RC FAMILY AID PLANNED

Flood-Stricken Number Exceeds 1957, Survey Of Floyd-Co. Shows

Approximately 1,100 flood-stricken families in this county will receive assistance from the American Red Cross, it was announced this week by the local chapter. This is an increase of 75 families over those aided following the 1957 flood.

The Red Cross spent $520,000 on rehabilitation in this county six years ago and it is thought this amount will be exceeded slightly this year.

Workers are now visiting homes that were flooded and Mrs. F. L. Heinze, chapter chairman and Rev. Harold Dicks, disaster chairman, urge people who have registered to await these visits and not try to come to disaster headquarters here. Those who have not registered should come to the disaster headquarters before March 31. New applications will not be accepted after that date.

"We have about 1,000 applications," Rev. Harold Dicks pointed out, "and it takes some time to reach everyone, but flood caused needs will be met just as rapidly as possible. In working out a solution to a family's problems necessities are considered but not luxuries."

Those who received cots, blankets and mattresses during the emergency should, as soon as they are able, return this equipment to one of several centers: (1) Prestonsburg, Rescue Squad building; (2) McDowell, McDowell high school; (3) Martin, Martin Police Department; and (4) Garrett, Griffith's Furniture store.

Red Cross assistance is based on need, not on loss, and all help is an outright gift, not a loan, Rev. Dicks announced.

SAYS FEDERAL RULES GOVERN SEWER SETUP

MAYOR TELLS JOB DETAILS AT MEETING

Connection Charges, Property Easements Are Subjects Here

"The City Council did not make the rules and regulations governing this sewer project—the federal agencies taking a part in it did," Mayor George P. Archer told a gathering of about 50 persons last Friday night at a town hall meeting held at the grade school auditorium.

The meeting was held in the hope of explaining to property-owners the justice of the town's cause as it seeks easements over private property for the laying of sewer lines and as it fixes a connection charge of $75 from those joining the city sewer system for the first time.

"We were given a range of charges from $50 to $200 for making the connections, and we chose $75, although we were told we should make it higher," Dr. Archer said. "We know we will lose money at this price," he added. "If the lines were to be laid only four feet deep, we would make money, but some will be 14 feet and the average will be 7 feet."

The Mayor explained that City Council wanted to make the connection without charge. "But Atlanta said, 'No.'" All connections will be made by the city.

Turning to the matter of easements, he pointed out that it is necessary to cross some private property in order to complete the project. "There have been some vicious and ugly rumors going about, and some of the misinformation is out of our fault," he said, referring to the city's failure to make proper explanation of the entire undertaking. HUGE HEALTH JOB NOTED

D. Hall Announces 11000 Typhoid Shots Administered In Floyd

Approximately 11,000 typhoid shots have been administered by personnel of the Floyd County Health Department since the March 12-13 flood, Dr. Russell L. Hall, health doctor, said this week.

While this immunization drive was under way to prevent the spread of disease, other measures were being taken for the protection of the public health in flooded areas. Approximately 100 water wells were pumped dry and a 70% chlorine preparation was used to purify these sources of water supply.

Sanitarians also turned their attention to flooded school lunchrooms, commercial foodhandling establishments and grocery stores. Very high school lunchroom was checked before reopening. On Betsy Layne high school lunchroom was still closed as of Monday.

The fourth case of spinal meningitis was reported within the week as 16-year-old Kay Hamilton, daughter of Charles Hamilton, of Ter Creek, became ill. The child, convalescing at the Prestonsburg General Hospital.

Dr. Hall said there is no connection between any of the spinal meningitis cases reported. Nationally, it is a higher incidence of this disease this year. This, Dr. Hall said, means there are more cases. Scattered cases may result over succeeding months as a consequence, he added.

Latta Requests Projects On Urban Renewal Here Receive No Designation

Request has been made of E. Bruce Wedge, regional director of the Urban Renewal Administration, Atlanta, Georgia, that the two Prestonsburg urban renewal jobs applied for be designated disaster projects. The request, Clifford B. Latta, Prestonsburg attorney for the two projects, said, was made in view of President Kennedy's designation of this and several other Eastern Kentucky areas as disaster areas.

Ralph B. Davis, 58, Succumbs At Hospital; Was Heart Attack Victim

Mr. Davis had appeared to be in his normal state of health and news of his sudden passing came as a shock to friends and relatives.

A son of Mrs. Ollie Tiller Davis and the late Grover C. Davis, he was a native of Prestonsburg where he spent his entire life. At the time of his death he and his family operated a grocery store here. (See Story No. 4, Page 6)

LEAGUE SUIT IS DECIDED

By Court of Appeals; Judgment Is Rendered Against Former Justices

The 10-year-old Tax League suit against four former Floyd magistrates was decided by the Court of Appeals last Friday to the effect that the plaintiffs are entitled to recover approximately $17,000.

The opinion, written by Commissioner Waddill, held that the statute of limitations prevents recovery of funds prior to October 6, 1947, since the original suit was not filed till October 6, 1952.

Special Judge Lawrence P. Speckman held at the conclusion of the trial of the case that the defendants, Magistrates Dewey Roberts, Glenn C. Burchett, John May and Henry Stumbo, were indebted in the sum of $17,390 unlawfully paid during their terms of office from January 1, 1946, to December 31, 1949. This amount represented payment, his judgment pointed out, for supervision of county roads, for actual labor on roads and for attending fiscal court meetings not substantiated by official records.

Actually, Commissioner Waddill pointed out, magistrates were entitled under the law to supervision pay prior to June 19, 1946, the date when the Legislature's repeal of the law became effective.

Appellate court directed that the trial court enter a new judgment for those payments which it held illegally made the magistrates since October 6, 1947.

ABC LASHES AT OPPONENT

Attacks Sales Tax, Hits At Alleged State Waste; Martin Named Chairman

A. B. Chandler launched his Floyd county campaign for Governor at the May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, Saturday evening with a dinner and a speech, and was joined there by approximately 950 supporters. State Senator Burnis Martin, who was named Floyd campaign chairman, introduced the chief speaker and others.

True to form as a campaign maestro, "Happy" launched into laughing and provoking ridicule of his opponent and supporters and ended on a note of impassioned appeal to the voters to avail themselves of his long governmental experience by reelecting him governor for the third time.

Among those making short talks, or recognized by Martin, were Thelma Stovall, Ann B. Hall, Dr. Edward B. Leslie, Allen Slone, Eloise Allen, Walter Frazier and E. P. Grigsby, Jr.

"We are leading a crusade that will end in May with the greatest of all Kentucky primary victories," Chandler asserted confidently near the opening of his speech. Referring to the First Congressional District and specifically to Christian county, home of Edward T. Breathitt, his administration-supported opponent, he added: "We will carry the First District world without end, not giving him (Breathitt) even his home county."

"I pledge you flood control in Eastern Kentucky," he told his supporters. "I traversed your county today and it saddened my heart. When you say the flood threat is past the country will bloom again."

He recalled his friendship with the Kennedys, asserted that Con-

In accepting the Easter Seal chairmanship Reed said, "I am deeply honored to take a prominent role in the activities of the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children, the Easter Seal Society, a voluntary agency that has pioneered in helping crippled children for 40 years. I invite the volunteer cooperation of all residents of Floyd county to help the Society to aid as many crippled children as possible in 1963."

TEACHERS SET FUND DINNER

At May Lodge, Saturday; Combs Speech To Feature Event Honoring Efforts

Governor Bert T. Combs will be guest of honor and principal speaker Saturday evening at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, at the Teacher Appreciation Dinner sponsored by the Floyd County Teachers Association.

The $10-per-plate dinner is expected to be attended by 500 or more school system personnel, their wives and husbands.

Leaders of the move to pay honor to the Governor cited his staunch friendship for the cause of education and the advances effected during his administration. Said Sheriff Frazier, of Martin, chairman of the Association's Legislative Committee:

"We felt this is the least we could do to show our appreciation for the interest Governor Combs has shown in the children and the schools of Floyd county."

Governor Combs' speech at the dinner will be broadcast locally, the following day. The dinner will be at 6:30 p. m.

CONTROL JOB LESSENS LOSS

Engineers Set District Damages At $36,507,000 With Present Protection

U. S. Army Engineers' flood protection projects prevented damages which would have totaled $77,580,000 in the Huntington District during the series of floods in the first two weeks of March.

And, if the John Flannagan and Fishtrap dams in the Big Sandy headwaters, had been completed, the river crest at Prestonsburg would have been 10 feet lower, saving millions of dollars more. Col. Harrington W. Cochran, Huntington district engineer, said actual damage in this district totaled $36,507,000.

Natural damages—those which would have occurred without the benefit of reservoirs and floodwalls—would have been $114,087,000, Col. Cochran said.

Flood control reservoir benefits—in terms of damages prevented—totalled $54,499,000. Benefits from local protection projects, such as floodwalls, totaled $23,081,000.

BRIDGE REPLACEMENTS IN AREA AUTHORIZED

The Kentucky Highway Department has moved swiftly to replace bridges swept away by floods in Floyd, Pike, Letcher, Knott and Harlan counties.

Deputy Commissioner Robert D. Bell announced completed arrangements with four Kentucky contractors who specialize in bridge construction and repair.

At least 13 specialized crews are moving to the job sites now and all will be working this week, Bell said. Nineteen bridges will be replaced or repaired immediately. Others will follow as arrangements are completed.

"The urgency of the situation demanded the cutting of red tape and paperwork and this we have accomplished in order to get vehicular and pedestrian traffic moving again in Eastern Kentucky," he said.

