

Soon Another Bridge To Cross

This four-lane bridge spanning the Big Sandy at Allen is approximately 85 percent complete and, barring bad weather or other delaying circumstances, is expected to be completed in the next six to eight weeks. Construction work is being done by the Dixie Bridge Company.

Completion of the new sector of US 23 from the Mountain Parkway here to Allen is expected this summer. Kentucky Road Oiling, East Kentucky Paving and Central Kentucky Landscaping, which are doing the work from the Parkway to Water Gap, predict completion of that sector by June 30. The Winston Ford Company has the contract on the new highway from Water Gap to Allen, and his schedule is expected to be near that of Kentucky Road Oiling. All contractors have been hampered by frequent and heavy rains this spring.

District 30 Vote Count Set Monday Balloting To Fill Three UMW Offices To Close Saturday

Voting in the District 30, United Mine Workers of America, election will end Saturday, and the tabulation of ballots will begin next Monday at U. S. Labor Department supervision at the Landmark Motel, Pikeville.

The balloting has been under way since May 5 at specified polling places for members of all UMW local members in Floyd, Pike, Breathitt, Letcher, Perry, Martin, Knott and Johnson counties in Kentucky and in two counties in Virginia. To be elected are a district president, secretary-treasurer and International Board member.

Two of the three candidates for president are from this county. They are Forrest McCown, of Melvin, and George E. Faine, of Wheelwright. The third is Squire Feltner, of Pikeville.

Julius Mullins, of Melvin, is one of six candidates for secretary-treasurer. Others are Lynn B. Sullivan, Mouthcard;

This Town . . . That World

The most unelusive thing in the world just has to be the common cold. Any slowpoke can catch it.

The topic may be too tragic to pun around with, but... Richard Howard has, after considerable research, decided all this rainy weather may have been caused by a leak in the watertight.

You know, it may be that most of us who want to see a miracle performed are hoping in get out of doing some of the work ourselves.

WOE. WOE...

This fishing season has been a washout for me, literally and literally. Rain, cold, high and muddy waters, and maybe a few too many years have conspired to make a seasick landlubber of the undersigned.

So the season, to date, is literally a washout.

You have nothing to report if nothing happened. I have had the urge. Tennessee has beckoned, but the same weather has beset those fishing spots, too. Two brief tries for crappie (not croppie) at good, old, golden Dewey is the sum total of my season as of inst. date. So there's not even a story of bleak failure to write. Which makes the season a washout, literally. Pooley...

(Somebody asked me if I thought Jeremiah ever did any fishing.)

39 Candidates Are Delinquent On First Report

Thirty-nine candidates for the Kentucky General Assembly, including House Majority Caucus Chairman W. J. Reynolds, of this county, have been reported to the attorney general's office as delinquent in filing the first of two pre-election reports of their campaign expenditures.

Three candidates for state senator were among those listed. Five are from Louisville districts, and two are from Frankfort. Other Eastern Kentucky candidates, in addition to Reynolds, who failed to meet the filing deadline are Darvin Allen (D), Royalton; Mrs. Treva T. Howell (D), Jackson; Maude R. Miles (D), Salyersville; Taylor Bradley (D), Fredville, and Fon Deskins (D), Elkhorn City.

The reports were due April 30 but the state Registry of Election Finance did not file the list with Attorney General Ed Hancock till a week later. A second pre-election statement by candidates is due 10 days before the primary, and a post-election statement is to follow.

Representative Reynolds said his expense account has been filed.

State law, Atty. Gen. Hancock said, permits the nullifying of the nomination or election of candidates who are delinquent in filing expense accounts. But it was said four suits against delinquent candidates have failed to disqualify them.

This is what the applicable state law says:

"The nomination for, or election to, an office of any candidate who violates any provision (of the state campaign-spending laws), or whose campaign treasurer violates a provision (of the laws) shall be void, and the office or candidacy shall be filled as provided by law for the filling of a vacancy.

"An action to declare a vacancy under this subsection may be brought by the registry or any candidate for the office sought to be declared vacant."

A glaucoma screening clinic will be held May 22 at the health department. All persons over the age of 35 should be tested for glaucoma at least once a year.

The health department will hold a pap smear clinic May 23, from 9-11:30 and 1-2. On Thursday, May 24, a pap smear clinic will be held at Bypro, in Ethel Osborne's Store from 10 to 2. At least one pap test a year is advised for women.

These services are free and open to the public.

Liquor Raids Net Large Haul

The largest haul of illegal intoxicants in recent months was recovered last Monday evening on Hunter's Branch at Hunter by State Troopers Danny Stumbo and Phillip Tucker and two men were arrested in connection with the raid.

Festa Salisbury, of Hunter and W. A. (James) Jacobs, of Wayland, were charged in quarterly court last Tuesday with possession of alcoholic beverages for purposes of sale after 183 cases of beer, 300 half-pints whiskey, 27 half-pints vodka, 18 half-pints gin, 18 pints wine and six bottles of beer were found in a building on Hunter Branch belonging to Salisbury. The two were released on $500 appearance bond.

The same day, Martin Police Chief Herschel Lester and Kentucky State Trooper Danny Stumbo apprehended Ballis Huff, Jr., at the Martin Depot near the mouth of Beck's Branch transporting 140 cases of beer and three cases of whiskey. Huff was charged with illegal transportation of alcoholic beverages and taken before Martin Police Judge D. M. Hutchinson.

Saturday, a raid on the residence of Freddie Collins on the Corn Fork of Brandy Keg by State Troopers Cantrell and Williamson, netted a total of 552 cans of beer. Collins was charged in quarterly court with possession of alcoholic beverages for purposes of resale and released from the county jail Saturday on $500 appearance bond.

Others jailed, charges against each and names of arresting officers follow:

Robert Adams, reckless driving, arrested by City Policeman Darrel J. Conley; Everett Gibson, destruction of property; Phillip L. Fondy, fishing without license, by Dalton R. Conley; Alvin Fields, drunk driving and speeding, State Trooper Newsome Clall Patton, drunk driving, State Trooper Newsome; Tom spradlin, drunk driving and no operator's license, State Trooper Bevin; Reuben Higgins, fishing without license, Dalton R. Conley; Virginia Higgins, fishing without license, Dalton R. Conley; Dewey Gayheart, drunk driving, by State Trooper Estepp.

Perkins Urges Ky. Communities To File for Clean Water Funds

Rep. Carl C. Perkins this week urged Kentucky communities to move ahead with applications for federal funds to clean up water resources, after a judge had ruled that the government should not withhold the appropriated money.

"I welcome the ruling, because unless we get some help in Kentucky—and all over the country, for that matter—there's not going to be enough water for us to drink safely, let alone our children and grandchildren," Perkins said.

The Congressman worked for and voted for the funds to help communities build and improve sewerage treatment plants.

President Nixon had vetoed the bill, but the House and Senate passed it again,

11th Annual Refund By Floyd Co. Clerk Of Extra Fees Made

The recent refund to the county of excess fees by County Clerk C. "Ollie" Robinson is said to have been the 11th time in the history of the county for such payment to be made. Robinson, who is completing his 12th year as County Clerk, is unopposed in the May primary and the November elections.

Excess fees returned to County Treasurer W. J. May this week by Mr. Robinson amounted to $3,099.97. The fiscal court also allowed the Clerk to pay $1,900 this year to bind old books in the Clerk's office, which brings the total to $4,899.97.

Mr. Robinson said he has returned more than $100,000 since he has been Clerk. In addition, $2,676 was returned to the County Treasurer for taxes collected on recording deeds; $1,201.26 for delinquent taxes collected for the year 1972; $5,129 for occupational licenses, and $3,492.14 returned to the Floyd County Board of Education for the school's share of the delinquent taxes.

Board Split Emphasized This Week

Making the transition from the old election law to the new has Floyd county's election board split squarely down the middle, with two precinct officer lists possible and the acceptability of both hanging in doubt.

Two members of the board—Sheriff Frank Leslie, ex-officio member, and Gorman Collins, appointed as the Republican member—met last Tuesday and named officers for all 44 precincts. Sheriff Leslie, acting as chairman, notified Yvonne S. Jones, appointed Democratic member, of the 10 a.m. meeting but she did not appear.

Leslie said Jim Hammond, who was appointed to the board to take the place of County Clerk C. "Ollie" Robinson, who could not serve because he is a candidate, was not legally appointed, is not considered by him and Collins as a member, and so was not notified to attend the meeting. They contend that they constituted a quorum.

