This Town-- That World

No man is indispensable. But some are irreplaceable. You may get a substitute, but the original copy never is replaced.
Such a man was H. L. Coble. The "Timer" beloved Grandpa and the dean of Eastern Kentucky printers, who died last Monday morning.
My recollections of him over the last 36 years during which we have worked together in perfect harmony (I do not use the word, "perfect," loosely) would fill columns. But these would, I fear, be of little public interest.

IMOGENE STUMBO MOORE
 For COUNTY COURT CLERK

DEAR FRIENDS:
 It has been two weeks since I've had an article in the paper. I know some must think I have given up the race for Clerk. I am not the kind who can be PUT OUT or TAKEN OFF. The only way I'll end this race is to be defeated which I feel cannot happen since so many of you have given me such encouragement when I needed you.

Voters: Do not be deceived by the false rumors that some of our politicians are spreading. They are experts in the art of deception while I have always stood for truth in my personal and teaching life. NO ONE—PUT ME OUT OR ASK ME TO RUN FROM THIS OFFICE. My husband and our families encouraged me to, however. My decision to run was made because I felt in most of you that Floyd county needs some changes made and that more common people like myself should take a greater interest in our government, local and national.

More and more women are being encouraged to enter the field of politics as evidenced by our President's new cabinet member, and some of our ambassadors to foreign countries.

I do not claim to be a politician, just a common ordinary person like you. However, I am interested in seeing that our county receives the money that is due it, and in providing a more honest election system. Common people have seldom run for office in our county because they could not afford to buy their way into it.

Why would anyone with a great deal of money need the office in the first place? Buying the office always leads to one thing—CORRUPTION. If an office is obtained by dishonest methods how can we expect it to be run honestly?

I realized when I announced that I would have a lot of opposition since I am a WOMAN but decided that with the help of my family, friends, and honest voters we could overcome the political machinery that operates our elections. People! Have you really realized that WE should be doing more to clean up our crooked politics? Get out and vote—for someone who is honest, dependable and humbly seeking the office PROVE WHAT YOU ARE SAYING AND THINKING.

Ladies: Do you realize that we women voters outnumber the men voters? Pike county has elected a woman clerk for the past 20 years. No one has accused her of not being honest. So let's show what we women in Floyd county are capable of doing! There are those who say women should not seek an office. Why? What man runs an office without the help of women? I urge all of you to give me your support in this race as I would like very much to serve you as your County Clerk.

Why do you and I strive to educate our children if they are never to have a chance in their own county? Being a teacher, I have always to teach the children, and the subject matter to my students as well as my own son.

My husband, father and one of my brothers are coal miners, as most men in this county are. This is a great industry when it is operating. My husband also is a member of World War II and a member of the American Legion and VFW.

Bert and Bill Hampton (Stumbo) are my brothers. Bill is serving in the navy.

In case I may miss a few names without an article do not think I have given up. Newspaper articles are expensive and I have only my husband's salary to pay my expenses. I am not leaving.

If I do not get to see everyone as I am trying to do, I will greatly appreciate your vote for me as your selection for County Court Clerk.

Humbly and gratefully,
IMOGENE STUMBO MOORE

Tennis club posters were submitted by nine clubs in the annual 4-H poster contest at Union county.

Four families in Elmwood county have signed up to grow 200 acres of okra.

Everyone in the destination is 100 per cent for this project. Perkins assured him.

The three Pikeville men said they also visited Secretary Clegg and Clements of Kentucky, Senator Bird, D. Va., and Representative Wampler, R. Va., and that the congressman sign for the construction of the Big Sandy Canalization of the Big Sandy and new Tennessee Valley Authority dams, build use up to 20,000,000 tons of Big Sandy coal yearly.

"Were for canalization," Perkins said, "but right now we're a best people. We'll settle for anything." Mine was both optimistic and pessimistic.

"How do these things will be built?" he said. "But in the fiscal 1953 budget there are no new starts. Everything is for continuation of work already begun. That was true last year. It's not a good time to ask for new projects. The country is trying to cut expenditures and you can't do it by loading on new projects."

Perkins interrupted. "The benefits will outweigh the cost at Hays, anyway you look at it." Mine replied: "No man has fought harder for the Big Sandy than you."

Perkins emphasized the urgent need for jobs in his area and asked, "How can we get even a little bit of it?"

Mine said the Army engineers could act only at the direction of Congress. He said a series of Army engineers, during approval of Hays, "The Big Sandy has heavy rainfall in the winter and spring, with a dry season in late summer and fall," they wrote. In the latter, there is an actual scarcity of water in the valley, while the spring floods, often very destructive, are considered an annual affair.

"These floods are not only destructive in the valley, but continue on to add to the creek of Ohio River. It's a fact sometimes cost untold millions."

