This Town... That World

For two cents I'd leave this column where I should this week—undone. That idea comes from the advice I once heard, running to this effect: "When you don't know nothin', don't say it."

BIRTHDAY COMIN' UP
Glancing at the masthead of last week's Times, I was reminded to-day that, come October 24, the aforesaid publication will observe its 36th anniversary. If you want to help us celebrate the occasion, you all come visitin'. But I can't at this moment tell you whether I'll be up the lake or down.

Do you suppose white bass haven't done too well in Dewey Lake because blacks were there and they don't like the idea of integration?

POPULAR LOCALLY, ANYHOW
Reference to fish and such reminds us that one of the more popular appointments made by Governor Combs is that of Sam Garnett, of Hazard, as Seventh district member of the Fish & Wildlife Commission. Mr. Garnett succeeds Roscoe Davis, also of Hazard, veteran member whose term expired.

WE LIKE 'EM ALL
After visiting Pine Mountain and Cumberland Falls State Parks recently, we're less ready than ever to declare any one park the finest. The nice thing about this parks system is, you find such wonderful variety. What one doesn't have, the next one has, and move over to the next and you'll find something neither of the others possesses. Why in the world anybody would want to drive hundreds of miles for (See Story No. 2, Page 2)

NEGOTIATIONS IMPASSE SEEN

Pipe Size Snag Cause, Superintendent Says; Added Drilling Viewed

The Floyd County Board of Education and the Prestonsburg Water & Gas Commission may have reached an impasse in the negotiations toward an agreement whereby the new Middle Creek elementary school would be supplied water from Prestonsburg.

County Superintendent Charles F. Clark said Wednesday that the board of education is willing to pay the cost of four-inch pipe from Prestonsburg to the school but that it will not be responsible for the six-inch pipe the water and gas commission had asked. Four-inch pipe, the board holds, is large enough to supply the school, and any size larger than that would merely permit the city to serve customers living along the route followed by the line.

The water and gas commission had offered to lay the line to the school at its expense. Negotiations for possible city water service at the school began after two water wells drilled at the school failed to yield a volume of water sufficient to meet anticipated needs. "We'll drill till we do get enough water," Clark said. "I'm not greatly worried about it."

"COMMITTEE OF 500" READY FOR RUM FIGHT

GROUP ASKS CITY COUNCIL COOPERATION

Start in Prestonsburg With Law Enforcement, Is Suggestion Offered

The Committee of 500 is no myth. It exists in Floyd county, is at work, is adding members, and Wednesday night made demand of the Prestonsburg City Council that the mayor, chief of police, police judge and all other officials charged with the administration of law take necessary measures to eliminate bootlegging in Prestonsburg. "Lake Drive in Prestonsburg is notorious everywhere for its bootleggers," read the statement prepared to the Council by John Roberts, attorney employed by the Committee of 500. "This blight on Prestonsburg must be eradicated. . . . The law is on your side and you should have little difficulty in cleaning up Prestonsburg if you desire."

The Council discussed the statement and the situation here, then voted to accept the committee's request. These excerpts from the prepared statement presented at the Council meeting were cited by a leader on the committee as representing the purposes of the organization: "The Committee of 500 is a group organized by religious, business and professional leaders of Floyd county whose purpose is to abate the menace of organized bootlegging in this county. The organization is headed by a group of dedicated Floyd citizens who are a cross-section of its social, cultural, economic and professional fabric. It has no political overtones or any personal motivation other than the desire to make this county a better place to live in."

"We propose to be militant and aggressive in our purpose and we pledge to bestow no favoritism on any person or group in our campaign to destroy the nefarious traffic in whiskey. We are geared to employ legal counsel and to promote a campaign to solicit, demand and impose upon our public officials a compliance with the laws. We, being Floyd citizens, view no better starting place than our county seat, Prestonsburg."

The entire statement presented to the Council was adopted by the committee's board of directors at a meeting held August 12. (See Story No. 1, Page 2)

ALLEN GROUP SEEKS FUNDS

Community Firemen Urge Public Contributions To Pay Indebtedness

The Allen Community Fire Department will open a drive Friday evening to pay off an indebtedness of $5,176.52. It was announced this week by Graham Burchett, president. The Allen organization owes Sutphin Fire Fighting Equipment Co. $500 and $4,676.52 at The Bank Josephine. The department released a statement of receipts and disbursements this week showing that from January 26, 1962, to July 31, 1963, it had received $16,577.37. Assets are listed at $17,116.87. Net worth is set at $11,940.35. This financial report covers the entire operation period of the department.

The report summarized the history of the organization, noting that it was organized by a group of public-spirited citizens in January, last year. The first truck was bought April 20. The first meeting in the new building constructed through volunteer help and public contributions was held December 7.

"As a result of many hours of planning, regular weekly meetings and good organization the Kentucky Inspection Bureau announced just recently that our fire protection area would receive a ninth class rating from its department which would reduce the insurance rate on dwellings and later on houses by a considerable margin," the report said.

Burchett commented that all of the progress made by the department was attributable to the voluntary contributions of the public.

"You can rest assured that your money has purchased the very best in fire fighting equipment available," he added.

Wilbur Haver serves the department as fire chief with Charles Phillips as assistant. Twenty-three volunteers serve the organization.

STREET GRANT IS POSSIBLE

Fitzpatrick, Reed Learn Of Left-Over Aid Funds; Initiative Needed Now

Returning here last week from Washington where they conferred with Community Facilities Administration officials, H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr. and C. Alan Reed expressed the opinion that if sufficient local interest is shown both the street and water improvement projects proposed for Prestonsburg can get federal assistance. The Prestonsburg men were accompanied by Congressman Carl D. Perkins in calling on Community Facilities, and there it was learned that the library project here and other Kentucky jobs were ready for approval.

It was learned that funds will be left over from a previous appropriation and that the people who drive the hardest will get this money for local improvements.

Senator John Sherman Cooper, they said, expressed the opinion that Prestonsburg should stress its water improvement work hardest, because it is more in line with the program envisioned by the Community Facilities Administration.

District 37, Grand Lodge of Kentucky, F. & A. M., will hold its annual meeting at the Flat Gap elementary school, Saturday, Flat Gap Lodge No. 616 will act as the host lodge.

All Master Masons and their wives are invited to attend, and enjoy a full evening of Masonic entertainment and fellowship. A buffet dinner will be served from 6:00 to 7:30 (E.S.T.) The open business meeting will begin at 7:30 in the school gymnasium. Elmon B. Davis, district deputy grand master, will preside over the meeting.

Deputy Grand Master, Dr. John E. Dawson, will be the principal speaker. Many other Grand Lodge officers will be present.

District 37 is composed of the 11 lodges in Johnson, Martin and Floyd counties. Three door prizes will be given.

