines and ex-officio president of the association.

The mine of the Pioneer Coal Co., Kettle Island, and the West Kentucky Coal Co., Madisonville, also received this certificate.

Averaging 1,040,552 tons of coal for each fatality during 1948 for all member companies, the Kentucky River Mining Institute, Hazard, was awarded a certificate of honor in the miscellaneous category.

Awards for individual heroism went to Aubin Higgins, 44, William Hall, 52, both of Hightstown, McGraw, 43, and Lonnie McGraw, 25, both of Wheatcroft, who were cited "for working together at great personal risks to rescue Evey Dunning, Earlington, who was caught under a fall of rock and menaced by additional falls in the East Diamond mine of the West Kentucky Coal Co. at Madisonville on March 10, 1948."

Higgins, a mine safety director, Hill, general mine foreman, McGraw, a state mine inspector, and McGraw, a timberman, happened to be nearby when the rockfall occurred, the report says. "Bill lifted one end of the rock that had pinned the victim down and the other three moved him to safety about 15 seconds before an estimated 10 tons of rock fell on the spot where Dunning had been caught."

The Holmes awards are considered by many to be the highest honor in the bituminous coal mining safety. The omnibus announcement, covering many mines throughout the nation, included 158 certificates of honor—33 for individual presentation, six for miscellaneous organizations, and 119 for presentation to coal mines and mining companies.

The Joseph A. Holmes Safety Association was formed in 1916 to perpetuate the work of the late Joseph Austin Holmes, first director of the U.S. Bureau of Mines, in promoting safety in the mining industries.

METER RULING GIVEN

Frankfort, Ky., April 27—An opinion that cities may temporarily suspend operation of parking meters in specified places was given today by Assistant Attorney General D. H. Reed, Jr.

The question was asked by Joe M. Davis, Jr., Hopkinsville's public works commissioner. He explained the subject came up when he desired to let a navy truck displaying a Japanese submarine park without paying meter fees.

"Mac" used before a proper name means son.

Hindman Native Dies In Nashville Hospital

Lawrence Ambury, 56 years old, Hindman native and former Boyd county farm agent, died in a Nashville, Tenn., hospital Wednesday.

Mr. Ambury, who had been county agent of McMinn county, Tenn., since 1928, was a son of the late R. H. Ambury. His widow and a son, Gordon, survive. The body was returned to Hindman where funeral rites were held Thursday and from there was taken to Ashland for burial.

Let's Have a New Deal
 In the Sheriff's Office!

Any time the common people make a change in officials from the old brand of politician to one of their own, one who is not a politician and who has no desire to become one, they make a change for the better.

It strikes me that the people of Floyd county, in particular, have everything to gain and nothing to lose by taking such action. They know the old story of politics and politicians; they know the "score," and they know it's seldom in their favor.

Appealing to the ordinary voter who asks only justice, and who has no axes of his own to grind, I wish to point out that at the age of 41 years I have never held public office, am not affiliated with or dependent upon the whims or the support of any political group or so-called clique, and I have no intention of ever associating myself with such "behind-the-scenes" groups. Such cliques have never done me, you or Floyd county any good.

My qualifications for the office of Sheriff are not unlike those of many others—a reasonable amount of good, common sense, a desire to do a good job for Floyd county and its people and the natural ambition to earn for my wife, our three children and myself a living. I have worked in the gas fields and coal mines and have been a "lumber jack" in the state of Oregon. During the war I served with the U.S. Army Air Corps as an instructor of Army Flying Cadets, and after that I returned to Prestonsburg where I have developed an Aviation Service which has been devoted to the training of veterans here in Floyd county during the last three years.

These facts, I realize, are incidental. Your main interest should be in what I, or any other man, would do as your Sheriff in the future.

If the citizens of Floyd county honor me with the office of Sheriff, I promise to fulfill my obligations to them, and to perform my duty, to the fullest extent of my ability. I will endeavor to promote goodwill among our people. Certainly I will not pit one class against another, favoring some and leaving others to feel oppressed. All due respect and consideration will be given our aged and the infirm and the "Little Fellow." Somehow, I have always felt that the "Big Fellow" can pretty well take care of himself.

