This isn't an economic axiom, but the fact remains that discovery of a means of producing a cheap H-bomb will also make human life cheaper.

A ham actor in a lousy play may have been the first person to discover which came first, the chicken or the egg.

If fathers have a Day as nice as most mothers did, they will cook three meals, wash dishes, sweep floors and pick up their socks in one room and their shoes in another.

THE YOUNGSTERS' VERSION

"My Pop's Tops" is a favorite contest around this time of year, and out of such a contest The Milwaukee Sentinel got some gems recently. Here are some of the entries from Milwaukee children, with the spelling unedited:

"He lets me take acoridine lessons. He lets me practice outside. When I practice outside he goes inside. He can tell better from a distance."

"He don't spoil me. He spoils my sister though. Wow is she rotten."

"He can fix the wachamachine. The dam thing is all the time bust."

"Pop always finds time to read the comic book to my little brother Jackie. Why even if Jackie goes to sleep ahead of time my pop reads the comic book to him. What I think is my Pop likes to read comic books."

"Every child should love their father, because if it was not for their father where would they be? Nowhere, that's where they'd be. If it was not for fathers you wouldn't see hardly no children around Milwaukee."

"I know more about it than most kids when I say my pop is tops. Other kids have their first father but we're on our third one already."

"My Pop never talks back to my Mom. But when she gets after him to mow the lawn Pop will say that he is sick and needs to lay down and he does. Could any son have a greater Pop than this?"

TOPMOST MEN DIE IN WRECK

Father of One Victim Succumbs; Skid Blamed For Ohio Deaths of Two

En route to Topmost to visit his father who was dying of cancer, Levi Hall, 34, and his cousin, Lemon Hall, 49, were killed last Friday night when their auto skidded 500 feet on wet pavement near Cranville, O., and wrapped itself almost double around a tree.

Levi Hall was buried Tuesday, and that night his father, 66-year-old Johnny B. Hall, died.

The auto wreck victims had been employed in Ohio.

The father, a lifelong resident of the Topmost section, was a member of the Regular Baptist Church. His survivors include his widow, Mrs. Millie Hall, three sons and two daughters, David Hall, Lexington, Raymond and Johnny B. Hall, Jr., both of Topmost, Mrs. Mary Newman, of McDowell, and Mrs. Holly Martin, Cincinnati. One brother, Austin Hall, of Topmost, also survive.

Burial of Lemon Hall was made Monday. Names of his survivors are unavailable.

The Hindman Funeral Home was in charge of the three funerals.

County Board Hires 300 for '55-'56 Term

TEACHER LIST GAPS REMAIN TO BE FILLED

Board Changes Name Of New School Here As Temporary Move

The Floyd County Board of Education at a special meeting Saturday employed 300 teachers—215 for the 19 consolidated schools of the county and 85 for the rural schools.

All teaching posts in the larger schools but four or five at Wheelwright were filled, but all rural teachers were not hired. Only certified teachers were employed at Saturday's meeting, leaving a number in the emergency classification yet to be named.

Another action of the Board was to rescind a previous order naming the new high school here Prestonsburg High School and temporarily naming it the Floyd County High School. The Board stated in its order that the new name is intended only as a temporary arrangement "to prevent confusion and a mixup in mail deliveries and bill payments."

County Superintendent V. O. Turner said Mark Gordon, of the State Department of Education, pointed out the necessity of changing the name temporarily. He added that when complete merger of the Prestonsburg independent school system with the county system is effected the school will be named the Prestonsburg High School.

The Board at the meeting also named the teachers for the new school here, with few changes made in the faculty. Otis D. Spurlock, of Allen, present director of instruction with the county system, was employed as principal, and two grade school teachers were named to conduct classes of county students in the old high school building.

Consolidated School Teachers Hired

LEGION VOTES BUILDING JOB

Committees Selected To Carry Out Moves For Community Bldg.

Continuing with its plans to build here a Community Building, Floyd Post, American Legion, met Friday evening at the courthouse and cast its definite vote for such an undertaking.

At the same time Post Commander Mike H. Blevins named building and finance committees to get the project under way. It was explained that the structure being studied would house not only the Post but also a public library. "We want to help build for the boys and girls a better Prestonsburg," Mr. Blevins said. It is proposed to build on the lot the Post already owns on Lake Drive here.

Because of the public library feature, the Post will seek help outside its own membership, both in planning and financing the job. Mr. Blevins himself will head the building committee. Other members are Tom James, W. J. Sloan, Scott C. Craft; Carl H. Corbin and Homer Salisbury as engineers, David B. Leslie, secretary, and Luttrell Laven, assistant secretary.

The building committee is headed by Dr. George P. Archer. Other members are R. V. May, Marshall Davidson, Joe Hobson, Dr. Edward B. Leslie, Homer Wright, Jr.

Named to the publicity committee were Rex Osborn and Norman Allen.

Open meetings are being planned by the Post, so that all persons interested in a building such as is planned, with a library as an outstanding feature, may attend and join in the work of planning and financing the project.

Floyd Road Contract, Awarded For $12,028, Goes To Johnson Firm

Contract for construction on the Wheelwright Junction-Wheelwright road has been awarded the Adams Construction Corporation, of Paintsville, according to announcement by Mitchell W. Tinder, Commissioner of Highways.

The company submitted a low bid of $12,028.20. The contract calls for bituminous surface on the Wheelwright Junction-Wheelwright Road from one mile within the city limits of Wheelwright to the northern city limits of Wheelwright, one mile and on the Wheelwright Junction-22 at Wheelwright Junction to the northern limits of Wheelwright .43 mile.

PERKINS URGES AREA AS SITE

For Plants As Talbott Talks Dispersal; Region Is Described As 'Ideal'

Shortly after Secretary of the Air Force Talbott, recently announced a plan for the dispersal of production plants for defense purposes, and for guided missiles in particular, Congressman Carl D. Perkins pointed out to Talbott that the Eastern Kentucky area "appears to be ideal" for such a plant.

Stressing the security factor in an Eastern Kentucky location, Perkins also pointed out that this section has serious unemployment problems, with thousands of experienced industrial workers anxious for employment. As of May 14, there were 42,000 such workers in this area who are out of jobs, the Congressman said.

In reply Mr. Talbott wrote:

"I refer to your recommendation for the State of Kentucky to be considered as a possible location for new industrial facilities.

The most effective way for any private concern or local area to assure that its facilities will receive full consideration for use in new military production programs is to furnish detailed information to the military agencies concerned. I suggest, accordingly, insofar as the Air Force is concerned, that those communities and cities furnish information as to the industrial sites available in their areas to the Industrial Preparedness Branch, Industrial Resources Division, Headquarters, Air Materiel Command, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio. That organization's responsibilities include liaison with Air Force contractors who may require new facilities to assure that the contractors will have the advantage in selecting sites, of whatever information the Air Force may have available on particular sites.

"It was not the intention of the Department of the Air Force to imply that there will be large scale removal of existing production facilities in concentrated areas. It is our desire that when new industrial facilities are needed, they be located away from areas of concentration."

The suits were removed to federal court on motion of the defendant company. Swinford ordered the cases continued until the December term of the court.

Kentucky Election Lineup Is Set for State Offices

The political line-up was all complete this week with the exception of those races which involve only one county or a division of a county. In counties such as Floyd the deadline for filing for State Representative is June 22, the County Clerk's office here said.

The date for filing for State Senator ended June 12, the deadline for filing for state office, since more than one county is in this district. Senator Doug Hays, of McDowell, is opposed for the Democratic nomination by E. M. Moore, of Mousie.

The complete list of candidates for state office follows:

Governor:
Democrats—A. B. Chandler, Versailles; N. R. Cecil, Louisville; Bert T. Combs, Prestonsburg.

Republicans—James L. Clay, Lexington; James R. Shaw, Richmond; Edwin R. Denny, Mount Vernon and Lexington.

Lieutenant Governor:
Democrats—Harry Lee Waterfield, Clinton; J. D. "Jiggs"

BUDGET PLANS TWO SERVICES

Home Demonstration Agent's Employment Agreed On By Court

If the county budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 is approved by D. M. Magill, state local finance officer, Floyd county will shortly have the services of a home demonstration agent and also will see active work toward control of dogs.

The fiscal court at its meeting Tuesday discussed the various features of the budget which is now nearing completion, and agreement was reached by the court to include funds for both services. The budget provides for $820 a year for travel and office expense of a home demonstration agent. Her salary will be paid by state and federal funds. Only Magistrate Ellis Martin voted against budgeting the funds necessary for the agent's employment.

Action of the court to make possible this service followed the filing of petitions by Woman's Clubs of the county urging the employment of a home demonstration agent.

The budget also includes an appropriation of $1,500 a year as remuneration for the dog warden, Roy Cook, of Drift, who was named for this work, has assured the court he will "do a good job" if his pay is sufficient to justify fulltime attention to the work. The amount earmarked would supplement his pay then and if he fails by the sale of licenses to earn a reasonable salary.

The court at its Tuesday meeting leased from Mr. Cook for $100 a year the dog pound he already has constructed at Drift. State law requires such a pound to be made available by each county by July 1, this year. Unlicensed stray dogs will be a special object of the dog warden's attention, it was said.

The court entered an order ac-

JUDGE BALKS AT DISMISSAL

Of Slander Action Filed By Boyd County Officials Versus Station WSAZ-TV

Federal Judge Mac Swinford ruled in U. S. District Court at Catlettsburg this week against the dismissal of two slander suits, one of which was filed by a Floyd county native, against WSAZ, Inc., Huntington, W. Va.

WSAZ, operators of a radio and television station, had asked for dismissal on grounds that the court did not have jurisdiction. Swinford ruled that WSAZ does business in Kentucky.

The suits were brought against WSAZ originally in Boyd circuit court April 19 by Boyd County Attorney Calvin Gearheart and Circuit Court Clerk Gerald Lyons. Gearheart is a son of Fred Gearheart, formerly of the Right Beaver Creek section of this county. They asked $25,000 judgments, claiming that WSAZ broadcast and telecast untrue statements about them in a series of programs about alleged vice conditions in Boyd county.

The suits were removed to federal court on motion of the defendant company. Swinford ordered the cases continued until the December term of the court.

Tinder Reviews Highway Work In Floyd County Since 1948

Body of Sgt. Rush Crum Is Returned for Burial; Was Korean War Victim

The body of Sgt. Rush F. Crum, of Banner, who was killed at the age of 21 in Korea, February 5, 1951, is being returned for burial, it was stated by relatives this week. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Crum.

Surviving Sgt. Crum, besides his parents, are two sisters; Mrs. Ruby Prater, of Mansfield, O., and Miss Opal Crum, at home.