WOMAN REVISES STORY OF JOHN MAY SLAYING

What purports to be new evidence has entered the case of Deputy Sheriff Troy Mullins and Marion Martin, who have appealed two-year pen sentences imposed upon them in the slaying last year of Ex-Magistrate John May.

Entering the case is a statement claimed to be that of Katherine Martin, star Commonwealth witness in the trials of the officers here. In the two trials Miss Martin testified that she was present in the kitchen of the building on Cow Mountain where May was killed and that May was shot as he turned toward the officers upon being spoken to by one of them. That testimony claimed he did not fire a shot and did not have his revolver in his hand.

A statement, signed "Katherine Martin" and dated June 10, 1963, at Columbus, Ohio, gives this version of the shooting, however: "I, Catherine Martin, state that I am the same Catherine Martin that testified at the trial of Troy Mullins and Marion Martin, charged with the offense of murder in connection with the death of John May on Cow Mountain in Floyd county, Kentucky. On the evening that John May was killed, he made the statement that they will probably be after me and if they take me they will have to take me with my toes sticking up. He John May laid his sun on the table and when Troy and Marion walked in John May reached for his gun, so it is in his hand and fired a shot. I do not know who fired the other shots.

"No matter what law officers came there that night there would have been trouble. Johnnie would have killed them and they him."

The first part of the statement explains that it was made at the woman's request, "without the promise of any favor from anyone."

The signature was witnessed by Junior Martin and Hollie Conley. The statement apparently was not notarized.

Commonwealth's Attorney Hollie Conley was a patient this week at a Pikeville hospital.

COMBS TALK SET AT PARK

Retarded Child Council Slates Radio Auction; Operation Funds Needed

The sixth annual fund drive featured by a radio auction through the facilities of Radio Station WPRT will get under way Monday evening, September 2, at 6:30 with a dinner at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park. Governor Bert T. Combs will deliver the kick-off address.

Tickets are now on sale at various business firms in the county for the dinner, it was announced this week by Mrs. Dora Stephens, of Radio Station WPRT. All proceeds from the dinner and from funds raised in the auction will go to finance the schools sponsored by the Floyd County Retarded Children's Council. The auction will start following the dinner.

The Council has three classes scheduled again this year. Two will be in session at Martin and one at Prestonsburg.

Mrs. Stephens, in commenting on this year's fund drive, said: "The Floyd County Retarded Children's Council has a heavy financial burden to defray expenses for the three classes, and only the generosity of the public in the past (See Story No. 3, Page 2)

BOYS AND 'VACATION PARENTS' WOULD SHUN TIME OF PARTING

Mr. and Mrs. Little, David and Donald pose for a picture in one of their quieter moments.

August 30 is a date toward which the two boys who have been their guests, the youngsters have made many friends in the county, and their departure has been praised by their acquaintances. Many children who are wards of the state at the Kentucky Children's Home do not have relatives or parents whom they can visit during summer vacation. It is pointed out that the summer home program which places such youngsters in private homes, where they are welcomed, not only helps the children learn more about family living but also helps toward finding free and sometimes adoptive homes for older children.

In 1961 Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Ellis, of Prestonsburg, participated in the Department's summer visitation program. Jenny, a nine-year-old girl, became very dear to them and their neighbors during her three-month stay, and she was not too happy when she had to return to KCH.

HALE PLANS DEATH PROBE
Young Miner Succumbs To Head Injury, Said; Rites Slated Friday

Sheriff Henry C. Hale said Wednesday that he will investigate the fatal injury of a youth on Tom's Creek, near Ivel, which had not till that morning been reported to authorities here.

The victim, 19-year-old Charles Eddie Garrett, may have been an accident victim, the Sheriff was told. One report received by him said that Garrett and another young man were fighting last Friday and that Garrett was pinned to the ground by the other when a younger Garrett brother swung a piece of timber, which apparently was aimed at his brother's antagonist. This report says that as the timber was swung Garrett surged from beneath the other, with the result that the blow was received on his head.

The injured youth was first taken to Our Lady of the Way hospital at Martin, then to St. Mary's hospital in Huntington where he died Monday.

The victim was employed as a miner. He is survived by his parents, Amos and Audrey Goble Garrett, and the following brothers and sisters: Donald Ray, Paul, Lester, Scotty, Michael, Gary and Diane Garrett, all of Ivel, and Mrs. Ruby Jean Stratton, of Stanville.

Funeral rites will be conducted Friday at 10 a.m. from the home of Arthur Crider at Stanville by the Revs. Isaac Stratton and Carl Crenshaw. Burial will be made in Davidson Memorial Gardens at Ivel under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

HILL NOTES ASC ELECTION

Voting Is Scheduled To Pick Administrators Of Floyd Farm Program

County and community committees who will administer ASCS programs, beginning October 1, will be elected by farmers in September, according to announcement by H. T. Hill, chairman of the Floyd County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

In order to have the greatest possible participation by farmers in the election, farmers will cast ballots for their nominees at a polling place designated in each ASCS community. September 23 has been set as the date elections will be held and farmers may cast ballots at the designated polling places at any time between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Mr. Hill, as chairman of the county committee, pointed out that every effort will be made by county committee-men, county committee-men and farmers to see that the most active farmers, who are best qualified for community committee work and who will be representative of the various sections and type of agriculture in the community, are nominated and elected. The community committee in each community will determine a list of not less than six nominees. Additional nominees may be selected to be placed on voting ballots by petition signed by six or more eligible voters. These additional nominees must be received by the ASCS office not later than September 3.

Any farm tenant, operator or owner of legal voting age may vote in the community elections if he is now participating or is eligible to participate in any of the farm programs administered by the county ASC Committee.

As in the past, the county committee will be elected in a county convention to be held at the county ASCS office on September 27. Persons elected as chairmen of the community committees will assemble and elect a county committee, according to Mr. Hill.

Allen Pre-Med Student Suffers Head Injury; Condition Is Critical

Victor E. Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris E. Mitchell, of Allen, is in critical condition as the result of injuries suffered Saturday when he was struck by a crane in the shipping department of the Inland Steel Company, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Head of the small shipping department at Milwaukee for Inland Steel, Mitchell was on an inspection tour, operating a small, electrically driven cart when he swerved at a doorway to avoid an obstruction. At that moment the crane fell onto his head.

He suffered a brain concussion and crushed facial bones. His condition was listed as critical. He did not lose consciousness, however.

The 21-year-old Mitchell is a pre-med student at Marquette University in Milwaukee, and would have been a senior at the coming term.

