FLOYD MEDICS TELL POSITION

On New Medical College
After Medical Society
Holds Recent Meeting

The Floyd County Medical Society met on Tuesday at its recent meeting as opposing the founding of a medical school at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, and as favoring the spending of any available money on the lower levels of education rather than on higher levels such as a new college of medicine would represent.

At the same time the Medical Society voted to cooperate, as it had on previous occasions, with the Floyd County Health Department and to sponsor a third series of public clinics in Floyd county next month.

Dr. John G. Archer, secretary-treasurer of the Medical Society, this week expressed the personal opinion that "if any group or any individual would be at all interested as to why the Floyd County Medical Society, along with most all Kentucky physicians, is opposed to a new medical school, they should be more than happy to attempt to explain why the medical profession is opposed."

Another member of the Medical Society explained that doctors feel that, even if the number of doctors is increased, the situation in rural communities would not be improved, since most graduating doctors would seek more urban communities for their practice. Examples pointed out were some medical students who were granted scholarships contributed by individual doctors, or a group of doctors, a condition of receiving a scholarship being that when the young man completed his training he would return to his own section for rural practice. In two instances cited the young men upon graduation read the scholarship donors and located where they pleased.

This source also explained that most doctors feel that for the same expense a new medical school would entail the University of Louisville's College of Medicine could educate twice as many doctors as are now being graduated. "We are against the graduation of more doctors," he said. "But we do feel that twice as many doctors could be graduated without all the expense of constructing, equipping and staffing a new school."

He also pointed out that the opening of USMA memorial hospitals in this area will serve to overcome the doctor shortage in this part of the state, in particular. The McDowell hospital opening, for instance, he said, added eight doctors. Pikeville's added 18 and Hazard's from 8 to 12.

Attending the Medical Society meeting were:

County Judge Henry Stumbo and Health Administrator M. V. Clark met with the doctors prior to the meeting of the Medical Society.

Dr. J. L. Hale, 75 years old, former Prestonsburg resident died at his home in Tampa, Fla., March 3, victim of a heart attack.

Mr. Hale was a Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company fireman for about 30 years and had resided in Florida since his retirement. He formerly resided in Ashland, where he was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Ida G. Hale, four sons, Claude L. and Charles H. Hale, both of Ashland; Earl Hale, both of Ashland; and Robert Hale, Tampa, Fla. Five daughters, Mrs. Irene Egan, Mr. Gladys Williams and Mrs. Mildred Gwynn, all of Warren, Eubanks Co.; Mr. Wanda Wank, Hickman, O.; and Miss Blanche Hale, Lexington, three brothers, Wm. and Sam Hale, both of West Prestonsburg, and Warren Hale, Prestonsburg. He also leaves 20 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Burial was made at Tampa, Florida.

case in which he was counsel.

The case hearing was initiated by the defendants, and the testimony was by deposition. Yet it often was stormy and noisy, with temper-flaring. The officers were present at the request of Commonwealth's Attorney Martin.

Attorneys Harkley, J. Sturgill, Paul E. Hayes, James Wine, J. B. Clarke and Cordell Martin represented the defendants.

Circuit Judge Edw. P. Hill has disqualified in the new actions, and a special judge has not yet been designated. The new petitions attack Judge Graham's dismissal of the Tax League suits against the officials, contending that he heard the cases here in violation of a statute which prohibits a circuit judge of a court of continuous session from serving as a special judge elsewhere.

Since the actions were filed a few weeks ago, names have been dropped as intervenors, others added, and finally the addition of 67 names brought the total to just 70.

None of the new list as of Wednesday officially asked that their names be dropped from the suits.

Where Low Prices and Good Things to Eat Get Together

Jack Hodge, former Boy Scout executive here for the Jersey Village district, has accepted a position with Wright Brothers, jeweler, in their Presto store. He assumes office Jan. 1.

Mr. Hodge is a native of The Plains, Ark., and a graduate of Barren College, class of 1930. He is a veteran of 20 months in the Navy in World War II and of a year in the Air Force. He served as Scout executive here for three and one-half years and also as Scout executive in the Old Kentucky Home district for 18 months.

Mr. Hodge, although having severed his official connection with the Scouts, is still much interested in the movement. "I'm not going to be a Scoutmaster," he says, "but I'll be on a volunteer basis," he says.

The former Scout executive is still living in Shelbyville.

Brownie Troop Sponsors Mother Daughter Banquet

The white Truss No. 15, sponsored by the Wesleyan Service Guild of the Methodist Church, under the leadership of Mrs. Harold Dorn and Mrs. Thomas Lemaster, gave a luncheon at the home of daughter Janet March 8. It was 3:30 p.m. in the Methodist church basement.

The tables were decorated with white candles, yellow flowers and red and white girl figurines as favors. Members of the group made the invitations, favor-planned the menu, and served or decorated the tables leantils and fish-washing committees.

Present were Mrs. Zella Alton, Frances Frazer led the group in Girl Scout songs. Mrs. Zella Alton spoke briefly on "The Value of Scouting." The traditional French toast circle followed.

This was a part of celebrating Girl Scout Week for Troop 15.

Hindman Pastor Receives Award for Mission Work

The annual Out-standing Mountain Minister of the Year award for 1984 will be presented to Dr. Bell, pastor of the Hindman Baptist Church, it was announced this week by Kenneth S. Cleland, director of public relations, Clear Creek Mountain Preachers Bible School, Pineville.

The presentation will be made at the 11 o'clock service, May 21, of a missionary day exercises at the school.

Dr. Bell has served the Hindman church as pastor for 16 years. He also participated in the establishing of a church-centered mission program. "He was the overwhelming choice of Association missionaries and church leaders who made nominations for the award from pastors in the whole Appalachian mountain region."

HEARING SET FOR TUESDAY

Big Sandy River Survey Funds To Be Considered In Appropriation Study

U. S. Senator Earle C. Clements and Congressman Carl D. Perkins wired The Times Tuesday that the House Appropriations subcommittee on public works will hold a hearing next Tuesday of all U. S. Army Corps Engineers projects, with similar hearings before the Senate subcommittee tentatively set for following day.

"We plan to request sufficient funds to complete the Big Survey next year," the telegram said.

He listed the following projects with amounts covered in the 1980:

Big Sandy River, $30,000, $50,000.
New Richmond Dam, $50,000, $150,000.

Lower Cumberland Dam, $2,000 (for planning); $500,000 plus $600,000 for construction.
Nolin River Dam, $50, $150,000.