Meanwhile, Mr. Hammond, acting on the advice of the attorney general's office as chairman of the board, was notifying all four members of the board of a meeting to be held at the courthouse at 2 p.m. Monday. Only he and Mrs. Jones appeared and in the absence of a quorum could take no official action.

Water Association Sets Deadline For Consumers To Sign

The Parkway Water Association, which will provide water service to homes and businesses in a three-mile-long area up Middle Creek from the present terminus of the Prestonsburg water system at the Clark elementary school, is ready for final plans, and a June 1 deadline has been set for consumers to sign up for the service at the reduced cost of $100.

After June 1 the tap-on fee will be $300, or the actual cost of making the connection—whichever is greater. D. H. Holbrook, a member of the Association, explained that Richard E. Martin, engineer, has been instructed to proceed with final plans and that, once these are completed, no changes or additions can be made till the water main is actually laid.

The project, estimated to cost $75,000, is being financed by a Farm Home Administration loan. No federal grant funds have been made available. The water system will extend from the Clark school to Mill Branch, near the mouth of Rough and Tough fork of Middle Creek.

Fifty-one have signed tap-on contracts. About 10 more consumers are needed, Holbrook said.

Because of the short time which prospective consumers have in which to sign, it was suggested that if any have questions to ask they should call 886-2240.

P.H.S. Takes Regional Title

By defeating 17 Eastern Kentucky golf teams at Paintsville Country Club, Monday, the Prestonsburg High School Golf Team clinched the regional title and assured itself a berth in the state finals to be held at Fort Knox, May 22-23. The team, coached by Eddie Radjunas, scored an overall 322, followed by second place Russell with a score of 328. Two team members, Jim Blackburn and Jack Absher, qualified for the individual state tournament to be held May 30-31 at Fort Knox. This team is the first Prestonsburg athletic club to go to a state finals competition since another golf team achieved this same distinction in 1955. Team members and their respective scores follow, from left, John G. Heinze, 81; Jim Blackburn, 79; Jack Absher, 79; Jim Bill Frasure, 83, and Coach Eddie Radjunas.

program in UK's Agricultural Science Building, William A. Seay Auditorium. The diplomas were presented to the graduates by Dr. Harry M. Bohannon, dean of the UK College of Dentistry.

Will You Vote For The Bosses or For The Man?

Dear voter,

Some time ago I made the decision to become a candidate for your State Representative in the 95th District of Floyd County. I did so on my own. I felt—and still believe—that the most important issue in any campaign is not how many powerful friends you have in Frankfort, Louisville or Owensboro, but what kind of program and representation you can offer to the people of Floyd County.

My opponent has received the blessings of the present and former governors—not to mention the party chieftan from Western Kentucky. YET, NONE OF THESE MEN HAS A REAL INTEREST IN THE PRESENT NEEDS OF FLOYD COUNTY. None of them works here, or earns a living here, or drives over our roads, or sends children to our schools, or shops in our local businesses, or owns property here, or votes here.

The people who have endorsed me are just that—people. The ones who care about Floyd County. Public endorsements have been given to me by the members of my union—the men and women I work with every day—and by the working coal miners who apparently believe I can offer a better program for them and the county they live and work in. Privately, I've received the backing of many good people in Floyd County—teachers, professional people, business men and women—a wide cross-section of people who really care about this county.

To me, the point is obvious. I owe no favors to anyone outside of Floyd County and no one owes me any. I am my own man and will be my own man as your Representative. I will vote for the best deal for Floyd County and that is the only "deal" I am interested in. I will not OWE my election to powerful outsiders. . . . I will not OWE them my vote in the House of Representatives on important issues. The only people I will owe my vote to are the voters of Floyd County.

Likewise, I do not owe anything to my employers. I am extremely grateful to the C & O Railroad for their policy of encouraging their employees to run for public office, and if I am elected, that policy is to allow me all the time needed to be your Representative in Frankfort. In the meantime, I am on leave of absence—without pay—to run for this office. I am not using a company car to drive around in or a company credit card, and I get no special favors from my company. They do not ask me for favors and I do not owe them any.

Since this campaign began, I have challenged my opponent on several issues which I believe are important to Floyd County:

1. Severance tax on coal—A crippling 30 cents per ton tax on our most important mineral and source of many jobs in Floyd County, but none on oil or gas—he voted for it.

2. Redistricting—Took eight precincts—and 2,900 voters—out of this county and added them to the Senate District in Johnson, Lawrence and Boyd and the House District in Pike—he voted for it.

3. Workman's Compensation—The bill he voted for does more to help lawyers get rich on black lung cases and hurt the coal industry with impossibly high compensation rates than it does to help the working man in the mines.

So far, my opponent has not said a single word about the questions I have raised. Instead, he has run to Frankfort or Louisville to get another endorsement from a powerful friend. I do not believe that Floyd County needs another two years of being represented in Frankfort by and for Mr. Reynolds' "friends."

I was told by some of these outsider friends that I should not enter this race. Apparently no one is supposed to run against Mr. Reynolds. However, I meet the qualifications of age (I am 30), of living in the District (at Martin) of being a citizen (born here to Mr. and Mrs. William "Bill" Allen) and I have filed all the necessary papers and campaign reports required of me. In addition, I have three years of college (at Morehead and Pikeville), am a working man in Floyd County (for the C & O Railroad), am a family man (wife, Emily Allen, a school teacher, and son, Greg, age 7) and—most importantly—I am interested in and concerned for the needs of Floyd County.

I ask you—the voters of Floyd County—do you want another two years of boss rule, guided by my opponent's powerful friends in Frankfort, Louisville, Owensboro, and Charleston, W. Va., or do you want—for a change—a representative in Frankfort who owes only the people of Floyd County who sent him there? The choice is yours on election day.

Thank you,

James Jitter Allen

Prized Guns Handmade by Gunsmith

By HELEN PRICE STACY

George Chaney was born in Pike county, lived in Morgan, bought hardware for his handmade rifles in Wolfe and sold his guns to customers all the way to the Virginia and Tennessee borders.

The Morgan county smithy not only made guns but also shod horses for his neighbors, mended and made their farm tools and even served as community dentist when necessary.

"I've seen the set of forceps he made for pulling his neighbors' teeth," the late J. M. Gevedon, of Grassy Creek, wrote in a letter more than 20 years ago. "They were really a work of art."

Chaney, of course, was a farmer, tending land and building a home near Salem Church at what now is Buskirk. When he had a few extra hours, he devoted them to making slat-back chairs and other furniture.

It was in 1874 that Chaney, his parents, a number of brothers and a sister moved from Pike to Morgan county. The family acquired land that extended two miles from the present Salem Church to Halsey Branch of Grassy Creek.

Though a man of many talents, Chaney was more popularly known as a gunsmith. People came from far and near to buy his guns, paying the specific price of ten dollars.

Josh Perkins, of Morgan, and Henry Perry, of Wolfe county, were also gunsmiths, noted for their artistry and skill, as was Chaney. Perkins made many fine "squirrel guns"—from .22 flobert rifle barrels.

According to Gevedon, many of the old time smiths took guns made for large game and reduced the caliber for smaller game. "This was done by inserting a cold steel rod into a heated barrel and beating it down to the desired caliber. Then they redressed and rerifled the gun."

Nothing came easy to the workman of 100 years ago. Timber for gun stocks was soaked in water sometimes for a year, then allowed a long drying time before it was worked into a stock.

"Some smiths used walnut for their gunstocks, but most of them used curly maple—sugar tree wood. Where the curly part of the maple was long enough, they made the whole length stock called whole stock," wrote Gevedon, "but sometimes the curl didn't reach far enough, then they made the half stock with a rib to reach from there to the muzzle."

Most merchants of that era maintained a stock of hardware for guns, with J. Taylor Day of Hazel Green supplying area smiths with butt plates, locks, triggers, guards, cylinders, thimbles for the ramrod, ferules for the stock end and barrels.

The last gun made by Chaney was for Dr. Guerrant, of Central Kentucky, who wanted a special gift for his son.

Guerrant had organized the Presbyterian Church at Salem, and because of Chaney's respect for him and his part in the community's religious life, he used special care in making the rifle. This gun was the last and perhaps the finest of all the Chaney guns.

It is not known if Chaney, Perry or Perkins used special marks on their creations, but all three men were known for accuracy. It might be their guns are still blazing away, winning trophies for today's Kentucky marksmen.

If Strip-Mining Were Banned . . .

The Times has argued, without any great success, that in its opposition to most, if not all, stripmining it is not an enemy but a friend of the coal mining industry.

