YOUTH CORPS LAW SOUGHT

Orrille Freeman Urges Urges Bill Support; Utdal Testifies Monday

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20 (Sp. Pass.)—A bill introduced by Congressman Carl D. Perkins (D., Ky.) to establish a Youth Conservation Corps and public employment program for out-of-school and unemployed young people between the ages of 16 and 22 years of age was urged today by Secretary of Agriculture Orrille Freeman.

Secretary Freeman told Perkins' Education subcommittee, which is holding hearings on the legislation, that a Youth Conservation Corps was urgently needed to perform conservation and recreational development work in national forests.

Freeman was the third member of the President's cabinet to appear before the Perkins subcommittee during Perkins' bill, which is known as the Youth Employment Act. The hearings were begun Monday by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall. Tuesday of this week, Attorney General Robert Kennedy asked action on the legislation because of the contribution the program would make toward eliminating sources of juvenile delinquency.

Utdal testified as to the need of the program in connection with the full development of the nation's parks and natural resources. Also an Under Secretary of the Interior, the nation's leading conservation organizations urged passage of the bill to include the Wildlife Management Areas, the National Wildlife Federation, the Frank Walton League, the Committee on Natural Resources and the Wilderness Society.

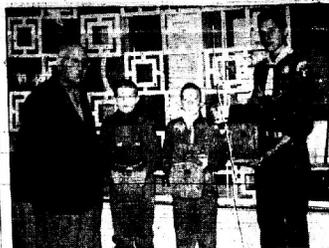

Today (Thursday), Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze is scheduled to appear before the Perkins subcommittee. Perkins said the hearings would be continued next Monday with the testimony of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Perkins requested the house that the subcommittee and the full committee act promptly on the legislation so as to enable full membership of the House to act on the measure early in the session. Similar legislation advocated by Congressman Perkins in the last session was pending before the House Rules committee, which must schedule all legislation for action by the full House membership when the 81st Congress adjourns.

The Perkins bill would establish the Youth Conservation Corps with an authorized level of 150,000 members. The first year and one year of the construction program. In addition, Title II of the bill would create public works construction for young people in state and local government and private public works projects. The bill would also provide for the use of the Corps' membership for about 50,000 young people a year.

One-third of the Corps' membership could be reserved for use by states or state parks and conservation projects and the remainder of the Corps would be used by the Department of the Interior and the U. S. Department of Agriculture on Federal forests and public lands to perform deferred recreational conservation maintenance and construction work. In addition to compensation, Corps members would receive clothing, shelter, meals, medical care and transportation.

United Fuel Gas Sued For $39,490 As Result Of Shelbiana Explosion

The United Fuel Gas Company was sued in the Pleas circuit court recently for $39,490 as a result of an explosion and fire at Red Creek late last month.

The suit was filed by W. E. Justice, owner of property which Justice claims was damaged by the explosion and fire.

Kentucky State Police reported that one man, Ernest A. Lennan, Sr., 74, was fatally injured and another, John Seal, of Shelbiana, formerly of the Marx Creek section of this county, was hospitalized as a result of injuries suffered in the explosion.

Justice claims that one house belonging to him was destroyed and that two other rental houses and a vehicle belonging to him were damaged by the mishap.

The plaintiff alleged that United Fuel is the owner of a gas line which broke or ruptured, allowing great quantities of natural gas to escape underground under high pressure and seep through the ground into one of his buildings where the gas became ignited and caused an explosion and fire.

Justice claims that one house belonging to him was destroyed and that two other rental houses and a vehicle belonging to him were damaged by the mishap.

The suit was filed by W. E. Justice, owner of property which Justice claims was damaged by the explosion and fire.

Southern Bell Announces Lower Nighttime Rates; Effective Dates Named

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 18 (Sp.)—Lower rates on nighttime station-to-station calls in Kentucky are an outgrowth of Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co. subscribers, the Public Service Commission has announced.