No money is provided for other river surveys. Clement asks $20,000 for the Little Sa-

River and Tygart Creek, $100,000 for the Laurel Dam and flood control project, $15,000 for C&D River, and $17,000 for Cyp Creek.

Forestry improvement in Edmonson county includes the setting of 80,000 seedlings this spring.

J. Edgar Hoover Advises Parents

Should children be forced to attend Sunday school and church?—that is a question that has puzzled parents for a long while. Some child psychologists have relegated parents to the role of bystander in the home, there being only to suggest but never to assert authority even when authority is obviously in a crying need.

J. Edgar Hoover, veteran head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, is not one of those who believes in letting the child, inexperienced, willful, even rebellious, dictate what he shall do. On the matter of Sunday school and church attendance—compulsory attendance, if necessary, Hoover says.

"I shall make my child go to Sunday school and church? Yes! And with no further discussion about the matter. Started? Why? How do you answer Junior when he comes to breakfast on Monday morning and announces to you that he is not going to school anymore? You know? Junior goes. How do you answer when Junior comes in very much belated and says, 'I'm not going to take a bath, Junior bathes, doesn't he?'"

"Why all this timidity, then, in the realm of his parental guidance and authority? Going to let him wait and decide what church he'll go to when he's old enough? Quit your kidding! You don't wait until he's old enough to decide whether he wants to go to school or not—to start his education. You don't wait until he's old enough to decide whether he wants to be clean or dirty, do you? Do you wait until he's old enough to decide if he wants to take medicine when he is sick? Do you?"

"What shall we say when Junior announces he doesn't like to go to Sunday school and church? That's an easy one to answer. Just be consistent. Tell him, 'Junior, in our house we all go to Sunday school and church, and that includes you. Your firmness and example will furnish a bridge over which every rebellion in a boy's mind will have to travel to reach rich and satisfying experience in personal religious living."

"The parents of America can strike a telling blow against the forces which contribute to our juvenile delinquency, if our mothers and fathers will take their children to Sunday school and church regularly."

Please, note this, Mr. Hoover does not suggest to parents that they send their children to Sunday school and church. Instead, he talks of the home in which "we all go to church and Sunday school" and that means Mom and Dad should take the children there.

Who's Crazy?

From a distance of some forty miles we attempt to get the thought processes of twelve jurors as they decide that a woman who killed her husband with a piece of pipe and hacked off his legs, the better to conceal her crime, was guilty only of manslaughter and should be imprisoned for a mere six years.

We do not expect to succeed in this attempt, for such thought processes, if any, are, besides being intangible, beyond analysis. But let's have a try at it.

The victim was 59 years old; his wife, 17 years younger. Did the jury decide he was too old for her, or she was too young for him, and that this was one way out of divorce?

The unfortunate head of the house was arthritis-ridden and for that reason unable to hold a job. Did the jury consider him such a burden on his wife and in such misery himself that she should be permitted to act in the dual role of mercy-killer and protector of the family finances?

The husband drank to excess and beat his wife on occasion. So murder and mutilation were justified — but that idea entered into the thinking of the jury?

The defendant was found asleep in the home beneath the floor of which her husband's body was half-buried, so the crime must have been one of sudden passion, without premeditation—was that the reasoning of the jury?

Crazy, you say? Yes—very.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Times
Will you be so kind as to send me, on request, a copy of your paper.

THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES

There is the reason for my request: The Arkansas Press Association will hold its summer meeting on the University of Arkansas campus on June 15 and 16. The meeting will feature a number of speakers. As a large majority of those attending will be from the weekly newspaper field, the problems and achievements of the weekly press will be discussed. The program is being planned jointly by our Department of Journalism and the Arkansas Press Association and the Association is planning the program.

It is desired that we have to this meeting an exhibit of newspaper products from every state in the Union which are representative of the best practices of weekly journalism. Your newspaper has been selected worthy of inclusion in the exhibit.

Frankly, I have no recollection of having ever seen your newspaper, but I have conducted a careful survey—with the aid of approximately 15 experienced newspaper people in every section of the country—and I assure you that the nomination of your paper came from a competent source who is personally acquainted with it.

Sincerely yours,
William J. Goad,
Assistant to the President,
University of Arkansas.

Permanent Home Offered To Pburg Youth Center, James Tells Supervisors

Tom James, former commander of the Legion Post, American Legion, told supervisors of the Prestonburg Youth Center that the Post intended to offer the building as a permanent place for youth recreation.

The Legion building is located on Lake Drive, about a quarter-mile from the center of town. Mr. James said the Post already is taking steps to increase outdoor lighting and that he feels certain it can make whatever long-range improvements that are necessary to make the location attractive to young people.

The Center is still attractive to boys, a supervisor said, but attendance of girls has fallen off since the location of the center was moved from the center of town. It was at first located in the Municipal building.

Cooperation of the Legion Post was predicted by Mr. James during this week's meeting of the nine members of the Center's board of supervisors and four members of the Youth Council. After a discussion of charges needed, the Youth Council members voted to use membership fees in the purchase of another building to add to the one now loaned the Center. The supervisors voted to ask high school service clubs to sell cookies and sandwiches on Youth Center nights. The treasurer announced that a monthly financial report has been sent to all contributors.

State's Progress Depends On Conservation of Land, Water and People, Said

(This is the first article in a series on water conservation, issued by the Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the Kentucky Soil and Water Resources Commission.)
The "water problems" in Kentucky today? Let's take a look at the situation, remembering that there is a problem of water in connection with supplies for household use in cities and villages and in farms supplies for livestock and for growing crops, for recreation. The problem also may extend into the realm of social and economic conflict and erosion.

It is sometimes said that Kentucky is a "water state" in large degree on balancing the productive use of its land and waters with the needs, numbers, and abilities of its people in an age of industrialization and modernized agriculture. Kentucky's greatest resource, people, is growing in numbers. From 1920 to 1950, the increase in population was 229,867—or an average of 15,000 more people to feed, house and clothe in Kentucky each year during the 30-year period. Since 1920 the rate of increase has been greater still, though not so great as in the country as a whole.

On the one hand, land and water on the other hand, is of course more and more scarce for generations. This does not mean, though, that the amount of land available for farming has remained the same. More and more highways, airports, industrial plants, housing developments, military installations, and reservoirs have taken thousands of acres out of agricultural production. From 1920 to 1950 the net loss in "acres in farms" in Kentucky was nearly a million acres. During the past 10 years this loss has averaged 80,000 acres a year.