If elected your Sheriff, I will organize the deputies of the office into a small body of well-paid, well-trained, uniformed men of good character. And I promise you, I will wipe out the flagrant violations and the flaunting of the law any of us can plainly see if we do not turn our heads to look elsewhere.

My name will appear on the Democratic ballot at the August primary. Before that time, please think over these things I have attempted here to discuss with you. Talk it over—I believe you will agree that a New Deal is in order.

Sincerely,

job of matching tall stories with some of the other neighborhood lirs.

Through all this Holton sailed in grand style. He sent his opponent at checkers stalling home in high opinion, warning he had "fingered" one of the pieces from the board and for the moment determined never to play another game with that blarney-bunk. He overcame the handicap of a weak partner to trounce two of the neighborhood's best at horseshoes pitching. He told five lies that had the boys "r-swanning." Who said he was on the shady side of the slope?

Then, late that afternoon, it happened. And he staggered homeward, a spent, broken man. His breath came in gasps. He muttered to himself as he walked, eyes fixed dully on the road at his feet.

Friends he passed ignored about his health and what troubled him; asked in vain. He passed without speaking. His good wife and their children took one look at him and cried as one, "Run for the doctor!"

Their Juckers Brown, the storekeeper, arrived, told what he knew. And Mrs. Holton knew her husband must have a doctor. For, said Juckers: "His old age that's workin' on 'im, and he knows it. He's also been so proud of his strength, and hits an awful blow to him to know he's a sippin', physical and mental. He's not in vain. He forgot and spit in one of them spittoons I got down at the store!"

Mrs. Daisy Weddington Harris, widow of J. N. Harris, who for many years was a Floyd county official and political leader, died Sunday night at the home on Riverside here of her daughter, Mrs. R. W. Feiler. She was 83 years old and had been critically ill for the last two weeks. A daughter of Robert and Emma Harkins Weddington, she was one of Prestonsburg's most deeply revered women. She had been a member of the Baptist Church 40 years, and her interest and activity in religious worship continued till her final illness. She was also a member of Miriam Rebekah lodge here.

She was married August 15, 1886, to Mr. Harris, and to this union were born two daughters, Mrs. R. W. Feiler and Mrs. Wm. Osborne, both of Prestonsburg. Two brothers and three sisters also survive. J. M. Weddington, Prestonsburg, Tilden Weddington, Golden, Mo., Mrs. Hattie Johnson and Mrs. Emma Reeves, both of Casperville, Mo., and Mrs. Alice Bryard, Grandview, Arkansas.

Her funeral was conducted Wednesday afternoon from Irnie Cole Memorial Baptist Church, the Rev. A. C. Harlowe and the Rev. L. W. Benedict officiating. The rites were attended by a large gathering of sorrowing friends and relatives, and many floral offerings bespoke the high esteem in which Mrs. Harris was held. Burial was made in the Arnold Funeral Home.

SEASON SCHEDULE RELEASED

Harold Swamps Henry Clay, 26-11; Price Noses Out Martin, 15-14; Clear Creek Beats Weeksbury, 13-1, And Allen Edges Paintsville, 7-6, in Sunday Games

Plenty of action marked the official opening games of the Big Sandy Baseball League last Sunday as eight teams began summer the 1949 campaign in four points.

Program a warm-up game that appears to be the record of a track meet, the visiting Harold batsmen assembled 26 runs with Henry Clay moving a record 11 to three in the eighth inning in their three-run game. Price, Detroit directed the home team batting by scoring the winning run in the 12th.

Clear Creek outplayed Weeksbury at McDowell and took their 2 1/2 camp in a dominant manner. Ted, while Allen got the victory Paintsville from 7-6.

