This Town... That World

RELIEF AT HAND

An affidavit, captioned about the name of the numerous children who are being abandoned on one of them till he reached an "admission" the boy had suffered. "My boy" was running, the son of the streetcar catch when he was three years old and he had a three times and been well a year now. "You boys."

PLANKS DOWN A PLATFORM

It is not clear to help the author of the platform but it is to be published here, since it is to be published in a number of local papers and it also includes mention of the name of the man, but for the time being it is to be published in the Constable's office, for which is the name of the Tall-Harley Aet. Office of the Berlin Blockade and the name of the Big Sandy river.

THE BIG LET-DOWN

The new was a regular strictly to the "big" which consisted of dancing with the shoulder blades in the most comfortable chair in the town and then through a maze.

PARTY SHIFT TO COST VOTE

In Primary, Ruling Made; Many Switched in County At Recent Registration

Ramifications of no end may result from the upsets of 1949 primary election changes made in this county by voters during the registration period which recently ended.

Assistant Attorney General Walter H. Hildreth held down a ruling last week to the effect that voters who thus changed their party affiliation may not legally vote until a general election in November.

Election officers who attempt to enforce this ruling, however, will run into many objections from the voters. The registration was held by the state has no space to indicate the date on which such changes in registration were made, and so the poll officials will be operating, more or less, in the dark.

The recent registration was probably the busiest such period the County Clerk's office has ever experienced. There were 2,222 new voter registrations in addition to party and precinct changes.

MUSIC HEADS OIL GROUP

Committee Assails Tax on Gasoline in State; Okehs Highway Plans

Marion Music, of the Gulf Refining Co., Prestonsburg, was elected chairman of the Floyd County Petroleum Industries Committee at a meeting of the group in Pikeville last Friday night.

Other county officers elected were Joe Cooley, of the Broadway Service Station, Prestonsburg, vice-chairman; C. B. Marshall, of the Standard Oil Co., Weebuck, secretary. Officers of the Pike county committee were also elected at the joint meeting.

The group went on record as opposing Kentucky's 7-cent gasoline tax, which is 6 cents higher than Missouri's, 4 cents higher than Tennessee's, and 3 cents higher than that of Indiana and Ohio. Other items in the committee's seven-point program endorsed at the meeting were support of a long-range Kentucky highway plan, equitable municipal taxes, elimination of gasoline tax, free enterprise on any limited access highways built in Kentucky, intensive highway safety program and repeal of the federal tax of its cents on gasoline and 6 cents a gallon on oil.

Principal speaker of the evening was Herbert L. Clay, Louisville, executive secretary of the Kentucky Petroleum Industries Committee, who said there are now 1400 Kentucky oil men active in the 120 county committees of the state group. He urged even closer cooperation and effort in safeguarding the interests of Kentucky motorists. He pointed out that the state gasoline tax bill of a Kentuckian using 800 gallons at 7 cents is $56 a year, while a Missourian pays only $16, and motorists in Illinois pay $24, while those of Indiana and Ohio pay $22 a year.

"Lack of a long range state highway development plan is the main reason that today Kentucky has no trans-state arterial roads in first-class condition," Clay said.

Three Receive Prizes From Merchants Here

Prestonsburg merchants' prizes were awarded Thursday, as follows: $25 to Gerald Leslie, Jr., Emma; $50 to Mrs. Mabel Fitzpatrick; and $10 to Mrs. Betty Green Jones, both of Prestonsburg.

Next week's awards will total $150.

Woodrow Allen is in Chicago this week on business.

Trusty at Jail Betrays Trust, Swipes Car Of Turnkey; Now Trusted only under Bond

Thurday Lloyd Blackburn, Prestonsburg, a visitor in the jail, suddenly struck James Baldridge, a prisoner on a drunk charge, a blow with his fist. The punch landed on Baldridge's face. Blackburn was fined $1, plus $2 costs, by Magistrate G. C. Burnett.

Also in jail are three soldiers, all of the natural body openings. They are listed as James W. Perry, Arthur Neaseh and Robert LaPalme.

His bond on the auto theft charge was set at $1,000.

Work Return Seen Monday

Floyd county's miners, along with all others in the Southern coal field, will return to work Monday for a week of mine operation before the annual vacation period begins June 25, it was said this week.

Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers Association, announced Tuesday he had been assured of the return to work by John Owens, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers.

"This would end a one-week work stoppage called by John L. Lewis' 'a period of stabilizing negotiations.'"

Meanwhile negotiations continued between Southern operators and the UMW with the hope of reaching a contract agreement before expiration June 30 of the present wage pact.

Southern producers are trying to push toward a new contract with John L. Lewis' union before another part of the industry beats them to it.

"I thought it was a pretty good meeting," was all the operators' chief negotiator, Joseph E. Moody, would say about progress of Tuesday bargaining session in Bluefield, W. Va.

Lewis also has been bargaining with U.S. Steel for a contract for about a matter of months away. The C. & O. had pointed to operation of the trains at a loss.

Railroad witnesses contended, on cross-examination that passenger service on the Big Sandy division is adequate and modern. Main testimony of the railway company was heard by Frankfort Tuesday.

It was the result of the public being given at last week's hearing.

OUR MISTAKE

Unintentionally omitted last week from the list of recent University of Kentucky graduates was the name of Sally L. Conley Schaefer, of Garrett, who received her M.A. degree.

SPECIAL HELP IN VOTE CASE

Asked by Mr. Stephens; Four State Attorneys Listed in Speculation

Lexington, Ky., June 15—The names of four prominent Kentucky attorneys were put at the top of the list today in speculation over the possibility of outside counsel helping the government prosecute the Bourbon county election-truad case. U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark confirmed in Washington he had received a suggestion from U. S. District Attorney Claude P. Stephens here that special counsel be used in the case to assist him. Quoting an authoritative source, The Lexington Leader listed the four attorneys whose names had been offered for appointment as U. S. Attorney General: A. E. Fink, Jr., Brown, III, Louisville; U. S. District Attorney for the Western district of Kentucky; Jesse K. Lewis, Frankfort, former assistant state attorney general; Robert Meredith, former state Attorney General; and Charles Dawson, Louisville attorney. The Leader said an organization now in the process of forming intended the names to Stephens. It added that objectives of the proposed operations could not be determined immediately. Edward P. Fink, Jr., formerly closely associated with high Lexington officials, and his son, John P. Fink, Jr., son of the present Kentucky Attorney General, were indicted by the May grand jury on charges of conspiracy in connection with the case. Vote tabulators found 245 forged ballots in 11 Bourbon county precincts during the November 1948 presidential election. The case is set for trial July 5.

State Police Exams To Begin July 11th

Competitive examinations will be given, beginning July 11, for applicants to the Kentucky State Police, Commissioner Guintrie Crowe announced last night. The deadline for all applications is June 30. Application blanks are available at all district offices or at headquarters in Frankfort. Information may be obtained from any proper one of the district offices. Time and place of the exams will be announced later. Applicants making the highest grades on the examinations and meeting the qualifications for the Kentucky State Police will be given an interview following the exam. New recruits will be taken into service in rooms as the examinations are finished and it is determined which applicants made the highest grades. All men must be hired on a competitive basis. Starting salary for a trooper is $70 per month. He is given a new uniform as well as vacation time and sick leave with pay. Qualifications for becoming a citizen trooper state that he must be a citizen and resident of Kentucky, of good moral character, not less than 21 nor more than 35 years of age, at least five feet, nine inches in height, weigh at least 130 pounds, and possess a high school diploma or its equivalent. Credit is given for previous police administration or law enforcement work.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

I still announce myself as a candidate for Judge. I am the son of the late G. B. Tackett, and Mernda Harmon Tackett whom most of the people of this county knew. Also, most of you know me. I am sober, honest and an up-standing man, loyal to my friends and people and will do anything for them at any time that I can richly do. I have worked hard in the mines for 28 years. I joined the first Union that came into this county and helped organize it. I am now a member of Local Union No. 5999. Now I have come a long time when I have spent almost half my life in the mines and I think my people and friends and brothers and sisters in the Old Regular Baptist Church ought to help me if they can. It will be long remembered by me and my family. If you elect me I will do my duty to the people of Floyd county. My father always did his part for his friends and I hope you people of Floyd county will think the same. I will appreciate your help in the primary, August 6.

SIE TACKETT
Melvin, Ky.

I am not a politician who will shake your hand and hug your neck or make wild promises in order to get your vote. I am just a veteran who is trying to do a good job for the people and to do service which will permit me to go to sleep at night knowing that I have wronged no one, but feeling that I have contributed something to the betterment of my country. Some folks fail to keep in mind at all times that the lasting things and the truest friendships are based on things deeper than "glad-handing," back-slapping and honeyed, hypocritical phrases. There are some who may expect of me a loud welcome and a show of cheerfulness for their particular benefit. Such folks call me a DISGRACE TO BE A POOR POLITICIAN.

I prefer to be an every-day friend, treating all alike, going about the business of being a public servant with as little show as possible. Frankly, some of my experiences of recent years have been such that being gay and light-hearted comes hard to me. I have served you as County Clerk for the past four years. I have done the work as it should be done, keeping the office open six days a week and I have never refused to open the office for the public at any hour of the day or night since I have been in office. I am not trying to get rich by collecting every dime possible, but have given free services in many cases, thus looking to the welfare of the citizens of this county.

The teachers of Floyd county who came to me to have their retirement papers filled out and acknowledged did not pay, although according to law I should have collected at least one dollar from each of them. I have turned over to the Floyd County Fish and Game Club the hunting and fishing licenses so that they might be sold in various places convenient to the public. I permitted the Club to retain a major share of the fees, thus contributing hundreds of dollars each year to help it protect and increase game and fish reserves in Floyd county. Floyd county stands near the top in the sale of hunting and fishing licenses as a result of my cooperation with the Fish and Game Club.