That's the same as 425,000 hundred-acre farms going out of production in Kentucky each year! And this doesn't take into account the loss of products through erosion, flooding, and water-logging of soil. The bottom in regard to land resources is not entirely gloomy, however. Farmers in recent years through programs of county agents and soil conservation districts and with the help of various state and federal agencies, have been a considerable amount of good land use and soil and water conservation. Better farming methods, better irrigation, more reforestation, improved plants and livestock have conspired to offset the losses in production.

What about the water "supply"? The experts agree that the climate is changing and we have less rainfall than in earlier years. The recent drought in 1955, during which Kentucky rainfall was averaged 44 to 46 inches a year, though drought and wet years, have considerable variation from year to year.

For storage of water for municipal and industrial and recreational use, we have many more reservoirs than in earlier years, but the threat to our water supply is still serious. The unchecked and uncontrolled land erosion constantly encroaches on the storage space and has filled much of the water in the reservoirs and lakes.

Quality of water, too, has in some areas been lowered by the use of polluting toxic, salt and industrial and human wastes. Indeed there are water problems in Kentucky.

THE NATION is probably well aware of the fact that the late Fred Cross (chemist) has had the longest job in its 75-year history, on consequence of many floods in widely scattered areas and has done its best job in meeting the emergency.

RETAIL SALES IN BIG JUMP

Local Business Increase
Accompanied by Heavier
Payrolls, Report Says

(Special to The Times)

NEW YORK, Mar. 12 — Mounting business activity in the retail stores in Prestonsburg in the past few years has been accompanied by a corresponding rise in pay-rolls.

The 69 local retail establishments chalked up $6,328,000 in business during the year 1954 as compared with $5,935,000 six years earlier. The increase was 66 percent.

At the same time their pay-rolls rose to $556,000 from $389,
000. This represented an increase of 43 percent. The number of employees was 247 in 1954.

These highlights on local retail operations are brought out in the Government's 1954 Census of Business, just released. It is the first such study made by the Census Bureau since 1948. It covers every state, county and urban district.

It reveals that Prestonsburg's 43 percent payroll rise was greater than that shown throughout the United States generally, where the increase was 28 percent. In the East South Central States there was a 36 percent improvement.

The census, which has been eagerly awaited by the business community of the country, is expected to contribute answers to the many questions.

One of these is: how have central city retail sales been affected by suburban development? "Another has the expansion of retail outlets been in line with population trends?"

The big guns of retail activity locally during the year were stores selling food, eating and drinking places, and automotive equipment establishments.

The food stores and eating and drinking group accounted for $654,000 Automotive was $2,410,
000.

Similar gains were noted in the various other categories of retail trade locally.

Despite these satisfactory results, warn the economists, consumers will not continue buying at such a rate in the near future unless they are persuaded to do so.
A harder selling effort will be needed, it is felt, to induce them to dig into their huge backlog of savings.

George Smith received a $50 bond for having the highest corn yield in Clay county—146 bushels an acre in Loain county. 252 wood trays were refueled or decorated by homemakers in their club meetings.

back down the road while Stumbo held the gun on him and Stumbo had taken both bottles of whiskey.

The officers placed the time of the incident at between 2 and 2:30 p.m.
Officers later went to Let Beaver find him. Deputy Sheriff Tom Mil-told him he would bring his son home and would trouble of any kind thus he did, and they stopped at the jail. Refused permission to use the jail telephone, the younger Stumbo left, and when Deputy Sheriff Clyde Lester, brother of office with the warrants he found Stumbo gone.

Drunkness charges were lodged tinctioned clay pipes for sale. The result was the sale of three dozen my own ad announcing that I want to buy a best horse produced the desired results. In any event, that ad would have cost the adver-

If that isn't a challenge to those of us still in the county, what would

COMPLETE FUNERAL SERVICE

Divisive Force of Goebel Still Present in Frankfort

By Allan M. Trout (The Courier-Journal)

Frankfort, Ky.—The divisive force of William Goebel continues to make itself felt upon Democratic politics in Kentucky, and Goebel has been in his grave 56 years.

Goebel, for example, is sponsoring a bill in his first special session to make the secretary of state chairman of the Board of Election Commissioners, instead of the clerk of the Court of Appeals.

The immediate effect would be to make Charles K. O'Connell, the incumbent clerk who ran on the primary ticket of Bert T. Combs, chairman of the Board of Election Commissioners.

At the same time, it would promote Mrs. Thelma Stovall, of Louisville, the secretary of state who ran in Combs' primary race in 1954.

The bill would give the secretary of state control of County Election Machinery before his candidates for the United States Senate and Congress get to the primary May 29.

In the first place, what the Governor wants to do is to put the election machinery in the hands of the party in power, as the art is practiced in Kentucky.

In the second place, the clerk of the Court of Appeals has been an official chairman of the Board of Election Commissioners for 56 years.

Had it not been for Goebel's attack on the appellate clerk to-day would not be in position to be stripped of political power. And the fact of the Democratic party today represent the same party disadvantage that Goebel was trying to overcome.

The story began in 1885, when William O. Bradley became the first Republican ever to be elected Governor of Kentucky.

The election carried over into the national race in 1892. Kentucky Democrats, as elsewhere, split on and stole. William McKinley carried the state over William Jennings Bryan. Never before had Kentucky gone for a Republican candidate for President.

Miss Stovall, who received her M. A. in Education from the University of Kentucky, has taught in the Berea Normal, Berea, Ky., and in the University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky., for many years.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. H. D. Hays.

The club voted to hold a bake sale March 27 to raise funds for the Red Cross. The sale will be held at the home of Mrs. H. D. Hays.

The club also voted to hold a bake sale March 27 to raise funds for the Red Cross. The sale will be held at the home of Mrs. H. D. Hays.

At the meeting, Mrs. H. D. Hays, president of the club, reported on the club's activities during the past year.

The club has been very active in sponsoring various social and educational programs. It has also been successful in raising funds for the Red Cross.

State Banks Report Net Profit for Year

Frankfort, Ky., March 12 (AP)—Kentucky's 280 state-chartered banks reported net profits of $1,075,000 for 1955, according to a report by the Kentucky Bankers' Association.

The report shows that the banks had a total of $1,075,000 in net profits, or an average of $3,843 per bank.

The report also shows that the banks had a total of $1,075,000 in net profits, or an average of $3,843 per bank.

with grave concern. He voiced that concern by moving the bill to the floor of the House of Representatives.