The projects by counties and the contractors are as follows:

FLOYD—Suspension bridge at Knotley Hollow, Bailey-type bridge at Baptist Bottom Branch, near Garrett, and an I-beam span at Mare Creek, all by Mattingly Bridge Company.

PIKE—The Coal Run Bridge and the Mossy Bottom Bridge, both vehicle suspension bridges, by C. C. Hall Construction Co., of Paintsville; the Sutton Bridge and the Hatfield Bridge at Bent Branch by Mattingly Bridge Company of Louisville which has a heavy construction work load in Eastern Kentucky. The same company will also replace the pedestrian suspension bridges at Fords Branch near Boldman, and at Broad Bottom.

BERRY PLANTS ARE ORDERED

New Regional Setting Of 170 Acres Is Seen; Order Deadline Is Set

A total of 665,575 strawberry plants—enough to plant between 165 and 170 acres—have been ordered from the several counties of this area to be served by the Prestonsburg processing plant.

Because the weather has been unusually bad, it has been decided to take supplemental orders until April 3, County Agent Jack Friar said last week. These additional orders, he said, should be placed with Paul Martin at the First National Bank.

The initial order of 529,575 plants was made from this county last Wednesday. At that time it was found that two other counties of the area had sent in their orders for 136,000 plants.

GUILD TRAIN SLATED HERE

The two-car Kentucky Guild Train, the nation's first arts-and-crafts train to be put into operation, will be on a siding at West Prestonsburg for three days, beginning April 9. The demonstration car is equipped to demonstrate craft techniques in wood, metal, clay, weaving and print making. School groups and other groups interested in seeing a demonstration and having a gallery talk by the train's director, John Dillehay, can make an appointment by calling Mrs. C.

E. Roberts or Mrs. Calvin Herrick, Prestonsburg. Demonstrations for the public are given frequently during the day.

The train, two railroad cars converted to an art and craft gallery and workshop, is loaded with examples of wood objects from ancient Egypt to present day Kentucky. The exhibition, called "3,000 Years of Wood," includes sculpture, carving and craft objects. The exhibition is carried over into the demonstration car where the objects are mostly contemporary Kentucky objects.

This is the first in a series of three exhibitions that explore native Kentucky materials in some depth. The other two will cover clay and fibers used in various kinds of weaving. "3,000 Years of Wood" will give craftsmen of this area an opportunity to compare their work with that of other ages and cultures.

COOPER LEADS PARLEY HELD HERE TUESDAY

Work at Martin Seen But Smaller Streams Not in Present Plans

Flood troubles along the Big Sandy itself should be over, five years from now, but the threat of high waters will continue to hang over the heads of those living and working in tributary valleys.

So said Col. Harrington Cochran, district engineer, U. S. Corps of Army Engineers, Huntington, West Virginia, Tuesday when asked by U. S. Senator John Sherman Cooper to tell a courthouse gathering here what is being done toward flood control and what can be expected to be done in the future.

Senator and Mrs. Cooper, accompanied by Colonel Cochran, J. H. Guthrie, chief of the planning branch of the Huntington district office, Corps of Engineers, and Mr. Garish, of the Senate Flood Control Committee staff, stopped here during a tour of the flood-ravaged communities of Eastern Kentucky.

"This flood has aroused the interest and sympathy of the Congress," Senator Cooper commented. He admitted that those who have lost their belongings are entitled to be impatient, but pointed out that a great deal has been done since the flood of 1957. He cited the John Flannagan reservoir, now nearly complete, the Fishtrap dam and the small North Fork of Pound dam, under construction—$80 million worth.

Senator Cooper is the ranking member of the Senate Public Works committee and also is a member of the committee on Appropriations. A week ago, he said, he asked the Corps of Engineers to review flood control projects in the valley and requested that additional money be provided to reduce by a year the completion time on reservoir projects under construction. If it is found that the Corps of Engineers can make effective use of such funds.

"I believe we can get the additional money—I feel confident of that," he said.

The Carr's Fork reservoir in the Kentucky River basin is ready for construction, and the long-dormant Haysi reservoir project on the (See Story No. 9, Page 4)

Great Beliefs Study Set at Church Here

Big Sandy may get under way within a year, now that Senator Cooper's request for a review of needs has been made and the cost-benefit ratio formula has been altered.
Cooper said he "came down the Beaver Creek valley yesterday, and was shocked." The statement was evoked by an inquiry from County Schools Superintendent Charles F. Clark about the possibility of flood control help on Right Beaver Creek.
Colonel Cochrane replied to this inquiry:
"I think we can make a major improvement at Martin with a channel job, but for the entire stream there is nothing feasible at present except at Martin."
He added in long-range flood control planning a potential reservoir site has been selected at or near Wayland.
Asked by Otis Cooley, of Prestonsburg, about a levee north of the present "floodwall" here to protect the lower section of Prestonsburg, Cochrane said, "I don't think we could justify it, in the light of the protection you will receive from the dams upstream."
"Between now and then (the 1968 date set for completion of Fishtrap) we've got to keep our fingers crossed and say our prayers," the engineer added.
Completion of all projected dams in the Big Sandy headwaters will reduce the river crest by 15.8 feet, Col. Cochrane said, John Flanagan dam lowered the crest here this month by two feet and saved $1,200,000 damage, although its gates were not closed and it, as a consequence, retained only a fraction of its capacity. He said the floodwall saved Prestonsburg $1,500,000 damage.
Senator Cooper pointed out the sources of aid to meet the effects of the recent flood and paid high tribute to the American Red Cross. "They do a wonderful work," he said, pointing out that the Red Cross not only replaces household furnishings and clothing for those who are not eligible for Small Business Administration loans and are unable to help themselves but will also do minor home repairs.
At the conclusion of the discussions M. F. Hughes, of the Porter Addition here, rose to offer a suggestion which drew applause from groomman Carl D. Perkins was helping him.

Reviewing his record on education, he said that when he became Governor the first time he found the per capita support at $8, which he doubled. When he became Governor the second time he found the per capita $42 and he increased it to $50.
He alleged that in every speech Bert Combs made in his campaign he opposed the sales tax. Chandler declared that one-half of one percent of the bonus bond issue would have paid the soldiers. He said the sales tax was the "lowest" tax ever conceived by a tax collector. Its repeal would cost the general fund only $23 million unless there was a dip in the economy and if the economy rises repeal "may not cost a cent."
Charging that $6 million of the proceeds of the bonus bond issue was illegally diverted, he turned to the state park system and alleged that it lost $1,125,000 last year. Continuing on the theme of waste and inefficiency in the present state administration, he said Combs promised to reduce the state payroll but had increased it until it was now $4 million per month.
He charged that the floral clock at Frankfort actually cost $109,000, not $50,000 as stated. Becoming facetious, he said the clock required two nurse maids to keep the flowers fresh, "two fellows to watch," and added that when anybody in Frankfort asks the time, they look at the clock and give this typical answer: "It's two petunias past a Jimson weed."
He tore into the expense accounts of the present administration, said state personnel were "stealing by land, sea and air."
Charging that the state was now in debt $589 million, he urged voters to return him to the governorship for "I want nothing except to make a matchless contribution to my time and generation."
He promised to reopen the four United Mine Workers hospitals in Eastern Kentucky if they are closed and concluded by saying, "As long as I am above-ground I want you to use me, for I know your hopes and aspirations."

STRAWBERRY FERTILIZER

Strawberry patches should be fertilized now. This practice will add extra crates of berries to each acre. When you fertilize be sure to use a fertilizer that does not contain nitrogen such as 0-20-20 or 0-30-30. Use 700 pounds of 0-20-20 or 500 pounds of 0-30-30 per acre. The fertilizer should be broadcast over the entire patch when the plants are dry so the fertilizer won't stick to the plants.

He explained that property entered upon for the laying of lines will be restored, that lawns, paving, fencing, etc., are to be replaced in condition "at least as good as before." And, he added, the contractor is under bond to make good on this.

A representative of Bell Engineering Co., Lexington, corroborated this. He explained that the contractor will be filling ditches as rapidly as possible, for he will not be paid for the work till this is done and it is inspected and accepted.

Dr. Archer painstakingly reviewed the history of the project, pointing out that the progress of Prestonsburg is "zero till this project is done." Under the assumption that Prestonsburg would have a modern sewerage system and sewage disposal plant, he said, a line has been laid from May Lodge at Jenny Wiley State Park to Lancer; a low-rent public housing project to be served by the system is now under way, and sewer service has been promised the community college.

"We already have entered into three valid contracts. I don't see how we can get out of them," he said.

He explained that the State Health Department has given permission for the city to build the sewers from Lancer and to dump the sewage into the Big Sandy at Ball Alley here until the sewage disposal plant is completed and all connections with it have been made. The same arrangement will be sought for the lower section of Prestonsburg to accommodate the college and housing project while awaiting disposal facilities.

Inequities must inevitably result, it was conceded. The main part of Prestonsburg was cited as a section which will not get new sewers, although property-owners there will pay the extra water bill to retire the sewer bonds, the same as those who get new sewers. The old manholes will be trapped in that part of town, however, to eliminate the odor marking the area in time of drouth. Basements of approximately 20 homes will be below the sewer line level, and so pumps will be necessary for them, or sewage elimination from these basements will have to be discontinued.

The Mayor said that roughly 70% of Prestonsburg has no sewerage at all. Where septic tanks are in use the soil has absorbed almost all the sewage it will contain, Dr. Archer said.

Minimum amounts have been allocated by the federal agencies for easement purchases and if these costs rise to exorbitant figures, Mayor Archer said, the cost beyond the amount allocated will have to be paid by the taxpayers. "So," he said, "this would affect all, taxes would have to be raised to pay the bill, and we all would lose."