POTTER SEEKS GUNMAN CLUES

Paintsville Physicians' Homes Struck by Bullets Fired by Unknown Person

Identity of the person who fired rifle bullets into the homes of Dr. Paul B. Hall and Dr. E. G. Skaggs, well-known Paintsville physicians, the night of August 12 remains unknown.

Dr. Potter, of Prestonsburg, Tuesday after leading a investigation into the shooting. Potter was assisted in the probe by State Trooper W. Williamson, also of this county.

A .22-calibre rifle is believed to have been the weapon used by the unknown gunman. The same calibre weapon was used about six weeks ago when front windows of the Community hospital at Paintsville were shattered by shots.

Two shots were fired into Dr. Hall's home, about 9:30 p.m. About four hours later, three bullets were fired into the Skaggs home. One of the bullets which entered the Hall residence barely missed Mrs. Hall, it was said.

The Community hospital, which was shot into a few weeks ago, is owned by Dr. F. M. Picklesimer.

McGUIRE SHOT ACCIDENTALLY

By Allen County Youth; Loss of Eye Threatens City Councilman Here

Tom O. McGuire, Prestonsburg city councilman and member of a local contracting firm, is in a Nashville (Tenn.) hospital suffering from wounds received early Monday morning in Allen county, near Scottsville, Kentucky, in a hunting accident.

Loss of an eye is threatened, a report received here said. Mr. McGuire was hit by a shotgun charge fired by a 16-year-old youth at distance of about 40 yards, eight or nine shot striking him in the head, face and chest. One shot reportedly entered his nostril and ranged into his head but did not penetrate the brain. Another lodged in the outer lining of a lung.

The youth who shot McGuire was not a member of the Prestonsburg squirrel-hunting party. It was said that the boy fired as McGuire raised from his position to warn the other of his presence.

The youth later told a brother of what had happened, and McGuire was taken to the Nashville hospital. The report received here indicated that the shooting was an accident.

In the Prestonsburg hunting party, which had separated upon reaching the woods, were two of the wounded man's brothers, Frank and Darwin McGuire, and B. M. Thompson.

Hall of Fame Slates Annual Meet At Park

The Floyd County Hall of Fame will have its eighth annual meeting, August 31, at 5 p.m., at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park. It was announced this week.

In preparation for the meeting, at which new members of the Hall of Fame will be announced, the board of directors will meet this evening (Thursday) at the lodge. Dr. George P. Archer is president of the organization, which had its initial meeting in 1956.

CONSTRUCTION WORK SLATED IN 3 MONTHS

Building To Be Erected Adjacent To Structure Housing Board Offices

Congressman Perkins wired The Times, Wednesday, that an accelerated public works grant in the amount of $91,640 has been approved for sewage treatment and an interceptor system for the town of Martin. Entire construction cost there will be more than $158,000, it was said.

Congressman Carl D. Perkins announced in Washington Monday that the Floyd County Library Board will receive from the Community Facilities Administration a grant of $69,600 to cover the federal government's part of the cost of construction of a library building here.

Total cost of the structure is placed at $120,000, with $100,000 of that amount actual building costs. Construction of the building is to begin within three months and provide 570 man-hours of labor.

The building, which will house the Floyd County Library and the Eastern Kentucky Regional Library, will be erected on a lot acquired from the Floyd County Board of Education which formerly was used for parking. Construction of the library will leave the entire old Prestonsburg high school building for board of education offices and facilities.

The library structure will be of contemporary design and will include 9,000 square feet of floor space, George Lee Shannon, architect, said. Overall, it will measure 50 by 100 feet. The exterior will be of brick and stone, with glass also being featured in the front. The interior will be of wood paneling and plastering.

The library structure will not front upon Arnold avenue as does the board of education building but will face the old building. The library proper will have the main floor and a balcony extending around three sides. Included will be separate reading areas for adults and children, a work room, a reference room and storage quarters.

The new building will be air-conditioned and will have a hot water heating system.

Federal assistance to eight Kentucky projects was announced Monday. A second Eastern Kentucky project is a sewer system at Jackson, Breathitt county, which is to cost an estimated $631,475. Of that total, a federal grant of $15,225 and a loan of $161,000 will be made to help finance extension of Jackson's sewer system. The overall project includes collection lines, an interceptor sewer and a treatment plant. Work is to begin there within four months.

RAID STRIKES ESTILL MAN

Martin Arrested Sunday By State Officers; Bond Executed for Appearance

Junior (Red) Martin, of Estill, was hit again Sunday for the second time in little more than two weeks by state officers working with the avowed purpose of "keeping the heat on bootlegging."

A raid staged by ABC Agent Claude A. Flanery, State Trooper Don Goble and Trooper Crowley on Martin's premises resulted in his arrest and the confiscation of 33 cases of beer and 16 pints of wine.

Martin executed appearance bond for trial in quarterly court here Monday when other liquor cases are docketed for hearing.

Sixteen days earlier, Martin was arrested near Handshoff, Knott county, by State Trooper Combs who confiscated a heavy haul of whiskey and beer from Martin's car. Earlier, a large quantity of intoxicants was taken by troopers at Estill, near the Martin premises, but ownership of the liquor could not be definitely established.

Court officials said Martin discussed his situation rather freely when brought here Sunday. They quoted him as saying the officers missed some gin on this last raid. The officers maintained some other person had fled with the gin, for, they said, their search would have uncovered it if it had been there. Martin also was quoted as saying he has 10 children and that he is trying to support them. But, he said, raids have cost him about $1,000.

Daughter of Floyd Man Dies in Car Collision

Mrs. May Jeanetta Lafferty, 37, wife of Haner (Red) Lafferty, of Dayton, Ohio, was killed recently in a car collision, Floyd county relatives have learned. With her in the collision was her son, Mark, 2, who suffered a skull fracture and broken legs. Killed at the same time with her was Mrs. Lafferty's friend, Edith E. Gibson, 16.

Mrs. Lafferty is survived by a daughter, Vicki, 13, and the son who was injured.

In the other car were the driver, Chester Hartman, 20, and Connie Elby, 16, who suffered multiple cuts and broken bones. Mrs. Elby and Mark Lafferty are both in critical condition in Miami Valley hospital, Dayton, Ohio.

Mrs. Lafferty is a daughter of Kendall Cline, well-known former Floyd county resident.

SUFFERS ATTACK

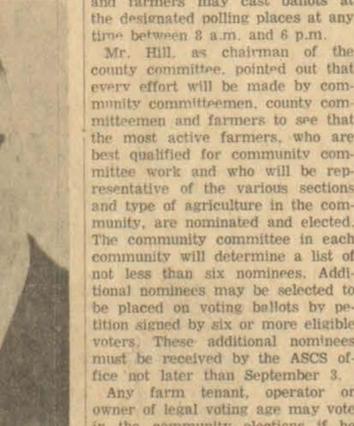

Astor Meade suffered a light heart attack here last week. His condition is improved.

