

State Sets Park Work At $90,000

Lodge and Cottages To Get Renovation, Johnson Announces

A $90,000 renovation of the lodge and cottages at Jenny Wiley State Resort Park has been announced by Parks Commissioner Ewart W. Johnson.

The work has been funded by a capital construction grant from the Department of Finance at the direction of Gov. Wendell Ford. Funds for renovation of this type are not available through federal grants, but must come from a special fund set aside for necessary repairs. The money will be used in two categories—$65,000 for replacing furniture, carpeting, drapes and bedding, and $25,000 for plumbing repairs, rewiring and general small repairs.

May Lodge was opened in 1962 with 36 lodge rooms on a 1700-acre tract that now includes a 12-room addition to the lodge, 18 cottages, bathhouse, community pool and lodge pool, a nine-hole golf course, an amphitheatre and a chairlift. Adjacent Dewey Lake offers opportunity for water sports, with two boat docks.

"We'll do all we can to avoid inconvenience to guests," Jay Young, director of accommodations, said in a discussion of the work to be done. "However, the overall improvements will enhance the beauty of the lodge and bring it in line with the newer lodges in the state parks system."

A beginning is being made by the Parks Department to "get away from stereotype motel rooms," according to Young. New guest conveniences will be installed, as needed, on the outside, along with all new furniture for patio and pool areas, he added.

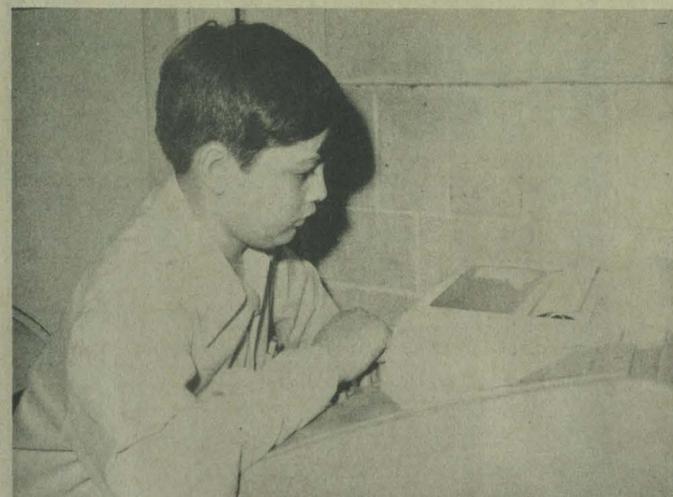

Commissioner Johnson said, "This fine old lodge has been operating with the normal wear and tear of a facility of this type for 10 years with no major improvements or repairs. In order to stay up front in this business it is necessary to maintain our high standards, but we'll stretch the state's dollars as much as possible. We know the money spent on this project will be returned in abundance by the increased number of travelers brought into Prestonsburg and Eastern Kentucky."

To Hold Auditions For Youth Theatre

The Youth Theater will present "Dirty Work at the Crossroads" under direction of Jack Wicker. Tentative dates have been set as May 11 and May 14 at Archer Park auditorium.

Boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 18 who are interested in being in the production should be at Prestonsburg elementary school auditorium from 2 to 4 p.m., April 15 or from 4 to 6 p.m., April 17.

TV Program To Feature Pupils

Prestonsburg sixth grader Terry Owens is one of 183 Floyd county youngsters who receive Computer Assisted Instruction (CAI) in math. Area students and educators will be seen in a half-hour television program about CAI today (Wednesday) at 10:30 p.m. on WHTN-TV (Channel 13). Terry's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Owens.

Area students and educators will be featured in a half-hour television program about Computer Assisted Instruction (CAI) today, (Wednesday). The program will be broadcast at 10:30 p.m. on WHTN-TV (Channel 13) on the "Newsmaker '72" Series. It will be shown again at 6:30 a.m., Sunday, April 16.

According to Superintendent Charles Clark, 185 Floyd county students now receive CAI math instruction at the Osborne, Prestonsburg, and Stumbo elementary schools. "This is a highly effective educational tool," Mr. Clark said. "Our students are making excellent progress in math with CAI, and they also have experienced an unexpected spurt in reading ability."

Where Storm Touched Down

The mobile home occupied by Prestonsburg Policeman Tommy Woods and family in the Goble-Roberts Addition here was unroofed and ruined beyond repair last Friday afternoon when it was hit by twister-like wind. Heavy damage also occurred at the Terry Boat Dock on Dewey Lake.

Eighth Mt. Dew Fest To Begin Here Today

Approximately 1,200 junior college students and faculty members representing 14 junior and community colleges in Kentucky and West Virginia are scheduled to converge on Prestonsburg for Prestonsburg Community College's eighth annual Mountain Dew Festival which will begin here today (Thursday) and continue through Saturday.

One of the features of the college get-together will be the crowning of a Mountain Dew Queen. Sixteen events, in all, are scheduled to engage the activities of every student.

These contests will involve participation in archery, art, badminton, baseball, basketball, bowling, cheerleading, chess, golf, pool, marksmanship, table tennis, tennis, volleyball and a talent show.

Alleged Shoplifter Flourishes Weapon; Now Being Sought

An alleged shoplifter turned gun-slinger late last Friday afternoon when he was accosted outside Thompson's IGA Store here, and later three warrants for his arrest were issued.

The man, who earlier had been at the Piggly Wiggly Store here, was watched while inside IGA. Paul Thompson said that when two of his clerks accosted the man outside the store the man had three two-pound packages of bacon secreted beneath his coat.

But he flourished a revolver, held the clerks, Randall Fields and Carl Frazier, at bay and escaped in an auto. His license number led to his identity, however.

Two dances will also be festival features—the first, from 9 p.m. till 1 a.m. Thursday at Archer Park, with the Cincinnati group, "The Big Bear," playing; the second on Saturday night, the same hours, at the college, with music by "Copperfield," of Louisville. The dances, as well as the various other festival activities, will be open to the public.

In addition to those of the host college, students are expected here from Ashland, Hazard, Somerset, Southeast, Maysville, Hopkinsville, Madisonville and Elizabethtown Community Colleges, the Lexington Technical Institute, Quicksand Forestry and Technical School, and the Logan and Williamson (W. Va.) branches of Marshall University.

The basketball tournament will be played in the Prestonsburg high school fieldhouse. Bowling will be at Paintsville lanes, and rifle, golf and archery events will be at Jenny Wiley State Park.