Sgt. Crum will be buried in the Camp Nelson National cemetery at Nicholasville, Ky., June 22, and the last rites will be at 11 a.m. Rev. Isaac Stratton and Carl Layne will officiate.

COURT HEARS CASES ARGUED

Meredith Avers Courts Dominated by Politics; Expect Decision, June 24

A special seven-man Court of Appeals failed Tuesday to reach a decision on the guilt or innocence of Commonwealth's Attorney Burnis Martin, of Prestonsburg, and Jesse K. Lewis, Lexington attorney, after three hours of deliberation which followed lawyers' arguments made before the court earlier in the day. The court recessed till 1 p.m., June 24.

The Floyd county official and Lewis are charged with making public statements which, in effect, accused Appellate Judge Porter Sims, when he was chief justice of the high court and Judge Lawrence S. Grauman, of Louisville, of entering into a political conspiracy to decide in a certain way suits filed by the Floyd County Good Government Tax League against Floyd officials. Martin's statement appeared in a newspaper advertisement; Lewis' in the filing of an affidavit seeking Grauman's removal from the hearing. The State Board of Bar Commissioners has recommended that both Martin and Lewis be suspended from law practice for six months.

Former Attorney General Hubert Meredith, representing Martin and Lewis, declared that "politics are running the courts of Kentucky," adding "We have come to a pretty pass in this country when the highest court—in order to serve a group of politicians—will swap judges so they can get the kind of decision they want."

Judge Grauman replaced Lawrence Speckman as special judge after the trial of some of the Tax League cases, and Grauman's ruling in some of the remaining cases were opposite to those previously handed by Speckman. Meredith contended that:

1. The change in judges was effected after two defendants in the taxpayers' suits had called on Judge Bert T. Combs, who then talked with Judge James W. Cammack, who in turn suggested that Grauman replace Speckman.

2. That Martin failed to make a complete defense before the Bar Commissioners after he had

Taxpayers League Files Notice of Three Appeals; Speckman Expected Today

The Good Government Taxpayers League filed notice of appeal with the Court of Appeals last week in the three cases of the Taxpayer's League against Former Sheriff Troy Sturgill and Banner Meade and County Clerk DuRan Moore. The three separate cases were dismissed in late 1953 by Special Judge Lawrence W. Grauman, of Louisville. The Taxpayers League filed bond at the time on the appeals but did not further prosecute the appeals until last week.

It was said by attorneys that Judge Lawrence Speckman, of Louisville, who was designated to try the Taxpayers League case against Former County Attorney Woodrow Burchett will be here today (Thursday). Speckman several weeks ago rendered an opinion in the Burchett case but judgment has not been entered. He also has two other Floyd cases in which opinions are expected.

56-Year-Old Woman Accuses Her Neighbor; No Defense Is Offered

A 56-year-old woman, crippled and drawn by arthritis, alleged in a preliminary hearing held before County Judge Henry Stumbo last Saturday that Enoch Spears, a neighbor, broke into her home on Johns Creek, the night of June 7, and raped her.

The complaining witness, Miss Jettie Wells, sat rigid, her face apparently drawn with pain, as she looked straight at the man she accused and told the story of the man's attentions which, she said, began last winter, "between Christmas and New Year's."

This is the story she told: She had known him 10 years, said that he was a married man with four children, and that he lived near her on Johns Creek. He came to her home Dec. 28, last year, in the nighttime, opened a window, got into her bedroom. She was awakened by his voice and as she had a flashlight under her pillow, she threw the beam in his face. She ordered him out and he left. After that she kept her door nailed.

On May 21 he came again, she alleged. She is certain of the time "for she put both dates down on a piece of paper. On the May visit he failed to break in the house. He stood at her bedroom window and talked through a broken pane after waking her up. She ordered him away again.

The final visit to her house he succeeded in entering by breaking through a window where a pane was out, pushed open the nailed door, entered her bedroom and awakened her when he put his hands on her. He spoke. "I knew who it was," she said. She screamed. "Get out of my house, get out of here." She added that he was holding her while she lay on the side of the bed. He raped her, she said, between 11 and 12 o'clock. Miss Wells stated she could not smell whiskey on her attacker.

The next morning she went to Auxier postoffice and returned without telling about the attack.

Lake Figures For First Five Months Hint At Record Number Of Visitors

Dewey Lake visiting is on its way to a new record, figures for the first five months of the year indicate, said J. R. "Red" Weaver, reservoir manager, this week.

As of June 5, 189,215 persons had visited the lake this year, although weather conditions held the number down during January, February and March to only 4,500. This total was 71,000 above that of last year for the same five-month period.

The 532,805 persons who visited Dewey last year was the greatest number attracted by the impoundment.

Camping and swimming have been curtailed considerably by cool weather this year, but the number of fishermen is greater than ever. In fact, fishing at Dewey Lake has been as good as, or perhaps better than, in any of the state's big impoundments.

Fire Damage Is $7,000 When Smiley Home Burns

An estimated loss of $7,000 resulted from the fire which Saturday afternoon swept the second floor of the V. A. Smiley home on North Highland avenue here.

The blaze started from defective wiring, and was discovered by a neighbor. The fire department prevented a total loss of the building and succeeded in keeping the blaze from spreading.

Mrs. Smiley and all the smaller children of the large family were visiting her mother, Mrs. Cordelia Whittaker, here at the time of the fire, and this circumstance may have prevented loss of life. The entire second floor of the residence was ruined along with household belongings and clothing. First-floor damage resulted mainly from water and smoke.

The loss was partially covered by insurance.

William Alton Woods, II, of Cow Creek, has established a record of five consecutive years of perfect attendance in school. His first year attendance was broken by sickness. He is a sixth grader in the Allen school and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Woods, of Cow Creek.

AUTOS SPARK BUSINESS RISE

New York Report Credits Better Floyd-co. Business To $6,076,000 Car Sales

Special To The Times

NEW YORK, June 11 — Business is on the upgrade in Floyd county and, as in most parts of the nation, the automobile is sparking the rise. Residents of Floyd county are spending at the rate of $9,706,000 a year for automotive equipment and supplies. Of the total, service stations are garnering $1,422,000 per year.

These figures are revealed by Consumer Markets in its annual survey, just off the press, covering 1954.

The importance of the automobile to the local economy is indicated by the fact that automotive sales account for 29 per cent of the entire retail business of the county, which reached $23,355,000 last year.

Elsewhere in the United States, automotive sales were lower, at

God's in His Heaven . . .

And All Will Be Right
At Pippa Passes Soon

The postoffice that serves famed Caney Junior College and surrounding territory will on July 1 bear the name that was intended for it from the first—Pippa Passes, Ky.—instead of the present Pippapass.

Congressman Carl D. Perkins led the battle in Washington to have Pippapass get its rightful intended name of Pippa Passes, after Brown's fanciful classic.

Assistant Postmaster General N. R. Abrams notified Perkins of the change.

Some 40 years ago when Mrs. Alice Lloyd and her mother settled in the Caney Creek section of Knott county, the community was virtually isolated from transportation and education, but the two women found alert, industrious and intelligent individuals thirsting for learning.

They established, almost without resources, a school then known as the Caney Creek Community Center. They were joined by Miss Jane Buchanan and all three gave their lives to developing the school.

Perkins was one of the many students who came from Floyd, Pike, and other nearby counties. As the school developed it was needed for a post office.

Perkins said that the "ladies" obviously adopted as their basic philosophy the text of a Pippa song, "All Service Kinks The Same With God."

"The community also feels that Pippa was right when she continued 'God's in his heaven. All's right with the world,'" Perkins said.

"The Brownings work is a pity in verse. It tells of Pippa, a young girl who had a much learning but believes in God. She passes through various situations and because of his influence, the lives of those she encounters change for the better."

The Robert Brownings Club of America donated the postoffice building to the community and there was at that time little doubt in anybody's mind that it would be named Pippa Passes.

But some character in Washington sent it back as Pippapass.

JOBS TOTAL 38 PROJECTS IN 7½ YEARS

Cost of Work Executed In Floyd Since Jan. 1948 Is Placed At $2,339,301

More than 155 miles of Floyd county highways have been constructed or improved during the last seven and one-half years at a cost $2,339,301.59, it was revealed last week in a report to Governor Wetherby by Highway Commissioner, Mitchell Tinder.

A total of 38 projects have been executed in Floyd county by the Department of Highways since January 1, 1948 until June 1, 1955. Commissioner Tinder's report revealed a total of 16,368 miles of construction and improvements have been made in Kentucky's 120 counties at a cost of $233,422,367.

"The total state highway construction and improvement program during this period is a monumental feat," the Governor said. "The engineers and Highway Department have worked with great skill and energy to compile this record. Much thought and progressive foresight have been devoted to giving Kentucky a well balanced and comprehensive network of roads."

Governor Wetherby added, "I know the thousands of farm families that have lived on mud roads and now enjoy excellent, all-weather roads are keenly conscious of this progress. Travel over our primary highway routes offer impressive proof of major improvement in removing dangerous curves and traffic bottlenecks, as well as improved resurfacing, wider traffic lanes and greater distance between crossings and grade crossings. We are pleased and proud to have a record of the Kentucky State Highway Department during my term as Governor and as a member of the official family, when as Lieutenant Governor during this period of State's greatest era of highway improvement."

"During the period from January 1, 1948 to June 1, 1955, the Department of Highways, after taking competitive bids let to the lowest and best bidder contracts for the greatest volume of work that has ever been undertaken during a comparable period of time," Commissioner Tinder reported.

In addition to letting contracts covering approximately 16,368 miles of grade and drain, bituminous facing and resurfacing, and construction at a cost of approximately $233,422,367.00, the Department not only maintained the 10,579 miles of road under State Maintenance January 1, 1948 but has added 100 miles to the State System of roads for maintenance. Also the Department in its aid to county projects is currently maintaining 12,636 miles of county roads and constructing the counties approximately 100 miles. These figures do not include any part of the Louisville-Elizabeth town Turnpike.

RECORD TOTAL IS ENROLLED

At Pikeville Jr. College; A Total of 44 Students Register From 7 Counties

Pikeville, Ky., June 11 (Spl.) — A five-year record total of 163 students is enrolled for the first five-week term of summer school at Pikeville Junior College.

Included are 44 Floyd countians and others from Pike, Martin, Johnson, Lawrence, Letcher, and Whitley counties, Kentucky. The states of West Virginia and Illinois also are represented in the summer group, largest at Pikeville since 1950's enrollment of 256.

Teachers and those preparing to enter the teaching profession make up 135 of the number, Dr. A. A. Page, college president, announced. They are registered in Pikeville's two year teachers course, working toward the temporary certificate, the first goal of a young teacher.

Work above the two-year, or junior-college, level cannot be given before next fall, when the college will add third-year courses for the first time.