At his bidding, the 1888 Legislature enacted what came to be known as the Goebel Election Law. It was designed to do precisely what Goebel, a silver-tongued politician, wanted it to do.

The law was passed with great reluctance by the gold Democrats and the Republican Party. It was a compromise between the two parties.

The law was passed with great reluctance by the gold Democrats and the Republican Party. It was a compromise between the two parties.

Before the contest got under way, the election machinery was in the hands of the party in power.

The election machinery was in the hands of the party in power. The election machinery was in the hands of the party in power.

On August 28, 1900, Governor Beckham called a special session to repeal the Goebel Election Law.

The new law that replaced it was a model, for its day and time, of mid-tempered fairness for both parties. The law today is essentially the same that was passed at that time.

But the Beckham Administration, while willing to right a public wrong was not willing to commit a political wrong in so doing. It prudently decided that the chairman of the new three-man commission should be a Republican.

That is why the line was drawn to make Sam J. Shackelford, then clerk of the Court of Appeals, chairman of the new Board of Election Commissioners. But it was not without sound political reason that the executive branch thus invaded the judicial branch for a magistrate to perform in the Governor's best interest.

The constitutional officers before Beckham were all Democrats. But all except Shackelford were subject to contest suits by their counterparts on the Taylor ticket. Hence it was not surprising that the new law provided for a three-man commission.

Legislation Favorable To Kentucky Educators, Martin Says at Hazard

Eastern Kentucky educators were told this week by Dr. Robert Martin, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the executive secretary of the Kentucky Education Association that Kentucky education has reached the hands of the General Assembly, and the support of the Chamber of Commerce.

More favorable legislation has been enacted more favorable legislation than at any previous time.

This report to school people was made Tuesday night at Hazard and Monday, Wednesday. The meetings, being held in various parts of the state, also are intended to prepare for school openings under the new legislation.

Dr. Martin, President of the Kentucky Education Association, said that the new legislation was a landmark in the history of Kentucky education.

Only twice have both factions come together. They united in 1903 to nominate and elect Beckham to his full term of four years.

EXCLUSIVE "SINGLE UNIT" CONSTRUCTION POWERED BY AMERICAN MOTORS. RAMBLER, HUDSON, NASH AND METROPOLITAN. THE STRONGEST, SAFEST, BEST ALL-AROUND CARS ON THE ROAD.

Positive closures were built with flat wooden beams. Frame rails and wheels were mounted below a floor or box was put on top. The rugged, heavy-duty, heavy-duty chassis and body are built with flat frame and attached boxes.

Even today, most cars use separate flat frame with separate boxes bolted to them.

ONLY AMERICAN MOTORS BUILDS CARS ON THE SINGLE UNIT—CHASSIS, BODY AND FRAME ARE WELDED INTO A SINGLE SUPER-STRONG "SINGLE UNIT." RESULT: PERFORMANCE AT LESS COST. GREATER COMFORT. MORE SPACE. ROOM. LOWER FLOOR. SAFER. HANDLING AND CORNERING. ELIMINATION OF BODY SQUEAKS AND Rattles. DOUBLE SAFETY. TOP REGULAR VALUE.

Why a total of $25,000 Personal Automobile Accident Insurance is given at No Extra Cost!

We back our confidence that American Motors cars are stronger, safer, more modern than others by giving each buyer of a new Rambler, Nash, Hudson or Metropolitan a total of $25,000 Personal Automobile Accident Insurance at no extra cost. It is given to you as a bonus when you purchase your new car.

This insurance provides for the payment of $12,500 to beneficiary or estate of either you or your spouse (if a member of your household at time of purchase) thus providing the total of $25,000. Either of both should be fatally injured while driving or riding either separately or together in your new private passenger American Motors car anywhere in the world. Both are insured for the entire first year of ownership.

Covers fatality resulting within 100 days after date of accident. Applies to privately-owned cars purchased in the continental United States and Alaska where state insurance regulations permit.

Don't buy any new car until you get the facts about the priceless protection only American Motors cars can give you! See your Nash dealer! See your Hudson dealer!

Bennett Cerf Interviews George Romney

Noted publisher, columnist and television personality Bennett Cerf interviews George Romney, President of American Motors.

CERF: Mr. Romney, why do you offer a total of $25,000 insurance with your new car?

ROMNEY: It backs our claim that "single unit" construction makes the strongest, safest, most modern cars.

CERF: Is there really that much difference between the way you and other manufacturers make cars?

ROMNEY: All the difference between yesterday's railway coach and today's streamlined. Other cars still use a principle old as the oxcart: A flat frame bolted under a separate body. In our cars, frame and body are welded as a "single unit." It's the biggest stride since the all-steel body.

CERF: And this makes a safer car?

ROMNEY: Twice as safe. Instead of a flat frame underfoot, our frame is a steel, box-girder enclosure as big as the car. It gives you "wrap-around" protection in front, rear, sides and top.

CERF: That sounds like real protection.

ROMNEY: That's not all. Flat frames are stiff, so they transmit collision force throughout the car. Our big steel box-girders up front absorb most of the impact. They take the brunt of the punishment instead of passengers.

CERF: What about performance?

ROMNEY: That's a real plus. "Single unit" construction gives a better power-weight ratio. It's stronger and safer, but eliminates useless weight and bulk. Our cars have set many racing records.

CERF: And economy?

ROMNEY: They're tops. Rambler leads the gas mileage record in Midrange Economy Runs. Again, because our "hard-injected" single unit avoids dead weight.

CERF: I like room and comfort.

ROMNEY: You see, mere "bigness" can be a handicap in advanced automobile engineering. One of the biggest of the "Big 3" was years behind others in adopting the all-steel body. The bigger you are, the more factors you have—the more it costs to change.

CERF: Can you understand that?

ROMNEY: Beginning in 1940, we spent over $50,000,000 to develop the "single unit" car. Today, it will cost the biggest companies billions to re-tool for our method.

CERF: Do you think they will follow you?

ROMNEY: No doubt about it. Our major competitors will probably make the change gradually—piece-meal—or one model at a time. Frankly, we'll be happy to see our "single unit" construction adopted, because it will mean better, safer cars on American highways.

CERF: Well, I'm about ready for another car. I'm going down to look at American Motors cars.

ROMNEY: All I ask anyone to do is see and drive our modern "single unit" cars at a Nash or Hudson dealer's. The rest is up to you.

