ROADHOUSES CONDEMNED BY JURY

GRAND JURY REPORT ASKS EXECUTION OF PROCESSES

After returning 152 true bills from the examination of 218 witnesses, the grand jury of the Floyd circuit court ended nine days of work Wednesday with a final report in which it lashed out at roadhouses and enforcement of the law in connection with their conduct.

The report, signed by Bill Shepherd, foreman, recommended that the Sheriff and his deputies pursue "more diligently" the execution of processes. "The grand jury," the report said, "is not satisfied with 'searched in and around the courthouse and not found.' The amount allowed the Sheriff for patrolling the roadhouses in Floyd county has not been properly dispensed with and the deputies have not done their duty in connection therewith."

The grand jury noted that most felonies committed in the county occur near roadhouses or places of public entertainment. "We would commend the action of the county officials attempting to regulate such public entertainment by strict provisions concerning regulation," the jury added.

To investigate the fiscal affairs of the county because of limited funds work, the grand jury recommended that the Sheriff be requested to make up a list of the next grand jury from his records, showing items of claims and other expenditures of public funds where a check should be effected.

The county health department requested to make inspections of county public buildings at intervals, with a view to improvement and to pronounced diet for prisoners in jail.

It stated that the grand jury and the jail and other buildings in as good condition as reasonably expected. Albert, County Attorney Short and Mrs. Ethel photographer, were commended for their co-operation.

Comments returned Wednesday will be published in The Times (next week.)

This Town-- That World

WE LOSE TWO

The FLOYD COUNTY TIMES presents to the nation's armed forces its assistant editor, Earl B. Martin, and its general factotem-pole Henry Allen Howard.

Both, ere this paper reaches you, will have entered the nation's armed forces as volunteers.

"Gabe," as we around THE TIMES office knew Earl, is one of the most congenial souls we've ever known. "Dry," as we knew Henry, sometimes can become one of the most congealed souls we've ever known. And he's all right, too.

Here, working with us for the last two years Earl has always been the perfect co-worker, ready and willing to help, never letting his temper spoil a minute of any other person's day. Here, with us for longer than that, he's been "Dry," never letting his temper spoil anybody's day, but sometimes spoiling other folks' tempers.

Nobody can take Henry's place as an argument-rouser. And nobody can take his sallies in better humor than Earl. We're lost without 'em. Both are going to Camp Shelby, Mississippi. Together, they promise Camp Shelby their own peculiar talents.

Bring on that good, old Rebel yell, Mississippi! Dry'll do the yelling, and Gabe, with his rich sense of humor, will chime in with a laugh at the whole bunch of you!

And, if the Army wants to get its publicity to the public, why doesn't it put somebody like Earl Martin in charge of its publicity efforts?—somebody who knows how to reach the small-town papers as well as their big-city brothers?

HALE IS GIVEN 4-YEAR TERM

AGED MAN CONVICTED IN HARRISON SLAYING

Will Hale, aged Allen man, was given a four-year penitentiary sentence Thursday, last week, by a Floyd circuit court jury upon his conviction in the shotgun slaying at Allen of Deputy Constable Richard Harrison.

His son, Bill (Cider) Hale was not on trial.

Hale based his defense on the contention that the shotgun for possession of which he and the officer were tussling was accidentally discharged. Most damaging of the Commonwealth's evidence was that of officers who quoted Hale as saying, following the shooting, "What would you do if somebody had your boy down, choking him?"

As a whole, the week's court session was on the same side. Only two other felony convictions were made. As a result of these verdicts, Mart Reed and Anthony Perkins, were sentenced to one year each in the state reformatory for breaking and entering. Edwin Frasure, charged with child desertion, was acquitted. The jury in the trial of Gordon Porter, Dallas Collins and Theodore Porter, charged with grand larceny, failed to agree and was dismissed.

The criminal term of court ends Saturday. Beginning Monday, the civil term will be in session.

REYNOLDS SUES FOR $10,000

CLAIMS SOFT DRINK WAS CONTAMINATED, CAUSED ILLNESS

Walter Reynolds, Beaver merchant, Tuesday filed suit in the Floyd circuit court, asking of the East Kentucky Beverage Company, damages in the amount of $10,000 because a bottle of Pepsi-Cola which he was drinking at his store contained, he alleged, a "rubber implement" which nauseated him and impaired his general health and nervous system.

The petition, filed by Atlys. Leroy and Bert T. Combs, alleges that "on or about July 9, 1940, plaintiff jerked the cap off of one of the aforesaid bottles of Pepsi-Cola, which had been manufactured and bottled by the defendant company . . . and in the process of drinking same a rubber implement . . . which was inside the bottle came out of said bottle with the Pepsi-Cola and into plaintiff's mouth; that the plaintiff thereupon suffered great nausea and extreme sickness at his stomach . . . ; that soon thereafter and as a direct consequence of having drunk said Pepsi-Cola and taken the aforesaid rubber substance into his mouth he suffered a 'general breaking out' of his lips and chin, and on and about the region of his mouth . . ."

The plaintiff states that he is unable to forget the incident and that, each time he thinks about it, he becomes extremely nauseated.

$15,000 ASKED OF STUMBO

PLAINTIFF ALLEGES THAT OPERATION UNAUTHORIZED

Alleging that Dr. W. L. Stumbo performed an operation upon Sam Hall while the latter was suffering from alcoholism and that Hall died therefrom, Marion S. Hall, administrator of Sam Hall's estate, last week filed suit against the surgeon, asking $15,000 damages.