In the group are 31 veterans of military service, representing Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force.

Floyd countians at Pikeville are Helen P. Akers, Paul Frasure, Lucille Newsom, Alva Jean Newsome, and Cosetta Newsome, all of Grethel; Violetta Jean Allen and Louise Howard; Pyramid; Danese Amburgey, Frank G. Grey, Douglas Smith, and Elizabeth L. Thomas, Allen; La Faye Bamer and Phila M. Francis, Garrett; Sally G. Bush, Margaret Compton, Clara Hale, Lydia Roberts, and S. M. Sturgill, all of Har-old.

DRIFT

CLUE PROJECT COMPLETE

The Drift Woman's Club at its June 6 business meeting held at the home of Mrs. Foster Stumbo noted the completion of another of its community projects. This latest project is a road to the Drift cemetery, and the club was given invaluable support by the United Mine Work-ers local in getting this done.

Mrs. H. D. Hewlett, vice-president, presided at the meeting in the ab-sence of the president, Mrs. Lloyd Stumbo, who will be away from Drift for the summer. Miss Ruby Akers was named to the Neighbor-hood committee, succeeding Miss Catherine Reed as head of the Girl Scout work here. Mrs. Alvin Reed and Mrs. H. D. Hewlett attended the General Federation of Woman's Clubs convention in Lexington, and the Drift Club was a One Hundred Percent Club. Mrs. Hewlett report-ed on the convention and noted that henceforth Woman's Club districts will follow highway dis-trict lines instead of those of Con-gressional districts. She also report-ed that a resolution adopted at the convention calls for a clean-up of certain types of comic books read by children.

Miss Ruby Akers, past president of the club, installed Miss Betty Turner as parliamentarian. TB mobile unit volunteer workers from the club at the unit's Wheelwright visit for Wednesday of this week are Mrs. Fred Cochrane, Mrs. H. D. Hewlett, Mrs. Clarence Turner, Mrs. Glenn Ward. Miss Ruby Akers was designated to ascertain if the Youth Center here will be open through the summer months. The club also discussed the need for garbage dis-posal. The club made a contribu-tion to the McDowell Baptist Church in recognition of the fine support given by the Rev. Stanton to the Girl Scouts on Rally Day. Brownie Troop 18, of McDowell, won first prize at the event which was held at Camp Chatterawha. The club also gave transportation for Girl Scouts to day camp which will be held at Wheelwright in August. Miss Ruby Akers, chairman of the Birthday calendar for 1956, has started work on the calendar. At-tending the meeting were:

Mesdames C. J. Cahill, Fred Cochrane, Jack Dingus, Bobby Hall, Delver Hall, H. D. Hewlett, Claude Martin, W. L. Reed, B. F. Reed, Everett Stidham, Clarence Turner, Roe Turner, Glenn Ward, Misses Ruby Akers, Catherine Reed, Betty Turner, Claudia Watson.

The department of International Relations will be in charge of the program for the June 20 meeting.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Parker attend-ed the funeral in Ashland last week of Mrs. J. H. Weidenheller, whose son, J. T. Weidenheller, married Mrs. Parker's sister, Christine.

REASONS WHY

You should VOTE FOR Chandler and Waterfield

HAPPY CHANDLER supporters are convinced that the present administration of Wetherby-Beauchamp-Clements is bad. They know the present administration is the worst from the point of view of civic morals and good government that Kentucky has ever had. To begin an accounting of the evils of the present administration is difficult—there are so many. We set forth here a few of the things chargeable to the present administration and some of the issues. We promise that as the cam-paign advances we shall examine these matters and oth-ers in detail.

THE MINIMUM FOUNDATION PROGRAM

The present administration adopted the Minimum Foundation Program without the least intention of financing it. They thought that when the time came to abandon ship they'd leave that program to be broken up in the wreckage. The unfortunate part is that many peo-ple sincerely believed the administration's pledge was something more than a farce. About one month ago the administration had sufficient funds to finance the Mini-mum Foundation Program, and still have a million dol-lars left over. About one month ago a surplus of EIGHTEEN MILLION DOLLARS came into the Treas-ury as a result of the withholding tax. This sum was quickly taken by the Governor and distributed or al-located. None, so far as we know, came to Floyd county. Within a week after the surplus came in the Governor told a group of school officials who were interested in seeing the program immediately financed, that he was indeed sorry but that the surplus had been distributed or allocated elsewhere. Can you intelligently believe that the administration ever intended to finance the program?

Happy Chandler has stated that the Minimum Foun-dation Program will be financed. Twenty years ago he said that free school books for children would be pro-vided, and when elected that program was carried out. You can rely upon this pledge by Chandler.

BLANKET ASSESSMENTS

Last year the present administration forced a blanket raise in taxes on Floyd county. Every merchant has been required to pay fifty per cent more upon merchandise; all farm and other property, EXCEPT CITY LOTS, were given a fifteen per cent additional tax burden. This was done by the administration at a time when the peo-ple of Floyd county had very little with which to pay taxes, at a time when we were in the throes of a local depression because of lack of coal orders. Instead of reducing the tax burden, the present administration made it heavier. Next year the administration says they must have twen-ty-five million dollars more. Their candidate has said as much.

SALES TAX

The administration's candidate has said, "the tax base must be broadened." He says he intends to tax us further to the tune of TWENTY-FIVE MILLION DOL-LARS. This means a sales tax. Happy Chandler opposes a sales tax. He opposed it twenty years ago as he does to-day. He declared then, as he declares now "No one but the very wealthy objects to a sales tax on bank stock, Cadillac automobiles and mink coats, but we do oppose a sales tax on corn meal, baby's milk and beans." How do you feel about it?

THE OLD AGE LIEN LAW

The present administration placed the lien upon the homes of the old age pensioners. Administration support-ers recently placed an advertisement in this paper pro-claiming that Chandler was responsible for the lien. Let them point to one home in Floyd county or in the whole wide state of Kentucky that had such a lien upon it before 1952. They know and we know that the Old Age Lien Law was passed by the 1952 Legislature, a little over two and one-half years ago, under the present administration.

Vote for A. B. (Happy) Chandler for Governor and Harry Lee Waterfield for Lieutenant-Governor.

It is known as Senate Bill 101. It reads: "On and after July 1, 1952, the Commonwealth of Kentucky shall have a lien upon all real estate and rights to real estate belong-ing to, or thereafter acquired, by any recipient of public assistance as a needy aged or needy blind." Only one member of the administration controlled Senate voted against Senate Bill 101, and that was a Senator Losey. In the House it passed under Wetherby's prompting by a vote of 51 to 7.

Happy Chandler is determined to take this lien off the homes of the old people. The administration candi-date isn't concerned enough about these old and blind people to even make a statement about it.

ASSESSMENTS OF STATE EMPLOYEES

The present administration is assessing state employees two per cent of their salaries in violation of the law. In-stead of reducing their salaries by two per cent and there-by saving your tax dollars, the administration believes that by collecting from a lot of individuals a small amount no objections will be heard and no one will be able to afford to prosecute for the violation. Dividing the crime into small parts does not lessen the evil of it. How much of this money do you suppose will be used for the sink-ink ship of the Clements-Beauchamp-Wetherby adminis-tration and how much will stick to the fingers of the col-lectors?

ABOUT GOLD CARDS

The present administration adopted the practice of giving Gold Cards to favorites of the administration. These Gold Cards entitled the holder to free meals, lodg-ing and anything else available at State owned parks. The Commissioner says that this practice has been stop-ped. It shouldn't have been started to begin with, and if it was a good practice why was it stopped during the campaign? When you go to a State park, you pay and usually pay plenty high. Try renting a boat at the boat dock of what is called a State Park in our county. You won't find the Gold Carders here, they're at Kenlake, the luxury spot for state favorites, built, equipped and operated at your expense.

WHAT ABOUT LABOR

Happy Chandler is supported by the State A. F. of L., the State C. I. O., other unions and by the prayers and encouragement of farmers, miners and all who labor and work under risk of death and disability.

The administration ticket is supported by the State Administration, The Gold Card Clubs, the BTC's (Big Time Corporations and Big Time Compensation com-panies), the Two Percenters and the Cadillac Square Club of Prestonsburg.

Confession? — Ask The Man Who Goes There!

Catholics go to Confession to a priest for one reason only: to obtain divine for-giveness for their sins.

But why, you ask, go to a priest? Why not confess our sins directly to God?

Ask the man who goes to Confession and here's what he will tell you: Sin is an offense against God, it must be forgiven by God. It is God, not man, who determines how forgiveness must be obtained. Christ plainly pointed this out when He empowered His Apostles and their successors to for-give sins or to refuse forgiveness.

"Whose sins you shall forgive," Jesus said, "they are forgiven and whose sins you shall retain, they are retained." (John 20:21-23).

Jesus Christ authorized the Apostles, and their successors, to pardon sins, and to deny pardon as they judged the sinner worthy or unworthy. To do this they had to know what they were forgiving... the secret dis-positions of the sinner... his sor-row and willingness to repair the wrong done to his neighbor by his sins. Who could make this known to the sinner himself—and what is this but Confession?

But Confession—the Sacrament of Penance—is only one of the seven Sacraments Christ left in His Church. Yes, seven—no more and no less! Christ's religion is not merely a message to be accepted, but a life to be lived—from the cradle to the grave. Christ's seven Sacraments are the answer to man's seven basic needs.

Man is born, but he needs to be reborn a Christian in the Sacrament of Baptism. He is nourished, but he needs Christian nourishment in Holy Communion, the Sacrament of the Eucharist. He grows, but he needs to grow and be strengthened in Christian life by the Sacrament of Confirmation. He is cured of disease, but he needs a remedy for sin, so destructive of Christian life, and this he finds in the Sacrament of Penance.

Man lives in society which needs officials to promote the common good—and for his life in the Church, he finds officials provided by the Sacrament of Orders. He perpetuates the human race in marriage, which Christ made the Sacrament of Matrimony. And at death, he needs consolation and strength for the last dread hour which he finds in the Last Anoint-ing—the Sacrament of Extreme Unction.

Would you like to know more about each of the seven Sacra-ments? How they can help you to meet the seven basic needs of your life? Then write today for a free pamphlet which gives important information concerning them. Ask for Pamphlet No. 5—KY.

"When my Pop was a little boy he used to go to the grocery store. A little girl there always gave him a big sour dill pickle which later turned out to be my mother."

And then there was the youngster who wasn't in the Milwaukee contest who wrote: "My Pop's tops cause he's bigger me or Sissy or Mom either one."