P. S. C. Chairman J. David Francis said the new rates will mean a maximum charge of 45 cents for a four-minute call made anywhere in Kentucky between 9 p.m. and 4:30 a.m. each day.

Francis said the rate cut will go into effect about April 1, when a similar decrease is expected on all interstate station-to-station calls made over the Bell System after 9 p.m. New rate schedules will be prepared before the decrease is put into operation within Kentucky, he said.

Last month the Commission announced reductions on charges for in-Kentucky person-to-person calls made at night and on Sundays. These changes went into effect January 19.

Garrett High School, Freshman Asks Andy, Wins Encyclopedia

Mickey Fouts is a source of both minor embarrassment and tremendous pride to his mother, Mrs. Arnold Potts, a teacher at Garrett high school.

Mickey, 15, won a set of "The World Book Encyclopedia" from the Ask Andy feature in the Courier-Journal, an achievement which pleases his mother no end.

"I know that any question he submitted to Ask Andy dealt with science or mathematics," Mrs. Potts said. "That's all he ever thinks about," she added, explaining that while her son has a talent for science and math he doesn't take a shine to the subject she teaches, English.

"My English, he hates!" Mickey's question is answered by Andy in Monday's Courier-Journal. The youth is a freshman at Garrett high school and plans to become an engineer or scientist. His parents hope to send him to the University of Kentucky. They plan on his taking his first two years of college at the proposed Prestonsburg extension center.

Mickey's interest in science goes beyond the classroom. He has his own small laboratory in his home and subscribes to a mail-order science club that provides its members with experiments.

"It's a little safer having his lab in a different house," said Mrs. Potts. She pointed out a drain on a rug at the family residence where one experiment failed.

He has built a rocket he intends to launch when his father, a Federal Reserve Bank guard, returns from his job in Ohio.

FEBRUARY IS APPROPRIATE NATIONAL CHERRY MONTH

By FRANCIS H. PITTS
Home-Demonstration Agent
February is known as National Cherry Month and it is a most appropriate time. The red tart cherry crop was record large this past year and processed supplies now on hand for Washington's birthday and Valentine's Day and also Lincoln's birthday are in heavy supply. Canned supplies are available large from which pies are usually made. And there are a host of frozen products which includes not only frozen unsweetened and sweetened cherries, but frozen products such as rolls, turnovers, crisps, pies, cake and other desserts. Cherry muffins and cherry kachigels are other specialties which are easily made from the canned pie filling. Cherry sauce-slices is a wonderful addition to meats and poultry in flavor as well as consistency and color.

They have the flavor of fresh cherry desserts. You may add marshmallows, cream, cheese, whipping cream or topola and give to cherry dishes to accent flavor and intensify red color for meals during February. Cherry Valentine salads may be "extra special" by adding sliced, crunchy celery and English walnuts or sliced bananas and miniature marshmallows. When making special cherry salad and desserts, drain off the juice and use as part or all of the liquid needed. Cherry Soup—an interesting soup which may be served hot or cold with a garnish of sour cream and a sprinkling of grated orange peel. For 12 servings, allow 3 cups drained, red tart, water-packed cherries, reserving the liquid. Chop cherries fine or put through a blender, combine two-thirds cup sugar, one-fourth cup corn starch, one-half teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon cinnamon in a saucepan. Stir in one cup cherry liquid, chopped cherries and one cup orange juice. Place over medium heat and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil, boil one-half minute. Serve hot or cold. This makes a wonderful and unusual appetizer.

UNSAFE MINES ARE CLOSED BY ORDER OF A. H. MANDT

(Special to The Times)
Frankfort, Feb. 14.—Dear Sir: You have been working in a "DITCH TRAP". So opens a letter which A. H. Mandt, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals, sends to each coal miner or found working in a dangerous area of a mine which State inspectors have temporarily closed for safety reasons. The letter continues: "The last inspection report shows that you failed to maintain your working place in a safe condition. FORTY-THREE Kentucky coal miners were killed in 1961 by slate falls. Will you be the next VICTIM?" Although the letter is designed to shock the recipient, Mandt considers it the most direct way of selling mine safety to the men who do the work.