Our contention has been that, aside from all the destructive aspects of surface mining, it offers a deadly competition to deep-mined coal, that it employs relatively few workers, produces low-cost coal and reduces the number of drift-mouth operations which do employ many.

We have argued that coal, plentiful and vital as it is to the nation, is not all that is needed. We insist that its production should provide work for men, payrolls for communities, taxpayers who join the rest of us in paying the never-paid bill.

Many have refused to "buy" that argument. But now comes a report prepared for the Appalachian Regional Commission which suggests that even the abolition of contour stripmining would result in a major increase in employment rather than in the adverse economic effects surface-mining adherents predict.

The report, prepared for ARC by Charles River Associated, Inc., indicates that as many as 9,000 jobs would be added to the work-force in Eastern Kentucky and West Virginia if stripmining were banned. And, it adds, even the resultant increase in the price of coal produced from deep mines is taken into consideration in that prediction of more men working.

The coal of Eastern Kentucky is of such quality, the report says, that addition of 50 cents a ton to the price will not affect its sale. The two problem points for the industry are listed as (1) further restriction on the sulphur content of coal burned by power generating plants, and (2) the further lifting or entirely removing of oil import quotas.

Each year, the balances are tilted farther toward surface mining. The volume of coal produced may even increase, but the number of men making a living and working at home will become less. And Eastern Kentucky will have lived in an economic fool's paradise, following the lure of the quick dollar while its basic coal industry was dying.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A Helpful Note

It is with great pleasure that I renew my subscription to The Times. A few weeks ago I feared this would not be necessary. When my sister told me about the fire, I felt sad, I'd lost a dear friend. Monday's mail always brought the Times to San Antonio, and we enjoyed the news from home. Mondays without its arrival would, indeed, be Blue Monday. There would have been a void which even the great state of Texas would have trouble filling. But, praise be! Monday arrived, and so did The Times.

Thanks for bright Mondays, and we shall look forward to many more.

Editor, The Times

The President said to not let Watergate stop him from building a permanent and universal peace. For the world's masses this would bring great joy.

Under the present systems of world government there will never be peace. The only hope for peaceful supremacy is for the erring, unethical ruling clique of the world to institute God's laws in their governing procedures. Then people would have more respect for the law. Prestonsburg is legally dry but for a decade bootleggers have been operating in its center.

WOMAN'S CLUB FEATURES MT. MENTAL HEALTH EMPLOYEE

Sister Noreen Bentfield and Mrs. Brenda Kinder, of the Mountain Mental Health Services, Prestonsburg, were guest speakers recently at the March meeting of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club, which was held at the home of Mrs. J. T. Spillman, Lackey.

Naming the many services of the Mental Health out-patient clinic, Sister Noreen listed a child psychologist to assist in solving children's problems, facilities for counseling, testing, and an alcoholic and drug abuse program. She explained that patients are picked up in the morning three days a week by bus and are involved at the clinic in various group projects in order that they may have the benefit of a variety of learning experiences, while at the same time learning to cooperate and get along with other people. Often they cook and then clean up after the meal; they go to town; they bowl; and occasionally, when weather permits, they have a picnic. On Tuesdays and Thursdays the nurses go to the Golden Years Rest Home, Lackey, to lead in group social activities there. They pointed out that volunteers are always welcome to assist the nurses.

The Community Placement Program was also explained by the speakers. Many patients ready to leave the Eastern Kentucky State Hospital have no place to go. So, many persons out in the community have volunteered their homes for these patients. The nurses call at the homes at regular intervals and keep a report on the patients' progress. This program is a first in the State and one of the first in the nation.

Motion was made, seconded, and carried during the business meeting to reelect the same officers for the coming club year. They are as follows: President, Mrs. S. M. Martin; first vice-president, Mrs. Birchell Duff; Second Vice President, Mrs. Don Hughes; Recording secretary, Mrs. Otto Martin; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. James Duff; Treasurer, Mrs. J. T. Spillman; and Parliamentarian, Mrs. J. C. Wells. Those attending the meeting were: Mrs. Lula Coburn, Mrs. Beatrice Collins, Mrs. Patricia Duff, Mrs. Elizabeth Duff, Mrs. Alice Hornsby, Mrs. LaFaye Hughes, Mrs. Pauline Martin, Mrs. Maxine Martin, Mrs. Marie Mullins, Mrs. Imalee Spillman, Mrs. Libby Martin, and the guests, Sister Noreen Bentfield and Mrs. Brenda Kinder.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of George W. Snodgrass would like to express our appreciation to all friends and neighbors who were so kind and sympathetic to us in our time of bereavement. We want to extend a special thank you to the nurses and other employees of Highland Regional Hospital, Dr. Adams, and the ministers, Frank Spillman and Earl Waugh. Thanks are also extended to the Merion Funeral Chapel for its courteous and efficient service.

May 29, 1973

A man of proven ability who will be on the job 24 hours a day.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY

It is more apparent than ever that good citizens of Floyd County should demand and have answered these questions from the candidates for Sheriff in May primary:

1. What will be the qualifications and character of deputies?
2. Do they propose to have deputies that have been indicted by grand jury or have a police record?
3. Fiscal Court determines the amount of money to be paid for law enforcement, so, how will active deputies be paid?
4. How will patrol cars be purchased?
5. Should or shouldn't more State Police be called to Floyd for better law enforcement?
6. Shouldn't the important post of Chief deputy as picked by each candidate be made known before election?

ALLEN OPPOSED BERT COMBS For GOVERNOR

JAMES "JITTER" ALLEN, who is running for Representative, in 1973 is the same man who campaigned in 1971 all across Eastern Kentucky against Bert Combs, the one governor who did more for Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky than any governor in the history of the Commonwealth.

This is the same James "Jitter" Allen who made numerous radio announcements and traveled to all areas of Eastern Kentucky making speeches against Bert Combs.

Why would a man who says he wants to help Eastern Kentucky and serve as your Representative in Frankfort work so hard against Bert Combs, a man who worked so hard for Eastern Kentucky?

After all, BERT COMBS gave us the Mountain Parkway, which opened up new industrial and recreational opportunities for Floyd county. If not for the Mountain Parkway would we have U. S. Shoe Corporation, American Standard and the extensive development of Jenny Wiley State Park?

Under his administration, Bert Combs brought to Eastern Kentucky the Prestonsburg Community College. He started education moving in Kentucky again, and gave the youth of the mountains an opportunity to continue their education in a state-supported college. Bert Combs was for education, and proved it time and time again.

Even the road program which is now underway in Eastern Kentucky was started under the Combs Administration. Combs Airport is also a product of his administration.

While this same James "Jitter" Allen was campaigning against Bert Combs, W. J. Bill Reynolds was traveling all over Kentucky working in his behalf. W. J. Reynolds thanks BERT COMBS for his great contributions to Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky.

So we ask you, Mr. Allen, if you are for Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky in 1973, why would you have been so opposed in 1971 to Bert Combs, the man who proved he was concerned in Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky as no other governor had. W. J. Bill Reynolds knows the needs and desires of the people of Floyd county, and wants to continue to serve you as your Representative.

We urge you to cast your ballot on May 29th for a man who has always been for Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky.

Vote W. J. "Bill" Reynolds for Representative, 95th District.

Boyd County Mound Dated at 2000 B.C.

Catlettsburg, Ky.—A serpent mound, possibly built by archaic Indians about 2000 BC, has been discovered near here and is expected to be registered with the Kentucky Heritage Commission as a national monument.

Lansing Brisbin Jr., an amateur archaeologist from Huntington, W. Va., says the mound goes 900 feet across the top of a hill and is the only serpent mound in North America composed completely of rock.

He said it could have been used as the prototype of the earthen serpent mound in Ohio.

Kentucky Afield

By Hope Carleton
Dept. of Fish and Wildlife

Fishermen are a strange lot. For example, there are those who will attest that trout is the only fish to battle. Others feel that black bass is tops while some choose crappie, White bass, catfish, Rock bass or others. There is a large segment of Kentucky's ardent anglers who swear there's no finer fish than the bluegill.

In fact every fisherman has a certain fish that is tops on his list.

Bluegill fishing is especially good during the spawning season, particularly in the shallows of some 60,000 farm ponds that have been stocked by the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

It is not uncommon to witness the saucer-like depressions in the shallows and see handsized bluegill by the hundreds.

Angling methods are wide and varied. Possibly the most used outfit is the close-faced spinning rig, equipped with a casting bubble, small hook and a lively worm.

The fisherman casts over the nesting area, allows the worm to sink slowly and then carefully retrieves the bait over the nesting site. At times this method brings a fish with every cast.

