Jenny Wiley tops billing in park plan

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Floyd County could receive a much needed economic boost if state legislators approve a $100 million bond issue proposed by Governor Brereton Jones which provides for over $12 million to be used for improvements at Jenny Wiley State Park.

Jones will ask the General Assembly to approve the bond issue during

4th-grader is injured in mishap

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

A 10-year-old Floyd County boy was in critical condition Tuesday afternoon after being struck by a vehicle Tuesday morning while on his way to school.

Wesley Burke was hit at approximately 7:25 a.m. near his home at Allen by a vehicle driven by Phillip Caudill, a Prestonsburg High School student. Burke was taken to Highlands Regional Medical Center and was later flown to the University of Kentucky Medical Center.

Burke sustained severe internal injuries, a head injury and numerous contusions and abrasions, a family member said Tuesday afternoon. Burke underwent surgery Tuesday afternoon.

Police at the scene said that the boy apparently darted into the path of the vehicle, which was traveling on Route 1428 near Allen Elementary. There was no evidence that Caudill was speeding, police said.

Burke is a fourth grade student at Allen and usually walked to school, family members said Tuesday.

Kentucky State Police trooper John Hunt is investigating the accident and he was assisted at the scene by sheriff's deputy Homer Neelcy.

the 1994 legislative session which will begin in January. Jones' plan outlines 71 projects to enhance and improve the Kentucky State Park System.

For the Jenny Wiley Park, Jones' proposals call for the renovation of the May Lodge; replacing the existing boat dock; upgrading the public pool area; and the development of an 18-hole championship golf course.

The proposed golf course would be built on a strip mined area adjacent to the park and would include a pro shop with cart storage in the basement.

Previously, the General Assembly appropriated over $2 million toward the golf course project and it would require an additional $6.6 million to build the course.

Local legislators have vowed to fight for the project.

"I am adamantly dedicated to the golf course addition for Jenny Wiley State Park," State Representative Greg Stumbo said Tuesday. "The potential tourist dollars that it represents for not only the park, but for local business owners in this area is phenomenal. The completion of projects such as the golf course are important factors in the expansion of the tourism industry in Eastern Kentucky."

State Senator Benny Ray Bailey said that improvements at Jenny Wiley State Park, in addition to upgrading other area parks, would allow Eastern Kentucky to compete with other areas of the country in the tourism trade.

"These improvements at Jenny Wiley, coupled with major improvements at Buckhorn, Natural Bridge, Pine Mountain and Cumberland Falls, will mean so much to our area in attracting the much needed tourists to our area," Bailey said. "Kentucky has the finest parks system in the nation and these improvements will assure that we continue to be the best parks system in the nation and that our state parks here in East Kentucky will be able to compete with any tourist destination in the country."

Latta, Rosenberg named to group that will study ARC

Two Floyd Countians have been named to a 35-member committee headed by Governor Brereton Jones to review Kentucky's participation in the Appalachian Regional Commission.

Prestonsburg Mayor Ann Latta and education advocate Jean

Rosenberg were chosen by Jones to serve on a 35-member committee which will make recommendations on ways to maximize the state's benefits from the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) and other programs that serve the area.

Jones named Berea College president John B. Stephenson as chairman of the task force.

The group has three responsibilities:

- to make recommendations on strategies that will maximize funding to Kentucky from the ARC;
- to review the potential and the viability of expanding and better coordinating Kentucky Appalachian development programs; and
- to assess the programs that provide services in the Appalachian region, and to develop a comprehensive plan for developing that area of the state, taking into account ARC funding policies and procedures and those of other agencies.

The ARC was created in 1965 by President Lyndon Johnson to provide financial support for public projects that will stimulate the creation of jobs and foster economic development in designated Appalachian counties through a unique federal-state-local government partnership.

Strike settlement offered

A seven-month strike by the United Mine Workers of America drew closer to resolution Tuesday when a tentative settlement was reached between the union and coal operators. The pact will not take effect until ratified by the UMW rank and file. Details of the proposed settlement were not released Tuesday.

VA clinic to show off facilities at open house

The VA Outpatient Clinic at Auxier will open its doors on Friday, December 10, for public perusal of its expanded services.

The open house celebration will be held from 11 a.m. until noon, and Congressman Hal Rogers will be the guest speaker.

The clinic provides non-emergency general medical services which include general physical exams, limited on-site diagnostic testing, pre-and post-hospitalization treatment and care that obviates the need for inpatient admissions.

Preventative medical programs, such as hypertension screening and monitoring, diabetic screening and education, smoking cessation classes, social work counseling and patient education, will also be available at the clinic.

The clinic, located in the Riverview Building on U.S. Route 23, is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. It is staffed with services of three part-time physicians, one physician assistant, two licensed practical nurses, one pharmacist, an administrative officer, a clerk and one part-time social worker. Transportation to the center is provided by a 17-passenger bus.

The Eastern Kentucky VA Outpatient Clinic was established through special funding as a division of the Huntington VA Medical Center. Highly specialized diagnostic exams such as intensive treatments, lab tests, routine x-rays, specialty clinic consultations and admissions will continue to be referred to the VA Medical Center in Huntington, West Virginia.

Governor to host local fund-raiser

Governor Brereton Jones will host a "Christmas Party" Friday in Floyd County which aims to deliver some gifts to the state Democratic Party. The fund-raising benefit will run from 7:30 p.m. until 11 p.m. on December 10 at the Jenny Wiley Convention Center at Jenny Wiley State Park.

Tickets are available at the Floyd County Sheriff's Office or they may be purchased at the door for $50 per couple.

Proceeds go to the Kentucky Democratic Party.

County detective cited on 12 counts

by Ronnie Parsons
Staff Writer

A Floyd County detective who was arrested November 24 after being clocked at 110 mph faces twelve charges ranging from speeding to possession of marijuana.

According to officer Gerald Clark, the Prestonsburg City Police received two complaints around 1 a.m. reporting a car had bumped another car at the Allen red light and continued traveling toward Prestonsburg at a high rate of speed.

The Prestonsburg police intercepted the car driven by Floyd County Detective Henry Shepherd on the Holiday Inn hill and attempted to pull it over.

"We clocked the vehicle at 110 mph coming over the Holiday Inn hill," Clark said. "We got in pursuit of him and chased him to the West Prestonsburg stop light."

According to Clark, he and officer

Richy Conn and Herman Morris finally got Shepherd to stop.

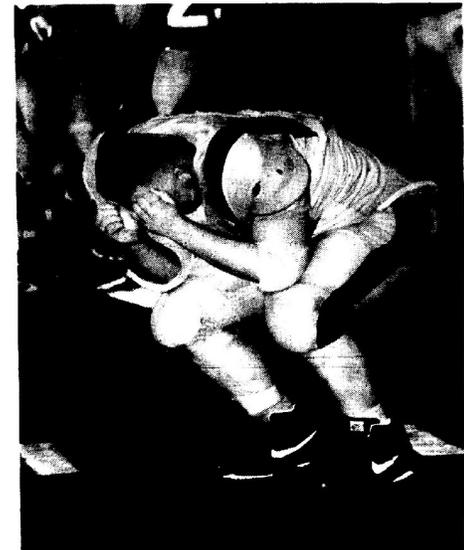

Shepherd was charged with speeding 26 mph or more over the 55 mph speed limit, attempting to elude; failure to comply, disorderly conduct, weaving in and out of traffic; failure to use proper signals; disregard of a traffic control device; improper display of plates; carrying a concealed weapon; possession of marijuana; and failure to produce an insurance card. After being charged with driving under the influence due to a blood alcohol content of .126, Shepherd requested a blood test. Results are pending.

Shepherd was lodged in the Floyd County Jail until the next morning, when he appeared before Judge Danny Caudill for arraignment.

Bond was set at $15,000. Shepherd's tenure as a Floyd County detective, an unpaid position

This was a familiar scene after the state finals last Friday evening in Louisville after the Prestonsburg Blackcats lost a heartbreaker to the Bentley Cardinals in the championship game. ## National Guard awards

by Ronnie Parsons
Staff Writer

The Prestonsburg National Guard Christmas and awards ceremony Sunday drew top brass and a local representative.

Representative Hubert Collins, (D) 95th district, Major William May, Major James Lyle and Sergeant Major Nolan Benton were on hand Sunday afternoon to pass out awards to Guardsmen during the annual Christmas party held for the Guard and their families.

Sergeant John Smith walked away with three medals, the Kuwaiti Liberation Medal, Southwest Asia Service medal, National Defense Medal and he was appointed as a Kentucky Colonel by Representative Collins during the ceremonies.

Also awarded the Kentucky Colonel award were Sergeant First Class Rick Caldwell, Staff Sergeant Calvin Sizemore, Staff Sergeant Glenn Spicer, Staff Sergeant Douglas Borders, Staff Sergeant Alvis Thompson, Staff Sergeant James Hays and Sergeant Charles Miller.

Those who were awarded the state active duty award were 1st Lieutenant William Able, First Sergeant Dana Felner, Staff Sergeant Charlie Guess, Staff Sergeant Calvin Sizemore, who also was awarded the 20-year service plaque, Sergeant Sam Sumpter, Sergeant William Stone, Specialist Gregory Skeens and Specialist Charles Hitchcock.

The Battalion Soldier of the Year award was presented to Private First Class Edward McDonald, 19, of Prestonsburg, by Major William May, the new 206th battalion commander.

A special guest at the meeting was Colonel James Kennedy (United States Army Reserve) and his wife Julia. Kennedy is the State Park Manager at Jenny Wiley State Park.

Prior to the awards ceremony guardsmen, their families and guests were treated to 200 pounds of turkey, 175 pounds of stuffing and other food and drinks prepared by Prestonsburg's unit mess section.

Santa showed up to take requests for toys and give the parents an opportunity to have their kids picture taken sitting in Santa's lap.

Approximately 300 people were on hand for the ceremony.

The event lasted about 3 hours.

Christmas party for kids

by Ronnie Parsons
Staff Writer

Christmas came early for 20 students in Mrs. Bobbie Williams' Osborne Elementary headstart class.

On Monday the students, with teachers Ruth Huff and Bobbie Williams, gathered in the National Guard Armory for a Christmas party sponsored by the City of Wheelwright, Bypro BP station and Charles Williams, Bobbie's husband.

On hand to help out with the party was Sgt. Todd Pack, SFC Rick Caldwell, Sgt. Sam Sumpter of the Prestonsburg National Guard, Marcie Salyer of the Disaster and Emergency Services and Tommy Adams, the newly elected Magistrate of District #3.

After getting a tour of the armory, a glow in the dark light stick and a unit emblem, there was one thing left for the youngsters to do... eat.

Sergeant Caldwell got the honors of bringing back a Happy Meal, with toy included, from McDonalds for each of the students.

Just before lunch was over the big man himself showed up. Santa Claus (Specialist Robert Williams).

Santa took Christmas present requests and passed out toys to all the kids.

The look on the childrens face's told it all.

"This is what it's all about," said Sumpter as he watched the childrens eyes light up at the sight of Santa Claus.

Plan

Jones projects that the development of a championship golf course would generate approximately $350,000 in new revenue.

Other Eastern Kentucky parks projects include a pool replacement for Natural Bridge; Pine Mountain lake development; Breaks lodge renovation; build a marina, campground and install sewer services at Yatesville Lake; Cumberland Falls cottage replacement; and a waste water treatment plant for Buckhorn.

The 1994 session of the General Assembly begins January 4.

Judge Stumbo said Tuesday that he would not be reappointing Shepherd as a county detective.