"In fact," Mandt said, "this practice deserves a good part of the credit for 1962 having the lowest number of coal mine fatalities in Kentucky in the past 40 years." Last year fatalities from roof falls—the Number One killer in Kentucky coal mines—were reduced from 43 to 19. Forty-one miners were killed last year in all accidents as opposed to 55 in 1961, he said.

Mandt credits direct appeals from the miners and the operators that it was stepped up in 1962 and a full-time safety director was added to the staff. The classes are conducted by state inspectors and last approximately 10 weeks, meeting once a week in the evening for about two hours. In the past year, eight Small Mine Accident Prevention courses have been given to approximately 150 miners. Special first-aid courses were held last year to prepare 100 miners for statewide mine rescue competition. The teams are sponsored by the coal companies and the men operate as reserve teams in their own areas in the event of an accident. The Department of Mines and Minerals also periodically conducts courses for mine foremen, reviewing the elements of practical mining and safety practices.

BY JUDY WOODS

"An opportunity to see old acquaintances, meet new friends and share the fun of college life" is the way a Floyd county student described a recent meeting of Eastern Kentucky State College's Floyd County Club.

This statement reflects the sentiments of other Floyd county students who have participated in the club since its organization in the fall of 1961. Thirty-eight students form the nucleus of the club.

Early in the fall club members began planning a float to enter in Eastern's annual Homecoming parade. "A Chinese Garden" was chosen as the theme for the float. Miss Pat McChesney represented the club as a candidate for Homecoming Queen.

Participation in Homecoming activities was made possible by helpful hands of students who put in many hours to make the float, and by Floyd county merchants and other Floyd citizens who gave financial aid.

The Floyd County Club extends its gratitude to the following businesses and individuals who donated money for the float: Ray Howard Furniture Store, Music-Colvin Chevrolet-Buick Sales, Luke Bowling Lanes, Crown Bowling Lanes, N. M. "Bud" White, B. F. Casual Shop, Hunter Motor, Rose Drug Store, Francis Store, Thomas Hardware Company, Carter & Callahan Funeral Home, Prestonsburg, Ky., Coats, and Frank Zimmerman.

Campus dates, parties, receptions and a banquet and dinner at Mrs. Linder apartment of the Homecoming activities that the club has planned for this year.

Club members will also visit Floyd county high schools and discuss some of the many activities that can be obtained by a student attending Eastern.

Club officers for this year are: President, Mary F. Williams; Vice President, Sandra Warren; Secretary, Sandra Click; Treasurer, Shirley Harmon; public chairman, Mr. Carl Woods.

The group wishes to thank the Homecoming float sponsors, Dr. Hays Allen, head librarian and his congregation, they have made it the club's first year.

NED BREATHITT as GOVERNOR Will Complete The Mountain Parkway EASTERN KENTUCKY'S ROAD OF OPPORTUNITY

Ned Breathitt says: "The Mountain Parkway will serve a growing industrial and recreation area."

Happy Chandler says the Eastern Kentucky road leads "uphill to nowhere" and into an area where half the people are on relief and most don't pay taxes.

Will You Go Forward With Breathitt or Backwards With Chandler?

Many said Eastern Kentucky would never have a modern, safe major highway—that the mountains would be "locked forever." The Mountain Parkway being built proves they're wrong again.

EASTERN KENTUCKY IS AT THE CROSSROADS...

"Like a dream road"—that's the way travelers who have contended with other roads in the area describe the new Mountain Parkway.

The Mountain Parkway, Eastern Kentucky's first top-quality major highway, opens the door for better living for all Eastern Kentuckians.