Hall, the petition says, died Oct. 28 at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, whither he was taken for the purpose of having hernia reduced by manual manipulation. At the time of the victim's entry at the hospital, or soon thereafter, the petition claims, the fact that he had been suffering from alcoholism for about two weeks was made known to the defendant.

The operation was performed, it is claimed, without the knowledge or consent of the patient, his friends or relatives "and at a time when the defendant well knew, or should have in the exercise of reasonable judgment known, that because of the alcoholic condition of the deceased an operation would be more than ordinarily dangerous, and at a time when said operation was not necessary for well-being of deceased . . ."

The petition was filed by the law firm of Bond & Bond.

Isbell To Speak On WLW Program At Noon Friday

Floyd county's lime program will be discussed by County Agent S. L. Isbell in a broadcast Friday noon (EST) over WLW it was announced Monday. Mr. Isbell's radio appearance will be made on invitation of the AAA while he and other County Agents and state farm leaders are attending the Farm and Home convention in Lexington. His talk will be a part of WLW's regular noonday Farm and Home program.

Mr. Isbell's selection as a speaker on the program is recognition of his work with the Floyd County Agricultural Conservation Program committee in increasing the use of lime on farms of the county. Last year, as a result of this work, Floyd county ranked fifth in the state and lost fourth place by only one farmer-member of the conservation program, it is said.

The Farm and Home Convention began at Lexington Tuesday and will end Friday.

TRAINMAN DIES BY OWN HAND AT MARTIN

JOHN N. KELLY, 56, IS FOUND DEAD MONDAY

John Nelson Kelly, 56 years old Chesapeake & Ohio Railway conductor, was found dead in his rooming-house at Martin, shortly after noon Monday, a bullet in his brain.

That he died by his own hand was the verdict of a jury empaneled by Magistrate Henry Stumbo, who conducted an inquest over the body.

A 32-calibre revolver bullet had been fired into the trainman's forehead. The missile did not emerge. The body was found by Miss Emma Osborne, Hargis Calton and Alton Crisp.

Creedence was lent to the suicide theory by a message, written in chalk on the wall of Kelly's room, within a few feet of where the body was found: "Call W. R. Kelly at Hayward, Ky." Those familiar with the room stated the writing was not on the wall when they last were inside the room. W. R. Kelly is a brother of the victim.

No definite motive for his act was established, though it was said that Kelly had, on occasions, threatened to kill himself. Shortly before he went to his room, the trainman had asked that his lunch be ready for him when he was called to work.

Mr. Kelly at one time was yardmaster at Martin and also owned a drug store there. He later moved to Ashland, returning to Martin about two years ago. He was well-known in this county and was known as a quiet, affable citizen. He was a native of Elliott county.

Surviving him are three brothers and one sister: Charles Kelly, Morehead; W. R. Kelly, Hayward, Ky.; Mrs. Laura Tackett, Ashland; Noah Kelly, Ashland.

The body was prepared for burial by the Ryan Funeral Home and taken Tuesday to Olive Hill. Burial was made at Soldier, Ky., Wednesday.

STUMBLING BLOCK

(Editor's Note: Until recently, Henry Mace was what is known as a "sinner." He later became a "confessed sinner," became united with the church. Then, on a recent Sunday, Mr. Mace made what he intended as a simple talk at the Prestonsburg Freewill Baptist Church; but the talk was a sermon—a "gem in the rough" on intolerance that he called "Stumbling Block." Since intolerance is the rule rather than the exception in the world of today—in religion, politics and general affairs of men and nations—THE TIMES is publishing, with minor changes, excerpts from Mr. Mace's talk.)

How many are here who have confidence in some Christian? How many sinners are brought to Christ without the influence of some Christian? Is there a Christian man or woman who does not have some sinner watching him or her in their daily walks? What is a real Christian worth to a church or Sunday School?

Did Jesus Christ the Lord when He was instructing His disciples at any time, even to the last instructions, advise either of them to set up a church and not allow the other disciples or any one whom they brought into God's fold to associate with the other? Can any one be a child of God and hold the name of a church between him and another Christian?

Now I say that the name, "church," never has nor never will save any one. How many Christians have been saved when you were a sinner without the influence of some Christian?

Now there are several ways of throwing a stumbling block in a sinner's way, and I think the best place for the devil to do this is right in the church. If the Christians don't watch on all sides, they will be tripped up with the devil.

Now here is a sinner, using myself as an example: I have the greatest of confidence in two men in the church, and not only them but some of you other members of this church as well. Now, you members of the Baptist Church, go ahead, disbar some folks from helping do God's work here in your church and push them out WHEN THEY WERE ELECTED BY YOU. You are then throwing a stumbling block in some poor sinner's way, some man or woman who has confidence in these men and by throwing them out you would cause this poor sinner to stay away, maybe get disgusted at such work and never go to church again and go on and his poor soul land in hell on account of you.

That is not religion and the Bible will prove it to you if you will read it. Malice does not work in a Christian. It works with sin.

Now here are a few warnings I wish to quote and you all may open your Bibles and follow me if you wish: Lev. 19-14: "Thou shalt not curse the deaf nor put a stumbling block before the blind but shalt fear thy God; I am the Lord." Deu. 27-18: "Cursed be he that maketh the blind to wander out of the way, and all the people shall say, Amen." 1st Cor. 8-19: "But take heed lest by any means this liberty of yours become a stumbling block to them that are weak."