Other methods that are quite effective include the open-face variety of spinning tackle and fly rods with small poppers or wet or dry flies. Of course, the cane pole is still good and will account for endless numbers of these fine pan fish.

Kentucky has some 40 state-owned or state-managed lakes that team with bluegill and offer sportsmen excellent fishing opportunities. The 13 major lakes also offer fine bluegill fishing.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources has an extensive farm pond stocking program throughout the Commonwealth. Black bass and bluegill are furnished to the landowner free of charge for new ponds.

In some areas of the state, nesting bluegill already have been reported. During the next few weeks bluegill fishermen should be having a "heyday" harvesting their top fish.

Those desiring to have a pond stocked should contact their local conservation officer, district wildlife director or Charles Bowers, director of Fisheries Division, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, Capital Plaza, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

To The Voters in District 3:

In the Floyd County Times of May 2 our present Magistrate said he wanted to apologize to the voters in District 3 for not having time to campaign. He said he was too busy keeping our rural roads in shape. He also said we had a bad winter. From the looks of the rural roads in District 3 I would say we have had four years of winter. I am sure the good voters of Doty Creek, Fraziers Creek, Stumbo Hollow, Hunters Branch, Royal Hollow and all the other hollows in District 3 will agree with me.

Six Clark Teachers

Attend April 18 Meet

Six staff members of the Clark Elementary School attended a one-day workshop on individualizing instruction, conducted at Kenbar Inn, Gilbertsville, Kentucky, April 18. Mr. Carl Rose, principal of Dodson Elementary School at Hermitage, Tennessee conducted the activities.

The staff members attended the meeting as a part of the planned in-service activities being carried out at Clark School through the Right to Read Program. This particular workshop consisted of the philosophy behind individualizing instruction, ways to bring it about, and the construction of activities to be used in the classroom upon return to school the next day. As a result of this meeting, plans are being finalized for a visit to Dodson School to see more exactly how the ideas are introduced and used in the classroom.

Those attending the meeting were the principal, Mr. Pitts, the Right to Read Coordinator, Pauline Hicks, and teachers, Glays Shepherd, Mildred Whitaker, Elsie Dotson, and June Stephens.

Kenneth E. Smith, Grundy, Va.; Robert Carter, Burdine; Franklin D. Scalf, Sidney, and Alvis Smith, of Phelps.

Among the nominees the International Board member is Tom Raney, Pikeville, a former District 30 president. Others are J. B. Trout, of Pinson Fork; Evans "Tom" Robinson, Vansant, Va., and Walter W. Akers, Hellier.

All these candidates were nominated by union locals in voting held last March. The election by vote of rank-and-file miners is the result of a suit filed by the Department of Labor and others, and it removes district officers from the control of the international union through appointment.

Although there are more than 11,000 miners in District 30 who are eligible to vote, Jack Brady, assistant election supervisor for the Labor Department who is supervising the voting, said he expects only about 4,000 to vote. He based this prediction on the vote total in last year's election of national UMW officers when approximately 5,000 cast ballots.

McCown, Smith and Robinson have the backing of the Miners for Democracy which last year ousted W. A. "Tony" Boyle from the UMW presidency. All other candidates are running independently.

The Man For The Job

The Sheriff is one of the chief administrative officers in our county. It is his duty to take charge of prisoners, to oversee juries, to prevent breaches of the peace and to carry out the judgments of the County Court.

What kind of man do you want in this office?

One who is young enough and physically capable of doing the job?

One who is educated enough to understand your problems and act with reason?

One who can humbly accept the responsibility the office carries?

One who feels deeply that law enforcement is needed now as never before?

Search your mind and your conscience. Answer these questions honestly for yourself—then act. Go to the polls, May 29, and cast your vote for

He announced that he is notifying all candidates of a meeting to be held next Wednesday in the county courtroom to acquaint them of the situation and to give them an opportunity to institute legal proceedings requiring participation of the full board in naming precinct officers and getting the election machinery in motion in time to hold a legal primary. He said he did this after conferring with Secretary of State Thelma Stovall, who is chairman of the state election commission.

Mrs. Stovall, he said, expressed the fear that failure of the Floyd election board to follow proper procedures in naming precinct officers, instructing them in the use of voting machines and in carrying out other details might invalidate the entire election.

The legal action contemplated is the filing of a suit by a candidate or by a citizen to require the election board to meet and transact the business necessary for the holding of a legal election. Action by the state election board under its emergency powers was considered, but the state board does not meet until next week.

Told that the legality of his appointment is challenged, Mr. Hammond said KRS 127.030 was followed in detail in his appointment. This part of the new election law provides:

"Where from any cause the county clerk or sheriff cannot act, the two appointed members shall appoint a commissioner to serve during the period the county clerk of sheriff is ineligible..."

Hammond says Mrs. Jones, the appointed Democratic member, notified the Republican member, Mr. Collins, of the county clerk's disqualification because of his candidacy and asked that they meet to appoint a successor. The meeting was not held, and five names were submitted by the Democratic executive committee and five by the Republican to the state election board. He said the state board named him and that certification of his appointment was signed by Secretary of State Stovall as chairman.

All concerned avow their desire to see that a fair list of officers is named according to law, but they differ on details.

Sheriff Leslie pointed out that four of those who served in last year's general election as precinct officers are now candidates themselves and that officers for a newly created precinct—No. 44, Dwale-New Allen—are not on that list. It is admitted that some of the November, 1972 officers have died or have moved elsewhere. Leslie and Collins said they omitted from their list two officers because the son of one and the brother of the other are candidates this year. All these facts were recited in opposition to the assistant attorney general's opinion that the list of election officers named for the November, 1972 general election are eligible to serve under the new law this year's primary.

Such vacancies, Hammond and Mrs. Jones point out, are matters of business the election board is expected to handle in orderly and legal fashion.

The big hassle stems from the change from the old to the new. Mr. Collins pointed out:

"The new laws that went into effect December 1, 1972 state that the election officers will hold office for one year and in all elections in that year and must be selected by September each year. Since the law went into effect on Dec. 1, 1972, there was not time to select officers after the law went into effect... The new law required the Election Commission (county) to meet once every month. This commission has never met until a meeting was called by Sheriff Frank Leslie, one of the election commissioners under the new law."

Assistant Attorney General Charles W. Runyon wrote Mr. Hammond, in response to questions asked about the appointment of election officers:

"We assume new appointments have not been made pursuant to KRS 127.040. Those precinct election officers who were validly appointed to serve in the 1972 November election should serve in the same capacity in the 1973 primary... The requirement that election officers must be selected by the May primary each year was repealed by the 1972 Legislature..."

Last year's election officers who served at the general election were:

To the Voters of District 3:

I would like to take this opportunity to apologize to my good friends of Magisterial District 3.

As we all know, we have had more than our share of bad weather this year, which in turn has caused the rural roads to be in very bad shape.

I have tried to take every opportunity to help restore our roads to satisfactory condition. While trying to fix the roads, I have left myself short of time, instead of trying to talk to the people of District 3 concerning the upcoming election. But I think and I hope that you, the voters of District 3 think that it is more important to repair our roads and help the people of Floyd County than to campaign.

As all of you know the election is drawing near. It is in your hands to choose the one that will be your next Magistrate. I am a democrat candidate for reelection to the office.

I have worked very hard and tried to make your tax money do as much good as I could for you people.

If re-elected my only promise is to do all the good I can to help everyone.

I have been informed that there's a rumor going around that if I am elected I will give the office to some one else. That is not true. That never did enter my mind. If elected I will be your Magistrate.

So if I don't get to see you between now and election day I hope you will come out and vote for me.

Again, I want to thank you for your vote of confidence you have had in me in the past.

YOU HAVE BUT ONE CHOICE. This race for Magistrate is between Edward Caudill and TED H. SALISBURY. All the candidates for this office are my friends, and this race won't change that.

YOU ARE FOR ME OR FOR EDWARD C. CAUDILL. A vote for the other candidates is a vote to keep Eddie Caudill in office as Magistrate. He has had the office for years—let me serve you, just once.

After talking to numerous people in Floyd County, I have found much resentment because six of your precincts have been added to Pike County. I can understand your concern about this situation, and the fear that you will not be represented.

I would like for the people to know that if I am elected I will do everything I possibly can for them as we are both Eastern Kentucky counties in which I am greatly interested. I further promise to make every effort to have their precincts returned to Floyd county as under the law it is now possible and should be done.

If my opponent is elected, he will not want to see this happen as he is expecting his largest number of votes from them and will do nothing to have it changed back for the people.