They said the Labor Department considered an area about 12 per cent of the country's total population to be critical. Pike county crossed 11 per cent in March, and may already have exceeded 12 per cent, he added. "This figure already has passed 14 per cent."

In March, Kentucky paid out unemployment insurance in Pike of $13,820, compared to $28,318 for the previous March.

In 1948, Army engineers discontinued the Hays project because they said for each $1 cost only 33 cents' benefit would accrue. Perkins and Clements said the picture has changed today and that the benefits now would exceed the cost.

COW SEEMS CONTENT
 Vineyard Haven, Mass. — There's at least one contented cow on Martha's Vineyard. Goodwill, an Ayrshire, produced 17,567 pounds of milk and 439 pounds of butterfat during 1952.

Laurel county homemakers wired about 20 crochets hoops and made 100 lamp shades in March.

Is Everybody Else Out of Step?

The well known story of the mother who, after viewing her son's regimental marching band, "Well, that outfit of theirs was out of step but Johnnie," can well be applied to what Burns Martin obviously thinks is wrong with Floyd county. Eastern Kentucky, and the whole state of Kentucky.

He seems to have got himself apart as the self appointed guardian of all one can do wrong. Interpret the laws to suit himself, can indict the lowest to the highest courts and juries in the county and force and harass and harangue one and all who dare to disagree with him.

His article in a recent Floyd County Times might appear sound to some people but to a thinking person, one who asks all the facts as they are, his article is obviously just an effort to justify himself in all his activities; an attempt to further himself as the martyred saint who can do no wrong.

In the current case, the court did not at any time bar the Commonwealth's Attorney from prosecuting the case. He refused to pass just an effort to justify himself in all his activities; an attempt to further himself as the martyred saint who can do no wrong.

"Bear" Facts—
By PAUL BRANT UK Football Coach
LEXINGTON, KY. — On the surface of the matter it would seem to be a very far cry from sports in general and football in particular to the subject of entertainment at the Blue Grass Festival held in University of Kentucky's Memorial Coliseum recently.
The Derby eve extravaganza featured movie stars Bob Hope, Judy Garland, and Marilyn Maxwell along with the hit bands of Vaughn Monroe and Buddy Morrow in some night enjoyable chatter and music that I would highly recommend as being the next best thing to a good football game.
Puncheon Hope, whose reactions and memory would make him a fine athlete, joked about the Coliseum as "the loveliest super-market I ever play" in and in the next breath praised it as a fine building. He didn't pull off any wise cracks about football, despite the fact that he is closely associated with the game as a stockholder in the professional Los Angeles Rams, but he did let out a little secret in a moment of relaxation.
The comedian revealed that he had been invited to lend his talents to the Kentucky football team as one of the rural cowboys in the annual Blue-White intra-squad game scheduled for May 15 on Stoll Field. He was very apologetic in explaining that a tight schedule of previous commitments would prevent his appearance at the tilt for the benefit of the "K" Club because fund income from the public game between evenly matched squads of Wildcat football players will be used to build a club house for the organization of UK varsity letter winners.
Getting to the point of conversation between the festival and football, I considered the music of the fine bands and singers very good but could get help thinking that nothing compares with the off-key, vocal outbursts by our boys in the privacy of the dressing room following a hard-fought victory on the gridiron. This singing is the sweetest music this side of Heaven.

GOOD SCHOOLS AND GOOD ROADS GO HAND-IN-HAND
Floyd county has 91 schools, out of a total of 125 which have only one or two rooms.
Thirty-eight (38) schools are located on roads which are passable only during good weather.
A majority of our schools have unsafe drinking water, poor sewage disposal systems, and inadequate toilet facilities.
The children who attend these schools are handicapped before they start. Our children are as bright and intelligent as any children anywhere and they deserve, and have a right to expect, nothing less than the best in the way of educational opportunities.
Good roads and good schools go hand-in-hand. These are not merely local problems but are state-wide, and corrective action should begin in the next Legislature in Frankfort.
For HONEST and ABLE representation of ALL the people in the 96th Legislative District, vote for one who is INTERESTED in these problems.

Jamerson New Coach
Of Morehead Grid 11

Willbur R. (Shorty) Jamerson, former backfield star for the University of Kentucky Wildcats, has been named head football coach at Morehead State College. This was announced Friday by Morehead President Charles F. Spain, following a meeting of the athletic committee at the college.

Now a first lieutenant in the Air Force stationed at Bolling Field, Washington, D. C., Jamerson expects to be released from active duty July 1 and to assume his duties as the college's head coach. He will visit the campus for his first meeting with the football squad on May 23.

Shorty was graduated from the University of Kentucky in June, 1931. A few days later, he married the former Miss Virginia Osborne, of Wheelwright. He then entered the Air Force with an ROTC commission and was stationed for three months at Simpson Air Force Base, N. Y., where he served as assistant officer. Transferred to Bolling Field in the fall of '51, he took on the dual role of backfield coach and player on the base football team for two seasons.