No person has ever been charged by me for writing a deed, regardless of how far I have gone out in the county to take the every other blank form have been furnished free of charge to the public and never have I charged or permitted anyone to charge for them. I have paid the postage on all deeds, other documents and automobile licenses mailed from this office. That service alone saves the public hundreds of dollars a year. We spend more each day looking up deeds and mortgages and other public records for people and never make any charge for this service.

We acknowledge and place the county seal on thousands of papers for veterans, miners, teachers and old people and never do I charge, although not all know the law says that I shall collect fifty cents for each time I use the seal. People, I have tried to comply with the law in all respects and have been frank and honest in dealing with you and in handling your business, thus looking to your happiness and making your protection. I have examined each paper you have lodged for record and have advised you if I saw anything wrong.

I have handled the elections for the last four years as straight and as honest as possible, giving advice and fair treatment to all parties concerned. I believe the public appreciates the fairness and rapidity with which the votes have been counted during my term of office. All past elections as well as the coming ones have been and will be handled with strict impartiality on my part.

Never has any veteran been charged for having his discharge records to have paid thousands of dollars in salary to persons to record these discharges without remuneration to myself. I have furnished hundreds of free copies of discharges to the Veterans Administration and no man has ever paid more than one dollar for a copy of his discharge from this office, for his personal use, although at least sixty-two other counties in this state charge one dollar and fifty cents for this same service. It was necessary for me to charge this cost of hiring typists for this work by law, to help defray the cost of hiring typists for this work.

I have conducted my private life in a sober and dignified manner so that you, the public, could be proud of me as a public official. When I have told you anything, you know that I have told you the truth. I may not be a "Back-Slapper" or a "Smooth-Tongued" politician but I have served you with complete honesty and truthfulness. Friends, you don't owe me a thing for the services I have performed, but you do owe yourselves every effort possible in selecting the person you know will faithfully and honestly serve you as your County Clerk. This is perhaps the most important office in the county in its effect on your personal life and well-being because here are recorded the deeds which protect your title to your home; the marriage records which protect your rights and titles to property; your voting records which insure the exercise of your birthright; and virtually every document concerning your happiness and welfare. You owe to yourself and to place a man in charge who will protect and safeguard these documents as he would his life.

Sincerely,
Jarvis Allen

Robinson-Martin Vows Said at Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. Charles W. Miller, of Louisville, announces the marriage of her daughter, Jane Hudson Robinson, to Mr. Henry Graden Martin, of Norfolk, Va., at Norfolk, Va., at 4:30 o'clock at Norfolk, Va. The double ring ceremony was read by Dr. J. McColligan, pastor of the First Christian Church, in which the marriage vows were exchanged. An organ prelude of music was rendered by the bride and groom. The altar was decorated with blue hydrangeas and tall white taper burning. Greg's "I Love Thee" was played during the ceremony.

Mrs. Robinson wore a bride's pink organza dress with bouffant skirt and bands of pink insertion and lace over white organza. Her picture hat was light blue and she completed the ensemble. The bride's corsage was of pink roses and gardenias. The attendants were her mother, Mrs. Charles W. Miller, and Miss Edith B. Merrill participated. A supper was served at the Blue Candle Light Supper club to the bride and groom and friends attending the ceremony. They left via ship for Baltimore and will visit relatives in Washington before they return to Prestonsburg where Mr. Martin is county supervisor of rural schools.

They will be at home in Lexington for the summer while Mr. Martin continues his studies at the summer session of the University of Kentucky. They will return here for school work in August. Mr. Martin returned to Norfolk Sunday from a two weeks' vacation on the USS Mastatic to and from Cuba. They have the best wishes of their many friends throughout the county.

Sgt. Patrick Hicks, - Army Vet of 20 Years, On Way Home in County

Augsburg, Germany, May 21 (AP)—A 20-year-veteran from Floyd county, Ky., Sgt. Patrick H. Hicks departed yesterday from Augsburg (Germany) Military Post to Bremerhaven, Germany, for shipment to the United States, after completing his tour of duty in the European Command.

The sergeant entered the service in 1922 at Ft. Thomas, Ky., and after four years of statewide duty he served in the Panama Canal Zone with the 14th infantry until 1938. He joined the 36th Infantry Regiment in Hawaii in 1939 and served as a squad leader and platoon sergeant until 1942.

After the outbreak of World War II, Hicks transferred to the 25th Infantry Division and fought as a platoon sergeant in the Asiatic-Pacific theater with the 27th Regiment until the end of the war.

Hicks then received his overseas assignment to the European Command with the War Crimes Group at Landsberg, Germany, near Augsburg. When the War Crimes Group was deactivated, he accepted the position as provisional battalion sergeant major of Headquarters, 27th Station Complement Unit at Augsburg.

Hicks holds the Good Conduct medal, American Theater Ribbon, Asiatic-Pacific Theater Ribbon with four battle stars, Red-Pink Harbor Ribbon with one star, Occupation of Germany Ribbon, World War II Ribbon, Bronze Star, Silver Star for exemplary conduct beyond the call of duty against the armed enemy, and the Combat Infantry Badge.

Sgt. Hicks is a son of the late Jonathan Hicks, of Blue River, Ky.

FOR JAILER
We are authorized to announce that F. F. HEDDEN, of Heysville, Ky., as a candidate for subject to the action of the Democratic party at the August primary.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

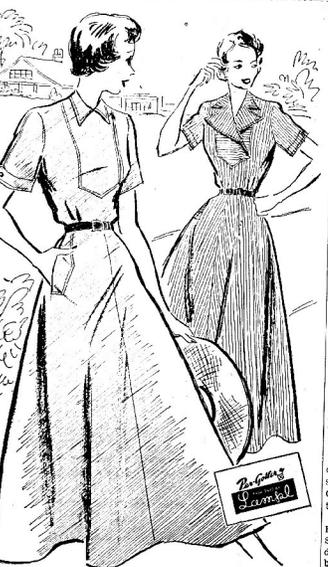

In announcing my candidacy for jailer of Floyd county I will not make a lot of promises. I have no intention of keeping. This office is one of importance as it is looked by too many people. The unfortunate people confined to the care of the Jailer need guidance as well as being controlled. I will try my level best to send the boys back home better men than when they were confined.

I am a member of Local Union 835, U.M.W. of A. However, I am sensible enough to know that the U.M.W. of A. has for its main purpose the promotion of free collective bargaining and does not enter politics except in rare instances and then to defeat known enemies. I claim no special privileges because of my membership in the U.M.W. of A. however, if you care to vote for a Union Buddy it will be highly appreciated.

I was born and raised on the waters of the Beaver Creeks and I know and understand the problems of the people of Floyd county. In short, I promise a fair deal to all the people all the time.

GRAVE WORK TO BEGIN SOON

In Johns Creek Area; Work on Dam at Dewey Now 97 Per Cent Done

An official of the Greenbrier Farms, Norfolk, Va., division of the contract for removal of graves from the Johns Creek reservoir area in the Johns Creek watershed and beginning of the task of transferring approximately 800 bodies to new graves is expected to be started within the next few days.

The firm was awarded the contract on its bid of $44,444. Bodies removed will be reburied in two cemeteries, one at Auxler and another on the Auxler road. The contract also covers erection of tombstones at the new graves.

As this project was almost ready to be started, Winston Ford and Arvie L. Bufford, contractors on the relocation of highways in the reservoir area, were in their second week of work.

The dam itself stood 97 per cent complete last week. Purchase of property rights from landowners in the area remains probably the biggest job yet to be done.

Road construction along the western shore of the lake is to be formed by unconsolidated construction from German down to the mouth of Clark Branch. No provision has been made, however, for road work on the eastern shore of the lake itself, approximately a mile from that point on to the dam.

This is seen as a job for the county, 60 per cent, otherwise there will be no highway connection with the dam from the Floyd county end.

Removal of graves is to be completed within four months after work is started.

FOR MAGISTRATE

We are authorized to announce that W. B. HICKS, of Prestonsburg, as a candidate for

MAGISTRATE, DIST. 1
subject to the action of the Republican party at the August primary.

Let Them See For Themselves

THIS newspaper was not represented at the hearing held in Pikeville last Thursday when the people of the Big Sandy sought to prove the necessity and practicability of passenger train service along the valley.

So it quotes others when it reports one bit of railroad testimony to the effect that the Big Sandy division passenger trains are comparable to the C. & O.'s well-known George Washington.

We're not going to argue with anybody about that. Instead, we simply suggest that the members of the Kentucky Railroad Commission again pay a visit to the Big Sandy valley. Let them, first, board the George Washington, enjoy its cleanliness, its diner and other conveniences—then let them step straight from that train at Ashland to the train up Sandy.

If, by the time they have been jerked and jolted from one stop to another as far as Prestonsburg, they are not convinced that that Sandy River train isn't more comfortable than the George Washington—so help us, we'll refund their money.

Moreover, we'll buy them a return ticket home by whatever method of transportation they prefer.

Now Is the Time

THE lake-to-be on Johns Creek will be not only a mecca for fishermen but also a splendid recreation spot for persons of all ages.

But it will be no Norris or Dale Hollow—two large, sprawling reservoirs of the TVA lakes. The valley it will fill is comparatively narrow; the lake itself will be only a dozen miles, or thereabouts, in length at pool stage.

Because of its narrowness and its importance to vast section until now denied recreation on a lake near home, it follows that speed-boating is a sport for which the reservoir will not be a d a p t e d.

Hair-Breadth Harry lactics in powerfully motorized boats will not only inconvenience those who follow the more sedate sport of fishing but will also actually endanger the lives of women and youngsters seeking leisurely enjoyment in boating.

Whoever has the authority to limit the number of boats to do something about it, should do so without further delay establish a limit on the horsepower of motors to be used on the lake. This should be done, now, for three reasons:

1. It is not practical to permit motors of unlimited size to be operated and to seek out speeding by speed limit enforcement. Water traffic cops are not quite the thing needed.