I would like for all of your Christians to read the entire chapter of 1st Corinthians, 8th chapter—there are only 13 verses. Read 1st Peter 2-8: "And a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence even to them which stumble at the word being disobedient, whereunto also they were appointed." Rom. 5-8: "But God commandeth his love toward us in that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us."

Now, Christian folks, open your eyes and love one another; be kind, sociable and all pull together—then see the work of God for religion does not harbor malice and vengeance. When one objects to another Christian working in God's house, there is something wrong. Now, folks, pure religion is all that will take any person to heaven and why not all Christians work together? If any of you would come to my house and offer to help me in time of need, do you think I would refuse? I certainly would not. So don't refuse a Christian's help at any time or place just because he does not have his name on your church book.

If we are lucky enough to get to heaven, there will be no corners for different churches and we can't get to heaven and live in separate corners here on earth.

Let us be very careful about throwing a stumbling block in some one's way, causing his poor soul to go to hell. When Jesus was teaching to the Jew and the Gentile, did he tell them not to associate with each other? He did not. They were all just alike to him and we only have one religion, one Holy Ghost, one God, one Jesus and only one heaven.

Now, folks, I have learned to love you all and I am proud you have as good a Sunday School as you have and I certainly don't want to make any one mad and I am not trying to do anything against the church. I have been considering the Baptist Church lots since I started here in Sunday School, but if this church does not want to have some one else come in and merely help us out in the Sunday School, it is not the church for me.

I hope I haven't said anything to offend any one. Christians, for Jesus' sake, do something to save a sinner instead of throwing a stumbling block in his way.

More Home-Grown Fruit Advocated

In consideration of the national defense program, and in the interest of better health and vigor, the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky is urging greater production of home-grown fruits, vegetables and other foods. Through its extension service, the college is stepping up its campaign for increased home food production.

In the case of fruits, the college is advocating that 250 strawberry plants be set per farm next March and April. Likewise, every farm home should have at least eight grape vines, says a statement from the college; also 50 blackberry plants, five peach trees and five apple trees.

Every county and home demonstration agent in Kentucky is giving consideration to the production of staple foods such as milk, poultry, beef, pork and garden products.

Says the college's statement: "Health-producing foods during the reconstruction period are as necessary as during the national crisis of war. This fact must be considered in making our farm and home planting program for 1941. . . . A few dollars spent for plants in 1941 may return 200 percent on the investment in 1942 and later years."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our gratitude to all those who helped us during the loss of our wife and mother, Mrs. Minnie Sturgill. We wish to especially thank the Call Funeral Home for its efficient service, the Revs. Ashley, Stratton and Graham for their consoling words, also Miss Carlos Hale and her high school choir for its special music.

MR. MOTORIST:

Do you get out of an automobile on the right or left side? Now, the answer to that question may mean you will live to a ripe old age, or it may mean you are flirting with death. There is only one safe way to get out of an automobile when you're on a street or highway. Always use the door on the right-hand side—the one away from traffic!

ARE YOU a fair-weather driver? Many of us are. We don't have enough respect for Mother Nature when she is in one of her violent moods. In other words, we don't take seriously the dangers of winter driving. Quit your skidding this winter if you want to live! Skidding means only one thing—speed too fast for conditions. Remember—accidents go up when the mercury goes down. And all you have to do is look at the nation's accident records if you don't think winter is dangerous.

In fair weather use caution.
In foul weather—double it!

Kentucky 4-H Boy Grows 132 Bushels of Corn On Acre

For the second consecutive year, Eugene Blankenship, of Morgan county, is the 4-H club corn growing champion of Kentucky. He produced 132 bushels on a measured acre. Last year a yield of slightly over 100 bushels on the same acre won him the state championship.

Curtis Rader, Jackson county, grew 124 bushels on an acre, placing second; and Quentin West, of Knox county was third, with a production of 113 bushels.

Blankenship applied 12 wagonloads of manure on his acre, and used 700 pounds of complete fertilizer in the row. He plowed the land 18 inches deep. County Agent Yandal Wraether says the boy will not be satisfied until he has produced 150 bushels on an acre.

Phosphate Brings More, Better Leaf

Ray Thompson, of Larue county, found that it paid to apply superphosphate as well as commercial fertilizer in growing burley tobacco. When he broadcast 400 pounds of superphos-phate to the acre and used 200 pounds of complete fertilizer in the row, he grew on an acre 1,689 pounds that sold for 20 cents a pound. In an adjoining field where complete fertilizer only was used, the yield was 1,319 pounds and the price only 15 cents a pound. Thompson's experience was related at a meeting which County Agent Frank G. Melton called in the interest of improving the quality and price of tobacco.

Out of every dollar of railroad revenue, 36c goes to pay the cost of owning and maintaining the roads on which the trains operate.

Put an end to furnace troubles... make sure the coal you buy is from the rich, bituminous fields along Chesapeake and Ohio. You'll get uniform quality, low ash content, and the highest heat producing range of any type of coal.

Did you know that William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) played an important part in the saga of early American railroading? As a matter of fact, he got his picturesque nickname as a result of his work supplying buffalo meat to the construction forces building the Union Pacific Railroad.

