John Denton Osborne, 79, Former Mine Blacksmith, Succumbs at Hite Home.

John Denton Osborne, 79, one of the few remaining members of the late-day mining community in this section of Kentucky, died Wednesday at the Hite Home after a long illness. He was born in the late 1840s and worked in the mines for many years. He was a blacksmith by trade and worked in that capacity for many years. He was a member of the Hite Home for several years. He was a very kind and generous man and was well-liked by all who knew him. He was a member of the Hite Home for several years. New Forest Fire Control Record Made Last Year, State Forester Says

Special to The Times—Frankfort, Ky. Jan. 4—Achievement of a new record in forest fire control during 1949 by the Kentucky Division of Forestry appeared today in H. B. Newland, state forester, said today.

With most investigations and reports completed, the Division has suppressed 893 fires, which burned 26,625 acres, or less than six-tenths of one per cent of the 3,500,000 forested acres under the Division's protection. Scattered reports are still expected from some areas. The best previous record was made in 1947 when the burn was held to 44 per cent of the area protected.

"Many different factors made this record possible," Newland said. "Among these were the cooperation by the people resulting from school work by the school, radio stations and newspapers, intensive training of Division of Forestry personnel, improvement and expansion of the communications system, and additional coverage by lookout towers."

He urged that caution be exercised to prevent forest fires during the winter months, especially by hunters, and farmers burning tobacco beds or "new ground."

a report to our CUSTOMERS for 1949

Electric service is the sort of thing you take pretty much for granted—and that's the way you and we both like it. But to keep things running that smoothly is a very sizable job. As one of our 77,000 customers, you'll be interested in knowing just how big a job your electric company did in 1949. Here are a few figures:

- 475,000,000 KILOWATTHOURS were delivered to our customers during the year—about 1,000,000 more than they used in 1948.
- 7,050 NEW CUSTOMERS were added, about 80% of them in rural areas.
- 500 MILES of transmission and distribution lines were built. Our lines now extend 5,300 miles, reach about 186 communities.
- $1,600,000 was paid to our employees last year in wages, and we spent many thousands more for materials and supplies. The spending of this money made work for many people, both in our company and out. Some of it may have found its way into your own business or your own pay envelope.
- $1,110,000 IN TAXES—Federal, State and Local—was accrued by this company in 1949. It helped to give you better schools and roads, to pay for police and fire protection.
- COMING INTO 1950, this company and the six others associated with it in the American Gas and Electric System have 550,000 kilowatts of new plants under construction. The last unit being built is scheduled for completion early in 1952.

The greater availability of electric power has enabled you to take more and more advantage of electric conveniences in your daily living. And because you are using more electricity, because of the efficient new plants we've built, we have been able to leave our charges for electric service low—even though the cost of materials and supplies we buy to provide it has doubled in the past two years. We shall continue, in 1950 and beyond, to bring you the best possible electric service at the lowest possible rates.

saying the shooting, which took place between 4 and 5 p.m., was the result of an argument developing in front of the McCreary home.

Shelton said here today that he shot his brother-in-law in defense of his own life after Patrick had threatened to kill him and had struck at him with a butcher knife. He said he had returned to his home in the Prestonsburg General Hospital whether he had taken the year's rest for treatment, and was again struck when Patrick came in and he was threatened. He added that he believed the other to be away but that Patrick, he said, wanted to kill him. He said he saw the butcher knife and came to the door. He said he saw the knife and came to the door.

Shelton claimed Patrick had come to his home while he was at the hospital, had been there a few days and then returned to the home on the floor of the gun when he arrived there. He added that, earlier in the evening, Patrick had talked to him in a truck and mentioned to know if Dewey Shepherd was in the truck.

Victims of the Harold shooting was a son of Dr. and Mrs. John Hall of Harold and his wife, Mrs. Mary Hall. He is survived by his parents, his wife, Mrs. Lillian Court Hall, a son, Robert Jr., two brothers, Dr. and Perry T. Hall, Dr. H. H. Hall, and one sister, Mrs. Moore Akers, Detroit, Michigan. His funeral was conducted from the First Day Chapel Methodist Church at Harold, the Rev. Robert C. Anderson and Cecil C. May officiating.

Patrick was a son of the late Clark Patrick, and had resided on Oak Park until a short time before his slaying when his family moved to Macdonia county. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary Patrick, of Hueysville, his widow, Mrs. Rosa Lee Dale Patrick, six children, five brothers, Ellis, Earl, Fred, Charles, A. B. and Grant, Patrick, and three sisters, Mrs. Dewey Shepherd and Mrs. Wayne DeWay, both of Open Park of Morgan county, and Mrs. Dennis Medley of Alabama.