2. Those planning the purchase of motors should know how powerful the motor to be allowed on the lake.

3. Those who now have over-size motors should be given an opportunity to dispose of them before the lake opens.

If this is to be a recreation spot for all, lake steps now to curb the few who would send others rolling in the backwash of their motors.

Mrs. Robert Stephens, Tuberculosis Victim

Mrs. Sadie Mae Stephens, 24-year-old wife of Robert Stephens, Jr., succumbed at her home at Water Gap Tuesday morning, a victim of tuberculosis.

Mrs. Stephens was a daughter of Robert Elliott, of West Prestonsburg. She leaves her husband and one daughter, Priscilla Lynn. Surviving brothers and sisters are Robert, of Mantion, Ky.; Shannon, Lucy, Cynthia, Kathleen, Manie, Belle and Peggy Sue, all at home, and Mrs. Magdalen Calhoun, of Dwale.

Funeral rites were conducted today (Thursday) from the school at Water Gap, the Revs. Wayne Blanton and Green Boyd officiating. Burial in the Wright cemetery was directed by the Arnold Funeral Home.

pockets an accumulation of papers. No, it wasn't that letter; he'd mailed it.

Squaring his shoulders, he strode briskly into the living room and set his feet like a sea captain braced against the lurch of his ship, and demanded, "Just what is this? I supposed to know, I'd like to know, and now is it you all know so much that I can't know?"

The family looked him over with commiseration. "Why," said Junior—the big stiff—"Iather mine, it's next Sunday you should know about."

"Ah, Father's Day, Good-old Dad! The poor chump brightened visibly.

"You know, Dad," the son continued, "you promised us, a month ago, you'd take us on a picnic next Sunday."

"Who got my magazine?" roared Poor Pa.

BOUNTY ON SCALPS, WASTE OF MONEY?

After more than 200 years of bloodletting and scalp-collecting, most conservation experts agree that it's a waste of money to set a price on the heads of foxes, coyotes, weasels, wolves, certain kinds of hawks and owls, mountain lions and such. One of the few good things about the bounty system is that it is the hunters' money going down the drain, not the general taxpayers'.

Predators have been quite happy under the Pennsylvania bounty system which started in 1838. Gray foxes are increasing and expanding their range. Red foxes have thrived under the system. There has been no noticeable decline in weasels, destructive hawks and such.

The answer adds up to the same: bounties apparently do not control predators. However, predators must be controlled at times, and if the bounty system doesn't work, what will?

States are now trying to educate their citizens to accept the logical solution—intense local war, where needed on predators by professional trappers and exterminators, plus the education of farmer-trappers in the same sort of work.

LET'S HAVE A CHANGE

(Pol. adv.)

Scouts To Open Summer Camp, June 30, At Camp Arrowhead; Changes Described

Camp Arrowhead, Boy Scout camp of the Loudoun Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America, will open for the 1949 summer camp, Thursday, June 30.

Camp Arrowhead, which is perhaps the outstanding project of the 15 counties comprising the Loudoun Pine Council, has long been a place of interest and adventure for the hundreds of Scouts in the Council. Several changes will be made at the camp this summer to improve the program and sleeping facilities. This will include china and silverware cooking utensils, athletic equipment including softball, volley ball, tether ball and horseshoes, new tent platforms, new handcraft building and new float or ramp for the waterfront.

The central staff has been completed for some weeks and promised to be one of the strongest ever serving at Camp Arrowhead. Acting as athletic director and responsible for the program will be Edward J. Dillon, field executive of the Virginia area, a professional Scoutmaster for three years and a graduate of the national camp training school. Serving as provisional scoutmaster, storekeeper and campfire director will be Arthur Wrightson, new field executive who is now attending the national training school at Mendham, N.J. Mr. Wrightson is an Eagle Scout and has had considerable experience as a Scout leader. Waterfront director will be Eagle Scout Delbert West, now a student in Wilmington College. Mr. West has had five years' experience in Scout camps and is a graduate of the Scout national aquatic school. Handcraft director and in charge of the national camp fraternity, Order of the Arrow will be Eagle Scout James Owens of Paintsville, now a student in Pikeville College.

Special activities features for this year will be a morning Scoutcraft program, offering Scout campers a chance to advance in practically any subject, with emphasis to be placed on outdoor requirements. The morning swim period will be on the instruction basis, with the aim of the waterfront director being to teach every one to swim who can't swim and for those who can, to become more proficient. Following the noon-day meal a variety of activities will be offered, including handcraft, leathercraft, metalcraft, archery, rifle shooting, Indian lore, seamanship, rope work, whip-cracking and other skills. Following this activity period, the entire camp will participate in wide games such as gold rush, scavenger hunt, adventure trail, capture the flag and others. The afternoon swim will be a free period with the big idea being to have as much fun as possible. Following "retreat ceremony" and supper, the troops will participate in athletic competition, to be followed by campfire with songs and stories.

Reservations are already beginning to come into the office and all troops are urged to register as soon as possible in order to be assured of a camp site during the week of their choice. Following the Scout camp, which will terminate on July 27, Camp Arrowhead will be made available to the Girl Scout organization for a week-end, to the Christian Church group under the leadership of the Rev. H. J. Farmer, of Elkton City, for one week, and to the Methodist Youth Fellowship for the following week-end.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY

Maybe you have been wondering why in the two years and nine months you have been getting my weekly pieces I haven't written much about Henderson. Well, I've been waiting for the community to do something big enough at least to lead off with one major achievement to which I could hang a general story.

Now I have it. Toward the end of the late war the federal government built a $600,000 hospital at Atkinson Park. The hospital was supposed to be for military use, perhaps because it was only 20 miles from Camp Breckinridge. But, whether the government had a good reason for spending $600,000 for a hospital in Henderson is neither here nor there.

For two years the hospital was leased to the county and city jointly. Under political management it ran rather well in the first year. Then up to the government to dispose of it and up to the community to acquire it.

Recently the city and county did what they could to help financially and the Methodist Church proposed to take over the hospital and operate it if the public would raise $68,000 to put the institution in the clear. The climax of the story is that the people went down into their jeans for the $68,000 and $12,000 more.

Henderson's fine health center, also built by the government, will be owned and operated by the county and city jointly.

The Henderson Lions Club furnishes free examinations and free glasses for every underprivileged child in the city and county, regardless of race or religion. The money for this work is raised mainly by selling sight seals once a year.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce bought equipment for a free dental clinic and operates it in conjunction with the Health Department. This clinic serves all underprivileged children in the city and county. Much of the money for this project is raised with an annual Turtle Derby held in the high school stadium. The dentists of Henderson serve the clinic free of charge.

The Jaycees also equipped a large playground known as Goodfellow's Field, for softball and other sports, which led to the establishment of other playgrounds in the city.

L. Allen Rhoads, district governor of the Lions, and active member of the Jaycees, tells of many other projects, educational and recreational, that the two service clubs have sponsored, but there is not space enough for all of them in this article.

EYDER HEADS GAS GROUP

ing brothers and sisters, Edward and Amos Christian, both of Mossy Bottom, Mrs. Mary Miller, Quantico, Va., Mrs. Violet Bryan, Desplains, O., Mrs. Clara Louise Dietrich, New Orleans, La., Mrs. Elaine Mammont, Dayton, Ohio.

Arch Thompson, state police detective, assisted county authorities in the investigation and concluded the attempt to determine the manner in which Christian was killed with the questioning today (Thursday) of Carrie Prater, Bertha Gibson and Pauline Conley, the three women of Garrett and vicinity who were with Christian and the other two men on the night of Christian's death. Detective Thompson expressed the opinion Christian was the victim of a hit-run driver.

State police continue with a search for the death car.

Dr. R. M. Sirkie, Prestonsburg, who saw the body, some time between 5 and 6 a.m., pointed out that blood had run from where the body lay near the middle of the road to form a pool of the pavement. He pointed out that, if Christian had been killed elsewhere and placed on the highway, blood would not have run from the body.

Rigor mortis had set in at the time Dr. Sirkie arrived on the scene. A point which puzzled authorities was the time element, with Christian leaving the auto four miles from the scene of his death at 2 a.m., and apparently walking four miles to the spot where he died early enough for rigor mortis to develop between 5 and 6 a.m.

The Southerners would like to reach an agreement before they are faced with accepting one inside somewhere else.

Neither Moody nor Owens, who leads the miners' bargaining team, would comment on widespread reports that a move is under way to name a " czar " or " coordinator " for the coal industry and that Northern operators are in favor of the plan.

"Any comment at this time would be premature," Moody said. He added that the Southern association has not been approached for its reaction to such a move.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway announced Tuesday that shop employees and track crews doing programmed work would remain at work during the coal mine shutdown this week, but that approximately 3,700 trainmen and others directly concerned with train operations would be furloughed over the system.

Train operating personnel will be laid off gradually as hauling from the mines stops.

Physicians Agree
Epidemic of Polio
Possible This Year

An epidemic of infantile paralysis is distinctly possible in Kentucky this year, doctors agreed at Lexington this week.

The doctors, queried in a survey, cited polio outbreaks in the state already are planning adequate treatment facilities. Refresher courses in treatment for doctors and nurses are included.

The preparations "have been prompted by a trend showing the disease usually moves in cycles, hitting a general area of the United States every four to six years.

"This cycle is not always accurate, the doctors said. Some areas have had epidemics in two consecutive years. Some have gone much longer than six years.

The last serious epidemic in Kentucky was in 1944, when 759 cases were reported. Medical authorities are warning on a possibility the cycle may bring an epidemic this year, the fifth since the last widespread outbreak.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Collins and children are visiting her parents at Cliff this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Arrowood are visiting relatives at Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cole are visiting relatives at Bethel.

Mrs. Pete Capelli and son, John L. and daughter, Evelyn, have returned from a visit with Mrs. Capelli's mother at Lynch.

Misses Jackie and Peggy Bartley, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Tandy Bartley, left last week for Tennessee, where they will attend summer school.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grain and Mrs. Doreen Wash, all of Louisville, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Grain here.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wain, of Louisville, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Blankenship visited Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Childers here last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wise and son were visiting Mrs. Wise's parents at Garrett last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Clark visited Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wilson, last week-end.

Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Durham had as their guests Sunday Miss Betty Johnson of Prestonsburg.

The daily variation Bible school at the David Community Church is growing in interest and attendance with each day. The first day, there was an attendance of 70; the second day, there was an attendance of 82. If your children are not yet in the school, please send them, as the school will last only two weeks.

The revival meeting at the David Church is starting off nicely. Rev. Duke is preaching some great sermons. If you are not hearing him you are missing a great treat and blessing. Every one is invited.

It is indeed a pleasure for me to visit among you many good friends of our county. I have spent several weeks now traveling over the county. The more of you that I see and become acquainted with, the better that I will understand the needs, the desires, and the problems of our friends and neighbors who in the County Clerk's office.

We will have several days before election day, and I will try hard to see and become acquainted with many more of you. You give me courage to keep on and on. If you elect me, I will work in office just as hard and diligent as I have worked in this campaign. As I go over the county, you good people help me to realize more and more each day that you are the boss at the polls and that this year, regardless of politics or politicians, you are going to make your choice at the polls for the best interests of our homes and our communities we hope to build in the future. We want our children to become better educated, and live happier and better lives than we have been able to live.

Let us hope that in this election the people will win at the polls. Let us hope that greater confidence will be placed in the men we elect to office, and who does not understand us in office we cannot understand, and who does not understand us. Let's not have some one in the Clerk's office that we do not feel are our friends, that we cannot love and respect, and above all that we do not trust. If you elect me, I will try hard to conduct your County Court Clerk's office, and myself, in such a way that you will feel proud of your office.

I might not get to see every one of you before August 6, but I will be trying to meet you and become acquainted. In case I don't see you, I wish to say this at this time, through this great county newspaper, that every family in the County Court Clerk's office in the next four years, and with your help only, will it be possible for me to serve you, as your County Court Clerk, and that after I am elected, the office will still belong to you, yours to give and yours to take away. If you will help me, you will be able to conduct the Clerk's office during the next four years to transact business or to visit, and you will feel at home, and among friends. No job will be too large or too small for me to fail to work with you and your family and your friends for the welfare of us all.

My father was born on Left Beaver, his mother was Susan Mosley who married William (Wid) Henderson Branch above Wayland. My mother was the daughter of John A. Jones, who lived near Hindman. The time he was in service in the last war, I married Kathleen Campbell, daughter of Turner Campbell, of Mousie. After the war was over, and I returned from Japan, we settled down at Martin among relatives and friends. I have been in school at Caney Creek with many of you and your sons and daughters, and although my education was interrupted by the war, and I didn't go through college, I have sufficient education to make you a good County Court Clerk. I hope that you will be able to help me attain this position.

I appreciate the courtesy that many of you have shown me to you for the privilege of serving as County Court Clerk, and may the friendships that we form be everlasting and beneficial to us all in the future.

If not obligated to someone else, I will appreciate your help in this race, and will do my best to make you glad that you helped me.

Your friend,
DuRAN MOORE

Mine Electrician Dies At Mantion After Heart Attack Preceding Day

Stricken by a heart attack at his home at Mantion, Wednesday afternoon last week, Henry B. Hampton, 53 years old, chief electrician for the Stephens Ekhorn Fuel Corp., died at 8 a.m. the following day.

A son of the late John Hampton, he was a native of Jeremiah, Letcher county, and had resided at Mantion the last three years. He was a member of the Regular Baptist Church.

To Broadcast Service Over WLSI, Sunday

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Paulina Caudill Hampton, seven sons and daughters, Charles Liggett, J. D. and Jean, all of Mantion, Mrs. Bessie Clifford, Miss Betty Hampton and Mrs. Audrey Steger, all of Chesapeake. Nine brothers, and sisters also survive.

The body was taken to Jeremiah where funeral rites were conducted Saturday by the Revs. Buddy Caudill, Monroe Caudill and Roy Whitaker. Burial in the family cemetery was directed by the Arnold Funeral Home.

The annual memorial service conducted by the Assembly of God Church, West Prestonsburg, will be broadcast Sunday afternoon from 2 till 3 direct from the tent in which services will be conducted. The broadcast, made over WLSI, Pineville, will be directed by the pastor, the Rev. G. R. Pannin.

The Reverend Hincker, evangelist, is preaching to large crowds at the tent meeting, every evening this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Frasier were in Louisville and Cincinnati this week on business.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

It is indeed a pleasure for me to visit among you many good friends of our county. I have spent several weeks now traveling over the county. The more of you that I see and become acquainted with, the better that I will understand the needs, the desires, and the problems of our friends and neighbors whom in the County Clerk's office.

We will have several days before election day, and I will try hard to see and become acquainted with many more of you. You give me courage to keep on and on. If you elected me, I will work in office just as hard and diligent as I have worked in this campaign. As I go over every county, you good people help me to realize more and more each day that you are the boss at the polls and that this year, regardless of politics or politicians, you are going to make your choice at the polls for the best interests of our homes and our communities we hope to build in the future. We want our children to become better educated, and live happier and better lives than we have been able to live.

Let us hope that in this election the people will win at the polls. Let us hope that greater confidence will be placed in the men we elect to office. Let's not have some one in office we cannot understand, and who does not understand us. Let's not have some one in the Clerk's office that we do not feel are our friends, that we cannot love and respect, and above all that we do not trust. If you elect me, I will try hard to conduct your County Court Clerk's office, and myself, in such a way that you will feel proud of your office.

I might not get to see every one of you before August 5, but I will be trying to meet you and become acquainted, in case I don't see you. I wish to say this at this time, through this great county newspaper, that every family in the county will have some kind of business or interest in the County Court Clerk's office in the next four years, and I want each and every one of you to feel that I realize that, with your help only, will it be possible for me to serve you as your County Court Clerk, and that after I am elected, the office will still belong to you, yours to give and yours to take away. If you will help me, you will be able to come into the Clerk's office during the next four years to transact business or to visit, and you will feel at home, and among friends. No job will be too large or too small for me to fail to work with you and your family and your friends for the welfare of us all.

My father was born on Left Beaver. His mother was Susie Moseley who married William (Wid) Henderson Moore, and after his death she moved over onto Salisbury Branch above Wayland. My mother was the daughter of John A. Jones, who lived near Hinton. During the time I was in service in the last war, I married Kathleen Campbell, daughter of Turner Campbell, of Mousie. After the war was over, and I returned from Japan, we settled down at Martin among relatives and friends. I have been in school at Capey Creek with many of you and your sons and daughters, and although my education was interrupted by the war, and I didn't go through college, I have sufficient education to make you a good County Clerk. I hope that you will be able to help me attain this position. I appreciate the courtesy that many of you have shown me in this campaign. If elected, I will forever be grateful to you for the privilege of serving as County Court Clerk, and may the friendships that we form be everlasting and beneficial to us all in the future.

If not obligated to someone else, I will appreciate your help in this race, and will do my best to make you glad that you helped me.

Your friend,
DuRAN MOORE

WATER STUDY PLANS MADE

State, Last in Nation To Begin Study; LaViers On Policy-Making Body

Frankfort, Ky., June 11—Kentucky has been the 48th state to start a planned study of water resources. Federal and state geological officials met yesterday in the offices of the Agricultural and Industrial Development Board and agreed upon the program.

The board has selected the help of five other state agencies to make the study. They are the Departments of Agriculture, Conservation, Health, Highways, and Mines and Minerals.

The state will put up $60,000 and the federal government will match that with $90,000 to finance the program.

The study will cover surface water flow and control, ground-water supplies, and the chemical content of water in Kentucky.

George W. Hahley, director of the A. & D. Board, announced the agreement on the water project today. Objectives of the study are to provide flood-control data, locate wells for farmers, protect city water supplies from pollution, give the highway department information on underground water, and give industries seeking to settle in Kentucky any water resources details they need.

J.V.B. Wells, Washington, chief of the Surface-Water Branch, U. S. Geological Survey, said Kentucky's plan stacks up about average with other states financially and better than average on integration and cooperation among state agencies.

In addition to Hahley and Wells, those attending yesterday's meeting were: Dr. Nelson Sayre, Washington; W. L. Lamar, Columbus, Ohio; M. L. Rorabaugh and F. F. Schrader, both of Louisville, all of the U.S.G.S.; Dr. D.K. Hamilton, director of the Kentucky Geological Survey; Dan Jones, state geologist; F. C. Dugan, state sanitary engineer, Health Department; Stephen Wakefield and O. W. Chinn, Conservation Department.

Commissioner Harry P. Walters and Deputy Commissioner Holmes Ellis, State Agriculture Department; E. D. Smith, chief bridge engineer; Clifford R. Barnes, state budget director; and Don P. Brown, chief of the Research Division, A.&I.D. Board.

Schrader was named chairman of the subcommittee of contributing agencies which will meet from time to time with a policy-making committee of the state which includes: Stephen Wakefield and Charlesfield; Ivan Zeitl, Georgetown; and Harry LaViers, Palmville.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

As the primary election campaign drew on nearer its close, it became evident to me and to Bill Hall that for either to win the Democratic nomination for Sheriff there must be a union of our people and our forces. So, during the last several days, by agreement between Bill Hall and myself, a canvass of most of the voting precincts of Floyd County was made by representatives of both of us, with the understanding existing between us that the man determined by this canvass to be the stronger would make the race and the other would withdraw.

This canvass has been completed, and the results show Bill Hall to have the greater strength. So, in accordance with my agreement and as a man of my word, I am withdrawing from the race.

Our agreement had one consideration in addition to the test of strength, and one only. That was that whichever of us withdrew would give the other his full support in every way within his means.

Knowing Bill Hall would have done the same, had he lost, and having the fullest confidence in him as a man and as a citizen who will render you all splendid and honest service as Sheriff, I unhesitatingly endorse his candidacy. I ask all my friends and relatives to join with me in the fight to nominate him in August and elect him Sheriff in November.