Shepherd's court date is scheduled for January 5, at 9:30 a.m. in Floyd District Court.

Right and necessary

by Scott Perry

While all six of the candidates seeking to replace Eddie Billips on the Floyd County Board of Education were no doubt capable of filling that seat, Dolores Smith's appointment was not just right, but necessary.

For more than ten years, Smith and a merry band of vocal education activists have battled the political status quo and their efforts have been the impetus of dramatic change.

With Eddie Billips in the chair, the District One board seat became the support for the devoted advocate.

Anyone vaguely familiar with Dolores Smith knows why she can be the devils' nearest.

Smith is a determined woman who throws herself into her work with one goal in mind: to make a difference.

She has done that as a founder of the Floyd County Education Forum, as president of the Floyd County Chamber of Commerce and as an accomplished business woman.

Now she faces her greatest challenge.

The frustration that forced her predecessor to make an early exit will be no less with Smith's entrance into the arena.

The obstacles to improvement and education reform are still firmly planted in her path.

But Dolores Smith has proven herself capable of blazing her own trail, and we suspect she'll do just that as a member of the board.

And, there is one particular characteristic of Dolores Smith's personality that makes that a near certainty.

She won't hush until you pay attention.

A former athlete appreciates Ed's news coverage

Editor's Note: The following letter was written to Ed Taylor, but the Times' staff felt it should be shared with our readers.

I just got in today from Lexington where I'm going to UK in school. I read an article in the paper today that disturbed me, the article you wrote about the woman wondering why T. Rathff and K. Vaughn were not on some media team.

I want to take the time to express how fortunate we are to have you covering the games. I understand how much time you spend on all the games, because I played basketball all through grade school and four years at Prestonsburg. I want you to know as a former athlete myself, how grateful I am, and I know all the players (now and past) who play athletics are. Getting coverage in the local paper is the highlight of most people who play in the county.

I hope I'm not the only one who takes the time to thank you for the great coverage you give to all the high schools and most of the grade schools. It is a very hard job that I have watched you do for many years and I hope you can understand how we all do appreciate your coverage.

Your pictures and stories on the games are usually put in yearbooks for old-time memories.

Please, don't let a few people who don't understand how it is to be under the pressures, of athletics and the public. You are doing a great job, and I know that I and all my friends appreciate what you do for us while we were in high school, and how you give our precious time up for today's players.

I just wanted to say thank you for all my memories in print and I know all the players in the county appreciate you. You are a great guy and I'll talk to you on the sidelines during Christmas break. God Bless.

Hoss Halbert says "thanks"

Editor:
There are a great number of people I wish to thank for helping me during my recent illness. First, I want to thank my friend Bill Sison for saving my life by getting me to the emergency room in time.

I can't find appropriate words to express my gratitude to those efficient, caring people of Our Lady of the Way Hospital emergency room. They are truly professional, you have saved my life twice and I shall always be in your debt.

To my loving, devoted family, I could not have made it without your constant care and attention. My love for you is beyond bounds.

To all my friends, relatives, former players, cheerleaders, managers, and support personnel who called, sent flowers, and cards, I wish I could thank each of you in person. I shall never forget your loyalty and devotion; it's great for your old coach to know you still love him.

For you who offered prayer on my behalf, my cup runneth over. I know that God listened.

Always loyal and true,

Support architects or children?

lycl

A second architect was hired to look at stripping down the Betsy Layne Elementary project. The original architect on the project says the second architect rotated the proposed building onto an "unstable" area of the existing fill. So the money spent on the second architect was wasted. So much for "value engineering."

Now the board has the original architect looking at stripping down the Betsy Layne project. More money spent for consultants and less money to go for the kids.

When is the board going to get moving on the Betsy Layne project? Will we face loss of SFCC Funds from the state if they continue to stall? Is keeping the architects employed more important than putting the money into facilities where the children can benefit?

There's still a lot of questions about the board's actions and reasons. Why won't they take the time to explain to the public what they're doing and why they're doing it?

Students perform unselfish service

When August 24, 1993, arrived, many of the students and employees of the Floyd County School System rushed back into the new year armed with compasses, ink pens, and notebooks.

After enjoying a summer vacation, it appeared that everyone was equipped with the necessities for a smooth, prosperous school year. The instructors had their new computers and textbooks, and the students were bedecked in the latest in vogue fashions. While some instructors were gleefully opening boxes full of new education supplies and dusting off their computers, Mrs. Hall, a business teacher at Prestonsburg High School, glanced around her classroom and saw only three working computers.

Within a week, thanks to Mr. Dick Leslie, the computer coordinator; Mrs. Karen Trivette, principal; and three students, Daniel Adams, Matt Hale and John Mattox, who learned from Mr. Leslie's expertise, Mrs. Hall had eighteen working computers.

Mr. Leslie has not only taught his students how to operate computers, but he has also trained a few students to actually rebuild computers. These young men, Daniel Adams, Matt Hale and John Mattox, took 25 inoperable computers and created eighteen functional ones which resulted in a new computer lab for PHS.

It is worth noting that these unselfish individuals did not receive any payment, neither personal nor capital. However, these students did receive personal satisfaction and Mr. Leslie, Mrs. Trivette, and Mrs. Hall's heartfelt gratitude.

Without Mrs. Trivette's approval, none of this would have been possible. She allowed Mr. Leslie to use the old, non-working Apple computers from various classrooms and rebuild them for the benefit of the student body. This resulted in three additional keyboarding classes and an additional computer lab for PHS.

This union of students and faculty truly demonstrates that not all humanity is consumed with personal gain, greed, or glory. I feel extremely humbled to just walk the same corridors as these very special individuals.

Coffee Break

by Scott Perry

It was a dirty job, but somebody had to do it.

We're talking about the state board of education's Commission on Interscholastic Athletics, which issued a report last month on an in-depth review of extracurricular activities.

Among other things, the report recommends cutting back the number of games in all sports and limiting how many can be played on school days.

Proponents of the proposals say the cutbacks will give student athletes more time to concentrate on school work.

Opponents say the cutbacks will give student athletes more time to get into trouble.

You can decide for yourself. The recommendations will be discussed this evening (Wednesday) beginning at 6 p.m. at Johnson Central High School in Paintsville.

junkyard?

Astronauts sent into the wide blue yonder to repair the Hubble telescope have removed a damaged section of the orbiting eyeball and have discovered that they face an earthy challenge.

What do you do with it?

Since the space shuttle Endeavour has no litterbags capable of handling the junk, the astronauts will have to be litterbugs and pitch the thing overboard, where it will become one of about 7,000 pieces of space junk tracked by the North American Aerospace Command.

In about a year, the junk will drift into the Earth's atmosphere and burn up.

The ultimate solid waste incinerator? Wonder if they have a permit.

We'd be hard pressed to find any reason to criticize Governor Brereton Jones' $100 million plan to improve Kentucky's state park system, even if the Frankfort bean counters say we can't afford it.

After all, the lion's share of recommendations will directly impact our region.

The governor has proposed $12.8 million in upgrades for Jenny Wiley State Park and another $3.7 million for Yatesville Lake, two of the Big Sandy region's top tourism attractions.

At Jenny Wiley, a new golf course and marina are proposed as are improvements to the park's public swimming pool.

At Yatesville, the governor proposes to build a marina, campground and install sewage treatment facilities.

As we have noted before, any money spent to enhance tourism in Eastern Kentucky is a wise investment and sixteen or so million bucks is a drop in the bucket compared to the potential returns.

If we were to propose any changes to the governor's plan, we would toss in a few million for development at Paintsville Lake to complete the chain. And, if cuts are needed, they should be made in regions that aren't so desperate for jobs.

State Education Commissioner Thomas Boyesen has proposed relaxing legal requirements that force teachers to obtain a master's degree by their tenth year of teaching or give up their jobs.

That makes sense and so does Danny Greene, director of the David School in Floyd County and the chairman of the state education department's Professional Standards Board.

"Compliance with bureaucratic rules requiring teachers to complete a certain number of graduate classes has no relation to teaching ability," Greene noted.

Exactly. Teaching ability should be measured by the end product.

Why would anything else matter?

Regional News Briefs

Man arrested for drunk biking

Just when you think you have seen everything, a Warfield man was arrested for operating a non-motor vehicle while under the influence when a Kentucky State Police officer nearly hit him as he pedaled his way on Collins Creek.

According to the police report "Smoky" Maynard, 62, of Warfield, was arrested on November 5 after the bicycle he was operating veered on the road and was nearly struck by state trooper Vic Brown, who was on his way home. Brown confiscated five cans of beer and a pint of "Mad Dog 20/20" and charged Maynard with operating a non-motor vehicle while under the influence.

As funny as it might sound, pedaling while drinking is a serious offense. Martin County deputy Dallas Sweeney said that arresting people for operating bicycles while drunk is a common offense in some major cities and that is on the books to save lives.

Sweeney also said that a person might also be arrested for operating a motorcycle, wheelchair, or even a horse if the person is intoxicated. — The Mountain Citizen

Coal mine shutdown halted by Judge Knight

Johnson County Circuit Judge James A. Knight issued a temporary restraining order November 23, prohibiting the Kentucky Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet from closing down a Johnson County coal mine.

The restraining order was requested by the coal company, head-quartered in Paintsville, and its owners, Orville L. Hamilton and Doug Hamilton. They filed a lawsuit claiming the cabinet will not renew a permit because the agency "mistakenly believed" that Orville Hamilton had interest in another coal company whose permit was revoked for violating mining regulations. — The Paintsville Herald

Judge rules state erred in Perry land deal

State officials broke the law when they sold prime property along Ky. 15 by-pass without first offering it back to the family from which it was condemned, a judge ruled Monday.

In effect, the decision means the Citizens Bank of Hazard, which bought some of the land in question, might hold a deed that is at least partially invalid.

In 1989, Citizens bought about 2 acres along the by-pass for $425,000. It built an office on the property — a choice piece of real estate near Hazard's newly expanded Wal-Mart.

Part of those 2 acres once belonged to a Perry County man, Richard Finisson. In 1975, the Transportation Cabinet had condemned 1.7 acres of Finisson's land in order to build the by-pass, court records show.

Finisson's heirs got $1,600 for the property. Most of it was not used for the highway project, said the family's attorney, Stephan Charles of Manchester.

Once state officials determined that the land was surplus, they should have offered it back to the Finisson family — at the condemnation price — before seeking another buyer, Perry County Circuit Judge Douglas Combs ruled yesterday.

The Finisson family wants the land back, Charles said. It is now back in the control of the Transportation Cabinet. — Lexington Herald-Leader

MSHA levying daily penalty against Kentucky coal company

The Labor Department's Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA) is levying a $3,000 penalty daily against the Sovereign Mining Company of Dwarf for its failure to comply with a federal order to temporarily reinstate a fired miner.

On November 18, an administrative law judge of the Federal Mine Safety and Health Review Commission, an independent agency, ordered the miner temporarily reinstated to his job at Sovereign's Mine No. 1 after MSHA determined that the miner may have been fired for raising concerns about safety at his workplace. Sovereign initially agreed to return the miner to temporary duty, but subsequently informed him that he was again laid off.

"This clear and deliberate defiance of federal law will not be tolerated," said Ed Hugler, deputy assistant secretary of labor for mine safety and health. "We will levy these fines daily until the company complies with the order and we intend to collect the total civil penalty amount incurred for this violation."