His body was taken to Orange, Missouri, for burial. SHOWING HERE RECENTLY Mrs. Annie E. Stamba, Martin, was here shopping recently.

50 per cent of construction cost, and plans will be asked soon after. Company also includes all excavation, most of the foundation work, plans and supervision.

If the threat of final separation of county and city in school operation here becomes reality, Prestonsburg high school, it is pointed out, will, on the basis of current enrollment, have a student-body of only 100.

The present school building, erected 20 years ago, falls far short of space requirements and pupils are required to walk cross-town to the grade school building for some classes.

noted Wright we knew anything about was Bud John, the Bill Symmer of the Cumberland; hence we didn't make like an airplane. "The Birth of a Nation" was just a glam in Papa DeWitt's eye; so, no moves to set the pace for natural disturbances. I don't want to later than I am so did the steam engine hadn't been invented then, but the tool of a train whistle could have been heard at the time only via radio, and there wasn't any radio. And there weren't any comic books; only the rather tame cartoons in the weekly Courier-Journal or the tri-weekly Adams. Consultation we received by mail back and mail.

So, you see, we boys were operating under a something of a handicap. Still, we did our share of making the welkin ring.

I was a thwarted personality because I couldn't whistle through straws, blast some boys, unboxed by placing the tongue against the teeth, and tooting. I was further lacking because I couldn't blow through my hands and sound like a blast from a horn. I could spit water through my teeth, either—damn it—but that doesn't belong here.

Thomas Jefferson Short, Retired Abbott Farmer, Dies at Home Friday.

Thomas Jefferson Short, retired farmer and well-known Abbott Creek man, died at his home Friday morning, a victim at the age of 83 of illness attendant upon advanced age.

A son of the late Addison and Nancy Ann Vaughan Short, he was born and reared and spent almost his entire life in the community where he died. He was married, April 20, 1882, to Miss Minerva Jane Robinson, and to this union were born two sons and three daughters. His widow and the following children survive: Mrs. Ann Lee Fitzpatrick, West Prestonsburg; Mrs. Mary Jane Stanley, Russell, Ky.; Worley Short, of Cliff, and William B. Short, Vallejo, California. One sister, Mrs. Mary Lou Mable, Keyes, Okla., six grandchildren and one great-grandchild also survive.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday from the Abbott Creek Memorial Church, the Rev. H. C. Church officiating. Burial in the Prewitt cemetery was directed by the Arnold Funeral Home. Pallbearers were H. T. Hill, Paris Conley, Andrew Shortridge, Arthur Sturgill, L. A. Conley, Bill Prewitt and O. E. Holmes.

Maybe they had more sense than I do now, even if we boys had then had a lick more than these nobles' of today have.

Prestonsburg Student On Mademoiselle Board Representing Lindenwood

New York, N. Y., Dec. 29 (Sp.)—Barbara Allen, Prestonsburg, Ky., a student at Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo., has just won an appointment to represent her college on the national College Board of MADEMOISELLE magazine.

She is one of 870 appointees from colleges all over the country who compete with almost 4,000 students nationally for positions on the board, according to MADEMOISELLE.

She will report campus news, facts and fashions in addition to completing three magazine assignments during the college year. The assignments will include a critique of the 1949 August College issue, a personal autobiography and a project for one of MADEMOISELLE's feature departments.

In addition, she will be competing for one of 20 guest editorships, to be awarded by the magazine next June.

The guest editors who are chosen from the College Board on the basis of interest in the magazine will be brought to New York City for four weeks in June to help write and edit MADEMOISELLE's 1950 August College issue. They will receive round-trip transportation and will be paid a regular salary for their work.

While in New York City, each guest editor will take part in a full calendar of activities designed to give her a head start in her career. She will take a battery of vocational tests to help her crystallize her interests and job goals. She will also take field trips to newspaper offices, fashion workrooms, radio stations, stores, advertising agencies and printing plants.

The Prestonsburg member of the MADEMOISELLE board is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Allen.

POWER NEWS WITH A REAL PUNCH!
Here's just one part of Buick's tremendous power story for 1950—the brand-new F-63 valve-in-head straight-eight. Facing a walling that makes the Super a stand-out performer of the season, here is still higher compression and still greater power in no greater over-all size. You'll get this new engine on all Super models in 124 hp with Synchro-Mesh transmission, 123 hp with Dynaflow Drive.