Railway taxes averaged $1,107,000 daily in 1940, or $768.75 per minute.

Grapefruit, Oranges, Tangerines, Lemons, Limes! The Citrus Fruit Industry is a $500,000,000 business in which rail transportation plays an essential part. Florida growers can rely on Chesapeake and Ohio's "FLORIDA SPEEDBALL"—it's timed to make 4th morning northern fruit auction in the Great Lakes Area.

In normal years, approximately 23% of the total bituminous coal produced in the United States is purchased by railroads.

How would you like to check this inventory in your home? A dining car, fully equipped, carries 600 tablecloths, 2,000 napkins, 1,000 towels, 650 pieces of chinaware, 700 pieces of silverware, 240 pieces of glassware, 300 items of pantry and kitchenware, 200 aprons and 150 waiters' coats!

other men were witnesses to the tragedy. Dr. O. E. Johnson conducted an inquest and the Coroner's jury returned a verdict of death by self-inflicted wounds.

Mr. Blair was a prominent railroad man and had many friends along the Big Sandy Division of the C. & O., and his untimely death has brought sorrow to many.

Cause of his rash act is attributed to ill health. Mr. Blair was an ex-service man and was with the American Expeditionary Forces in France. During his stay in France he participated in a number of battles and was badly shell-shocked and gassed, and this is believed to have caused Mr. Blair to have designs on his own life.—Paintsville Herald.

THE FOURTH HUNDRED

As I begin this article, the 301st of the series, I feel I ought to review some events with those who have been kind enough to follow this column throughout its life. Many years ago I wrote some twenty-five of these articles and then laid them aside, feeling that they were of little interest to anybody except me. Then I was asked to contribute something to the newspapers and suddenly thought of this old file of essays on passing institutions. I at once put a whole year's supply of them into shape, writing new ones to fill in some gaps. At that time I had no thought of doing anything more.

Within a few days after the first article appeared, "fan" mail began to come in from many places. These cheering letters not only commented on my articles but often gave me many new suggestions for future ones. I have kept most of this mail and have some fascinating letters in my file. Twenty-nine states, the District of Columbia, and the Canal Zone are represented. All sorts of people have written me: old-timers whose memories are similar to mine, children who have heard their elders talk about other times and places, antiquarians, school librarians, rural teachers, columnists, and historians. They have been the means of my getting acquainted with many interesting people in all parts of America and also have renewed old acquaintances that I treasure highly.

All of this confession—a bit egotistic, I realize—is to remind the readers that folklore is an interesting subject that hosts of people know something about. Not everybody likes to write about it, but nearly everybody likes to think, or talk, or laugh about our quaint old customs, superstitions, clothing, language. I know of nothing that so warms up a group of otherwise cold and chilly people like a bit of chatter about folklore, whether the people be learned or average.

As time goes on, we are likely to be more inquisitive about our way of doing things. We have heard much lately about the "American way of life." Folklore is a study of just this thing in its most primitive and basic form. "Why do we do like we do?" is a folk way of expressing it. Our lives have been so full of labor, of subduing the wilderness, of adjusting ourselves to a very changeable world that we have had very little time or inclination to look into the foundations of our customs. With a shorter working week, a wider range of literacy, with a growing patriotism that fears for the future of our way of life, we have come nearer and nearer to a serious study of racial and national folkways. The folklorist may come to be regarded as not merely an entertaining old fellow who knew our grandparents but as a person working in the bed rock of our cultural backgrounds. People in other countries, some of whom we look down upon, have realized already that there must be something fine about the numerous customs that make a race distinctive. Little Finland, poor but brave and honest, has delved into its racial backgrounds probably more than any other nation of our time. It believes that whatever shows the beginnings of folkways is permanently interesting.

May I take this opportunity to acknowledge suggestions and encouragement of the numerous people who have written me. Whatever there may be in this column henceforth will depend much on your interest, for because of I have planned many another look into the ways we think and believe and fear and hope.

OFFICIAL ORGAN FOR FLOYD COUNTY, KY.
$1.50 Per Year Payable In Advance

NORMAN ALLEN Editor

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

THE TIMES ENDORSES

1. Immediate completion of the Lev Beaver, Middle Creek and Johns Creek road.
2. Consideration by officials of human needs, not the need for political influence.
3. Completion of all Farm-to-Market roads, by W. P. A. labor if possible, maintenance of these routes by the state rural road fund.
4. A trade-at-home policy followed by merchants and customers alike.
5. Full co-operation with all county and city officials, insisting that lawmakers and enforcement officers themselves obey the law to the letter.
6. Continuance of the Floyd county health department and the county agricultural agent work.

WHEN? . . .

READING across-country the counties included in the section served by the Pikeville office, Kentucky State Employment Service, are Morgan, Magoffin, Martin, Johnson, Floyd and Pike.

Pike county is in the extreme southern end of the section served by this office located in Pikeville. The location serves no unemployed person better because it is in Pikeville, except those who live in Pike county and the upper sections of Floyd.

Then will somebody gently slip the news to us, telling us why the office should not be moved elsewhere, since the trip to Pikeville and return is sixty miles longer for any applicant residing in any locality below Prestonsburg than if the Unemployment Service were located here?

The cost of transportation to an unemployed man or woman over a distance of sixty miles is more than a minor item. Try being "broke" and without work and see for yourself how "un-minor" the item really is.