A four-letter man at Harret Mandelup Training high school, Henderson, Ky., Jamerson was captain and all-state halfback in his senior year. He lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track.

Although a small player—5 feet, 9 inches tall and weighing only 168 pounds—Shorty earned a place for himself in the UK lineup through his competitive spirit, his natural ability and his willingness to put all of his effort into every assignment. Coach Bryant depended heavily on Jamerson for both offensive and defensive play.

In his senior year Jamerson, along with Ed Cain, co-captain of the Wildcats to a 10-1 season, losses only to Tennessee. With All-American Babe Parill at quarterback, the team had a passing coordination that was well-nigh unbreakable. The Parill-Jamerson combination clicked so well to cause trouble for SEC foes. It placed extra tax on the head of one of Jamerson's two touchdowns against the favored Oklahoma Sooners in the Sugar Bowl.

At Morehead the new coach will be stepping into the past held for 17 years by Ella Johnson, also a UK graduate. Johnson recently asked to be relieved of his football chores so he could concentrate on his basketball career will also coach the basketball and tennis. School basketball team.

An assistant football coach at Morehead is yet to be named. Stanley Partigan, who has held the position since 1946, resigned recently to enter private business.

Wheelwright and Martin in High School Tourney

The strong Wheelwright team won the district title Tuesday by virtue of its 3-1 defeat of Martin.

Cross the journey got under way again Monday afternoon following a week's interruption by rain. Martin swamped Axeter, and Wheelwright got going early to crowd Prestonsburg, 6 to 3. The meet is being held at the Drift baseball park.

Prestonsburg is yet to play Ekern City for the Big Sunday Conference baseball championship. The two teams gained the final, two weeks ago but rain and conflict with the district tournament delayed the title game.

BLADES OF BLUEGRASS

By J. ALLAN SMITH

LEXINGTON, KY. — This being a day off from the blues, my wife set me to dusting books. In my experience, books always need dusting, but these were in special need. The floors had just been mopped and I tucked up sheets as you will, the dust finds its way to the books. And so, armed with a soft-bristled attachment for the vacuum cleaner and a fluffy mat treated with a concoction of same sort with a special affinity for dust, and a comfortable stool and an old newspaper, I got to the business from the newly finished floor or vice versa. Spring is the time to paint boats. But don't set yourself a timetable to paint each spring, every other spring or every third one. The rule is: never paint unless it is needed. Wilbur Grandall, boats and motors expert, says there are only two objects in any repainting — to improve appearance and to protect the boat.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

Vacation Bible school will begin at the Martin Methodist Church, May 25, and continue for two weeks. It is announced that Rev. and Mrs. Randolph Crisp will be in charge.

TO MY FRIENDS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

I am deeply grateful to you for the kindness and helpfulness that you have shown me in the past. With your help I have faithfully, honestly and honorably served you in the County Court Clerk's Office. I have secured the help of courteous and efficient men and women to help me do the work.

It has always been my desire, and I feel that it was theirs to serve you well. We wanted you to feel free to call on us at any time. No problem of yours with your County Court Clerk's office or any other service I could render you was ever too small or too large for us to do our best. I have tried to make the County Court Clerk's Office a place where you could feel free and welcome to visit with us and to ask us for any service we might be able to do for you.

It has always been my desire to have you and your friends shown the utmost courtesy when you come into the office.

Your records are in excellent condition. We have recorded, protected and preserved them for use now and forever in the future. No one will be able to honestly and fairly state otherwise.

As far as God gave me the understanding, I have tried to do my duty. I have kept the faith and trust that you have put in me, and no matter what the future may bring to me or to you, I will always cherish that fact.

I have carried on the work as the law directs as nearly as my lawyer friends and I could interpret that law, even though it is sometimes possible for me or for them to misinterpret that law. Good lawyers often disagree as to what the law really means. But, my friends, I will always be glad to let my conduct in office stand the test of the law of our great land. I feel that our courts, even though possibly sometimes mistakes are made in them, are the very foundation and protection to us of all that is fair and honest and fine in this life here on earth, and without them we would be in a sad state of affairs. I know that in no other way can we, in this great country of ours, continue to enjoy the many blessings of this our great American democracy.

My only desire for the people of Floyd County is to see them all prosper and do well while here on this earth, and prepare for a better future. I have only friendship for those who might feel that they are my enemies. I have no malice, nor envy, nor ill feeling for anyone. I realize that, no matter how dark might be the hour, if we are on the right track, justice will in the end win out.

So far as I know, I have some fine opponents in this campaign. I won't feel badly at anyone over this election. I feel that would be wrong on my part. Whether we win, or go down in defeat, I hope that no one will feel badly at me after it is over.