The college which amasses the largest number of points overall during the festival will receive custody of the coveted Brown Jug, mountain Dew Symbol.

Storm Damage Heavy, Friday

Tornado-like winds caused considerable damage in this county late Friday afternoon, and at Dewey Lake the Terry Boat Dock suffered 75 per cent damage, Dean Murray, reservoir manager, estimated.

The wind ripped the boat dock facility apart and blew the restaurant a mile and a half up the lake. The complete 90-foot center section of the docking area also was blown away, and locker facilities were ruined.

Boats of dock customers escaped damage, but three boats owned by the dock are missing, and several overturned with damage to their motors.

The dock restaurant was back in operation Sunday, but repair of the dockage area is at least two weeks away.

The boat dock, formerly operated by the late Hence Terry, is under lease to his daughter, Mrs. Joy Messer. Dwight Burchett is the dock manager. A part of the damage was said to be protected by insurance carried by the state.

Elsewhere in the area, the Corps of Engineers dock at Dewey Dam suffered $300 wind damage, and at the Goble-Roberts Addition here a mobile home occupied by Policeman Thomas Woods and family was unroofed and damaged beyond repair. A tool shed owned by County Detective Sam Hale on Middle Creek was blown some distance.

CUPP CONVICTED

Hearing of criminal cases began in circuit court Monday for the first time during the current term, and the first to be convicted was Hoyt Cupp, who entered a plea of guilty to a charge of transporting alcoholic beverages. He was fined $100 and given a 30-day jail term.

Martin Sells Boat Dock Lease, Inventory to Dept. of Parks

The Kentucky Department of Parks has purchased from Paul Martin, of Prestonsburg, his lease of the Jenny Wiley Boat Dock, and Parks personnel assumed control of the facility Tuesday morning.

The lease, which had 13 years yet to run, and Mr. Martin's entire inventory, including 17 boats and motors, restaurant equipment and souvenir shop stock, were purchased for a reported $26,500.

Martin, who acquired the 17-year lease late in the administration, of Ex-Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, has operated the facility the last four years.

Jay Owens, executive assistant to the Commissioner of Parks, confirmed the transaction but said detailed plans for

This Town . . . That World

It may be that baseball's first strike will amount to a knockout. The fans, who feed the kitty that makes the whole shebang go, might take a walk, and that not toward first base.

NO FRAUD

There is hope for the country. A Georgia man who was arrested last November for listing five of his bird-dogs as dependents on his income tax return was cleared of the charge of "knowingly defrauding the federal government."

What made the case more encouraging is the fact that the U. S. judge presiding at the trial shucked his judicial mien long enough to sympathize with the prisoner at the bar and quote from Byron in defense of the dog, including this epitaph:

The poor dog
In life the firmest friend,
The first to love you,
The foremost to defend.

Still the law held the judge to the explanation that, although man down through the ages has looked upon his dog as a dependent, in the eyes of the law and the IRS the dog is not legally so.

OLD HOME WEEK

Floyd county was fairly well represented in the headwaters of Cherokee Lake, last week-end. There were W. F. "Red" Clark, J. Lee Hall, Brennan Newsome, Magistrate Denzil Ray Hall, Lovell Hall, Bob Jones, Rudolph Howell, Bee Hayes, Clarence Hayes and son, Ed Blankenship and son, Neil Allen and Ever Hopefully Yours.

When a howling storm broke, one afternoon, and snow began to spit the next, some of the boys were reported looking for a Jonah. And I survived to tell the tale.

Opinion on Tenure After Resignation Given by Atty. Gen.

The Attorney General's office has ruled, in response to a request from this county, that a school principal or supervisory employee loses his tenure as a teacher when he resigns his administrative post.

But such a person would retain tenure if he asked for and received reassignment from that of a supervisor to a teacher, Assistant Attorney General Carl Miller wrote.

Asked about the opinion, Wayne Ratliff, assistant superintendent of Floyd schools, said it is not exactly news, since it is already recognized that any certified school employee would lose tenure if he should resign and fail to apply for another position in his field.

John K. Pitts, principal of the Clark elementary school, who requested the opinion, said resultant publicity has been embarrassing. "Some have wondered if I am at odds with the board of education. This is far from true. I wrote for the opinion merely out of curiosity after hearing the question discussed at some length last summer by a friend," Mr. Pitts said.

Three Officials Say

Woman Not Charged

In response to false rumors circulated in her community about her, Mrs. Mary Blankenship, of Teaberry, has asked The Times to publish statements signed by Circuit Judge Hollie Conley, County Judge Henry Stumbo and Police Judge D. E. Blackburn, each individually stating that Mary Blankenship has never been convicted or charged with the offense of shoplifting or any other offense in his court. Spreaders of false reports, it was pointed out, may be subject to prosecution.

Broadway Star To Recreate Role At Jenny Wiley Summer Theatre

Christine Johnson In Carousel

Nostalgia will reign this summer as Christine Johnson visits the Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre here to recreate the role of Nettie Fowler in CAROUSEL.

Miss Johnson left the Metropolitan Opera to create the role in the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical in which she introduced "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "June Is Bustin' Out All Over."

Miss Johnson has won international acclaim on the opera, concert and Broadway stages. The Associated Press has written: "Her voice is honest contralto. . . full of velvet." Howard Taubman said in the New York Times: "Her voice is big, extensive in range. . . she sings with the imagination of a musician."

This summer the theatre will feature a six-night-a-week season with two matinees, expanded facilities including a gift shop, remodelled lighting and sound systems, a reserved seat section, and a total of five musicals.

The season will include "The Music Man" on Tuesday-Sunday, June 20-25, and Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturday, June 27-July 15; "Once Upon a Mattress," the hilarious retelling of "The Princess and the Pea" that brought Carol Burnett to fame, running Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, July 20-August 5, and "Carousel" on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, August 10-25.

The mainstay of the season will be JENNY WILEY! The musical adventure based on the life of the frontier woman captured by Indians opened last summer and broke all attendance records at the theatre. JENNY WILEY! will be presented every Wednesday, Friday, and Sunday, June 28-August 25.

A special production will be THE GRASS HARP, a new musical in its Southeastern premiere. The Truman Capote story concerns an old lady who retreats to a tree house when a con-man tries to steal her secret dropsy cure. THE GRASS HARP will run every Wednesday and Sunday afternoon at Prestonsburg Community College.

Ticket information and reservations may be obtained by writing Box 22, Prestonsburg, Ky. 41653 or by calling (606) 886-3863, Ext. 255.