Goerge Mertz, resident engineer, will move to Prestonsburg shortly for the beginning of work. The Mayor and City Council met Tuesday night with the contractors.

"We will ask," Dr. Archer said in lighter vein at the town meeting, "that two crews begin working, one at either end of town, in the hope that, one day, they will meet, we can drive the golden spike—and all go down the sewer together."

Discussion during the meeting resulted from questions asked by Kay Akers, L. B. Moore, Arnold Compton and Glenn S. Anderson. Maps of the project were explained to interested persons by engineers.

MANY PERSONS ARE NOT INSURED FOR SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

E. B. Mallinay, district manager of the Social Security Administration office in Pikeville, advises that almost every week he has the unpleasant task of telling someone that they are not insured for social security benefits. Sometimes it is because they have not worked long enough in work covered by social security and sometimes it is because their employers have neglected to report their work.

"The Social Security Act was enacted 27 years ago last August, yet we still find an occasional employer who fails to file social security reports of wages for his employees," Mr. Mallinay said.

At present, all employment in commerce and industry is covered by social security, and there is no requirement that an employer have a certain number of employees. For example, a carpenter might employ just one helper; if so, he must deduct social security tax and report the earnings for social security purposes.

Each employer is required to keep a record for each employee of wages paid and taxes withheld. The employer should copy into his permanent records the names and social security numbers of his employees exactly as they appear on their social security cards. At the close of each calendar quarter the employer must prepare a quarterly tax return and report these wages for social security purposes.

The return must be filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue for the district in which the employer's principal place of business is located. The social security tax must be paid with these returns. It is important that wages be reported correctly and on time, since the old-wage, survivors, and disability insurance benefits payable under the Social Security Act are based on the individual worker's social security earnings record.

"We know that in the past some employers in Floyd county have failed to report wages correctly, and in some instances have just failed to report them," Mallinay said. "In either situation, the person who actually did the work and his family are being done an injustice. There is only one real solution, if you are an employer, be sure you keep a record of the wages paid to your employees and report them. If you are an employee, make sure that your employer has your social security account number and that he reports your wages. You should also keep a record of the employers you have worked for and any evidence you may have of this work. Check your social security at least once every three years to insure that your account is posted correctly."

Information on this subject or any subject concerning social security may be procured from the social security representative on any Tuesday at the Employment office here.

Four Break Into Safe, Find Nothing; Owner Had Discontinued Use

Four Kentuckians went to a lot of trouble Saturday trying to break open a safe—all for nothing. And they landed in jail, besides at Cereto, West Virginia.

Sheriff S. P. Noe identified them as Doris Floyd Anderson, 39, Danville; Darwin Morrell Scott, 50, Catlettsburg; Edgar Edminston, 40, Paintsville, and Hannibal S. Wheeling, Paintsville.

Officers working on a tip surprised the group at Ftanagan drugstore. The four had driven a steel pin into the safe and were within minutes of opening it, Noe said.

Mrs. Anderson and Scott were arrested on the spot. Wheeler and Edminston jumped through a window and a deputy caught Edminston after a two-block chase. Wheeling was arrested later as he appeared at a Huntington hospital for treatment of cuts. All were charged with burglary. The safe was empty, it was said.

ACTION NAMES BUILDING FIRM

State Employee, Hurt In Fall at May Lodge, Sues Lodge Builders

Injuries suffered by a state employee in a fall at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, day before its dedication September 22, last, resulted Monday in the filing of a $106,307.89 damage suit against Ervin and Allen Akers, doing business as Akers & Akers, contractors who built the lodge.

The plaintiff is Howard F. Smith, of Woodford county, who at the time of the dedication was an employee of the Gifts and Souvenirs Division of the Department of Parks. He claims that while he and others were setting up a gift shop in the lodge a stairway connecting the lower and upper levels of the lodge collapsed beneath him, hurling him about 10 feet onto the ground and causing head, brain and other injuries. Negligence and carelessness on the part of the contractors are alleged.

Smith claimed $50,000 for injuries, $50,000 for loss of earning power and $6,307.89 for medical, hospital and nursing expenses already incurred or anticipated. His attorneys are Joseph J. Leary and Thomas F. Marsha of Frankfort.

"To Mamaw and Papaw"

(Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lafferty, Sr.)

"Written Just for You"

I can remember my childhood, With Mamaw and Papaw so near. I wish I could relive those days, With them so sweet and dear.

I have my own family now, Which means the world to me. But Mamaw and Papaw's still in my heart, And I know they will always be.

Even though we're not together, We're so many miles apart. Mamaw and Papaw's still with me, Deep inside my heart.

They came to visit me last month, My heart was full of cheer. It meant so very much to me, For them to be so near.

The days passed so quickly, And I knew they must depart. I shed my tears of sorrow, Much sadness filled my heart.

I dream of them often, At night when I go to sleep. I dreamed of their leaving, I just had to weep.

I love them so dearly, No one could take their place. Soon I will be with them, And feel their warm embrace.

I plan a visit to their home, To be with them once more. I can see them both, right now, Waiting at the door.

Until then I must be happy, What ever must be, must be. I know God will keep them, Safe at home for me.

I'm so glad we have a memory, I thank our good Lord above. But most of all I thank our Lord, For my Mamaw and Papaw's love.

CHARLES CLARK, Supt. Floyd County Schools 3-21-31.

CITIZENS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

I would like to submit to you herewith my candidacy for reelection for Circuit Judge.

It is quite true I intended to retire at the end of this term, and so stated. However, the law at that time provided for retirement at age 60. In 1963 the law was changed to age 65. Circuit Judges have nothing to say about the age at which they can retire. The legislature determines that question, just like the miner's union determines the age at which miners retire, and like private companies have their individual retirement systems. I am now 58 years of age and feel that I have some more good years before me.

In connection with the retirement question, I should also tell you that the retirement law also provides that persons in my classification may at 60 become Special Circuit Judges at about 25% reduction in salary. This Special Judge's work involves being sent all over the state to try cases in which the regular judge is disqualified. I do not like this work away from home, neither does my wife. Furthermore, many local attorneys today make twice the salary made by Special Circuit Judges.

There are other reasons why I decided to seek re-election:

First, I would not like the situation of being a Special Circuit Judge, and there would be a period of eight months after this term before I would be eligible for that.

Second, and a most important reason, the BIG LIQUOR MONOPOLY is against me and has boasted that it is out to get rid of me. You people of Floyd county know a lot about this liquor situation, and I do not have to spell it out to you I want you to tell your neighbors the whole story and let's show them that the Liquor Monopoly cannot tell the people of Floyd county who their judge will be for the next six years.

A third reason I am seeking reelection is because of the BIG DEAL, engineered by a handful of would-be, big-shot politicians, some of whom were disgruntled because of cases I have tried, and in which my opponent was persuaded, against his own previously expressed plans and desires, to run for Judge instead of Commonwealth Attorney. Many months ago my opponent, Hollie Conley, voluntarily told me he would not run for Circuit Judge, but preferred to run again for Commonwealth Attorney because, as he stated, he had a nice super-market at Garrett, a good law practice, in addition to his salary as Commonwealth Attorney, and that he could do much better financially with his present arrangements than with the office of Circuit Judge. About Sunday night the ... of February, this little group of ambitious and selfish men worked out the BIG DEAL, whereby Mr. Conley would change his mind and run for Judge. Their idea was to get a Judge that would suit them. I did not suit them. Now, I have nothing against my opponent, Mr. Conley, but it is not good that your Circuit Judge be selected by this or any small group of disgruntled politicians. If he were your Judge, he would certainly have a great obligation to these men.

When I made the first race for Judge, I assured the people of the District that I WOULD NOT ENGAGE IN PARTISAN POLITICS. Rule 35 of the American Bar Association prohibits Circuit Judges from engaging in partisan politics. I have kept my promise to you in this respect, with the single exception of some traveling I did with my brother, Lon Hill, when he made the race for Representative. I believe that a Circuit Judge should not dabble in any political affair. He should be able to give a square deal to every litigant and to every person charged with crime, regardless of whether he is colored or white, rich or poor, Democrat or Republican, pro-Breathitt or pro-Chandler. If re-elected, I shall continue to keep out of any and all political entanglements; to not obligate myself to any person, politician, or organization, and not to have any bosses or favorites lurking in the shadows of the courtroom.

As to the present Governor's race, let me assure you, here and now, that I shall have nothing whatever to do with the race, not even to the extent of attending any political rally, on either side. That race involves the Executive branch of our state government. My race is in the Judicial department. Our Founding Fathers wisely provided that they be separate and distinct, and I shall follow their mandate.

Some of these politicians have been boasting around the corner drug store that I am afraid to make this race. To this I would say, I was born and nourished in Floyd county. My ancestors have been here since long before the Civil War, and my great-grandfather, for whom I was named, was sheriff of Floyd county, before the Civil War, and now sleeps on a point in Prestonsburg, overlooking the fine new bridge at the north end of town. I

I love Floyd county and its striving people. They are entitled to the best. So far as being afraid to run is concerned, I am not afraid of anything that walks upon this earth, more especially a selfish politician or group of them.

I'm all alone in this race, with no politician obligated to me, nobody for me but the PEOPLE. This is your fight, for the welfare of yourselves and those you cherish. I call upon all of you to join in this crusade for a time-tested Judge, for a court free of political domination, where the law may be enforced impartially, and where mercy may be shown when deserved.