So I hope you will give this matter some serious thought and decide how you want your precincts to remain.

Again let me reassure you that you will not be let down in representation if I am elected.

Thank you,

JOHN M. PHILLIPS

JOE WHEELER LEWIS DEMOCRAT FOR SHERIFF

No. 2 on Ballot

Since I have served as deputy sheriff for ten years and a sheriff for four years, I do not feel it necessary for me to give a long story about who I am and what I stand for. I feel like we all will be judged by our past record. My greatest desire to be sheriff is to make Floyd County a better place in which to live. I am one hundred percent against the sale of alcoholic beverages and will do my best to stop bootlegging and dope peddling. I will work, day and night, to stop breaking and entering. All deputies will be sober, honest and respectful and will be in uniform when patrolling roads. Two deputies will work day and two will work at night. I will have one person in the office to receive calls at night.

I want to thank all my opponents for their kindness in the race. I believe this has been the cleanest sheriff's race I have ever seen in Floyd County.
I am running my own race and ask the support from all candidates in other races.

Your Vote and Support Appreciated.

(The following is a copy of a Page 1 news-story published in The Floyd County Times on Jan. 8, 1970)

Circuit Judge Hollie Conley, in his instructions to the grand jury empaneled Monday for the first court term of the new year, called for strict enforcement of the "dry" law in this county.

He pointed to the overwhelming dry vote cast at last year's local option election and told the jury it should work to see that the people have what they obviously want.

"For the past three or four years," Judge Conley remarked, "our county has been in pretty good shape." He commended outgoing sheriff, Joe W. Lewis, for a job well-done. "I'm sure the new sheriff will do an equally good job," he added.

"Whiskey violations," the judge told the jury, "are not the worst crimes to be brought before you, but many times when there is a murder, a breaking and entering, a child desertion or a broken home, whiskey is involved."

For four years of honest, impartial enforcement of the law, vote for

Joe W. Lewis for Sheriff

ENDORSEMENT

During my thirty-odd years as a high school principal in Floyd County I came in contact with many bright boys. Lovel Hall was the most brilliant of the lot. As principal of McDowell High School, I was closely associated with Lovel and his father and mother for four years. He was not only an excellent student but a kind and courteous boy as well. I first knew him as a small child in a rural school on Mud Creek. I followed his progress until he graduated from our high school at McDowell. I know him as well as anyone. No candidate in Floyd County deserves more to be nominated and elected than does Lovel Hall.

Since ill health prevents my taking an active part in working for his nomination, I urge all my friends in Floyd County, and especially those on Left Beaver, Ligon, and the Mud Creek sections, to work and vote for Lovel Hall for Tax Commissioner. You will never regret it.

Two Centuries of Hospitality

By BETTY ELLISON

When Kentucky was a couple of hundred years younger, the natives were not nearly so hospitable as they are now. Plenty of times, stockaded Fort Harrod proved to be a welcome refuge for the pioneers from howling Indians who, more than once, chased James Harrod, Daniel Boone and their companions into the safety of the fort.

Fort Harrod, built in 1774 on a site surveyed by Harrod and Boone, proved a haven for settlers pouring into the western country through Cumberland Gap and over the Wilderness Road. In 1974, the fort's gates will swing open in a wide welcome to visitors as Kentucky celebrates the 200th anniversary of the founding of Fort Harrod.

Fort Harrod has been built again at Harrodsburg. Authentic as to details, the wooden enclosure contains blockhouses, cabins, even a log schoolhouse. Rude buildings are stocked with handmade utensils and farm implements, and the hastily-put-together furnishings of the pioneer era. The fort makes up a portion of Old Fort Harrod State Park, on US-68 and US-127 in the center of Harrodsburg.

Much of Kentucky's romantic past is recalled here. The Lincoln Marriage Temple, just inside the entrance to the park, which was designed to represent an early-19th-century Kentucky church, contains a large and highly valued relic. The mellow brick building shelters the log cabin in which Abraham Lincoln's parents, Thomas Lincoln and Nancy Hanks, were married on June 12, 1806. The one-room cabin was removed from its original location in Washington County to the present site in 1911 by the Harrodsburg Historical Society.

The Mansion Museum, in a house built in 1830 by Major James Taylor, stands across from the Lincoln Marriage Temple. It houses mementoes associated with the great periods of Kentucky history, with Lincoln, with the Confederate cause, and with George Rogers Clark. Appropriate other exhibits are in the Gun and Music rooms.

Fort Harrod's Pioneer Cemetery, older than any other burial ground in Kentucky, contains the graves of more than 500 early settlers. George Rogers Clark isn't among them, but his contribution to Kentucky's beginnings is honored by a monument at the entrance to Old Fort Harrod State Park.

Each summer the park amphitheater comes alive with an exciting outdoor drama, "The Legend of Daniel Boone." Audiences nightly witness the excitement, sorrows, struggles and joys that greeted Americans making the westward trek in the 1700's.

Students of period houses find a treasure trove in the town of Harrodsburg. Examples of Georgian and Greek Revival architectural styles are numerous, and experts consider the details of many houses, such as Diamond Point, among examples of the state's finest craftsmanship. Another of Harrodsburg's old houses, once a girls' academy, is now Beaumont Inn, renowned for its good Kentucky food and for its hospitality. The Morgan Row houses, said to be the oldest standing row houses used for commercial purposes, are five distinct buildings that were once connected by first-floor passageways. They were built between 1807 and 1830 by Joseph Morgan in downtown Harrodsburg, and a portion of them has been restored.

Seven miles northeast of Harrodsburg is the restored Shaker colony of Pleasant Hill. Though it's been many years since the founding of the Believers' Colony there, the Shakers' gentle influence is still being felt in the 19th century village.

The United Society of Believers in Christ's Second Appearing founded their communal religious colony at Pleasant Hill in 1805, on the 140-acre Shawnee Run Farm. By 1820 the Shakers had erected some 25 buildings, counted over 500 members in their settlement, increased their plantation to 4,300 acres, and constructed warehouse and wharf facilities on the Kentucky River.

One of the more lasting legacies bequeathed by the Shakers is the simplicity and honesty of design in their furniture and architecture. Micajah Burnett, an expert builder, with skilled stonecutters, brickmasons and woodcarvers, produced a "Georgian-Shaker" architectural style that presents some of the finest examples of 19th-century construction found in America.

In the mid-1850's the society began to decline. It is natural to suppose that the Shakers' strict practice of celibacy was largely to blame, though the Civil War and its ravages contributed to their demise. The last Shaker, Sister Mary Settles, died in 1923, marking the end of over 100 years of the colony at Pleasant Hill.

A hub of history, Harrodsburg has witnessed the beginning of the movement west, the Civil War, a communal social experiment and, now, is combining them all in a gala celebration of Kentucky's Bicentennial.

Some of the apprenticeship occupations recognized by the U. S. Department of Labor are accordion maker, artificial eye maker, buttermaker, sailmaker, pipe-organ installer, river pilot and wallpaper printer.

Meade on Virginia Tech Dean's List for Quarter

Blacksburg, Va.—A total of 789 students in Virginia Tech's College of Arts and Sciences made the dean's list during the winter quarter. One hundred ninety-one made all A's or a perfect 4.0 average. To make the dean's list at Tech, a student has to make a 3.4 average or better in the University's 4.0 grading system. A 3.4 average is the equivalent to a middle B average. Included in the list of honor students is Lawrence E. Meade, Jr., of Price, Ky., who is a junior in geology.

Wanderings of an Amateur Journalist

By STEPHANIE MIDKIFF
 (NOTE: This article is the result of a trip taken to Red River Gorge, April 11 and was written as an assignment made in a journalism class at the University of Kentucky. Miss Midkiff is a junior at UK and is a resident of Prestonsburg.)
 On a recent trip into Red River Gorge I saw what looked like a mud slide and two places where the roadway had cracked away on Highways 77 and 715. I thought visitors needed to know about this.
 So I set out to find how travel along Red River would be. I am an amateur journalist, so I borrowed a tape recorder, camera, and had interview questions prepared.
 It was a beautiful day and when I arrived at the Slade exit from the Mountain Parkway, I took out my trusty map to save time. I almost never fail to get turned around and lost in the Gorge.
 My first stop was at the Koomer Ridge Recreation Area where people camp and where I had expected to find a park office and perhaps a maintenance crew to tell me about the road conditions. No office. I discovered a map posted on a bulletin board at the campsites which showed a District Ranger Headquarters at Stanton, 15 miles away.