Sanatorium Opening At Ashland Delayed By Lack of Water

Opening of the new state tuberculosis sanatorium at Ashland is being delayed for lack of a water supply. Construction work is practically complete, but C. B. Gray, of the contracting firm of Gray & Perkins, said he has been told by J. E. Stearns, of the State Division of Engineering, "It may be a very long time" before the 113-bed hospital begins operation.

The Ashland City Council agreed to spend up to $9,000 to run a water main to the hospital, south of the city limits on Route 60, but a water spokesman said this will now cost nearly $35,000.

WATER STUDY PLANS MADE

State, Last in Nation To Begin Study; LaViers On Policy-Making Body

Frankfort, Ky., June 11—Kentucky has been the 48th state to start a planned study of water resources. Federal and state geological officials met here yesterday in the offices of the Agricultural and Industrial Development Board and agreed upon the program.

The board has enlisted the help of five other state agencies to make the study. They are the Departments of Agriculture, Conservation, Health, Highways, and Mines and Minerals. The state will put up $60,000 and the federal government will match that with $90,000 to finance the project.

The study will cover surface water, ground water, ground-water supplies, and the chemical contents of water in Kentucky. George W. Hubley, director of the A. & D. Board, announced the agreement of the water project today.

Objectives of the study are to provide flood-control data, locate wells for farmers, protect city water supplies from pollution, give the Highway Department information on underground water, and give industry seeking to settle in Kentucky any water resources details they want.

J.V.B. Wells, Washington, chief of the Surface Water Branch, U. S. Geological Survey, said Kentucky's plan stacks up about average which other states financially and better than average on integration and co-operation among state agencies.

In addition to Hubley and Wells, those attending yesterday's meeting were: Dr. Nelson Sayre, Washington; W. L. Lamarr, Columbus, Ohio; M. L. Rorbaugh and P. F. Schrader, both of Louisville, all of the U.S.G.S.; Dr. K. Hamilton, director of the Kentucky Geological Survey; Dan Jones, state geologist; P. O. Dugan, state sanitary engineer, Health Department; Stephen Waisfield and O. W. Chinn, Conservation Department.

Commissioner Harry F. Walters and Deputy Commissioner Holmes Ellis, State Agriculture Department; E. D. Smith, chief bridge engineer; Clifford R. Barnes, state budget director, and Donald P. Brown, chief of the Research Division, A&I.D. Board.

Schneider was named chairman of the subcommittee of contributing agencies which will meet from time to time with a policy-making committee of the A. & D. Board. The latter consists of Martin Brown, Clearfield; Ivan Zeitl, Georgetown, and Harry LaViers, Paintsville.

Mud Creek Farmers Buy Registered Bulls

Two purebred milk-stock bulls have been added to Mud Creek herds. It was announced this week by T. TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

As the primary election campaign draws nearer its close, it became evident to me and to Bill Hall that for children to win the Democratic nomination for Sheriff there must be a union of our people and our forces. So, during the last several days, by agreement between Bill Hall and myself, a canvass of most of the voting precincts of Floyd County was made by representatives of both of us, with the understanding existing between us that the man determined by this canvass to be the stronger would make the race and the other would withdraw.

This canvass has been completed, and the results show Bill Hall to have the greater strength. So, in accordance with my agreement and as a man of my word, I am withdrawing from the race.

Our agreement had one consideration in addition to the test of strength, and one only. That was that whichever of us withdrew would give the other his full support in every way within his means.

Knowing Bill Hall would have done the same, had he lost, and having the fullest confidence in him as a man and as a citizen who will render you all efficient and honest service as Sheriff, I unhesitatingly endorse his candidacy. I ask all my friends and relatives to join with me in the fight to nominate him in August and elect him Sheriff in November.

To each of you who were kind, offering me the encouragement of your support, I wish to express my thanks. Your confidence is deeply appreciated and will not be forgotten.

Sanatorium Opening At Ashland Delayed By Lack of Water

Opening of the new state tuberculosis sanatorium at Ashland, as being delayed for lack of a water supply. Construction work is practically complete, but C. B. Gray, of the contracting firm of Gray & Perkins, said he has been told by J. B. Rollins, of the State Division of Engineering, "it may be a very long time" before the 113-bed hospital begins operation.

The Ashland City Council agreed to spend up to $5,000 to run water main to the hospital, south of the city limits on Route 60, but a waterworks spokesman said this will now cost nearly $35,000.

After graduation comes opportunity!

The approach of Commencement Day 1949, brings many high school seniors face to face with the question—what next? There's one big opportunity to which every high school graduate should give serious consideration. This is the career offered you in today's Regular Army.

Few openings in private enterprise offer you the leadership training, the educational advantages, the exciting travel and adventure, the supervised sports and recreation programs and the clean, wholesome, active life that can be yours with an Army enlistment.

Few openings offer you such companionship with America's finest young men—for today—only the best are acceptable for service in the United States Army.

To win a place in today's Regular Army you must pass physical examinations that are tougher—mental examinations more difficult—than ever before. And with these more rigid requirements you will face keener all-round competition for assignment to the more than 200 courses offered at Army technical and specialty schools.

The rewards are also greater—opportunity for advancement is limited only by your ability and initiative. Many of today's general officers began their careers as Privates. Some of today's Generals may be our future Generals.

Appointments to Officer's Candidate Schools and to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point are available to those who can make the grade. In what other field can you aspire so high?

You owe it to yourself to get all the facts. See the friendly recruiting officer at your local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station today. He will be happy to give you full details without any obligation to you.

Eastern Kentucky Widely Regarded As Baseball's 'Country Churchyard'

Potential Stars of Game Waste Youth, Unknown Except by Home Fans

Eastern Kentucky is probably baseball's "country churchyard." Until recent years, the long, lonely youngsters of the section, with ball bats and knen bathtubs, were doomed to spend their years, "unseen, unused," in their own domain, winning the admiration of their own little group of fans, but escaping the attention of those who might have taken them along the road to athletic greatness.

Except for Vern Beckford and Cliff Frazier, the big leagues have seen little or nothing of Big Sandy's baseball talent.

And what talent has been wasted on the "desert air" of Big Sandy (baseball)?

Only a few—notably, Jimmy Vance, Ballard Bramham, Jack Ekins, Howard Burchett—have gone to this year, either by way of the minors from Floyd county.

Lost to the great American game insofar as organized baseball goes are such players as Buck and Kil Shambaugh, pitchers, Adrian Collins, infield flash, "Black Diamond" Custer.

Bill Prestonsburg mound wit, and Jess Radtiff, Sr., slugging outfielder, to mention a few from the local scene.

Going father back, oldtimers will tell you of Dick McGuire and Andrew Combs, old-time pitchers, and (they'll also tell you of a man who probably never held a baseball in his hand but who was regarded as a potential Walter Johnson. He appeared in pro-bowling, did this man, Regg Allen, of the Right Beaver Creek section of the county, and they're sure that had he been spared—being hit by a lightning bolt—his career would have been a splendid one.

One of the most colorful figures in Big Sandy baseball never to play major league baseball, though not "endowed" with talent, was "Big Al" Frazier, who caught for Louisville and other teams of the section. "Big Al" Frazier, for years now a resident of Floyd county, played with Charlotte in 1921 and the same year had his big moment with the Chicago White Sox. He failed to stick but not because he couldn't throw or hit or handle a pitcher.

Many of Big Al's feats with bat and glove are a part of the area's baseball lore. Could the guy handle pitchers? Those who have seen him behind the plate like to tell you he did. Let the guy out there on the mound get wild or show a bit of temperance, and Big Al would go on a mid-dance strike. He would show you that—right behind the plate, hold up his big glove and make the "hurr" plunk it where he wanted it. And did some runner with ideas dare to take liberties with him while he sat in that awkward throwing position he soon had other thoughts on his mind. But that's—here behind the plate, hold up his big glove and make the "hurr" plunk it where he wanted it. And did some runner with ideas dare to take liberties with him while he sat in that awkward throwing position he soon had other thoughts on his mind. But that's—here behind the plate, hold up his big glove and make the "hurr" plunk it where he wanted it.

LIKE 'EM OR NOT, YOU'LL SEE MORE OF 'EM

A lot of anglers don't think much of the catfish as a game species, but because of the polluted condition of many of our streams, we are going to see more and more of them on sporting tackle. It might be a good idea to learn where they live, what they eat, and how to identify the fish or seven kinds found in American waters.

Lee Leuser, wildlife scientist and writer, reports that the cats are contained in three groups: (1) the channel cats, (2) the species, (3) the bullheads, three species; (4) the mud, mud or river cat, one species. Here are their principal characteristics:

Blue or great forktail cat; bluish above, belly whitish; no spots; anal fin 30-35 rays; largest of the catfishes, 19 to 20 pounds. May occur in brackish water along the Gulf coast and in Florida.

Channel cat; tall forked, body highly streamlined with small black spots; anal fin 24-29 rays; bluish above, belly whitish; weigh usually 2 or 3 pounds. The Great Lakes catfish found in northern waters is very similar in form to the channel cat.

White cat; tall forked; pale bluish above, belly silvery; anal fin 18-21 rays; seldom exceeds 5 pounds. Occurs only in or near brackish waters along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

Yellow bullhead; tall slightly rounded, whiskers on lower jaw are whitish; anal fin 23-27 rays; often plump; weight seldom over 4 pounds.

Brown bullhead; tall, nearly square; whiskers on lower jaw grayish to black; anal fin 17-21 rays; yellowish-brown, mottled with dark green, weight seldom over 3 pounds.

Black bullhead; tall, nearly square; whiskers on lower jaw dark gray to black; anal fin 17-24 rays; fine black membrane; greenish-brown to black above, belly lighter; weight seldom over 2 pounds.

Beachhead, mud, river or shovelhead cat; tall, rounded, wide spread body wedge-shaped, greatly flattened in head and tail regions; anal fin 18-26 rays; dorsal fin, often blotched; second largest of the catfish, 5 to 25 pounds.