NAME'S THE SAME
Once there blew into town a citizen whose name was the same as mine, and his antics were such as to create considerable excitement till he was well behind the bars. I wrote the story, giving his full name but, thinking to be cute, neglected to state who he was or where he lived, then, by way of postscript, explained that this gentleman was not connected with this newspaper. And Henry Arrowood, then editor of The Paintsville Herald, fixed me up proper the next week by reprinting the story and leaving off that last explanatory paragraph.

This bit of reminiscing is provoked by the recent experience of Paul Dean, editor of the Rock Valley (Iowa) Bee who happens to have the same name as the fellow who robbed the Boyden bank. Here's what he wrote after the news got around:

"Coincidence is a mighty force. That bank robbery in Boyden stirred up a hornet's nest as far as I am concerned.

"Not only the names were similar but the guy had the same year and model car as I do.

"One thing for sure some of my wife's relatives live out in that part of the country and I'm sure it didn't take much to convince them that Doris didn't marry very good.

"My aunt in Sioux Falls was plagued with telephone calls all day long telling of her nephew just having hoisted a bank.

"My children have been defending me though. They are ready to do battle with anyone who says: 'How much did he get?'

"One thing that didn't coincide—and most of the people who know me knew right away that it wasn't me:

"The guy said he was in debt and wanted to get some money to pay three friends who had loaned him $1,000 each. I don't have three friends with $1,000 each. In fact some people will tell you I don't have three friends."

DIARY
Up betimes and on the lake by 5 a.m., to pursue the wary bass, having been assured by one and all that these creatures were taking to surface lures of mornings with very great gusto indeed. Full of hope, and aware that a fisherman is living proof that hope indeed doth spring eternal in the human breast, I battle a capricious breeze that cannot make up its mind whence to come or whither to blow, turning ever and anon on me as it does, and I present a lure which for some unknown reason is called a Stump-Knocker.

But, forsooth, the pesky bass eschew the aforementioned Stump-Knocker and cause me to ponder deeply on the preverse nature of such creatures. I desist long enough to exchange friendly greetings with other fishermen who assure me these be waters wherein dwell great fish. They depart for other parts, invoking imprecations also on a sport that causeth one to arise from bed at such an unseemly hour and which bringeth such ill returns.

The morning having waned, and remembering that I have resolved never to leave this spot without pausing to look upon the beauties of nature around me, and to rid myself of disappointment by expressing my thanks for the beauty of woods and water and sky, I rest briefly, and then turn to a balky motor for the homeward journey.

Of a truth I am resigned to self-pity, for, lo! this be many the time I have wended my homeward way with empty creel, so to speak. However, I can hide my self-pity and present a bold front, and belittle the efforts of others also as proof that I am not indeed the world's poorest angler. And this I do like the professional that indeed I am.

But when the good wife taketh such pity on me that she no longer sings out as I enter the door, "Where are the fish?"—alas and slack, this be more than I can bear. . . and so to work and to await another day when once again I will depart for these same waters, full of hope.

Dr. Harry F. King, 58, Former Pastor Here, Dies in Huntington
Funeral services for Dr. Harry Francis King, 58, a former pastor of the Methodist church here, will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Friday at Beverly Hills Methodist church, Huntington, W. Va.

The Rev. Paul Redfearn, superintendent of the Methodist church there, will officiate. He will be assisted by Dr. Glen Stewart, pastor of Humphreys Memorial church of Charleston and Dr. John Hollister, Charleston District superintendent. Burial will follow in Ridgeland cemetery, Huntington.

Dr. King had held pastorates in West Virginia, Kentucky and Florida during his 33 years in the ministry. His pastorate here was during the 1930's. He was formerly superintendent of the Wheeling district of the church.

The family has asked that flowers be omitted. Those desiring to pay tribute to Dr. King's memory may make contributions to a fund at the Beverly Hills Church. Such contributions will be forwarded to the West Virginia Conference for use in improving the new Methodist hospital at Clarksburg, acquired by the conference two weeks ago.

Dr. King's widow is the former Miss Grace Yoak, daughter of a Methodist minister, the late Rev. J. B. F. Yoak, and Mrs. Yoak. Other survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Cyrus J. Crevling of Washington, D. C.; a son, William J. King, at home; a sister, Miss Nellie King of Beaver, Pa., and four grandchildren.

Dr. King was the former pastor of the Methodist church here, which was destroyed by fire in 1930. He was a member of the church for many years.

been contacted by County Clerk DuRan Moore, of this county, who brought a message purportedly from Judge Combs to the effect that Martin "would be taken care of if he would cut loose from Lewis, fire Merdith as his attorney and apologize to the trial committee."

"Instead of disciplining Martin and Lewis," Meredith said, "I think there are some people whose conduct is more subject to censure than theirs." He asked that the special Court of Appeals rule on two legal points that involve federal constitutional questions. It was presumed these rulings were sought so that the decision could be appealed to the federal courts if necessary.

One point on which a ruling was asked was his claim that the Bar Association's trial committee improperly required Lewis to shoulder the burden of proof to prove his innocence; the other involved Martin's right under free-speech guarantees of the Constitution to publish the advertisement in question which criticized Judge Sims and Grauman.

The Bar Association was represented by Charles F. Wood, Louisville attorney, who called the Bar Association's action "the last line of defense to protect itself and the court from being torn asunder by men who have no respect for the ordinary processes of jurisprudence."

Wood said he felt no malice toward Martin and Lewis—"rather pity for these two men who have such a disregard for the bar that they will, indiscriminately and without proof, offer affidavits that bring the bench and bar into disrepute."

Turning to the constitutional points raised by Meredith, Wood said disbarment proceedings have been held not to be criminal or even civil actions, but rather quasi-civil cases.

Because of this fact, Wood said, Lewis was properly required to prove the truth of statements in his affidavits rather than his accusers being required to show first that they were false.

Freedom of speech as guaranteed by the Constitution, does not mean that any man can say anything he wants to wherever he wants to, Wood contended.

Wood also argued that Lewis was satisfied to have Grauman serve as special judge at first, because an early ruling was in favor of a client of Lewis.

"The Bar Association contends that only because he became dissatisfied with later Grauman decisions, did Lewis file his objections to Grauman serving as special judge."

Aged Hueysville Man Victim in Huntington; Was Former Postmaster
A. J. Coburn, 84, formerly of Hueysville, died in Huntington at 9:40 p.m. last Saturday, a victim of a two-year heart illness.

Mr. Coburn, the son of the late Joe and Cynthia Grigsby Coburn, was preceded in death by his wife, Cora Coburn, onetime postmaster in Hueysville. He was a native of the Salt Lick section of Knott county and was a member of the Church of Christ at Hueysville.

He is survived by two sons, Leroy, of Dayton, Ohio, and Edgar, of California; four daughters, Mrs. Edna Mae Conley, Ironton, O., Mary Ellen Wilson, of Bypro, Opal Ratliff, of Ashland, and Violet Ferguson, of Wheelwright; one brother and three sisters, Pearl Coburn, Hueysville, Mrs. Cora Olson, Elkhart, Ind., Mrs. Roxie Bailey, Hueysville, and Mrs. Erie Oney, Garrett.

The funeral was held Tuesday at the Church of Christ, Hueysville, with the Reverends Bert Caldwell, Lawrence Price, and Tom Sutton officiating. Burial was made in the Hayes cemetery, the Turner Funeral Home directing.

BETSY LAYNE

The Betsy Layne high school seniors returned from Myrtle Beach, S. C., June 6, after spending five wonderful days there. The class chaperones were Mrs. Lois Cain Ball and Clifton Steele. D. W. Howard, principal, was unable to make the trip due to illness in the family.

The seniors chartered a 37-passenger Southeastern Greyhound bus, whose operator was Virgil Layne. The class visited Brook Green, Gardens and various other picturesque spots. Enroute home, they visited the Smokey Mountains, stopping for horseback riding, dinner and a ride up Crockett Mountain for an aerial view of the town.

Of the 83 members of the class the following 19 went on the trip: Melinee Layne, Billy Clark, Betty Smith, Ballard Ham, Janet Howes, Lowell (Spud) Steele, Bonita Hinchman, Earl Lee Layne, Betty Deskins, Jimmy Daniels, Ethel Mae Harvel, Gene Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Williams, Katherine Layne, Frank Stone, Marvin Williamson, Paul Robinette and Charles Roberts.

Special comment from the class: We, the class of '55, wish to extend our thanks and gratitude to our chaperones and driver, Virgil Layne. They were the best.

MARTIN

By Betty Preflatish

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Jenkins and children are the houseguests of her mother, Mrs. S. J. Roberts. Mr. Jenkins has returned to his home in Kopperston, Va. while Mrs. Jenkins and the children will stay for a short vacation.

Rev. and Mrs. Willard Akers attended a memorial service for the late Hogue Ousley on Spurlock Creek, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Martin spent a week at Pennyrite State Park, Dawson Springs, Ky., as the guests of the W. O. W. Insurance Training School, which is located there.

Mrs. Mary Burchett, formerly of Martin, now of Ohio, was visiting her brother, W. J. Reynolds, Sr., and her sister, Mrs. Bill Dingus, here last week. This is her first visit here for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson, of Louisville, were the recent guests here of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sammons. Mrs. Thompson will be remembered as the former Miss Phyllis Click, of Martin.

Mrs. E. J. Rogers and daughter, Mrs. Peggy Wray, of Greensburg, were the recent guests of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Allen. Mrs. Allen and her daughters, Ann and Kay, accompanied them home.

Business visitors in Martin this week included the following: Harry Marrs, Charles Heuzeman, O. J. Wright, Lon Venters, all of Ashland and vicinity.

Mrs. Lenora Tische has resumed her work at Dermont's after spending a week's vacation at Oak Ridge, Tenn., with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Tische. They also took a motor trip through the great Smokies.

Mrs. Della Owens, of Hindman, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Edna Key, and her niece, Mrs. Bob Comstock, here this week.

Miss Norma Lee Beverley and Florence Biliter have returned home after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Biliter, of Richmond, Ky.

Mrs. Tom Hampton continues to be ill in the Beaver Valley hospital. She is going to St. Joseph's hospital in Lexington this week for observation. Her son Tommy Hampton, of Columbus, Ohio, was visiting home last week-end.

Marianne Grigsby and Lynn Grigsby, Diane Everage, Judy Tackett, Peggy Rietz, Brenda Collins, Clara Maddox, Judy, Sherry and Stevie Martin attended a birthday party Monday in honor of Miss Pamela Lynn Jones at her home in McDowell. It was her 11th birthday, and refreshments were served to the following: Rosemary and Terry Turner, Peggy Butcher, Wallis Rose and Ballard Jones, Jr., Woody, Ronnie, Freddy and Bobby Carter, Judy Anderson, Marcia Ward, Barbara Lawson, Sharon and Gregory Jones; all of McDowell, Marion Allen and Edna Mae Taylor, of Salisbury, Jackie Jones, Carol Sue Cooley, Mrs. Ballard Jones, Mrs. Curt Carter, Mrs. Demra Taylor and Mrs. Edgar Jones, Pamela Lynn, is formerly of Martin.