 Driving toward Stanton, I stopped at Natural Bridge State Park to see if I could get any information there on road conditions.
 I explained to the young man at the main desk at Hemlock Lodge what I was trying to find out and why. Having left the tape recorder in the car until I was sure I had someone worth interviewing, I can't remember exactly what the man said, but he finally looked at me and asked, "Where are you from?" I told him Prestonsburg. He replied, "Well, don't you know?"
 Kind of bewildered, I asked, "Know what?"
 "The roads around here are just like the roads in Eastern Kentucky," he stated. He went on to say that the roads in the Gorge area are repaired when the state gets around to it, since it is not a very high-priority or well-travelled area. I left with the impression that he didn't consider the topic worthwhile at all.
 Deciding not to trust his judgment, I drove the old road (Highway 15) on to Stanton. After driving through Stanton without spotting the Ranger Headquarters, I finally asked directions at the post office. After procuring these, I drove on, getting so tired that I almost wished I wouldn't find a ranger to interview.
 A very nice secretary let me in. She said that the ranger was out, but should be in soon and I could wait if I liked. She also explained that the district office at Stanton maintained the gravel roads through that section of Daniel Boone National Forest, while either a district office at Jackson or the Forest Supervisor's office at Winchester maintained the state highways.
 We talked till about 4:30 p.m. when the ranger radioed in from Koomer Ridge, about half an hour away. Having a camera with me, I was really anxious to take some shots of Grey's Arch, a particular favorite of mine, before the sun went down. So I got the ranger's phone number and left, intending to call and ask about the road conditions.
 I drove back to Slade and headed for Tunnel Ridge Road and Grey's Arch. I set out at a fast pace for a hike of 1.4 miles to the Arch. Somehow, when you're alone and you know it won't be long before dark, the trail doesn't look quite the same as it did in bright sunlight three days before. I made it to the Arch in about 15 minutes and started taking a few photographs. But it was really disappointing to see that the beauty and massiveness of the Arch and rock shelters could not possibly be captured and conveyed by such a small camera. But no snapshot could do the place justice. It is almost a surprise each time I see it, because I have forgotten that it is so scenic and awesome.
 Finally, heading back to the car, I heard four distinct scrunches on leaves. So I stopped, and whatever it was stopped, too. I figured it was probably some small animal cowering in fright till I left. I waited about five minutes before moving on, but heard nothing more; it was as though we were waiting each other out. My imagination was starting to work because the "step-sounds" were measured and deliberate, not like an animal scurrying away.
 I got back to the car and headed back toward Slade and Nada Tunnel, since I wanted to take a couple of pictures of the road and possible slides. I found a few likely spots for the pictures, got these, and in the growing dimness indulged myself by driving farther into the Gorge, looking for a spot where some friends and I went jumping off a rope into the river last summer.
 Finally, on my way back to the University of Kentucky campus at about 7 p.m., already having missed the prescribed time for supper in the campus cafeterias, I decided to be frugal and adventurous and take Highway 15 and U. S. 60 into Lexington.
 Passing through Stanton, I decided to pick up some crackers and cookies at a local grocery store for supper and call the ranger, who lived in Stanton.
 There were three phone booths in a line and only the third worked, but I got no answer. I was ready to climb into the car, get gas and really head back, when I discovered I didn't have my car keys. After a frantic search of pockets and purse, I recalled laying them down in the first phone booth, which had been occupied in the meantime. But, whew! they were still there and I took off.
 The drive back was pleasant and scenic, even though it was fairly dark and I was in strange territory with a car that runs when it feels like it. It just happened to feel like it that night and I made it back, very tired, about 9 p.m. Not having interviewed anyone, I felt as though I had spent a fruitless day except for some of the pictures I took and the scenery involved. Even that has me worried though, because I don't recall seeing any flashes when I used the electronic flash.

CAHILL ORDAINED TO PRIESTHOOD

The first ordination to the Roman Catholic priesthood in Floyd county took place Saturday, May 5, when the Rev. John W. Cahill, son of Mrs. Clarence J. Cahill, of Drift, and the late Clarence J. Cahill, was ordained for service in the diocese of Covington, Ky. The ordination took place at St. Juliana's Church of the Floyd County Parish at Martin. The Most Reverend Richard H. Ackerman, S. T. D., Bishop of Covington, was the ordaining bishop.

Fr. Cahill attended Our Lady of the Mountains Academy at Paintsville, from 1952 to 1962. He began his seminary studies as a junior at St. Mary's College high school, St. Mary's, Ky., and attended the Seminary of St. Pius X in Erlanger, Ky. for two years, after which he received a scholarship from the Theodore Basselin Foundation of the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C. Fr. Cahill has studied at the Catholic University for the past seven years. He received his B. A. (magna cum laude) in 1968 and his M. A. in Philosophy in 1970. He is presently a candidate for the degree of Ph. D. In the academic year 1971-'72, he was selected to be included in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" in recognition of his contributions to the university community.

Fr. Cahill has served first as choir director and then as deacon at St. Mary's Parish, Landover Hills, Maryland. He has taught at St. Mary's Seminary in Baltimore, Md. and in the Evening Division of Thomas More College, Fort Mitchell, Ky. Last summer he was appointed deacon at St. Paul's Parish, Florence, Ky. KENTUCKY SHERIFFS COMMEND HALE

The following is a copy of a letter to Henry C. Hale from Kentucky Sheriffs Association.

May 1, 1973

Honorable Henry C. Hale
Blue River, Kentucky

Dear Henry:

We have just learned that you are seeking the office of Sheriff in Floyd County. We couldn't help but be reminded of the good work you did through the Kentucky Sheriffs Association and especially while you were President. We were successful in getting the blue light for all law enforcement officials, enable Sheriffs in all counties to obtain uniforms and radios, and succeeded in getting a lot of Sheriffs to mark their vehicles.

You had lots of other good ideas to help law enforcement and asked the Legislature to pass several bills to make driving on the highway safer for everyone. This legislation was defeated while you were President of Kentucky Sheriffs Association but has been passed during the last two terms of the Legislature. You had good foresight then as I am sure you do now. Should you be successful in being elected Sheriff of Floyd County, we are hoping you will again take an active part in the Kentucky Sheriff's Association.

Sincerely,
Kentucky Sheriffs Association

s- Lawrence Westerfield,
President

Secretary Treasurer

Kentucky's anglers should have some very fine fishing as the early season fishing reaches its peak.

Both white bass and crappie runs are approaching their crests, while black bass are following a close second. Bluegill fishing is close at hand. As time goes by, anglers will have a much wider choice of fish as well as more ways in which to harvest their favorite.

There won't be any shortage of places to fish—anglers of the Commonwealth have 13 major lakes, more than 40 state-owned or state-managed small impoundments, farm ponds by the tens of thousands and some 13,000 miles of running water.

As soon as the White bass and crappie runs are over, then it is time for night fishing under lights for these two fine species.

Fishing by artificial light at night is a family sport. In late evenings at the major lakes, dock areas look like the shrimp boat fleet is taking off. Small and large boats, pontoon crafts and house boats all head out to the open waters and the deep banks to anchor for a night's activity. Minnows are the prime bait for both white bass and crappie. At peak times, limits and near limits are common.

Black bass are also active during the next few weeks as nesting time approaches. At this time, these fine fish move into the shallows to feed and select a nesting site.

Surface fishing for these gallant fighters provides exciting sport for many, popping bugs and spinning and casting top-water lures account for endless limits of Black bass in early Spring.

Trout fishermen are not to be denied during this time, especially in the area above the dam at Lake Cumberland. Many fine rainbows are harvested by night fishermen drifting live night-crawlers or minnows in the main pool above the dam.

Bluegill fishermen, especially those who fish farm ponds, the state-owned lakes and some of the major lakes, will catch baskets full of these fine pan fish—especially when the bluegill are "on the nest."

Stream fishermen are enjoying good catches as they wade or float the smaller waterways. Both live and artificial baits account for many fine strings of black bass, goggle-eye and even channel catfish.

So if you are looking for a lot of fast action, now is the prime time to harvest many of Kentucky's bountiful fish.

Be sure to check special limits imposed on some of the state's small impoundments; keep in mind that a trout stamp and a valid fishing license are required for those engaged in trout fishing.

Hunting and fishing are privileges, so be sure to ask a farmer for permission before entering his land.

The percentage of women in the work force rose from 33.6 to 37.4 percent from 1964 to 1972, but will reach only 38.8 percent in 1990, assuming birth rates remain moderate by comparison with the post-World War II baby boom.