Mudcats and stonecats form another group of cats found from the continental divide eastward. They seldom exceed 8 inches in length and are often mistaken for young bullheads. They can be identified by the continuous fin extending around the rear third or half of the body.

As for food, only one of the important cats—the flathead—is strictly carnivorous. The channel cat is a lover of minnows, but he will eat a lot of other things—insects, crayfish, clams, snails and dead stuff of many kinds. His huge cousin, the blue or great forktail cat, is an omnivorous feeder, too. But the bullhead is the eating prize. In addition to anything they can swallow, they eat or alive they eat algae, pondweeds and aquatic plants.

Prestonsburg's independent baseball team defeated Louisa under the lights at Louisa Friday night, 10 to 3, in a four-inning "burning" of Paul Harmon.

Harmon fanned 17 Louisa batters. Prestonsburg's pitcher, Louisa pitcher for a dozen safeties, including a triple by Damon and a double by Hubbard.

Five Teams in Loop Formed by Churches; Night Games Planned

The church softball league which has been in process of organization for the last two weeks was officially formed Sunday, with five teams members from Prestonsburg, Davis and Martin, and league play began Monday.

All night games played by league members will be played on the Floyd County Playground field here. Use of the field is free, but participating teams will be required to go to the electricity by the lighting system at the field. To defray this expense, estimated at amount to be $200, an admission fee will be charged fans.

"We are not trying to make money merely want to break even on the cost of lights," a league official explained.

A league schedule has been prepared for the five teams representing the First Community Church, the Martin Methodist Church, the Prestonsburg Presbyterians, Baptists and Methodists.

A handsome trophy will be awarded at end of the season to the top-ranking team, the trophy to remain in that team's possession until a new champion is crowned at the end of another year of play.

Move To Jail Earl Wallace Blocked by Appellate Court

Frankfort, Ky., June 9—A move to jail State Game and Fish Director Earl Wallace for refusing to return a confiscated shotgun was blocked today.

Acting Chief Justice W. H. Rees of the Court of Appeals ordered Circuit Court Judge James Sowards to hold up attempt of court proceedings against Wallace until Appellate Court can decide whether the weapon should be returned.

The case grew out of the arrest last January 2 of Floyd Marksberry, of Cincinnati, on charges of hunting in Lewis county without a license and of using an unlicensed automatic shotgun. State law requires that such weapons be placed in permit only three shots without reloading.

Marksberry, a native of Lewis county, pleaded guilty to lacking a license and paid a $15 fine to Justice of the Peace J. D. Londer. The latter certified the penalty to Director Wallace who seized the gun.

Marksberry then got an order from Circuit Judge Sowards for Wallace to return the shotgun. Marksberry valued it at $75.

Attorney General A. E. King advised the director that State law makes confiscation of illegal weapons mandatory and that Judge Sowards lacked authority to issue a return order.

Judge Sowards cited Wallace to answer a contempt of court charge, but Frank told Wallace a written notice drafted to him was illegal and not to be returned to him.

Judge Sowards then served recourse through a deputy sheriff to appear for trial by a jury at Vanceburg Circuit Judge James Sowards to answer the contempt charge. Contempt of court is a common law offense, but the penalty a circuit judge may impose is a maximum of 30 and 30 days in jail. A jury, however, may fix a penalty limited only by reasonable bounds.

In behalf of Director Wallace, William A. Young, Frankfort, obtained the temporary injunction from Judge Rees today. Rees explained that means Wallace will have time to rally and the Appellate Court will pass on its merits later, probably next fall.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

As a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff of Floyd county I hereby present for your thoughtful consideration this statement:

I am not A RICH MAN. My father died when I was four years old and left my mother and nine children and no money. Being one of the oldest, I soon had to assume responsibility for the support of my mother (now dead), and my other brothers and sisters. I worked my father's rough mountain farm for the support of the family and in winter seasons when farm work was not available, I sought and obtained work with drilling contractors, where I did every sort of work they had to do until I became an experienced drifter. During these years of hard work I saved my wages until I had enough money to make the down payment on a well drilling outfit. I worked heavily in debt for the remainder. Without assistance from any one, by hard work and strict economy, I finally paid for the drilling outfit with which I, by hard work and good management, was enabled to support my wife and three children and make my widowed mother comfortable and happy in her last years.

If elected Sheriff I will use the same energy and determination to be an honest and capable official that I have used in the pursuit of my own business. With our rapidly increasing population and business activities the Sheriff's office presents many difficult problems that require good judgment and discretion. I will see to it that no deputy sheriff is permitted to oppress or impose upon any citizen of this state, but I shall see that every deputy county and they will all be required to do their whole duty in the execution of the processes of the courts, that the law may be promptly and fairly administered; that society be protected to the end that all our people may live peacefully in their homes, and that our county may become a better place in which to live. This is my platform and I shall adhere strictly to it when elected. Give me a chance.

Yours for faithful service to all the people.

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the act of March 3, 1879.

To the Fathers, Mothers, And Other Voters of Floyd County:

This writing is to give you a little of my life story. I was born and reared in Floyd county, near Gouldsboro postoffice. I am 34 years old and have spent 37 years in the coal mines. Also have been a union man ever since organized labor came into Kentucky. Am also a member of Local Union No. 8565, McDowell, Ky., and expect to live and die one and by the will of God and man. I expect to win this place for Jailer. Jesus said, "Without me ye can do nothing."

This is what I stand for:
1. If elected, eliminate the restrictions on visiting hours.
2. Through State Board of Health, clean the jail to a sanitary condition.
3. Feed prisoners like I eat myself.
4. Fathers and mothers, if your boy gets sick in prison, I will contact you if it is the hour of midnight. Elect me your Jailer and I will prove this. Thank you.

To the People of Magisterial Dist. No. 4:

This is to let you know that I am a candidate for the nomination for Justice of the Peace of Magisterial District No. 4, subject to the action of the Democratic party at the August primary. I have served you heretofore and always have been for your interests at all times and have never failed to have my district share in anything that comes along. You all know that I am ready to accommodate you any time you call, whether rich or poor. Why chance when you have a man who will do the job?
The same fellow every day and one who can see you all the time whether there is an election or not, and who will do the job right. Your support and influence in this election for me will be appreciated. Let all of you know that I am a fellow who will return the favor.
(Pol. adv.) DEWEY ROBERTS

ALEX L. DAVIDSON FOR COUNTY JUDGE

I promised the people of Floyd county, four years ago, that if they would elect me County Judge I would do the very best job I could, and that promise I have made every effort to keep.

I make you the same promise again, and I feel that with the experience of these four years behind me I will be better qualified to handle the office than before.

Now, I do not mean to say I have been perfect in every respect as County Judge. I have made mistakes, but I have tried my very best AND WHATEVER MISTAKES I HAVE MADE WERE HONEST MISTAKES. No man is perfect; no man can be all things to all men, and the voters of this county know this as well as I do.

I also admit many things have been needed by Floyd county that have not been done, but I think the people should have the facts about this matter, so they will understand exactly why we have fallen short in some respects. Several years ago, an indebtedness of nearly a million dollars was piled up against this county. Because of that, there must be paid, each year, interest and principal on that indebtedness. After taking care of the bonds as they come due, with interest, there is comparatively little left with which to do the many things that should be done.

Each year I have been in office, we have met our debt obligations as they came due, and I assure you, every year I am your County Judge these debts will be paid until this county is debt-free.

Right now, Floyd county has over $300,000 in the bank, placed there in a sinking fund against this county debt. With sound business handling of the county's financial affairs, this debt will be paid within another four years. Many of the bonds against the county, now drawing heavy interest, could be retired at this time but, unfortunately for us, they are not callable.

All this I point out to show why the individual needs of communities in the county—roads, bridges and other improvements—cannot be available immediately, no matter how much you or I may want them.

Permit me to add: I intend to run a clean race during this campaign. I have no ill word to speak of any opposition I may have. I want the people simply to know the facts and to consider me as their servant strictly on my merits. I promise you courteous and faithful service and an honest administration. Did I seek your support on any other grounds, I would not merit your votes.

Your friend,
ALEX L. DAVIDSON
(Pol. adv.)

As early as 300 B.C. India had a law providing a fine for adulteration of food.
William Adams, the first Englishman in Japan, was honored there by a yearly festival.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

This is to announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the office of Jailer.
Four years ago, you were kind enough to help me in my race for this office, and I have never ceased to be grateful to you for that confidence. As Jailer I have conducted myself personally, the jail and all its duties as I think I should have. As far as my own physical condition, I would permit, I have worked hard to make you a good Jailer and to care for the courthouse property as best I could. When unwell, I call, I could. When unwell, honest assistants to do the work for me.
In short, I have tried to conduct myself and the office so that the good people could, without shame or twinge of conscience, vote for me again.

Had not inflated prices made it impossible for me to save any money in the fees which are fixed by law, in times of low prices or high, I perhaps would not have again asked you to help me. But the truth is, I have made no money out of the Jailer's office. Now, with the prospect of lower prices, it is possible I could, within the next four years, make for myself and family the "great sign" I had hoped to earn during my present term.

Certainly I have no ambition to remain in politics over a long period. As most of you know, I am unable to go into the mines or other fields of hard labor and earn a livelihood. But I can do the work of Jailer as well as any, and that is why I again am a candidate.
Please consider my case. I trust you will not think I am asking too much.
Your friend,
EVERETTE COLLINS

Shelby Newsom Withdraws From Magistrate Race In Favor of Ellis Martin

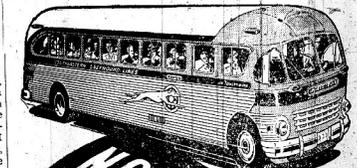

I want to thank my friends and neighbors for the support you have promised me so far in this campaign, although I have decided not to make the race this time in order to keep harmony among my friends, relatives and neighbors here at McDowell, Ky.