Turner's Department stores of Martin and Prestonsburg got together during last week-end for a store picnic at Dewey Lake but due to the rain they had their picnic in the store at Prestonsburg. The following people enjoyed the inside outing: Mr. and Mrs. Lee Spickard and daughter, of Prestonsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Ess Ell Reed, of the Martin store, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Herald, Mrs. Alberta Baldrige and daughter, Mrs. Jack Lafferty and daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Pate, Tommy Hatfield, Miss Minnie Sue Campbell, all of Prestonsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Howard, of Dwaile, Mrs. Virginia Short and James Phelps, of Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Evans and son, Charles Williams, of Cincinnati, spent the week-end here with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hunter. Mr. Evans returned to his work and Mrs. Evans and Charles William will stay there for a longer visit.

A. H. Mandt was a business visitor in Lexington last week.

Rev. George W. Nerbonne was a business visitor in northern Kentucky last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ducote, of Montgomery, Ala., have spent a two-week vacation here with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Hager Turnley, of Martin, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Crit Gearheart, of Eastern.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hager Turnley, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ducote, of Montgomery, Ala., Mr. and Mrs. Crit Gearheart, and Ted Gearheart, of Eastern, spent the week-end visiting in Va.

Mrs. John Paul Biliter and sons are visiting relatives in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stephens, of Water Gap, were visiting his sister, Mrs. Florence Crisp, at her home here Monday.

WARD ASKS CHANDLER TO ANSWER PERSONALLY

Statement By HENRY WARD Commissioner of Conservation

June 14, 1955 Frankfort, Kentucky

I have written a personal letter to A. B. Chandler in which I have asked him to answer himself the questions which I have put to him. The letter was mailed to him yesterday, and the attached copy is not being released until today so he cannot say he has not had adequate time to frame an answer.

Chandler is the candidate for Governor, not Joe Leary, his campaign manager, and so it is Chandler who should answer questions about his personal actions of the past.

It is relevant to this campaign to raise these questions because they bear on Chandler's qualifications to represent the people of Kentucky as their governor.

The copy of my letter to Chandler follows:

Mr. A. B. Chandler, Versailles, Kentucky

Dear Mr. Chandler: The fact that you have refused to answer questions which I have put to you and instead have let your campaign manager, Joe Leary, speak for you indicates either that you are afraid to answer or your campaign organization is afraid to let you talk for yourself.

I challenge you to give the people of Kentucky the answers to questions which have a material bearing on the use you have made of the influence which you built up through the years as a result of holding public offices to which the people elected you.

Let me review briefly the situation which involves the two of us—a situation which, incidentally, you created by your attacks on my personal honesty and integrity. Early in your campaign for Governor, you started an assault against the state park program which I have headed since 1948 and against me personally. I suspect you thought I intended to run for lieutenant governor, and your purpose was to try to tear me down. I also suspect you knew that this administration has received credit for having done an outstanding job in giving Kentucky one of the finest state park systems in the nation, and you hate to see the administration credited with having done anything worthwhile.

That is political strategy which I understand, although I think it is a tragedy that Kentucky has to be subjected to that brand of politics. But I do not believe that the people are as stupid as you indicate you think they are.

I decided that I would not be a candidate for any office, and one of the reasons was that I wanted to be in a position of not asking the people for anything for myself. That leaves us in this situation; you are the candidate asking the voters to give you the governor's seat for another term; I am an official responsible for what I may have done in the past but asking for nothing for the future. I also am a citizen with a right to get the real facts about this campaign to the people.

The question of "Propriety" is an important issue in this situation. Your campaign manager stated last Saturday that I must not understand the word or I would not have questioned your record of having received pay from a Lexington whiskey wholesale company at the same time you were a United States Senator and high commissioner of baseball.

In a statement which he made for you, Mr. Leary said: "Mr. Ward would not understand nor appreciate the relationship between a lawyer and his client, for he has demonstrated a complete lack of appreciation of propriety."

The word "propriety" is defined as "fitness or suitability of conduct."

I agree that I do not have an appreciation of propriety if that means a United States Senator or the high commissioner of baseball cannot be questioned about the acceptance of valuable gifts or retainer fees from private corporations or individuals merely because he operates under the guise of being a lawyer.

QUESTIONS SWIMMING POOL

I most emphatically question the propriety of your acceptance of a swimming pool from Ben H.

Collings, a Louisville contractor, during World War II when you were a member of the U. S. Senate. You certainly knew that he was a bidder on war contracts. You certainly knew that materials used in that pool were needed for the war effort, to produce shells and weapons for use by the men who were then risking their lives in defense of the nation. Your claim now that the swimming pool issue is a "dead cat" is a reflection on the intelligence of voters. Hubert Meredith, who was then attorney general, made the proper observation on your acceptance of the swimming pool when he said: "Virtuous women and honest men do not accept gifts of consequential value."

Isn't it a fact that the permit of Collings to do business with the United States government was suspended by the War Production Board because of his use of materials critically needed for the war effort in the building of your swimming pool?

Will you explain to the people the propriety of your acting for whiskey interests while you were a United States Senator and the high commissioner of baseball?

ASKS ABOUT LIQUOR FIRM SERVICE

Did the United Wholesale Liquor Co., of Lexington enter into agreements with you because that company believed you were the best lawyer available or was it because the company wanted to gain benefits from your prestige and influence as a United States Senator?

I challenge you to make public full texts of the agreements dated November 30, 1944 and June 27, 1946 which were referred to on a check of the United Wholesale Liquor Company which was issued to "A. B. Chandler" on January 11, 1948. This check was for the amount of $1,450.00, was signed by J. S. Mahan, and was endorsed "A. B. Chandler."

I challenge you to give an accounting of the checks you rendered to the United Wholesale Liquor Company for which you received payment August 1945, while you were a member of the U. S. Senate. This check issued on that date in the amount of $5,000.00 was made payable to "A. B. Chandler and Rouse," but endorsed "A. B. Chandler."

It is reported to me that there is some familiar language in the agreements with the United Wholesale Liquor Company. I challenge you to make public the full texts—not just excerpts from the agreements.

I challenge you to say whether you have any agreements with the Pilgrim Distributing Company, other whiskey, gin or beer concerns which you have received compensation during the past year as governor, U. S. Senator or commissioner of conservation.

CHALLENGES USE OF CAMP BY CHANDLER

I challenge you to say whether you have used the use of a camp on Herrington Lake during your term as governor. I charge that you, Game and Fish, rented a camp for you and your family. It was turned over to you and your friends for games and other parties. The camp consisted of a cabin, boat dock and boats. It was located on Herrington Lake in Mercer county. Do you deny this?

I challenge you to permit examination of your income tax returns for the years that you served as a public official and baseball commissioner, so that the public may know what use you made of your official duties. Please do not try to say that you were a lawyer and "propriety" makes it impossible for you to reveal "confidential relationships" between you and your "clients."

Later I expect to ask you to explain your acceptance of a luxury cruise on the Caribbean while you were governor, your trip to such lush places as White Sulphur Springs, Hot Springs, Hollywood and other resorts, for I think they bear on the kind of public official you have been and probably would be in the future, but the answers to the questions I have raised above are more important now.

Very truly yours, Henry Ward

Vacation Bible Schools Of Local Baptist Church Close; Six Others Begin

With the end of this week six Vacation Bible Schools sponsored by the Irene Cole Memorial Baptist church will have come to a close and Monday will mark the beginning of six more which will begin in as many points in the county. The local church school has had an enrollment of 131 for the two-week period, with the second largest enrollment being at the David Baptist Chapel, which counted 91. The school at Lancer was the highest in the mission's history with more than 60 enrolled, while attendance at Ivy Creek, Blue River and Holbrook ranged in the thirties and forties.

The Rev. Vernon Perkins, pastor of the David Baptist Chapel, was in charge of the schools at David and Holbrook, and will serve as principal and teacher in those to be conducted at the Buckeye school each morning next week from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and the Needmore school starting at 2 o'clock each afternoon during the week. Other schools to be conducted by the pastor, Ira McMillen, Jr., and other church workers are as follows: Home Branch and Upper Cow Creek 9 to 11:30 a.m. and Benedict Chapel and the Emma school from 2 to 4:30 p.m. All children, ages four through seventeen, are invited to attend the school nearest to their homes. The Rev. McMillen said.

VISITS MRS. SMITH

Lieutenant (j.g.) and Mrs. E. A. Smith, Jr. and daughter, Linda, spent part of their vacation last week with his mother, Mrs. E. A. Smith, on First avenue. Lieutenant Smith and family are residing at Key West, Florida. The family group was joined over the week-end by another son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gentry Smith, and son, Paul, from Johnson City, Tennessee.

GUESTS OF MRS. HALE

Guests of Mrs. C. H. Hale on Sunday were her sister, Mrs. Lucy Plybon, Proctorville, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Plybon, Bobby and Phil, Mrs. Paul Mitchell and daughter and Mrs. Nova Weathers, all of Chesapeake, Ohio.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. James Harmon, of West Prestonsburg, Ky., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Doris Ann, to James Stafford, of Warsaw, Ind. Mr. Stafford is employed by the city of Warsaw. After the wedding June 25, the couple will reside on Eagle St., Warsaw, Ind.

Annual Family Reunion of Webbs, Adames, Crafts Scheduled At Mayking

The annual reunion of the Adams, Craft and Webb families of Eastern Kentucky will be held again, it was announced by W. Burdine Webb, of Whitesburg, program chairman. Place and time of the reunion will be the old Mayking cemetery, Sunday, June 26.

"The pioneers of the three families came into the area long before the county (Letcher) was established and through their marriages and inter-marriages the three families are today closely related. The Webbs are directly related to Daniel Boone who braved the wilds to establish a civilization here," Mr. Webb said.

Speakers at the reunion will be A. B. (Happy) Chandler, Democratic candidate for governor, Ed Denney, Republican candidate for governor, Ben S. Adams, of Frankfort, Mayor J. B. Wells, of Paintsville and Pleaz Mobley, of Manchester. Judge Bert T. Combs has been invited to speak but it was not indicated whether he would be able to accept.

County Agent Hugh Hurst says a 4-H club pig chain is helping to improve the hogs in Pulaski county. 3t.

Local D.A.R. Chapter Holds Flag Day Picnic At High School Grounds

John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held its 29th annual Flag Day picnic Tuesday, at the Prestonsburg high school building on first avenue.

The chapter has observed Flag Day since 1927 with a picnic on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Harlowe, but the weather was so unfavorable this year the observance was moved to the high school.