The Federal Mine Safety and Health Act of 1977 provides protection for miners who may be the target of adverse treatment by their employers upon voicing concerns about their safety on the job. Administrative Law Judge Jerold Feldman determined that the case of Danny Shepherd, the miner fired by Sovereign Mining Company, was not frivolously brought. The judge then ordered Shepherd temporarily reinstated to the job he previously held or to an equivalent position at Sovereign Mining Company. Shepherd's temporary reinstatement will remain effective pending the outcome of either a future trial on the merits or MSHA's decision not to proceed with the case. Representatives of Sovereign Mining Company did not formally contest MSHA's request for reinstatement of the miner.

After Sovereign Mining refused to allow Shepherd to return to work on November 23, MSHA officials served the company a citation for failure to comply with the judge's reinstatement order.

MSHA subsequently notified Sovereign Mining Company President Leroy Lackey Jr. that, as specified by the Mine Act, the agency would impose daily fines of $3,000 beginning December 1 and continuing until the company complied with the temporary reinstatement order. — Staff report

Introducing the Real "Santa"

by Rev. David Powers
St. Martha Catholic Church
This is the time of year when armies of children stand in line in crowded department stores, waiting their turn on Santa's knee. Many of them will silently wonder, "Who is that man in the red suit? Who really is Santa Claus, anyway?" It may surprise some people to learn that there really was a Santa Claus and that his feast day is not December 25. His real name is Saint Nicholas, and his feast day is Monday, December 6.

Little is known with certainty about St. Nicholas except that he was the archbishop of Myra in Asia Minor (near modern-day Turkey in Turkey) in the fourth century. According to tradition, he was born about 270 AD in the seaport city of Patara to wealthy parents. As a youth he took seriously Jesus' advice to the rich young man to get up all that he had to follow him, so the young Nicholas became famous for having given up his inherited wealth to charity.

After surviving the religious persecution of the Roman emperor Diocletian (284-305), he became an archbishop and quickly distinguished himself for his pastoral zeal and uncommon goodness of heart. Many miracles were attributed to him, which led people to refer to him as a saint even before his death, which came on December 6 in either 345 or 352, and he is commemorated by the church each year on December 6. So holy was his life that public veneration was recorded soon after his death, and fifteenth-century records indicate that his grave was a crowded pilgrimage site.

His fame soon spread, and Saint Nicholas became the most venerated saint in the Byzantine church, preceded only by Mary and St. John the Baptist. He is the patron saint of sailors, merchants, bakers, travelers, pawnbrokers, and children. Many miracles are ascribed to him including:

St. Nicholas by his prayer during a pilgrimage to the Holy Land calmed a violent storm on the open sea and prevented certain shipwreck. Thus, he became the patron saint of sailors and one of his harbors became the anchor. Thus, many harbor cities are dedicated to him.

St. Nicholas appeared in a dream to the Roman emperor Constantine warning him of a pending injustice. Thus, he saved three innocent officers from execution.

St. Nicholas secretly provided a dowry to three poor girls, destined to be sold into prostitution because they could not marry without a dowry. On these successive nights, during his regular walk around the city, he would throw a bag of gold into their open window. These three "golden balls" also became symbols of the Christmas ornaments.

Following the conversion of Constantine, Christianity could at last be practiced openly. However, paganism and false teachings were rampant, and during his lifetime Archbishop Nicholas became known as an unswerving teacher of doctrine. At the Council of Nicea (325), he strongly defended the faith against the heretic Arius, who denied the Trinity and the divine nature of Jesus. St. Nicholas, it is said, went so far as to slap Arius on the face to try to knock some sense into him.

The first Western church in honor of St. Nicholas was built in Rome by Pope Nicholas I (825-867). In the later Middle Ages, 400 churches were dedicated to St. Nicholas in England alone. By the spring of 1087, Myra had been overtaken by Saracens and the remains of St. Nicholas at his tomb had been outlawed. Some merchants from Bari, Italy decided to "steal" his relics and transport them to Bari. On May 9, 1087, Pope Urban II solemnly deposited them in a marble sarcophagus under the main altar of a great basilica built in Bari, where they are still publicly venerated to this day.

His holy relics remained incorrupt for a long time and secreted an oily ointment called myron, which was collected and used for the anointing of the sick, through which many were healed. During the restoration of the basilica in Bari between 1953-57, the relics were again examined, and then deposited in a new tomb in the crypt, where they continue to secrete this "Manna of St. Nicholas."

Over the years the image of the saint has undergone several transformations. For many people St. Nicholas became the "Good Old Bishop" who brings gifts to children. In English-speaking countries his Episcopal garb underwent considerable change, and during the Protestant Reformation, his vestments and any mention of his being a bishop disappeared altogether. He still continued to bring toys to children, but not on his feast day of December 6 but rather on Jesus' birthday of December 25, and thus he became Father Christmas. In the United States, English-speaking children heard their Dutch-speaking playmates talk about "Sinta Klaus" (Saint Nicholas), and his name became corrupted into the "Santa Claus" of today, the bestower of gifts at Christmas time.

Finally, it was Clement Clarke Moore, a professor of Biblical learning and Greek and Oriental literature, at the Episcopal General Theological Seminary in New York City, who wrote for his children the famous Christmas poem "A Visit from St. Nicholas," popularly known by its first line "Twas the Night Before Christmas." It was first published anonymously in the Troy Sentinel in 1823, and it gave us the final image of the "jolly old elf" children line up to see today.

"Kris Kringle," his popular name in Central Europe which is a corruption of the German "Christkind" (Little Christ Child), may be renowned as a giver of gifts, but the real St. Nicholas gave much more. His life and example is a gift to all of us both at Christmas and throughout the entire year.

Jobless Kentuckians may qualify for new emergency unemployment benefits

Kentuckians who have or will exhaust their jobless benefits may be eligible for an additional seven weeks of payments under a new extension of the Emergency Unemployment Compensation Act of 1991. The act, signed by President Bill Clinton November 23, is the fifth unemployment benefits extension since November 1991. Margaret Whittet, commissioner of the Kentucky Department for Employment Services, said, "Individuals who exhausted their regular unemployment insurance benefits after October 2, 1993, can file for this new extension through February 5, 1994. The new unemployment compensation is payable through the week ending April 30, 1994."

Unlike the two previous extensions, individuals will not have the option of receiving either regular unemployment insurance benefits or emergency unemployment compensation. Claimants must use all of their regular benefit payments before they begin the additional emergency unemployment payments.

Whittet said individuals who file a new claim under this extension and then later become eligible for regular benefits will be notified so that their entitlement can be adjusted.

"People who may be eligible for the extension will receive e letters from the Department for Employment Services notifying them of potential eligibility," Whittet said. "However, if someone thinks he may qualify, he should contact his local employment services office."

The new extension does not give individuals who previously received all of their emergency unemployment compensation an extra seven weeks of benefits.

Rotoblator tunnels through clogged arteries

University of Louisville doctors are cleaning clogged arteries by tunneling through the blockage.

Wayne Shugoll, clinical assistant professor of medicine, has begun using a rotoblator to clean clogged arteries. The tiny device is inserted into the artery, where its diamond-tipped blades quickly spin through and clean out the blockage.

Shugoll says the procedure eliminates some complications, shortens recovery time and decreases the likelihood of the blockage recurring.

In memory of Estill Martin

If Dad were here, wouldn't he say he's sorry; that he never meant to leave us when he did? And wouldn't he feel badly that the twinkle of the holiday has been replaced in our eyes by the tears?

Sadly missed, by Cassie and Timmy.

End-of-year reminders from Social Security Administration

From Jim Kelly, Social Security District Director For the Big Sandy Area

As the end of the year approaches, there are certain Social Security-related matters you should know about.

If you have a child age one or older who doesn't have a Social Security number, make sure you get one before you file your tax return next year. The law requires you to list a Social Security number on your tax return for all dependents over age one.

If you changed your name this year (through marriage, divorce, or any other reason), make sure your new name is listed on your Social Security card and in Social Security's records. If you don't do this, there may be problems posting your earnings to Social Security's files. (This could reduce your future Social Security benefits.) Also, the Internal Revenue Service may have problems processing your tax return.

If you're already getting Social Security benefits and you moved this year, make sure we have your correct address. (Sometimes people who have their checks sent directly to their bank forget to tell us about a change in their mailing address.) It's important we have your correct mailing address because early next year we're going to send you a form that shows the total benefits you received in 1993. You may need this form for income tax or for income verification purposes.

If you receive Social Security and work, remember that you can earn more money in 1994 before your benefits are reduced. If you're under 65, you can earn up to $8,040 next year with no reduction in benefits. If you're 65 to 69, you can earn up to $11,160 in 1994 with no reduction. If you're 70 or older, there is no limit on your earnings.

If you received benefits and worked in 1993, you need to report your earnings to Social Security by April 15, 1994. The 1993 limits were $7,680 for people under 65 and $10,560 for people 65-69.

If you receive disability benefits and have been working you should notify Social Security immediately in order not to jeopardize your entitlement or have to repay an overpayment.

To make reports, contact your Social Security office.

THE ONE CALLED BACK...

Betsy Layne Lady Cats win preseason tourney

Seth Hyden found plenty of running room on this carry in the fourth quarter against Mayfield last Friday evening at Cardinal Stadium. The touchdown was to be the winning one and the Prestonsburg fans had plenty to cheer about as it would have put the Blackcats up 18-13. However, a holding call against Prestonsburg nullified the touchdown and the Cats were penalized 15 yards eventually losing to the Cardinals 13-12 in the state Class 2A championships. The Betsy Layne Lady Cats got good bench play and a strong effort from point guard Misty Clark to turn back the Lady Raiders of South Floyd 76-46 in the Preseason Tournament played at Allen Central Saturday night.

The tournament was moved to the Allen Central gym from Prestonsburg because of the Blackcats football players and fans returning from the state finals Saturday morning.

Clark scored game high 22 points to pace the Lady Cats to the championship of the preseason tournament that was revived this year. It is the first preseason tournament since 1987.

Twelve players scored for Betsy Layne as they posted their third victory of the season without a defeat. Christy Johnson added 11 points with Rhonda Conn and Jessica Johnson, a freshman, tossing in 10 each.

"Jessica is a great ballplayer to be a freshman," said Coach Bill Newsome. "She does so many things well."

Coach Newsome was pleased with the effort his team put forth and said that his bench performed as expected.

"I always tell my girls, the subs, that I expect them to perform just as good as the starters when they are in the game," said the Betsy Layne coach. "Tonight, they did that. We had good team work tonight. We had a bunch of freshmen who played well."

South Floyd just never could get untracked as they lost for the second time this season with one victory. Betsy Layne jumped out to a 12-4 lead in the first quarter.

The Lady Raiders had taken the initial lead on a three-foot bank shot by Susan Stephens. Clark connected on two straight jumpers and, following a layup by Rhonda Thornsberry, the Lady Cats rolled off eight straight points.

The lack of rebounding gave Betsy Layne two, and sometimes three, shots at the basket. The Lady Cats led 15-9 after the first quarter. Betsy Layne opened up a 17-point, 33-16, lead midway of the second South Floyd falls to 1-2 on the season while Betsy Layne improves to 3-0.

Mayfield ends Prestonsburg's dreams Late fourth quarter mistakes costly to Blackcats

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Every football player dreams of being on a team that wins a state championship. For 14 Prestonsburg High School seniors that dream was shattered this past Friday afternoon when the Prestonsburg Blackcats fell to the Mayfield Cardinals 13-12 in the Class 2A championship at Cardinal Stadium in Louisville.

Those shattered dreams were evident as players tried to hold back the tears, but couldn't. Those shattered dreams were more evident when players just fell to their knees in disbelief and held their hands over their faces to hide the disappointment. Disappointment showed further when a helmet was slung down to the turf at Cardinal Stadium.