Attending Banking Schools

John G. Heinze, manager of the Allen Branch of the Bank Josephine, and Robert Martin, assistant trust officer of the parent bank here, are receiving special training at schools conducted by Ohio State and Northwestern Universities.

Heinze is one of 140 bankers from 38 states attending the inaugural session of the National Mortgage

School being held, August 18-24, at the College of Commerce and Administration, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

Martin is attending the fourth annual session of the National Trust School being held at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, August 5-23. He is one of 216 bank officers from 43 states at the school.

Strip-Mining Involves The Rights of Many

The Floyd County Times is, essentially, a friend and supporter of the coal business, an industry upon which Eastern Kentucky has, in the absence of other industries, found it necessary to lean heavily.

Although the number of men which it employs is steadily dwindling, the coal business provides the area its biggest industrial payroll. Nobody has gone out hunting for representatives of this industry to locate here. No sites have been bought and given to coal-mine operators in return for the location of a mine in a county or near any given community. The men who have risked their capital have financed their own ventures, not even receiving any quarter from the federal government.

Yet, for all our awareness of the economic importance of the coal business to this region, we sincerely hope that the Pike county man who has sued in U. S. district court to restrain strip-mining of his lands wins his case.

Those old Northern Coal & Coke deeds simply had too much of infinity about them for this earth. Strip-mining was not even a dream when they were executed. As the plaintiff, Elbert Roberts, has pointed out, the company now removing the coal on his land has a right to mine coal but it does not have a right to destroy his surface property.

Our sympathy with the plaintiff in this action does not necessarily mean that we are irrevocably opposed to all strip- or auger-mining. Men who have invested heavily in machinery to carry on this type of work have their rights, and if coal is not to lose out entirely to other fuels its production must be continued.

Yet we are committed to the theory that the landowner, his neighbors, the general public and the nation are entitled to consideration and that the mining of coal by stripping, augering or any other method which leaves the surface a livid sore and a disgrace to the society which countenances it must mend its ways or quit.

The twin dangers of erosion and flood are too great, the loss of top-soil and natural beauty in a land whose great natural beauty may indeed be its greatest resource is too heavy. Something has to give, and the land-owner has given too much, already.

Wherever the state and/or federal governments can and will enforce full and immediate steps to reclaim the damaged surface and where these types of mining can be carried on without permanent damage to the immediate vicinity and to other downstream properties and interests, work should be permitted to continue. But if this work is to demand of others a sacrifice of rights and possessions, it should be stopped.

And the land-owner does have some rights as possessor of the surface—rights, it is to be hoped, which are not to be violated by a mining method which takes not only the coal that is the company's but also much of the land that is the farmer's.

If Child Has School Problem Parents Usually Are At Fault

BY IRVING ABRAMS, M.D. (In The Courier-Journal)

Last week I wrote about the school health examination. Today I must impress on you parents certain ideas that I consider of utmost importance.

Every day I see the almost hopeless problem-boys and problem-girls who cannot get along in school. How does all this start? Whose fault is it? Now I don't intend to lecture to you or to give you uninteresting psychological statements. I'm going to tell you just what I believe from having had a lot of grass-roots experience with problems of children.

First, it isn't true that it is always the parents' fault when something goes wrong. But it is almost always the parents' fault and it is always their responsibility.

Now let me tell you just a few of the many reasons some children cannot "make it" in school and "wind up behind the eight-ball."

1. Failure of the parents to supply the know-how of culture, of experience, of knowledge, and failure to set proper examples in the home from the time the child is born.
2. Illness of the child.
3. Mental retardation.

This may lead to frustration, to defiant behavior, to truancy and to delinquency.

5. Having an unrecognized hearing loss or vision defect leading to poor schoolwork and then leading to faulty behavior and all the rest.

6. Getting in with wrong buddies—which leads to bad behavior, truancy, delinquency.

7. Missing so much work that discouragement takes over, leading to truancy and faulty behavior.

If your boy or girl gets a failing mark in school you should consider it as important as a bad case of scarlet fever or measles. You should investigate immediately to find the cause and do everything you can to see it rectified and that it doesn't happen again.

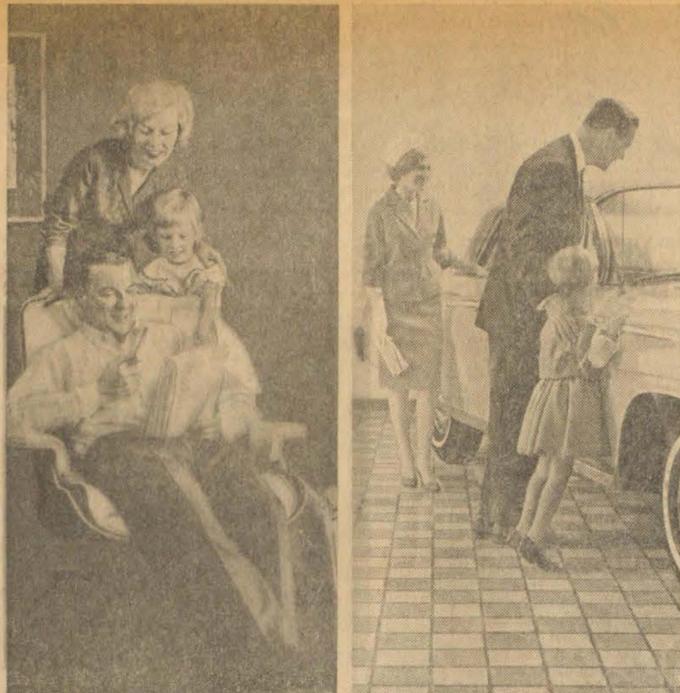

Work missed because of unnecessary absenteeism from school can never be made up completely. You must not allow your child to stay out of school except for very serious reasons.

It is a parent's duty to know how well or how poorly his child is doing and not wait to find out until it is too late. This requires inquiries and interviews with the teacher from time to time. It requires a thorough health examination of the child.

Parents must take an interest in the curriculum, the homework, the child's friends, his hours of sleep and play and work, his whereabouts at all times and the possible need for extra help for school work.

Lack of parental responsibility is the cause of so many dropouts and so much delinquency. The home must be strengthened.

How is your boy or girl going to make a living later if he or she doesn't learn now? I know there are fewer and fewer jobs for unskilled, uneducated boys and girls. Give your child a chance.

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people do.

They count on advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them—information on features . . . designs . . . and prices, for example.

People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples; they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping.

When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense.

And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sales.