Members of Indian Mound Chapter, D. A. R., of Salyersville, were guests of John Graham Chapter. Mayor Harry Sandige extended a welcome to the visiting Chapter and other guests. Mrs. Virginia N. Stephens, chairman of "Correct Use of the Flag" committee had charge of the program.

The colors were presented by Dr. Herbert G. Salisbury, Jr. This flag, which had been flown over the nation's capital at Washington, was procured through Congressman Carl D. Perkins by Mrs. Winnie F. Johns, regent of John Graham Chapter, and was presented to the Chapter in memory of The Winnie F. Johns Dogwood Trail Living Memorial to Floyd County War Dead.

Franklin Moore led the assembly in singing the National Anthem. Music and recordings were under the direction of Dr. M. J. Leete and Franklin Moore.

Rev. A. C. Harlowe led the devotional. The following members of Indian Mound Chapter, attended: Mrs. T. E. Marcum, regent, Mrs. D. W. Gardner, Mrs. E. L. Stephens, Mrs. D. B. Howard, Mrs. Darrell House, Mrs. Soloman Mann, Mrs. Fred R. Denny, Mrs. H. H. Ramey, Mrs. Forest G. Frazier, Mrs. Buck Patrick, Mrs. Nettie Reed, Mrs. Flossie May and Miss Angela May.

except to make a telephone call to a Paintsville friend. That evening she related the events of the preceding night to a neighbor woman and this woman stayed the night with her. Thursday, Miss Wells arranged with a brother to bring her here and she swore out a warrant for Spears' arrest.

Miss Wells said that she was never married, lived alone, tended a little garden. She had been in a crippled condition from arthritis for some time. Spears did not take the stand and no defense evidence was offered.

Judge Stumbo, in pointing out his reasons for putting Spears under a peace bond, said: "He (Spears) could destroy the only witness."
He ordered Spears to fill a $5,000 appearance bond and $1,000 peace bond for six months. The case will be submitted to the September grand jury.

Spears was released on bond Monday of this week with W. R. Hall, of Auxier, as surety.

Pony League Exhibition Games Are Scheduled For Thursday and Friday

Exhibitions played by the Pony Leaguers will be held on Thursday and Friday of this week, as the Tigers-Redleg game will be staged on the first day with the White Sox-Braves contest decided on Friday, Commissioner Edward B. Leslie announced this week.

The selection of players at the first Pony League auction will be held June 20 for the division of all eligible players into four teams. The league will officially start June 27 and games will be played every Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday, starting 15 minutes after Little League games.

There will be a 16-game schedule this year, with play starting June 27 and ending August 19.

Kentucky To Be Host
To India Farm Girls
In Youth Exchange Plan

Kentucky has been chosen by the National 4-H Club Foundation as one of 10 states to serve as hostess to two young women from India in the International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) program. Arriving in Lexington May 29, Miss Elizabeth Mammen and Miss Pushpa Mitra will live on farms for approximately three months in nine different counties: Bell, Floyd, Leslie, Lincoln, Madison, McCreary, Pulaski, Rockcastle and Wayne.

Representatives of the host families attended an orientation meeting at Cumberland Falls, at which Miss Kathleen Flom, of Washington, and Miss Edith Lacy, field agent in 4-H club work at the University of Kentucky, made clear the objectives of IFYE. Dedicated to the belief that understanding is the foundation of world peace, the program aims to help rural youth understand the hopes and problems of rural people.

The visitors will be joined by exchanges from other states at a workshop Aug. 14-27 at Berea College.

GIRL SCOUTS PREPARING

Plans for Big Round-Up
Being Laid by 29 Girls
From This Section

Twenty-nine Girl Scouts from Pikeville, Martin, Prestonsburg and Wheelwright have been preparing for the Big Round-Up, a get-together of America's Girl Scouts who will represent their homes by presenting the folklore peculiar to their individual region in Michigan next year.

Camp Chatterawha was the scene, June 31 of this preparation for the 1956 event which will carry the theme of "Americana." The Girl Scouts were taught the songs and games that have survived since the first settling of Eastern Kentucky. Charcoal cookery, for the big camp-out, was also taught in the two-day session by Mrs. Dortha Allen, of Martin. Guests at a special dinner were Mr. E. D. Roberts and Mrs. Edith James, the latter instructing the girls in the songs of old Eastern Kentucky.

Mrs. James is chairman of the Polk Music department, Kentucky Music Federation.

Each girl must have her Curved Bar in order to be eligible to go to the Big Round-Up. These girls must spend, during the next year, much time in polishing up the necessary outdoor skills. The Round-Up will give girls the chance to meet and work with other girls of their own age from all parts of America.

Representing the Pikeville group was Mrs. Dolores Johnson, leader, Nancy Green, Lynn H. Scott, Susan Coleman, Frances Gilmore, Penny B. Whitton, Mary Lou Rogers, Lynn Joyce Scott, Rosemary Johnson, Michelle Kroger, and Delores Ann Johnson.

The Wheelwright included Mrs. Delia Mays, leader, Airmel Burgess, Jonell Hall, Susan Fields, Pat Bailey, and Libby Mays.

Woodrow Burchett and E. Dick Roberts accompanied the Prestonsburg group which included Sally Caldwell, Sally Burchett, Dolores Burchett, Judy Roberts, Kay Roberts, and Marty May.

Mrs. Tina Allen chaperoned six from her troop—Mickey Martin, Mary Beth Sammons, Janice Griffith, Rosemary Allen, Joan Wolverton, and Lois Allen, all of Martin.

BY WILMAY

IT'S A GOOD WORLD

(The views expressed herein do not necessarily reflect the views of The Times.)

Since Billy Graham films will be shown in Martin high school, June 23 and 24, we now present his views on the subject last discussed in this column, because HIS opinion IS important.

On page 118, in his book, PEACE WITH GOD, he says, "There is not one verse of scripture that indicates you can be a Christian and live any kind of life you want." No one claims we can, but many fail to teach we CANNOT. Graham does not emphasize faith less but stresses godliness more than most. He does not mean living a good life saves, but that saved people live good lives. His quotation is the crux of the spiritual problems in the U. S. today. It is the real issue referred to in my recent column, the one causing increased crime, which should decrease since church membership is the largest on record. Some avoid this issue or fail to make it clear, and that is why corruption and immorality are at an all-time high, when the opposition should be true, with church rolls expanding.

Dr. Graham says, "Thousands of so-called Christians can find time for the movies, baseball games, or prize fights, but can't find time for God. We can save for a new home or TV set, but feel we no longer can afford to tithe. This is idolatry. A change must take place." He means materialistic America must again put first things first.

When the heart of a nation or individual is right the outside will be in keeping with it. When vice continues to rise, while church membership is the greatest in history, something is bad-wrong, Graham's writings disclose the causes. "We have hundreds of people in America who have their names on church rolls. They go to church when it is convenient. They give their money to the church and support its activities. They may talk the language of the Christian, and many of them can quote a fair amount of scripture, but they have never experienced true repentance. The Bible teaches that when a person comes to Christ a change takes place that is reflected in everything he does. The reality of our Christian profession is shown in many ways: the things we say as well as the things we do as well as the things we do not do. For while Christianity is not primarily a matter of externals, nevertheless it does find expression in conversation, habits, recreation, emphasis, and ambitions to be noted in our daily life. Does our conversation honor Christ? Are our habits those of which he approves? Are our sources of recreation those in which His presence can be a part?"

Dr. Graham and his wife do not indulge in movies, card playing, dancing, tobacco, cocktails, etc. He says, "Silly flirtations, unhealthy gossip, shady conversations, suggestive amusement should be avoided like rattlesnakes. You become so busy in the things of Christ that you do not have time for the things of the world. Many young people ask me if this or that is sinful. One question will settle ninety percent of their problems. Ask yourself, 'What would Christ have me to do? What would Christ think about my amusements, recreation, books, companions, and TV programs?' We cannot compromise or bargain here. There must be an out-and-out stand for Christ. It does not mean we are snobs or have a superiority complex, lest we be in danger of spiritual pride, which would be far worse than worldliness." (Recall the attitude of the British press toward Dr. Graham early last year?)

"But today there are so many professing Christians who walk hand in hand with the world that you cannot tell the difference between the Christian and the sinner. That should never be. The Christian should be poised, courteous, gracious, but firm in the things he does and does not do. He should refuse to allow the world to pull him down to its level. The world has a tendency to lead us into sin—evil companions, pleasures, fashions, opinions and aims of the world." (Random excerpts from pp. 155, 157, 171, 190).

There is no doubt that Billy Graham is wielding the largest influence of any man alive today. While numbers do not value his views, others do. His influence on the clergy abroad was amazing, and his stand for separation from the world explains it. He believes America must soon choose between the old-time religion that demands holiness, in and out, or suffer God's wrath.

Be sure to tune in on WPRT Saturday at 9:30 to hear the Father's Day program, directed by Mrs. Ray Howard, with Dr. G. S. Watson, of Drift, guest speaker. The Father of the Year for this county will be chosen.

Annual Bible Conference
Set for Camp Nathanael;
British Author To Speak

Camp Nathanael's annual Bible conference will begin the evening of June 29 and continue through July 5. Evangelistic meetings, Bible classes, missionary messages, music, children's meetings, and an all-around recreational program for all ages will be featured.

The Rev. Walter E. Olsen, India missionary, will bring challenging missionary messages each day. Mr. Olsen has served in various phases of aggressive missionary work—especially with the youth of India. His visits to The Evangelical Alliance mission fields in South America, South Africa, Southern Rhodesia, and Japan have given him a greatly enlarged vision of the worldwide needs of the Gospel and what is being done to make Christ known.

Gavin Hamilton, British-born evangelist, author, Bible teacher, and world traveler, will speak. Evangelist Hamilton was formerly Director of Youth for Christ in Great Britain and was responsible for Billy Graham's first city-wide campaign in Britain.

Sleeping accommodations for families and individuals are available. There is no charge for lodging and meals but freewill offerings will be taken daily to defray expenses. Reservation should be made at once with Garland Franklin, Emmalena, Ky.

*2-door, 6-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. Even the factory-installed extras you may want are bargains, such as: Heater & Defroster—$81.70; Radio & Antenna—$92.50.

THIS is a Buick — a 2-door, 6-passenger SPECIAL Sedan.

It packs a wallop 188-hp V8 engine under the hood—is carried on a strapping 122-inch wheelbase—rides with the luxury cushioning of all-coil springing, the solid steadiness of a full-length torque-tube drive, the extra safety and silence of tubeless tires.

It's big and brawny and road-steady and roomy—each seat cushion measures over five feet in width.

Yet this beauty—as the price we show here proves—delivers locally for just about the price of the well-known smaller cars—even below some models of those same cars.