Taking their record into before the opening game of this season, the club teams are prepared for more of the same kind of action Sunday as Allen goes to Henry Clay, Harold 21-15, Paintsville, Price battles to Weeksbury and Clear Creek goes down to Martin.

Complete season schedules released this week by W. A. Malone, president of the Big Sandy League, are arranged below in no sequence by date for easy reading by fans of each Floyd county club. The Henry Clay and Paintsville clubs may be determined from the Floyd schedules.

Featuring the scintillating baseball deeds of Prestonsburg players, Elkhorn City's independent nine was topped the strong Wheelwright ball club, 6-2, in an Elkhorn Baseball League exhibition game at Elkhorn City Sunday afternoon.

Howard Chaffin walked four times and accounted for three runs, while Setha, pitching first base, handled 10 chances without an error, and Jimmy Vance, manager of the Elkhorn team, connected with two payoff shots in five to bat.

Garcia, who was a Pikeville importation from Texas last year, got two hits, one of them a homer that scored Chaffin from second. Garcia performed as an outfielder and

MEADE TRIPS MARTIN HIGH

Errors Costly To Flash As Porter Fades in 5th; White, Winning Pitcher

Errors contributed to the downfall of the Martin Purple Flash baseball team on their visit to Meade Memorial high school last Saturday.

The Flashmen were leading, 4-2, going into the fifth inning when Porter, suffering from a sore shoulder, became wild and walked five straight men. He was relieved by Ezra Clark, reserve pitcher.

Meade lost pitcher Carr by the shower route in the fourth and Al White, who turned in bright performances for fans in the recent basketball season, finished up the mound duty in convincing fashion.

The setback was Martin's opening game of the season. The two scheduled games, one with Garrett on Friday and another earlier this week, were called off because of the unusual cold and wet weather.

WHEELWRIGHT AND EAGLES SPLIT BILL

PHS Eagles Win, 11-4, In First; Wheelwright Scores in Second, 7-6

High school games of Prestonsburg and Wheelwright launched their 1949 baseball season here last Saturday on more or less even terms as they split a doubleheader.

The high-flying Eagles, behind the pitching of "Blue" Childers and not necessarily relying on too many "right" hits, took off with a decisive victory, 11-4, in the curtain-raiser.

The second half of the doubleheader saw Wheelwright's Maroons set the pace, 7-6, in five innings.

In their first game, a regulation high school seven-inning affair, the Eagles in 31 times at bat, collected 11 hits, committed three errors, while Pitcher Childers delivered blank tickets from the mound to 14 Maroons. Taking 26 trips to the plate, Maroons committed with four hits and committed three errors while the combined efforts of Pitchers Akers and R. Curry handed strikeouts to nine Eagles.

The second game saw the Maroons trot to the hitting post 21 times to get seven runs from four hits and commit three errors behind the stellar pitching of J. Curry. The pitching of Patton and Burchett fell shy as the Eagles, with 16 trips to bat, gained six runs with three hits and were charged with three errors.

Independent Sports Seen For High School Athletes

High school athletes may be permitted to perform with independent clubs in baseball, softball, golf, tennis, swimming and bowling in accordance with a proposal adopted Friday by the Kentucky High School Athletic Association delegate assembly in its 1949 annual meeting at Louisville.

At the same time the group voted down a proposal to eliminate playing football practice and set aside a proposal to eliminate Tuesday night basketball.

An amendment getting the assembly ruled that officials registering for the first time must pass an examination, every official be required to attend at least one rule-making clinic and every tournament official must have worked at least 12 days prior to the meet.

The registration fee for officials was raised from $2 to $5.

Other proposals adopted were:

1. A student is ineligible who changes schools without a corresponding change in his parents' residence if he had participated in a first team game only. The old rule specified an "inter-school" contest.

A player must have a passing average up to Monday of the week in which the game is to be played. The old rule demanded a passing average up to the end of the week.

Officials for a contest shall be agreed upon at least 10 days before the event. The old rule required five days.

All regional tournaments will end on Saturday night.