Rural Couple's Baby Delivered By Veterinarian

By Jack Wild

Does Kentucky need more doctors? In a remote corner of one Kentucky state district, a young husband and wife, poor, tired, desperately to get a doctor to attend his wife, who was about to have her first child. No doctor or nurse. The young man, frantic, appealed to a neighbor for help, and the neighbor suggested that a veterinarian be called. The veterinarian delivered the baby.

This is a true story. The Kentucky Medical Foundation has facts to support it. Other similar cases in the same county are not unheard of. The old practice of midwifery is common in that section. The people living there want more doctors and better medical attention. Local doctors are sad to oppose the opening of a medical school in Kentucky.

The critical shortage of doctors is limited to one section of the state. In 1943 over 3000 births—most of them in rural areas—occurred with no physician in attendance. In the death of infants under one year of age, the Kentucky rate was higher than that of all but three other states. It is estimated that rural Kentuckians get less than half as much medical care as city dwellers. Rural counties have an average of one doctor for 2,876 people, while urban counties have an average of one doctor per 812 people. One county in Kentucky has only one physician for its population of 12,000. Another does not have even one doctor living in the county.

Kentucky, with some 3,000,000 people, has 2,375 doctors. Great numbers of Kentucky's residents do not receive adequate medical attention. It is a tragedy. The answer to the problem, according to the Medical Foundation, is the early establishment of a state-supported medical college at the University of Kentucky.

Dipping into the mail, a letter from R. Lee Stewart of Morehead is found relative to the story on the Hargis-Cockrell feud in Rowlett county which was published on the Times three weeks ago.

I read your article on the Jack-son trouble John Hargis was killed by Jerry Cardwell, who was a special agent for the L. & E. Railroad and I believe they were returning from Lexington when the killing occurred. He was never convicted over it. Many years later, when there were no saloons in Jackson, and it is only hearsay evidence. Ben Hargis, a face looking young man, a very nice fellow, one of that sort, Tom Cockrell to come to the saloon. I do not know what passed between them but when the fight was over Ben Hargis was dead and Tom Cockrell was shot and killed on the floor. He asked a shot for an emergency. I do not think Tom was told over it. His brother Jim was a Chief of Police and he arrested some of the men who were with him when he was killed. He was killed from the courthouse as he was preparing to go to the depot to leave the afternoon train. I never could understand why they killed Jim instead of Tom.

Many wonder why Jim Cockrell was killed in the Hargis-Cockrell feud instead of Tom, just like Mr. Stewart said. That is one of the mysteries of the feud. All this reminds me that Curt Jett who killed the attorney, J. R. Marston, on the steps of Jackson, is dead. Dr. Bennett H. Wall of the Department of History of the University of Kentucky was in the Times office, Feb. 2, discussing the feud. Curt Jett came into the conversation and both Dr. Wall and this columnist thought he was lying. When Wall returned to Lexington, he wrote back that Curt Jett actually died the exact day we were talking about where he was lying at the time of death was not stated.

Pomeroy County Judge Ed Hill, Sr. who now resides at Mt. Sterling, writes about the article on the trial of Billy McCon to Frankfort to procure a pardon for the condemned Abner James, the story having appeared in The Times a few weeks ago.

"We have some folks here of the same family. Judge refers to the Dean family. One of my grand-children's sisters married Jim Osborne of Mendocino county and he has some grand-children living here and of whom is Mrs. Nell McGinnis who has been County Superintendent of schools here for 18 years but resigned last fall. Another family, Hamiltons, who speak from the same Jim Osborn, reside here also. I give the one copy of The Times and explained to them that Permina Dean James was a sister to their great-grandmother Wareham."

UK Announces Program For Visiting Students

The University of Kentucky's Department of Physical Education has planned a careful supervised program of recreation for high school students who will be on the UK campus from March 14 to 17 for the state basketball tournament. Students from all sections of the state are invited to take part in the programs, which will include swimming in UK Memorial Coliseum pool facilities and meetings with the various UK clubs and groups. Details of the program will be announced from time to time during the tournament also staged in Memorial Coliseum.

The program is being sponsored by students and professors, persons in Lexington and will be directed by recreation leadership students at the University. Coordination will be by Dr. Earl Kiffin, manager of the UK physical education facility.

Approximately 300 Kentucky high school students are expected to take part in the Annual Kentucky High School Press Association's publication clinic, scheduled for Friday, March 23, at the University of Kentucky.

More than 20 specialists in the various phases of journalism will serve as speakers during the day. Among these will be Cary Robertson, Sunday editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, Dr. Bennett H. Wall, member of the UK history faculty, will address the young journalists.

Also Mrs. Wilma May Tollesboro, Ky. is looking for a copy.

A letter from Paul T. Wayland, Bursville, Box 39, Arkansas, thinks the town of Wayland here may have been named for one of his Wayland relatives. "My great-grandfather came from Kentucky some time after 1800 and I am naturally interested in knowing for whom Wayland, Ky. was named. I do not know for sure which part of Kentucky my great-grandfather lived but perhaps there might be some of your readers who have information that would be of interest to me and help in establishing his Kentucky residence."

His name was Nertel Wayland and his wife was Pamela. He evidently was a farmer for he brought a number of slaves with him when he came to Arkansas. These were sold later.

Carl Coburn, Prestonsburg, enclosing says that Wayland was named for one of the original stockholders of the Consolidation Coal Company. He thinks that Frank Harman of Wayland would be able to answer questions relative to when and for whom the town was named.

This column would like to extend its thanks to all who have recently sent material. Special acknowledgments are due Jubie Tackett, of the Johns Creek high school, Route 1, Pikeville for information on the Tackett family which originated in Georgia and emigrated to Eastern Kentucky.

New Bridge Recommended By State Highway Dept.

Frankfort, Ky., March 12 — Construction of a new $127,000 viaduct bridge across the Ohio River connecting Covington and Cincinnati is recommended to the State Highway Department by the consulting engineer firm of Hadlett and Erhart.

The proposed span would be located some 800 feet downstream from the existing Chesapeake and Ohio viaduct. It would connect with the Covington extension of Ninth street, but exclude the Cincinnati approach. Engineers recommended the location as the "most economical" and providing the most direct route for the connection between the expressways in both cities.

A bridge chemical concern called the project a "success of cheap and firm electric power that can be created by any company today."

Pike Speech Festival Will Find 13 Schools In Regional Debate

Ten high-school debating teams will lead some 225 students from 13 Eastern Kentucky schools into the Pikeville regional speech festival, March 23 and 24.