Most people read—and then buy. Don't you?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

MINISTERS MAKE STATEMENT

Editor, The Times:

The Floyd County Ministerial Association wishes to express its heartfelt gratitude to the Governor, The Department of State Police, and the Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission for the immediate action taken when they were informed by county officials and interested citizens of the need for stringent and continuing enforcement of the liquor laws in Floyd county.

We deplore the taking of a moral situation already being corrected and using it for political advantages by any person or persons, regardless of political affiliation.

It is gratifying to know that there are men in public office who are willing to continue to stand for the right even in the face of possible political sacrifice.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Mildred O'Dell on her 100th birthday:

When I cross this life of sorrow:
When from sin death sets me free,
I'll expect a bright tomorrow—
Dear ones do not weep for me.
When beneath the sod I'm lying,
And you'll want to think of me,
Just think of Jesus and His dying—
Do not shed those tears for me.
For I've only crossed the river
To the rest prepared for me.
By that kind and blessed giver—
Then why should you weep for me?

Kentucky's third annual Conservation Congress at Louisville Oct. 17-18 will give all Kentuckians an opportunity to hear outstanding speakers on conservation topics.

Since its dedication in 1961, the Floral Clock on the grounds of Kentucky's State Capitol, Frankfort, has "collected" more than $5,000 from tourists. The money, used to buy recreational equipment for children in State institutions, is accumulated as tourists toss coins into the wishing well pool at the clock.

a vacation spot and pass up the peaceful, hidden-away, restful atmosphere of these parks, with all their luxury intermingled with natural beauty of setting, I'll never understand. I haven't-travelled a great deal, but till they show me better I'm ready to declare, too, "Kentucky's is the finest parks system in the nation."

MORE ABOUT OLD NOVELS

Our recent comments and questions in this column about some of the old novels for the reading of which our parents were inclined to dust out britches continue to draw letters.

Mrs. Harold A. Brownback, Custer Air Force Station, Box 96, Battle Creek, Michigan, writes that she recently found "Ishmael" at a rummage sale. But the sequel, "Self-Raised," still eludes her, and she would like to borrow or buy (she'll leave the stealing to us) a copy, if any who read this has one.

And Mrs. Nicodemus Martin, Route 4, Trenton, Tennessee, writes to agree with Mrs. Robert Martin, of Martin, that Augusta J. Evans' "St. Elmo" is her all-time favorite. Says this book, which has been described as "the most praised, best abused novel ever written," has been reprinted as late as 1947.

If a dealer in antiques and other miscellany who holds forth at London, Kentucky, keeps the promise made only a few days ago, I may have something to report to those interested in some of these books.

Incidentally, I read "Homestead on the Hillside," the other night. There must be something wrong with me. Didn't shed a tear. In fact, I couldn't cry for laughing. Maybe I should leave the others to the tender mercies of a fading memory.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lyons, Age 71, Garrett, Dies At McDowell Hospital

Mrs. Elizabeth Lyons, 71, of Garrett, died Saturday at the McDowell Memorial hospital. She had been ill six months.

Mrs. Lyons was the wife of Ben Lyons, who survives, and the daughter of the late L. and Lydia Justice Patton. Surviving, besides the husband, are a son and two daughters: George K. Lyons, Kansas City, Missouri, Mrs. Gracie May Hoover, of Garrett, and Mrs. Virginia Alice Smith, Plymouth, Ohio. Surviving are a brother, John M. Patton, of Eastern, and a sister, Mrs. Vina Hale, Prestonsburg.

Funeral rites were conducted Monday from the home, the Revs. Winford Rice, Green Allen and James Duff officiating. Burial was made in the Webb cemetery at Langley under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

HAS LIGHT STROKE

George T. Roberts is at his home here after suffering a light stroke, Tuesday night. It was said, late Wednesday, that his condition is good.

MISTER POSSUM

Possum curls his tail round a limb. The winds come gently swinging him.

With a silly grin upon his face, He mocks the silly human race; Head downward, swaying in the breeze.

As if he owned the forest trees, Wearing his foolish possum grin He mocks the ways of foolish men; Go and catch him if you will, He'll drop to earth and lie there still.

And if you take his mortal breath, He'll grin at your folly even in death. —Rufus M. Reed

KENTUCKY CARDINAL, STATE BIRD OF SEVEN STATES

The colorful Kentucky Cardinal is the state bird of Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, North Carolina, Ohio, Virginia and West Virginia. It is also highly favored in many southern states, as it is of great value to southern cotton growers, since it destroys boll weevils. It also devours the codling moth, responsible for the white worm inside the apple.

Both the male and female cardinals are the only red birds with a crest. The summer tanager is strawberry red all over but has no crest. The male cardinal is a brilliant scarlet with a black patch around his bill and throat; the female is dull reddish-brown, which affords her color protection against enemies. The cardinal has a short, stout bill, which enables it to crack seeds, or to eat grains of corn; so it does not migrate during the winter. If it flew south as do many other birds, our state would be lacking one state bird during the winter season. Some of the cardinal's famous phrases, which it whistles like a prima donna, are: "good cheer, good cheer! Wet year, wet year!" And it sometimes seems to imitate the farmers plowing their mules in the spring, when it whistles, "Gid-dup! Gid-dup!" It is an accomplished musician and is called "the aristocrat of the bird world;" perhaps the cardinal is, after all, the true "Kentucky Colonel."

THE FAMOUS MOCKINGBIRD

The mockingbird, famous for its versatile powers of mimicry, runs the cardinal a close second in popularity, being the state bird of Arkansas, Florida, Mississippi, Tennessee and Texas—all southern states. It is the most popular of all birds in the south and prefers to make its home in the cottonfields. It is the favorite of southern dorkies, who often say: "Dat old mockin' bird jes' sings right down our cabin chimney all night long." In the nesting season, the mockingbird serenades his mate all during the night, with his famous flight song, which has given him the name of, "The American Nightingale."

The mockingbird belongs to that famous trio of mimics, called the mimic thrushes, which includes the catbird and the brown thrasher. Unfortunately the mockingbird is quite scarce in our region; occasionally I find a pair spending the winter here. The mockingbird is easily recognized by its conspicuous white wing patches, the showy white border on its long tail, and its white breast and gray back. It is its own musical composer and some say it constitutes a whole bird choir of itself, as it can mock any bird and often sings their songs to better perfection than they do. It can outsing the cardinal, using its own song. Some call the mockingbird "the Metropolitan opera star of the bird world." It is its own musical composer, as well as being an imitator; it listens to the cackling of hens and imitates them; it can imitate the crowing of a rooster, the barking of a dog, the squeaking of door hinges, the calls of wild turkeys, or the postman's whistle. Once I wrote a poem about the mockingbird and sold it to The Progressive Farmer. The last two lines clinched the sale of the poem:

"Did some strange finger touch your heart,
And make of you a wined Mozart?"
Mozart was a famous composer, and the mockingbird is equally as great a genius in his field of composing. This bird has been known to imitate a graphophone and other musical instruments. The mystery of such a gifted singer is amazing to study; it should fill one with a sense of awe for the handiwork of the Great Creator of all life.