Ellis Martin, being my neighbor and lifelong friend, and his father, Marion Martin, being a brother in the Old Regular Baptist Church, I have decided on my own accord not to oppose him in this election.
We have several good men who are candidates for Magistrate but as for my feelings I can only hope that my friends and relatives will support Ellis Martin in this coming primary for Magistrate, District 3.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY

Maybe you have been wondering why in the two years and nine months you have been getting my weekly pieces I haven't written much about Henderson, my home town. Well, I've been waiting for the community to do something big enough at least to lead off with one major achievement to which I could hang a general story.

Now I have it. Toward the end of the late war the federal government built a $600,000 hospital in Atkinson Park. The hospital was approved to be for military use, perhaps because it was only 20 miles from Camp Breckinridge. But, whether the government had a good reason for spending $600,000 for a hospital in Henderson is neither here nor there.

For two years the hospital was leased to the county and city jointly. Under political management it ran rather deeply in the red, and it was up to the government to dispose of it and up to the community to acquire it. Recently the city and county did what they could to help financially. The city and county joined together to take over the hospital and operate it if the public would raise $58,000 to put the institution in the clear. The climax of the story is that the people went down into their jeans for the $58,000 and $12,000 more.

Henderson's fine health center, also built by the government, was owned and operated by the county and city jointly. The Henderson Lions Club furnishes free examinations of the eyes for every underprivileged child in the city and county, regardless of race or religion. The money for this work is raised mainly by selling ditch seals once a year.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce bought equipment for a free dental clinic and operates it in conjunction with the Health Department. This clinic serves all underprivileged children in the city and county. Much of the money for this clinic is raised by the Henderson Derby held in the high school stadium. The dentists of Henderson serve the clinic free of charge.

L. Allen Rhoads, district governor of the Lions, and active member of the Jaycees, tells of many other civic, educational and recreational, that the two service clubs have sponsored, but there is not space enough for all of them in this article.

Ruth Ann Maggard Is Honor Graduate

Ruth Ann, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Maggard, Lexington, was graduated with high honors Thursday evening, June 2, from Henry Clay high school, Lexington. She received the American Legion Auxiliary medal for outstanding traits, including scholarship and leadership, and was runner-up to the school's outstanding girl. She achieved a scholastic standing of 2.9.

The Maggards formerly resided in this county and Ruth Ann is a granddaughter of the late D. B. Stephens, of Allen.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

In early spring I announced myself as a candidate for Jailer of Floyd county. Now let's get acquainted.

I am the son of "Uncle" John and Zella Scott Moore, of Garrett (Stone Coal). I married Kathryn Allen, daughter of Will and Eva Hughes Allen, of Lackey, where I am now a citizen. I am a veteran of World War II and a member of the American Legion, Elkhorn Post No. 196, Weyland, Ky.

Since I studied sanitation in and out of the army, I'm sure that there's reason for its use in and around our courthouses. If you people put me there, I'll clean the place up fit for human beings to visit and stay in. What's more, I'll keep it in that condition as long as I'm in charge.

Some of you parents, no doubt, will have a son in jail during the next four years. Do you want them under the care of a gett, dependable, honest and kind Jailer, some one who will feed them food that's nourishing? I know you do. I have never gone back on a promise and I promise to do just that if I'm elected. Because I have never been intoxicated or ever "high" in my life is no sign that I'm against the fellow who does drink. I have only the deepest sympathy for them. I'm willing to help you in every way I possibly can. Won't you help me? "Thanks, Friends"—and remember me when you go to vote. Do this and you won't go wrong.

(Pol. adv.) BELVIE MOORE

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY
 Maybe you have been wondering why in the two years and nine months you have been getting my weekly pieces I haven't written much about Henderson, my home town. Well, I've been waiting for the community to do something big enough at least to lead off with one major achievement to which I could hang a general story.

Now I have it. Toward the end of the late war the federal government built a $600,000 hospital in Alkinson Park. The hospital was supposed to be for military use, perhaps because it was only 20 miles from Camp Breckinridge. But whether the government had a good reason for spending $600,000 for a hospital in Henderson is neither here nor there.

For two years the hospital was leased to the county and city jointly. Under political management it ran rather deeply in the red, and it was up to the government to dispose of it and up to the community to acquire it.

Recently the city and county did what they could to help financially, and the Methodist Church proposed to take over the hospital and operate it if the public would raise $58,000 to put the institution in the clear. The climax of the story is that the people went into their jeans for the $58,000 and $12,000 more.

Henderson's fine health center, also built by the government, will be made over by the county and city jointly.

The Henderson Lions Club furnishes free examinations and free glasses for every underprivileged child in the city and county, regardless of race or religion. The money for this work is raised mainly by selling light socks once a year.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce bought equipment for a free dental clinic and operates it in conjunction with the Health Department. This clinic serves all underprivileged children in the city and county.

Much of the money for this project is raised by the annual Purple Ducky held in the high school stadium. The dentists of Henderson serve the clinic free of charge.

The Jaycees also equipped a large playground for the new Goodfellow Field, for softball and other sports, which led to the establishment of other playgrounds in the city.

L. Allen Rhoads, district governor of the Lions, and active member of the Jaycees, tells of many other projects, educational and recreational, that the two service clubs have sponsored, but there is not space enough for all of them in this article.

By HENRY P. SCALF
The mountain counties of Kentucky were almost completely isolated from the tremendous carnage that accompanied the Civil War. No major battles were fought anywhere in the hills of Big Sandy—only the minor conflicts of Confederate General Marshall and the Union's General Garfield disturbed the hills with any sound like actual warfare.

The war, its great issues and causes were rather remote things. There were no newspapers, no contact with the outside world except the occasional traveler. Naturally, no wild fever of war surged over the mountains at the firing on Fort Sumter, for some time.

There were few slaves in the hills. No vast cotton plantations existed to require their services and they were practically incomprehensible to the average mountaineer.

The causes of war boiled down to something he could understand—that it was a war by the Republicans to free the slaves from the Democrats. As he did not have any slaves, he did not get very much excited about it. Usually, his decision was to remain neutral at first but as the war dragged on for years he finally cast his lot with one or the other of the contending sides.

In this vast majority of non-slaveholding citizenry of the hills that decided to remain neutral was Harovey Washington Stratton, of Mare

Creek. He was a young man with family and as he had seen neighbors seize arms and go away into the army and the Confederacy and into the service of the Union, the war with its fratricidal strife became to him a totally alien struggle. His family needed him especially for protection against the roving bands of guerrillas that stalked over the land in search of plunder.

There was no law, not even grand jury in Floyd county for four years, and men who seized opportunity to "rob" privately vengeance on the most noted, although it occurred in Pike county, just below Pikeville, can be recounted as an example of this private vengeance. Judge William Gresham of Pike county had jailed a man and as Pikeville was being occupied by Union troops, the judge fled to the mountains where the man he had sentenced and was about hands.

Bands of men roamed over the country setting traps for men, dogs, cattle and personal property of all kinds, oftentimes stripping the clothes from the backs of their unfortunate victims for either as they often as not left unbound or dead. Life was cheap and no one was safe. Military occupation would have been far better than this for men like Stratton. The military would have, had some semblance of security. As it was, the mountains held no great strategic advantage for either side and neither the Confederacy nor the Union sought to seize the Big Sandy in any serious way until late in the war. It was left to the mercies of the butchering gangs of guerrillas from both sides.

Through all of this storm the family of "Wash" as he was called, lived a life of fear. Bands of guerrillas came and took their toll of plunder—livestock, articles of household and camping necessity, and went their way. Strangely enough, they murdered no member of the family.

More than often the head of the house would be on the farm working in some nearby field for the wages came and he would flee to the security of a nearby thicket for safety while he watched his stock being driven off. His wife, who was Phoebe Alice Stratton, the daughter of John Sellards who was mentioned in the preceding article of this series, owned a fine coal-black mare. The mare was named "Phoebe" and was pastured in a large bottom which ever afterward was called the Nigger Pasture. One day the thieves came and she had no means to have it. Nigger was in the barn. The leader, who must yet remain nameless, out of respect for his descendants who are scattered over Pike county, went to the barn, bridled the mare and rode away. Years later, when the war was over, and the members of these roving bands had settled down and were attempting to gain some semblance of respectability in a society where there was law and order, the leader turned to horse-swapping for a living. There was about this time a large-scale religious gathering and on the outskirts of the crowd the horse thief was trying to trade horses with a friend. The friend had some religious tracts and the thief, who was a horse man, was a worthless scoundrel.

Along came "Aunt Phoebe," as she was called by her many friends, and as she passed she was called upon by the man who had stolen Nigger to verify that his horse was a sound and good animal. Now the horse had had once upon a time belonged to a neighbor of Phoebe and as farm folk were wont to discuss good horses, the thief and the man looking the man in the eye, and there in the presence of a score of witnesses, said: "It is just as sound but not near as good as the black mare you stole from me when the war was on." Then she passed on, leaving the man speechless with rage and the spectators convulsed with laughter.

The "bushwhackers" never caught up with Harovey or "Wash." It paid him well, for both sides sought to seize him. Too many men who, like him, desired to remain neutral, were carried off and their fate left to the fancy of storytellers to make the idea of being seized anything but comforting.

Once the pillagers or "bushwhackers," as they were called, came when he was away. Jane, a daughter, now in her teens, had a few days previously made or bought a new dress and for its day it was an enviable frock. It hung upon a rack upon the wall and when one of the gang reached up to take it, Jane let him have such a resounding smack with her hand directly in the face that the bandit nearly lost his balance. Recovering himself, he drew back the butt of his rifle, intending, obviously, to burst her head. The leader of the band had watched the whole episode and a sudden change for the course of the young girl possessed him. He interposed, saying: "Never strike a girl as brave as that." Jane kept her new dress.