In a steady downpour and in front of a huge following, the Blackcats made two crucial errors in the fourth quarter that brought them their first defeat of the season and it was a big loss.

Prestonsburg had battled all season long, winning games with ease and fighting their way to a tough regional crown before moving on to Louisville.

They had done so many things right in reaching the championship game and, up until the fourth quarter with just over seven minutes remaining, looked every bit the team they had been all season.

In the space of three minutes and 20 seconds the Blackcats went from being on top 12-0 to trailing 13-12. But this has been a team that never knew what it was to quit. And trailing by just one point, they weren't about to quit this time around, either.

On the kickoff to Prestonsburg, senior tailback Seth Hyden took the football on his own 13-yard line and returned the ball to the Mayfield 24, giving Prestonsburg excellent field position with just under three minutes remaining.

The Blackcats moved the ball inside the Cardinals' 10. Hyden took a handoff from quarterback Thomas Ratliff and, finding a hole in the defense, raced into the end zone with what would have been the winning touchdown.

A holding call at the line of scrimmage nullified the score, to the disappointment of the fans as well as the players, and the Cats were assessed 15 yards on a penalty.

On a halfback pass from Hyden, receiver Jason Spurlock just missed catching the football in the end zone as it slipped off his fingertips.

If there was one weakness that the Blackcats had this year it was in their kicking game. However, Prestonsburg elected to go for the field goal from the 34-yard line and the win with 54 seconds left on the clock. The kick by Ratliff was inches wide and to the left of the goal post and the dream ended.

Mayfield took over possession of the football and just ran the clock out. Other mistakes could be seen as a cause for the loss. A breakdown in the secondary allowed quarterback Russell Whaley to connect with Monte Benjamin for a 58-yard pass, completion that set up the Cardinals' first score. With the ball on the Prestonsburg three, Ceaphus Tyler took the ball into the end zone and Carson Greem kicked the PAT to make it a 12-7 ball game with 7:40 left in the game.

For Prestonsburg, it was three downs and out as they prepared to punt the football over to Mayfield. The snap from center to Jody Cornette, who was waiting for the football at the 5-yard line, was low and skipped on the wet turf twice before reaching Cornette, who had no choice but to fall on the ball at the five.

Mayfield took over the football at the 5-yard line and, on the second play from scrimmage, Monte Benjamin ran the ball in from 4-yards out. (See Prestonsburg, B 3)

Allen Central preseason champs in rout of Prestonsburg Blackcats

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

It wasn't a very pretty picture for coach Gordon Parado's Prestonsburg Blackcats as they closed the 1993 Preseason Tournament at Allen Central last Sunday afternoon against the Rebels. For the Blackcats it was a frustrating afternoon.

Allen Central blitzed the Blackcats 107-51 to go 3-0 in the tournament to win the first preseason tournament since the 1987 season. It was the first year for a round robin format in a preseason tournament. It was a format that many did not really care for.

The victory gave the Rebels a 4-0 overall record.

Steve Turner, a 6-4 senior, led the Rebels in scoring with 18 points. Turner did not play the fourth quarter as Coach Johnny Martin went way down the bench in getting all his players in the game. Turner has been showing his range from the outside of late and buried two three pointers.

Jeremy Hall and Ronnie Samons finished with 13 points each. Brad Lyons, off the bench, scored 11 points all coming in the fourth period. He had one three point basket.

Samons scored eight of his 13 points in the first period as the Rebels led by only 23-18 at the first stop. Turner had two treys and Hall one in the second quarter to help the Rebels to a 55-35 halftime lead.

Coach Martin just seemed to drop off his bench in the first three quarters and played the freshmen in the fourth quarter along with Jason Bevins and Kevin Stumbo.

John Moore tossed in five points and completed a three point play in the final stanza.

The Rebels connected on 28 of 33

free throws in the victory.

Prestonsburg will be led by Cory Rantz, who just joined the ballclub after the completion of the football season. Rantz scored 14 points, hitting two three pointers.

Brett James added 11 points as the only other double figure scorer for Prestonsburg.

Levy Robinson, who had been averaging 18 points per game, was held to six points and all six came on two three point baskets.

David Gearheart and Ryan Ortega each scored five points. J.P. Skeans, Jason Burke and David Turner had three apiece.

Prestonsburg falls to 1-2 on the year and will host Allen Central this coming Friday evening in a conference matchup.

A Look At Sports

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

BLACKCATS ARE STILL NUMBER ONE.

It was a disappointing Friday evening for the Prestonsburg Blackcats and the many faithful fans who followed them to Louisville for the championship game of the state finals.

The Cats fell 13-12 on what could be classified as a controversial call as far as the holding penalty went.

A holding call could just about be called on every play from the line of scrimmage if an official looked close enough. However, to throw a flag when the runner is almost into the end zone is something you don't do.

when the ball is still in the backfield or at the line of scrimmage, yes, but never at almost the goal line.

Well, I don't want to dwell on what may have been, but on the fact that I am, as all Floyd Countians are, proud of this football team and the outstanding coaching staff who worked hard all year.

"Prestonsburg brought some credibility to the Floyd County football," said Donnie Daniels, head football coach at South Floyd High School. "They have no reason to hang their heads. They had an outstanding year."

Coach Daniels is correct. This has been a fine football season for this team. There are 14 seniors on this team and they have played their final game in a Blackcat uniform. They have represented their school proudly and the teachers, students and all fans are aware of this.

I personally felt a great loss when the clock ran down, but I thought of the good things this team had accomplished during the course of the season and that helped me to accept the outcome of last Friday night.

I wish I could just find the right words to say to each player on this fine ballclub how I really feel about them. I wish I could personally say to each one:

I am proud of you and you have been a joy to cover and watch this season.

You have kept the season in focus and don't ever, ever think you have let this community down. You haven't — you have made us that much more proud of you.

All of you are a great group of young people. Just stay focused on the rest of your life and you will do all right.

Make the "upper road" of life your choice and never the lower. Go Blackcats!

A RELATED HAPPY BIRTHDAY...

I want to take time to wish Kevin Stumbo a belated happy birthday. I should have had this in last week's edition but with all that's been going on, I forgot. Anyway, happy birthday Kevin. Kevin plays for the Allen Central Runnin' Rebels. You had a great game against Betsy Layne.

EXECUTIVE INN RALLY...

When I walked into the Executive Inn West in Louisville, it made me feel like I was still in Prestonsburg. Blackcats fans all over the place.

If a person had some umbrella or poncho for sale, he could have paid for his trip there.

WOHY had their pep rally remote all hooked up and it looked like an excellent turnout. Coach Gordon Parado was there and he had dug out his Blackcat tie that he received many Christmases ago.

"I was digging through all my ties and found this one that I had never worn before," said the Prestonsburg basketball coach. "I decided to wear it here." The red tie had Blackcats all over it.

PRESEASON TOURNAMENT...

It will be interesting how the Floyd County Athletic Council will look at the recently completed Preseason Tournament that concluded last Sunday.

The council is scheduled to meet in two weeks to take a long hard look at the tournament and it's format. Some changes could come next year if the event is continued. I hope that it is but with some changes.

Auxier missed 32 free throws in the game, making only 13 of 45 attempts. The poor free throw shooting prompted coach Jerome Greathouse to put the game in perspective with the comment, "We would have won had we hit our free throws."

to give Mayfield the 13-12 lead. The two teams battled to a scoreless tie through the first two quarters.

For first-year coach Paul Leahy it had to be a sweet victory after spending 22 years at Mayfield as an assistant coach under then-head coach Jack Morris.

The trip to Mayfield was their third consecutive trip but the Cardinals fell to Danville the past two seasons in the state finals. It had been 1987 since the Cardinals had won the state championship.

Prestonsburg had 182 yards rushing compared to 72 for Mayfield. The Blackcats had picked up 15 first downs and Mayfield could only manage five.

Hyden led the ground game for Prestonsburg with 114 yards on 29 carries. Garza finished with 51 yards on 16 carries and Corrette had 35 yards on eight attempts.

All three backs are seniors at Prestonsburg and they closed out an outstanding high school career.

Ratliff was two of seven in passing for 19 yards. Matt Porter had one reception for 10 yards and Corrette had a catch for 9 yards. Ratliff was intercepted once.

Benjamin led Mayfield in rushing with 29 yards on eight carries. Speed-ster Mike Bright was held in check by the Prestonsburg defense and could only manage 9 yards on seven carries.

Whaley had one completion and it was a big one for 58 yards.

Prestonsburg was penalized four times for 40 yards and Mayfield received 25 yards in penalties on three flags. Prestonsburg fumbled three times but recovered all three fumbles. Mayfield fumbled four times and lost the ball three times.

Prestonsburg closes out the season at 14-1 while Mayfield finishes at 12-3.

Rhodes 'arrives' (finally); Bennett is interested if UK job opens

Rick Pitino said a 'funny' last week, but the media herd stared at Kentucky's coach in muted awe as if the man from Vatican City had issued his Christmas encyclical.

"This game, believe it or not, will make Rodrick Rhodes' career."

Maybe a couple of good games back-to-back marks an end to the longest round of open-head surgery since Lon Chaney's Frankenstein opened his eyes. Rodrick Rhodes has been on the table for almost two seasons under the scrutiny of Dick Vitale, Bob Hurley, Dick Vitale, Billy Packer, Dick Vitale, Rick Pitino and a battalion of sports writers parroting the talkers.

Kentucky's sophomore forward has been the focus of more 'po' high-light analysis than was heaped on Rex Chapman, Jamal Mashburn, "Who's UK Recruiting Inc.?" and "What About Michael (Jackson and Jordan?)", all rolled into the same sports section.

Following UK's laughter against Tennessee Tech last week, Pitino purred to the media, "This game, believe it or not, will make Rodrick Rhodes' career."

Gee, I feel better, don't you? Tenn Tech. Remember to file that one in your kid's dowry trunk along with clips of Elvis sightings, Rush Limbaugh nuggets, and NAFTA side agreements.

Certainly, Pitino's pet, the Kentucky media, ought to feel gratified also for being the coach on which Rhodes has been poked, stroked and prodded the last 18 months.

Enough! Would have saved as all lots of ink to skip Pitino's sco and cue and say simply: About time Rhodes finally played up to his high school clippings and Vitale's vocabulary?

Now, let's move on, get back to this game.

HARRISON'S NICHE?

Lost in the shadow of Rhodes emergence last week, was Chris Harrison's best game in a Kentucky uniform. The 6-1 junior guard used his 15 minutes playing time against Tenn Tech to hit all three of his shots, (eight points), make two steals, deal an assist and get a rebound.

"We already knew Chris could shuttle the ball," Pitino said. "We wanted to see him do some of the other things."

Specifically, play defense. Harrison worked hard at it and looked comfortable for the first time ever. Maybe the Tollesboro native has found his niche, earned more PT.

It was nice to see the kid have a sparkle in his eye and bounce in his step. Who wouldn't? When Harrison swished a second half three, the Rupp Arena crowd burst into a thunderous cheer.

WINSTON BENNETT
"Yes, I've been hearing a lot lately about being a candidate for an assistant coaching job, but the coaches haven't said anything to me."

UK has no openings, for now. But the former UK star talked about his re-emergence on UK's basketball scene with Sports In Ky. last week.

"Right now I'm working at the bank in Louisville, coaching the girls basketball team at Male and doing Car Calls. But I would be interested in getting into coaching," he said.

With a promising future in banking, why would Bennett chuck it to go on the road as an assistant coach/recruiter?