Miss Osborne-Mr. Harris Are Wed at Wheelwright

The marriage of Miss Donna Jean Osborne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Osborne, of Wheelwright, to Robert Carl Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Harris, Jr., also of Wheelwright, was solemnized March 11 in the Community Church of Wheelwright with Roy Flanery, minister, officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

Wedding music was presented by Miss Linda Mullins, of Melvin, a classmate of the bride.

The bride wore an empire-styled gown of white satin and lace. Her veil was affixed to a lace rose headpiece and she carried a bouquet of white rosebuds.

Miss Denise Osborne, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Another sister, Deborah Sumpter, of Whitesburg, and two classmates, Miss Arlene Martin and Mrs. Charlotte King, served as bridesmaids. Miss Lisa Osborne, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. All wore identically styled gowns of pink and blue. Each carried a bouquet of tinted carnations.

Dennis Harris served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Ricky Williams, Roger Johnson, and Jim Bill Harris.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Wheelwright clubhouse. Mrs. Niagara Riley and Mrs. Paul Osborne were hostesses.

The newlyweds are both graduates of Wheelwright high school. Mrs. Harris is attending Morehead State University where she is an elementary education major. Mr. Harris is with the United States Navy and is stationed in San Diego, California.

Bittmans To Return Here Apr. 17 For Evening of Song, Poetry, Drama

Sam and Eileen Bittman, former residents of Abbott Creek, are returning to Prestonsburg after an absence of three years to present a program of song, poetry and drama as part of the Paul Blazer Lecture Series.

The Bittmans will be performing in the auditorium of the Pike Technology Building of Prestonsburg Community College on Monday, April 17, at 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Bittman, who works professionally under the name of Eileen Barnett, is currently in a pre-New York production of "September Song: the Musical World of Kurt Weill," now playing in Boston.

She made her debut in professional theatre at the age of 16 in the role of Maria in "West Side Story," produced in Chicago. Since then she has appeared in leading roles in "The Miracle Worker," "Dark of the Moon," "The Fantasticks," "The Boy Friend," "High Button Shoes," "Carnival" and "Bye-Bye Birdie", the latter productions all at the Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre in the 1968-'69 seasons.

In her career she has appeared with such notables as Van Johnson, Betty Hutton, Victor Jory, Patrice Munsel, Snookie Lanson, and Jane Russell. Before joining the Kurt Weill show in Boston last month, she was with the Broadway production of "Company".

Mr. Bittman, who for three years was a member of the faculty of Prestonsburg Community College, was the managing director of the Jenny Wiley Summer Music Theatre in the summer of 1968. He has also worked as director with the Guild Theatre of Louisville, and has taught creative writing at the University of Louisville.

Since leaving Louisville in 1970, Mr. Bittman has, until recently, worked as editor and general manager of a New York weekly newspaper. He left that position in March to complete a book for the New American Library Publishing Company. He is also currently working on a novel of Eastern Kentucky life.

One Month for Clean-Up . . . Twelve Months for Cluttering

Governor Ford has proclaimed the month of April to be Clean-Up Month in Kentucky—whatever that may mean.

We do not criticize the governor for designating one month in the year for clean-up and beautification—he would be less than he should be if he didn't. But one wonders about the effectiveness, if any, of such a once-a-year, 30-day effort at clearing up a mess which we all have been busy at creating during the other 11 months.

If all Kentucky were to get down to the business of clearing away the clutter of months and years, only the surface of the statewide garbage dump could be scratched within a month. Beautification is going to require more than the gathering and hauling away of cans and jugs and paper and bottles and all the hundreds of items we have been throwing into ditches and streams, on highways and along them, in parks and into lakes. There are those indelible scars left by surface mining that only time, many years of it, and nature can ever heal.

Almost every year, around this time, we adults call on Boy and Girl Scouts for their help in cleaning up this mess that has been created mainly by their elders. We admire these youngsters for their zeal and willingness to work in such a cause—but why should Young America be put to work cleaning after the rest of us and left the job to do again next year, and the next, and on and on?

What this state needs, and what the governor needs to throw the full weight of his office behind, is a program of law enforcement. Somewhere in these heavy tomes which contain all the laws of the state are statutes which, if enforced, would mean the arrest of those who strew this litter and dump refuse into streams, pollute the land and generally rape the environment.

Truly, "an ounce of prevention is worth a ton of cure."

LETTERS

To the Editor

In Appreciation of Workers

In all due respect to those we take for granted, the men who haul away our trash each week: Many times, we exalt the wrong one and overlook the most important thing. There are some of the nicest, kindest men who drive and work our garbage disposal system, and I thank God for them.

Jesus said, "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to every Creature." Into all the world, many times, is right on our doorstep, and not recognized.

Jesus Christ was a sinless man, and was He recognized until He hung bleeding and dying for my sins, and then they said "Truly this was the Son of God."

Does anyone know a more important job, or more important men, in our town than those who haul our garbage away? Put it all out where it can be seen, for Jesus and our drivers will take it away. God bless our men who do such a fine job, and a very important one. As a matter of fact, it's a necessity. There will be no garbage or pollution of any kind in God's Holy City. Pray for all.

Guess whose Daddy had to write a check for more money than he had in the bank.

It's funny how things have a way of costing more than you planned. Especially special things. Which is why it always pays to have something in reserve.

Like a Bank Josephine Checking Plus Account. It backs up your regular Bank Josephine checking account with a reserve of cash from $500 to $5,000. When you need extra money—for any reason—you simply write a check and The Bank Josephine covers it. You can repay the loan in modest monthly installments.

Or one payment, if you prefer. And your reserve doesn't cost a nickel till you use it.

Sound like the most useful checking account in Floyd County? It is.

Why not stop by The Bank Josephine or one of our branches and open your Checking Plus Account this week? It can come in mighty handy. Especially if you happen to be the father of the bride.

Hicks-Chandler Vows Said at Hueysville

Miss Linda Sue Hicks became the bride of Charles Lawrence Chandler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chandler, Ashland, in a ceremony performed Feb. 14 in the Hueysville Church of Christ. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hicks of Hueysville.

The Rev. William Ford read the wedding vows at 6 p.m. before an altar decorated with branched candelabra holding lighted tapers and basket arrangements of white and red carnations and greenery. Miss Reba Duff, pianist, presented a program of wedding selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her cousin, Ermil Reffitt, wore a princess styled gown of satin and antique lace fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long tapered sleeves outlined with rows of lace. The waistline was accented with a matching peplum edged with lace and the skirt extended into a cathedral train. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion fell from a lace headdress and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and red rose buds.