Respectively,
EDWARD P. HILL

COMBS, WYATT VISIT REGION

Helicopter Delivers Fuel, Water and Oil To Flood-Ravaged Town

Before the Big Sandy crested here at 46.8 feet, shortly before noon last Wednesday, Gov. Bert Combs, Lt. Gov. Wilson W. Wyatt, Assistant Adjutant General W. R. Buster and other state officials arrived by helicopter for an on-the-spot view of the situation.

At that time the fight to keep the water out of the business district and all the southern section of town was considered won, with the floodwall holding the water out. From Patton street, north, however, water had invaded homes and businesses.

From here the Governor and his party flew to Martin on a mercy mission, delivering water and fuel oil by helicopter, then continued their inspection tour of Pikeville, Hazard, the Beaver Creeks and other hard-hit areas.

From the time the first wave of disastrous flood waters hit 20 counties in Eastern Kentucky last week, every possible state agency worked on the scene to evacuate people and rush in vital supplies to others trapped by the swirling waters.

With the experience of the 1957 and 1962 floods behind it, Kentucky's Civil Defense headquarters in Frankfort was in constant radio contact with the C. D. mobile communications center, first moved to Jackson in Breathitt county and then to Harlan. Ham radio operators and local radio stations in several completely isolated towns exchanged information with the C. D. radio van and provided the towns their only contact with the outside.

Standing by at the C. D. headquarters in Frankfort were officials of several departments of state government—Agriculture, Health, Highways, Public Safety and others—to dispatch aid on the spot. Four Army helicopters, plus Highway Department trucks, were utilized to rush food, water and medicine, and to evacuate refugees when necessary. These actions were coordinated at the C. D. headquarters.

State and local health officers in several counties mobilized to get vaccines, medicines and other medical supplies to the stricken area. Three state health engineers checked water supplies and brought in chlorine compounds to help purify polluted supplies. The Department's Sanitation Division checked food supplies for contamination and inspectors from the Food and Drug Division were dispatched to food processing plants and drug stores.

As water receded and mop-up operations were begun, Highway Commissioner Henry Ward predicted that the cost of repairing roads and bridges will run into millions of dollars. More than 100 bridges were washed out in Harlan county alone. State highway crews were out with bulldozers to clear roads of mud and debris to make them passable. Ward said that the Department's repair program budget is already strained by the past winter. Every effort will be made, he said, to divert more funds to the recovery operation in Eastern Kentucky.

Other recovery operations were initiated from Frankfort as Governor Combs wired top Congressional committee chairmen to take immediate action on flood-control projects for Eastern Kentucky. "We will make maximum use of every state and federal program available," the Governor said. "But we know these must be reviewed to be effective in this unusual case where every program has already been extended to the maximum."

Two groups of officials from several federal agencies visited Eastern Kentucky last week. Governor Combs accompanied one group on Friday. Included in the party were Rep. Carl Perkins, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture John Baker, Edward McDermott, director of Emergency Resource Planning for the national Civil Defense office; Robert Shea, vice-president of the American Red Cross; and representatives of the U. S. Small Business Administration, Public Works Commission, Corps of Engineers and other agencies. The group attended public meetings at Hazard and later at Pikeville to advise localities on immediate flood recovery procedures and to learn from homeowners, businessmen, public officials and others the extent of damages and what additional programs might be put into action.

Lieutenant Governor Wyatt had accompanied a similar group of federal officials on the previous day, but conferences held later in Washington indicated the need of more intensive information on the 20-county disaster area, hit doubly by recurring floods and continuing economic problems.

I pledge to you that I WILL SEEK THE TRUTH, FOR THE TRUTH IS THE FOUNDATION OF THE AMERICAN LAW. I will investigate all crimes vigorously with the intent to PROSECUTE the guilty and PROTECT the innocent.

I will not use the power of the office of Commonwealth's Attorney to abuse people or seek personal revenge.

Your friend,
HAROLD STUMBO
Democratic Candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney (Pol. adv.)

PLAN STUDY OF HOSPITALS

Dr. Rosenfeld Retained To Examine Institutions Scheduled for Closing

An authority on hospital operation will make a study of the four United Mine Workers' hospitals in Eastern Kentucky and make recommendations of possible ways of keeping them open. The union has announced its intention of closing the hospitals by July 1.

Dr. E. D. Rosenfeld, New York City, has been retained by the United Presbyterian Board of National Missions to make the study. The missions board hired Dr. Rosenfeld after agreeing to cooperate with Kentucky State Government officials in exploring ways of solving the hospital problem. The hospitals are located at McDowell, Hazard, Whitesburg and Middlesboro.

At a Frankfort meeting with state officials, Dr. Rosenfeld said his analysis of the hospital operations will include such items as financial and administrative structure, professional and non-professional staffing, nature of services to be offered, and community support required.

State officials at the meeting included Health and Welfare Administrator Felix Joyner; John Whisman, special assistant to the governor; Health and Welfare Administrator Earle V. Powell and Health Commissioner Dr. Russell E. Teague.

Former Floyd Couple Observe Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Olson recently celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary with an open house at their home, Oak Lawn Farm, near Plano, Illinois.

Mrs. Olson is the former Elymas Anderson, daughter of Mrs. Mary Jane Anderson, of McDowell, and the late Melvin C. Anderson.

The table was decorated with a white lace tablecloth over silver. Silver candles were on each side of the cake. The cake was all white with a silver heart on the top of the four tiers and a centerpiece of red carnations and white pompons.

Miss Zelma Anderson, of Chicago, sister of Mrs. Olson, poured coffee. Among the friends and relatives who brought many gifts and congratulations were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stumbo and family, now living at Plattville, Illinois, where Mr. Stumbo is principal of the grade school. Piano selections were played by Miss Mary Lynn Vance, Mrs. Olson's niece.

OPERATION EASTERN KENTUCKY . . . Eastern Kentucky State College, Richmond, sent three truck loads of clothing and food to the stricken flood areas last week. One truck was unloaded at the Allen Community Fire Department and distributed through Floyd county churches by Rev. Cohen Campbell (right). Shown are Pvt. Johnny Bottom, National Guardsman driver, James E. Tackett, member Allen Fire Department, Carl Woods, Eastern faculty member.

East Point Teacher Awarded Fellowship At Cornell University

Calvin K. Gray, of East Point, a teacher at Prestonsburg high school, has been awarded a Shell Merit Fellowship to Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., for the summer of 1963.

These fellowships were established at Cornell University in 1956 by the Shell Companies Foundation, to help improve instruction in high school chemistry, physics, and mathematics, and, at the same time, to recognize meritorious teachers in these fields.

As a Shell Merit Fellow, Mr. Gray will enroll for a special course in the department of chemistry, physics, and mathematics. Another phase of the program will be devoted to application of science and mathematics in research and development. Guest scientists and mathematicians will be available to discuss special topics.

Gray received his B. S. degree at Morehead State College and his M. A. degree in Physical Sciences at Marshall University. He is a member of the Phi Chapter, Kappa Delta Pi.

Carrots, cabbage, mushrooms, dry onions, sweet potatoes, rice, radishes and potatoes are the more plentiful vegetables this month.

AREA AIDED BY EASTERN

Floyd, Clothing Sent By College To Flooded Sections

Eastern State College, Richmond, is doing its bit to alleviate some of the suffering wrought by last week's flood. Three trucks, each loaded with two and one-half tons of clothing and food, were sent into the area Tuesday.

One truck, accompanied by Carl Woods of the Eastern faculty, arrived at Allen Tuesday afternoon and the food and clothing were stored in the Allen Fire Department building. Distribution was being made Wednesday to churches in the stricken areas under the direction of Rev. Cohen Campbell, pastor of the Allen Baptist church.

A committee of nine faculty officers were appointed by President Robert R. Martin to spearhead the campaign, which included a comprehensive plan of "door-to-door" solicitation in the dormitories, classroom buildings, faculty and administrative offices, and in Brockton, married student housing project, and a plan of raising clothes and canned food for the distressed area.

Several student organizations also made contributions as gifts from their respective club or group. Among those volunteering were The Eastern Progress and the Milestone—Eastern's student publications, the Caduceus Club, pre-medical club, and several county clubs. The college R.O.-T.C. raised nearly $400 last Friday at their corps period.

The college will continue receiving clothing and food this week, and, if a surplus exists in the cash raised by the drive, it will be spent to purchase similar items for distribution to another area in Eastern Kentucky, according to Feltner.

Floyd Telephones Hit By Severe Flood Damage; Facilities Are Restored

Guy Hisle, local Southern Bell Telephone manager, reported that in the counties of Floyd, Johnson and Martin a total of 1,090 lines and 3,270 telephones were out of order due to the flood waters of last week. Floyd county had 738 lines and 2,214 phones out of commission.

To initiate the fastest possible repair of all damaged facilities, 38 telephone installer-repairmen, linemen and foremen were sent into this area from Louisville, Winchester and Frankfort on March 14 and 15.

Leroy Warren, group plant manager, reported that these and all local men have been on a rotating, near 24-hour emergency schedule as soon as high water began receding.

Mr. Hisle said that as manager and as representatives of all the telephones employees of this area he would like to thank everyone who had telephone service interrupted for their patience and understanding in bearing with the company unit all service could be restored to normal.

He added that the company also greatly appreciates the fine assistance extended by the local Civil Defense authorities. The help they gave in transporting stranded employees to and from work aided considerably in keeping the main arteries of the area's communication open. "We expect to have telephone facilities restored to normal by Wednesday night," Mr. Hisle said.

WINTER ROAD DAMAGE SET AT $15,000,000

Frankfort, Ky., March 7 (Spl.).—Winter damage to Kentucky roads and highways may reach $15,000,000, Highway Commissioner Henry Ward said today.