District winners and runners-up will meet at the regional site at 2 p.m. Sunday following the district meet to conduct the regional drawing.

Expenses for district and regional meets (officials, balls, trophies, etc.) were boosted from $15 to $300; competing teams will be allowed 20 cents per mile traveling allowance instead of 15 cents and the host school will receive only 15 per cent of the net tournament profit, instead of 25 per cent.

To be eligible for the state tournament, a school must play during the season at least 12 games with six different schools. Formerly a school need only play six games with three different schools.

State tournament teams in the future will receive $100 extra for incidental expenses, instead of the $40 allowed previously.

Proposals to let K.H.S.A.A. Commissioner Ted Sanford choose the districts and name sites and the regional officials met a setback.

Also turned down were suggestions to permit only district tournament winners to advance to regional meets, to up the number of districts in each region from four to eight, to begin use of fan-shaped blackboards in all Kentucky games and to require the football season on the first Friday in September.

The playing progresses as, each two-member team leaves off and follows through by each member alternating the other's successive shot from wherever the ball happens to lay. This alternating of shots continues over the full course of the low team total determining the winners. Although not eligible to compete, club officials elected, non-members are welcome in the gallery of spectators expected to be on hand to watch the fun.

Construction of the locker and shower building is finished. Club President A. H. Mandt announced, and the plumbing fixtures are being installed this week.

URGES MOTOR SPEED CHECK

Twenty years or so ago it was quite a common amateur practice to "pace" a boat with an automobile following along the shore. This system was so inaccurate as to be nearly hopeless. A wild guess was sometimes better.

But the idea of checking a boat's speed is always a good one. A to-glow speed may indicate motor troubles of some sort that should be uncovered and fixed before it gets worse, according to Willard Crandall, boats and motor authority.

may indicate poor motor tilt, a too low transom, a wrong-size or bent propeller. It may mean poor distribution of the load aboard.

The owner may not know just what speed his outfit should make, but at least he can find out, by checking his speed again the same way after a month or a year, whether or not he is losing speed.

A marine speedometer offers the best way of determining speed. If you can't install one in your boat, find some boat-owner who has one. Run alongside for a fairly straight stretch—the boat with the speedometer keeping fairly even while the other boat is run at full speed.

Timing over an estimated or even carefully calculated distance is of little use. It should be over a measured course. When timing you can also find out how much speed is lost by the addition of extra load. Excess slight loss of speed with a load, or too slow speed may indicate almost any of the troubles listed above.

With the standard round-bottomed outboard runabout, around 14 feet long and 19 h.p. motor, about a 12 1/2 per cent loss in speed can be expected when two persons are aboard as against the speed made with only one; and about a 27 per cent loss when three are aboard, as against the speed with just one.

With a motor of about 16 h.p. the figures are 12 per cent and 22 per cent, respectively. For the purpose of these figures, each person is considered to weigh about 150 pounds.

Bright sun shining—new greenery showing—soft breezes calling you onto the highway—this is the season that Buick of yours was made for!

This is the time when you'll want to hear the sweet hum of its eager power, feel the lazy comfort of its easy stride, get the springtime feel of its thrilling action.

And you can have all that—with just a little attention to some simple things to shake the winter out of its bones.

For instance—the rusty sludge that has accumulated in your radiator should be cleaned out. Transmission and rear end may be low on lubrication, and should be checked. Crankcase oil should be changed to a summer grade.

The underside of your car has taken a lot of splashing on wet roads. Some of the chassis grease has been washed out, some of it fouled with mud and grit.

Time to Spring Clean your Buick too!

So it's time to drain out the dregs of winter. Time for a little of the knowing, loving care every Buick gets at the hands of our Buick-trained men, armed with Buick-developed tools, Buick-established methods, Buick-engineered parts.

It doesn't take long, doesn't cost much. But it goes a long way toward making old Buicks stop out again like lively spring colts. How about stopping—in this week—to see about a spring rejuvenation for your faithful Buick?