Miss Debbie Reffitt, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor in an A-line empire gown of pale blue nylon dotted Swiss, matching bow headdress and carried a colonial bouquet of blue tinted carnations. Mrs. Taylor Reffitt was matron of honor.

Mr. Chandler served his son as best man. Walter Swift was usher and taper lighter. Assisting at the reception held in Fellowship Hall of the church were Mrs. Rondal E. Hayes, Mrs. Ermil Reffitt and Mrs. Collene Reffitt.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a two tiered cake encircled with red and white carnations and greenery.

Mrs. Hicks, mother of the bride, received the guests in a navy and light blue ensemble, matching accessories and a corsage of red and white carnations. The mother of the bridegroom wore a pale blue wool dress, grey accessories and a red and white carnation corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Garrett High school and received her B. A. degree from Morehead State University.

Mr. Chandler, a graduate of Paducah Tilghman high school, received his B. S. degree from MSU and is now student teaching at Paul Blazer high school.

Following a wedding trip through West Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Chandler are residing at 3901 Blackburn Ave., Ashland.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. Elizabeth Greene, Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Swift, all of Ashland, Roy Strauser, Charles Staggs and Larry Isaac, all of Morehead.

Camping Center At Goble Branch Yet Year Away

Federal assistance on the Goble Branch camping project on Dewey Lake has been approved and road construction in the area will be done this year, but full development is not expected before 1973, Ewart W. Johnson, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Parks, wrote Dr. George P. Archer, chairman of the Big Sandy Development District, recently.

Mr. Johnson said he is hopeful that the weather will improve to the extent that the Kentucky Department of Highways will at least have main roadways and some pulloffs available for limited use there during the coming camping season.

But, he said, final plans must be developed after the approval by federal agencies, and construction of other facilities cannot be begun till late 1972 or early 1973.

"In any case," Johnson wrote, "we are hoping to have roads, pulloffs, utilities and central restroom facilities available to the public for the 1973 season."

The application for federal assistance was made, shortly after Governor Ford's term of office began, and approval from the Federal Highway Administration and the U. S. Department of Motor Transportation was not made till mid-March. The Department of Parks and the state Department of Highways still must wait till this approval is returned to Frankfort from Washington.

Once completed, the Goble Branch project will provide modern camping facilities comparable to those elsewhere in the state. "Primitive" camping offered at Dewey Lake in the past has failed to attract campers and has caused some tourists to go elsewhere.

The Kennedy "Waiting-Game"

Will Sen. Ted Kennedy toss his hat into the Presidential ring during this epic 1972 election year?

This question has taken on new meaning in recent weeks in the wake of an increasingly confusing pre-convention race among the dozen-or-so contenders for the Democratic nomination for President.

Kennedy's aloofness in maintaining that he is not about to seek the Presidency would be much less significant in the absence of a large field of candidates. If only two or three candidates were currently battling for their party's nomination, the Massachusetts Senator would be forced either to make a serious move now or run the risk that one candidate would capture a majority of the delegates before the Miami convention begins.

But the rocky primary route has and will continue to splinter many candidacies along its way. The example of Sen. Edmund Muskie, of Maine, generally considered to be the front-runner in the Democratic race, who won an incredibly low eight per cent of the vote in the Florida primary, may prove typical among the crowded Democratic field. If the current candidates continue to slice each other into small pieces, the Miami convention in July will become an assemblage of broken bandwagons.

The realists must sooner or later conclude that the strongest of challenges will be required to unseat a wily and resourceful Richard Nixon in November. And then, if politics is, as they say, the art of the possible, the Massachusetts Senator may just become the whitest dark horse in Presidential history if the bosses can convince the rank and file at Miami that only the charismatic Kennedy can unseat President Nixon.

Of course, the central question involved here is whether Kennedy's reluctance to become a candidate at this time is due to 1) a "waiting-game" strategy, or 2) a genuine and quite natural hesitation resulting from the tragic killing of his brothers and the memory of the Chappaquiddick incident.

As the sole surviving Kennedy son, he could hardly be blamed if he chose not to subject his family and himself to the dangers inherent in a Presidential campaign conducted in this frantic society.

But as an astute politician, neither could he be thought unwise for remaining aloof from the meaningless but demeaning primary fights while waiting for the most propitious moment to cast his first stone.

Sen. John Tunney, of California, a close personal friend of Kennedy, said last week that he would not be surprised if Kennedy should become a candidate for President at the Miami convention in July.

Quite frankly, neither would I.

When Children Were Taught To Pray

The razor strap is gone from the home, The paddle from the school, And so few seem to know or care. About the Golden Rule.

It's so sad to see and know Of children going astray. Dear God, bring back the time When children were taught to pray, When home and school were based on Love—Faith—Hope.

But now it seems the basis are Sex, and dirt and dope, Unwed mothers, venereal disease— What a terrible time and day! Dear God, please bring back the time. When children were taught to pray.

Up in the morning to an instant meal, if any at all, Then a hurry, scurry to get to work on time

Or that important social call And so it goes, on and on, Until the close of day. Then the family comes home, One at a time, and all too

Tired to pray, Then for another instant meal, TV and off the bed And many with a sleeping pill, But not a word of prayer is said, And this state of existence goes On and on, day after endless day. Dear God, will there be another time, When children are taught to pray?

Let us think seriously, for time is sure running out. How many people in the world see to it that their dogs and cats have the right kind of food and the best veterinarian and their shots on time, and at night see to it that their dogs and cats are safe for the night and don't know where their sons and daughters are. It would be so much better to turn loose the dog and cat and put that love and care on the children, for God did not say to train the dog and cat in the way it should go, He said, "to train a child in the way, he should go," and when Jesus was asked who was greatest in Kingdom of Heaven, He sure didn't start calling a dog or a cat, He called a child unto Him, and said "for of such is the kingdom of Heaven." Pets are nice things to have, and children are an heritage from top rank in His kingdom and He did not specify color, or financial background.

Love a child today, and teach it to love and pray, and please teach it truth.

Jesus Christ, The Way, The Truth, and the Life. Today's children are tomorrow's Christians, and with what we see today, what will they see tomorrow?

Whatever Things

By DONALD E. WILKINSON

BOY WANTED CRIPPLED PUPPY

Many years ago, a national magazine carried a simple little story that touched the hearts of countless individuals. The story was about a little boy who wanted a dog, and, more specifically, why he wanted a certain dog.