Floyd County (Prestonsburg) high school's debaters are among 22 who, doubt entered from the Prestonsburg school.

All activities of the regional festival, usually held on the campus of Pikeville College, will be conducted in the new education building of the Pikeville Methodist Church, Dr. A. Page College president, announced today. Public speaking, debating and 11 other speech events make up the festival program.

The two highest-ranked debate teams, the first-place winner in public speaking and all students rated "superior" in other events will advance to the state speech festival April 19-21 in Lexington. In addition, up to two entrants winning "excellent" rankings in any event in which there are no "superiors" may be qualified by the judges for the state meet.

Dr. R. D. Johnson, of the University of Kentucky, will head a board of four judges from the University, Dr. Page said.

Debuters also are entered from Betsy, Benjamin, Dorton, Elkhorn City, Harlan, Hellen, Nagle, Virgie and Whitesburg high schools. Other entrants are from Lynch and Paintsville high schools and Pikeville College Academy.

Consumption of coal to produce electric power will total more than 47,000,000 tons a year by 1955, or more than doubled the tonnage of only 10 years before.

and you're in BUICK'S THRILL-A-MINUTE CLUB

THE THRILLS begin in the first sixty seconds — and from then on they come in clusters.

Right off, you feel the stepped-up getaway in Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynamflow* — a blazing new take-off even before you switch the pitch.

Because now — right in the topmost inch of pedal travel — right where you do most of your driving — right in the fuel-saving economy range — you're moving with a solid new "take-hold" getaway that's brisk and blessedly smooth.

Then you double the thrill.

For when you want to pass — or climb — or get out of a tight spot fast — you floor the pedal and switch the pitch. That brings you an absolutely smooth burst of full-power go-ahead on the split second — and it's the nearest thing to soaring flight yet.

It's a double-barreled package of excitement — and it's teamed with the most powerful V8 engine in Buick history — a 322-cubic-inch engine with no less than 9.5 to 1 compression in every CENTURY, SUPER and ROADMASTER.

All that would seem like thrill enough — but you'll find you've hardly scratched the surface.

You'll find yourself glowing all over from the sweet and level buoyancy of Buick's great new ride.

You'll feel a serene satisfaction from the way this trim beauty handles and corners and tracks to the road with the truest sense of direction yet.

And certainly you'll have to feel the good feeling that's yours just from having this big and beautiful and beautifully sculptured automobile that's like a thing alive, and impeccably obedient.

We'd like you to know and feel all this firsthand — just by trying out a new Buick. That's all you do to join Buick's Thrill-A-Minute Club.

Why not become a member in good sitting today? And when you do, we have some big-thrill news on prices, too.

*New, Improved Variable Pitch Dynamflow is the only Dynamflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional on models extra cost on the Special.

"Come With Us!"

"Oh, don't say you're too busy. You have just as much time as we do. We all have the same amount of time."

"Yes, we know you need a little recreation. And we say go to it! Have fun! A good game of golf does wonders for the morale. Nothing like fishing, especially when you catch some. Swimming is so refreshing."

"But your soul needs refreshing, too. You need to worship as well as to play. In every age, in every place, man has worshipped."

"There are 168 hours in the week. Surely you can take two or three of them for Sunday school and church—and still have plenty of time for recreation. 'Re-create' your spiritual life as well as your physical life."

"Come with us to church and worship God. Come with us every week!"

Ferrell New Head Coach At Lafayette Hi School

The Ferrell family Prestonsburg high school head coach, has been named head football coach at Lafayette high school, Lexington. It was announced in Lexington this week.

Ferrell, one of the state's top end members, will leave Owensboro high where he began coaching last fall after leaving Prestonsburg to take up his new duties.

The choice to Lexington will be to the father of a homecoming, for Ferrell, since he was a regular performer on the UK football team here from 1945 to 1949. He was an all-state high school grinder with Madison high at Richmond.

After his graduation at the University he came to Prestonsburg where he completed an outstanding record. In one of the years of his tenure here he was named Coach of the Year in Kentucky. As Black Cat coach he developed Delmar Hughes, now UK's quarterback, and Lew Hutzler, brother of Delmar, who is slated for a Wildcat uniform. Both boys were members of the all-state football eleven.

Ferrell will succeed Tony Salvato as Lafayette's head grid chief. Salvato, the General track coach, was promoted to head football coach last season when Bill Schaffert resigned to enter the automobile business. Ferrell and Schaffert played together at UK in 1948.

When Ferrell left Prestonsburg to take the Owensboro position, he was given a three-year contract by the school. However, it was reported that the Owensboro Board of Education will release Ferrell from the contract.

George O. Betsy Layne, Is Outstanding Observer

James George O. Betsy Layne has been selected as Kentucky's outstanding observer in the Civilian Observer Corps for the month of March.

Mr. George has been supervisor of the Betsy Layne observation post since 1952, and during that time his post has missed participating in only two practice "sky-watch" sessions. On several of the sky-watch sessions that lasted for 24 hours Mr. George served as many as 18 hours.

George is a member of the Methodist Church, and is president of the Betsy Layne Men's Club. He is also a flight lieutenant in the Civil Air Patrol, and is Scoutmaster of a Boy Scout group. Besides all these activities, he still finds time to catch a few bass at Dewey Lake.

contract to accept the Lafayette post.

It was also reported from Owensboro that Ferrell wasn't satisfied with the setup at the school, and that is the main reason he is departing. The Red Devils posted a 4-2 record last season and several times stories of excitement about the players was reported.

Ferrell is considered one of the top prep coaches in the state and is expected to produce good outfits at Lafayette.

Owensboro officials reported that the school board there will be seeking a "big name" coach to succeed Ferrell, and they will begin looking for a new man this week.

Automobile Insurance Investigation Begun

Frankfort, Ky., March 12 — Insurance Commissioner C. P. Thurman said today his department has started an investigation to determine whether Kentucky's automobile buyers were being overcharged by some finance companies on collision insurance coverage.

Thurman said a regulation has been sent out to all companies writing automobile collision insurance, directing them to mail a questionnaire to each individual insured aimed at determining the number of vehicles improperly classified.

Misclassification of vehicles, he said, could result in higher insurance premiums to the policy holder.

Camp Earl Wallace Will Open May 28, Baldridge Says

Camp Earl Wallace located at Cumberland Lake will open on May 28 for Junior Conservation boys from Floyd county will attend camp June 4 through June 9. Baldridge, district Junior Conservation supervisor, said this week.

About 2,500 boys and girls attend this camp last year.