Check your car—Check accidents!

Driving is nice the fun when you have complete confidence in your car—when you know that tires, brakes, steering, lights and the like won't let you down.

Altogether, there are 10 points to be checked for safety in any car. Bring your Buick in to us for a thorough go-over before getting off on your spring vacation. We'll take the worry and fuss off your hands—so you can be carefree of the wheel.

NATION NEEDS SPORT SPIRIT
Winning the War Must Be Credited in Great Part To Athletics, Ward Says

"America was built by the competitive spirit," Arch Ward, sports editor of The Chicago Tribune, told the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce state convention at Greenboro Saturday night. "And America must turn to sports if it wishes to retain that American way of living."
 Carrying his point farther, he pointed out, "Athletic competition develops strong men, and America needs strong men."
 Athletes, the speaker said, are not proponents of the easy life that Americans hear advertised on every side. Leisure is fine, but we should use that time for constructive achievement.
 Winning the war, he declared, must be credited in great part to American athletes and their spirit of competition.
 Ward's talk climaxed a three-day session of the Jaycees that bestowed honor on one Prestonsburg man, a state office on another and several awards to the two-year-old Prestonsburg Jaycee organization.

Improved Yields Pay for Drainage

Increased crop yields more than paid for the drainage tile project of Morgan county, installed on his farm, he told Farm Agent Chas. Dixon. In the spring of 1947, the county agent helped Patrick install 1,800 feet of tile in 1/4 acres of bottomland at a total cost of $177 for tile, labor and hauling.

The following year, tobacco production on one acre jumped from 1,200 pounds to 2,087 pounds, and sold for $52 a hundredweight. Then, on four acres of corn, his yield was 229 bushels more than on six acres before drainage. In addition he grew soybeans on two acres, which, when dried, provided winter feed for two cows.

Drained bottomland is often the best test on the farm if properly drained, notes Mr. Dixon, adding that many farmers in the county are installing tile this spring.

The navy's giant Caroline Mars bruce the passenger carrying record by transporting 269 personnel. The previous record was 217.

Veterans planning to attend summer school under the G.I. Bill should begin now to make necessary arrangements for Veterans Administration certificate of eligibility, VA advised this week.

A veteran already in school under the G.I. Bill who intends to continue his education this summer in a different school should apply as soon as possible for a supplementary certificate of eligibility. VA pointed out that veterans now in school under the G.I. Bill must have these supplementary certificates before they can be admitted to new schools or courses.

If a veteran is not presently in training, but holds an unused certificate of eligibility issued before September 1, 1948, he should obtain a new certificate if he plans to attend school this summer. If he has no certificate of any kind and plans to enroll in a summer school, he should make application for a certificate at his nearest VA office.

Veterans now in school may obtain application forms for supplementary certificates from the registrar's office of their schools or from any VA office. After a veteran has filled out this application he should send it to the VA regional office having jurisdiction of his present school. Attention to these details now will avoid last minute rushes and delays since verification of each veteran's entitlement is necessary before VA may pay tuition and subsistence.

Generally, veterans are eligible for G.I. Bill education and training if (1) they were in active military service some time between September 16, 1940 and July 25, 1947; (2) they served 90 days or more or were discharged before 90 days for a disability incurred in service, and (3) they were discharged under conditions other than dishonorable.

An exception has been made for those persons who enlisted or re-enlisted in the armed forces between October 8, 1945 and October 3, 1946 under the Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act. These persons may count the entire period of their enlistment as war service for purposes of G.I. Bill benefits.

State Drivers Warned By Crowe To Dim Lights

Disturbed by reports from motorists blinded by headlights, Guthrie F. Crowe, commissioner of Kentucky State Police, has asked for enforcement of a law requiring night drivers to dim their headlights when within 500 feet of an approaching vehicle.

"Since every driver has, at one time or another, experienced the unnerving sensation of being temporarily blinded by bright headlights, it is difficult to understand why the highway protective requirement is not 100 per cent voluntary," Crowe stated.