"With the spring thaw just beginning, following one of the severest winters on record, we know that damage already has been very heavy and can estimate that it will increase," Ward said.

Preliminary estimates from each of the state's 12 district offices indicate widespread damage already to both main highways and rural secondary roads.

The twelfth district, with offices at Pikeville servicing seven counties, including Floyd, reported estimated damage of $1,300,000.

"All districts will report damage approaching or exceeding that amount," Ward said.

The next few weeks are critical ones for highways. The thawing subsoil under the routes tends to make the surface very unstable and subject to damage from below as well as from above by heavy vehicles.

Weight load limits have already been reduced on hundreds of routes throughout the state in order to lessen the damage. Also no overweight permits will be issued until March 18, Ward said.

Severity of the winter is indicated in the cost of ice and snow control to the Department. Almost $500,000 worth of salt alone has been bought or contracted for. More calcium chloride, which is used in ice-snow control as well as for stabilization purposes, has been bought than in previous years.

Cost of salt, calcium chloride and labor and equipment for clearing the roads this winter has already exceeded a million dollars.

Additional periods of ice and snow will increase this figure, as will any spring flood damage.

"With this year's winter damage alone about five times that of many previous years, we can only ask Kentuckians to bear with us until we can put the roads into the best condition possible with the funds available," Ward said.

"We realize that we have damage beyond our control and that some citizens will be inconvenienced, but we will do our best to get repairs made as soon as possible," he said.

She is Mrs. Barbara Harkins Wiechers, daughter of Mrs. W. S. Harkins, III, 15 Highland Avenue, Prestonsburg. A graduate of Prestonsburg high school and a senior in the College of Education, she is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

A student must earn a 3.5 standing or better, based on a 4.0 grading system, to be placed on the Dean's List.

36 days that proved Ford's total performance!

RIVERSIDE, CAL. January 20

In a total performance test of brakes, suspension and steering on the twisting Riverside sports car course, Dan Gurney drove a Ford hardtop to victory over 43 other stock cars. The 500-mile grind demonstrated Ford's superior stamina and road-holding.

MONTE CARLO January 23

The '63½ Falcon V-8 Sprints made their debut with a fantastic showing in the 2,500-mile Monte Carlo Rallye. Through Europe's worst winter weather they placed 1st and 2nd in class. Besides this . . . one Sprint defeated every entrant in the Rallye's six special stages.

PURE OIL TRIALS January 27

In a competition designed to test all-around performance, Fords were overall winners in Class I and Class II in the Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona. Their total performance design added up to most total points in gas economy, acceleration and braking events.

DAYTONA, FLA. February 24

Daytona "500" history was made when '63½ Fords blazed into the first five places! Since Daytona is the toughest track in the world, this was eyewitness proof that Ford's total performance design can endure the maximum in automotive punishment.

... and here are the 63½'s that gave total proof of Ford's durability and handling!

You may never see a competitive auto event. But at 30 mph on rain-slick blacktop, in the close-packed rush of 5 o'clock traffic, on a twisting mountain road, the results are important to you. On every slippery surface you need the kind of roadability that placed five Fords out front in the Daytona "500." On every busy cross street—you want the brakes that won on Riverside's sports car circuit. Your engine will hold up better through years of tumpike use because it's as beautifully balanced as Falcon's Monte Carlo V-8's. The winning competition car is bound to be a great road car—and Ford is the big winner!

If it's Ford-built, it's built for performance — total performance

Saturday Last Day To Register To Vote In Primary Election

Frankfort, March 25 (Spl.).—Saturday, March 30, is the last day to register to vote in the May 28 primary election, Gov. Bert Combs has reminded Kentuckians.

"Whatever your political allegiance," the Governor said, "it is your duty as a good American and a good Kentuckian to register and cast your vote for the candidate of your choice."

Prospective voters 18 years of age or older must meet these residence requirements as of May 28—one year's residence in the state, six months residence in their county and 60 days residence in the voting precinct.

Combs appealed especially to young voters who are now eligible to vote for the first time. He noted that 17-year-olds can also register and vote in the primary election, if they pass their 18th birthday by November 5, date of the general election. These voters must also meet the residence requirements as of May 28 and may not vote in special elections, such as school board races, until their 18th birthdays, he said.

Raspberries Give Good Returns

Raspberries offer a good return in home plantings and they bear the second year after planting. Although many varieties are adapted to Kentucky use, most areas of the state do not grow enough raspberries to supply their own needs.

Former Knott Official, Native of This County, Succumbs At Age of 88

He was a son of Elisha and Polly Griffith Wallen and had resided at Hindman more than 60 years. In early life he was a teacher, and, in addition to the elective offices which he held, he was postmaster at Hindman. He retired from public life about 20 years ago.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Margaret (Girle) Wallen; two sons, W. W. Wallen, Prestonsburg, and Wallace Wallen, Louisville, and six daughters, Mrs. Gypsy Elkins, of Lackey, Miss Hazel Wallen, Washington, D. C., Mrs. Oakla Smith and Miss Joyce Wallen, both of Hindman, Mrs. Helen Gibson, of Jackson, and Mrs. Doris Stumbo, War, West Virginia. He also leaves 15 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral rites were conducted March 8 from the Hindman United Baptist Church, the Rev. Archie Everage officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery at Hindman.

Mandt Asks Caution By Workers As Mines Reopen After Flood

A. H. Mandt, Commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals, has issued a safety warning to coal miners who are returning to their jobs following the long period of mine idleness as a result of the recent flood waters.

Mandt reported that safety records show that a large number of mining injuries occur when men return to work after a lay-off. Some of these accidents result from conditions which arise when a mine is idle for a short time, but most of them happen because the miner has been idle and will not work in a safe manner until he has been on the job for several days, Mandt said.

Mandt cautioned the miners to make an examination of their working places when they enter the mine and to continue checking the roof throughout the shift.

DeROSSETT For CIRCUIT CLERK

This is my first time to ask the good people of Floyd county to entrust to me one of the highest offices in Floyd county, but I assure you that my background, qualifications and Christian training will be an asset in discharging the duties of Circuit Clerk.

In addition to the normal duties, I will promote a driver training program in every Floyd county high school. Such training can save you money on insurance premiums. One reason so many young people are killed on our highways is a lack of proper driver training.

As an extra service of my office I will send all drivers a 30-day notice that their licenses are about to expire.

I invite you to enquire of me. Ask my friends, my neighbors, my business associates, any one who knows me well.

If I win it will be on my merits, not shortcomings of any of my opponents.

Ockerman Refutes Denial Of Chandler On Leasing; Photostats Are Shown

Foster Ockerman, state campaign chairman for Edward T. (Ned) Breathitt, has challenged A. B. Chandler's denial that he leased state facilities to political friends while governor.

In a television appearance on a Louisville station last week, Ockerman showed photostatic copies of two leases bearing Chandler's signature. He charged that these leases were made to Chandler's friends for "their own personal gain."

Ockerman said Chandler granted the leases in direct violation of a 1955 campaign pledge. And now, Ockerman added, as his "most glaring misrepresentation," he is denying that the leases ever existed.

Chandler, during a recent visit to Wickliffe on a tour of Western Kentucky, was questioned by a newsman about the park leases. "There's nothing to it," he was quoted as saying.

One of the leases Ockerman showed was made to Mrs. Joyce Weddington for oil and gas rights in Natural Bridge State Park. She is the wife of Joe Weddington, of Prestonsburg, a partner with Chandler in the insurance business.

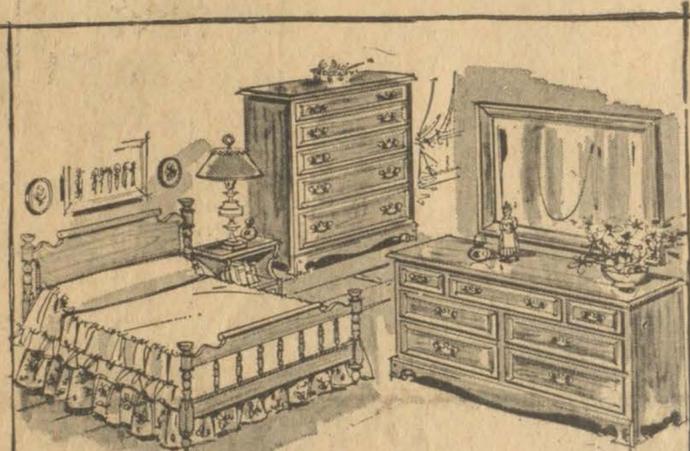

Another lease bearing Chandler's signature was made to Sheriff Ralph Smith, of Livingston county, who served as county chairman for Chandler in 1955. He is holding that same post during the current campaign.

Smith's lease was for the camping area at Kentucky Dam Village State Park. Ockerman said the state got only $3,943 for that lease in 1960. But last year, with the camping area back in state operation, Ockerman said records show the state grossed $50,233.

Mrs. Letta Jasper, UK Extension specialist in consumer marketing, gives these hints for egg care. Left-over egg yolk can be kept two to three days; to store, simply cover them with a small amount of cold water to close off the air, and refrigerate. Leftover whites may be placed in an air-tight container and refrigerated for as long as a week. Always keep eggs in the refrigerator until ready to use because room temperature causes rapid loss of egg quality.

JARVIS ALLEN ANNOUNCES FOR COMMONWEALTH'S ATTY.

I have decided to become a candidate for the office of Commonwealth's Attorney in the Democratic Primary election to be held May 28, 1963.

I have talked to numerous citizens and voters in this county and believe that they want to vote for a candidate who is independent and free to enforce the law by prosecuting all crimes and criminals that may come before the circuit court, without fear, or being influenced by any politician, political group or faction.