A writer once said, "For lack of a through highway, the mountain folk are largely fenced in and their potential visitors fenced out." Now the Mountain Parkway opens the gates to opportunity. Commerce and industrial products will be able to move on its broad, easy lanes, tourists will be able to find us, and local residents can at last travel easily and safely.

The Mountain Parkway, other new roads, major park developments and the new handicrafts marketing program are important new assets that will help Eastern Kentuckians make a better living. The Mountain Parkway will bring tourists with money to spend, and Eastern Kentucky will extend its best hospitality to them.

When completed, the 202-mile Mountain Parkway, which is already in use from Winchester to Campton, will divide at Campton. One arm will extend through Salyersville and Prestonsburg to Pikeville. The other arm will reach on to Hazard and Whitesburg. From Winchester to Salyersville (76 miles) will be toll road. The rest of the 202 miles of the Mountain Parkway will be freeway (no tolls).

As much as possible of the 202 miles will be built during the Combs administration. EASTERN KENTUCKY MUST MAKE SURE THAT THE NEXT GOVERNOR IS SYMPATHETIC TO THE MOUNTAIN PARKWAY AND WILL COMPLETE IT. Ned Breathitt for Governor praises the Mountain Parkway and pledges its completion as planned.

Forty-three miles of the new Mountain Parkway—from Winchester to Campton—opened in January. Its smooth lanes cut an hour from driving time and seven miles from the trip. The 80c (Chandler said the toll would be over $4) toll is offset by what the motorist saves on his gas and oil and on tires and car repair. Safety, time saved and ease of travel are a bonus. For those who would complain about the toll, the much improved freeway over this route is still available.

Building the Winchester-to-Campton section of the Mountain Parkway was no easy job; many said it couldn't be done. More equipment, machinery and manpower were concentrated on its construction than on any road project in state history. Curves are broad and gentle. No grade is steeper than seven per cent. Giant cuts—up to 260 feet in depth—permit the easy slopes.

This picture, made just before the Winchester-Campton section of the Parkway opened, shows inviting travel ahead for Eastern Kentuckians and for the visitors and tourists who will come to see us.

EASTERN KENTUCKY IS GRATEFUL FOR THE PROGRESS THAT HAS BEEN MADE ON THE MOUNTAIN PARKWAY. OUR PRESERVATION AND PROGRESS DEPEND UPON THE COMPLETION OF THIS HIGHWAY. NED BREATHITT HAS PRAISED THIS WHILE CHANDLER HAS CRITICISED THIS ROAD.

(Pol. Adv.)

What's Going On A Fish & Wildlife

By MINOR CLARK Commissioner Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources

Knowing fall well the idiosyncrasy of fishes, nevertheless we're ready to predict that the black bass fishing in Lake Cumberland this spring will be "out of this world."

This prediction is not merely pulled out of the air for the sake of something to write about but is based on certain facts, and, to be sure, some "ifs."

A few years ago the threadfin shad was introduced into Lake Cumberland. This fellow, when full grown, still is of small size and can be gobbled up by a hungry bass. Last year and the year before almost one-third of the bass caught in the past few weeks but biologists are relatively sure there'll be enough for reproduction next spring.

If the weather should have cleaned them out this past winter, they'll be stocked again because they have been found to be the best bet yet on the menu of Lake Cumberland bass. Yes, we believe there'll be good almost anywhere in the lake this spring and there were plenty of them in Cumberland had an ample pantry throughout the past summer with the result that they grew rapidly and last fall were in the 14 inch range.

Probably more of this size fish were harvested from this lake last fall than in any other given period and still there are plenty left. They had ample food of the threadfin variety right on through the colder months and undoubtedly have even grown some during the winter months.

The presence of this threadfin and the resultant excellent food have made the bass in Cumberland extremely healthy and chances are they are accounted to the vagaries of life during this past winter.

It's pretty safe to say that all those bass had excellent food (not caught by the fishermen) are in the lake right now, frisky and ready to hit. They'll be ready to take the lure when the weather permits.