"I think I would enjoy that, have something to offer," he said. "I still love the game and speaking with people about it. I would enjoy talking with kids about Kentucky basketball."

Bennett is interested "specifically, in UK," he said, if a position on Pitino's staff came open. Currently, Billy Donovan and Delray Brooks occupy positions that involve coaching and off-campus recruiting.

The former UK captain and veteran of the NBA Cleveland Cavs with a stoic presence could be the right UK ambassador to inner city schools as well as the nut cracker in Louisville and Jefferson County Pitino needs.

"I'm interested," he said.

More on Winston Bennett in a future column.

UK RECRUITING

History tells us a visit to Lexington by a recruiting prospect during the season is often a clincher. If that holds, then Kentucky may sign Jerod Ward from Clinton, Miss. in the spring. Along with his father, Ward was in Rupp Arena for the UK-Louisville game Nov. 27.

Rap sheets: Ward is described as very athletic, has long arms, terrific first step, can play physical inside, but has shooting range to play outside.

Ward's visit was unofficial, meaning he paid his own way. If, as reported, he is considering UK, Alabama and Oklahoma, and if he has the mind-set to handle high expectations like those imposed on Rhodes, then UK's chances are good.

Next, the Walker file.

Antonio Walker, 6-8 guard/small forward from Chicago is said to be learning to Kentucky, but spring signing is a light year away.

Samaki Walker, 6-9 forward from Columbus, Oh. "is listing Kansas, North Carolina, us and you people," an Ohio State assistant told Sports In Ky. last week.

No surprise, if Ward announces for UK, Samaki Walker will scratch the 'Cats.

Elsewhere: Trajan Langdon... Andre Patterson... Charlie Miller... Corey Louis... Felipe Lopez. Just a few names from this year's senior crop who Kentucky recruited, but failed to sign.

Lopez eliminated Wildcats early, according to one observer because "UK tried to recruit the kid through his AAU coaches which angered his high school coach who was more in control of the recruiting process than Pitino thought."

KY. MR. BASKETBALL

The preseason focus on Mr. Basketball has been limited mostly to Elton Scott of Marion County and Scott Padgett of Louisville St. Xavier. Both are good citizens (a criteria often lost in an avalanche of PPGs, RPGs, etc.).

But coaches (voters) ought to keep an eye on Tony Pietrowski, the 6-1 senior guard at Corbin in the 13th Region has credentials too—excellent playmaker, passer and leader; who knows what a good shot is. These things, and he is an outstanding citizen on court and off.

"To be Mr. Basketball would be great," Pietrowski says. "But I'd rather have our team win."

Corbin coach Billy Hicks, who started the season 10 wins from his 300th, has jacked up the Redhounds schedule (games in Louisville, Lexington, Frankfort and Mt. Sterling) to showcase his team and Pietrowski.

Stumbo sparks Rebel charge in 89-67 win over Bobcats

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Allen Central basketball coach Johnny Martin saw five of his players score in double figures, as the Rebels handed Betsy Layne a 89-67 setback in the Floyd County Preseason Tournament played at Prestonsburg Thursday night.

But it was the inspired play of Kevin Stumbo that sparked the Rebel team as he scored 10 points off the bench.

Jason Martin led the Rebels in scoring with 22 points and freshman Thomas Jenkins added 18 points. Jeremy Hall added 15 including three three-point baskets.

Ronnie Samons netted 12 points and Steve Turner just missed double figures with nine.

Keith Hamilton led all scorers with 27 points and he buried seven three-point baskets. Brian Hunter had a good inside game with 17 points.

A free throw by Ryan Newsome and a three-point basket by Hamilton cut the Allen Central lead to four points, 57-53, at the end of the third period.

Allen Central went on a run led by Samons that netted them a 65-56 lead. Samons had three straight baskets to lead the spurt.

After a try by Hamilton, Allen Central went on a 13-0 run for a 78-59 lead with Stumbo scoring eight points. Stumbo was working hard on the court and getting into the break. He had two steals in the game and turned one into a basket.

Allen Central led 17-14 at the end of the first quarter after taking a 5-2 lead early in the game on a basket and free throw by Martin. Hall hit a short jumper.

Betsy Layne tied the game at 5-5 on a charity toss by Hamilton and a layup by Hunter on a top pass from Chris Potter.

Hall's three-point basket gave Allen Central a 14-9 lead and Martin's three-point play made it 17-12. Hamilton hit a jumper just ahead of the horn for the 17-14 margin.

Allen Central scored the first six points of the second quarter en route to a 24-14 lead. Betsy Layne narrowed the margin to five, 24-19, on five unanswered points.

With just over two minutes left in the first half, Jason Newsome was hit with a technical foul and the Rebels went on an 8-0 run by virtue of six consecutive free throws and a basket by Stumbo. The Rebels led 44-32 at the half.

Maytown captures MCA Invitational behind Howard

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Coach Rick Hancock's Maytown Wildcats continued to roll as they won three games to capture the Mountain Christian Academy Invitational Basketball Tournament this past weekend.

Maytown defeated MCA in the championship game after winning over June Buchanan and Mullins in the first two rounds.

Lead Howard tied the way for the Wildcats by scoring 72 points in the three games. Howard was also named to the all-tournament team and received the individual free throw trophy.

Howard picked third in the event winning by a point over Mullins in the consolation game.

The Wildcats had a more difficult time with MCA than they did in their first two games. A 27-point performance by Howard gave the Wildcats a 57-43 win over the Falcons in the first game. Maytown's record is 3-1 in the season. Howard also pulled in seven rebounds and had three assists.

The big man on the board for the Wildcats continues to be Stone with 13 points and 14 rebounds. Ethan Martin added eight points with Higgins scoring five.

Josh Luster led the Falcons with 21 points and the scoring fell off after Easter Ward Hale tossed in six points. Luster had four points. Barton Napleton, Aaron Ochoa and Mark Burchell each scored two points apiece.

Maytown defeated June Buchanan in the first round as Howard poured in 24 points to lead the Wildcats to a 52-40 win. Edmund Stone tossed in 15 points and pulled down 10 rebounds for the winners.

Howard had 14 rebounds and 15 points.

Betsy Layne places four in double figures in 63-55 win

By Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Betsy Layne Lady Cats placed four players in double figures and did something they haven't been able to do for the past three seasons: They defeated the Allen Central Lady Rebels 63-55 in the Floyd County Preseason Tournament at Prestonsburg Thursday night.

Misty Clark tossed in 16 points to lead the scoring parade for the Lady Cats. Dea Dee Martin added 15 with Rhonda Conn and Misty Johnson netting 10 each.

Game scoring honors went to Allen Central's Marsha Brown as she totaled 21 points. Mandy Samons tossed in 11. Brown drilled three three-pointers in the game.

After a close first quarter, it was all Betsy Layne in the second stanza as they rolled out for a 33-19 lead over the Lady Rebs. But it was a different Allen Central team that returned to the court at the start of the second half.

The Lady Rebels scored the first eight points of the third quarter to narrow the margin to six, 33-27. A layup by Misty Johnson gave Betsy Layne a 38-31 lead with 4:06 left in the period. But a spurt led by Brown netted the Lady Rebels the lead at 40-38. Brown hit two free throws, a layup, drilled a three-pointer and scored a layup off a turnover to put her team on top.

Betsy Layne had all sorts of problems with the Allen Central press and had seven turnovers in the third quarter. The game was tied at 44-44 after three quarters.

A layup by Martin and two free throws by Conn netted the Lady Cats a 48-44 lead. A free throw by Jennifer Mullins tied the game at 49-49 before Allen Central began turning the ball over. The Lady Rebs seemingly abandoned the press that was doing so well for them.

Betsy Layne scored six unanswered points, all off turnovers, and torched ahead 55-49. The Lady Cats could have done more damage in the run but missed the front end of three consecutive bonus shots.

Allen Central could get no closer than three points, 55-52, after that.

The game was tied at 2, 4, and 6 in the first quarter before Allen Central ran off five straight points to take a 9-6 lead. A free throw by Mullins made it a 10-8 game before Clark led the Betsy Layne charge of seven unanswered points for a 15-10 lead. The Lady Cats owned the lead of 15-11 after the first stop.

Betsy Layne started the second quarter with back-to-back baskets to own a 19-11 lead. The Lady Cats' pressure defense opened up a 8-2 run that netted them a 12-point, 27-15, lead. Betsy Layne extended the lead to 14 points, 33-19 at the half.

Christy Johnson and Jessica Hamilton had six points each for Betsy Layne.

Mullins finished with seven for Allen Central. Fala Robinson tossed in six with Lisa Stumbo and Dreama Kilgore scoring four each. Crystal Martin, an eighth grader, had two points.

Betsy Layne will travel to Belfry Saturday night to meet the Lady Pirates. Allen Central will play at Magoffin County Thursday night.

Late rally pushes South Floyd past Betsy Layne Bobcats, 72-56

By Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The South Floyd Raiders and Betsy Layne Bobcats played their final round in the Floyd County Preseason Tournament on Saturday night at Allen Central with the Raiders holding off the Bobcats to post a 72-56 victory.

The game was closer than the final score would indicate as the Raiders had to come up with a late rally in the final period to subdue a good Betsy Layne squad.

The Raiders went on a 18-4 run with less than three minutes remaining in the game to win going away. But it was a game Bobcat team that came to play.

South Floyd appeared to be in the drivers seat as Alan Joe Moore scored the first two baskets to start the third period to give coach Jim Rose's ballclub a 37-24 advantage. Then Bryon Hamilton went to work for the Bobcats. Derrick Newsome buried a three-point basket and Hunter completed a three-point play and scored on a layup with 5:20 left to cut the lead to five, 37-32.

Moore retreating with a baseline jumper to send the Raiders back out by seven, 39-32. After a turnaround four-foot jumper by Hunter, Keith Hamilton hit a 14-foot jumper to narrow the margin to three, 39-36 as South Floyd took a timeout.

Bo Rogers grabbed a rebound and stuck it back in for a 41-36 Raider lead. But Betsy Layne, who appeared to be running out of steam, scored six unanswered points to take a 42-41 lead. South Floyd took a 54-49 lead on a basket by John Hall and Moore's three-point play. Hamilton drilled a three-pointer to pull his team to within two, 54-52. But the Bobcats could only score four points over the final 3:10 as the Raiders went on a 18-4 run.

"We played well tonight," said Coach Rose. "Alan Joe just gave us a tremendous game. This team is learning to move the ball better than in the earlier games."

Moore led the Raiders with 19 points with Hall tossing in 15. Charles Johnson and Chad Stone scored 12 and 11 points, respectively. Moore pulled down nine rebounds for South Floyd with Hall gathering in six boards and dishing off five assists.

Rogers, who had a 14 rebound night in a previous game, continued to control the boards with eight assists

Betsy Layne. Ryan Hamilton, who scored six points, had five assists in the game.

Hunter led all scorers with 21 points. Hamilton tossed in 14 with Derrick Newsome scoring nine. Newsome had two treys in the game. Potter added five with a three-point basket and Jason Newsome scored four.

Betsy Layne falls to 1-3 on the young season with South Floyd improving to 2-1.

A Look At Sports

District coaches have varied opinions about the tournament.

"I like it," said Betsy Layne girls' coach Bill Newsome. "I think that it is a good format."

"I like the tournament but with a different format," said South Floyd girls' coach Jimmy Hopkins. "But I like the idea that Gary (Hopkins) had — bring in teams from another county and play the teams in Floyd County."