"Drivers at night should also dim their lights when following another car," added Crowe. "It is a matter of courtesy as well as law and any driver who fails to obey these laws has no place in the society of advanced motorists."

Notice to Taxpayers

All unpaid tax bills on real estate will be advertised for sale in an early issue of The Floyd County Times. All owners of automobiles must pay taxes. The law requires the Sheriff to advertise and sell automobiles for unpaid taxes. This will be done. Respectfully,

To the People of Floyd County:

When I first stated my intention, some time ago, to seek the Democratic nomination for Sheriff of this county, I promised that I would later make a definite, clear-cut statement as to what I would do if elected your Sheriff. This I propose to do now.

Permit me, however, first of all, to recall to your memory the fact that when I was elected County Clerk I promised I would give you all good service. For several years I was honored by the privilege of serving you, and you the people are the sole judges as to whether my record as an official proves that I can and will keep my promises to you.

Now, these things I promise you on my honor to do for Floyd county and its people when I am elected Sheriff:

1. I will have only those men as my deputies who are strictly Honest, sober at all times and citizens of upright character.
2. I will pay these deputies a salary which will justify from them good service and which at the same time will make unnecessary those public. I will permit no deputy of mine to prey on the public, nor will I permit him to protect any person, in order to make a living.
3. As Sheriff I will work with the courts, and see that all warrants, summonses, etc., are executed promptly for the statutory fees. I will summon jurors who will mete out justice, without discrimination.

4. This county has a Local Option law, voted by the people. Under our system of government—the best system man has yet devised—the majority rules. This majority has declared in favor of a law forbidding the sale of intoxicants. As your Sheriff, I shall not shrink from my duty in enforcing, justly, this and all other laws.

5. The Sheriff's office has dealings with and touches every man, woman, boy or girl in the county in some respect. That is why it is an important office, and, regardless of creed, color, or station in life, I have given, and always will give, everybody the same consideration.

Every day I live, I want more than anything else that our county will be improved in morals so that our children will have a chance to grow in character as well as stature. There are more than 15,000 young boys and girls in our county whose character and citizenship depend largely on the leadership and the proper enforcement of the law.

As Sheriff I will not spend all my time in the office; I will send no man where I myself would not go. I will be out over the county with my deputies, helping the good citizens in their desire for peace and happiness, enforcing the law without fear or favor.

If the good people of Floyd county want their county to be better, and to see those things done which they have long dreamed of, they have the opportunity now to join me in a fight for that very cause. I welcome the friendship and support of all, and promise every service of which I am capable.

Sincerely,
BANNER MEADE

Nominate Mrs. Cummings To Head W'Wright Club

The April meeting of the Wheelwright Women's Club met in the club rooms, with Mrs. Robert Miller in charge of the program.

The nominating committee, Messrs. E. M. Wilkinson, F. R. Price and J. H. Cantrell reported the nomination of the following people for officers for 1949-50: Mrs. Walter B. Cummings, president; Mrs. E. Hopkins, vice-president; Mrs. J. T. Parker, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John Kunkle, recording secretary; and Mrs. G. B. Hall, treasurer. These officers were unanimously elected, and will be installed at the May meeting.

A $20 donation was made to the Cancer Control drive headed in this community by Mrs. Blaine Smith. It was decided that the Wheelwright Club should enter the "Build a Better Community" contest being sponsored by the National Federation of Women's Clubs with prizes to be awarded. The subject for the development was not decided upon.