I do not believe that the citizens of this county will agree for a group of local politicians to dictate who shall serve as public officials in Floyd county, especially when their motive is to gain control of all law enforcement and remove any opposition to organized crime in which they may be interested.

I am sure the citizens of this county know that I have always done exactly what I believed to be right and that no politician has ever been able to persuade or influence me to do otherwise.

Numerous citizens of this county have stated that I was too honest to be a politician. I have never desired to be a politician but I firmly believe that no man can be too honest to serve in a public office.

If elected Commonwealth's Attorney I will prosecute all criminals that may come before me, on an impartial and equal basis, regardless of wealth, political power, race or color. I firmly believe every man should have equal rights as guaranteed by the United States Constitution and will do all in my power to see that such rights are protected.

As a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney I do not intend to take an active part in any other race, either local or state. I firmly believe that it is my duty as a candidate to confine my actions to my race and allow the citizens and voters of this county to decide for whom they will vote in other races. I will vote for those candidates that I believe will best serve my county and my neighbors, and I believe others will use the same guide in casting their vote.

I have always voted and fought for what I thought was best for my county. In 1955 and 1959 I did everything in my power to help elect a local Floyd county man to the office of Governor.

My announced opponent, Harold Stumbo, did everything in his power to prevent the election of Governor Combs. Maybe he has an explanation and can justify his motive in making the misleading statements on television against Governor Combs in 1959.

I was admitted to the bar in 1932 after serving four years as County Court Clerk. I have been practicing law for more than ten years. During the past three years as Trial Attorney for the Department of Highways I have appeared before a jury in the trial of cases in the circuit courts in more than half of the counties in the state of Kentucky. I feel that such trial experience qualifies me to handle the prosecution of cases that may come before the court.

JARVIS ALLEN
 (Pol. adv.)

I pledge to you, the citizens and voters of this county, that if elected to the office of Commonwealth's Attorney I will do everything in my power to suppress crime and to make Floyd county a better county in which to live. I will be in a position to work with and aid any official, person or group interested in reducing such crime. On this basis and pledge I earnestly solicit the vote and support of all voters of Floyd county.

Kentucky's First City To Be Named In Contest; Prestonsburg Competes

Seven Kentucky cities are in competition to be designated "Kentucky's Number One City" for 1962 through the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce Community Development Program.

The winning city will be named Tuesday, April 9, at the Awards Luncheon during the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce annual meeting at the Phoenix hotel in Lexington.

The seven towns—Prestonsburg, Campbellsville, Flemingsburg, Liberty, Sturgill and Somerset—have all been declared winners in their own Congressional districts.

He noted that more than 80 Kentucky communities had entered the 1962 competition and the district winners were selected earlier in the year.

With every section of the state properly represented, it should be one of the most interesting contests held through the years by the State Chamber, Harry Huethen, Lexington, state C. of C. president, said. "This year," he said, "communities were judged 70% on beautification and 30% on other aspects of community development."

CONFERENCE NAMES WELLS NET COACH OF THE YEAR

Jack Burkich, principal of Whitesburg high school, was elected president of the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference at the loop's annual spring meeting in Hazard this week.

Named vice-president was Roy T. Reaser, principal of Fleming-Neon, and Arthur Mullins, veteran Elkhorn City athletic director, was retained secretary-treasurer for the eighth consecutive year.

Outgoing president Jim Caudill, of Hazard high, presented the 1963 league basketball championship to Elkhorn City, which posted a 5-1 loop record. Wheelwright and Hazard tied for the second place trophy with identical 4-2 standings.

Jack F. Wells, Prestonsburg high school basketball coach, was selected as the league's basketball Coach of the Year. The trophy is presented annually to the coach doing the best job with his material. Dickie Everidge, Fleming-Neon high star, was tabbed as the league's basketball player of the year.

The baseball division was divided into two sections. In one are Pres-tonsburg, Wheelwright, Pikeville, Belfry and Elkhorn City, while the other is comprised of Hazard, Whitesburg, M. C. Napier, Fleming and Jenkins. Each division must complete its tournament play prior to May 1, then the two division winners will meet at a site to be determined by them for the league championship.

The team advancing furthest in the regional track meet will be declared the track champion for the year. The track meet will be held in Prestonsburg or Elkhorn City.

Players named to the all-conference basketball team at the meeting in Hazard were:

A. J. Davis, Hazard; Wayne DeBoard, Prestonsburg; Jerry Anderson, Pikeville; Danny Ray Hall, Wheelwright; Dickie Everidge, Fleming-Neon; Donnie Phipps, Elkhorn City; Bob Belcher, Elkhorn City; Floyd Hatfield, Belfry; Jerry Coats, Whitesburg; R. D. Jones, Whitesburg; Phillip Greer, Jenkins; C. Conley, Jenkins; B. Jones, M. C. Napier.

Hoover Says Fishin' Good for Politics

All men are equal before fish, says former President Herbert Hoover in "Fishing for Fun—And to Wash Your Soul," a new book on America's most popular sport, being published this month by Random House, Inc.

The April Reader's Digest excerpts several passages from Mr. Hoover's book under the heading, "In Praise of Fishing." They exemplify his dry humor and warm-hearted philosophy.

On the need to go fishing, he says: "When you are full up of telephone bells, church bells, office boys, columnists, pieces of paper, and the household chores—you get that urge to go away. Going fishing is the only explanation in the world even skeptics will accept."

On fishing as it relates to politics: "No political aspirant can qualify for election unless he demonstrates he is a fisherman, there being 20 million persons who pay annually for a license. A press photograph showed my friend, the late Senator Taft, awkwardly holding a common fish . . . I knew without other evidence that he was a candidate. Some years ago my friend General Eisenhower burst into photographs gingerly holding three very common fish. The augury was positive.

"The political potency of fish is known to Presidents as well as candidates. In modern times all Presidents quickly began to fish soon after election. I am told that McKinley, Taft, Wilson and Harding all undertook fishing."

On the universality of fishing: "We have made stupendous progress in physical equipment to overcome the mysteries of fish. . . we have arrived at the high state of a tackle assembled from steel of Damascus, the bamboo of Siam, the silk of Japan, the lacquer of China, the tin of Bangkok, the nickel of Canada, the feathers of Brazil and the silver of Colorado . . . But is there any less time between bites?"

Mr. Hoover fished as a boy in Iowa and later in Oregon, California and elsewhere in the West. In recent years, he has favored the Florida keys, usually headquarters at the Key Largo Anglers Club. He has also fished abroad.

Jack F. Wells, local Black Cat mentor, was selected by the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference basketball coaches as the "Coach of the Year" at the league's annual spring meeting in Hazard this week. The likeable veteran received a huge trophy emblematic of the honor.

Wayne DeBoard, Prestonsburg's only senior cager, and Wheelwright's top-flight junior Danny Ray Hall, were both unanimous choices for the all-loop basketball team.

You will find more diversity of opinion on the place of the crappie in sport fishing than on that of almost any other fish. Some bass and trout fans yawn at the mere mention of his name, but a huge number regard catching crappies as grand sport.

As a fighting fish, a crappie's considered quite inferior to a bass or a non-hatchery trout of fair size. However, for reasons that are hard to understand, the fighting characteristics of crappies vary widely.

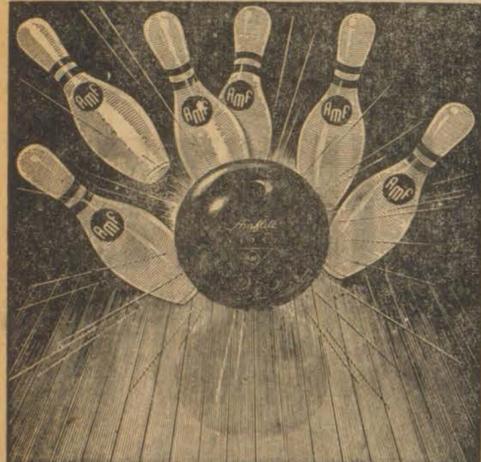

In some places, they give a poor scrap; in others, quite a good one. Yet, in spots where most of those you hook fight hardly more than a bullhead, you'll occasionally connect with one that actually puts up a faster, stronger fight than would a much larger bass, although he doesn't put on the aerial acrobatics of a bass or trout.

Here's another peculiar thing about crappies:

In some places they thrive so well and breed so rapidly—a large female can produce at least 150,000 eggs at one time—that it's practically impossible to fight them out. Indeed, it would be desirable to remove a lot of them, so that those remaining won't be stunted by lack of sufficient food.

In other spots, comparatively light fishing can make fishing for them very poor. A certain lake in the north that had been closed to fishing for several years to let the crappie increase and attain a fair size, was reopened. It had fine fishing for only a couple of months or so, after which it again went bad because the crappies were too few and too small.

In the opinion of many anglers, including Jason Lucas, Angling Editor, Sports Afield Magazine, the most real sport with crappies is when they're in the shallows as these first warm up. Of course, this happens far earlier in the southern states than in the northern, so fishermen in the south should be getting ready to have fun. In the extreme northern states, few crappies will be found in the shallows until May, and some will come in considerably later; indeed, if it's a cold spring, you may not find good shallow-water fishing until the end of June. But in any case, don't turn your nose up at these unpredictable fish.

Q.—It is my understanding that waters are now being impounded by the Nolin River and Barren River U. S. Corps of Engineers Dams. Are those impounded waters closed to fishing? If not, what creel and possession limits apply? J. R. B., New Haven, Kentucky

A.—Water is now being impounded at the Nolin River dam, and impoundment will be started at the Barren River No. 2 dam this summer. Fishing is legal at either place and the impounded waters may be fished. As of right now, the statewide creel and size limits apply to these bodies of water, but it is possible that these limits may be changed by the Department in the near future. The changes which are anticipated would be designed to protect the fish to the degree that a spawn would be assured for next spring.