Vote For HAROLD A. BALDRIDGE For MAGISTRATE, DIST. 1

May Democratic Primary.
THE MAN YOU NEED.

The time is growing near when you, the good people of District 1 here in Floyd county, will go to the polls and make a decision on the next four years. For some of you, it will be a big move, and some, it won't matter a great deal, because the people in town don't really hardly ever call on a Magistrate for anything—but the people in town should go see some of the roads their country friends have to travel. They are a mess. Most of the rural roads I have traveled in my campaign have been so bad I could hardly get over them myself. These people need someone that will work with them, someone who they can call on and talk to about their problems. These people have problems that haven't been taken care of, some of them in years.

Only you, the voter and taxpayers, can help yourself and your children with roads, high and dry. It will take four years of hard work and planning to get the job done, but I can do it with your help and cooperation. Help yourself, your children and your neighbor—vote for the man, vote for HAROLD A. BALDRIDGE for Magistrate, District 1. You'll be glad you did.

Thank you,

HAROLD BALDRIDGE

We, the undersigned coal miners who participated in the picketing at Garth, Kentucky, would like to set the record straight, since B. J. Jones has distorted the facts against Henry C. Hale.

Both sides were well armed, and the situation was very dangerous. Henry C. Hale, then sheriff of Floyd County, and in conjunction with the Kentucky State Police, came to the picketing to do their lawful duty to insure that the union had the right to picket without interference from any person or group and without fear of their life and to insure that there was free access and flow of traffic to the mining site and the neighboring communities, so that local residents could get to and from their homes without being harmed or put in fear of being harmed. At no time did Henry C. Hale order us to stop picketing or to break-up our picket line.

In doing his lawful duty, Henry C. Hale prevented someone from losing their life or from being seriously injured.

Vote for and Support HENRY C. HALE FOR SHERIFF of Floyd County

Democratic Primary
May 29, 1973

A man of proven ability who will be on the job 24 hours a day.

As you know, I am a candidate for Sheriff of Floyd County in the Democratic Primary on May 29. I have visited and talked with many of you already and will continue to do so until the polls close on election day. I want to thank all of you for the kindness and encouragement I have received from you. As I have talked to you about the important office of Sheriff, it has been heart-warming to feel the trust and confidence of you, the people of Floyd County.

I was born and raised in the Middle Creek section of our county, a son of the late James Hale. I am married to Winifred "Penny" Osborne of Martin, Kentucky. We are the parents of five sons and one daughter. James, age 24, in the U. S. Air Force; Tom, George, Ben, Kay, John, all in school.

I am a World War II Veteran, serving in the Navy in the Pacific. I have been employed in coal fields for about 16 years and in farming and construction work. You, the voters of Floyd County, have elected me to 3 terms of State Representative 1948, 1950, and 1952, and as your Sheriff from 1962 to 1966.

When I am elected your sheriff:

1. I will enforce all the laws of the State of Kentucky, which is the first duty of a Sheriff.
2. I will be a fulltime, working Sheriff who will be available to you both night and day. As we all know, a Sheriff's duties do not end at 5 p.m. and neither does crime.
3. Deputies will be dependable, respectful, and of sound judgment. They will attend local law enforcement classes that are available. They will also be uniformed and in clearly marked cars—as you may recall, I began this practice in my other term as Sheriff and it is not something new. As before, I will provide funeral escort and deputies for any public gathering and meeting.
4. Your taxes will be collected and accounted for with complete accuracy.
5. I can and will co-operate and work with all other law-enforcement officers in Floyd County for the greater safety of all.

My aim will be an honest and fair administration. With the help of you, the fine people of Floyd County, we CAN make our county a good place to live and raise our families.

Vote and Support Henry C. Hale for Sheriff of Floyd County.

First, I would like to thank all the people for the kindness they showed me while visiting their homes in my campaign for Sheriff. I regret to say I will not be able to get to all the houses before the election. I work during the week and only get to campaign on the weekends. Second, there have been some rumors that I am for marijuana to be made legal—THIS IS NOT SO! I am strictly against dope of any kind. Do not believe anything anybody tells about me being bought off or coming off in anyone's favor. I will be on the ballot, election day. Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.

Tallent Named
Baseball Coach

Bob Tallent, formerly of Langley, has been named the new head baseball coach at George Washington University, Washington, D. C. Tallent will continue also as assistant basketball coach there. He succeeds Bill Smith, who resigned at the conclusion of this past season after three years at the helm of the Colonials.

Tallent is probably best known for his basketball exploits. But he has also been a success on the diamond. At Maytown high he pitched several no-hitters and one perfect game. He also pitched and played the infield at the University of Kentucky. For the past three years, he has assisted coach Smith with the GW varsity. The Colonials compiled a 45-32 record over that period, including a 19-12 mark this past season.

In making the announcement of Tallent's appointment, Director of Athletics Bob Paris said, "Bob is an excellent baseball player in his own right and has done a fine job assisting Coach Smith for the past three years. He is definitely a very promising baseball coach."

Tallent said he is delighted to assume the added duties of coaching the baseball team. "I enjoy coaching, period, whether it is baseball or basketball. We've got a young team with just about everyone coming back. I'm looking forward to having a real good year next year."

Tallent, 26, is single and makes his home in Arlington, Va.

Graduate from Alice Lloyd

Pippa Passes, Ky.—Alice Lloyd College graduated 72 students at commencement exercises, May 6. Seven out-of-state students were among the graduates which included 19 Kentucky students from Knott county, 16 from Floyd county and 10 from Letcher county. Other Kentucky counties represented are Perry, Martin, Pike, Magoffin, Leslie, and Boyle.

Graduating students from Floyd county:

Linda Green, Garrett; James Michael Howell, Grethel; James Humphrey, Ligon; Carolyn Jo Hunter, Printer; Elmer Miller, McDowell; Ruby Jewell Miller, McDowell; Freddy Dean Oakes, Weeksbury; Sheila Gwen Perry, Hi Hat; Steven Edward Salisbury, Hunter; James Edgel Slone, Ligon; Ronald Gene Stewart, Hi Hat; Rex David Wilson, Bypro; Marilyn Kay Hunter, Wayland; Priscilla Fraley, Hi Hat; Thomas Gregory Halbert, Langley, and Thelma Osborne, Eastern.

The commencement speaker, Ralph A. Pfeiffer, Jr., president of the IBM Data Processing Division, underscored the students' perseverance through personal and financial sacrifices. He noted how important are Alice Lloyd and other area colleges to the development of Appalachia.

"We face problems of great magnitude," he said, for example "The energy crisis... the crisis of environment... the economic crisis... Heading the list is what we might call a crisis of confidence—confidence in our institutions and the people who run them."

Dr. Harold Blake Walker, a Presbyterian minister and well-known newspaper columnist, warned the '73 graduates against "touching everything and finishing nothing." He urged them to develop "what it takes to finish, to follow through the years."

Kentucky and Missouri enacted amendments in the 1972 legislative year to bring their unemployment insurance laws into conformity with the federal Employment Security Amendments of 1970. The other 50 jurisdictions had already done so.

Consumer Comments

By ED W. HANCOCK
(Attorney General of Kentucky)

An alerted public and responsive government have effectively worked together to combat the con-men, shysters, and disreputable businessmen who use deceptive sales techniques.

One such deceptive sales strategy is referral sales. This scheme is mainly used by door-to-door salesmen in the home improvement or appliance line. Here's how it works.

A salesman knocks on your door and asks if he may demonstrate the latest product in vacuum cleaners, for instance. Then, after what is usually a convincing demonstration, he tries to sell you his product.

You are promised a credit on your purchase price for each prospective customer that you refer to the salesman. Often you are told that the value of the "referrals" will more than cover your purchase and that you will end up paying nothing.

However, consumers are almost never able to pay for their product by referrals. They usually end up owing the full price for the same product or service they thought they were receiving free.

Now, however, there is a new law on referral selling. The new Referral Selling and Sales Law prohibits referral sales techniques by salesmen.

Our new consumer protection laws can protect you to a certain point, but to make our laws work to the fullest extent, you, the consumer, must participate. How? By notifying the attorney general's Division of Consumer Protection when you observe any violation of the consumer protection laws.

Kentucky residents who have complaints or problems concerning these laws are invited to call the Consumer Hotline, toll-free, at 1-800-372-2960.

REACTION SLOWS REFORM

The Supreme Court's decision in the Rodriguez case, which upheld the property tax as constitutional, has brought varied reactions—from dismay and anger, to approval on the grounds that the high court cannot be edict dictate social justice. Most observers seem to be taking the position that equalization reform will come, but not as quickly as if the high court had ruled the other way. The Supreme Court has refused to rehear the case.