If you can help me, and I am elected, I will do the very best job that I am capable of doing. I will greatly appreciate your support and vote, and I will try hard in the future, as I have in the past, to make your business with your County Court Clerk's office a pleasure to all of us.

I will make every effort to see you between now and election day on August 1st, and I will appreciate your coming by to see me. I hope that you will be able to give me your support, and if you do, may you always be glad that you did.

Your Friend,
DuRAN MOORE

A book happened may be a cold and unimpressive thing. It may stand on the shelf year in and year out unused—and yet it is there always, waiting for the eye that sees the making of a book. How much toil and care, how many sleepless hours, how much agonizing over the choosing and discarding and re-choosing of materials. How much hope and how much pride went into it? A book is a part of the life of the author.

Take, for example, this book in bright blue binding and gold lettering—"Gains of Kentucky"—by J. D. Piggins. Some books are called "handbooks for revision of materials" they contain; this is a tragedy by reason of its experience as a book. I knew the author. He was a nationalist and amateur curator, retired and commissioned by a University of Kentucky about a decade ago as a "historical" "historical" work on the basis of the state. Into this book he put the last several years of his life and painstaking work much of it was under a burden of almost unbearable pain from a terrible cancer. He looked upon it as the crowning work of his life, a monument to his effort. He died before the book appeared; books of publishers were ordered to be his wife, Mrs. J. D. Piggins, W. D. Finkbeiner, publisher of the University of Kentucky. The book appeared, again with some of the "hand" of the author, and after only the first traces of orders had been filled, the warehouse where the books were stored burned, and the entire edition was lost. And so the book is a tragedy.

But on with the main thing! We can't stop to look at every book!

SQUARE DEAL FOR TAXPAYERS

GOOD GOVERNMENT TAXPAYER'S LEAGUE

The Floyd County Good Government Taxpayers League at its meeting Sunday night voted unanimously to appeal the decision of Judge Creamer that the Tax League did not have a right to sue the members of the fiscal court without first demanding that they sue themselves.

Our attorneys inform us that the decision and the order and correspondence between the fiscal court's lawyers and the court of appeals clearly indicate in their opinion that the decision was based on neither law nor reason.

Allow us to point out to the taxpayers that a personal judgment was sought against the magistrates for a misapprehension of public funds and Judge Creamer made the remarkable decision that in such a situation the magistrates could ignore the taxpayers' suits, that they could not compromise and adjust their own cases to their own financial advantage and a taxpayer could not complain. Judge Creamer has been a judge only a few months and in all due respect to him the taxpayers of Floyd County will not accept Judge Creamer's statement that a taxpayer must ask the magistrates to sue themselves for their own wrong doing.

Furthermore our attorneys advise us that K. R. 8, 86,100 (2) provides that where there is an illegal appropriation and the County Attorney fails to bring action in six months, any taxpayer may bring suit. And money in that statute or in the law books is any kind of demand required. Why Judge Creamer ignored this completely is known only by himself.

The Judge is "DEAD" wrong when he stated that the law has become more liberal in granting expenses for the very last session of the Legislature frowned on the granting of expenses and got more liberal than ever and passed K.R. 8, 86,210 specifically prohibiting "hamp" state expense allowance, except where such allowance is expressly provided for by statute or is specifically approved by the General Assembly.

GARDEN NOTES

by O. E. BOGGGS, County Agent

ROSEHOSES

Flower bushes are now at work in your garden to produce their beautiful blooms. They do a great deal of damage to potatoes and other plants each year but are not noticed because it is hard to recognize the damage they are doing. Examine your potatoes by looking a few leaves and holding them up between you and the sky. If you have fine looking fine damage can be recognized easily.

If there are many fine holes in the leaves you can rest assured that you have an infestation of these insects. It is very easy to control the flea beetles if you use the right material. The material used is DDT or DDT equivalent, a 5% dust of either material may be used or a spray made by using two tablespoons of 50% wettable DDT in 100 gallons of water.

SMOKE-POISONING is definitely not recommended to control flea beetles.

A garden spray schedule, prepared by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture in collaboration, at the University of Kentucky, is available at the County Agents' office. Write for a copy to the office and enclose $1.00.

NEWS & NOTES

By ROGER TURNER

Let's get a little philosophical today. They say that viewpoint is relative... and how true that assertion is. You've often heard people say, "You're as good as you feel you are," or "The day is as bright as you want it to be" and probably have heard many many other sayings in a similar vein.

Whenever I dwell upon the business and the joys in this life I'm reminded of the following: "Do not act as if you have a thousand years to live" so as my little offering for today I say let's be like the full and give others as good as we get as we go about the road of life.

This column is offered to a neighborhood publisher and if you have any thoughts you'd like to convey to others, please feel free to pass them on to us for publication.

We pay for all copy material. Life insurance burial policies for any information desired, contact us with an obligation to you. Phone 3422.