There has been a lot of talk about correcting this unfair geographical location of an office intended to serve everybody needing its services in these six counties, regardless of politics. But nothing, to date, has been done.

Prestonsburg, logical location of the office, is ready to serve. When will those who need to nurse their scanty savings be rightly served?

WILLKIE—A MAN

THE 1940 Presidential campaign was bitter as two forceful personalities duelled down the stretch, as the Third Term fetish was flaunted in the face of the country, as widely divergent schools of thought or economic policies predicted ruin if this or that candidate was elected.

Franklin D. Roosevelt won the election for an unprecedented Third Term, was inaugurated Jan. 20 in an unprecedented early inaugural.

Wendell Willkie, the Republican candidate, meanwhile prepared for a trip to Europe to study at firsthand conditions there.

As President Roosevelt entered upon his third four-year tenure of the country's Chief Magistracy, there were certain prominent Americans who still saw, or pretended to see, the Dictator bogey-man in FDR. Some of these, as a result, oppose the Aid-to-Britain bill. They trust not Britain, the United States of America or the President of this country, hinting meanwhile, that the Chief Executive will stoop to the low level of a ward-heeler by giving away America's defenses and man-power and liberties in order to satisfy his own ambitions.

The question is, Why should any of these isolationists entertain the notion that Franklin D. Roosevelt is interested in giving away America to any foreign country—why should he, as an American and a humanitarian, want to surrender our rights any more than does any other American of ordinary intelligence, ability and responsibility? What gratification of ambition would thereby accrue?

Wendell Willkie, FDR's opponent in the last election, is not unduly alarmed about his victorious opponent gaining "too much power." He is not worried about a "dictator for America" as he mulls over his defeat.

Instead of engaging in all these "little" maneuvers of little politicians who are merely "against sump'n" without knowing what they truly endorse, Mr. Willkie says, in effect: "Roosevelt is my President as well as yours. He is for the preservation of the Democracies by aiding Britain in its death-struggle with the dictatorships. I am committed to the same cause. Maybe some changes should be made in H.B. 1776, maybe not. Anyhow, I am not welching on my stand during that election last fall. I say, as did President Roosevelt, the champ whom I sought to defeat, that this nation's hope lies in the survival of Democracy's last European stronghold—England's islands and the British Empire."

So Wendell Willkie gains stature apace with Franklin D. Roosevelt.

So two men fight it out and, in the end, fight alongside each other. One won, the other lost and now they both prove themselves greater than any factional fracas.

A GRATIFYING APPOINTMENT

FLOYD COUNTY'S SPORTSMEN, to a man, are pleased with Governor Johnson's appointment of S. A. (Steve) Wakefield, a native Kentuckian, to the post of director of the Division of Game and Fish.

While they appreciated the capabilities of Major Brown, who was brought from Maine to this state to lead Kentucky back into its own as a region abounding in wild life, they are fully convinced that Mr. Wakefield, a home product, is just as capable.

And the orders under which Steve Wakefield is working are yet more gratifying. Said Governor Johnson, in effect, when the appointment was made: "Your job is to do this work as the real sportsmen of Kentucky want it, regardless of politics."

That's what Kentucky sportsmen want—a Kentuckian working in their behalf, free of the shackles of partisan politics.

"IN OLD KENTUCKY" . . .

IF the Democratic party in Kentucky believes in practicing the doctrine to which the party is traditionally dedicated—to the principle of representative government, of government not for the benefit of the favored few at the expense of an unfavorable majority—it will at the next session of the General Assembly redistrict Kentucky as to its Senators and Representatives.

It is the Democratic party's job to do this, since it has a preponderant majority in both Houses.

It has a duty as a party to redistrict since the present arrangement of counties into districts leaves, on the basis of the 1940 census, approximately 374,000 of the state's total population of 2,845,600 without representation.

The redistricting job, due each ten years, is the General Assembly's task at its next session. What will the party in power do about it?

At present, Meade county with only 8,827 population has one Representative, while Floyd county with 52,986 population also has only one Representative.

One Senator represents the Floyd-Pike-Knott Senatorial district which has a population of 144,115. One Senator represents the Thirtieth district (Bracken, Harrison, Nicholas and Robertson) with a population of only 36,549, around one-fourth the population of this Eastern Kentucky section.

(The disparity is as great, or is greater, between other districts; but the Floyd-Pike-Knott district is cited as a case in point, here at home.)

Each Senator should represent approximately 74,885 persons; each Representative, 28,456.

To realize that, under the present set-up, the term, "representative government," is a rank misnomer, one has only to study the figures.

Take the Senatorial divisions, for instance. In Eastern Kentucky, seven districts are above the standard set; only three are below. In 12 districts composed of counties extending from Louisville westward to the Mississippi, only one is above the standard. The same situation prevails in Central Kentucky.

The ludicrousness of the whole matter can be carried on indefinitely on paper. But why? What the people of Kentucky should do is, demand of the Democratic party, the party that can do it, to put an end to such "carryings-on."

Drift Wins 'Rubber' Game, 45- to 30, Over Wheelwright

The independent basketball fires from Drift and Wheelwright opened the pre-tournament high school tournament at Wayland Thursday night by staging a ding-dong battle in which the Turner-Elkhorn five emerged the victor by the score of 45-30. The win gave the Turner-Elkhorn boys, coached by M. K. Reed, a two to one lead in games played with the Steelers.