B.—How long may rabbits killed during the past season be held in a deep freezer? R. B. B., Louisville, Kentucky

A.—Rabbits or other wild game may be held in deep freezers for 90 days after the end of the legal season.

Q.—May a shotgun be used for hunting groundhogs? W. H., Warsaw, Kentucky

A.—Yes, shotguns may be used in hunting groundhogs. However, a hunting license must be held by the hunter. Not many groundhog hunters use shotguns to bag their game due to the fact that it is difficult to get close enough to the wary "Whistlepig" for the gun to be effective.

Save Our Schools!

The Chandler-Waterfield article in last week's Times was intended to confuse the voting public about what the Sales Tax had done to enable our school administration to build several buildings which our children deserve. Their article told us that what they knew about school management and school finance was NOTHING—NOTHING.

They hinted that the Save Our Schools Committee and Superintendent Clark were not interested in the welfare of our children. Don't they know that through Mr. Clark and the teachers' efforts the most complete rural school lunchroom program in all of Kentucky was established here in Floyd county? Does that sound as if we are not interested in every underprivileged child in our county? Teachers contributed over $4,000.00 to the Community College fund. Does that show that we have no interest in your child?

If the candidates had really listened to what our Superintendent said at the dedication of the beautiful John M. Stumbo School on Mud Creek and if they wanted to be truthful they could have told you that he said: "Under the tax program before Combs the Mud Creek building would have been the last building we could have built for several years but thanks to the extra money we are getting from the state under the present tax program we are able to sell bonds for the construction of a Vocational School, a fine Consolidated School for Middle Creek and plan a new grade school for Wheelwright."

The truth is that the Floyd County School System is getting over one-fourth million dollars more each year to use for buildings, grounds, heat, lights and payments on bonded indebtedness than we had before Combs became Governor. The truth of this statement can be checked by writing or calling Division of Finance, State Department of Education, Frankfort, Kentucky.

This $250,000.00 more income from the state Sales Tax enabled our school board to sell enough bonds to build the new buildings. Of course we can pay off the bonds with our share of the Sales Tax. That was the purpose of the additional money. If exemptions are made to the Sales Tax we may have to stop the building program where we are because we would lose our $250,000.00 share of the tax.

The Floyd County School System spends over $3,000,000.00 per year and only about one-sixtieth of that money comes from county real estate and franchise taxes. Without the state's contribution of five out of six dollars we spend which comes from Frankfort we could not even afford the upkeep on the old buildings we already have. You must remember that we all pay the Sales Tax, teachers, preachers, miners, doctors, lawyers and all others including candidates for Governor.

The just thing about this tax is the fact that the man who has the most of this world's wealth spends the most and pays the most Sales Tax.

We school people are not politicians but we do know that the future of every child hangs in the balance in this election. Chandler cannot cut $32,000,000.00 off the Sales Tax and keep from crippling the chance your child has to get the type of education he so rightly deserves.

Kentucky and Floyd county are beginning to move forward to give all our children a better education than we had. Please don't stay here or turn backward. Pray for the answer to this question; Are our children worth the Sales Tax we pay? We who teach, love and guide your children know that their chances for a quality education rests with a young man who wants education to go forward, not backward. That is why we support Ned Breathitt for Governor. He has sworn to support our forward program.

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky
By JOE JORDAN
(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week Col. Roy S. Cluke, commanding about 750 troopers of Brig. General John Hunt Morgan's Confederate cavalry division, was in a desperate situation. Setting out February 14 from McMinnville, Tennessee, on a raid to the Blue Grass Region of Kentucky, the Rebels had been continuously in enemy territory since crossing the Cumberland River the night of the 18th.

They had taken Somerset February 19, then successively had captured Mount Vernon, Richmond, Winchester and Mount Sterling, the last-named place on the 23rd. They had been driven out of Mount Sterling by a brigade of the Union Army on the 25th, had recaptured the town February 27 and held it until March 8, when the approach of a vastly superior Federal force had caused Cluke to withdraw and seek refuge in the hilly eastern section of Montgomery county, around Howard's Mill.

Pushed south from there, but still in Montgomery county, Morgan's men had set up an ambush at Picklin's tannery, but the enemy detected it and began an envelopment, so the raiders retreated across Menifee county to Hazel Green in Wolfe county. They hoped to join up with 3,000 Confederates under Brig. Gen. Humphrey Marshall who were supposed to be marching from Virginia into Kentucky by way of Pound Gap. An outbreak of a strep-tococcal disease, erysipelas, disabled a majority of the command and at one time Cluke had only 300 men fit for duty.

Capt. Calvin Morgan, one of the five brothers of Gen. Morgan in the Confederate service, volunteered to carry a message to Gen. Marshall. He rode off alone to traverse "the wild country between Hazel Green and Pound Gap, a country infested with a crowd of ferocious bushwhackers," as one of his superior officers described it.

When the first erysipelas victims recovered and returned to duty, Lt. Col. Robert G. Stoner led a detachment which rode back across Menifee county into Montgomery, demonstrating at various points over a period of several days, throwing the enemy off balance and gaining more time for those still sick at Hazel Green. After Stoner's return, threatening movements by Union pursuers forced Cluke deeper into the mountains. The Confederates rode east and took up a defensive position on the Middle Fork of Licking River, near Sulzersville in Magoffin county.

There was still no word from Gen. Marshall. Cluke now found himself virtually surrounded, for his scouts reported some 1,500 of the enemy had gained his rear, about 1,000 were advancing from Louisa and 800 were at Proctor in Lee county.

The Confederacy, published at Atlanta, in its issue of March 15 gave an accounting of the number of Kentucky units in the Confederate States Army. The story said there were ten Kentucky regiments of infantry, ten regiments and several additional battalions of cavalry, and five batteries of artillery.

One hundred years ago this week a Confederate force under Brig. Gen. Humphrey Marshall attacked Federal troops south of Louisa and drove them back upon a larger Union Army contingent. When the advancing Rebels found out that the retreating enemy merely had been falling back upon its main body and that the latter was of formidable size, they withdrew and avoided further fighting. Marshall had entered Eastern Kentucky from Virginia by way of Pound Gap; it was with his command that Col. Roy S. Cluke vainly had tried to make contact during the preceding two weeks, when Cluke's Confederate raiders were being hard pressed by superior Union forces.

Meantime, however, Cluke had got out of his desperate situation by a forced march and had gained freedom to maneuver by defeating the Union garrison at Mount Sterling. Now he received orders from Brig. Gen. John Hunt Morgan to return to Confederate territory and join up with Col. D. W. Chenault's regiment of Morgan's division in the vicinity of Albany, Ky. Cluke accordingly rode south and crossed back over the Cumberland River at the same place he had crossed it more than a month before when he had begun his raid behind enemy lines. He returned with 18 more men than he had when he set out, having picked up more than enough recruits to make up for his slight losses.

On March 24 a Confederate cavalry brigade under Brig. Gen. John Pegram occupied Danville, but marched south when threatened by a force under Brig. Gen. Quincy Adams Gillmore, commander of the Union Army's District of Central Kentucky. On the 25th Col. Cluke detached a battalion under Major Theophilus Steele and sent it to Pegram's aid. On March 30 Pegram halted at Dutton Hill, near Somerset, and turned to fight Gillmore. Pegram was defeated after five hours of fighting, having lost 250 men, most of them by being taken prisoner. Gillmore lost only 60 in killed, wounded and missing.

Major Steele's battalion of Morgan's men won high praise for the manner in which it covered Pegram's retreat and held off the enemy while his shattered brigade crossed the Cumberland River and escaped toward the south.

During the week under review, Federal military authorities in Kentucky initiated a new policy which in time would add greatly to the resentment which many Kentuckians already felt toward the Lincoln Administration, including a good many of those who had sided with the Union and were influential in keeping the Commonwealth from seceding. Union Army officers began impressing slaves and putting them to work at digging intrenchments and performing other labor for the army.

As it happened, the first Union Army officer who had to execute an order to impress slaves was Col. Sanders D. Bruce of Lexington. His sister Rebecca, who had died in 1861, was Gen. John Hunt Morgan's first wife. Bruce made the first draft in Bourbon county, and put the impressed men to work in Fayette county.

Aspirin Bottle Invites Tragedy for Children; 125,000 Are Poisoned

The little, white tablets in the family's aspirin bottle could be as dangerous to your child as the fangs of a rattlesnake.

Innocent looking as they are, aspirins account for about 125,000 of the annual poisonings of children under six. Prof. Richard M. Doty of the University of Kentucky College of Pharmacy, says about 500,000 children under six are poisoned annually.

Half of them are poisoned by taking too much, or unprescribed, medicine; one-fourth of the total are poisoned by aspirins. Of the total poisonings, 50,000 to 100,000 receive hospital emergency room care and about 500 die.

Dr. Charles A. Walton, also of the UK College of Pharmacy, points out that many household substances not marked with the familiar skull-and-crossbones are hazardous or may have a corrosive effect on the body if they are taken internally. Such common products as lye or laundry bleach, he says, may incapacitate one for life.

Professor Doty says one of the most serious breaches of poison safety occurs when parents put paint, bleach or other harmful substances in containers a child might associate with a pleasing flavor. Paint thinner in a soft drink bottle, he declares, is like waving a red flag in front of a bull.

It isn't possible to lock up an entire household, the UK professor concedes, but insofar as possible all poisons, medicines and strong materials such as weed killers should be kept safely out of children's reach.