The brown thrasher, in the same family, is the state bird of Georgia. Its powers of mimicry are second only to that of the mockingbird. The brown thrasher is easily recognized. It has a long, red tail, which it often uses to thrash—hence, the name. Its back is reddish-brown and the wings have two white bars; the breast is white, heavily streaked with black; it has yellow eyes and a long, curving bill. The brown thrasher sings its melody in two phrases, repeated, like, "thrash it, thrash it, plant it, plant it," "hoe it, hoe it," and so on, and as it sings, it is carried away to such a high pitch of ecstasy, it mounts to the topmost twig of a tree, with its feathers all ruffled up, and its head turned upward, as it pours out its song to the sky.

PRIEST FAMILY

A letter from Mrs. Roy C. Allen, 2566 Military Road, Arlington, Virginia, poses questions as well as offers information on the Priest family.

Mrs. Allen writes: "I am the daughter of Cornelius A. Priest, granddaughter of Sheridan Priest, who was the son of Cornelius Priest and Cornelius Priest (first one) was the son of Alexander B. Priest. What I am trying to do is locate Alexander B. Priest's father, Alexander was the holder of a land grant in Kentucky, now Martin county. At the time of his marriage it was Floyd county, afterward Johnson county."

"I have not been able to tie Alexander B. Priest in with any family in Kentucky. He was born in 1792 in Virginia. I have located a Cornelius Priest in Lunenburg county, Virginia, in 1769 whose wife's name was Mary. These could have been the parents of Alexander Priest but I don't know that. I am not sure where to search to pick up the connection. I wrote Lunenburg County Clerk about a marriage record but that was nil.

"However, they have several deeds of Cornelius Priest but I haven't yet established the absolute tie between Alexander B. Priest and this Cornelius Priest. I shall wait for the deeds.

Thirty Years Ago

(August 18, 1933)

The employees of the Kentucky-West Virginia Gas Company held their annual picnic in the grove on the Frank Allen farm at Lem, on Right Beaver Creek, Saturday. It is conservatively estimated that more than one and one quarter millions of persons have already been put back to work in the National Recovery drive. The American Legion, Floyd Post No. 129, is staging in connection with American Legion Week, a fall festival to take place here beginning on Labor Day and lasting all week. Married: Miss Lucille Baxter, of Paintsville, and Mr. George Herman Fitzpatrick, formerly of Prestonsburg, now of Miami, Florida, Tuesday, at Salsersville. There died: Ben Franklin May, 86, Saturday, at his home on Mare Creek; D. P. Stout, 65, of Middle Creek, August 11, at his home near Hillsdale; Mrs. Sarah Munsey, Sunday, at the home of her son in West Prestonsburg.

Twenty Years Ago

(August 19, 1943)

Floyd county's quota of 452 selectees to be called into service next month will complete the scraping of the "barrel" for all the county's single men, married men without children and men who became fathers after Pearl Harbor, it is believed. Pfc. Hershel Hamilton, 25-year-old infantryman, of Banner, who was killed during fighting in Tunisia, May 15, has been awarded posthumously the Purple Heart. Third Class Gunner's Mate Delbert (Red) Ison, of Langley, last week received a commendation from the Navy Department for "outstanding bravery in the performance of duty" during recent action in the Mediterranean. Cpl. Everett E. Osborne, 21, Camp Ellis, Illinois, was seriously injured in a car wreck at Sugar Loaf, Thursday night. Treatment of coal-dust-blackened water before it is turned from the Elk Horn Coal Corporation's coal washing plant at Wayland into Right Beaver Creek, has been asked by State Board of Health authorities, it was said here this week. Married: Miss Ruth Elawick, of Pikeville, and Mr. Thomas G. Price, Jr., of Coburn, Virginia, Sunday, at the Methodist Church, here; Miss Allen Brown, of West Prestonsburg, and Sgt. Joe H. Hubbard, of Dock, August 14, at the Methodist parsonage; Miss Chloe Branham, of the Auxier road, and Mr. Benton Ousley, Knott county, April 2. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Crisp, of Lancer, a son, James Herbert. There died: James D. Williams, three days old, of Myrtle, August 19; Mrs. Ada Church Hale, 85, Wednesday at her son's home in West Prestonsburg; Otis Lee, 11 months old, of Betsy Layne, Thursday, at the Martin General hospital; Mrs. Ben Hunt, 63, of Lancer, Thursday; Alice Fay Ousley, 20 days old, Sunday at home at Manton; Mrs. Nancy Jane Pennington, 63, Saturday at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin; Juanita Blevins, 16, of Harold, at the Martin General hospital, Sunday.

Ten Years Ago

(August 29, 1953)

By mid-autumn construction of the UMWA hospital at McDowell will be under way to provide medical care for United Mine Workers Welfare and Retirement Fund beneficiaries. Thirty-three child desertion cases are set for trial at the term of circuit court which convenes September 7, and this offense appears so often on the docket that three days of the term have been set aside as "Child Desertion Days". Cpl. Charles Ray Boyd, 21, of Prestonsburg, last week became the fourth Floyd countyman to be released from Korean prisoner of war camps. Patricia Ann Lafferty, five months old, of Garrett, is Floyd county's second reported polio-case this year. With Councilman Watt Haje given some assistance by the city and with free labor and some cash contributions, a playground, with swings and seesaws, has been installed for West Prestonsburg children. Two touchdown passes thrown by all-state, all-southern John Delmar Hughes, of Prestonsburg, gave the East a 14-13 upset victory over the West, last Saturday night at Lexington. An estimated 5,000 persons visited and enjoyed, Sunday, the Floyd County Fish & Game Club's 11th annual fish fry at the Allen golf course. Married: Miss Bernice Hicks, and Mr. Oscar Childers, both of Garrett. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Don Ball, a son, James Richard, August 7, at the Paintsville hospital; to Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Fitzpatrick, of David, a son, August 15, at the Prestonsburg General hospital; to Mr. and Mrs. John Hicks, of Stone Coal, a son, Ronald Ray, August 14. There died: Shane Gibson, four-month-old daughter of Farley and Minerva McGuire Gibson, August 13, at the Prestonsburg General hospital.

very much interested in the Stratton side of the family also. Richard Stratton died before 1830 but had thousands of acres of land in Floyd county.

"My mother was Pearl Moore, daughter of John Moore, of Martin county. His father was also a John Moore of Johnson county. My great aunt, Mrs. Mary Priest Smith, lives on Cold Water, at Inez, Kentucky, on the original land grant that Alexander Priest owned."