It seems that a fellow had several puppies which he had up for sale. He and another gentleman were looking at the puppies, discussing which one the prospective customer should purchase. There were several to choose from, but the fellow doing the selling warned the man about a certain puppy. "That one over there is a cripple," the owner said "You wouldn't want him."

The little boy was over near a fence and was listening to the two men talk while wishing as hard as he could that one of those puppies could be his. Very shortly, the man seeking to buy a puppy asked the price. "They are $10" the owner said. If the man had been looking they would have seen the little boy counting his money. When he had counted it all, he discovered that he had a total of only $1.63. That was a long way from the $10 necessary to buy a puppy.

The boy kept a close eye on the men as they moved around, looking at each of the puppies, the owner explaining the fine points of each. And, of course, the two men completely ignored the crippled puppy.

After while the little boy asked the owner again what the price of the puppies was. "Son, didn't you hear me tell this gentleman that the puppies were $10 each. Why did you ask me again?" The lad didn't say anything. He looked back down at his money again and started counting. He hoped that by some miracle it would be $10. But he still had only $1.63.

The fellow who had come to buy a puppy finally made a selection. The two men took care of the necessary details to complete the deal. As they were nearly finished, the lad asked the owner if he would take $1.63 down on one of the puppies and let him pay the rest on payments. The owner didn't give him much of a satisfactory answer, but he did ask the lad which dog he wanted. "The one over there," the young boy said as he pointed. "But you heard me tell this fellow that puppy is crippled. Why do you want him? All these other puppies are healthy. If you will tell me why you want him, I just might give him to you," the owner concluded.

The little boy hesitated for a moment. Then he reached down and pulled up his pants leg. There, on the young boy's leg, was a brace. The boy was crippled. "I don't walk so good, either," he said, "and I reckon she'll need some understanding till she gets used to it. I did."

The boy got his puppy—free. I guess if you have been crucified, you can give some understanding when another gets crucified. I guess that's one reason He died for us. And I doubt that any of us have any use for a Crucified Man unless we ourselves have been crucified.

Perkins Reviews Black Lung Law Here Last Week

A crowd which packed the county courtroom heard Congressman Carl D. Perkins last Thursday afternoon tell of his hopes of amendments to the so-called Black Lung Law which will be favorable to applicants for benefits.

Legislation amending the law has already passed the House and awaits Senate approval. Congressman Perkins said rumors have been heard which say President Nixon will veto the bill. Although he said he does not expect such a veto, Perkins already has a new bill out of his House committee, ready for Congressional consideration, just in the event a Presidential veto is made.

"I am going to continue to fight to correct the wrongs of the Social Security Administration," Perkins said. "I don't think the miners in Kentucky have been treated fairly."

If the current bill is approved by the Senate and approved by the President, he said, it will be easier for miners to prove disability, and X-ray tests cannot be used alone to deny claims. In response to many questions, the Congressman said that miners who are unable to work in the mines because of Black Lung will be able to qualify for benefits, regardless of the time that has elapsed since last they worked.

He also said restrictions will be eased for widows of miners filing for claims.

Travel — it's big business in Kentucky

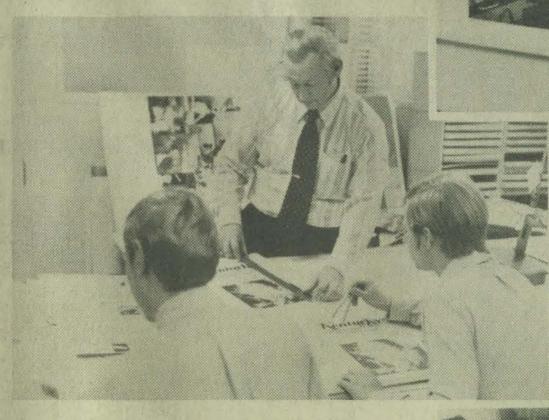

...and the Kentucky Department of Public Information helps by promoting the state's many attractions nationwide.

The photography lab is a busy place where black-and-white and color travel shots of scenic Kentucky are prepared for the department's advertising section and for national publications.

One-minute commercials for Kentucky's travel attractions are taped in the department. Live interviews transcribed "on the spot," conveying travelers' own words about Kentucky, are used in preparing tapes for an all-night radio show from Louisville reaching 40 states.

Telling the travel story in creative art and a multitude of layouts for magazine and newspaper advertisements is the art department's contribution to the Travel Division's promotion work.

Answering all those cards and letters from hundreds of prospective travelers each day is an important final touch to the entire promotion. Each question is different, each gets special treatment and the service is prompt.

Harris Scores TVA
As Pollution Cause

HAZARD, Ky.—Oklahoma Sen. Fred Harris raked the Tennessee Valley Authority over the strip-mining coals here yesterday during a day of touring and testimony on the effects of surface mining on Eastern Kentucky.

Harris said he will introduce legislation to stop TVA's purchases of strip-mined coal and will try to bring the issue to a vote in the Senate this year.

The senator, a former contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, sharply rebuked a TVA reclamation official for which he called "damned bureaucratic compromises" that have permitted strip-mine destruction of the mountains and streams of this area.

"I'll take a whole new creation of the universe to ever get back to the way those hills were," Harris said.

The senator said his investigation was connected with his position as head of the New Populist Institute, a Washington-based organization he said was formed recently to deal with the way "economic power translates into political power against the people."

The senator toured stripped areas in Perry and Knott counties and heard testimony that TVA purchases of strip-mined coal have made the largest contributions to the devastation, acid streams and torn-up roads he had seen.

He confronted TVA reclamation official Robert D. Nelson on the witness stand and demanded to know what TVA has done to retard injury to the mountains and their people.

When Nelson replied that the authority suspends contracts of suppliers whose methods don't meet regulations and refuses plans with poor reclamation possibilities, Harris exploded:

"Hell, that sure helps the people, doesn't it? What you're saying sounds like bureaucratic—to me."

Harris told Nelson, "It's not right for anyone" to treat the land as strip-miners have "but it's damned sure not right for the government to do it."

He said TVA attempts to prevent destruction through regulation aren't working and he declared that the only thing TVA can do to help is to "shut down until we've found a way."

"You won't ever get around to working on alternative energy sources, or even a general energy policy, until you stop," Harris said.

The senator—who was seeking this year's presidential nomination until, as he put it, he "ran out of money"—spent the morning with anti-strip-mining activists before the hearing convened just after noon at the Appalachian Regional Hospital here.