The Floyd County Athletic Council is scheduled to meet Wednesday to discuss the tournament, according to acting chairman Alan Osborne, principal at Betsy Layne High School.

"We will meet and take a look at this past tournament and see what changes need to be made," he said.

MORE BIRTHDAY GREETINGS...

An early happy birthday greeting goes out to Rhonda Thornsbury who will turn 18 this coming Tuesday. No, Rhonda, you can't miss school because it is your birthday. Rhonda plays for the Lady Raiders of South Floyd. Happy Birthday, Rhonda!

A happy birthday wish goes to Amanda Justice, a cheerleader at Betsy Layne High School. Amanda celebrated her birthday this past Tuesday. Happy birthday, Amanda!

JIM, JOE, DAVE SAY THANKS...

Jim, Joe and Dave at WOHY-95 asked me to pass on their thanks to the Prestonsburg Blackcats for their fine football season they just completed.

"I tell the players and coaching staff that we are proud of them and have enjoyed covering their games this year. We love them all," said Allen.

Allen has taken the loss pretty hard and is still in a state of shock over the one-point loss.

Also from the Floyd County Technical High School, they pass on this message:

The entire student body would like to take this opportunity to congratulate our students and all our fans from Prestonsburg High School on their winning season in football!

ALL HIGH SCHOOL COACHES...

With the advent of fax machines and the inability of this one person to make it to all the high school games, I am asking all coaches (boys and girls) to fax me a copy of their score sheets for each game that I am not able to personally attend.

Parents, look for the games in the paper. If I don't have them, I cannot put them in the sports section.

Now, I'm not talking about just the games that you win, but if you were to be so unfortunate as to lose a game, send those results as well. It will help us pick a player of the week.

The Floyd County Times fax number is 886-3603. Or if you prefer, call me at 886-8506. But either way, please let me know your game results. It only takes a minute or two. I prefer the coaches call me so that I may get some comments from them. Help us out here!

Now, you can have a schedule in the "big paper" or story in your local paper. It's your choice.

Until Friday, good sports everyone and be good sports.

Maytown

dished off five assists.

Maytown jumped out quickly against the Eagles with a 11-2 first quarter run. Buchanan picked things up again in the second half totalling 25-17 at the half.

Limbo Hagan scored nine points for Maytown with Jason Osborne netting six.

Jackie Owens had two points with Ethan Martin tossing one.

Daniel Reiser, a former MCA player, scored 22 points to lead the Eagles. Goings added seven with Arnett tossing in six. Collins and Kilber had three and two points respectively.

In the second round, Maytown faced the Muffins Tigers and came home with a 60-32 win as Stone scored a game high 23 points to lead Maytown. Stone continued to dominate the boards by hauling in 14 rebounds in the win.

Howard scored 21 points and had nine boards while picking up five assists. Hagan added six points and Martin came away with five. Curtis Webb managed three points with Osborne's lead having scoring two each.

Mullins was led by Hinkle and Johnson with seven apiece. Goodman, Lowe and Fields scored six each.

Maytown put the game away with a 22-6 run in the fourth quarter as Mullins picked to solve Maytown's pressure defense.

Named to the all-tournament team were Matt Crawford, Bryon Patton of Duff Elementary; Josh Luster, Brian Osborne and Ward Hale, MCA; Todd Howard, Tim Limbo, Hagan, Edmond Stone, Maytown; Daniel Reiser, Ivel.

The game was tied at 40-40 with 33 seconds to play in the game. Austin went to a stall and ran the clock down to 18 seconds and called a timeout.

The play called for one of the guards to drive to the basket for either the bucket or to draw a foul.

The Lady Blackcats pulled a surprise and came back out in a 2-3 zone that at first confused the Lady Hornets.

"We definitely wanted to take the lead," Austin said. "Coach Terrence [Austin] was the key."

The ball came in to Honeycutt who found herself doubled-teamed. Honeycutt spotted Greathouse off the wing and the pass went to Greathouse who buried a 12-foot jumper with five seconds left.

Instead of celebrating, Greathouse turned and stole the rebound pass and dribbled out the clock as the Lady Hornets ran their overall record to 5-2 on the season.

The Lady Hornets nailed the whole game and at one time were down by 12 points.

"We tried to press in the first half," said Greathouse, "but we got tired. We pulled back and in the fourth quarter we saw that we didn't have anybody in foul trouble and went all out."

Austin hitronly six of 26 free throw attempts while Adams connected on 12 of 22.

Alice Lloyd falls to Transylvania 112-97

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Alice Lloyd Eagles had their seven game winning streak snapped in the first round of the Transylvania Invitational basketball tournament this weekend when they fell to the host school 112-97.

For Coach Jim Stepps' ballclub, it was a cool shooting night. They hit 45 percent of their shots while Transy was connecting on a 50 percent night.

The Eagles, who like to shoot the three, hit only 13 of 36 attempts for 36 percent shooting, but Transylvania shot a sizzling 57 percent. Transy attempted 35 treys and made 20. Alice Lloyd trailed by 17 points at the half, 62-45.

Marcum led the Eagles with 22 points. Ritchie, in 11 games, reached 100 in 19 for the Eagles with Conley adding 13.

Ritchie dished off six assists against Transy with Marcum getting five assists and Hager had four. Conley led the Eagles on the boards with eight rebounds and Lody Salsbury pulled down seven and scored six points.

The loss dropped the Eagles to 7-1 on the year.

In an earlier game, the Eagles extended their winning streak to seven games with a 95-75 win over Westminster, Pennsylvania. Clark topped the Eagles with 27 points hitting nine three pointers. Marcum netted 20 points with Conley finishing with 16. Ritchie tallied 10 and Marcum nine.

Marcum hauled in nine rebounds for the winners with Conley coming up with eight rebounds. Furchild had eight boards and Salsbury had six caroms.

Alice Lloyd shot 52 percent from the three-point circle while Westminster shot a cool 32 percent.

Ritchie had seven assists in the game and Hager dished off four. The Eagles turned the ball over 13 times to Westminster's eight. The difference came at the free throw line where the Eagles connected on 22 of 33 and Westminster went to the charity stripe four for attempts, hitting three.

In France, carols are called noels; in Italy, le pastorali; in Germany, Weihnachtslieder.

Welcome to Basketball Hoops for the 1993-94 season. While some of us didn't fair too well in the football picks we thought we would give basketball a try. South Floyd should open their season on a successful note as they are favored over Pikeville. Kentucky is to rebound from their loss to Indiana last weekend and roll past the Eastern Kentucky Colonels tonight. Look for Chuck's favorite Irish team to be victorious over the Trojans of Southern Cal. Paintsville is to win while Breathitt County will subdue the Johnson Central Eagles.

Auxier Lady Hornets win own invitational over Adams

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

The Auxier Hornets pulled off a surprise as they won for the first time ever over the Adams Middle School Lady Blackcats 40-35 in the championship game of the Auxier Shootout this past weekend at Auxier.

With the win, the Lady Hornets won their own invitational tournament to turn their record for the season to 4-2.

Shelly Greathouse led all scorers with 21 points, scoring 18 in the second half.

"We played well," said Hornet coach Jerome Greathouse. "Our girls stayed focused on what they needed to do to win. They just played an excellent game."

Auxier, no longer an automatic win for most teams, played a strong defensive game as they had no let-down against the Lady Blackcats.

Adams grabbed a 8-4 first quarter lead as Ladonna Stone, Le Ann Davis, Kristy Johnson and Crystal Stone scored field goals in the period. The Lady Hornets could only manage a basket by Greathouse and two Carolyn Shepherd free throws in the initial period.

The two teams played to a 9-9 tie in the second period as Adams owned a 17-13 halftime lead. Amy Ousley tossed in four second period points to help her team to the lead. Candy Howard had four points in the second quarter for the Lady Hornets.

It was all Greathouse in the second half for the Lady Hornets. She came alive in the third quarter with eight points and netted 10 in the fourth period.

"This is a different caliber team this year," said Greathouse. "They believe they can play with anyone now."

Believing in oneself is important and the Lady Hornets are out to show that they are for real.

Shepherd added seven points for the Hornets. Candy Howard tossed in four as did Tonya Honeycutt. Alisha Spears scored two points.

Ann Hall and Amy Ousley led Adams with eight points each. Le Ann Davis scored seven. Kristy Johnson and Crystal Stone added four each with Ladonna Stone and Rhonda Cornette scoring two each.

Adams hit three of 18 free throw attempts while Auxier connected on 12 of 24.

Greathouse scored a career high 26 points in the opening round game to lead the Lady Hornets to a 55-13 win over the Harold Lady Red Devils. Honeycutt hit double figures with 13 points and Shepherd added eight. Candy Howard finished with five while Rachel Wood and Jody Hall scored two each.

Harold was led by Andrea Keathley's five points. Ashley Akers scored three. Kristy Stevens and Beth Lawson had two each. Becky Lykens scored one point.

Auxier took a 18-0 lead after the first quarter and led 28-9 at the half.

In other tournament games, Prater defeated the Harold Lady Red Devils 36-20 to advance in the tournament. Brandi Watson and Heather Kidd combined for 26 points to lead the Lady Cougars. Watson finished with 16 points and Kidd added 10. Teresa Jarrell and Tabitha Cox scored four each with Amber Roberts tossing in two.

Natasha Clark led Harold with 11 points. Brandy Stevens added four with Nicole Conn scoring two. Beth Lawson, Jessica Lykens and Andrea Keathley had one point each.

Adams then posted a 29-11 win over Prater Creek to move into the championship game. Crystal Stone led the Lady Blackcats with six points.

Adams also got five points from Ladonna Stone, Ann Hall and Kana Sammons. Kristy Johnson scored four for Adams. Stephanie Hackworth and Rachel Cavins scored two.

Amber Roberts led Prater with five points. Brandi Watson scored three and Heather Kidd had two.

Shelly Greathouse won the individual free throw trophy by shooting 56 percent from the charity stripe.

The Lady Hornets received the first place trophy with Adams getting the runners-up. The winner and runners-up also received individual trophies.

Prater received the third place trophy and Harold took home the fourth place award.

Ask Dr. Bubba

Editor's Note: Dr. Bubba is not a licensed, practicing therapist, but has received Ph.D.s in analytical psychology and large furry rodent extermination from the prestigious DrVryl D-Con Institute of Little Rock, Arkansas. Dr. Bubba is also a distinguished author and self-help guru. His latest novel details the trials and tribulations of his tragic childhood on the banks of the Big Sandy. Entitled "Livin' In A Van Down By The River: You Think YOU Got Rat Problems," the book will be available from BubbaPress by early Spring.

Dear Dr. Bubba: People complain about all the sex and violence on television these days, but with Christmas coming up and all, I'm about ready to go into a diabetic coma from all the syrupy-sweet sentimental "family" programs. What should I do? "Family Man" from Fairfield

Dear "Family Man": Ah! I tell you the same thing I tell all them other Morons—you got a knob. Use it. An' I ain't talkin' about the lump between yer ears. If ya really want sex an' violence, just check out the nightly news. Or the Cartoon Network—ya'll see more people dropped off cliffs an' crushed by anvils in a Warner Brothers cartoon than just about ANY Clint Eastwood pitcher (except maybe fer "The Outlaw Jose Wales"), an' Bugs looks mighty feitchin' in that little Vikin' babe outfit while Elmer sings, "Oh, Bwunhilda, you're so wooooowewy."