They're greater in power—higher in compression—a standout in styling—dreams to drive—and now there's a Buick beauty for 1950 to fit practically any budget.
No, we just couldn't hold back the whole big Buick line for 1950. They're too good-looking—too much fun to drive—too jam-packed with stepped-up, higher-compression, ready-to-ramble power—to be kept under cover.
So maybe you've already seen some 1950 Buicks on the highway. Maybe you've noticed the extra "git up and travel" they have—glanced the wide, curving windshields (one piece in most models)—noted, approvingly, that the typical Buick taper is now found in all Buick fenders. Maybe you've even heard some things...
That there are more than a dozen-and-a-half models to choose from. That there are three power plants in the Buick line—all of higher compression, all stepped up in power.
That all models are big and roomy inside—some rear seats are better than a foot wider than before!—yet in every instance, shorter over-all, so easier to handle, park and garage.
Above all, maybe you've heard of exciting news on price...
That Dynaflow Drive, for instance—standard on ROADMASTER models, optional on all others—now costs 20% less than on 1949 models.
That in the full line—SPECIAL, SUPER and ROADMASTER series—there is a Buick to fit practically every budget above the very lowest!
Haven't you better see him—right now—and see if you, too, don't find Buick "top choice for 1950"?

Lots of luggage space, plus a high-fashion rear-end treatment, gives the Buick four-door Sedan model for 1950. This is the ROADMASTER, and above is the SUPER, version of the multi-optional 4-door, 6-passenger Sedan.

Commune's Attorney to take action against these clubs," he charged the grand jurors.

Said Sheriff Meade, in part: "We as officials of this county have a responsibility... There is not one here who asked the people to vote for him who did not promise to do his part toward enforcement of the law... During the general election campaign in particular, we said we were one team, working for one cause. I hope that stands good today. I hope there is not one weak link in that chain to be broken on the honesty and integrity of others during the next four years."

He renewed his warning to law-breakers and pleaded for them to get out of business. "If you have some neighbor or friend or relative in the bootlegging business," he asked the crowded courtroom, "I want you to convey this message to them for me—Get out of business. Otherwise, we will arrest them, they will be indicted and prosecuted. If you have a friend or know some young boy who is carrying a gun, tell him to get it off. If caught, none will be sheltered or protected. We will let the chips fall where they may. There are only two reasons anyone for anybody to carry a gun—he wants to kill somebody, or he is a coward."

The same stern warning was issued to drunken drivers. "If we catch any drunken driver, regardless of who he is, he will be brought to court. He will pay the penalty and his license to drive will be revoked. I am going to see to that. I don't mean to be radical, but we are the people a change."

Both Sheriff Meade and County Attorney Burchett appealed for public support of their enforcement program. The limitation imposed on officers by the Constitution in the search of homes and property was cited, and the people were asked to supply evidence against violators.

Added Mr. Meade:

"If jurors haven't the courage and backbone to render the service we might as well close the courthouse doors and tell the law violator to go his way."

Mr. Burchett said, "If the people will get behind us, we can and will make you good officials; otherwise, we cannot do so well."

In his grand jury instructions Judge Hill stressed that many drunken driving cases have been "smuggled or suppressed" in this county, ading: "If a man is caught driving while drunk, he should be willing to pay his fine, and as far as I am concerned, he will."

He attributed the decline in murder rate to the fact that fewer concealed deadly weapons are being carried since the new state blood law became effective. Asking the grand jury to make indictments in all such cases, he commented that he would like a minimum penalty of one year in the penitentiary better than the present two years. Explaining his reason for favoring the lesser term, the judge cited the fact that because of severity of the sentence, no one examined, Dec. 21, at Price by the Rev. Thomas Mosley, Frank Masley and Joyce Napier, Darwin S. Thacker and Verba Smith.

He named Herman Porter, Allen business man, foreman of the grand jury which is composed an earlier of Judge Hill said Tuesday he will supplement his instructions this week to cover an item forgotten at the court opening—the election irregularities at Stephens Branch precinct.

The Highway Department has called for bids Jan. 13 for asphalt resurfacing a portion of the Left Beaver Highway.

The road described for improvement is located as follows: Wheelwright Junction-Pleasville road from Ky-20 south of Martin to 3 1/2 miles north of Clear Creek, a distance of 13.9 miles.

The Floyd road is listed as a part of 171 miles of main roads in 16 counties up for bids on the advertisement date.

TO THE COUNTY OFFICERS AND CITIZENS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

We take this method of informing you that we wish to co-operate one hundred per cent with the officials in the performance of their duty as public officials in Floyd county.

We intend to operate our club in accordance with the laws of our country, and the sheriff or any duly recognized deputy is invited to inspect our premises at any time.

Signed:

ARNOLD WEBB, Com.
LLOYD MCGAREY, Sec.-Treas.