They took him to a mountain stripped and reclaimed by the Buckhorn-Hazard Coal Co. and Carolina Mine, Inc., and up into the hollows to talk with area residents who have resisted strip-mining.

"You saw the best that can be done,

Council Schedules Appreciation Dinner

The annual Appreciation Dinner for Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held at the Elkhorn Country Club in Jenkins Friday, April 28, according to E. M. Bane, Council president.

Purpose of the Appreciation Dinner is to recognize Den Mothers, Cub Masters, Scoutmasters, Explorer Advisers and other volunteer leaders. Special recognition will be given to retired council and district officers.

The highlight of the evening will be the presentation of a "Silver Fawn" award to an outstanding woman scout leader and a "Silver Beaver" award to an outstanding male leader of the Boy Scouts' program.

All Scout leaders, their wives or husbands, and other persons interested in scouting are invited to attend. Dinner tickets may be secured from the Boy Scouts office in Pikeville, members of the Annual Meeting committee, or members of the professional staff.

Parables of Christ
To Be Program Topic

A six-week program on "The Parables of Christ" will be conducted at St. Theodore Catholic Church here on six consecutive Wednesdays, beginning April 12. Sister Mary Dempsey, C. D. P., will conduct the series, which will consist of film-strips with recording, followed by a discussion on contemporary application of the parables to Christian life. Refreshments will be served, and the public is invited.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Rebecca G. Bingham wishes to express gratitude and appreciation to their many friends and relatives for their kindness and sympathy shown them at the passing of their loved one. The lovely floral offerings and visitations will always be remembered. They wish to thank the pallbearers, the Carter Funeral Home for its very efficient service, and the comforting words of Rev. Lee Caudill and Quentin Terry; also, to thank the choir at the Lancer Baptist Church for the beautiful music and songs.

State Seeks to Appeal
Phone Rate Increase

The attorney general's office has noted cases in other states as proof it can appeal a $25.5-million rate increase recently granted to South Central Bell Telephone Co.

At a recent hearing, Franklin Circuit Judge Henry Meigs indicated the rate boost could not legally be appealed since it is an interim increase and no final decision has been reached.

However, Meigs made no formal ruling to allow the attorney general's office time to file a brief on the question.

The brief, filed by Asst. Atty. Gen. Laura Murrell, argues that the contention that only a final order is appealable "is not supported by Kentucky statute, nor is it supported by what authority there is in Kentucky."

Mrs. Murrell cited cases in other states in which such appeals were treated on their merits.

"The general principles governing the applicability of any administrative order, when applied to the case at bar," she said, "definitely indicate that the order in question is an appealable one."

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

Lenna Moore has an idea the Republican party is in reasonably good shape for the coming Presidential election, but he is slightly concerned about the small number of the Faithful turning out for precinct and county caucuses. He has asked this column to state (without charge, of course) by way of enticing the boys to come out that the trouble experienced at the last meeting has been cleared away. He says Brad Boyd has promised not to put onions on his hamburger.

Monitors Show Sources Of State Air Pollution

Frankfort, Ky.—A complex system of air quality monitors in strategic locations across the state is beginning to provide some insight as to the characteristics of air pollution problems in Kentucky.

Readings from the monitors in 1970 indicate that of Kentucky's total air contamination during that year, over two-thirds came from just two pollution classes. Stationary fuel combustion produced 34.6 per cent, according to Kentucky Air Pollution Control Commission records, while transportation was responsible for an even 34 per cent.

Other sources included process losses (22.6 per cent), miscellaneous origins (5.7 per cent) and solid waste disposal (3.1 per cent).

The monitors, which should total 176 statewide by 1973, measure a wide range of pollutants, including sulfur oxides; particulate matter such as ash; nitrogen oxides; hydrocarbons, and carbon monoxide.

Location of the monitors and their proximity to pollution sources are crucial to obtaining representative readings from different areas. Their placement may depend on relative pollution levels, types of pollution to be measured and even a site's proximity to an electrical power source.

Each of the state's nine air-quality control regions must be monitored and those which rank highest in pollution get the most monitors. Most passersby might never notice them, though they often sit 10 to 20 feet above the ground to insure uniformity within the monitoring network and eliminate street influences such as automotive exhaust.

Jockey breaks ice at H.P.

By JIM HIGGINBOTTOM (In the Detroit News)

Tommy Joseph tried working at a straight job and didn't like it.

"I know I'm not setting the world on fire, but I wouldn't trade being a jockey for anything," the 22-year-old native of Prestonsburg, Ky., said at Hazel Park.

Joseph, in Michigan since the end of the winter meeting at Toldeo's Raceway Park, rode his first Hazel Park winner yesterday. He was aboard Wilfred Laycock's Gerton ($12.80) in the third race.

The victory went largely unnoticed because of the riding debut one race earlier of Mary Ellen Longan, of Bloomfield Hills. The 20-year-old Marian High graduate finished a promising third on her first horse.

Tommy Joseph made his riding debut in 1966 at River Downs in Cincinnati. He won his first two races consecutively in 1967 at Beulah Park in Grove City, Ohio.

Joseph is a nephew of jockey Lee Cecil, who got Tommy started in the business. A high school teacher provided further incentive.

"I was galloping horses and missing some school days," he recalled. "She suggested I make up my mind between school and the racetrack. Well, I was making $125 a week . . ."

Tommy did try his hand at other endeavors. He worked in a auto body shop and for an engineering firm.

"Factory work just doesn't compare to being on the race-track, for me at least," he said. "I love what I'm doing. I just wish could ride more often."

His first Hazel Park winner didn't come easy, but there were signs that Tommy had his eye on the finish line—a second on Flying Benny last Thursday and a third on Mighty Bob on Friday.

He took the lead on Gerton yesterday entering the stretch and had a comfortable two-length margin at the wire.

Miss Longan also was all smiles after her initial race. Trainer Dave Holstein put the pretty blond on Mister Rollins in the second and observers agreed she did a workmanlike job. She was not allowed to carry a whip.

"She was nervous as a cat before the race," said jockey room custodian John Danagher. "I had to remind her not to ride with a ring and a watch on."

Holstein also expressed satisfaction.

"He really isn't a half-mile horse, so I'm happy that she was now."

Cheryl White is the only girl riding regularly at Hazel Park able to get up for third," the trainer said.