Dear Dr. Bubba: I'm a frustrated writer who has never been published. After three years of fiction writing, I finally decided to work on a semi-autobiographical docu-drama based on my own personal feelings, hopes and aspirations entitled "The Top 101 Women With Whom I'd Like To Nude-Wrestle In A Bowl Full Of Ketchup While Screaming 'I'm A French Fry! I'm A French Fry!'" I sent this magnum opus to twenty-seven different publishers, hoping for at least one positive review, but they all sent it back to me with the same criticism: "We liked it until we got to chapter twelve: 'Roseanne Barr.' What's their problem? Don't they recognize great literature when they see it? Misunderstood in Michigan."

Dear Misunderstood: I ain't sure if the problem is they don't recognize great literature or if they DO recognize THAT YOU'RE A FREAK!!! It's called "professional counselin'" Seek it.

Well, kids, that's about all the space we got for this week. Keep them cards an' letters pourin' in to "Ask Dr. Bubba," c/o The Big Sandy news, Lousia, Ky 412 30. In the meantime, remember it may be the season to be jolly, but if yer TOO jolly, ya might get on somebody's nerves an' they'll be forced to rip yer lips off an' then ya won't be able to whistle "Jingle Bells" no more.

Winter Freeze-Out

Winter advisory headlines clarified

Kentuckians will have more specific information this winter to help them prepare when severe weather hits close to home.

"The National Weather Service will issue advisory headlines for specific

"In contrast," Priddy said, "a winter storm watch or warning is issued for any or all of these conditions — at least four inches of snow falling within 12 hours, damaging accumulations of freezing rain or drizzle, heavy sleet buildup, and a blizzard."

A winter storm watch means conditions favor severe weather development in an area.

A winter storm warning is issued when severe winter weather is imminent.

"The weather advisory headlines give a precise picture of conditions so people can make or adjust travel plans and take steps to protect themselves as well as their pets and livestock," he said.

The advisories also will reduce complacency about weather forecasts, according to Priddy.

Safety tips

- Make a safety kit for home and travel. Kits should contain such items as non-perishable food, water, light, radio, extra batteries, blankets, medicine and other necessities.
- Winterize automobiles. Check tires, brakes, lights, battery and antifreeze. Put a set of jumper cables in the trunk.
- Plan trips in advance, giving someone else the route you are taking. Allow extra travel time. Avoid unnecessary trips.
- Wear several layers of loose-fitting, light-weight clothing. Cover your head, hands and face.
- Don't over-exert when shoveling snow.
- Provide adequate shelter, water and food for livestock and pets.

conditions," said Tom Priddy, extension meteorologist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

"These notices will give parameters for specific conditions — snow, dense fog, wind chill, freezing rain or drizzle, and blowing or drifting snow."

The headline advisories and parameters are: snow, less than four inches; dense fog, visibility of one-fourth mile or less; wind chill, temperatures of 30 to 35 degrees below 0; freezing rain or drizzle, accumulations making road surfaces and sidewalks hazardous; and blowing or drifting snow, intermittent visibility of one-fourth mile or less.

"A winter storm watch or warning encompasses just one or all of several weather conditions," he explained.

"And when these conditions don't materialize, some people tend to become apathetic about future forecasts."

"Conversely, the advisory headlines hone in on specific weather conditions with definite parameters."

"Winter storms can immobilize the entire state," Priddy said.

"Heavy snow and ice storms that can accompany these storms are potential killers of people and animals. It's a good idea to do some advance planning to prepare for winter."

WINTER WEATHER TERM DEFINITIONS

Do weather forecasts appear to be in a foreign language?

These winter weather term definitions are from Tom Priddy, extension meteorologist at the University of Kentucky.

Freezing rain or freezing drizzle occurs when surface temperatures are below freezing.

It falls in liquid form but freezes upon impact, coating exposed surfaces with ice or an icy glaze. This condition is often called an ice storm.

Sleet is frozen rain drops that bounce when hitting the ground.

These ice pellets do not stick to trees. A sufficient depth causes hazardous driving conditions.

Snow is precipitation in the form of white or translucent ice crystals. It falls continuously, intermittently or in flurries.

Snow squalls are intense snowfall of a short duration. They are comparable to summer rain showers.

Blizzard, the most dramatic and dangerous winter storm, is characterized by low temperatures and strong winds bearing large amounts of snow.

While snowfall is usually present during the early stages, most of the snow is fine, powdery particles whipped up from the surface.

Often these particles are blown in such density that visibility is reduced to only a few yards, creating blinding conditions.

MAKE SURE YOU PICK THE RIGHT MOVIE

The kid refused to let the question rest.

The way he repeated it you would have thought there was nothing more important, more urgent on the planet to him.

"At least I got that impression after hearing his plea for what seemed the 20th time."

"Daddy, I want you to go play in my room with me," my 4-year-old said.

"Maybe another time, buddy," I told him. "I want to see the rest of this movie."

"But who is going to go play in my room with me," he asked. "I like to do that."

I like to see movies in their entirety. But something always interrupted me during the middle of "The Ten Commandments," the marathon 1956 classic featuring Charlton Heston and Yul Brynner.

This was my big chance to see what I missed. We were out of recording tape for the VCR. The kid would just have to watch the movie with me.

Then I heard a soft voice from our kitchen.

"Just remember," my wife said with a smile, "there will come a time when he won't want to play with you."

Her words jolted me. She was right, and we both knew it.

Suddenly the movie didn't seem nearly as big a deal as the brown eyes looking up at me from the floor.

"OK, pal," I said. "Let's go play in your room for a bit."

The big smile on his face told me I had made a most popular decision.

GROWING UP FAST
Sometimes it's easy to think we'll always come home to the same little faces who'll need oatmeal fixed, backs scratched and stories read before they go to sleep.

But my brief time as a father tells me not to believe it. I remember when our son wanted us to hold him in our laps all the time. Now we're lucky if he'll let us sit beside him.

"I want to do it all by myself," is a favorite slogan of his these days.

Even his 1-year-old sister is on an independence kick. She isn't as easily impressed as before. What made her giggle a couple of months ago, bores her now.

My gosh, who pushed the fast forward button on our kids?

GRIZZARD AND HOPSON AND DR. RUTH

I saw columnist J. Lewis Grizzard on TV the other night and he was talking about how it was his job to be funny; about how he was paid to find humor in places that most people can't. He does it well. I mean, when he can describe something as serious as heart surgery and make you fall out of your chair laughing, the man's got to be good. Also, since we're about the same age, I can relate to almost everything he writes.

Sara Hopson writes funny stuff, too. Although, I'm not nearly as old as she, I still find much humor in her writings of the everyday-living-type things in which she gets herself involved. It's been a long time, though, since Lewis or Sara has made me laugh as hard as when I read an article in the new December/January issue of Modern Maturity magazine. Of course, you know all about Modern Maturity that magazine for old people. It's the one that advertises stuff like records by Nana Mouskouri (who?) and Florida retirement homes and Fixodent dental adhesive.

Anyway, the problem with this particular article is that it wasn't intended to be funny. It wasn't written by a humorist like Lewis.

Grizzard nor a humorist like Sara Hopson. It was written by Ruth Westheimer (Dr. Ruth), the famous "psychosexual therapist."

In the article, titled "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" (no it's not about Sidney Porter), Dr. Ruth offers advice on how to get along with all the relatives who gather for those big family dinners, like for those big family dinners and Christmas.

Now, everybody that's ever eaten with a large family knows that Aunt Gertrude talks too much and that every year Uncle Charley tells how he single handedly won WW II. They also know that rotund cousin Willafaye Louise is planning to start her diet first on Monday morning, and since it's a sin to waste food because people in those third-world countries are starving, she might as well go on ahead and finish off the other half of that Missississippi mud cake.

We've all, no doubt, experienced such holiday feasts with all our loving cousins and grown-up god-cousins from sneaking off to bed together.

Remember the old joke? "You're a redneck if you go to family reunions to meet girls?"

Lewis Grizzard and Sara Hopson work hard at it and do indeed write some funny stuff. But imagine how disappointed they'll both be when they read this and discover that little old Dr. Ruth is funnier by accident than they are on purpose.

Like we're barely getting through Christmas dinner with this bunch of eccentrics, and now

Kim's Korner

Just when you think you're past the stage of shock, Michael Jackson heads the news with accusations that turn stomachs.

by Kim Frasure

Then it's and behold! Lee Buttaduce confesses to liaisons with the 16-year-old Amy Fisher.

Enough is enough, and then basketball season starts. What could possibly be shocking about that, you ask? Try sitting in the stands anticipating cheering your team on, look over to the opposing team section as your team members are being announced, and witness "adults" being children.

"Shocked?" I was. I mean we're talking middle school children here. From children such behavior could be expected, but from adults, it's ridiculous.

Then we have the cheerleaders. Practice, practice, and more practice. The first tournament of the season, first opportunity for cheerleading competition. All the anticipation came to a dead halt when lo' and behold the competition was thrown out, deleted, done away with, kaput! Rumors are circulating more than the Eastern Kentucky Shopper (and that little paper reaches over 14,000 homes), so what really happened to cause the cancellation of competition. I've yet to determine.

Fact remains there was a tremendous amount of time, hard work, sore muscles, and sore joints from more than just one school involved.

Yet, all cheerleading squads representing their schools paid the price. Working hard deserves rewards.

Tournament time is the only time athletes are able to be rewarded. And I don't mind remaining over quiet for weeks, cheerleaders are athletes too! What a shame. Till next week.

Mutant Ninja Turtle wanted to talk with me, the boy said.

"How you doing, Ninja Turtle?" I asked. "I haven't heard from you for a while. Are you on a secret mission?"

We gabbed some more and then my son whispered for me not to hang up.

He had forgotten to warn his Ninja Turtle pals to be careful in their quest for bad guys. He also wanted to ask how the turtles' lives are these days.

"Oh, they're from scattered boxes and from under his bed so I don't know where they are. He had some more friends, 'N' was his play name, I'd say.

"Oh, they're from scattered boxes and from under his bed so I don't know where they are. He had some more friends, 'N' was his play name, I'd say. I'd like to have them out," he said.

But, hanging it was time for me.

As always, it seems the night that I was in his room and he had probably excited him to go out to a park or a field.

It is so hard I think about it. It was the simple things relatives shared with me that endeared them to me. Just having the time to play checkers or draw with me, as well as a simple made a big impression.

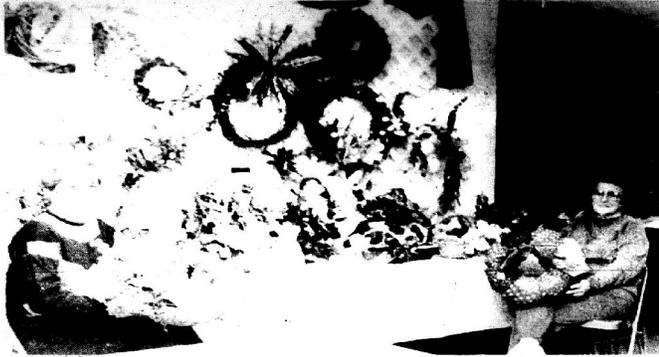

And if the Ten Commandments could be the end of it then.

Michael Brent Carter, the final life home movie at our house is playing for only a short time, and its actors are little old ones.

Time to go to catch as much of their show as I can.

Seniors have the advantage

A new senior membership program is being introduced in the Prestonsburg, Paintsville and Ilex areas by Consolidated Health Systems, the parent company of Highlands Regional Medical Center, called Senior Advantage. Membership is open to anyone age 55 years and over.

The program will feature activities, educational opportunities and events that will be designed for the special interest of the seniors. Besides regularly scheduled meetings which will give members a chance to make new friends, special events and travel to points of area and regional interest are planned.