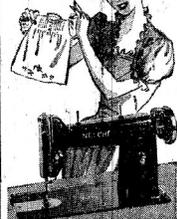

After the business meeting, the members went to the Wheelwright Community Church for the program. Mrs. Robert Miller, chairman of the department of representation, had a program of most interesting program. Mrs. Stephen W. Clark, president, introduced Mrs. Henry Fiedler, of David, who presented 40 children from that community in several songs. These youngsters were a joy to the audience, which was made up of members of the Wheelwright Club and their guests, the Wheelwright Girl Scouts and citizens of the town. Following the music of the David Junior Glee Club, Mrs. Clark introduced Harry Fiedler, who showed colored slides of Alaska, where he and Mrs. Fiedler formerly lived. The beautiful scenes of Alaska were explained by Mr. Fiedler and were enjoyed by everyone present. Mrs. Fiedler had an display several articles of Alaskan art craft which were most interesting. The Wheelwright Club is happy to announce the appreciation of this devoted group who drove all the distance from David to Wheelwright and back at no cost to the local club. Each sportsmanship from this young girl club is bound to carry its members far.

The next and last meeting of the year will be held in Community Hall May 8, at which time special guests will be husbands of the club members and our Seventh District Governor, Mrs. Millard Tolliver, who will install the new officers. A banquet is being planned by the social committee chairman, Mrs. J. H. Cantrell, and her committee members. This meeting is an annual affair and one of the highlights of the year.

BETSY LAYNE

One of the most enjoyable and best attended of the community programs of the year was Betsy Layne's school band concert held in the new auditorium last Thursday evening. The instrumental solos and complete band numbers rendered portrayed great work on the part of pupils and directors. The performance of majorities and direction of the drum major were also outstanding. Some of the patrons had a first opportunity to see the band in new uniforms. The band is a great credit to the school and community and for its success pupils and patrons are deeply grateful for the fine efforts of Mrs. Carlos Haywood and Jesse Elliott.

Medames Beecher Hardwick and Clyde Layne attended a district P-T.A. meeting at David last Wednesday.

Alex P. Davis, president of the Men's Club, left Monday with Dr. O. W. Thompson and others for Washington, D.C., in the interest of the Big Sandy canalization program.

Mrs. Minnie Woods, of Huntington, W. Va., visited her daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Howes, the first of the week.

Next Sunday is "Go-to-Sunday-School-day" and the household of Betsy Layne extend a cordial invitation to every one to attend at the church of your choice on that day. Let this Sunday be a bestman if you do not already attend.

Rev. Charles Elswick occupied the pulpit of the Methodist Church Sunday and was dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Elliott.

Glenda Lynn Blackburn spent the Easter week-end with Miss Nancy Hale, of Chesapeake, Ohio.

Mrs. Clarence Crum has returned from a hospital at Martin and is improving at her home.

Our service has no maximum or minimum. Arnold's very best is reflected, no matter if the tribute is simple or elaborate. Cost is only guided by the family's wishes... and even that need not be too high.

YEARS OF EXPERIENCE

Skill is acquired only through years of experience. The expert training of Arnold's personnel is yours at a moment's call.

AMBULANCE SERVICE

In the event of any emergency... day or night... our modern ambulance is at your service. Immediate action awaits your call.

NO MORE CLINGING DIRT OR GRIME

Du Pont House Paint Cleans itself!

Houses painted with Du Pont No. 40 Outside White are dazzling white at the start, but more important, they stay white. Du Pont "40," owing to its unique combination of pigments and oils, actually cleans itself... sheds dirt and grime with every heavy rain. Normally, this "self-cleaning" starts in a few months on most surfaces. However, excessive soot or heavy shade, or stains from metal surfaces such as copper screening, may interfere with or delay the process.

"Self-cleaning" Du Pont House Paint is also available in light tints. It assures you long-lasting protection against rust, rot and decay. Economy is yours, too. Smooth, easy application, excellent spread, high hiding... all add up in your favor when you specify Du Pont.

If the surface is bare wood or badly weathered paint, make certain a prime coat of new Du Pont House Paint Primer is applied. It assures maximum adhesion and performance of the finish coat.

DULUX Trim and Trelis Finishes Resist Fading

Outside trim and shutters keep their sparkle year after year... with extraordinary DULUX Trim and Trelis. It resists mold and fading... brushes evenly... covers solidly... dries quickly... in seven colors, including a new Blue and Bright Red that resist fading!