And still another time a band came in and ordered a meal prepared. The hearty mother set about preparing it with a great rage in her breast. In turning for water to put in the coffee pot she found there was none and hastily looking to see if anyone was watching the preparation of the meal, she filled the pot with dishwater. The ravenous "bushwhackers," having had had a decent meal in days, ate the food and drank the coffee without any fastidious demer.

Naturally, the protection afforded by the father of his growing family was small, for the gangs traveled in sufficient numbers to resist capture and to need the best castles and the best policy to slip quietly out of sight when they were around and to carry off what they wanted, only watching and praying that no harm would come to the women of the home. It was usually a rifle bullet in the body of a guerrilla who lay hands upon any woman—a ball fired from ambush by a watching father. Yet this type of poisoning usually terminated in a bloody assault upon the family by the infuriated beasts. But a merciful providence must have watched over the hills as they were and they survived without attack.

Night raids were the dread of the families of the hills as the men were usually at home and the probabilities were slim that they would not be captured and butchered for the least excuse in cold blood. There are stories of men captured by the gangs, ostensibly seeking recruits for the Confederate or Union army and made to walk scores of miles before they were freed to find their way home. But these tales of mercy and leniency are few.

The Battle of Ivy Mountain brought the horrors of war close to Stratton and his family as they had personal contact with the casualties. The Union troops under General William Nelson defeated a force of Confederates attached to the command of General Humphrey Marshall on the Confederate side and was the 5th Kentucky Infantry and my grandfather, Heskiah Scalf, a private in this regiment, relates how the battle was fought and "how the Rebels ran." Capt. May sat upon his horse upon a slight rise and turning to his troops said: "Don't fire until you hear my pistol crack."

The battle was of short duration as the Confederates were outnumbered and outmaneuvered. The Federals were upon the point of executing a successful flanking attack by hitting them to the rear but the Confederates when, seeing this, Captain May ordered a retreat.

Later, General James A. Garfield swept the valley of Confederates. Capturing Louisa, he advanced upon Prestonsburg. A battle was fought at Middle Creek which resulted in a Union victory. Later, he occupied Pikeville.

But these military operations had little effect in securing life and property in the valley as the military made no serious effort to stabilize law and order. The people of the valley lived in terror—some died victims of anarchy and disorder, but others survived and of those who survived was Harovey Washington Stratton. He lived to be very old, dying after the turn of the twentieth century.

New Revenue Section Will Assist Counties In Assessment Work

To meet the provisions of the new assessment law passed by the recent session of the legislature, Commissioner of Revenue H. Clyde Reeves announced formation of a new section in the Department of Revenue which will assist counties with their local property assessment problems.

Edward H. Dieruf, Louisville, will administer the new program. Dieruf has had wide experience in local government finance. He served in the research and finance department of the city of Louisville for 14 years, the last four as director of finance. More recently, Dieruf has been doing organization work for the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

The temperature in Death Valley reaches 120 degrees for days in succession.

RIGHT & LEFT BEAVER CREEK SECTIONS HIT

By Recurrent Epidemic Leaving Arms Sore And Hands Limp

Martin, Ky. (Sp.)—With numerous right arms in slings this week and the supply of liniment running short, both the Right and Left Beaver Creek sections of the county are in the throes of a strange ailment which has hit the county in a comparable degree four years ago. Although the affliction does not defy diagnosis, the medical profession as yet has not come forward with a definite cure.

The two most common symptoms of the malady are extreme soreness of the right arm and the tendency of the right hand to grasp any object which comes within its range. Finally the hand, evidently because of overwork, falls limp and doesn't return to normal until the first week in November. Usually these symptoms are accompanied by a sore shoulder, induced by repeated enervating puts on the back. Strangely enough, only adults are subject to the attacks, with persons under 16 being immune. As far as can be determined it appears with striking regularity, starting in early summer and reaching its worst in the first few days of November. Then it subsides, only to break out anew four years later.

The epidemic usually starts at the county seat, in accordance with the usual house and gradually spreads throughout the county. For some reason it occurs in the Floyd county line.

In cases where the line is not clearly defined adult citizens of adjoining counties have reported mild attacks.

Physicians of the malady are said to be candidates for the various county offices and one physician diagnosed as Political Fever. Another insists that it is merely the old-time Candidate's Handshake, sometimes akin to St. Vitus Dance. He recommends that any person of voting age upon seeing a probable candidate approaching with outstretched hand, turn a quick about-face and head for the tall timber. He also suggests alternative measures which might possibly counter-attack the epidemic, one of which is for the candidate to visit to welcome the candidate with the casual assurance that he, too, is running for the same office. If this fails, touch him for a $10 loan. Other variations to this method, the principal one of which involves posing as a Puller Brush man or insurance salesman.

As far as is known, only two adults escaped the ravages of Political Fever when it struck the county four years ago. One boy-faded it over the county line three jumps ahead of a candidate for Constable and remained in Knott county until after the election was over. The other held up in an abandoned coal mine on Ground Hog Day and didn't come out until Thanksgiving.

The candidate, because of strict training, is able to cover more ground than Dispatch husband-hunters on Socie Hawkins' Day and only the very best of food are able to outdistance them. For potential victims, both men and women, who desire to evade this affliction by the swimming method it is suggested that they come down to Martin and get themselves shod with a pair of comfortable, long-wearing City Club or Veto step shoes. At the same time it wouldn't be a bad idea to fit up the children with nationally advertised Weatherbirds. Protect their feet now and when they become of voting age they will be able to keep out of the way of aspirants for public service, thereby saving their right hands from being hopelessly maimed or mutilated.

Candidates, we're just kiddin'! Come in and get yourself a pair. They won't guarantee that you'll be elected, but your feet will give you a rousing vote of thanks for putting them in comfortable shoes as good as the best, at a cost cheaper than your wife's vote.

Jesus' body was of Mary. His blood was of the Holy Ghost. This sinless substantial blood was the only price of redemption God could accept, and it was the integrity of this body nature.

Adam's blood became corrupt through sin and became subject to death, but the virgin-born Son of God with a human body but sinless, supernatural blood insinuated by the Holy Ghost was the only remedy of redemption for fallen man.

The first recorded sacrifice in the Bible (Gen. 4:3-2): Unto Adam also and to his wife did the Lord God make coats of skin and clothed them.
The coats were of animal skin and were sacrificed and used the skin as a covering for Adam and Eve's nakedness. Law of First Mention—
First substitution must be of the Lord.
Second—it must be by the death of an innocent substitute. Third—it must be by blood. Every acceptable sacrifice must meet these three conditions. It must not be man's work but God's work not man's provisions but God's; not the fig leaves of man's own righteousness but blood; sin of God's provisions. We find every true sacrifice mentioned in the scriptures has these three essentials.

We find that Abel's sacrifice met the condition (Gen. 4). We read in Genesis 22nd chapter: "When Abraham was ready to slay his son, God showed him a ram caught by its horns in a thicket," again God provided a sacrifice.

It must be God's Gift
For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whoever believeth on Him should not perish, but have everlasting life (John 3:16).

It must be by the death of an innocent sacrifice. It must be by the blood. "For as much as ye know that ye are not redeemed with cor-ruptible things as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers, but with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot, who verily was foreor-dained before the foundation of the world but was made manifest in these last times for you. (I Peter 1:18-19)

God zaved unto Israel a hole, a perfect law and a just law upon Mount Sinai. Israel broke this law.
The broken law demanded the eternal damnation of Israel. To look upon the broken law without blood is to face wrath. God said, "When I see the blood I will pass over you."
To remove the blood from God's righteous judgment is to invite certain destruction. We have the whole story in Exodus 32: "And he took the calf which they had made and burned it in the fire and ground it to powder and strewed it upon the water and made the children of Israel drink it."

In Deuteronomy 9-21 it is mentioned what Moses did with the gal-den calf that they worshipped.
Moses could not see God but hidden in the rock of ages. This Rock is Christ. 1 Cor. 10th chap. 4th verse:
And did all drink the same spiritual drink and they drank of that spiritual rock that followed them, and that Rock was Christ. 5: But with many of them God was not well pleased for they were overthrown in the wilderness. 6: Now these things were our examples to the intent we should not lust after evil things as they did lust after.
7: Neither be ye idolaters as were some of them as it is written. The people sat down to eat and drink and rose up to play. 8: Neither let us commit down as some of them, committed and fell in one day three and twenty thousand.

Thes. 4th chap. 3rd verse: For this is the will of God even your sanctification that ye should abstain from fornication. 2nd Thes. 3rd chap. 4th verse. Now we command you brethren in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walks disorderly. 1st Tim. 5th chap.
17th verse: Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honor especially they that labor in the word and doctrine. 5-20: Them that sin rebuke before all, that others may also fear, not to follow them.
Acts. 5th chap. 34th verse: And now
I say unto you, refrain from these men and let them alone. For if this counsel or this work be of men it will come to nought. 35th verse: But if it be of God ye cannot overthrow it. Least ye be found even to fight against God.

Now I wish to call attention again to Bible readers that I have proved my words to be of God and I test no man and do not try to please man. For Paul said the unmarried and widows did things to please the Lord while the married wife did things to please her husband.

I have a God to serve and obey and my advice to all is free and leaders of Floyd county and readers of the Floyd County Times wish to endorse my work I would be thankful for letters of approval.
Sincerely and prayerfully,
EVA MEADE HALL

and bringing you more when you trade for Chevrolet, are most wanted—now or usual!

"I'm biding my time
until I get a Chevrolet—
I want to be sure I get the most for my money!"

That expresses the sentiments of countless people in all income groups, including many who can afford to buy much higher priced cars. They're surveying the rest but awaiting the best—Chevrolet—the most beautiful buy of all! We believe you, too, will decide that Chevrolet gives more for your money—more fine-car beauty, more fine-car features, more EXTRA VALUES of all kinds—at the lowest prices and with outstanding economy of operation and upkeep. Yes, the new Chevrolet is the most beautiful buy for everything from styling to stamina, and we cordially invite you to confirm this fact and tell your friends—

"I'm biding my time until I get a Chevrolet!"