Antique Flea Market Slated at Bardstown

By LOIS CAMPBELL
State News Bureau

Bardstown, Ky.—With the arrival of spring, Bardstown folk are once again preparing for their annual antique flea market.

If you're a collector of items old or unusual or just want to see what fascinates other people, you're invited to attend the state's largest antique market, April 15-16, in historic Bardstown.

Thousands of hometown folk, people from throughout the commonwealth and out-of-state tourists are expected to attend the event.

Dealers and amateur collectors from Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Ohio, Tennessee and New York are regular visitors to the show.

Some 75 dealers have requested display space. Over 100 tables will be overflowing with china, bottles, glassware, primitive antiques, handmade jewelry, Indian relics, old books, lamps, knives, guns, furniture, homemade quilts and other collectibles.

Local dealers and collectors who like to swap, as well as sell, will be on hand with their wares.

One of the highlights of this year's show will be the return of Kentucky artist Don Ensor. Ensor, whose works are primarily prints of yesteryear, will be present throughout the show to meet and talk with visitors.

Another popular attraction, returning for the fifth year, will be a booth operated by Bill Schroeder of Paducah, featuring new books about price trends in the collecting field. These books cover everything from current collectibles to priceless antiques.

Visitors will also find many interesting shops for antique browsing in the Bardstown area; and for sightseeing there's beautiful Federal Hill and My Old Kentucky Home.

Miss Parente-Mr. Fitzpatrick

The marriage of Miss Maria L. Parente, of Lexington, to Mr. Richard E. Fitzpatrick, of Lexington, was solemnized there Saturday, April 8, at Christ the King church by Fr. Lawrence Hehman, assisted by the Rev. Harold Dorsey, pastor of Epworth Methodist church in Lexington. Miss Parente is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Parente, of Meriden, Conn., and Mr. Fitzpatrick is the son of Mrs. Opal Fitzpatrick, of Lexington, formerly of Prestonsburg, and the late Richard C. Fitzpatrick.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight crepe, floor-length gown fashioned with V-neckline, long sleeves and an empire waistline. She wore a flowing mantilla of lace-edged illusion and carried a bouquet of white silk rosebuds and lilies-of-the-valley.

Her maid of honor, Miss Anne Parente, of Meriden, Conn., wore a gown of wisteria crepe with short sleeves and carried a bouquet of silk violets.

James R. Allen, of Prestonsburg, was best man, and ushers were James E. Howard, William S. Howard, Nelson C. Howard, all of Lexington, Robert C. Prewitt, III, of Paducah, and John V. Porter, of Paintsville.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Spindletop Hall in Lexington.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick, who was graduated from Marymount College in Tarreytown, N. Y. in 1967 and the University of Kentucky College of Law in 1971, is an adjunct instructor at the UK College of Law. Mr. Fitzpatrick, who was graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1966 and the UK College of Law in 1970, is an assistant Attorney General, Attorney General's Office in Frankfort.

Student Vote Ruling Could Cost Colleges

Kentucky state colleges and universities could lose more than $8.8 million annually if the practice of charging higher tuitions for out-of-state students is abolished.

The estimate is based on current fee and enrollment figures supplied by the state Council on Public Higher Education.

Attacks on the out-of-state tuition system have resulted from students winning the right to vote where they are going to school.

Opponents say that the right to register and vote in a campus community makes students residents of the state.

Robert Larson, of the University of Kentucky registrar's office, said discussions have begun on what course to follow if the practice is ended in Kentucky.

UK President Dr. Otis Singletary said the school's budget for the coming biennium is based on the collection of tuition from non-residents, which is higher than that charged residents, and added programs or faculty positions will have to be cut if the practice is abolished.

1,600 Students From 3 Counties Here; April 5-6

The second Big Sandy Valley Area College-Career Day was held last Wednesday and Thursday on the campus of Prestonsburg Community College and approximately 1,600 high school juniors from Floyd, Johnson and Pike counties attended.

The students had an opportunity to visit with representatives of 52 different careers, ranging from agriculture through mining, nursing, teaching and on into the most sophisticated of scientific occupations. They were also given an opportunity to visit with representatives from 27 colleges and universities.

The purpose of College-Career Day was to give high school juniors the opportunity to meet with career and college representatives who would assist them in making future educational and vocational plans. The program was coordinated by Miss Carolyn Hay and the staff of Prestonsburg Community College in cooperation with the high school counselors of the participating schools.

To Use Troopers To Test Drivers

Frankfort, Ky.—Former Republican Gov. Louie B. Nunn's plan for civilians to take over from state troopers as driver-license examiners has been quietly shelved by the new Democratic administration.
Public safety Commissioner William Newman confirmed the change that fulfills Gov. Wendell Ford's campaign promises to keep troopers on the job.

The State Circuit Clerks Association had objected to replacing state police with civilians, contending uniformed officers are less subject to political pressures and have more prestige with youths.

Nunn's goal was to release 63 troopers engaged in license tests around the state and use them for road patrol and administrative duties elsewhere.

Ford decided to accomplish much the same thing by a different route, and has replaced state police in the Boating Division with 30 civilians and in the Arson Division with 15 civilians.

In both plans, federal money was to finance the hiring of civilians. State Police Director Larry Boucher said Washington will finance the boating and arson officers under the Emergency Employment Act.

One apparent hitch is that the boating safety project presumably is a summer-only operation. But Newman said exploratory talks have been held on using the boating officers later in the Departments of Parks and Motor Transportation.

Parks has indicated it could use more law enforcement officers to cope with growing vandalism. Motor transportation seems to need more inspectors for various weighing procedures.

"Whatever happens, the boating officers will definitely be employed in some capacity during the off-season," Newman said.

A record, 1,070,400 summer jobs will be available this year to youths aged 14 to 21 through federally funded employment programs. This is nearly 89,000 more jobs than last year and calls for a budget of over $319 million.

Pontiac Catalina.

That's right. Just add $9 to the base list price and transportation cost of a 4-door Chevy Impala and you've got a new 4-door Pontiac Catalina.

A big Pontiac Catalina. The wide-track Pontiac. With a longer wheelbase. A big car. Roomier. And better riding. Cancer Fight In New Stage

"The war against cancer has reached a new stage and we hope to see new victories in the 70's," declared James Carter II, 1972 Crusade Chairman of the Floyd county unit of the American Cancer Society.
 Mr. Carter said the priority placed on the conquest of cancer by the nation has "moved basic research to a level at which organized and adequately funded research may pay off more and more."