This threadfin is largely responsible for the healthy condition of these bass. As said before, he is a small fellow, available for food throughout his life and does not take up too much space in the lake as does his distant cousin, the sand shad. But, the threadfin is by nature a southerner and he is almost all limits in Lake Cumberland because of the cold water in the winter months. Some have died in the past few weeks but biologists are relatively sure there'll be enough for reproduction next spring.

Certificates of merit for outstanding community service programs were given Tuesday to 14 rural churches of Kentucky at a special dedication service rural school awards session of the 51st annual Farm and Home Weeks held at Lexington.
Two of the churches are First Baptist Church, of Middlesboro, the Rev. Floyd Titcomb, pastor, and the Elkhorn City Methodist Church, Rev. William Garnett, pastor. Dr. W. A. Seay, dean of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics made the presentation.

Lions Club Installs Officers At LaDale; Hazard Club, Sponsor

The Prestonburg Lions Club formally installed its officers for the ensuing year at its regular bi-monthly meeting at the LaDale restaurant Thursday evening last week. R. Chalmers London, international counselor, Hazard, was installation officer. The Hazard group is sponsoring the Prestonburg club.
"Whether you grow or not depends upon what you put in your club," London said. "If you get busy you'll grow. If you just come here and eat you'll stay." If you give your community service you are worthwhile and your organization will be worthwhile.
Frederick A. James, president, presided at the meeting and in a brief talk reviewed the purposes of the town's newest service club and added:
"The thought behind the organization was and is to build a better town. You and I, all of us, by mutual dedication to our purpose can contribute to that."
Russell May reported on what other clubs and organizations in the city are doing and discussed area development.
Installed as officers were: James, president; Richard Harmon, vice-president; Vance Miller, second vice-president; Henry P. Staff, third vice-president; Hardin Short, tall twister; David du Pont, lion tamer; Frank Harmon, E. W. Craft, Jody Fannin and Russell May, directors.

DeROSSETT
For CIRCUIT CLERK
This is my first time to ask the good people of Floyd county to entrust to me one of the highest offices in Floyd county, but I assure you that my background, qualifications and Christian training will be an asset in discharging the duties of Circuit Clerk.
In addition to the normal duties, I will promote a driver training program in every Floyd county high school. One reason so many young people are killed on our highways is a lack of proper driver training.
As an extra service of my office I will send all drivers a 30-day notice that their licenses are about to expire.
I invite you to enquire of me. Ask my friends, my neighbors, my business associates, any one who knows me well.
If I win it will be on my merits, not shortcomings of any of my opponents.
Trusting your judgment, I am,

Four different ways to make going more fun than getting there

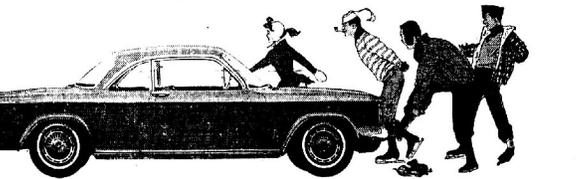

You can see why one of America's favorite outdoor sports is driving Chevrolet, with four entirely different kinds of cars like these to choose from. There's the Jet-smooth Chevrolet, about as luxurious as you can go without going overboard in price (has lots of new lower upkeep features, like a flush-and-dry rocker panel ventilating system that helps remove rust-causing salt and slush); the new low-cost Chevy II, a good-looking, fun-loving car that would send any family packing; another perennial family favorite, the sporty Corvair, whose rear-engine traction will make you think that ice and snow are just stuff; and for pure driving adventure, America's only homegrown sports car, Corvair—now in two all-new versions with looks that can stop traffic like a rush-hour blizzard. Chances are you've already picked your favorite. The next thing is to take a turn at the wheel at your Chevrolet dealer's. If that doesn't have you thinking of places to go, you'd probably rather spend what's left of winter—just having a ball around town!