U. S. Census Bureau To Ask Information On Dual Jobholding

How many American workers are holding more than one job? How many are working overtime and what is their overtime pay? What are workers' usual hours on their jobs?

Joseph R. Norwood, director of the Bureau of the Census Data Collection Center in Charlotte, announced this week that information on these subjects will be collected during the week of May 14-18 from a sample of households in this area. The questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U. S. Department of Labor.

Results of this monthly survey provide a continuing measure of economic conditions in the country. The March survey showed that employment rose sharply to 83.9 million, 700,000 more than in February. The overall jobless rate was 5.0 percent, not materially different from 5.1 percent in February, but substantially below the 5.9 percent rate of March a year ago.

Facts supplied by individuals participating in the survey are kept strictly confidential by law, and results are used only to compile statistical totals.

The interviewer who will visit households in this area is Mrs. Ella R. Daniel, of Thelma.

Sycamores Suffer Disease Damage

If a sycamore tree provides shade for your front lawn or otherwise graces your property, you should be on the lookout for signs of disease damage, according to Mark Matuszewski, insect and disease specialist.

Matuszewski, who is on the staff of the forestry division of the Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, says this year's exceptionally cool, wet spring is encouraging the growth of a fungus, Gnomonia platani.

"Sycamore trees are more vulnerable to anthracnose damage than the others," says Matuszewski. "This disease does more damage to sycamores than any other disease that occurs in the eastern United States."

Signs of anthracnose may appear on the twigs, buds, shoots or leaves of a sycamore tree. Shot blight, the sudden dying of expanding shoots and young leaves, is the most noticeable symptom of the disease.

Although anthracnose does not usually cause the death of a sycamore, Matuszewski says, it can reduce the tree's resistance to attacks by other insects and diseases. Control of sycamore anthracnose is not attempted in forests because it is not economically feasible.

Anthracnose can be controlled however, on shade and ornamental trees. The impact of the disease can be greatly reduced by pruning of infected twigs, destruction of all fallen twigs and leaves, and fertilization.

For further information concerning sycamore anthracnose, contact: Director, Division of Forestry, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

Barber Resigns Scouting Post

F. Marvin Barber submitted his resignation as Scout Executive of the Lonesome Pine Council to the Executive Committee, according to O. T. Dorton, council president. "Mr. Barber has accepted an appointment as Executive Commissioner for the World Bureau of Scouting," Dorton said. He will be stationed in San Jose, Costa Rica, and will assist Boy Scout associations in Latin America in their fund-raising efforts.

Mr. Barber became Scout Executive of the Lonesome Pine Council July 1, 1968. Since that time boy membership has increased from 1,600 boys in 85 Scouting units to more than 3,000 boys at the end of 1972. The council recorded a 42.5 percent increase in boy membership during 1972.

Prior to assuming the responsibility as Scout Executive of the Lonesome Pine Council, he served as a district Scout executive in the Southwest Iowa Council, assistant Scout executive in Wichita, Kansas, Scout executive in Grand Island, Nebraska, and assistant director of Rural Relationships for the National Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Mr. Barber will assume his new responsibilities on July 1, 1973, and he and Mrs. Barber will move to Costa Rica shortly after that date.

People are living longer, but the number of people 55 and over in the work force will actually decline in the 1980's, a reflection of the fact that the birth rate fell off in the Depression years.

It's Doctor Ford now. At graduation exercises on May 12, the University of Kentucky gave an honorary doctor of laws degree to Governor Wendell H. Ford.

Erosion and Silt Plague Conservation

Erosion and silt are a frequent topic of discussion today. This is as it should be—since silt is, in total volume, the number one pollutant of Kentucky's bodies of water.

However, I wonder how it would have been if not for the organization of conservation districts nearly a quarter of a century ago. These districts, organized under State law, are subdivisions of our Kentucky state government.

Each is governed by a locally elected board of supervisors which develops and carries out conservation programs. All of Kentucky's land is in one or another conservation district.

The Division of Conservation in our Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection was created by the Kentucky General Assembly to help these districts plan and carry out sound conservation programs. The division does this by providing administrative, financial, educational and informational assistance.

I am very happy with the programs districts have developed and carried out in our state. No longer do you see the gullied hillsides and large ugly ditches across Kentucky's landscape that you did fifteen to twenty years ago. Instead, you see grass or wooded hillsides and sodded waterways. Think what our silt problem would have been if not for the programs of these districts.

In the future, with the help of federal and state agencies, districts are going to be called upon to reduce our erosion and silt problems even further. They will be working with our urban as well as rural areas; as much silt comes from cities as from our agricultural land.

The same general type of conservation practices used on agricultural land will also work in our cities and towns. Recognizing this, the 1972 General Assembly brought our incorporated cities and towns into conservation districts.

Conservation is a never-ending task. The work done by these districts during the last twenty-five years is immeasurable. I know the districts will continue to meet challenges in the future. I am happy that our department is providing assistance to conservation districts so that they may improve the environment in which we all must live.

You really are not establishing your credit when you finance your car with some large out-of-town bank or with an automobile manufacturer's financing plan. When you finance locally, you establish your credit immediately. Then, when you wish funds for some other purpose, your credit has been established. Ask your dealer to finance your car with your hometown bank, The Bank Josephine. Or, drop in, the INTERESTED bankers will be pleased to assist you in establishing your credit... locally.

Really, this is what our auto financing is all about.

Classroom Training Approved for 198

Six Manpower Development and Training Act (MDTA) projects have been jointly approved by the Department of Labor and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to provide classroom-type training for 198 persons in Kentucky.

Twenty participants from the Big Sandy-Pikeville labor area still receive clerk-stenographer instruction. Federal funds in the amount of $38,896 have been allocated for periods up to November 9, 1973.

Elsewhere in Eastern Kentucky, 18 in the Big Sandy-Ashland labor area will receive machine operator instruction for periods up to December 21, 1973, with $41,840 have been allocated for the project.

The Kentucky Department of Economic Security, Capitol Annex Building, Frankfort, is the grantee. The State Employment Service determines the need for workers in the occupation in which the training is to be provided; refers, tests and counsels applicants for training; administers the payment of training allowance, and provides job placement and assistance to trainees upon completion of the course. The State Department of Education's Vocational Division will provide academic services during the period of vocational training.

Niles Thrills ALC Students

John Jacob Niles, 81, stirred Alice Lloyd College students three generations his junior. The famous "Dean of American Balladeers" sang recently and visited classrooms as part of the college's cultural program.

Pippa Passes, Ky.—John Jacob Niles, 81 years young and full of folklore culture, thrilled Alice Lloyd College students recently with a "super" musical performance and two days of visits to classrooms.

Of the many singers of folk songs in America today, none more richly deserves the title, "Dean of American Balladeers." For more than 60 years Mr. Niles has distinguished himself as collector, folklorist, author, teacher, arranger, composer, craftsman and singer.

His major collection has been done in the Southern Appalachians, mostly in these southeastern counties of Kentucky, with a spillover into almost every mountain county in North Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, West Virginia and Virginia.

In his performance, Mr. Niles used only materials he has collected and arranged, accompanying himself on one of his homemade dulcimers. These dulcimers, like his voice, are unusual instruments. Larger than the usual three or four stringed Appalachian instrument, they are classic dulcimers he has refashioned to suit his purposes.

Mr. Niles, born in Louisville and raised on a Jefferson county farm, had the usual grade and high school training with emphasis on music, classic and folk. His later studies took him to the Cincinnati Conservatory, the University and Conservatory at Lyons, France and the Schola Cantorum in Paris.

Western Kentucky Study ROPES Work At Region II Office

Dr. David Whitehead, superintendent of Paducah schools, Tom Vinson, superintendent of Trigg county schools, and Juanita Jones, Title III director for Region 1, met here recently with the ROPES Region 11 staff to get information on setting up and operating a regional office to render services, programs and activities to local school districts.

The West Kentucky educators complimented the ROPES staff here for the work that has been done and the plans that are being made to render services to local school districts in this region. Miss Jones said, "It seems that your region is well on the way toward providing services for school districts that cannot be done other than through regional cooperation."

The West Kentucky educators plan to approach Dr. Lyman Ginger, superintendent of public instruction, with a plan to develop a ROPES office in West Kentucky to serve the school districts there. The Region 11 staff was invited to visit the Paducah city and Trigg county systems. Reo Johns, Region 11 director, said tentative plans have been made to visit these school systems in July.