Buick Sales Are Soaring To New Best-Seller Highs

That, for sure, is one reason why Buick sales go higher and higher and higher. More and more people are finding that you can buy a

Buick for the price of a smaller car and more people are getting this for their money.

They want the bigger package of mobile for the money that they get—bigger in power thrill, in roominess, in riding steadiness, in structure.

They want the added prestige of owning Buick styling and added safety and sureness of ability and handling ease.

They want, too, the spectacular performance and better gas mileage of Variable Dynaflo†—yours at modest extra cost.

And they certainly want the choice Buick offers of a car in every price range, with each one the buy in its field—the low-price SPECIAL, the supremely-powered CENTURY, the extra-roomy SUPER, and the custom-built ROADMASTER.

Why don't you come in for a visit and see how much real automobile your money can buy here?

Forestry Camp Stay Is Award To Wells For Forestry Work

Ronald Wells is one of only 25 Kentucky boys who will receive an all-expense-paid week to forestry camp from June 6 to June 11. He is the son of Mrs. Craig Wells, of Auxler.

The camp is made possible through the contributions of a group of progressive wood-using industries and banks who are enthusiastically endorsing the forestry youth program of the University of Kentucky Extension Service.

Young Wells was selected because of his outstanding 4-H forestry work over the past year or two. Some of his achievements have been the planting of seedling trees, learning to identify most of the native species of trees, learning how to prevent and put out forest fires, and measuring the amount of timber in a farm woods.

The camp will be held on the 14,000 acre Robinson Forest belonging to the University of Kentucky in Breathitt county. The area is heavily forested and an ideal setting for a forestry camp. There are many interesting things to see and learn in the forest. There are pine plantings which have grown into sawlog size timber from 12 to 14 inches in diameter and there are badly burned areas where the boys can be given a full understanding of the terrible damage to the timber crop resulting from forest fires.

Any boy in eastern Kentucky can become eligible for an expense-free trip to camps in future years by seeing his county agent, getting enrolled in a 4-H forestry project, and doing a good job, a forestry leader said.

SPORTS CHATTER

By Gordon Moore

Eastern Kentucky golfing fans will have the opportunity this weekend to see the state's top amateur golfers on the Paintsville Country Club course. Some 70 aspirants for the state open title began firing away Wednesday in the qualifying rounds.

Bill Branham, Wheelwright, was the only entry from Floyd county, while host Paintsville had 21.

Defending champion Harold Fitzpatrick, Buddy Mahan, last season's Paintsville Invitational winner, and Dr. Robert Hall, Paintsville, are three of the leading choices for the crown.

L. G. Mayo, Auxier, bested the anglers on Dewey Lake last week, as he landed a six-pound, 16-ounce largemouth bass. The fish was the biggest of the week, but Fred Wells and son caught eight from 16 to 20 1/2 inches, all largemouth.

Martin's Little League is in action for the second consecutive year and Commissioner Denzil Halbert says the participants are much improved over last season's beginners. Allen and Maytown with two teams from Martin form the league.

An interesting series at the close of the Little League season and tournament will be a three-game battle with the winners of the respective Martin and Prestonsburg Leagues for the Floyd county championship.

Golfer: A man who wishes he had as much fun when he is out as his wife thinks he does.

Don't forget to buy your tickets now for the big Junior Chamber of Commerce fishing rodeo, Sunday and Monday, July 3 and 4, at Dewey Lake. Hundreds of fishing tackle items are the prizes.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my darling son, Dewey Clifford Hall, who was hurled into eternity, Sunday, May 29, 1955. He was not a Christian, but God will surely reward him for being so good to his mother.

Son, you are gone but not forgotten. Never will your memory fade. Loving hearts will ever linger Round the grave where you are laid.

The sweet dark waves upon your head And soft brown eyes are gone I'll see my darling here no more Till dawns that morn of morns.

I've suffered since you left me dear No one knows the bitter pain Nor how much I miss you Tippy Life will never be the same.

In my heart your memory lingers Sweetly, tenderly, fondly and true There is not an hour dear Tippy That I do not think of you.

So sadly missed by those who loved him,
His Mother.

Kentucky's Bookmobile Service Received With High Enthusiasm

(Excerpted from The Courier-Journal, May 22)

"It's just like a gift from heaven!" one woman said as she took the book proffered her from the Laurel county Bookmobile driver when the truck pulled up on the road in answer to her gestures and cries from the garden where she had been digging potatoes.

"Something educational, please," said an 85-year-old Negro who had walked several miles to meet the Metcalfe county bookmobile when the librarian asked him what book he wanted.

"A ray of light" and "a dream come true" were the opinions of the bookmobile of two women who had walked a long way to the general store which was the Lee County bookmobile's every-two-weeks stopping place.

"It's like Santa Claus coming again," a boy in an elementary school in Henry county explained as he took down from the bookmobile shelves a glossy, brightly jacketed copy of "Tom Sawyer."

These are some typical comments on the expanding bookmobile program which has been underway in Kentucky since the 37 bookmobiles (now 101) were presented to Governor Lawrence Wetherby last September.

They are a part of the evidence which Kentuckians submitted last week in support of the federal-aid-to-libraries bill, which would authorize the appropriation of $7,500,000 a year for five years for extension of library services in rural areas all over the country.

Mrs. Barry Bingham, chairman of the Kentucky Bookmobile Project; Harry W. Schacter, finance chairman of the project, and Mrs. Marie Turner, superintendent of the Breathitt County Schools, appeared before the subcommittee of the House Education and Labor Committee when it opened hearings last week on the library bill. They told the story of Kentucky's bookmobile program as that was presented to the Governor's Advisory Commission to the Library Extension Division when it met at Frankfort recently with Miss Porter, Miss Margaret Willis, Coordinator of field workers, and several librarian-drivers of bookmobiles who reported on their experiences in the counties.

Dr. J. W. Weldon of Glasgow, a commission member, reported that "Barren county held a plebiscite on free library service last November, and the measure won by an overwhelming majority."

"Our library revenue from Glasgow and the county will net us at least $12,000 per annum. Last year the bookmobile circulation in the county was over 47,000. Since last September, the circulation has topped 35,000. It was over 10,000 for the month of February, 1955.

Reports from other counties added evidence that bookmobile service is being received with high enthusiasm by both children and adults.

In Meade county, there have been 29,000 borrowings of books from the bookmobile since September, 1954. Mrs. Hallie Day Blackburn, of the Library Extension Division, reported that, in 30 counties, the circulation of books from each bookmobile has doubled and tripled in the second, third, and fourth month of service. For example, in Garrard county, 2,660 for December, 7,728 for March; Henry county, 1,437 for December, 3,182 for March; Lee county, 6,587 for January, 14,262 for March; Boyd county, 5,605 for November, 15,266 for January, 1955.

The Floyd county librarian-driver, Robert J. Wallace, reported that, as of April 13, the total number of books lent by the bookmobile was 4,781; estimated adult circulation, 2,361; juvenile circulation, 26,558; total, 28,919.

"These books have done so much to improve our reading program, little folks who had no interest in reading have begun to develop a real interest in the enjoyment of the vicarious experiences that they relive through these books. When you realize that Elliott county does not have a library you can further appreciate the bookmobile service."

The story from the counties reporting was the same all over: eager and grateful reception of the new library service by children and adults alike. But the other recurring note was the need for more and more books.

Each bookmobile has an average of 2,000 books assigned it from the State Library Extension Division. These are made up of the gift books gathered in a statewide book-collection drive in November, 1953, and of new books purchased with funds solicited from Kentucky business interests and individuals by the Kentucky Bookmobile Project, and with money from the appropriation made by the last Legislature—a total of $208,689.35. In spite, however, of the size of this total, the evidence submitted by county after county proves that the demand for books far outruns the supply on hand.

This fact is evidence, not of failure of the bookmobile program, but of its phenomenal acceptance by Kentuckians. The "heart-breakingly bare" condition of the bookmobile shelves exists because people want and use the books.

We need more books. We need more money to buy them, to process them, and to pay the competent personnel which the Library Extension Division needs in order to administer the program. Where is this money coming from?

The state of Kentucky has made an unequalled effort to bring itself up from next to the bottom on the roster of states in the matter of the availability of free public library services. We have more bookmobiles than any other state. But we need more books for their shelves.

In spite of the unparalleled appropriation made by the last Legislature for extension of library services ($316,000, to which the Governor allotted an additional $13,000 out of his discretionary fund), in spite of the extraordinary response to the appeal made to individuals and business by the Kentucky bookmobile project which resulted in donations amounting to more than $300,000, we cannot yet finance a sound system of regional libraries (augmented by bookmobiles), which is a necessity if we are to carry out one of the great responsibilities of government in a free society: the right of every citizen to read.

Kentucky has made a record of outstanding accomplishment in drawing upon every possible resource, State, County and private money, to build up its free-public library system. Yet that system is far from adequate.

It is for this reason that Kentuckians are vitally interested in the federal library services bill pending before the House and Senate.

In January, Senator Lister Hill introduced a bill into the Senate for the extension and further development of public-library services in rural areas without such services, or with inadequate service. Two weeks later, 24 members of the House of Representatives (including Representative Carl Perkins, of Kentucky, one of the sponsors) introduced identical bills. The former, S. 205, was referred to the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee (Senator Hill, chairman), and the latter were referred to the House Education and Labor Committee. The subcommittee of that committee, under the chairmanship of Representative Phil Landrum of Georgia, will hold hearings on the bill on May 25, 26 and 27.

The bill would authorize the appropriation of $7,500,000 a year for a five-year period. The money would be allotted to the states on a matching basis. Each state would receive a basic allotment of $40,000, plus additional funds based on the rural population of the state as compared to the rural population of the United States.

This money is matched by the state on the basis of the per capita income of the state, as compared to the national per capita income. There are provisions in the bill to assure that each participating state have a sound plan for extending library services, insuring the state's autonomy in the selection of books and personnel, and making it obligatory that each state appropriate an amount not less than the previous amount allocated to the state library agency.

But the fact of greatest interest in Kentucky is that, under the provisions of the bill, the maximum which could be allocated to this state would be $220,815. Such a sum added to what we have already amassed by state and county tax support, by tireless effort and community-wide co-operation would bring us right up to the top.

Chaplain Requirements Set By State Officials

Frankfort, Ky., June 13 — Establishment of minimum requirements for chaplains at Kentucky's penal and welfare institutions was approved by state officials in accepting recommendations proposed by the Kentucky Council of Churches.

Only ordained ministers recommended by the Council of Churches will be considered for the post, according to an agreement reached by Governor Wetherby, Commissioner of Welfare Glenn Lovern, Dr. Frank M. Gaines, Jr., Commissioner of Mental Health, with officials of the Council. In the past, a number of chaplains have been either theological students or laymen at some of the institutions. All chaplains now employed are ministers, except the one at LaGrange Reformatory, who is a layman.