Application blanks are now being placed in the hands of boys in 12 schools in this county. The regular camp fee is $7.50 for the week. Of this amount, $6 goes for food, $1.00 goes toward paying transportation and $50 for an insurance policy to cover the boy until he returns home.

This is one of the best camps in the United States, and over the past 10 years there hasn't been a major accident there, Baldridge said.

In camp boys are taught many phases of conservation. Some activities: swimming, archery, boating, sports, nature study, casting, first aid and plenty of fishing. Camp sports include basketball, tennis, softball, horseshoes and other games.

Baldridge said about 180 boys from Floyd county alone are expected to attend the camp.

The Floyd County Fish & Game Club is helping some of the boys as this year by letting them sell membership cards. Each Junior Club member who sells as many as 15 memberships gets a free trip to camp.

Wayland in State Tournament After Epic Game at Pikeville

The Wagon of Wayland high school, headed by the redoubtable "Knee Coleman," won the regional basketball tournament at Pikeville Saturday night in a scoring display that was matched only by the spirit and all-around ability of the team as a whole after it had lost its great scoring star, Coleman, on fouls in the third quarter.

And so the Floyd school earned the right to represent the 15th region in the state tournament at Lexington this week. This will be the third state journey trip taken by "Copper-John" Campbell and his Wagon since 1947.

Wayland entered the big game with the hard-fought 12-12 record from the first round last Wednesday night. The Wagon won that one 92-84. In the semi-finals, Wayland's opponent was Paintsville, a team that had won 28 games while dropping only two, and the Floyd contingent rose brilliantly to the occasion, dumping the Johnnies 90-72. That took the Wagon into the finals, to meet the Pikeville Panthers on the Panther's own floor Saturday night.

Before a packed house, with tense fans howling and shouting on every play, the great Coleman staged the greatest feat of his four years of high school net play. Unstopable, he racked up 36 points in the first half, to give his team a 54-46 halftime lead over Pikeville. He tallied eight more points to bring his total to 44 before fouling out of the fray with 1:20 to go in the third period.

The departure of Coleman was hailed with delight by Pikeville fans with Wayland supporters suffering the opposite emotion. There were nine minutes, 29 seconds yet to go.

All-Regional Team

Kelly Coleman and Elmon Hall, of Wayland.
Bryan Hall and Charles Hall, of Pikeville.
Howard Lockhart and H. L. Justice, of Pikeville.
Charles Osborne and Carroll Burchett, of Flat Gap.
Thomas Spears, Bobby Layne, Grant Howard, John Creek.

and few believed the Wagon could hold their slim lead with the famous Coleman sidelined. But they knew Elmon Hall take up the starting role where Coleman had left off, saw the whole Wagon-nest swarm out with greater spirit than ever. Hall, untroubled by the disastrous turn of events, tossed in 14 points in those nine minutes to ice the cherished victory, 64 to 56.

Yet winning this epic struggle that had fans saying things they perhaps now wish they hadn't said, wasn't as easy as that. Pikeville encouraged by Wayland's loss of Coleman, came roaring back to trail by a lone point with four minutes to go and four of the Panthers regulars on the bench via the foul route. Substitute Larry Phillips was scoring almost as well for the Panthers. Meanwhile, Wayland had lost another regular. Altogether, Pikeville lost six players on fouls leaving that team with only four players on the floor, the last 39 seconds of the game.

Wayland opened the "annual Sweet Sixteen" state playoff at Memorial Coliseum, Lexington, last night against Shelbyville.

In 37 games, the run-and-stroke Wagon have turned the nets for 3,388 points for an average 81-points-per game mark.

The No. 1 scorer in Kentucky's all-time basketball history is 58-year-old, 215-pound Jerry Cobb.

ALL-STATE TIME

The 1954 Courier-Journal All-State high school basketball team will be announced Sunday, April 1. No doubt, the 15th region will be represented by Wayland's Kelly Coleman, with Prestonsburg's Lowell Hines and Flat Gap's Charles Osborne coming in for considerable recognition.

"Copper-John" Campbell should be one of the overwhelming favorites for Coach-of-the-Year honors.

CALLED ALL SHOTS IN REGIONAL TOURNEY

The weekly basketball rating that we ran in The Times each week during the season proved to be accurate in every instance in the 15th regional tournament as shown below.

Our Ratings and Actual Difference

First Round
Paintsville over Johns Creek by 27.
Wayland over Betty Layne by 8.
Wayland by 8.
Flat Gap over Morgan County by 20.
Flat Gap by 54.
Pikeville over Sandy Hook by 51.
Pikeville by 67.
Semi-Finals
Pikeville over Flat Gap by 4.
Wayland over Paintsville by 1.
Wayland by 24.
Finals
Wayland over Pikeville by 4.
Wayland by 6.

COLEMAN SCORES

In playing 87 minutes in three regional tournament games, against three of the best teams in the mountains, Kelly Coleman scored 147 points, a 169-point-per-minute pace, something almost unheard of, if we hadn't seen it, we would seriously doubt it.

"Outstanding Service," Tribute To Red Cross Made by Gov. Chandler

Frankfort, Ky., March 12.—Praising the Red Cross for its "outstanding service to people throughout our nation and the world," Governor A. B. Chandler proclaimed the month of March as "Red Cross Month" in Kentucky.

Another proclamation designated the week of May 6-12 as "National Hearing Week" and suggested that all citizens "lend their best efforts to the campaign for better hearing."

CARR CREEK LOST IN '38

In answer to several phone-calls, Carr Creek lost to Ashland in the finals of the state high school tournament in 1938 by 13-11 in four overtime periods.

Carr Creek and Wayland, the two mountain teams that could keep the state title in this section, could meet in the semi-finals of the tourney, if both win their first two games.

In two meetings during the season, Wayland won at home, 70-68, and lost, 29-26, on Hindman's floor. Hazard capped the crown last year, and ties in 1954.

CAIN ANNOUNCES SCHEDULE

Roy M. Cain, a contact representative of the Kentucky Ex-Servicemen's Board, will be here, at the law office of Tackett & Tackett, Friday, March 23, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. to assist veterans and their dependents with claims for benefits due them as a result of their military service. He will also be at the postoffice building in Wayland, Thursday morning and at the Beaver Hardware store at Martin Thursday afternoon.

At the Robena Mine of the U. S. Steel Co., a single conveyor belt moves 2,800 tons of coal an hour from car dump to screen house, at a rate of 600 feet per minute.

Forty-seven homemakers in Nelson county are enrolled in a class in weight control.