Can anyone help Mrs. Allen? If so, write her.

COLEMAN FAMILY

A letter from Arthur D. Coleman, 4014 South 365 East Street, Salt Lake City 17, Utah, inquires about a Kentucky native, Jefferson Coleman, who moved to Illinois.

He writes: "My great-grandfather, Jefferson Coleman, was born in Kentucky in 1806 according to the Census records of Cole county, Illinois. He moved to Mattoon, Illinois early in the 1830 decade with his bride, Eliza Yokum.

"I am curious to know who his parents were. I believe there were about thirty Coleman families in the 1310 Kentucky Census and about half that number had male children under 10 years of age.

"If you should know anything about this Kentucky family of 150 years ago I would appreciate the information. Possibly, you could (Continued on Page 5)

MARRIAGE SOLEMNIZED

The marriage of Miss Barbara Jayne Isbell, 124 Penmoken Road, Lexington, Ky., daughter of Mrs. Ruth F. Isbell, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. James Robert Moore, Jr., 2117 Talisman Drive, Lexington, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Moore, Hopkinsville, Ky., was solemnized at 1:30 p.m., Saturday, August 10.

The nuptial vows were said at the chapel of Central Christian Church, Lexington, the Rev. Lloyd Birch, pastor of Chevy Chase Baptist Church, officiating, before a candlelit altar decorated with palms and flanked by gladioli and daisies. Traditional organ wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Joe Isbell, sister-in-law of the bride.

Given in marriage by her brother, Samuel M. Isbell, of Lexington, the bride wore a street-length dress of deep ivory silk peau de soie which was designed with wide, oval neckline and elbow-length sleeves on a princess bodice. The flared apron overskirt, appliqued with Alencon lace flowers and seed pearls, was caught at the back with a bow and a rose of the dress fabric over back skirt fullness. She wore a headband of matching material and carried a bouquet of white orchids, with ribbon streamers and white stephanotis, on a white bible. The bride's ensemble included a string of cultured pearls, a gift of the groom. The matron of honor, Mrs. J. Clifford Todd, of Louisville, a cousin of the bride, wore a light-blue silk shantung street-length dress, with low neckline. Her headband was of matching color, and her flowers were white gladiolus.

Mr. Don V. Young, Cincinnati, O., served the groom as best man. Ushers were Mr. Herbert L. Henry and Mr. Charles E. Mooris, both of Lexington.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece beige silk shantung dress with matching accessories, and her flowers were beige cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Moore, mother of the groom, wore a blue dress, with matching accessories. Her flowers were white cymbidium orchids.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's brother, Joe Isbell, after which Mr. and Mrs. Moore left to spend their honeymoon at Cape Cod, Mass., and other points in New England. They will reside at 2117 Talisman Drive, Lexington.

The bride attended Georgetown College, where she was a member of Sigma Kappa sorority. Mr. Moore attended the University of Kentucky and is associated with Howard K. Bell Consulting Engineers, Lexington.

Levi Tuttle, 76, Dies In Ohio, Friday

Levi Tuttle, 76, St. Mary's, Ohio, but formerly of Hindman, died Friday at Joint Township hospital, at St. Mary's. He was a retired blacksmith and miner.

Mr. Tuttle was married three times. His first and second marriages were to Catherine Collins Tuttle and Gracie Vanderpool Tuttle, who preceded him in death. He remarried to Elzanie Tuttle, who survives.

Surviving sons and daughters are Aaron Tuttle, of Wayland, Ray Tuttle, of Milam, Indiana, Forrest Tuttle, of Estill, Adrian E. Tuttle, Mrs. Catherine Gibson and Mrs. Mary Patrick, all of Stroh, Indiana, Mrs. Cordie Wicker, St. Mary's, Ohio. Surviving brothers and a sister are Andrew Tuttle, of Topmost, Israel Tuttle, of Langley, and Mrs. Rachel Sparkman, of Mousie.

Funeral services were held Sunday at the Stone Coal Regular Baptist Church at Garrett, Revs. Bert Howard, Earl Lawson and Coy Combs officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery at Wayland under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Brother of Floyd Man Succumbs At Van Lear

Marvin Ward, 65, died at his home at West Van Lear at 8:30 a.m., Sunday, August 11, following an extended illness. He was a brother of Ervin Ward, of Wheelwright.

The son of the late Simon and Mary Bowers Ward, he was born in this county May 29, 1898. A retired miner he had made his home in West Van Lear for the past twenty years. Prior to that time he lived in Van Lear for twenty years. He was a member of the United Baptist Church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mollie Sparks Ward; two sons, Richard D. Ward, Vandalia, Ohio; John Michael Ward, West Van Lear; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Ruth Runyon, Germantown, Ohio; Mrs. Ella Pack, Fairborn, Ohio; Mrs. Betty Jo Neal, Dayton, Ohio; another brother, Johnnie Ward, Bainbridge, Ohio; three sisters, Mrs. Edith Walters, Jewel Valley, Virginia; Mrs. Margie Sparks, Barrett, West Virginia; Mrs. Virgie Dawson, Gallipolis, Ohio. Also surviving are fourteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 1:00 p.m., Tuesday, August 13, at the Cedar Grove United Baptist Church at West Van Lear with John Crum, Elzie Banks and C. J. Sparks as officiating ministers.

HISTORICAL NOTES

suggest sources of information in Kentucky.

Are there any persons with Coleman information who would like to correspond with Mr. Coleman? He would be glad to exchange information.

FIRST WHITE CHILD

Dedication ceremonies at the site of the recently-restored grave of Lucy Virgin Downs, first white child born of American parents west of the Allegheny Mountains, will be held September 19 in Greenup county, Kentucky. The program will be held in the churchyard on Laurel Fork Road at Oldtown where Mrs. Downs is buried.

Mrs. Downs was born in 1769, died in 1847.

The dedication will bring to a close a project that started more than a year ago and began with the death of a Cincinnati woman in 1962.

Mrs. Jennie Scott Oseinton of the Queen City was Mrs. Downs' great-granddaughter and when she died she left a bequest of $3,000 to be used for the improvement of her famous ancestor's grave. Sometime later a committee composed of prominent Greenup businessmen and the author, Jesse Stuart, was appointed to use the money.

A monument has been erected, with shrubs on either side. Steps, built of stone native to the area, were recently completed and lead to the church and five road markers have been erected along Kentucky Route 1 to direct tourists to the burial spot.

The recently-formed Greenup County Historical Society, which meets every two months, held a session in August at the site of the grave.

PICTURES WANTED

The Times wants to borrow your pictures. Particularly wanted are old pictures of churches, ministers, teachers, school groups and church gatherings. They will be returned unharmed within a week.