Wheelwright held a 10-9 advantage at the quarter and Turner led at the half, 23-16, and increased this to 33-23 at the third quarter post. With Akers and Myers getting "hot" in the final quarter, the Turner boys won, going away.

Frankie Knoll, Cordell and Logan were best for Wheelwright, while Jimmy Vance, the Akerses, Stumbos and Ken Myers were "on" for the Turner-Elkhorn boys.

The line-up:
Drift (45) Pos. W'wright (30)
C. Akers (5) . . . F. Reed
G. Akers (8) . . . F. Litafik (7)
C. Stumbo (8) . . . C. Knoll (8)
Vance (10) . . . G. Logan (8)

Carter Announces Low-Priced Buick

Returning from a business session of the Buick zone in Cincinnati, A. C. Carter, of the Carter Motor Sales, announced this week that this division of General Motors Corporation will shortly introduce four new automobiles in a lower price bracket as an addition to the present series 40 Special Buick line.

Mr. Carter said he inspected the new cars at the zone meeting and heard factory and zone officials outline aggressive sales plans for the next 60 days covering the announcement of these new models and the early spring campaign on these and Buick's six other lines.

"While details of the new cars will not be available until next week, I can say that they are the answer to the demand of a mighty big cross section of the country for a Buick built in a more compact size with all the big car engineering and design qualities that characterize the larger Buick cars" he added.

"They have a shorter wheelbase and shorter over all length and new bodies, but are otherwise identical with the Series 40 Buicks. That's why they are being introduced as an addition to the Series 40 line rather than as a new mode."

The new cars will be formally announced February 1, and will be on display at that time, he said.

March 1, Deadline For Purchase of Quail

Frankfort, Ky, Jan. 27 (Spl.)—S. A. Wakefield, director of the Division of Game and Fish, stated today that March 1 has been established as the deadline for game and fish clubs to meet in sending in their money for private orders on Bob White quail. Many of the clubs have sent in requests to the Division offices for quail, which are to be paid for by the clubs.

Wakefield said he planned to buy the best birds available and believes they will cost $1.25 each, delivered in Kentucky. A number of the clubs are purchasing the birds to supplement their regular quota from the Division of Game and Fish.

WHAT NATION'S PURCHASES FOR DEFENSE WILL MEAN TO BUYERS OF HARDWARE

By JAMES MORELL, JR.,
Mgr., Morell Supply Company

Daily discussions with our customers definitely disclose that the widespread absorption of Commercial Production capacity for defense needs is NOT REALIZED.

Many consumers and salesmen do not see daily business papers and government bulletins, which give this information; others do not take the time to read, and still others do not realize what effect these developments can and will have on their industry and their own business enterprises.

This statement is to give you buyers of hardware a partial but real picture of the situation.

On Jan. 21, for instance, bids were opened on 41 items which cost around half a million dollars. Delivery of all must be completed by March 31.

When those orders from the United States Government for shipment to U. S. forts, go into factories that make hardware items for us and other dealers, you KNOW which orders will get preference.

If the factories would not voluntarily put those Government orders ahead of commercial orders, the Government would issue PRIORITY ORDERS that would compel preference.

As further examples of how the defense orders are affecting our sources of supply and availability of our goods, I shall, at the end of this article, list a few of the thousands of contracts placed recently.

Next week, I shall list in The Floyd County Times other recent awards, solely to give you names of factories, or names of articles you as hardware purchasers know. Also to show that commercial producers of every kind are being called on to make munitions and all kinds of military and naval requirements.

It would require FIFTY typewritten pages to list all the contracts awarded in which iron, steel brass, etc., will be used.

In addition to the meager list of finished article contract I have, during the last few weeks there was announcement of awards at Washington of TWO HUNDRED SEVENTEEN THOUSAND (217,000) T-O-N-S of steel, and SEVENTEEN THOUSAND (17,000) T-O-N-S of pipe for construction purposes.

The annual steel ingot capacity of the country is estimated now to be 83,000,000 tons. Normal needs consume 60,000,000 tons, and British orders are estimated at 18,000,000 tons—which leaves only 5,000,000 tons for our own preparedness program.

These daily steel orders being placed for construction purposes only, consume the daily production of the 5,000,000 tons mentioned as available for defense purposes and then there is still the demand for all the steel for shells, guns, and thousands of other army and navy requirements.

You know the defense orders will have preference; that means the quantities normally considered available for commercial needs will be cut as much as is necessary. I know that all the figures I am giving you are almost unbelievable, but they are REAL.

The probability of SHORTAGES of goods is UNBELIEVABLE to many customers, but before long that situation will be VERY real to them.

We assure you that we will not impulsively or selfishly advance our prices but it is evident that the time is coming when higher prices will prevail.

Below, I list the items called for on one bid on one day only—Jan. 21—to give you an idea of the great drain on the hardware output of the nation and a true conception of what all this, multiplied a thousand-fold by other National Defense needs, will mean to hardware buyers in the future:

OFFICIALS IN COURT FIGHT

AT ODDS OVER PAYMENT OF WARRANTS

Hazard, Ky., Jan. 25—Circuit Judge Roy Helm today tentatively prohibited Perry County Judge Billie Baker from trying County Treasurer C. V. Cooper for contempt of court for refusing to pay certain warrants out of county funds.

Judge Helm's order was asked by Cooper, who alleged that a $229.11 warrant was issued to a store for merchandise "transferred from Billie Baker's personal account," that payment would be illegal, and that Baker was prejudiced against him.