Special health-related services geared to mature adults, will be offered either free or at substantial savings. Health risk assessments, blood pressure checks and lab tests for blood sugar, cholesterol and triglycerides will be routinely offered. And, if hospitalization at Highlands is ever required, special services and courtesies will be extended to all Senior Advantage members.

Free health insurance claims assistance will be available along with free notary and courier services. Members will also be able to dine in Highlands' cafeteria or shop in The Emporium at special "members only" prices.

Isaac honored

Former Floyd County Board of Education Member Bob Isaac (right) was honored by the board at the November meeting. Chairman Ed Patton Jr. presented Isaac with a plaque in honor of Isaac's service to the school system. Isaac was appointed by Commissioner Thomas Boyesen to fill the seat of the late Ray "Shag" Gampbell earlier this year. Isaac has also served on the district's Local Planning Committee and the Maytown Site Based Council.

*Without an organ donor,
I wouldn't be alive today.*

Every day, 7 people die waiting for organ transplants. That's because most people don't know how easy it is to become an organ donor. What's more, since All you have to do is sign the back of your driver's license, have it witnessed by 2 people, and let your family know. It really is that easy. And with 220 Kentuckians on the waiting list, you will be helping your community, too. What's more, since a lot of people here in Kentucky aren't organ donors, the waiting list for donations gets longer every day. And because one person can save or help over 100 people by donating, your signature might save many people from dying. So fill a friend and sign together. Because when we ask you to "Celebrate Life, Pass it on", we hope you will. For more information, call 1-800-525-3156.

Planning a healthy holiday meal

Holiday time brings on sumptuous treats and meals fit for a king. Unfortunately, it also brings on added calories and fat. Can we ever really have our cake, and eat it too?

Careful planning and smart substitutions can help a great deal, according to Teresa Smith, an assistant professor in the University of Kentucky College of Human Environmental Sciences. Working in the department of nutrition and food sciences, she has a number of helpful suggestions to improve the nutritional content of your holiday feast.

"When looking at traditional holiday recipes, try to find ways to lower the fat, cholesterol and sugar content of your meal," says Smith. Substituting recipe ingredients is a great way to reduce fat and cholesterol.

If a recipe calls for whole milk, substitute skim milk. Instead of using the whole egg, use only the egg whites. Two eggs whites are the equivalent of one egg. A good substitute for sour cream is low-fat or fat-free plain yogurt. Smith suggests mixing a tablespoon of cornstarch and one tablespoon of yogurt, then adding that mixture to the remainder of the yogurt to thicken it up and bring it closer to the consistency of sour cream.

"Many recipes call for nuts. In most cases, you can eliminate the nuts. If you really want to include them, try cutting down the amount. Use half of what the recipe calls for," says Smith.

Gravies can be loaded with fat and cholesterol. One healthier alternative is to refrigerate the liquid broth overnight. The fat rises to the top and can easily be skimmed off. Speaking of fat, skip those self-basting turkeys and choose the "regular" turkeys. Baste the turkey in its own juices and remove the skin from the turkey before eating to further reduce the fat ### content.

"For vegetables, many people have a tendency to load them up with butter and cream sauces. It's better to use lemon juice, herbs and spices to add flavor to vegetables," says Smith. Fresh vegetables and fruit salads are also a good idea. For gelatin-type fruit salads, use diet gelatin to cut back on sugar and calories.

Desserts are the nutritional downfall for many. Cookies, pies and cakes are especially tempting during the holiday season. Low-fat frozen yogurts and puddings made from skim milk are healthier dessert choices. If you simply can't pass up that delicious pie, try taking smaller portions. "Have a one-inch sliver of pie instead of a big piece. A taste instead of a usual portion," says Smith.

Some people make the mistake of starving themselves all day to save up for a holiday feast. "That's a mistake. If you starve all day, you're more likely to overeat at that holiday meal. Be reasonable with your meals that day. Try to select foods lower in fat throughout the food to serve up for that holiday meal," says Smith.

Don't be so quick to run for second helpings. "Give yourself ten or fifteen minutes to see if you're satisfied, before running for seconds. There's a little lag time between eating and feeling full," says Smith.

Sibling abuse: a normal part of growing up

When a child beats, kicks, bites or scratches a younger brother or sister, adults often simply say, "That's just the way kids are," or "They'll grow out of it."

But vicious and cruel behavior between children in the same family can be more than just a normal part of growing up, according to Sam Quick.

Extension family relations specialist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

These days everyone's heard of more familiar terms such as sex abuse, child abuse, spouse abuse and even parent abuse. But few have recognized destructive behavior among siblings as yet another form of abuse.

"Initial research suggests that sibling violence may occur more frequently than violence between parents and children or spouse abuse," Quick said. "As many as 53 out of every 100 children abuse a brother or sister. Outside the home, much of this mistreatment would be considered assault."

He added, "Between siblings, however, it usually is ignored."

Society can pay a high price when sibling abuse goes uncorrected, Quick said. Adult survivors may remain af-

"Too often, the roots of sexual dysfunction, eating disorders, alcoholism and drug problems may lie in sibling abuse," he said.

He focuses on this largely ignored form of abuse in one of a series of fact sheets published by UK's Cooperative Extension Service under the overall title of "Breaking the Cycle of Abuse." This and the other fact sheets are available through the county Extension office.

Ten Tips To Make Your Holidays Less Hectic by Robin Flips, Hairstylist

1. Stretch your menu I like to look ahead and plan my menu. I don't want to get stuck with a menu that I can't change. I like to have a variety of foods to choose from. I like to have a variety of foods to choose from. I like to have a variety of foods to choose from.

2. Get Five a Day on the menu. The government recommends that we eat two to four servings of fruits and three to five servings of vegetables each day. So stir frozen vegetables into soups and casseroles, and dress up desserts with frozen raspberries and strawberries.

3. Take a trip around the world. Since we usually focus on traditional American foods during the holidays, the wide variety of ethnic frozen foods can be a welcome change of pace.

4. Take advantage of different cooking methods. Some frozen food products can be heated in the oven, others on a stove top, and most can be microwaved. If you're serving several frozen dishes together, take advantage of all three cooking methods to get your meal on the table quickly.

5. Cut down on cleanup. Instead of fried appetizers and serving dishes, spoon your frozen entrees and side dishes directly into dinner plates, or cut right out of the pre-cooked heat-and-serve trays.

6. Start your day on the right foot. With a hot breakfast you'll need all the energy you can muster. From breakfast sandwiches to waffles to toasted bagels, the freezer is an ideal place for hot breakfast ideas.

Let's Hear It For Noise Reduction

NOISE! What a great word. A word that which produces an escape from the noise of everyday life. The first and most noticeable benefit for the consumer, the aptly named NoiseBuster can be used alone for its noise-reducing benefits or in combination with portable stereo devices to enhance listening pleasure to music, television, and the radio.

The NoiseBuster comes in a variety of sizes and can be used in a car, on a boat, in a plane, or in a home. It is a small, portable device that can be clipped to a user's clothing, bag, or belt.

The NoiseBuster can be used when traveling in a plane or train, when operating a lawnmower, leaf blower, or vacuum cleaner while walking in the city, or when working in a home or office. Depending on the situation, the NoiseBuster will experience a 20 to 40 percent reduction in low-frequency, constant noise, while at the same time enhancing the audibility of speech, music and

If You Live In Prestonsburg, Your Heart Is In The Right Place.

The skilled hands of our doctors and nurses are some of the most valuable equipment we have.

Open-Heart Surgery

Sometimes, diagnostic tests show that a patient requires open-heart surgery, a very serious operation. And that's exactly how our physicians and staff have approached every one they've performed since the Cardiopulmonary Institute was established.

In the relatively short time the Institute has been open, we've already faced some very serious operations. And so far, our open-heart program has been a huge success, due to the skills and hard work of the surgery team, nursing staff and other support staff.

In fact, we're preparing for even more surgeries this year by training a second team of nurses for cardiothoracic procedures and equipping a second operating room for open-heart surgeries.

Cardiopulmonary Rehabilitation Program

Cardiopulmonary Rehab is an integral part of the comprehensive care provided here at the Institute. After open-heart surgery and other cardiac procedures, patients complete a supervised program designed to recondition the heart and maintain fitness through proper diet and regular exercise. Cardiac rehab helps us ensure that our cardiology patients learn how to stay healthy. Support groups such as NoSmoke and Mended Hearts, Inc. are also available free for cardiology patients and their family members.

Our cardiopulmonary rehabilitation program.

Consider these statistics for a minute:

In 1989, Kentucky had the third highest death rate due to coronary heart disease.

Nationally, in 1990, heart and blood vessel diseases killed more than 930,000 Americans. That translates to 43% of all deaths. And of the current U.S. population of 250 million, more than 70 million more than one in four suffer from some form of cardiovascular disease.

To put all of this into a crystal clear perspective: someone in America dies from cardiovascular disease every 34 seconds.

Now, the point of all this is not to scare you. It's simply to make you aware of how widespread cardiovascular disease is.

And to make you aware of how fortunate you are to have a world class medical facility so close to home. The Cardiopulmonary Institute at King's Daughters' Medical Center.

What Is It And Why Is It Here?

The Cardiopulmonary Institute is a division of King's Daughters' Medical Center that was established to coordinate and provide cardiac and pulmonary care in the Tri-State region.

Its mission is to develop and improve relationships between family physicians and cardiologists provide physician education and strengthen continuity of care for patients. Simply put, this will result in you and your family receiving better cardiopulmonary care than ever before.

Why is it here? Well, we established the Institute here for one simple reason: too many people were having to travel to far for high-quality cardiopulmonary care. We wanted to offer that same level of care, close to home.

Our Expert Staff

As part of a plan to constantly increase the number of top physicians practicing at King's Daughters', we sought out and recruited specialists from such prestigious medical centers as the Mayo Clinic, the Texas Heart Institute and the Deborah Heart & Lung Center.

We also recruited additional nurses and staff members with specialized training in areas such as Advanced Cardiac Life Support and Critical Care Nursing. In fact, we even have a nurse on our staff whose sole responsibility is providing critical care education and training.

Diagnostic Equipment And Procedures

A major part of establishing the Institute was our commitment to investing in the latest diagnostic equipment. Equipment that allows physicians to examine patients more thoroughly than ever before. And enables them to better prescribe treatment.

Our new cardiac catheterization laboratory helps physicians assess the pumping function of the heart and examine the coronary arteries, up close via video monitors.

And our Philips tripleload nuclear camera gives physicians 3-D images of the heart, which makes it easier to diagnose heart problems.

Holter monitoring allows our physicians to assess heart rate and rhythm, and evaluate blood flow over an extended period of time, usually 24 hours.

Finally, we use the stress EKG, commonly known as a stress test, to diagnose cardiac functional capacity, how well your heart handles physical stress.

Invasive, Interventional Procedures

It's testing determines a patient is at risk of heart attack or other cardiac problem, one of several procedures may be prescribed as treatment.

Two of the most common procedures are angioplasty and atherectomy. Angioplasty involves inserting a tiny balloon into a clogged artery and inflating it in order to create an opening and increase blood flow. Atherectomy is a procedure in which plaque buildup is literally scraped off arterial walls and removed.

Take Care Of Your Heart

While we're extremely proud of The Cardiopulmonary Institute, we sincerely hope you'll never have to use our services. If you watch what you eat, get plenty of exercise and don't smoke, you may never have to.

But the fact remains that cardiopulmonary disease is a big problem in the United States. And especially here in Kentucky. That alone should be cause for changing your lifestyle and taking better care of your heart.