Only one requirement is made. The pictures of the old teachers and ministers must be of deceased persons. If you can, send information with the pictures.

Pictures of logging, rafting or any early economic activity will also be appreciated. Thanks.

Kiwanis Discussions Range from Profumo To Fishing, Sales Tax

Wheelwright, Ky.—The Beaver Valley Kiwanis Club held its regular Monday evening meeting at the Inland Clubhouse with 30 members and three guests in attendance.

The program of the evening featured roundtable discussions on the following subjects:

The Profumo-Christine Keeler Sex Scandals in England; How Best to Catch Fish; The Nuclear Test Ban Treaty; Did Kentucky Do "Happy" Chandler Right?; The Bootlegging Situation in Floyd County; Who Makes the Best American Automobile?; Pros and Cons of Medicare; Has the Sales Tax Helped Education in Kentucky?

Following a period devoted to determining the consensus of each table group, a table spokesman reported on the conclusions of his respective group. Needless to say, the opinions expressed reflected views both controversial and stimulating.

A special event of the evening featured a poem composed by Ray Gibson and dedicated to Joe Peraino, whose recent declarations as to his fishing prowess have aroused suspicions among some of the more ardent piscatorial enthusiasts of the club.

Farm families have an average money income amounting to about half that of urban and rural non-farm families—$3,241 compared with $5,924, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Mrs. Fanny W. Lafferty, Emma Woman, Succumbs After 4-Years' Illness

Mrs. Fanny Williamson Lafferty, 85, of Emma, died Saturday at home. She was in ill health four years, seriously so 14 months.

Mrs. Lafferty was a daughter of Zachariah Taylor Williamson and Julia Johns Williamson. She was twice married, first to Burris Herald and then to John Lafferty. Both preceded her in death. She was a member of the Methodist Church for 60 years.

Surviving are three daughters: Mrs. Ruth Weddington and Mrs. Helen Harris, both of Emma, and Mrs. Berdelle Merritt, Norfolk, Virginia. One sister, Mrs. Ora Goodman, Williamson, West Virginia, survives. Surviving also are eight grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday at 1 p.m. from the Emma Methodist Church, the Revs. William Amburgey, James Stratton and Isaac Stratton officiating. Burial was made in the Herald cemetery on Cow Creek under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Perry Court Has Right To Refuse Courthouse Use To Private Groups

Frankfort, Ky., August 19—Perry Fiscal Court has the discretion to refuse use of the courthouse at Hazard to any private group, the attorney general's office said Monday.

In advice sent to Berman Gibson, it said the only limit is the court may not arbitrarily favor one group. Gibson said the court has refused to allow meetings at the courthouse to plan a miner's march on Washington later this year.

Gibson was leader of a number of picketing miners' groups in Eastern Kentucky during recent labor troubles. He said the march is aimed at presenting his faction's side of the disputes.

Mrs. Garland Jett, Jr. has begun working for the University of Mississippi, doing office work for the University during the fall and spring terms. Mrs. Jett is the former Jean Williams, of Printer, Kentucky. She is a graduate of Martin high school, attended Eastern Kentucky State College and has taught school in Floyd county for two years. She is with her husband, Lieutenant Jett, in Mississippi where he will be attending school for the next year at Keesler Air Force Base. Lieutenant Jett is from Richmond, and is a graduate of Eastern Kentucky State College.

FAVORITE CAKE
Of the three favorite cakes in the United States, the sponge cake has the longest history. For centuries, this yellow cake has been called Savoy cake—named, sometime around the 11th century, after the Italian House of Savoy. In the 13th century, four beautiful daughters of Savoy occupied royal thrones and took with them the family's cake recipe, spreading its fame far and wide.

Miss Burga Enters World Contest To Name International Champion

A Prestonsburg native has returned to Ypsilanti, Michigan, in triumph from two World Twirling Association contests. She is Olivia Burga, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Burga, Jr., formerly of Prestonsburg, and granddaughter of Mrs. Laura Bayes and of Mrs. Laura Ousley, West Prestonsburg.

Miss Burga competed in a recent contest at Sandusky, Ohio, and walked away with three first-place trophies. Her first places were in best performance, fancy strutting and military strutting. She also took three second-place awards at Sandusky. Competing in a contest at Fremont, Ohio, August 4, she won first-place trophies in military and fancy strutting.

Miss Burga is a student of Judy Brixie, Ypsilanti, who is a world champion twirler and has followed in her instructor's footsteps. She now has 21 trophies and 14 medals. She will enter the world finals at Toledo, Ohio, Saturday.

Miss Burga is a sophomore at Belleville high school, Ypsilanti, and last year was Belleville junior high school band captain.

Saturday, she may be world twirling champion.

STATE GROUP ISSUES BROCHURE ON FLOYD

The Kentucky Department of Commerce, through its Agricultural Development Division, is now preparing and publishing brochures showing the agricultural production and potential for each of Kentucky's 120 counties.

Copies of the brochure, "Agricultural Business Potential in Floyd County, Kentucky," are being sent to Prestonsburg Community Development Council.

Among significant factors listed in the Floyd county brochure are the following:

The approximate total land acreage of the county is 256,640 acres, with 1,209 farms comprising 32.4 per cent of this area. The average farm size is 69.8 acres, valued at $89.83 per acre.

During 1959 commercial fertilizer was used on approximately 2,020 acres, being applied primarily to corn and pastures.

During 1959, wages paid hired farm laborers on 160 farms totaled $26,935.

The annual average precipitation has approximated 43.34 inches.

Credit in the form of short, intermediate or long-term loans is available through the following facilities: The Bank Josephine, Allen; the Bank Josephine and the First National Bank, Prestonsburg; Farmers Home Administration, Paintsville; and Eastern Kentucky Production Credit Association, Federal Land Bank, Louisa.

The six-county trade area in which Floyd county is located has experienced considerable agricultural diversification during the 1954-1959 period.

The trade area includes Johnson, Knott, Floyd, Magoffin, Martin and Pike counties.

Agricultural production in Floyd county alone is listed as follows (figures are for the year of 1959):

Cattle and calves (no.), 3,351; milk cows (no.), 1,201; whole milk sold (lbs.), 342,214; Hogs and Pigs (no.), 3,708; sheep-ewes (no.), 325; chicken eggs sold (doz.), 75,185; corn for grains harvested (acres), 4,102; small grains harvested

HANDLE WITH CARE
Handle peaches with care! Peaches keep their fresh appearance and natural goodness longer when handled carefully in the store and at home. Mature peaches are neither too hard nor too soft. With a little practice, you can learn to "get the feel" of a mature peach. A hard squeeze isn't necessary—by holding the peach gently in the hand, its degree of firmness can be easily felt.