East Kentucky Recruiting Trip Planned; Schedule At High Schools Is Told

Congressman Carl D. Perkins announced last week that the U. S. Department of Labor had completed arrangements for its spring personnel recruiting trip into Eastern Kentucky. The following schedule will be followed in the Prestonsburg area by the team from the U. S. Department of Labor in conducting entrance Civil Service examinations for graduating students:

Tuesday, April 30, Prestonsburg high school; May 1, Mayo State Vocational School, Paintsville; May 2, Wheelwright high school; May 9, Betsy Layne high school.

The conduct of special examinations was initiated by the Department in Eastern Kentucky in recent years at the request of Congressman Perkins. The scheduled meetings, in addition to conducting Civil Service examinations, will furnish information for graduating students on job opportunities in the federal service.

Don't let leather items become oversold before sending them to the cleaners. Inspect the garment before you have it cleaned. Look for signs of wear, rips, tears, loss of buttons or closures, stains, irregularities or skin defects. Call these to the attention of the cleaner.

SPRING CLEANUP PUSH SET TO START, APRIL 4

An early spring push to make Kentucky a cleaner, greener land will be launched simultaneously in each of Kentucky's 120 counties on April 4. Meetings will be held at 7:30 p.m. that day at each county courthouse across the state.

Robert Montgomery, assistant State commissioner of conservation and director of "Make Kentucky a Cleaner, Greener Land" program, said the meetings will be devoted to planning a "vigorous effort in cleaning up trash and improving property" during Clean-Up and Beautification Month set for April 15 to May 15.

"We want to do an even better job this year than last year when Kentucky won the Keep America Beautiful award because of the outstanding efforts and cooperation of groups all over the state in clean-up and beautification efforts," Montgomery declared.

He pointed out that such efforts not only make Kentucky a more attractive place to live but also help attract out-of-state tourists.

The Kentucky Federation of

Homemakers Clubs will spearhead the movement and be responsible for setting up the county courthouse meetings. Gov. Bert Combs will send letters to all county judges and mayors asking for their help and pointing out that "this is one program in which everyone is interested in since it is so important to the future economic growth of Kentucky and it must be worked on at the local level."

Wendell Butler, State superintendent of public instruction, will ask the cooperation of all school superintendents, and urge them to see that all school grounds and buildings are kept clean.

Tom Maxedon, Louisville, executive secretary of the Kentucky Petroleum Council and chairman of the state committee on the Cleaner, Greener Land program said the Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation and many other groups have agreed to participate in the statewide program.

CLEANING GARMENTS
Lexington, Ky.—Leather trim on garments and leather-fabric combinations often are seen on the spring fashion scene. Leather can be a cleaning problem when combined with fabric, so use special care when choosing and caring for such garments, recommends Dorothy Threlkeld, UK Extension clothing specialist.

MARTIN FOR STATE SENATOR

Without any solicitation from Senator Martin, we take this means of bringing to the attention of the general public and the Democratic voters of this county the immediate need of having Burnis Martin return to the State Senate to represent the people.

His record in the state senate for the school teachers and the schools, for the establishment of the college in Floyd county and his record in the state senate of having never voted wrong on a labor issue should especially endear him to the Democratic voters of this county.

Senator Martin has had four years experience in the State Senate, would make a strong candidate in the two Democratic counties of Floyd and Knott, and knowing his way in and around Frankfort and the maneuverings of the legislative process, the Democrats should all unite and get behind Senator Martin and return him to the State Senate where he can be of great benefit to the people.

If you want a man you can have confidence in, a man who will stand and fight for the interests of the common, laboring class of people, a man of experience and unquestioned ability, a man who, at the last session of the legislature, was named by a poll of the newspapers as an outstanding Legislator, I urge all Democrats and Republicans alike to get behind Senator Martin and request that he run for re-election.

THE BIG SHAKEDOWN of SCHOOL TEACHERS

The "SAVE OUR SCHOOLS COMMITTEE" working in cooperation with the Superintendent of Schools have gone all out to get our schools FURTHER INVOLVED IN POLITICS. Following is one of many letters going to teachers:

Dear Teacher,

I know you are aware of the importance of the proposed K.E.A. Legislative program for 1964. It is vital that we understand and support this program if we are to keep what we have gained in the field of education.

So that everyone of our profession may be fully informed and that we may become united in our efforts, Mr. Clark has made it possible for us to have a short meeting at which our Delegates who went to Louisville will preside and give us this vital information. It is of grave importance that you attend the meeting nearest you, Monday, March 11, 1963, at 1:00 p.m. Meetings will be held at the following places:

- Prestonsburg Graded School
- Betsy Layne High School
- John M. Stumbo Elementary
- Garrett High School
- McDowell High School
- Martin High School

To make our Spring Associational meeting a little easier, come to these sectional meetings prepared to pay your annual membership dues ($1.00) for the local association. Your membership card will be mailed out to you. This will save a lot of time and worry at the Annual meeting.

You will find these sectional meetings very informative and all to your interest. See you there.

Sincerely,
GOLDIA P. SHORT, President
FRANKIE S. BEST, Secretary

This letter was misleading, in that it did not explain that the meetings to be held were for the purpose of selling $10.00 tickets for a dinner to be held in honor of the Governor. Now the dinner doesn't cost $10.00 as we all know—then WHAT and WHERE is the balance of the funds to go, since your local School Board is not having a race. Could it be the surplus funds are to go for many needy flood victims or for some candidate running for Governor, WHO WANTS THE FULL TAX ON YOUR FOOD, CLOTHING AND MEDICINE?

You will note the time of all meetings was 1 p.m., by arrangement of your Superintendent. Is this fair to the pupils, who have missed so much school and now going on Saturdays—EXCEPT on this coming Saturday. A letter has gone out that credit for the day will be given if you the TEACHER attend a meeting at Prestonsburg Graded School at 4 P.M. SATURDAY, BUT NO PUPILS WILL BE IN SCHOOL ON THIS DAY. Another way to give you a day hoping all will pay his $10.00 for a ticket.

Much is said about the teachers raise—we would like for your Superintendent to tell you at this dinner, how much raise he and one of his assistants received and WHY was the increase made RE-TRO-ACTIVE—Had he forgotten to take the increase when all other salaries were fixed?

Many teachers have purchased tickets that need the money to repair and replace flood damage—but were afraid next year would mean NO CONTRACT OR A TRANSFER.

LESSER FIGURES ARE REPLACING BOONE IN STATE HISTORY

Frankfort, Ky., March 4 (Sp.)—Lesser known figures are replacing Daniel Boone and Abraham Lincoln as the favorite heroes of many Kentucky youngsters.

Ever hear of Lewis Craig or Jesse Spencer?

Young members of the Washington Junior Historical Club, Washington, Kentucky, will tell you that Craig figured prominently in the founding of Mason county.

In Eastern Kentucky, another club of history-minded youngsters investigated the life of Jesse Spencer, a Confederate scout who is buried with his family near Jackson in Breathitt county.

Some 2,200 Kentucky youngsters, both elementary and high school age, are delving into the history of their localities, learning about the early settlers of their counties and the origin of the county names, among other projects. One club in Pikeville studied the area's history and came up with a design for a Pikeville flag.

The Barren County Young Historians, of Glasgow, are searching old deeds and church records to reconstruct each of their families' backgrounds.

Field trips to historic sites are also popular with club members of all ages. Fifth graders of Arlington school, Lexington, are planning to visit several places of interest in the Blue Grass area. Seventh and eighth graders of Butler Junior High School, Louisville, have scheduled a four-day jaunt into Western Kentucky which will include My Old Kentucky Home at Bardonia, the Lincoln National Historical Birthplace Site, at Hodgenville, Audubon State Park in Henderson and other places of interest.

Members are also encouraged to visit state shrines on their own. (Their membership cards entitle them to free admission to all state shrines.)

Now numbering 70 chapters throughout the state, the clubs belong to the Young Historians Association of the Kentucky Historical Society. Most chapters are organized in schools and sponsored by a history teacher or other faculty member. Some are sponsored by church groups, by county historical societies or individual citizens.

Members also receive two publications which correspond to the Communicator, a monthly newsletter, and the Register, a quarterly journal, both published by the Kentucky Historical Society in Frankfort.

Student members contribute to the junior publications and the emphasis is on original research into old deeds, court records, newspapers, etc.

The young history buffs will get together at the Kentucky Historical Society headquarters in Frankfort on April 19 for their first statewide meeting. Like their senior counterparts, the youngsters will visit the museum and library at the Old State House, then meet for the presentation of awards for the outstanding local chapter and the winning entries in their annual essay contest.

If Kentucky youngsters are becoming more interested in local history, so are their parents. The number of local, active historical societies has grown from 25 to 35 since October when Charles L. Atcher joined the state society as its first staff member for the state at large.

Atcher travels over the state promoting the young historians' clubs by day, and spends his evenings encouraging their parents to participate in the county-level groups. Newly organized recently are local societies in the counties of Barren, Cumberland, Daviess, Grayson, Henderson, Laurel, Pike, LaRue, Nelson, Russell, Scott, Warren, Washington and Estill.

In December, the Warren County Historical Society became the first local historical group to affiliate with the state society. Since then the county historical societies of Henderson, Simpson and Hardin and the Eastern Kentucky Historical Society, Prestonsburg, have also become affiliated. As more local groups combine their efforts with the state society, Atcher hopes to utilize a speakers' bureau to provide fresh material for the county groups. Eventually, he hopes that each local society will write a concise, accurate history of its area, as a contribution to keep interest in Kentucky history alive.