Wetherby Reappoints State Road Engineer

Frankfort, Ky., June 13 — Governor Wetherby reappointed State Highway Engineer Dwight H. Bray as a member of the State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers for a term ending in June 1959, and renamed Dr. Chester A. Nava, Louisville, member of the Board of Chiropraxy.

Recent Strikes Reduce Employment by 16,800

Frankfort, Ky., June 13 — The recent strikes in railroad and telephone industries served to reduce total non-agricultural employment in Kentucky by some 16,800 persons, the State Department of Economic Security reported.

Employment of non-agricultural wage and salary workers (excluding construction) dropped from 541,300 in March to 524,500 in April, according to Department surveys, with "most of the change either directly or indirectly a result of strikes in the rail and communications industries."

Proposals To Merge Two Coal Companies Are Made In Boston

A proposal to merge Island Creek Coal Co. and the Pond Creek Pocahontas Co. was approved by the respective boards of directors at meetings held in Boston recently and will be presented to the stockholders for approval at special meetings set for August 17.

The announcement was made by Raymond E. Salvati, of Huntington, president of both companies.

Under the recommended merger agreement, the Pond Creek Pocahontas Co. will be merged into Island Creek Coal Co. under the name of the latter company.

With the combined total assets of $55,000,000 and total sales of approximately 12 and one-half million tons annually, the new merged Island Creek Coal Co., would become the second largest commercial coal mining and marketing operation in the United States.

The Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Corp., with 23 million tons, some of which is captive tonnage, ranks first.

At present, there are 1,187,730 shares of Island Creek common stock outstanding, held by more than 6,000 shareholders.

Pond Creek Pocahontas mine in this area is at Evanston, Breathitt county. It was stated the proposed merger would not effect Princess Elkhorn Coal Company at David, of which Salvati is a large stockholder.

Robertson Is Named Relations Commissioner

Frankfort, Ky., June 13 — Governor Wetherby named Harrison M. Robertson, Louisville attorney and 1954 Democratic nominee for Congress in the Third district, as Commissioner of Industrial Relations to succeed the vacancy caused by the death of Edwin C. Willis in October 1953. During the interim the Commission has been filled by Paul Combs, deputy commissioner.

Cadillac

First of Its Happy Owners!

The Cadillac you see in the picture has just started out on Mission Number One: to make its first owner and his family members of the happiest motoring fraternity in the world—for as long as they wish.

And then it will be ready for Mission Number Two: to do the same thing for its second owner. And so on, in turn, for its third owner and its fourth—and, mayhap, for an almost indefinite number of others.

In fact, a Cadillac just about refuses to give up, if it is treated fairly and driven with common sense. Even after the body has ceased to exist, the heart of a Cadillac often beats on.

You can see those tough old engines and chassis everywhere. Maybe you'll see one supplying the power for a country sawmill . . . or pulling a plow . . . or serving as a truck, with an improvised body. Give it regular, decent care—and a Cadillac chassis is all but indestructible from normal usage.

Of course, as the purchaser of a new Cadillac, you would not expect to utilize more than a minor portion of this ability to serve. You would look forward to changing models from time to time, in order to enjoy the benefits of styling and engineering advancements.

But what carefree and satisfying performance this quality foretells for the period during which you would expect to keep the car! It is the world's best guarantee of the first owner's satisfaction.

All this, of course, is just one more solid reason for owning a Cadillac—in addition to such obvious reasons as beauty and luxury and pride of ownership.

Better come in today—and be the first of a Cadillac's proud and happy owners.

Excess Livestock Funds May Not Be Diverted

Frankfort, Ky., June 13 — Surplus accumulations in county livestock funds belong to the county school fund and may not be retained for construction of dog pounds and other facilities by the county, the Court of Appeals ruled in determining a dispute from Jefferson county.

The circuit court held the county was entitled to surplus funds accumulated after passage of the 1954 dog licensing law, but that the school board was entitled to other accumulations.

Local Educators Fail To Agree On Why Johnny Can't Read

The word method of teaching reading started back in 1846, with a cow. Opinions as to the effectiveness of that method of teaching were sharply divergent here this week after discussion started on Rudolph Flesch's book, "Why Johnny Can't Read," which was serialized recently in The Courier-Journal.

Between the cow that started the word method and the present day accumulation of reading literature millions of children have gone to school; some learned to read, some did not.

More than 100 years ago John Russell Webb, a village school-teacher in New York state associated the teaching of the word, "cow," with the animal itself. Before that time the teaching of phonics was the accepted method of instruction. Soon a revolution in teaching methods occurred as the profession shifted to the word method. However, phonetic instruction lingered on in Eastern Kentucky until the early 1920's, and many an oldster, and many not so old, recall with great nostalgia the old way of learning to read and decry the modern method as the reason Johnnie can't read.

Not only old laymen, though, assert the word method is the cause of Johnnie's reading difficulties. Professional opinion here in this county is divided on the matter. Some say, perhaps most of them, that a combination of phonic and word-memorization methods is best. Others assert a large portion of the sentence method of instruction is indicated for the child's needs.

Said County Superintendent V. O. Turner:

"In the first place nobody in our office has said not to teach phonics. We insist teachers do teach phonics. We prepared a bulletin on phonics instruction and it was made available to all the teachers."

William Holmes McGuffey's readers were copyrighted in 1875 and 120,000,000 copies were sold. The McGuffey set shown is owned by George Brown, of Prestonsburg.

"I can't see us going back to the A B C method in the first two grades, though. We introduce the alphabet in the third grade. What Flesch wants us to do is to begin with breaking down words into phonetic sounds in the first grade. Flesch confuses word-calling with comprehension. Our greatest difficulty in teaching children is to get them to understand."

Turner asserts that Flesch would limit us to one method. "We're not married to one method. We certainly don't exclude phonics."

Mr. Turner comments on the reading instruction he had. It was learning to read by the phonic system. He has a son who learned to read by modern methods. "My son can read a book much more quickly than I," Turner added.

The bulletin Mr. Turner refers to as distributed to the teachers, emphasizing the importance of phonics, was prepared by a group composed of Floyd teachers at the workshop under Mrs. Mamie West Scott at Allen in 1953. Three Floyd teachers prepared the section on phonics—Hattie Reedy, Norah J. Scalf and Darlene Amburgey. The inclusion of phonics in the bulletin was suggested by Otis Spurlock, director of instruction.

Typical of the pro-phonetic method is Charles Clarke, principal of Garrett high school.

"I'm a product of the old school. I agree with Flesch," Clarke says. "But out of the many philosophies of reading we should use the best features. I think the teaching of phonics is best. I can't see how a child can learn to read effectively without studying phonics. To me it's absolutely impossible to make a good reader without studying the phonics."

Clarke argues the need of discipline in the schools of today, thinks the lack of discipline may have considerable to do with the way Johnnie reads. He states that he and his wife, who is also a teacher, are making a scrapbook of the Flesch story as serialized in The Courier-Journal. "We intend to read it carefully this summer and digest it thoroughly," he added.

A rural teacher who has success with teaching first-year pupils to read details her method of instruction. The story is introduced by pictures, the child associates words with the picture. Phonics are introduced when the pupil is ready for the basic primer, "Day In, Day Out." Only the sounds that the child is familiar with are introduced, though. Vowels are taught thoroughly in the second grade, consonants are too difficult in the second grade, she says. By the time the pupil is ready for the second grade, he is fast mastering the mechanics of reading.

This teacher, who asked to remain unnamed, tells about a child taught by this method and who had several brothers and sisters, all somewhat older than she, who learned to read by the word-sentence method. The child who had instruction in phonics was a better reader at the end of the first grade than her brothers and sisters in the fourth grade.

The rural teacher had several beginners last year who were instructed in the combination phonic-word method. Each child read nine books by the end of the term.

City Superintendent Chalmers Frazier disagrees with Flesch, says that Johnnie can read. Johnnie reads well and comprehends better than other Johnnies did decades ago. But, Frazier thinks, our spellers are not as good as formerly.

"We may have gone a little too far in our word recognition method and may have sacrificed spelling to some extent," the city superintendent says. "We use all methods, including phonics, here," he affirmed, speaking of the Prestonsburg school system."

Many think of Christianity as something only emotional. Apparently it has never dawned upon many that there is a practical side to Christianity.

Practical Christianity in the home is manifested by love and kindness. Practical Christianity in work is thoughtfulness.

Practical Christianity in play is fairness.

Practical Christianity in society is courtesy.

Practical Christianity to the poor is assistance.

Practical Christianity to the discouraged is encouragement.

Practical Christianity to the unfortunate is sympathy and pity.

Practical Christianity to the weak is helpfulness.

Practical Christianity to the bereaved is consolation.

Practical Christianity to the hungry is giving them food.

Practical Christianity to the wicked is resistance.

Practical Christianity to the penitent is forgiveness.

Practical Christianity to God is love and reverence.

COMBS' OPENING BIGGER THAN BARKLEY'S

Says Lexington Herald

Following is an excerpt from an editorial of The Lexington Herald, June 8, 1955:

"A SAVING GRACE"

Having attended both the Sixth District rally of former Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler at Winchester and the general opening of the campaign of former Court of Appeals Judge Bert Combs at Shelbyville last Thursday, we are inclined to chance a few observations concerning the Democratic primary that has now been fully opened.

As to crowd sizes, since previous comment has been made upon the attendance at the Chandler rallies, it may be said that the Shelbyville crowd that heard Judge Combs was one of the largest ever present at a political speaking in the state. His crowd at Shelbyville was larger than that which heard former Vice President Alben W. Barkley open his campaign there in the same Fair Grounds a year before. While nearby Frankfort and Louisville accounted for a large element in this crowd, there was a tremendous outpouring from Eastern Kentucky counties, especially those in the section from which Judge Combs was elected to the Appellate Court. These attest both the loyalty of the mountains to a native son, one of the most notable traits of Kentucky character, and the esteem for Judge Combs in his own part of the state. The weather on the night of his opening was ideal, and Lexington throughout the day heard the sirens of motorcades en route to the Shelbyville mecca. Along the way, especially those who went by Versailles, they might have thought they were seeing more Chandler signs on automobile bumpers, but on arrival in Shelbyville it was easy to see why, because there were literally acres of Combs cars there.

A careful count of the crowd by experienced political observers showed at least 15,000 persons from all sections of Kentucky were present at Shelbyville to hear Judge Combs open his campaign for Governor. This tremendous crowd and its enthusiasm indicates the snowballing sentiment which will elect for the first time in history a Governor from Floyd county.