It takes a FORD to squeeze maximum power out of today's gasoline

Only Ford gives you modern Short Stroke power—V-8 or Six—in every truck! Short Stroke design means up to 53% more power with no increase in engine size

Just one kind of engine can give you all the mileage built into today's gas. And that's a modern Short Stroke engine—the new kind of truck power pioneered by Ford.

Short Stroke engines develop power that used to be possible only with much bigger engines. And Short Stroke engines do—on less gas! The shorter stroke means less piston travel, which means less friction to waste power and gas, and less wear, too. You also get more useful power to work for you at the rear wheels!

Now Ford Trucks save you money when you buy! Ford is America's lowest-priced line of V-8 trucks. And right now your Ford Dealer is offering attractive terms for leasing. Call him and find out what a sweet deal you can get!

HEALTH NOTES By Floyd County Health Department

The Carrot or The Stick

Since the world began, getting people to do what's good for them has been a major problem. This has always been particularly true, and especially important, in the field of medicine.

Persuading a child to take some bad-tasting medicine because "it's good for him" is a problem every parent faces. When we grow up we presume that we are sensible enough to do what's good for us, particularly where our health is concerned. But are we? Take a look at tuberculosis, for example.

Tuberculosis is a disease whose power to kill and cripple has been reduced as a result of recent medical advances. Today's victims have an excellent chance to overcome their disease and lead useful lives if they find the disease early and listen to their doctors after they begin treatment. But often medical science is hindered by the fact that people themselves haven't changed very much!

If all victims of tuberculosis followed medical advice carefully, much greater progress against the disease could be made. But tuberculosis is a disease that often requires much self-discipline during a long period of treatment, a discipline that may bring in its wake heavy financial and personal problems. Because tuberculosis patients are people they find it hard to "take their medicine."

Sometimes patients walk out of hospitals or sanatoriums before their doctors say they should, or disobey his instructions after they are permitted to return home and continue their treatment on their own. One might say, "What's the difference?" They're only hurting themselves.

But that's not always the case. Many persons who leave tuberculosis hospitals "against medical advice" endanger their communities because they can spread infectious TB germs. What to do about these people who don't know what's good for them—and the communities—is a problem.

There are two schools of thought on what to do. The "carrot" group is against compulsion, believing that proper education of the patient will convince him that he must obey his doctor. The "stick" welders feel that anyone who is a danger to the community should be forced by law to remain under treatment. Some states, subscribing to the "stick" theory, have passed laws making hospitalization compulsory for certain tuberculosis patients.

Until all patients learn what's really good for them, the question of "the carrot or the stick" will be an important public health problem.

Director Gives Dates For Opening of Parks

Frankfort, Mar. 12 (Sp.) — Kentucky's state parks are rapidly being prepared for the host of people who will visit them this year. Operations at the parks have been stepped up because of the recent good fishing, and indications that outdoor weather is "just around the corner."

Mrs. Ben Kilgore, director of parks, issued a statement giving the opening dates for all the state operated recreation spots. She also requested that "home folks" make immediate use of the parks and enjoy them before they become crowded in the summer season.

The "big four" parks, Cumberland Falls, Kentucky Lake, Kentucky Dam, and Lake Cumberland are in full operation at all times. Mrs. Kilgore said. Opening dates as announced by Mrs. Kilgore for other parks are:

Open April 1—Blue Lake, Chernobyl, Levi Jackson and Landon Homestead.
Open April 15—Perryville restaurant, May 1st.

Open May 1—Carter Caves, Cumberland-Belmont, National Broder-Pose Mountain and General Butler (closed now). April 1st.

Approximately 400 homemakers in Pulaski county took part in the public drive, rate for more than $1,500.

Each 4-1/2 club in Harlan county set out at least 1,000 tree seedlings opposite its local bank.

Sports Accidents Claimed 28 Lives During Past Year

Frankfort, Ky., March 12 (Sp.) — A total of 28 persons lost their lives while hunting and fishing in Kentucky during 1953, according to a survey recently completed by the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

Sixteen of the fatalities occurred in addition, 19 persons suffered non-fatal hunting injuries, and four were injured while fishing.

The report showed that nine of those killed in hunting accidents were under the age of 15, five were between the ages of 16 and 40, and two were between 40 and 49 years old.

Eight of the 12 persons died from gunshot wounds, four persons were shot by others, two were shot with their own guns; two children died while playing with guns used in hunting and left unattended and one person died of a heart attack while hunting.

Of the 15 drowned, five were between the ages of 20 and 40, six were 41 and 65 and three over 65. Two of the two were not listed.

Eight of the persons were drowned in major lakes, six in rivers and two at Cumberland Falls. The major cause of drowning was listed as capsizing boats. Five persons died in this manner.

Increased production of sorghum crop will add to farm incomes in Lawrence county.

Centre College Fraternity Magazine To Feature Initiates 'Bucky' Burckett Hancock Sorghum Fest

Frankfort, Ky., March 6 (Sp.) — Joe "Bucky" Burckett, of Prestonsburg, has been initiated into Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, chapter 27 at Hancockville. Hancock county, and he will be featured in the Saturday, Feb. 19th, issue of March 17.

Burckett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Burckett, of Prestonsburg, and is a graduate of Prestonsburg high school where he was leader in various school activities. He was a guard on Centre's inter-collegiate football team last fall.

An effort is being made to have a sorghum festival in all sections of Hancock county.

GMC brings you the most impressive improvements of all 1956 trucks

Now we can show you these great new GMC's that are further than ever ahead of all others. Their advances not only clinch power supremacy—but reach into fields still unexplored by other truck-makers.

For example, GMC's Road Shock Damper Suspension—plus a unique new stabilizer—produces in half-ton models a ride comparable to the finest passenger car.

An optional new fast-ratio cruising axle in light-duty GMC's gives you an overdrive's pace and economy without its cost.

Sharply increased engine displacement in both sixes and V8's gives you a power family unsurpassed in the light-duty field. Specifically, we offer 14.4

GRIATER displacement on 6-cylinder models, 16.2% on V8's than our nearest competitors. And GMC V8's, mind you, match the shortest stroke ratios in the truck industry.

Styling is well into the future—panoramic windshield to sand right tail gate. Tubeless tires, of course. And a 12-volt electrical system is standard.

These are some of the strides presented in new 1956 Blue Chip trucks we now have on view. The values are even more notable. Come in and get the facts!

*Standard on variations optional at slight extra cost on other models.