The circuit judge issued his writ of prohibition on a "temporary" basis, declaring he wanted time to study the contentions and "get to the bottom of this."

Baker had ordered Cooper to appear in county court next Monday for trial on a contempt charge.

Cooper alleged that the 229.11 warrant was made to Major's Department Store for shoes, underwear, stockings, pajamas, etc. transferred from Billie Baker's personal account for ladies' shoes, hose, etc., and pants, shirts, socks, etc., for one Edward Finley."

PEAKS FOR CLUBWOMEN

In reading your most interesting discussion on comment made about the mountain people and the resentment of same, I noticed in some later issue where one of our clubwomen had taken issue with what the paper had said about conditions of some unpleasant circumstances which I am unable to remember the exact words or nature. Anyway, some mother had died because she had got up to work and take care of her infant who was only a few hours old, and, as stated, her mother lived in a town of a good, organized Woman's Club.

As a club member of not Prestonsburg but of another club of Floyd County, I want to say this much: I had this family come to a member of the Club of Prestonsburg and told them the condition they were in and they needed help for this mother, believe they would have responded one hundred percent. But how were they to know this condition existed? It is happening every day—conditions like this happen in any and all communities. But look at the many who are helped just because their condition is known. I wonder if some of our men are responsible if a house burns next door or on the same block. I wonder if you would not have extinguished the first little blaze, even in the home of an enemy (if you have one) if it could only have been known in time. It is easier to enumerate the things a Woman's Club does not do than to enumerate the things they do.

Yes, about that dog that was head on Third street from falling one of those chasms—well, it is a good thing it did kill the dog. You just wait until one is just injured—and then watch what a suit the town of Prestonsburg has against it. And that makes me think—

I would call at your office more—maybe have some work done that I need at times; but, oh, those chasms! Well, it's an ill wind that blows nobody good—you are not bothered with not having too many of us call, just to get our names in the paper.

A CLUBWOMAN

SCHOOL OF GENTLEMEN

Pippapass, Ky.,
January 22, 1941

Editor, The Times:

This is a bit of news from Caney College. There are about 200 boys and girls in school, the majority being boys.

This school can be classed as a "School of Gentlemen," for the boys are very gentlemanly, this due to the good teachers we have, also the good administration that sponsors this school.

The majority of the students are from Floyd county. We might be trying to follow in the footsteps of Mr. Town Hall or other distinguished men who have graduated from this school. It seems that all of Floyd county's business and educational men at one time attended this school so we Caney are striving for higher goals, to give our present school sponsor credit in Floyd county.

In the last two days two of the faculty houses caught fire, but the damage was slight. We have a well-organized fire fighting system, so a fire cannot survive on Caney, with our "Bucket Brigade" in action.

January 31 ends our first semester. Most of us are glad to see that time roll around; but, realizing that we are losing some of our friends, it makes us sad. But we know they are going on to school, probably to the University of Kentucky or elsewhere. We sincerely think these boys who graduate will go ahead in life and make good.

Left Beaver has turned out its share of students for Caney this year, namely: Eugene Holcomb, Melvin; Haskell Hall, Weeksbury; Mildred Childers, Wheelwright; Adrian Hall, McDowell; Frank Schuffelbarger, McDowell; James Stumbo, Printer; Audry Stumbo, Printer; Marie Jones, McDowell; Oliver Allen, McDowell. We Left Beaver "hill-billies" are going places. If you don't believe it, just stand back and watch us go!

Let's not forget Dr. Quigley. He is a genius and we believe he is the best educated man we have on Caney. Dr. Quigley has just completed a book on Education and he is working on an English book which he will finish very soon. These books are results of clear thinking, of which Dr. Quigley is guilty.

We boys class ourselves as "Caney Boys," since we are a part of where we are and what we do. What one boy has on Caney, the other boys share with him. All the way around, Caney boys are gentlemen wherever they go.

We don't know much about the girls, since we don't associate with them very much.

"FIRING LINE EDITOR"

CORRECTION

Editor, The Times:

I saw printed in The Floyd County Times that the charter of McDowell had been dissolved. I have had the record searched.

I have failed to find the cause of this being printed. We still have a Town Board and a Tax Collector. My husband, Levi Hall, Chief of Police of McDowell, was murdered Aug 22, 1937. Since that time I have been chosen, appointed and approved by the Lord to watch and give this town a righteous judgment.

I ask all the praying people to pray for murder to stop and faith to improve.

Sincerely,
EVA MEADE HALL.

SHIKE'S POKES

(Views expressed in this column are those of the writer and not necessarily those of The Times.)

Willie B. had better stay on the day shift for he can't stand the night shift. He came in the other morning—went out to milk and he stayed so long that his wife went to see about him; found him sitting on the milking stool holding the cow's teats—sound asleep!

"Peanut" really "scooped" us Saturday—he was completely covered by the Cincinnati Post. Yep, Clyde's brakeman looked like he was after his "last trip."

Aside to our Commissioner of Agriculture: Thanks, Bill—a friend in need is a friend INDEED.

Welcome, Bill Adams, with your Game and Fish column. More power to you.

We have another report on the Tonkyng Mule—it has been reported that "Cud" was trying to swap it to Earl and Hook for game roosters.