In the stepped-up struggle, he said, ACS will increase support to research projects as well as the training of medical and cancer research personnel. Mr. Carter pointed out that the American Cancer Society has spent altogether more than $250-million to support research.

"As the research forges ahead some cancers considered incurable only a few years ago are becoming manageable—even curable," Mr. Carter pointed out.

Retinoblastoma, a childhood eye tumor as well as Wilm's tumor (a childhood kidney cancer) have yielded steadily to drug therapy during the past 20 years. Leukemia is beginning to yield to scientific discoveries that enable physicians to control some forms of leukemia five to 15 years.

Another example of the work of ACS-supported cancer researchers are efforts to determine what role viruses play in triggering cancer, while others are seeking an answer to the question, "Is there natural immunity against cancer? Can immunity against cancer be acquired?"

"Diagnostic tests for certain cancers are being sought that would enable a physician to detect the disease before symptoms appear, as the Pap test now can do," Mr. Carter said.

While pointing out that expectations of a sudden "breakthrough" or that one man with one idea might solve cancer's riddles are unrealistic, he declared that "the rising momentum in the anti-cancer war must not be slowed by lack of support."

In the last fiscal year the American Cancer Society supported more than $24,100,000 in cancer research. This was a record for the ACS. Nevertheless, over 200 other grants deemed worthy of support were left unfunded because the additional $10,000,000 was lacking.

"We want to wipe out cancer in our lifetime," Mr. Carter said, "and if those battling to control cancer continue to receive the generous support of the American people we may see that come true."

You don't win 18 Grand Prix without learning a thing or two.

On July 15, 1934, an incredible thing happened in racing. A Mercedes-Benz didn't win the Grand Prix. For that matter, neither did an Alfa Romeo or a Maserati.

It was an Auto Union car (that was Audi's corporate name back then), designed by Dr. Ferdinand Porsche and driven by Hans Stuck that thundered past the checkered flag first.

Five weeks later, we took the Swiss Grand Prix. And then the Czech Grand Prix. In fact, we chalked up a grand total of 18 Grand Prix. Plus 16 Hill Climbs.

We raced for glory and prestige and that "gut feeling" only drivers can put into words.

We also raced for knowledge. For what better way to test the mettle of a car than in a race, with all its grueling banks and curves, with the competition breathing down your neck.

Today we no longer race. But we've learned enough from yesteryear to have a lot in common with cars that do.

For example, our new Audi has rack-and-pinion steering which is the most direct steering system a car can have.

It's got a servo-thrust synchromesh transmission that makes shifting quick and precise.

The Audi has independent front suspension so you get more control with fewer jolts.

And a rear axle with twin adjustable torsion bars for precise road holding.

We're as proud of our car today as we were on that hot July day of '34 when we won our first Grand Prix. And we're as determined now, as we were then, to reach a standard of excellence no other car manufacturer can hope to attain.

And experience is indeed a great teacher.

U.S. Grand Jury Names Va. Mine In Stream Case

A federal court indictment voted Monday at Abingdon, Va. may be the first break for lower Big Sandy residents in their long quarrel with Virginia coal operators whom they have accused of dumping black water into the stream.

The U. S. district court grand jury at Abingdon named the Young's Branch Mine No. 4, alleging it dumped coal sludge into Young's Branch, a remote tributary of the Big Sandy. The indictment was made under the 1899 federal Refuse Act. It alleged the company had dumped sludge into the stream, beginning last October and continuing through Dec. 3.

Evidence leading to the indictment was supplied by the U. S. Army Engineers' district office at Huntington, W. Va., to U. S. District Atty. Lee B. Haynes.

The maximum fine for the offense is $2,500 for each violation.

The Young's Branch mine is located near Mt. Heron, Va., and the mine is reportedly a subsidiary of the Jewel Smokeless Coal Company.

Until recent years, Floyd conservation officers were able to procure indictments against, and the conviction of, Pike county coal operators who allegedly had blackened the Big Sandy with coal washings. But they could not reach beyond state lines to get at the Virginia operators.

Let an Electric Dishwasher Do your Dirty Work!

The task of washing dishes frequently is the only reward given to the person who has prepared a delicious meal. One solution to this shameless situation is an electric dishwasher—one of the greatest labor-saving appliances ever developed. Just put dirty dishes, glassware, silverware and cooking utensils in. Add soap powder and set the automatic switch. Then join in the family's after dinner pleasantries.

Everything comes out clean, dry and sanitary. And it's all made possible by clean, flameless electric power. An electric dishwasher saves time and energy . . . and keeps your pretty hands out of hot water!

Enjoy the economy of an automatic electric dishwasher. Next to an electric range, it's the cook's best friend!

Electricity — the cleanest energy you can use.

Buff at Allen Hits Politicians On 'Black Lung'

Dr. I. E. Buff, West Virginia crusader for miners' rights and "black lung" benefits for workers, carried his fight to this county Saturday afternoon in a speech at the meeting of the Kentucky Black Lung Association at the Pace Community Center, Allen.

"Unless the black lung law is made permanent and we do not have to go back to Congress every two years for money to pay the coal miners for their black lung, the black lung law will die," he told the gathering.

He accused politicians of using the miners to further their own political ambitions. "They act," he said, "as if they are serving both sides when in effect their allegiance, their actions are only toward the coal interests."

"In West Virginia," Dr. Buff alleged, "the chemical manufacturers act as coal operators. In a Charleston plant the employees are getting carbon disulphide poisoning. This chemical, when inhaled, causes a destruction of the nervous system and may even cause insanity. The company keeps saying that these men are just neurotics and even have doctors who are siding completely with the company without investigating thoroughly the effect of this chemical on human beings. The U. S. Public Health Service has been notified, but their inaction makes one wonder."

Kentucky Leads Nation In Coal Production, 1971 Figures Show

Kentucky continues to lead the nation in coal production, despite an overall reduction in the number of tons produced. The state edged past West Virginia into the number-one spot last year, despite a six-million-ton drop in production. However, West Virginia's production dropped even more, giving Kentucky the top spot with 119 million tons produced. West Virginia totaled 118 million tons.

Strip mining played a major role in Kentucky's new dominance, as it out-produced the underground industry by about 14 million tons. In 1970, the underground miners produced the greater tonnage by about 63 million tons to 61 million for strip mining.

Fred Luigart, president of the Kentucky Coal Assn., said West Virginia could regain the lead in 1972, since a United Mine Workers work stoppage kept more mines closed there last year than in Kentucky.