Poor, ole Lindbergh is to be pitied. He used to be a hero to millions of Americans—now he is a "heel" to them.

Senator Wheeler should get a medal for dumbness for wanting to know Britain's war aims. If Senator Wheeler were walking down a dark street and suddenly seized from behind and was being beaten up—what would be the Senator's aims? His aims would be the same as Britain's—whip h— out of the thug; or, falling in that, call for aid. He'd certainly be in a bad fix if his friends should want to know his aims—in case they decided to help. Britain has a "Thug" at her throat and is putting up a whale of a battle while calling for us to send something to put the "Thug" out of business with—and we are just plain d—fools if we don't send aid.

Roy is worried that the "Chub" Elkhorn and the Hub Elkhorn are going to get their scrip mixed up.

Blue Eyes is still waiting for that county order for keeping the Stephens Branch road repaired this winter.

Well, well! I see by the political announcements in the FLOYD COUNTY TIMES that some fellows were talking through their hats during the 1940 Presidential campaign. Some of the fellows who have announced for office declared that, if FDR was re-elected for a third term free elections would be done away with. To date, no candidate has promised to build the Left Beaver highway—that used to be the first promise.

There will be another "Bird" besides the rooster on the ballots this year.

The better half sure has to stay at home unless I go along. She can't carry the "Twin Shikepokes." She remarked that she had heard of being water-bound and snow-bound, etc.—but she was "Twin Bound."

Congratulations to the Garrett high school and Coach Billy Mayo. His teams are always best when the "blue chips are down." Bill, you certainly deserve a big hand for bringing your "dark horse" under the wire first.

The regular tournament this year promises to be the "best ever." It's just anybody's tournament—it would be hard to pick a favorite. But I can say that I think Coach Willey Jones' Wayland boys are the shootin'-est high school team I ever saw. In the game that I saw them play they must have made over 80 percent of their shots good.

They had better furnish Denver A. a blue print of any improvements on Stephens Branch before he goes up there again. He stayed away about

KIDNEY STAGNATION IS WORSE THAN CONSTIPATION!

Because We Treat Constipation at The Onset, While We Neglect Our Kidneys Indefinitely

No other organ in your body is of more importance than your kidneys. For in your kidneys there are nine million tubes which must work day and night to filter the fluids and keep the system free from wastes, acids, poisons which, if permitted to remain, may cause serious kidney and bladder troubles.

It is no wonder then that Nature often calls for help to clean out the kidneys. So if you are troubled with Getting-Up-Nights, Leg Pains, Backache, Nervous Headache, Dizziness or Loss of Energy, due to functional kidney disorders, try KIDANS, the famous kidney remedy, which aids Nature to flush out the kidneys, to filter all wastes, to prevent kidney stagnation.

KIDANS is Safe and Reliable. Thousands report entire satisfaction. Taken according to directions, KIDANS will give splendid results. Try KIDANS. Buy it at our Special Price Offer on two boxes. Use one box. If not satisfied, return unopened box and GET YOUR MONEY BACK.

If your local druggist cannot supply you, send $1.00 to The Kidans Company, Atlanta, Georgia, for two full-size boxes on a money-back guarantee.

two weeks and when he drove up there he tore down a new fence and a couple of new porches.

Some one reported that "Hedge" had gone into the hosiery business.

The new mine at Stumbo Hollow will soon be ready for operation.

Nine-tenths of the people on Left Beaver Creek are in favor of "All-out" aid to Great Britain.

Willkie is taking an air-line trip—but he couldn't get the Elephant to ride with him. The Elephant got mad because he endorsed FDR's foreign policy.

Cooperatives Save On Limestone Cost

By pooling their orders through cooperative organizations, farmers in several Kentucky counties report savings last year in the purchase of agricultural limestone.

In Livingston county, a cooperative association leased a quarry and furnished limestone at a saving estimated at nearly $10,000. Savings were reported in other counties as follows: Johnson, $4,658; Magoffin, $8,710; Perry, $3,600; Knox, $628; Leslie, $50; Knott, $145 a ton, and Letcher 25 cents a ton.

Most of the cooperative associations were formed by the joint efforts of farmers, the county agricultural agent, and the Department of Markets and Rural Finance of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, with the Farm Security Administration giving financial assistance.

MAYBE ONE WAS RE-FRAMED

Of course, T-W wouldn't know, but it would seem that Dr. Clark, associate professor of history at the University of Kentucky, has made a slight error in his question-and-answer department (See this week's TIMES). His answer to the question asking how many Constitutions Kentucky has had is FOUR. Then he proceeds to name five dates on which the four were framed.

"GALS VS. TREES" is the title of this poem by Mildred Hunter, of Kansas City:

I think that I shall never see
A girl refuse a meal that's free,
A girl whose hungry eyes are fixed
Upon a cake that's being mixed.
A gal who doesn't always wear
A screwy hat upon her hair;
But gals are loved by guys like me,
'Cause, gosh, who wants to kiss a tree?

OUR CHANCE

Those of you who object to the "unfavorable" publicity this section get in certain newspapers and magazine have a chance to help us show the better side of this section. We have been asked to "do a piece," with pictures, for the Kentucky state magazine, and would like to have several good, clear photographs of building places, things and people to prove that we do not all "pack" a gun or so do not live in huts and start a feud every time we lose interest in the current issue of Barker's almanac.

Many Boyle county farmers are starting farm accounts, in an effort to shave expenses.
